PREFACE

THIS edition of the Holy Scriptures is the product of a thorough analytical method of Bible study. It is so compiled and arranged that through its simplicity, accuracy and utility, it embraces that "Time and Labor Saving" idea which during the past century has revolutionized the material world.

The triple column arrangement of the text and explanation, the double system of foot notes, printing out in full all references, provides the greatest possible conveniences of presenting in small compass, properly analyzed and grouped, all the subjects in the Bible relating to the text of any particular page. This plan makes it possible by the reading of a single page to obtain the gist of many volumes of standard authorities on Biblical interpretation and the complete Scriptural statement of the Bible relative to the text of that page.

In order to obtain a one volume working Biblical library, in addition to the arrangement mentioned above, there has been accomplished on each page the diacritical marking and accenting of all difficult words, the giving of the original English meaning of all obscure words having undergone a change of meaning; a short running commentary; a brief summary of each chapter, setting forth the purpose and object of that chapter; a descriptive analysis of each book; the chronological period of each chapter; biographical sketches of all important characters; the date, authorship and occasion of writing of each Psalm, so far as known, with the especial virtue taught; the printing in italics of all Old Testament prophecies pertaining to Christ and all words in the New Testament spoken by Christ, thereby pointing out all things relative to Him; the printing out in full, as foot-notes, over 250,000 references, run especially for this work, thus giving a complete Biblical treatment of every subject mentioned on that page of the text. When it is considered that this is done on every page of the book and for every book, chapter and verse of the Scriptures, it will be readily seen that here in one volume is a whole library for the busy student.

In the preparation of this work, the main class of readers kept in view is that large army of busy toilers whose time and strength are consumed with the affairs of life and who have little time and opportunity for exhaustive study of the Scriptures, but who have a thirst for more and better knowledge of the Word of God. This book does not purport to be a complete library for the scholar who has ample time and facilities for original research, but it is the gist of a large library, much thought and study, so arranged and encompassed as to give any one, whether a scholar or not, a large and satisfactory knowledge of the Bible.

In producing this work constant reference has been made to the standard authorities on the Scriptures, but especially to the following does the Editor desire to acknowledge indebtedness, viz.:

Hastings' Dictionary of the Bible; Commentary on the Old and New Testament, by Jamieson, Fausset & Brown; The Expositor's Bible; The Cambridge Bible; Whedon's Commentary; Nave's Topical Bible; Hitchcock's New and Complete Analysis of the Bible; Commentary by Adam Clark; The Popular and Critical Encyclopedia of the Bible, by Bishop Samuel Fallowes, A.M., D.D., LL.D.; Word Studies in the New Testament, by Marvin R. Vincent, D.D.; McClintock & Strong Encyclopedia of the Bible; Exhaustive Concordance of the Bible, by James Strong, S.T.D., LL.D.; The New Topical Text Book of the Bible; Cruden's Concordance; Commentary by Matthew Henry; The Exposition of the Bible, by the following Authors, viz.:

Genesis, St. John, First Corinthians, Marcus Dodds, D.D.; Exodus, St. Mark, G. A. Chadwick, D. D.; Leviticus, S. H. Kellogg, D.D.; Numbers, Judges, Ruth, Job, R. A. Watson, D.D.; Deuteronomy, Andrew Harper, D.D.; Joshua, First and Second Samuel, W. G. Blaikie, D.D., LL. D.; First and Second Kings, Daniel, Dean F. W. Farrar, D.D.; First and Second Chronicles, W. H. Bennett, M.A.; Ezra, Nehemiah, Esther, Song of Solomon, Lamentations, W. F. Adeney, M.A.; Psalms, Colossians, Philemon, Alexander McClaren, D.D.; Proverbs, R. F. Horton, D.D.; Ecclesiastes, John Skinner, M.A.; St. Matthew, J. Monroe Gibson, D.D.; St. Luke, Henry Burton, M.A.; Acts of the Apostles, G. T. Stokes, D.D.; Romans, H. C. G. Moule, D.D.; Second Corinthians, Thessalonians, James Denny, D.D.; Galatians, Ephesians, E. G. Findlay, D.D.; Philippians, Robert Rainey, D.D.; First and Second Timothy, Titus, James, Jude, A. Plummer, D.D.; Hebrews, T. C. Edwards, D.D.; First and Second Peter, J. R. Lunby, D.D.; First, Second and Third John, W. Alexander, D.D.; Revelation, W. Milligan, D.D.

It is with reverence that this work is sent forth on its mission and with a prayer that it may arouse a greater interest in the Scriptures, encourage a more thorough study and lead to a deeper understanding of the Word of God.

DIRECTIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

WE would suggest as beneficial that before beginning the study of any part of the Bible the reader very carefully consider the note at the beginning of the book he is reading. In it is given the particular function or purpose of that book, the author and date of writing, as far as known. The note will therefore give the reader a foreview of the character of the writings he is to study, thereby preparing him to receive and understand the peculiarities of language, illustrations and expressions so often misunderstood, and without a proper conception of which a clear understanding of the Scriptures is impossible.

The superior figures in the text of the two outside columns of each page refer to the explanations and analyses in the middle column. In the effort to have all explanations and references which apply to the text of any page printed on the same page with the text, it sometimes became necessary to extend the middle column, as foot-notes in four columns, just preceding the references, an illustration of which is found on page 2, v. 8 of chap. 2; there the superior figure 8 appears before the word "Eden"; then in the lower half of the middle column below the caption "Chap. 2, B. C. 4004" in black faced letters is found the corresponding superior figure 8, as the note which gives the description of the Garden of Eden. But the middle column not being long enough to accommodate the entire note on Eden, it is continued in the first of the four short columns immediately below the text. Then the superior figure 9 before "tree" in v. 9, superior 10 before "tree of knowledge" in v. 9, superior 11 before "Havilah" in v. 11, and superior figure 12 before "dress" in v. 15, are all found in this first series of foot-notes and thereby on the same page with the text.

At the top of each page and also at the beginning of the notes of each chapter in the middle column is given the date of the world's history of which that chapter treats.

The superior letters before certain words in the text of the two outside columns of each page refer to the references in the foot-notes of that page which are printed in two columns. For example, before the expression "The beginning" in v. 1, chap. 1 of Genesis, will be found the superior letter "a"; then at the beginning of the first column of foot-notes on the same page is found the superior "a" followed by the references conveying the same thought as that of the text.

All prophecies of the Old Testament pertaining to Christ are printed in italics. For example, v. 15, of chap. 3, on page 3, is printed in italics, and is the first recorded prophecy of the promised Messiah.

All the words of Christ in the New Testament are printed in italics. For example, the italicized passage in v. 15, of chap. 3, page 791 of Matthew, points out the first (in order of record) words of Christ, viz.: "Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness."

INDEX

In the Index, in the back of the book, not only are the word references given, but also all thoughts which can be treated as subjects or in topics. For example, if the reader desires to know the Bible teaching regarding affliction, he would turn to "Affliction" on page 5 of the Index, and there find the subject treated under the following heads: "Our duty toward the afflicted," "Afflicted Saints," "Affliction," "Consolation under affliction," "Prayer under affliction," "Afflictions," "Afflictions made beneficial," "The afflictions of the wicked." Also each of these divisions has been subdivided into its special thoughts, until the complete Bible teachings on the subject of "Affliction" has been developed.

THE FIRST BOOK OF MOSES, CALLED

GENESIS

NOTE.—Genesis (jenesis). The meaning of the word Genesis is beginning. The oldest universal history possessed by the human race is found in the Book of Genesis, chs. 1-11; chs. 12-50 continue the records of ancient history, but rather in a special sense as particularly recording the history of Israel's ancestors and patriarchs. While recording the most ancient history of the world, the chief purpose of Genesis is to show how the theocratic government, subsequently founded by Moses, was rendered possible and necessary. Therefore, the author begins with the primal unity of the human race and its original relation to God; thence unfolds the interruptions of that relation by sin which gradually wrought a division in the human race for want of the principles which originally dwelt in man in general, but which had been preserved among a small and separate race only—a race which gradually became more and more isolated from other peoples and for many generations enjoyed the special blessing and guidance of the Lord.

Genesis, therefore, presents the Mosaical theocracy as a restoration of the original relation which God brought about by Jehovah himself through a long series of manifestations of his power, justice and love. Genesis thus furnishes us with the primary view of the whole of theocracy, and may therefore be considered as the historical foundation without which the subsequent history of the covenant people would be incomplete and unintelligible. A special effort is made by the author of Genesis to point out the gradual and progressive development of the divine relations. As a historical work, Genesis is a book consisting of two contrasting parts.

The first part introduces us to the greatest problems of the human mind, such as the creation and fall of man; and the second, into the quiet solitude of a small, defined circle of families. In the former, the most sublime and wonderful events are described with childlike simplicity; while in the latter, on the contrary, the most simple and common occurrences are interwoven with the sublimest thoughts and reflections, rendering the small family circle a whole world in history and its principal actors prototypes for a whole nation and for all time. The contents in general are strictly religious; not the least trace of mythology appears in it. It is true that the narrations are fraught with wonders—but primeval wonders. The marvelous deeds of God are the very subject of Genesis. None of these wonders, however, bears a fantastical impress. They are all penetrated by one common leading idea, and are all related to the counsel of God for the salvation of men. This principle permeates the whole of Genesis, therefore the wonders therein related are as little to be ascribed to man as the plan of God for human salvation.

There are many myths regarding the creation and fall of man, but they all bear the stamp of the nation from which they originated. Not so with the historical delineation of the creation and fall of man recorded in Genesis. It is universal in its scope and treatment.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The creation of heaven and earth, 3 of the light, 6 of the firmament, 9 of the earth separated from the waters, 11 and made fruitful, 14 of the sun, moon, and stars, 20 of fish and fowl, 24 of beasts and cattle, 26 of man in the image of God. 29 Also the appointment of food.

1 In [a]the [1]beginning [b]God [2]created the heaven and the earth.

2 And the earth was without [3]form, and [4]void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

3 And [c]God said, Let there be light: and there was light.

4 And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided the light from the darkness.

5 And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And the evening and the morning were the first day.

6 ¶ And God said, Let there be a [5]firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.

7 And God made the firmament and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament: and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament [6]Heaven. And the evening and the morning were the second day.

9 ¶ And God said, [d]Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so.

10 And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas: and God saw that it was good.

11 And God said, [e]Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding [f]fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth: and it was so.

Ch. 1. B. C. 4004.

1. From the beginning, first in place, time, order or rank spec. a first fruit; hence at the commencement of that series of events with which the creation and history of the human race are associated.

2. In the Hebrew scriptures, three verbs are used in different places to express the divine act of creation, viz., bara, create; asah, make; and zatoar, form or fashion. While each has its shade of distinction, yet the best critics understand them as so nearly synonymous as to be interchangeable. In v. 1, bara is used, meaning simply to create, without any implication positively or negatively as to the material used.

3. To lie in waste; a desolation fig.: a worthless thing, empty place, confusion, wilderness.

4. To be empty, a vacuity, i. e., superficial and undistinguishable ruin, emptiness, void.

5. To expand, to stretch and spread over as a thin sheet. The visible arch of the sky. The pure and transparent expanse which envelopes the globe. The expanse appearing like an arch immediately above us in the heavens.

6. To be lofty; the sky as aloft; alluding to the visible arch in which the clouds move as well as to the higher ether where the celestial bodies revolve.

7. A luminous body or luminary; fig., brightness, cheerfulness, glorious.

8. Sign as a flag; a beacon; a monument; an evidence, i. e., in the sense of appearing and presenting.

9. An appointment; a fixed time; appointed for regularity; set time of appearance; fixed and determined.

12 And the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in itself, after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

13 And the evening and the morning were the third day.

14 ¶ And God said, Let there [g]be [7]lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for [8]signs, and for [9]seasons, and for days, and years:

15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

16 And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth.

18 And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good.

19 And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

20 And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven.

21 And God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

22 And God blessed them, saying, Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let fowl multiply in the earth.

23 And the evening and the morning were the fifth day.

24 ¶ And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast of the earth after his kind: and it was so.

25 And God made the beast of the earth

Ref. Genesis. Chapter 1.

a. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. (Jno. 1:1-3.)

And, thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thine hands. (Heb. 1:10.)

b. By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the hosts of them by the breath of his mouth. (Psalms 33:6.)

Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? Declare if thou hast understanding. (Job 38:4.)

I am the Lord that maketh all things: that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself. (Isaiah 44:24.)

For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: All things were created by him, and for him; and he is before all things, and by him all things consist. (Col. 1:16, 17.)

Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear. (Heb. 11:3.)

Thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created. (Rev. 4:11.) He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? He that formed the eye, shall he not see? (Ps. 94:9.) Let us kneel before the Lord our maker. (Ps. 95:6.) The rich and the poor meet together; the Lord is the maker of them all. (Prov. 22:2.) Thou knowest not the works of God who maketh all. (Ecc. 11:5.) I have made the earth, and created man upon it (12). He created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited. (Isa. 45:12, 18.) Forgettest the Lord thy maker? (Isa. 51:13.) Now, O Lord, thou art our father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand. (Isa. 64:8.) Have we not all one father? Hath not one God created us? (Mal. 2:10.) God that made the world and all things therein (24), He giveth to all life, and breath, and all things (25). And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation (26). In him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. (Acts 17:24-28.)

c. For he spake, and it was done. He commanded, and it stood fast. (Ps. 33:9.)

d. He hath compassed the waters with bounds. (Job. 26:10.)

He gathereth the waters of the sea together as an heap; he layeth up the depth in storehouses. (Ps. 33:7.)

e. For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God. (Heb. 6:7.)

f. For every tree is known by his own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. (Luke 6:44.)

g. The sun and the moon and the stars, even all the hosts of heaven—which the Lord thy God hath divided unto all nations under the whole heaven. (Dt. 4:19.) Thou hast prepared the light and the sun. (Ps. 74:16.)

after his kind, and cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

26 ¶ And God said, [h]Let us make man in our [10]image, after our [11]likeness: and let them have [i]dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

27 So God created man in his own [h]image, in the image of God created he him; [j]male and female created he them.

28 And [k]God [12]blessed them, and God said unto them, Be [l]fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have [i]dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

29 ¶ And God said, Behold, I have given you every [13]herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for [14]meat.

30 And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so.

31 And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

CHAPTER 2.

1 The first sabbath. 4 The manner of the creation. 8 The planting of the garden of Eden, 10 and the river thereof. 17 The tree of knowledge only forbidden. 19, 20 The naming of the creatures. 21 The making of woman, and institution of marriage.

1 Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.

2 And [c]on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

3 And God [b]blessed the seventh day, and [3]sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.

4 ¶ These are the [z]generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens,

5 And [c]every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the Lord God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

6 But [d]there went up a [4]mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

7 And the Lord God [4]formed man of the [5]dust of the ground, and [6]breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living [7]soul.

8 ¶ And the Lord God planted a garden eastward in [8]Ē′dĕn; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

9 And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is [e]pleasant to the sight, and good for food; [f]the [9]tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the [10]tree of knowledge of good and evil.

10 And a river went out of Ē′dĕn to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

11 The name of the first is Pī′son: that is it which compasseth the whole land of [11]Hăv′ī-lah, where there is gold;

12 And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx stone.

13 And the name of the second river is Gī′hon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ē-thĭ-ō′pĭ-à.

14 And the name of the third river is Hĭd′dekel: that is it which goeth toward the east of Ās-sўr′ĭ-à. And the fourth river is Ū-phrā′tēs.

15 And the Lord God took the man, and put him into the garden of Ē′dĕn to [12]dress it and to keep it.

16 And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat:

17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the

10. From an unused root meaning to shade; figurative resemblance, to make like an image. Man resembles God in the spiritual and immortal nature of his soul and in his dominion over the creatures.

11. Resemblance, likeness, like as, like manner.

12. A primitive root, to kneel by impl. to bless, as an act of adoration. To congratulate, to salute. A token of good will, conferring of favors and advantages containing the promise of pleasure and happiness.

13. Meaning to glisten, to be as a tender shoot of grass.

14. Because of here mentioning the herbs and nowhere mentioning the flesh of animals as food, it is supposed by most authorities that previous to the flood, man's food was restricted to substances in the vegetable kingdom.

Ch. 2. B. C. 4004.

1. To make, pronounce, or observe as clean, to appoint or dedicate as ceremonially pure.

2. The descent or family, the history of birth or nativity here used to mean history or origin of.

3. An enveloping fog or vapor, surrounded by.

4. To mold, or put into shape, as a potter who forms his clay, to fashion, or frame.

5. The earth or clay in powdered form, dust is given 12 different meanings in the Bible. Here, powdered earth.

6. To inflate or kindle, to cause to have life.

7. Having immortal life and spirit resembling God. The operation of the breathing spirit was the endowment of the soul.

8. The region of Adam's original home, meaning pleasant, delightful. Its location has never been fixed. However, two of its rivers have been identified. The Euphrates, and the Hiddekel or Tigris; the others are disputed. The best authorities agree that "the garden of Eden eastward" is in the valley of the Euphrates, but its definite location after the fall of our first parents has not been agreed upon, the Bible seeming purposely to withdraw the lost Paradise from our view and to direct our hopes to a more glorious Paradise of the future with its river of life and trees of life. (Rev. 22:1-5)—"And he showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. "In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month; and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

"And there shall be no more curse; but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servant shall serve him.

"And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads.

"And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light; and they shall reign for ever and ever."

9. The majority of authorities agree that the tree of life implies a single tree designed for special purposes, containing efficacious medicinal properties, in its fruit, leaves, and other parts. As a sign and seal of the divine promise of eternal life.

10. The earliest Hebrew idea of the tree of knowledge is of a tree having poisonous, stimulating and intoxicating properties, such as are found in some hot climates of the present time. On this ground the command not to eat or even touch the tree was a beneficent warning against the dangers of pain or perhaps death. The special object of placing the tree in the garden seems to have been to test the obedience of Adam and Eve. They were placed in the midst of a paradise of delights and had no reason to suppose that any good would come to them from seizing upon things prohibited. If doubt in this matter arose in their mind, they already had access to God. But they were not equal to the test, they allowed the thought of disobedience to form itself into a disposition, then culminate into a purpose.

11. A district in Arabia, a land rich in gold, bdellium and shoam.

12. Adam was put into the Garden of Eden, a region containing the richest productions of the Creator's bounty for the delight of the eye and the other senses. He was assigned to the agreeable labor "to dress and to keep it," implying some knowledge of the culture and training of flowers and fruits and their various uses and enjoyments.

h. In the day that God created man, in the likeness of God made he him. (Gen. 5:1.) It is he that hath made us and not we ourselves; we are his people and the sheep of his pasture. (Ps. 100:3.) Lo, this only have I found that God hath made man upright. (Ecc. 7:29.) Therewith bless we God, even the father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God. (Ja. 3:9.) For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God, but the woman is the glory of the man. (I Cor. 11:7.) Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed; for in the image of God made he man. (Gen. 9:6.)

i. Thou madest him a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honor, and didst set him over the works of thy hand. (Heb. 2:7.) Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet. (Ps. 8:6.)

j. And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female? (Math. 19:4.)

k. Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord: and the fruit of the womb is his reward. (Ps. 127:3.)

l. For I will have respect unto you, and make you fruitful, and multiply you, and establish my covenant with you. (Lev. 26:9.)

Chapter 2.

a. For he spake in a certain place of the 7th day on this wise, And God did rest the 7th day from all his works. (Heb. 4:4.) For in 6 days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the 7th day; wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day and hallowed it. (Ex. 20:11.) Wherefore the children of Israel shall keep the sabbath, to observe the sabbath throughout their generations, for a perpetual covenant. It is a sign between me and the children of Israel for ever: for in 6 days the Lord made heaven and earth, and on the 7th day he rested, and was refreshed. (Ex. 31:16, 17.) Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary; I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:30.) Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary; I am the Lord. (Lev. 26:2.)

b. And he said unto them, This is that which the Lord hath said, Tomorrow is the rest of the holy sabbath unto the Lord; bake that which ye will bake today, and seethe that ye will seethe; and that which remaineth over lay up for you to be kept until the morning. (Ex. 16:23.) For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works. (Heb. 4:4.)

c. He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man; that he may bring forth food out of the earth. (Ps. 104:14.)

d. Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it; thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God, which is full of water; thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so provided for it. Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly; thou settlest the furrows thereof; thou makest it soft with showers; thou blessest the springing thereof. Thou crownest the year with thy goodness; and thy paths drop fatness. (Ps. 65:9-11.)

e. The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him; the fir trees were not like his bows, and the chestnut trees were not like his branches nor any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty. (Ezek. 31:8.)

f. And the Lord God said, Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever. (Gen. 3:22.) In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare 12 manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month; and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations (2). Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city. (Rev. 22:2, 14.)

day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

18 ¶ And the Lord God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.

19 And out of the ground the Lord God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and [g]brought them unto [13]Ăd'ăm to see what he would call them: and whatsoever Ăd'ăm called every living creature, that was the name thereof.

20 And Ād'ăm gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Ād'ăm there was not found an help meet for him.

21 And the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Ād'ăm, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof;

22 And the rib, which the Lord God had taken from man, made he a [14]woman, and [h]brought her unto the man.

23 And Ād'ăm said, This is now bone [i]of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man.

24 Therefore [j]shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh.

25 And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed.

CHAPTER 3.

1 The serpent deceiveth Eve. 6 Man's shameful fall. 9 God arraigneth them. 14 The serpent is cursed. 15 The promised seed. 16 The punishment of mankind. 21 Their first clothing. 22 Their casting out of paradise.

1 Now the [1]serpent was more [2]subtil [a]than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?

2 And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden:

3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

4 And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die:

13. Meaning ruddy or reddish, the name of the first man. Adam lived 930 years. He must have been created in maturity, from the duties and obligations put upon him immediately after creation. Else he could not have preserved his earthly existence, neither have paid the homage of knowledge and love, adoration and obedience to his Creator. Again we read in I Tim. 2-14, that he rushed headlong and knowingly to ruin when the idea was suggested by Eve. "And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in transgression." It was the preference of a trifling gratification to the doing of the will of the Lord. His act of disobedience was marked with extreme ingratitude and involved a contemptuous disregard of consequences. God, assuming a human form, adapting all his proceedings to the capacity of Adam and Eve, drew from them the confession of their guilt and immediately pronounced upon them their sentence. On the woman he inflicted pains of child-bearing and a deeper and more humiliating dependence upon her husband; he doomed the man to hard and often fruitless toil instead of easy and pleasant labor; and decreed the awful sentence of death upon all posterity.

14. Meaning a woman, also life-giver. The name of Eve was given by Adam to the first woman.

Ch. 3. B. C. 4004.

1. The instrument of the temptation of Adam and Eve. Whether the serpent was a member of any of the existing species or not is impossible for us to know. Many authorities hold to the view which is held by both Jews and Christians, that the serpent was one of the fallen spirits. II Cor. 2:11. Lest Satan should get an advantage of us, for we are not ignorant of his devices.

2. Subtile, or crafty, or wily.

3. To lead astray, to delude, to seduce or deceive.

4. Serpents do not feed upon the dust but are perhaps as free from it in their food as any animal of the field. All serpents are carnivorous. This would imply a figurative expression applying to something else other than a member of the existing serpent family.

5. Enmity, hostility, hatred, to be hostile toward each other, irreconcilable.

6. Posterity.

7. To overwhelm, to break, to bruise, to crush, to destroy.

8. A pang, whether body or mind.

5 For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.

6 And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; [b]and he did eat.

7 And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves aprons.

8 And they heard the voice [c]of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day: and Ād'ăm and his wife [d]hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God amongst the trees of the garden.

9 And the Lord God called unto Ād'ăm, and said unto him, Where art thou?

10 And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and [e]I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself.

11 And he said, Who told thee that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat?

12 And the man said, [f]The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat.

13 And the Lord God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent [3]beguiled me, and I did eat.

14 And the Lord God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou [4]eat all the days of thy life:

15 And I will put [5]enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy [6]seed and her seed; it [g]shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt [7]bruise his heel.

16 Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy [8]sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee.

17 And unto Ād'ăm he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded

g. Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet. (Ps. 8:6.)

h. Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favor of the Lord. (Prov. 18:22.) Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled; but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

i. For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and his bones. (Eph. 5:30.)

j. Hearken, O daughter, and consider and incline thine ear, forget also thine own people, and thy father's house. (Ps. 45:10.) For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and they twain shall be one flesh. (Math. 19:5.)

a. Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. (Mat. 10:16.) And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world; he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him (Rev. 12:9.)

b. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned (12). Even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners; so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. (Rom. 5:12, 18, 19.)

c. Then the Lord answered Job out of the whirlwind. (Job 38:1.) And the sound of the cherubim's wings was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh. (Ez. 10:5.) The voice of the Lord is upon the waters; the God of glory thundereth: the Lord is upon many waters. (Ps. 29:3.) Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. The people therefore that stood by and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him. Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes. (Jno. 12:28-30.) And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of Mt. Sina an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush. When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight; and as he drew near to behold it the voice of the Lord came unto him. (Acts 7:30, 31.) And he fell to the earth and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And he said, Who art thou Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest; it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks. And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do. And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man. (Acts 9:4-7.) And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. But rise, and stand upon thy feet; for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee. (Acts 26:15, 16.)

d. Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the Lord. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the Lord. (Jer. 23:24.) And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them. (Amos 9:3.) O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me. Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off. Thou compassest my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways. For there is not a word in my tongue, but lo, O Lord, thou knowest it altogether. Thou hast beset me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it. Whither shall I go from thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there. If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me. If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me; even the night shall be light about me. (Ps. 139:1-11.)

e. Therefore am I troubled at his presence; when I consider, I am afraid of him. (Job 23:15.) For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things. (I Jno. 3:20.)

f. He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy. (Prov. 28:13.)

Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God; for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man, but every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. (Ja. 1:13, 14.)

g. And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. (Rom. 16:20.) Forasmuch as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the Devil. (Heb. 2:14.) For this purpose the Son of God is manifested, that he might destroy the works of the Devil. (I Jno. 3:8.)

thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: [9]cursed is the ground for thy sake; in [10]sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life;

18 Thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the herb of the field;

19 In the [11]sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return.

20 And Ād'ăm called his wife's name [12]Ēve; because she was the mother of all living.

21 Unto Ād'ăm also and to his wife did the Lord God make coats of skins, and clothed them.

22 ¶ And the Lord God said, Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever:

23 Therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Ē'dĕn, to till the ground from whence he was taken.

24 So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Ē'dĕn [13]Chĕr'ū-bĭms, and a [h]flaming [14]sword which turned way, to keep the [i]way of the tree of life.

CHAPTER 4.

1 The birth, trade, and religion of Cain and Abel. 8 The murder of Abel. 11 The curse of Cain. 17 Enoch the first city. 19 Lamech and his two wives. 25 The birth of Seth, 26 and Enos.

1 And Ād'ăm knew Ēve his wife; and she conceived, and bare [1]Cāin, and said, I have gotten a man from the Lord.

2 And she again bare his brother Ā'bĕl. And [2]Ā'bĕl was a keeper of sheep, but Cāin was a tiller of the ground.

3 And in process of time it came to pass, that Cāin [1]brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the Lord.

4 And Ā'bĕl, he also brought of the [a]firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the Lord had [b]respect unto Ā'bĕl and to his offering;

5 But unto Cāin [1]and to his offering he had not respect. And Cāin was very wroth, and his countenance fell.

6 And the Lord said unto Cāin, [1]Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance fallen?

7 If thou doest well, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door. And unto thee shall be his desire, and thou shalt rule over him.

8 And Cāin [1]talked with Ā'bĕl his brother: and it came to pass, when they were in the field, that Cāin rose up against Ā'bĕl his brother, and [c]slew him.

9 ¶ And the Lord said unto Cāin, Where is Ā'bĕl thy brother? And he said, I know not: Am I my brother's keeper?

10 And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood [3]crieth unto me from the ground.

11 And now [d]art thou [4]cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand;

12 When thou tillest the ground, it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength; a fugitive and a vagabond shalt thou be in the earth.

13 And Cāin said unto the Lord, My punishment is greater than I can bear.

14 Behold, thou hast driven me out this day from the face of the earth; and from thy face shall I be hid; and I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond in the earth; and it shall come to pass, that every one that findeth me shall [5]slay me.

15 And the Lord said unto him, Therefore whosoever slayeth Cāin, vengeance shall be taken on him sevenfold. And the Lord set a mark upon Cāin, lest any finding him should kill him.

16 ¶ And Cain went out from the presence [e]of the Lord, and dwelt in the land of Nōd, on the east of Ē'dĕn.

17 And Cāin knew his wife; and she conceived, and bare Ē'nŏch; and he builded a city, and [f]called the name of the city, after the name of his son, Ē'nŏch.

18 And unto Ē'nŏch was born Ī'răd: and Ī'răd begat Me-hū'ja-el: and Me-hū'ja-el begat Me-thu'sa-el: and Me-thu'sa-el begat [7]Lā'mech.

19 ¶ And Lā'mech took unto him two wives: the name of one was Ā'dah, and the name of the other Zĭl-lăh.

20 And Ā'dah bare [8]Jā'băl: he was the father of such as dwell in tents, and of such as have cattle.

21 And his brother's name was [9]Jū'bal: he was the father of all such as handle the harp and organ.

22 And Zĭl'lăh, she also bare [10]Tu'bal-cāin,

9. To execrate or bitterly curse.
10. In sorrow and in pain, in weariness and trouble.
11. Perspiration, fig., agitation, fear, trembling.
12. The name of the first woman, a life giver. The name Adam gave his wife.
13. A cherub or an imaginary figure. Cherub or cherubim is frequently used in the Bible but always symbolical of ruling power. Cherub is first used in Gen. 3:24, and here, as elsewhere, a symbol of the divine presence; many authorities agreeing that the cherubim were here placed at the east of the garden in a local tabernacle, signifying the presence of the Lord at the entrance guarding the tree of life, preventing man's entrance thereto. In all probability the cherubim remained here until the deluge, otherwise there would have been nothing to guard the way to the tree of life.
14. A blaze from the idea of enwrapping, enchantment.

Ch. 4. B. C. 4003-3875.

1. The name of the first child born upon earth. Because of the fall of man it was now necessary to make two offerings to Jehovah—one an oblation, the other a sacrifice. Cain brought only the oblation or the gift typifying sovereignty of God, neglecting to bring the offering of sacrifice which would have been a confession of fallen nature and an atonement for sin. God's righteous indignation against sin had been clearly made known to Adam and his offspring. Cain's refusal, therefore, to bring the offering of sacrifice was a virtual denial of God's right to condemn sin and at the same time a rejection of the proffered means of grace. Consequently, God refused to accept the one offering brought by Cain and meted out punishment to him.
2. The second son of Adam and Eve. The name signifying weakness, banishment, grief, or lamentations, which indicated Abel's weakness and poverty compared with the supposed glory of his brother's destiny. In the offering Abel made to the Lord, he observed both the offering of oblation and sacrifice as he had been instructed by his father, Adam, to do. His offerings were accepted as he had, in a humble spirit, met all the requirements. He acknowledged fallen nature and accepted the means of forgiveness. Such was the distinguishing difference between his and Cain's offering, causing the Lord to say, "By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain."
3. To shriek, by implication, to proclaim.
4. The punishment God put upon Cain for the murder of his brother Abel.
5. To avenge or punish, to take vengeance.
6. Meaning teaching or teacher, son of Cain after whom the first city noticed in the Scriptures is named. B. C. 4041. It was located east of Eden.
7. Lamech, son of Methuselah and father of Jabal. He took unto himself two wives, Adah and Zillah. Thus Lamech is recorded as being the author of the evil practice of polygamy. In vs. 23, 24 is recorded the poetical address which Lamech made to his wives. This is the first and most ancient piece of poetry in the Hebrew Scripture and the only example of antediluvial poetry extant:

"Adah and Zillah, hear my voice.
Wives of Lamech, receive my speech.
For I slew a man to my wounding,
And a young man to my hurt;
If Cain was avenged seven times,
Then Lamech seventy times seven."
—R. V.

8. A descendant of Cain, a son of Lamech and Adah. Jabal is the first man who adopted the nomadic life, which is still followed by numerous tribes in Asia: for that reason he is called "the father of such that dwell in tents and have cattle."
9. Descendant of Cain, son of Lamech and Adah. He is reported as the inventor of the harp and organ, perhaps the lyre and mouth-organ are what is meant.
10. Tubal-Cain, descendant of Cain, son of Lamech and Zillah, the inventor of the arts pertaining to metals.

h. Who maketh his angels spirits; and his ministers a flame of fire. (Ps. 104:4.) And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers the flaming fire. (Heb. 1:7.)

i. Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. (Jno. 14:6.)

a. That thou shalt set apart unto the Lord all that openeth the matrix, and every firstling that cometh of a beast which thou hast; the males shall be the Lord's. (Ex. 13:12.) Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.)

b. Then the angel of the Lord put forth the end of the staff that was in his hand, and touched the flesh and the unleavened cakes; and there arose up fire out of the rock, and consumed the flesh and the unleavened cakes. (Jd. 6:21.) By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was rightcous, God testifying of his gifts; and by it he, being dead, yet speaketh. (Heb. 11:4.)

c. Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? because his own works were evil and his brother's righteous. Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you. We know that we have passed from death unto life because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer; and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. (I Jno. 3:12-15.)

d. If thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes, which I command thee this day, that all these curses shall come upon thee and overtake thee; cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the field. Cursed shall be thy basket and thy store. Cursed shall be the fruit of thy body, the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep. Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be when thou goest out. (Dt. 28:15-19.) Cursed be he that setteth light by his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen. Cursed be he that removeth his neighbor's landmark. And all the people shall say, Amen. Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of the way. And all the people shall say, Amen. Cursed be he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger, fatherless and widow. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:16-19.) Cursed be he that smiteth his neighbor secretly. And all the people shall say, Amen. Cursed be he that taketh reward to slay an innocent person. And all the people shall say, Amen. Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:24-26.)

e. For through the anger of the Lord it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence, that Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. (II Kings 24:20.) Therefore, behold I, even I, will utterly forget you, and I will forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence. (Jer. 23:39.)

f. Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever, and their dwelling places to all generations; they called their lands after their own names. (Ps. 49:11.)

an instructor of every artificer in brass and iron: and the sister of Tu'bal-cāin was Nā'amah.

23 And Lā'mech said unto his wives, Ā'dah and Zĭl'lāh, Hear my voice; ye wives of Lā'mech, hearken unto my speech: for I have slain a man to my [11]wounding, and a young man to my hurt.

24 If Cāin shall be avenged [12]sevenfold, truly Lā'mech seventy and [12]sevenfold.

25 ¶ And Ād'ăm knew his wife again; and she bare a son, and called his name [13]Sĕth: For God, said she, hath appointed me another seed instead of Ā'bĕl, whom Cāin slew.

26 And to Sĕth, to him also there was born a son; and he called his name Ē'nos: then began [14]men to [g]call upon the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER 5.

1 The genealogy, age, and death of the patriarchs from Adam unto Noah. 21 The godliness and translation of Enoch.

1 This is the [1]book of the generations of Ād'ăm. In the day that God created man, [a]in the likeness of God made he him;

2 Male and female created he them; and blessed them, and called their name Ād'ăm, in the day when they were created.

3 ¶ And Ād'ăm lived an hundred and thirty years, and begat a son in his own likeness, after his image; and called his name Sĕth:

4 And the days of Ād'ăm after he had begotten Sĕth were eight hundred years: and he begat sons and daughters:

5 And all the days that Ād'ăm lived were nine hundred and thirty years: and he died.

6 And Sĕth lived an hundred and five years, and begat [2]Ē'nos:

7 And Sĕth lived after he begat Ē'nos eight hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters:

8 And all the days of Sĕth were nine hundred and twelve years: and he died.

9 ¶ And Ē'nos lived ninety years and begat Ca-ī'nan:

10 And Ē'nos lived after he begat Ca-ī'nan eight hundred and fifteen years, and begat sons and daughters:

11 And all the days of Ē'nos were nine hundred and five years: and he died.

12 ¶ And Ca-ī'nan lived seventy years, and begat Ma-hā'la-lē-el:

13 And Ca-ī'nan lived after he begat Ma-hā'la-lē-el eight hundred and forty years, and begat sons and daughters:

14 And all the days of Ca-ī'nan were nine hundred and ten years: and he died.

15 ¶ And Ma-hā'la-lē-el lived sixty and five years, and begat Jā'red:

16 And Ma-hā'la-lē-el lived after he begat Jā'red eight hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters:

17 And all the days of Ma-hā'la-lē-el were eight hundred ninety and five years: and he died.

18 ¶ And Jā'red lived an hundred sixty and two years, and he begat [3]Ē'nŏch:

19 And Jā'red lived after he begat Ē'nŏch eight hundred years, and begat sons and daughters:

20 And all the days of Jā'red were nine hundred sixty and two years: and he died.

21 ¶ And Ē'nŏch lived sixty and five years, and begat [4]Me-thu'se-lah:

22 And Ē'nŏch [b]walked with God after he begat Me-thu'se-lah three hundred years, and begat sons and daughters:

23 And all the days of Ē'nŏch were three hundred sixty and five years:

24 And Ē'nŏch walked with God: and he was not; [c]for God took him.

25 And Me-thu'se-lah lived an hundred eighty and seven years, and begat Lā'mech.

26 And Me-thu'se-lah lived after he begat Lā'mech seven hundred eighty and two years, and begat sons and daughters:

27 And all the days of Me-thu'se-lah were nine hundred sixty and nine years: and he died.

28 ¶ And Lā'mech lived an hundred eighty and two years, and begat a son:

29 And he called his name [5]Nō'ah, saying, This same shall comfort us concerning our work and toil of our hands, because of the ground which the Lord hath [d]cursed.

30 And Lā'mech lived after he begat Nō'ah five hundred ninety and five years, and begat sons and daughters:

31 And all the days of Lā'mech were seven hundred seventy and seven years: and he died.

32 And Nō'ah was five hundred years old: and Nō'ah begat [6]Shĕm, [7]Hăm, and [8]Jā'pheth.

CHAPTER 6.

1 The wickedness of the world, which provoked God's wrath, and caused the flood. 8 Noah findeth grace. 14 The order, form, and end of the ark.

1 And it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and daughters were born unto them, builded the ark. Noah lived 950 years.

6. Signifying honor, authority and character. One of the three sons of Noah, from whom descended the nations, enumerated in the tenth ch. of Gen. Shem is the progenitor of the Semitic race.

7. Signifying swarthy. The youngest son of Noah. Ham, having provoked his father's wrath by an act of indecency toward him (of not only beholding the nude form of his father while asleep, but going and telling his brothers about it), his father cursed him and his descendants to be slaves to his brothers and their descendants forever.

8. One of the sons of Noah, born about 100 years before the Flood. He is the progenitor of the peoples of western Europe and northern Asia—the Armenians, Medes, Greeks, Thracians, Turks and Barbarians.

g. "Or, call themselves by the name of the Lord." The sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair. (Gen. 6:2.) I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord. (Ps. 116:17.) And it shall come to pass that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be delivered; for in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the Lord hath said, and in the remnant whom the Lord shall call. (Joel 2:32.) But as many as received him, to them gave he power, to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. (Jno. 1:12.) Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours. (I Cor. 1:2.)

a. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth (26). So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. (Gen. 1:26, 27.) And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness. (Eph. 4:24.) And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him. (Col. 3:10.)

b. And when Abram was 90 years old and nine, the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect. (Gen. 17:1.) I have set the Lord always before me, because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. (Ps. 16:8.) I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living. (Ps. 116:9.) He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God? (Mic. 6:8.) That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory. (I Thes. 2:12.) Not after the flesh, but after the Spirit—Therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit. (Rom. 8:1.) Walk in the Spirit and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh. (Gal. 5:16.) By faith—For we walk by faith, not by sight. (II Cor. 5:7.) In the light—But if we walk in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (I Jno. 1:7.)

c. And it came to pass, as they still went on, and talked, that, behold, there appeared a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, and parted them both asunder; and Elijah went up by a whirlwind into heaven. (II Ks. 2:11.) By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God. (Heb. 11:5.)

d. And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it, cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life. (Gen. 3:17.) And now art thou cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand. (Gen. 4:11.) If thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day, that all these curses shall come upon thee and overtake thee: cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shall thou be in the field. Cursed shall be thy basket and thy store. Cursed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep. Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be when thou goest out. (Dt. 28:15-19.)

2 That [a]the [1]sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair; and they [b]took them wives of all which they chose.

3 And the Lord said, [c]My spirit shall not always [2]strive with man, for that he also is flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years.

4 There were [3]giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown.

5 ¶ And [d]God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every [e]imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.

6 And [f]it [4]repented the Lord that he had made man on the earth, and it [g][5]grieved him at his heart.

7 And the Lord said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.

8 But Nō'ah [h]found [6]grace in the eyes of the Lord.

Ch. 6. B. C. 2448.

1. "The sons of God" are generally accepted by the best authorities as the descendants of Seth, who had been loyal adherents to the worship and service of the true God up to this time. "The daughters of men" belonged to the race of the ungodly Cain. The marriage of the sons of Seth to the daughters of Cain must have been prohibited, as the result of such marriage was the universal depravity of the family of Seth. Such a severe punishment would hardly have been put upon them except in violation of the will of Jehovah. This intermingling of the godly with the ungodly was the step downward of the righteous as the starting point of the universal corruption of mankind, which ended in the deluge and the destruction of the whole human kind, save the eight members of Noah's family.

2. To contend with, or plead the cause of.

3. The first mention of giants in the scriptures. The Gr. word used here meant, a bully, a tyrant, to fall. In the early history of men of all nations we find reference made to men of unusual height, sometimes of a purely human origin, but more frequently supposed to have taken of the supernatural and divine—as in the reference, "The sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old."

9 ¶ These are the generations of Nō'ah: Nō'ah was a just man and perfect in his generations, and Nō'ah [7]walked with God.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, Shĕm, Hăm, and Jā'pheth.

11 The earth also was [8]corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

12 And God looked [i]upon the earth, and, behold, it [9]was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.

13 And God said unto Nō'ah, The [j]end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with [10]violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth.

14 ¶ Make thee an ark of gopher wood; rooms shalt thou make in the [11]ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.

15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred [12]cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

17 And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood

4. To sigh, by implication to be sorry, to pity (in unfavorable manner), to avenge one's self. "Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord."

5. To worry, be sorry or vexed; pain or anger.

6. To be gracious toward, to have pity or mercy upon, to favor with kindness and mercy.

7. To be conversant with, to follow, to go along with, as Noah went the ways of God, and was conversant with him.

8. Ruined, cast off, decayed.

9. All the world was now corrupt. The hitherto godly sons of Seth, "the sons of God," had intermarried with the ungodly descendants of Cain, "the daughters of men," and God said, "all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth." This corruption seems to have been one of the prime causes of the Flood, for if the family of Seth had remained pure and obedient to God, he would doubtless have spared the world for their sake, as he would have spared Sodom and Gomorrah, had ten righteous been found there. He would have spared the Jews, his own people, had they not corrupted themselves by intermarriages with the heathen.

10. Wrong doing, unjust gain, falseness, violent doings, oppressing and robbing of others, and forcible harassing.

11. There are two Gr. words used in the scriptures to designate ark, "taybaw" in Gen. 6:14, a boat, vessel, the ark of Noah, and Ex. 2:3, the ark where Moses was hid, the only other place where this word is used; "aron" meaning chest or coffer, as the ark of the covenant. According to Gen. 6:14-16, the ark was a building in the form of a parallelogram, not necessarily in the form of a wave cutting vessel, but simply a vessel that would ride the waves. It was 300 cubits long, 50 cubits broad, 30 cubits high. It was three stories high with a door in the side and windows in the flat roof, where Noah was commanded to make them of a cubit in size. That the windows were in the roof instead of the sides or ends would appear from Gen. 8:13, "And it came to pass in the 601st year, in the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were dried up from off the earth, and Noah removed the covering of the ark and looked and behold the face of the ground was dry." This labor of removing the cover would not have been necessary had there been windows in the sides or ends of the ark. The ark was made under the special instructions and directions of God, for the purpose of preserving certain persons and animals from the flood, with which God intended to overflow the land in punishment for man's iniquities. There were eight people in the ark, Noah and his wife, with his three sons and their wives. (Gen. 7:17 and II Peter 2:5.) The animals in the ark consisted of a pair of all unclean animals and seven pairs of all clean animals. By "clean" we understand, fit for food of sacrifice, and by "unclean" unfit for food or for sacrifice. Of birds there were seven pairs. (Gen. 7:2.) As, after the flood, Noah was the progenitor of all nations of the earth, we might naturally expect to find in all nations traditions and histories respecting him, the ark and the flood in general, which is true, as there is no nation known where such traditions have not been found.

12. Cubit, meaning forearm, derived immediately from the Latin, cubatus, the lower arm. The ordinary cubit among the Hebrews is taken to be about a six-hand breadth, the average hand breadth being three and one-half inches, six of which will make the average forearm, gives a cubit of 21 inches.

a. I will receive you, and will be a father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty. (II Cor. 6:17-18.) I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn. (Jer. 31:9.) He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God and he shall be my son. (Rev. 21:7.)

b. Neither shalt thou make marriages with them; thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son. For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods; so will the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and destroy thee suddenly. (Dt. 7:3, 4.)

c. By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison; which some time were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a-preparing, wherein few, that is, 8 souls were saved by water. (I Peter 3:19, 20.) And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and wept over it, saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! But now they are hid from thine eyes. (Lu. 19: 41, 42.)

d. And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient; being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity, whispers. (Rom. 1:28, 29.)

e. And the Lord smelled a sweet savor; and the Lord said in his heart, I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake; for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; neither will I again smite any more every thing living, as I have done. (Gen. 8:21.) An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief. (Prov. 6:18.) For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies. (Mat. 15:19.) This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is one event unto all; yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead. (Ecc. 9:3.) Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil. (Ecc. 8:11.)

f. And the Lord repented of the evil which he thought to do unto his people. (Ex. 32:14.) For the Lord shall judge his people, and repent himself for his servants, when he seeth that their power is gone and there is none shut up, or left. (Dt. 32:36.) And God sent an angel unto Jerusalem to destroy it; and as he was destroying, the Lord beheld, and he repented him of evil, and said to the angel that destroyed, It is enough, stay now thine hand. (I Chr. 21:15.) If that nation, against whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them. (Jer. 18:8.) And rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God; for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil. (Joel 2:13.) And God saw their works, that they turn from their evil ways; and God repented of the evil that he had said that he would do unto them; and he did it not. (Jonah 3:10.)

g. And they put away the strange gods from among them, and served the Lord; and his soul was grieved for the misery of Israel. (Judg. 10:16.) In all their afflictions he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. (Isa. 63:9.) Forty years long was I grieved with this generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways. (Ps. 95:10.) Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do alway err in their heart; and they have not known my ways. (Heb. 3:10.)

h. Behold now, thy servant hath found grace in thy sight, and thou hast magnified thy mercy, which thou hast showed unto me in saving my life. (Gen. 19:19.) And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favor with God. (Lu. 1:30.) And the Lord said, If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes. (Gen. 18:26.) The Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend (11). Thou hast found grace in my sight and I know thee by name (17). While my glory passeth by, that I will put thee in a clift of the rock, and will cover thee with my hand while I pass by (22). And I will take away mine hand, and thou shalt see my back parts; but my face shall not be seen (23). (Ex. 33:11, 17, 22, 23.) For what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as the Lord our God is in all things that we call upon him for? (Dt. 4:7.) As I was with Moses, so I will be with thee; I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Josh. 1:5.) Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:9.) Thou hast granted me life and favor, and thy visitation hath preserved my spirit. (Job. 10:12.) For thou, Lord, wilt bless the righteous; with favor wilt thou compass him as with a shield (Ps. 5:12.) He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart, (4). He shall receive the blessing from the Lord. (5). (Ps. 24:4, 5.) Neither did their own arm save them; but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst a favor unto them. (Ps 44:3.) The Lord hath been mindful of us, he will bless us; he will bless the house of Israel; he will bless the house of Aaron; he will bless them that fear the Lord, both small and great. (Ps. 115:12, 13.) So shalt thou find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man. (Prov. 3:4.) A good man obtaineth favor of the Lord. (Prov. 12:2.) When a man's ways pleased the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him. (Prov. 16:7.) Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and him with me. (Rev. 3:20.)

i. The Lord looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, and seek God. (Ps. 14:2.)

j. Also, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord God unto the land of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth shall die.

18 But with thee will I establish my [13]covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.

21 And take thou unto thee of all food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

22 [k]Thus did Nō'ah; according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

CHAPTER 7.

1 Noah, with his family, and the living creatures enter into the ark. 17 The beginning, increase, and continuance of the flood.

1 And the [a]Lord said unto Nō'ah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous [b]before me in this generation.

2 Of every [1]clean beast thou shalt take to thee by [2]sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.

4 For yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I destroy from off the face of the earth.

5 And Nō'ah did according unto all that the Lord commanded him.

6 And Nō'ah was six hundred years old when the [3]flood of waters was upon the earth.

7 ¶ And Nō'ah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of clean beasts, and of beasts that are not clean, and of fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth.

9 They went in two and two unto Nō'ah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Nō'ah.

10 And it came to pass after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

13. A compact, a league. God's oath or promise in his dealings with men. In this sense the greatest bestowal of blessings upon Noah. The original word takes its name directly from cutting, as a sacrifice was always passed between the parties. Which was to show that without an atonement or sacrifice there could be no communication of blessings from God to man.

Ch. 7. B. C. 2349.

1. To be pure, sound, uncontaminated, morally innocent or holy, clean.

2. The sacred or full number. Perfect or complete. The Hebrew, when used as an adverb, seven times seven.

3. The wickedness of men had become so great in the sight of the Lord, that all human kind must be destroyed, save Noah and his righteous family. The history of the flood or manner of this destruction is recorded in Gen., chs. 7, 8. The flood began in the 600th year, the second month, the seventeenth day of the month of Noah's life. (Gen. 7:11.) The rain fell incessantly for 40 days and nights. (7:4.) "For yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights." The waters continued to increase for 150 days (Gen. 7:24) till they stood 15 cubits (or 26½ ft.) high. The floods fell in the natural way, i. e., as rain. "The windows of heaven opened and the rain was upon the earth." Its abatement was also in the normal manner. (Gen. 8:1.) "And God made a wind to pass over the earth and the waters assuaged." The waters of the flood were completely removed from off the face of the earth. (Gen. 8:13—"And it came to pass in the 601st year, in the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were dried up from off the earth: and Noah removed the covering of the ark, and looked and beheld, the face of the ground was dry." Therefore the flood was on the earth 10 months and 14 days. There are two opinions held as to the extent of the flood, viz.: First, that the waters covered the entire surface of the earth; second, that only the portion of the earth which was inhabited by mankind, was covered by the flood. Those who hold the second opinion present this argument: that the ark was not large enough to hold all the animals, birds and insects, with food to last them 10½ months, as of the existing mammalia there are over 1,000 known species, of birds over 5,000, of reptiles 2,000, of insects over 100,000; that a building 525x87½x52½ ft. could not accommodate such an enormous array of animals, birds, reptiles and insects, and food to supply them, and that, if the floods covered the portion of the earth's surface inhabited by man, the purpose of the flood would be accomplished and the Scriptural truth established just the same as if the entire surface had been covered.

11 ¶ In the six hundredth year of Nō'ah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened.

12 And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

13 In the selfsame day entered Nō'ah, and Shĕm, and Hăm, and Jā'pheth, the sons of Nō'ah, and Nō'ah's wife, and the three wives of his sons with them, into the ark;

14 They, and every beast after his kind, and all the cattle after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, every bird of every sort.

15 And they went in unto Nō'ah into the ark, two and two of all flesh, wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they that went in, went in male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the Lord [c]shut him in.

17 And the flood was forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lift up above the earth.

18 And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth; and the ark went upon the face of the waters.

19 And the waters prevailed exceedingly upon the earth; and all the high hills, that were under the whole heaven, were covered.

20 Fifteen cubits upward did the waters prevail; and the mountains were covered.

21 And [d]all flesh died that moved upon the earth, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of beast, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, and every man:

22 All in whose nostrils was the breath of life, of all that was in the dry land, died.

23 And every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground, both man, and cattle, and the creeping things, and the fowl of the heaven; and they were destroyed from the earth: and [e]Nō'ah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the ark.

24 And the waters prevailed upon the earth an hundred and fifty days.

of Israel; An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land. (Ez. 7:2.) But the end of all things is at hand; be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer. (I Peter 4:7.)

k. By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith. (Heb. 11:7.) Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe; for there is no difference. (Rom. 3:22.)

a. He that dwelleth in the secret places of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress, my God; in him will I trust. (Ps. 91:1, 2.) For the Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly. (Ps. 84:11.)

b. Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy; to deliver their soul from death. (Ps. 33:18, 19.) The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished. (II Peter 2:9.) For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings. (Job 34:21.) Great in counsel, and mighty in work; for thine eyes are upon all the ways of the sons of men; to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 32:19.) For the eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him. (II Chr. 16:9.) For he looketh to the ends of the earth, and seeth under the whole heaven. (Job 28:24.) The Lord looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, and seek God. (Ps. 14:2.) The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good. (Prov. 15:3.)

c. The Lord preserveth all them that love him; but all the wicked will he destroy. (Ps. 145:20.) Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. (I Peter 1:5.)

d. Which were cut down out of time, whose foundation was overflown with a flood. (Job 22:16.) And knew not till the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. (Mat. 24:39.) They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. (Lu. 17:27.) Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished. (II Pet. 3:6.)

e. The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace. (Ex. 14:14.) And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not. (Mal. 3:17, 18.) By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith. (Heb. 11:7.) And he spared not the old world, but saved Noah, the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly. (II Peter 2:5.)

a. And it came to pass, when God destroyed the cities of the plain, that God remembered Abraham and sent Lot out of the midst of the overthrow, when he overthrew the cities in which Lot dwelt. (Gen. 19:29.) And God heard their groaning, and God remembered his covenant with Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob. (Ex. 2:24.) And they rose up in the morning early, and worshipped before the Lord, and returned, and came to their house to Ramah; and Elkanah knew his wife; and the Lord remembered her. (I Sam. 1:19.) For he remembered his holy promise, and Abraham his servant. (Ps. 105:42.) Who remembered us in our low estate; for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 136:23.)

him in the ark: [b]and God made a wind to pass over the earth, and the waters asswaged;

2 The fountains also of the deep and the windows of heaven were stopped, and the rain from heaven was restrained;

3 And the waters returned from off the earth continually: and after the end of [c]the hundred and fifty days the waters were abated.

4 And the ark rested in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, upon the mountains of [1]Âr'ă-rat.

5 And the waters decreased continually until the tenth month: in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, were the tops of the mountains seen.

6 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of forty days, that Nō'ah opened the window of the ark which he had made:

7 And he sent forth a raven, which went forth to and fro, until the waters were dried up from off the earth.

8 Also he sent forth a dove from him, to see if the waters were abated from off the face of the ground;

9 But the dove found no rest for the sole of her foot, and she returned unto him into the ark, for the waters were on the face of the whole earth: then he put forth his hand, and took her, and pulled her in unto him into the ark.

10 And he stayed yet other seven days; and again he sent forth the dove out of the ark;

11 And the dove came in to him in the evening; and, lo, in her mouth was an olive leaf pluckt off: so Nō'ah knew that the waters were abated from off the earth.

12 And he stayed yet other seven days; and sent forth the dove; which returned not again unto him any more.

13 ¶ And it came to pass in the six hundredth and first year, in the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were dried up from off the earth: and Nō'ah removed the covering of the ark, and looked, and, behold, the face of the ground was dry.

14 And in the second month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, was the earth dried.

Ch. 8. B. C. 2349.

1. Ararat, meaning Armenia. The name appears nowhere in the scriptures or elsewhere as the name of any mountain, but only as the name of a country, upon the mountain of which the ark rested during the subsidence of the flood.

2. The first altar we read of in the Bible was that erected by Noah on leaving the ark. According to legend it was partly made from the remains of one built by Adam on his expulsion from Paradise, and afterwards used by Cain and Abel on the identical spot where Abraham prepared to offer up Isaac. Mention is made of altars made by Abraham (Gen. 12:7; 13:4; 22:9), by Isaac (Gen. 24:25), by Jacob (Gen. 33:20; 35:1-3), by Moses (Ex. 17:15). After the giving of the law, the Israelites were commanded to make an altar of earth; they were also permitted to use stones, but no iron tool was to be applied to them. This has generally been supposed to be an interdiction of Scripture to guard against a violation of the second commandment. Altars were frequently built on high places, the name being used sometimes for the place and sometimes for the altar. (I Kings 11:7; II Kings 23:15.) This practice was forbidden by the Mosaic law (Dt. 12:13, 14), except in particular cases as those of Gideon (Judg. 6:26), and David (II Sam. 24:18).

3. A Heb. word meaning to ascend. Burnt-offerings were, therefore, sacrifices which owed their name to the fact that the whole of the offering was to be consumed by fire upon the altar, and to rise, as it were, in smoke to heaven. The entire animal was consumed except the skin, which went to the officiating priest. Although Adam had doubtless been instructed by the Lord regarding the offerings and sacrifices to make, the first record of a burnt offering is Abel's offering, recorded in Gen. 4:4. "And Abel, he also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the Lord had respect to Abel and his offering." The offering of the burnt sacrifice was to be conducted jointly by the offerer and the officiating priest as follows: 1st, the offerer was in person obliged to carry the sacrifice into the fore-courts, as far as the gate of the tabernacle or the temple, where the animal was examined by the officiating priest, to ascertain whether it was without blemish or not; 2nd, the offerer then laid his hands upon the victim, confessing his sins, and dedicated it as his sacrifice to propitiate Jehovah; 3rd, the animal was then killed, either by the offerer or by the priest, toward the north of the altar. (Lev. 1:11)—"And he shall kill it on the side of the altar northward"; 4th, the priest then took up the blood and sprinkled it upon the lower part of the altar so as not to extinguish the fire, which was upon the altar. (Lev. 1:11)—"And the priests, Aaron's sons, shall sprinkle his blood round about upon the altar"; 5th, the skinning or flaying of the animal and the cutting of it into 12 pieces, work which the offerer himself was allowed to perform. (Lev. 1:6)—"And he shall flay the burnt offering, and cut it into his pieces." First cutting off the head, then the legs, etc.; 6th, the priest then took the right shoulder, breast and entrails, and placing them in the hands of the offerer, and his own hands beneath those of the former, waved the sacrifice up and down several times in acknowledgment of the all powerful presence of God; 7th, the officiating priest retraced his steps to the altar, placed the wood upon it in the form of a cross, and lighted the fire; 8th, the entrails and legs being cleansed with water, the separate pieces were placed together upon the altar in the form of a slain animal.

Poor people were allowed to bring a turtle dove, or a young pigeon as a burnt offering, nothing being said regarding the sex of it. The mode of killing these birds was by nipping the head off with the nail of the hand.

Burnt offerings were for two purposes: 1st, oblation, acknowledging the fallen state or nature of man; 2nd, atonement, for the forgiveness of sins committed and a claiming of the acceptance of the proffered means of grace. And were also given as a prophecy of the great sacrifice and atonements to be made by Christ.

Ch. 9. B. C. 2348.

1. Animal food is here granted to man. It may have been used before, it is now for the first time expressly permitted. Man is here permitted to eat freely whatever he desires in the vegetable and animal creation.

15 ¶ And God spake unto Nō'ah, saying,

16 Go [d]forth of the ark, thou, and thy wife, and thy sons, and thy sons' wives with thee.

17 Bring forth with thee every living thing that is with thee, of all flesh, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth; that they may breed abundantly in the earth, and be [e]fruitful, and multiply upon the earth.

18 And Nō'ah went forth, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him:

19 Every beast, every creeping thing, and every fowl, and whatsoever creepeth upon the earth, after their kinds, went forth out of the ark.

20 ¶ And Nō'ah builded an [2]altar unto the Lord; and took of every clean beast, and of every clean fowl, and offered burnt [3]offerings on the altar.

21 And the Lord smelled a [f]sweet savour; and the Lord said in his heart, I will not again [g]curse the ground any more for man's sake; for the [h]imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; neither will I again [i]smite any more every thing living, as I have done.

22 While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease.

CHAPTER 9.

1 God blesseth Noah. 4 Blood and murder are forbidden. 8 God's covenant, 13 signified by the rainbow. 18 Noah replenisheth the world, 20 planteth a vineyard, 21 is drunken, and mocked of his son, 25 curseth Canaan, 26 blesseth Shem, 27 prayeth for Japheth, 29 and dieth.

1 And [a]God blessed Nō'ah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

2 And the fear of you and the dread of you shall be upon every beast of the earth, and upon every fowl of the air, upon all that moveth upon the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea; into your hand are they delivered.

3 Every moving thing that liveth shall be [1]meat for [b]you; even as the green herb have I given you all things.

b. And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. (Ex. 14:21.) Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a garment; the water stood above the mountains. At thy rebuke they fled; at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away. (Ps. 104:6, 7.) Thou didst blow thy wind, the sea covered them; they sank as lead in the mighty waters. (Ex. 15:10.)

c. And the waters prevailed upon the earth an 150 days. (Gen. 7:24.)

d. The Lord shall preserve thy going out, and thy coming in, from this time forth, and even for evermore. (Ps. 121:8.)

e. And God blessed them, saying, Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let fowl multiply in the earth. (Gen. 1:22.)

f. But his inwards and his legs shall he wash in water; and the priest shall burn all on the altar, to be a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord. (Lev. 1:9.) I will accept you with your sweet savour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you before the heathen. (Ezek. 20:41.) And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savour. (Eph. 5:2.)

g. For this is as the waters of Noah unto me: for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth; so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee. (Isa. 54:9.)

h. And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. (Gen. 6:5.) Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me. (Ps. 51:5.) The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked; who can know it? (Jer. 17:9.) Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. (Rom. 1:21.) For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God. (Rom. 3:23.) But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe. (Gal. 3:22.) And they rejected his statutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies which he testified against them; and they followed vanity, and became vain, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the Lord had charged them that they should not do like them. (II Ks. 17:15.)

i. And I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh; and the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh. (Gen. 9:15.) For this is as the waters of Noah unto me; for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should not more go over the earth; so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee. (Isa. 54:9.) And the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is upon the earth. (Gen. 9:16.)

a. And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth. (Gen. 1:28.)

b. Notwithstanding thou mayest kill and eat flesh in all thy gates, whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which he hath given thee: the unclean and the clean may eat thereof, as of the roebuck, and as of the hart. (Dt. 12:15.) Thou shalt not eat any abominable thing. (Dt. 14:3.)

4 But flesh with [c]the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat.

5 And surely your blood of your lives will I require; at the hand of [d]every beast will I require it, and at the hand of [e]man; at the hand of every man's [f]brother will I require the life of man.

6 Whoso [g]sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the [h]image of God made he man.

7 And you, be ye fruitful, and multiply; bring forth abundantly in the earth, and multiply therein.

8 ¶ And God spake unto Nō'ah, and to his sons with him, saying,

9 And I, behold, I establish my [i]covenant with you, and with your seed after you;

10 And with [j]every living creature that is with you, of the fowl, of the cattle, and of every beast of the earth with you; from all that go out of the ark, to every beast of the earth.

11 And I will establish my covenant with you; neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the waters of a flood; neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth.

12 And God said, This is the token of the covenant which I make between me and you and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations:

13 I do set my [k]bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth.

14 And it shall come to pass, when I bring a cloud over the earth, that the bow shall be seen in the cloud:

15 And I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh; [l]and the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 And the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is upon the earth.

17 And God said unto Nō'ah, This is the token of the covenant, which I have established between me and all flesh that is upon the earth.

18 ¶ And the sons of Nō'ah, that went forth of the ark, were Shĕm, and Hām, and Jā'pheth: and Hām is the father of [1]Cā'nāan.

19 These are the three sons of Nō'ah: and of them was the whole earth overspread.

20 And Nō'ah began to be an husbandman, and he planted a vineyard.

21 And he drank of the wine, and [m]was drunken; and he was uncovered within his tent.

22 And Hām, the father of Cā'nāan, saw the nakedness of his father, and told his two brethren without.

23 And [n]Shĕm and Jā'pheth took a garment, and laid it upon both their shoulders, and went backward, and covered the nakedness of their father; and their faces were backward, and they saw not their father's nakedness.

24 And Nō'ah awoke from his wine, and knew what his younger son had done unto him.

25 And he said, [o]Cursed [p]be Cā'nāan; a servant of servants shall he be unto his brethren.

26 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Shĕm; and Cā'nāan shall be his servant.

27 And God shall [q]enlarge Jā'pheth, and he shall dwell in the tents of Shem; and Cā'naan shall be his servant.

28 ¶ And Nō'ah lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years.

29 And all the days of Nō'ah were nine hundred and fifty years: and he died.

CHAPTER 10.

1 The generations of Noah. 2 The sons of Japhet. 6 The sons of Ham. 8 Nimrod the first monarch. 21 The sons of Shem.

1 Now these are the generations of the sons of Nō'ah, Shĕm, Hām, and Jā'pheth: and unto them were sons born after the flood.

2 The sons of Jā'pheth; Gō'mer, and Mā'gŏg, and Mădʹa-ī, and Jā'vān, and Tu'bal, and Mē'shech, and Tī'ras.

3 And the sons of Gō'mer; Ăshʹke-năz, and Rī'phath, and To-gär'mah.

4 And the sons of Jā'vān; E-lī'shah, and Tär'shish, Kĭtʹtĭm, and Dŏdʹa-nĭm.

5 By these were the [1]isles of the Gĕn'tīleş divided in their lands; every one after his tongue, after their families, in their nations.

6 [r]And the sons of Hām; [2]Cŭsh, and Mīz'ra-īm, and Phū, and Cā'nāan.

7 And the sons of Cŭsh; Sē'bà, and Hăv'ī-lah, and Säb'tah, and Rā'a-mah, and Sabʹte-chah: and the sons of Rā'a-mah; [3]Shē'bà, and Dē'dan.

8 And Cŭsh begat [4]Nĭm'rŏd: he began to be a mighty one in the earth.

9 He was a mighty hunter before the Lord: wherefore it is said, Even as Nĭm'rŏd the mighty hunter before the Lord.

10 And the beginning of his kingdom was Bā'bel, and Ē'rĕch, and Ac'cād, and Căl'neh, in the land of [5]Shī'när.

self the favorite of bold and venturesome young men, who readily joined him. From his strength and fame thus gained, he took encouragement to break the patriarchal union of venerable and peaceful subordination and to set himself up as a military chieftain, assailing and subduing men, training his adherents into formidable troops, by their aid subduing the inhabitants of Shinar and its neighboring villages. In order to maintain the supremacy he was rapidly acquiring he made real his plan in building forts, towns and cities. The principal one of which was afterward known as Babel.

5 The proper name of Babylonia, particularly of the country surrounding Babylon.

c. Only be sure that thou eat not the blood: for the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh. (Dt. 12:23.) But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood. (Acts 15:20.)

d. If an ox gore a man or a woman, that they die: then the ox shall be surely stoned, and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the ox shall be quit. (Ex. 21:28.)

e. Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death; but he shall be surely put to death. (Num. 35:31.)

f. And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the time before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation. (Acts 17:26.)

g. He that smiteth a man so that he die, shall be surely put to death (12). But if a man come presumptuously upon his neighbor, to slay him with guile; thou shalt take him from my altar; that he may die. (Ex. 21:12, 14.) He that killeth any man shall surely be put to death. (Lev. 24:17.) Then Jesus said unto him, Put up again thy sword into its place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. (Math. 26:52.) He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity; he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. (Rev. 13:10.) Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee. (Isa. 33:1.) And if he smite him with an instrument of iron, so that he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death (16). And if he smite him with throwing a stone, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer. The murderer shall surely be put to death (17). Or if he smite him with an hand weapon of wood, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer; the murderer shall surely be put to death (18). The revenger of blood himself shall slay the murderer; when he meeteth him, he shall slay him (19). But if he thrust him of hatred, or hurl at him by laying of wait, that he die (20); Or in enmity smite him with his hand, that he die, he that smote him shall surely be put to death; for he is a murderer; the revenger of blood shall slay the murderer when he meeteth him (21). (Num. 35:16-21.) At the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death: but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death. (Dt. 17:6.)

h. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. (Gen. 1:27.) For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man. (1 Cor. 11:7.)

i. The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works. (Ps. 145:9.)

j. For as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth; so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee. (Isa. 54:9.)

k. Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. (Prov. 20:1.)

l. Honor thy father and thy mother that thy days may be long 11 Out of that land went forth [6]Ăs'shur, and builded [7]Nĭn'e-veh, and the city Rē-hō'-both, and Cā'lah, 12 And Rē'sen between Nĭn'e-veh and Cā'-lah; the same is a great city.

13 And Mĭz'ra-ĭm begat Lu'dĭm, and Ăn'-a-mĭm, and Lē'hă-bĭm, and Năph'tu-hĭm, 14 And Päth-ru'sĭm, and Căs'lu-hĭm, (out of whom came Phĭ-lĭs'tĭm,) and Căph'tŏ-rĭm.

15 ¶ And Cā'năan begat Sī'dŏn his first-born, and Hĕth,

16 And the Jĕb'u-sīte, and the Ăm'or-īte, and the Gĭr'ga-sīte, 17 And the Hī'vīte, and the Ärk'īte, and the Sĭn'īte,

18 And the Är'vad-īte, and the Zĕm'-a-rīte, and the Hā'math-īte: and afterward were the families of the Cā'năan-ītes spread abroad.

19 And the border [a]of the Cā'năan-ītes was from Sī'dŏn, as thou comest to Gē'rär, unto Gā'zà; as thou goest, unto [8]Sŏd'om, and [9]Go-mŏr'rah, and Ăd'mah, and Ze-bō'im, even unto Lā'shà.

20 These are the sons of Hăm, after their families, after their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations.

21 ¶ Unto Shĕm also, the father of all the children of Ē'bĕr, the brother of Jā'pheth the elder, even to him were children born.

22 The children of Shĕm; Ē'lăm, and Ās'-shur, and Är-phax'ăd, and Lŭd, and Ā'ram.

23 And the children of Ā'ram; Ūz, and Hŭl, and Gē'thĕr, and Măsh.

24 And Är-phax'ăd begat Sā'lah; and Sā'-lah begat Ē'bĕr.

25 And unto Ē'bĕr were born two sons: the name of one was Pē'leg; for in his days was the earth divided; and his brother's name was Jŏk'tan.

26 And Jŏk'tan begat Ăl-mo'dăd, and Shē'-leph, and Hā'zar-mā'veth, and Jē'răh, 27 And Hà-dō'ram, and Ū'zal, and Dīk'lah,

28 And Ō'bal, and A-bĭm'ă-el, and Shē'bà,

29 And Ō'phĭr, and Hăv'ī-lah, and Jō'băb: all these were the sons of Jŏk'tan.

30 And their dwelling was from Mē'shà, as thou goest unto Sē'phar, a mount of the east.

31 These are the sons of Shĕm, after their families, after their tongues, in their lands, after their nations.

32 These are the families of the sons of Nō'ah, after their generations, in their nations: and by these were the nations divided in the earth after the flood.

CHAPTER 11.

1 One language in the world. 3 The building of Babel. 5 The confusion of tongues. 10 The generations of Shem. 27 The generations of Terah the father of Abram. 31 Terah goeth from Ur to Haran.

1 And the whole earth was of one [1]language, and of one speech.

2 And it came to pass, as they journeyed from the east, that they found a plain in the land of Shī'när; and they dwelt there.

3 And they said one to another, Go to, let us make brick, and burn them thoroughly. And they had brick for stone, and [2]slime had they for mortar.

4 And they said, Go to, let us build us a city and a [3]tower, whose top may reach unto heaven; and let us make us a name, lest we be [a]scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth.

5 And [b]the Lord came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of men builded.

6 And the Lord said, Behold, the people is one, and they have all one language; and this they begin to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have imagined to do.

7 Go to, let us go down, and there [4]confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech.

8 So the Lord scattered them abroad from thence [c]upon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city.

9 Therefore is the name of it called [5]Bā'-bel; because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth.

10 ¶ These are the generations of Shĕm: Shĕm was an hundred years old, and begat Är-phax'ăd two years after the flood:

11 And Shĕm lived after he begat Är-phax'ăd five hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.

12 And Är-phax'ăd lived five and thirty years, and begat Sā'lah:

13 And Är-phax'ăd lived after he begat Sā'lah four hundred and three years, and begat sons and daughters.

14 And Sā'lah lived thirty years, and begat Ē'bĕr:

15 And Sā'lah lived after he begat Ē'bĕr four hundred and three years, and begat sons and daughters.

16 And Ē'bĕr lived four and thirty years, and begat Pē'leg:

17 And Ē'bĕr lived after he begat Pē'leg four hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters.

18 And Pē'leg lived thirty years, and begat Rē'u:

19 And Pē'leg lived after he begat Rē'u two hundred and nine years, and begat sons and daughters.

20 And Rē'u lived two and thirty years, and begat Sē'rug:

21 And Rē'u lived after he begat Sē'rug two hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters.

22 And Sē'rug lived thirty years, and begat Nā'hor:

23 And Sē'rug lived after he begat Nā'hor two hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.

24 And Nā'hor lived nine and twenty years, and begat Tē'rah:

6. The second of the sons of Ham, the builder of the city Nineveh and founder of Assyria.

7. Meaning the dwelling of Ninus, a famous city which was the capital of the great Assyrian empire, situated on the eastern bank of the river Tigris. After the statement in Gen. the sacred record is for a long time entirely silent respecting Nineveh, it is not mentioned again for some 1500 years. Nineveh is described in the Book of Jonah as the great city of three days' journey, having immense gardens and even fields within its limits. Jonah entered the city a day's journey. (Jonah 3:4)—"And Jonah began to enter into the city, a day's journey, and he cried and said, Yet forty days and Nineveh shall be overthrown." Before foretelling the city's overthrow, Jonah penetrated into its very heart as the most suitable place for delivering his message. The immense size of Nineveh may also be gathered from the last verse of the book of Jonah—"And should not I spare Nineveh, that great city wherein are more than six score thousand persons (i. e., children) that cannot discern between their right and their left hand, and also much cattle." The population must have been immense for those days, for the city to have contained 120,000 children, who were so small they did not know their right hand from their left. The ruins of the city remain to the present, comprising a rampart four miles in circuit with a moss-covered wall about 20 ft. in height, which at first sight presents a range of hills. Recent researches in these ruins have revealed vast libraries containing records of a civilization extending far back into the dawn of history; because of its great iniquity, Nineveh was destroyed.

8. A city in the vale of Siddim (Gen. 14:3), destroyed by fire from heaven on account of the gross wickedness of the inhabitants, the memory of which event has been perpetuated in the name of infamy to all generations.

9. Gomorrah, one of the cities of the plain in which was situated Sodom. This plain held five cities, all of which were destroyed by fire from heaven, except Zoar, which was preserved in order that those who were commanded to escape from the other cities, might flee thither for protection, Zoar being the smallest one of the number.

Ch. 11. B. C. 2247-2217.

1. Up to this time one language was spoken by the whole human family and savagism was not mentioned by sacred or profane history.

2. The reddish pitch obtained near the Dead Sea by the inhabitants of the plains of Shinar, for building purposes and for use in covering their boats. This substance is very much like our modern asphaltum.

3. Men had been journeying from the east until they came to the plain of Shinar, where they sojourned and endeavored to build a high tower which would reach to heaven. Their purpose in building the tower was two-fold (Gen. 11:4)—1st, "Whose top may reach unto heaven"; 2nd, "Let us make us a name, lest we be scattered upon the face of the whole earth." The name of this tower was Babel. It was so named because of the punishment which the Lord put upon the builders. They were all speaking one language, but in order to confuse them and thwart their purpose, the Lord caused each man to speak a different tongue from his neighbor, therefore the name Babel. (Gen. 11:9.) "Therefore is the name of it called Babel, because the Lord upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. (Ex. 20:12.) Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. (Gal. 6:1.)

m. Cursed be he that setteth light by his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:16.)

Chapter 10.

a. Abram dwelt in the land of Canaan, and Lot dwelt in the cities of the plain, and pitched his tent toward Sodom (12). And the Lord said unto Abram, after that Lot was separated from him, Lift up thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art northward, and southward, and eastward, and westward (14). For all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever (15). Arise, walk through the land, in the length of it, and in the breadth of it; for I will give it unto thee (17). (Gen. 13:12, 14, 15, 17.) In the same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates (18). The Kenites, and the Kenizzites, and the Kadmonites (19). And the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Rephaims (20). And the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Girgashites, and the Jebusites (21). (Gen. 15:18-21.) Command the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye come into the land of Canaan (this is the land that shall fall unto you for an inheritance, even the land of Canaan, with the coasts thereof) (2). And the border shall go down to Jordan, and the goings out of it shall be at the salt sea; this shall be your land with the coasts thereof round about (12). (Num. 34:2, 12.)

a. He hath showed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts. (Lu. 1:51.)

b. I will go down now, and see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me; and if not, I will know. (Gen. 18:21.) The Lord looketh from heaven; he beholdeth all the sons of men. (Ps. 33:13.) God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek God. (Ps. 53:2.)

c. For lo, thine enemies, O Lord, for lo, thine enemies shall perish; all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered. (Ps. 92:9.) Judgments are prepared for scorners, and stripes for the back of fools. (Prov. 19:29.)

an hundred and nineteen years, and begat sons and daughters.

26 And Tē'rah lived seventy years, and begat [7]Ā'brăm, Nā'hor, and Hā'ran.

27 ¶ Now these are the generations of Tē'rah: Tē'rah begat Ā'brăm, Nā'hor, and Hā'ran; and Hā'ran begat Lŏt.

28 And Hā'ran died before his father Tē'rah in the land of his nativity, in Ur of the Chăl'dees.

29 And Ā'brăm and Nā'hor took them wives: the name of Ā'brăm's wife was [8]Sā'rāi; and the name of Nā'hor's wife, Mĭl'cah, the daughter of Hā'ran, the father of Mĭl'cah, and the father of Ĭs'cah.

30 But Sā'rāi was barren; she had no child.

31 And Tē'rah took Ā'brăm his son, and Lŏt the son of Hā'ran his son's son, and Sā'rāi his daughter in law, his son Ā'brăm's wife; and they [d]went forth with them from [9]Ur of the Chăl'dees, to go into the land of Cā'năan; and they came unto Hā'ran, and dwelt there.

32 And the days of Tē'rah were two hundred and five years; and Tē'rah died in Hā'ran.

CHAPTER 12.

1 God calleth Abram, and blesseth him with a promise of Christ. 4 He departeth with Lot from Haran. 6 He journeyeth through Canaan, 7 which is promised him in a vision. 10 He is driven by a famine into Egypt. 11 Fear maketh him feign his wife to be his sister. 14 Pharaoh is compelled to restore her.

1 Now the Lord had [1]said unto Ā'brăm, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee:

2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will [2]bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing:

3 And I will [3]bless [a]them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

4 So Ā'brăm departed, as the Lord had spoken unto him; and Lŏt went with him: and Ā'brăm was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Hā'ran.

5 And Ā'brăm took Sā'rāi his wife, and [4]Lŏt his brother's son, and all their substance that they had gathered, and the [5]souls that they had gotten in Hā'ran; and they went forth to go [b]into the land of Cā'năan; and into the land of Cā'năan they came.

6 ¶ And Ā'brăm passed through the land unto the place of Sī'chem, unto the plain of Mō'reh. And the Cā'năan-īte was then in the land.

7 And the Lord [6]appeared [c]unto Ā'brăm, and said, Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an [7]altar unto the Lord, who appeared unto him.

8 And he removed from thence unto a mountain on the east of [8]Bĕth'-el, and pitched his tent, having Bĕth'-el on the west, and [9]Hā'ī on the east: and there he builded an [10]altar unto the Lord, and called upon the name of the Lord.

9 And Ā'brăm journeyed, going on still toward the south.

10 ¶ And there was a [11]famine in the land: and Ā'brăm went down into Ē'gўpt to sojourn there; for the famine was grievous in the land.

1. Abram, Heb. meaning high father or father of elevation. This was his original name, but was afterward extended to Abraham by Jehovah at the time of the making of the covenants, meaning father of a multitude, sig. of the promise made to him at this time of a numerous posterity. (Gen. 17:1-6.) A. was a native of Chaldea and descended through Heber in the ninth generation from Shem, the son of Noah. His father was Terah.

8. The wife of Abraham, 10 years his junior, was married to him in Ur. She was also his half-sister, being the daughter of his father, but not his mother's. Her name was originally spelled Sarai, meaning princely or contentious. She is represented as a woman of great beauty and on entering Egypt, Abraham, fearing that her beauty would attract the Egyptians and lead to his murder, represented that she was his sister. (Gen. 12: 11-14.)

9. Abraham was 60 years old when the family left their native city of Ur and went and abode in Haran 15 years. (Gen. 11:31, 32 and Gen. 12: 4.) While here at H. Jehovah appeared to A., and said to him, "Depart from thy land and from thy kindred and come hither to a land that I will show thee." Whereupon A. went at once and dwelt in Canaan. (Gen. 12:5.)

Ch. 12. B. C. 1921.

1. Abraham was now 75 years of age and received a second and more definite call to pursue his journey. This call, recorded in v. 1, bears a marked difference to the first call. In the first, the land is indefinite; in the second, definite, intimating a permanent abode. A. was also commanded to leave his father's house, i. e., separate from his family, which would indicate that the divine call was personal to himself.

2. To bestow bountifully upon, temporally and spiritually, many good things.

3. The promise to Abraham was: 1st, temporal, the blessing of posterity, that he should be the founder of a great nation; 2nd, spiritual, that he should be the chosen ancestor of the Redeemer. The implied condition on his part was that he should publicly profess the worship of the true God in this more tolerant land.

4. Lot was the son of Haran and nephew of Abraham, who by the early death of his father had already come into the possession of his property, when A. went into the land of Canaan. Later, their possessions becoming so great, they were obliged to separate their flocks, A. generously conceding to Lot the choice of the pasture land. Lot selected the fertile and well-watered pastures near Sodom. It proved, however, to be a very unwise selection, as the wickedness of the Sodomites was starving his own soul. (II Pet. 7:8)—"And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked, for that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day, with their unlawful deeds." About eight years after separating from A. Lot was taken prisoner by Chedorlaomer, but was subsequently brought back by A. At length the sin of the cities of the plains became so great that the avenging angel came to Lot and apprised him of the doom which hung over the city and urged him to leave with his family, while allowed to extend the benefit to the families of his daughters, who had married in S. They refused to go and subsequently Lot left S. accompanied only by his wife and two daughters. Lot and these daughters then hastened to Zoar, the smallest of the five cities of the plains, which had been spared on purpose to afford Lot a refuge, but Lot being fearful to remain so near to a people so corrupt, he retired to a cavern in the neighboring mountain and there made his abode for awhile. After some stay in this place his daughters became apprehensive lest the family of their father should become lost for want of descendants and therefore made their father drunk on wine and went in unto him and seduced him to an act which they well knew would be extremely abhorrent to him if sober; they thus became the mothers and he the father of two sons, named Moab and Ammon, from whom sprang the Moabites and Ammonites. This circumstance is the last which the scriptures record of the history of Lot. The time and place of his death are unknown.

5. Those who had joined their faith.

6. Have experience with, conscious of spirits' communication.

7. The first altar built by Abraham.

8. An ancient town 12 Roman miles north of Jerusalem, the name Bethel signifying House of God. Jacob rested here one night on his way to Padan Aram and commemorated the vision with which he was favored by pouring oil on the stone which served him for his pillow and gave to the place the name of Bethel, meaning place of God, superseding the ancient name of Luz, by which the place had been known so long. B. had been a holy place or sanctuary for many years. It was supposed to be a haunt of angels, a place where a ladder was always suspended between earth and heaven, and when J. stayed there over night he saw the ladder. It was not so much that Jehovah found J. and gave him the vision of the angels descending and ascending the ladder as that J. was unconsciously guided to the place where he found Jehovah.

Bethel now became a favorite station with J. Here he built an altar, buried Deborah, received the name of Israel for the second time, and promises of a blessing. At that time it was only a designated location, but later became the royal city of the Canaanites. At this place already consecrated in the time of the patriarchs, the ark of the covenant was for a long while deposited. It was also one of the places at which Samuel held in rotation his court of justice.

9. A city of the Canaanites east of Bethel. Abraham pitched his tent between it and B.

10. The second altar built by Abraham.

11. Famine.

12. There are some nine different meanings given to the word plague in the Bible, but in this verse the word used is neh-gah, meaning strokes, i. e., judgments or calamities which God inflicts upon man for special misdemeanors.

d. Thou art the Lord the God who didst choose Abram, and broughtest him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gavest him the name of Abraham. (Neh. 9:7.) By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. (Heb. 11:8.)

a. And the Lord hath blessed my master greatly; and he is become great; and he hath given him flocks, and herds, and silver, and gold, and manservants, and maidservants, and camels, and asses. (Gen. 24:35.) Yea, the Lord shall give that which is good; and our land shall yield her increase. (Ps. 85:12.) Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation. (Ps. 68:19.) The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want (1). Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. (Ps. 23:1, 5.) Yet he filled their houses with good things. (Job 22:18.) And there ye shall eat before the Lord your God, and ye shall rejoice in all that ye put your hand unto, ye and your households, wherein the Lord thy God hath blessed thee. (Dt. 12:7.) Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time. (I Peter 1:5.) Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. (Js. 1:17.)

b. By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. (Heb. 11:8.)

c. And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect. (Gen. 17:1.) And God appeared unto Jacob again, when he came out of Padan-aram, and blessed him. (Gen. 35:9.) And the Lord appeared to Solomon by night, and said unto him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place to myself for an house of sacrifice. (II Chr. 7:12.)

11 And it came to pass, when he was come near to enter into Ē'gўpt, that he said unto Să'rāi his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art a fair woman to look upon:

12 Therefore it shall come to pass, when the Ē-gўp'tians shall see thee, that they shall say, This is his wife: and they [d]will kill me, but they will save thee alive.

13 Say, I pray thee, thou art my sister: that it may be well with me for thy sake; and my soul shall live because of thee.

14 ¶ And it came to pass, that, when Ā'brăm was come into Ē'gўpt, the Ē-gўp'tians beheld the woman that she was very fair.

15 The princes also of Phā'raōh saw her, and commended her before Phā'raōh: and the woman was taken into Phā'raōh's house.

16 And he entreated Ā'brăm well for her sake: and he had sheep, and oxen, and he asses, and menservants, and maidservants, and she asses, and camels.

17 And the Lord [12]plagued [e]Phā'raōh and his house with great plagues because of Să'rāi Ā'brăm's wife.

18 And Phā'raōh called Ā'brăm, and said, What is this that thou hast done unto me? why didst thou not tell me that she was thy wife?

19 Why saidst thou, She is my sister? so I might have taken her to me to wife: now therefore behold thy wife, take her, and go thy way.

20 And Phā'raōh commanded his men concerning him: and they sent him away, and his wife, and all that he had.

CHAPTER 13.

1 Abram and Lot return out of Egypt. 7 By disagreement they part asunder. 10 Lot goeth to wicked Sodom. 14 God reneweth the promise to Abram. 18 He removeth to Hebron, and there buildeth an altar.

1 And Ā'brăm went up out of Ē'gўpt, he, and his wife, and all that he had, and [1]Lŏt with him, into the south.

2 And Ā'brăm was very rich in cattle, in silver, and in gold.

3 And he went on his journeys from the south even to [2]Bĕth'-el, unto the place where his tent had been at the beginning, between Bĕth'-el and [3]Hā'ī;

4 Unto the place of the altar, which he had made there at the first: and there [4]Ā'brăm called on the name of the Lord.

5 ¶ And [1]Lŏt also, which went with [4]Ā'brăm, had flocks, and herds, and tents.

6 And the land was [c]not able to bear them, that they might dwell together: for their substance was great, so that they could not dwell together.

7 And there was a strife between the herdmen of Ā'brăm's cattle and the herdmen of Lŏt's cattle: and the Cā'năan-īte and the Pĕr'-ĭz-zīte dwelled then in the land.

8 And Ā'brăm said unto Lŏt, [b]Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen; for we be brethren.

9 Is not the whole land before thee? separate thyself, I pray thee, from me; [c]if thou wilt take the left hand, then I will go to the right; or if thou depart to the right hand, then I will go to the left.

10 And [1]Lŏt lifted up his eyes, and beheld all the plain of Jor'dan, that it was well watered every where, before the Lord destroyed Sŏd'om and Go-mŏr'rah, even as the garden of the Lord, like the land of Ē'gўpt, as thou comest unto Zō'ar.

11 Then Lŏt chose him all the plain of [5]Jor'dan; and Lŏt journeyed east: and they separated themselves the one from the other.

12 [4]Ā'brăm dwelled in the land of Cā'năan, and Lŏt dwelled in the cities of the plain, and pitched his tent toward Sŏd'om.

13 But the men of [6]Sŏd'om were wicked and [d]sinners before the Lord exceedingly.

14 ¶ And the Lord said unto [4]Ā'brăm, after that [1]Lŏt was separated from him, Lift up now thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art northward, and southward, and eastward, and westward:

15 For all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever.

16 And I will make thy seed as the [e]dust of the earth: so that if a man can number the dust of earth, then shall thy seed also be numbered.

17 Arise, walk through the land in the length of it and in the breadth of it; for I will give it unto thee.

18 Then [4]Ā'brăm removed his tent, and came and dwelt in the plain of Măm're, which is in Hē'bron, and built there an [7]altar unto the Lord.

CHAPTER 14.

1 The battle of four kings against five. 12 Lot is taken prisoner. 14 Abram rescueth him. 18 Melchizedek blesseth Abram. 20 Abram giveth him tithe. 22 The rest of the spoil, his partners having had their portions, he restoreth to the king of Sodom.

1 And it came to pass in the days of [1]Ām'-ra-phel king of Shī'nār, Ā'rī-ōch king of Ĕl'-la-sär, Chĕd-ŏr-lā'o-mēr king of Ē'lām, and [2]Tī'dal king of nations;

2 That these made war with [3]Bē'rà king of [4]Sŏd'om, and with Bĭr'shà king of Go-mŏr'rah, Shī'năb king of Ād'mah, and Shĕm'e-ber king of Zē-bō'ĭm, and the king of Bē'là, which is Zō'ar.

3 All these were joined together in the vale of Sĭd'dim, which is the salt sea.

4 Twelve years they served Chĕd-ŏr-lā'o-mēr, and in the thirteenth year they rebelled.

5 And in the fourteenth year came Chĕd-ŏr-lā'o-mēr, and the kings that were with him, and smote the Rĕph'a-ĭms in Ăsh'tĕ-rŏth Kär-nā'im, and the Zū'zims, in Hăm, and the Ē'mĭms, in Shā'veh Kĭr-ĭ-a-thā'im,

6 And the Hō'rītes in their mount Sē'ĭr, unto Ēl-pā'ran, which is by the wilderness.

7 And they returned, and came to Ēn-mish'-pat, which is Kā'desh, and smote all the country of the [6]Ām'a-lēk-ītes, and also the [7]Ām'-or-ītes, that dwelt in Hăz'e-zon-tā'mar.

8 And there went out the king of [4]Sŏd'om, and the king of [5]Go-mŏr'rah, and the king of the Amalekites. V. 7 suggests the thought that the country of the A.'s and not the people was destroyed.

7. The Amorites were the most powerful and distinguished of the Canaanitish nation. They were one of the nations whose country was to be given to Abraham. (Gen. 15:16-21.) When the Israelites were about to enter the promised land the Amorites occupied a tract on both sides of the Jordan. They made an attack on the tribes of Israel but they were totally defeated. Joshua also subsequently defeated them with great slaughter.

d. And Abraham said. Because I thought, surely the fear of God is not in this place; and they will slay me for my wife's sake. (Gen. 20:11.)

e. He suffered no man to do them wrong; yea, he reproved kings for their sakes. (I Chr. 16:21.) And they journeyed; and the terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jacob. (Gen. 35:5.)

a. For their riches were more than that they might dwell together; and the land wherein they were strangers could not bear them because of their cattle. (Gen. 33:7.)

b. Now, therefore, there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. Why do ye not rather take wrong? Why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded? (I Cor. 6:7.)

c. If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men. (Rom. 12:18.) The fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace. (Ja. 3:18.)

d. The earth was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence. (Gen. 6:11.) And he did evil, because he prepared not his heart to seek the Lord. (II Chr. 12:14.) Forty years long was I grieved with this generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways. (Ps. 95:10.)

5. A Heb. word sig. descender, probably from the rapid descent of the stream. This is the great river of Palestine as the Nile is of Egypt. The Jordan rises among the mountains of Ante-Lebanon and has four sources; (1) the Hasbany, which issues from a large fountain at an altitude of 1700 ft.; (2) Banaias, the base of Mt. Hermon, 740 ft. above sea level; (3) the Leddan, rising in a large fountain on the west side of the city of Dan, in the midst of a thicket of oleander bushes, a large pool 50 or 60 yards wide, with the water bubbling out of the ground in a full-grown stream, called by Josephus, River Jordan; (4) the Esh-Shar, a minor tributary only about three yards wide. The river J. flows about 12 miles through the valley, then enters a dark defile of some seven miles, thence 10 miles through a marsh, comes out into the beautiful lake Huleh, takes a south course 12 miles further, enters the Sea of Galilee, issues from the southwest corner of the lake, flows on some 60 miles, and empties into the Dead Sea. The river J. is mentioned about 180 times in the Old Testament and 15 times in the New.

2. The great chief or the chief of many confederated tribes.
3. A king of Sodom in the time of Abraham and one of the five kings who rebelled against A.
4. A city in the vale of Siddim. The territory afterward submerged by the waters of the Dead Sea. Lot settled here after his separation from Abraham. On account of the gross wickedness of the inhabitants Sodom was destroyed by fire from heaven. It was here that Abraham interceded with the angel of the Lord to spare the city if only 50 righteous could be found and finally if only 10 righteous could be found, each time the angel promising that the city would be spared if that number of righteous people were within her borders, but not even 10 were found, which would indicate that the city was wicked almost beyond human comprehension. From Abraham the angel of the Lord went to Lot and warned him of the destruction to follow and told him to take his family and flee for safety, which he did. His wife disobeying the command, by lingering behind and looking back, was converted into a pillar of salt.
5. One of the cities of the plains, destroyed along with Sodom by fire from heaven, because of the extreme wickedness of the place and its absolute stubbornness and refusal to cease from its sinful ways.
6. The name of a nation inhabiting the country to the south of Palestine east of the Dead Sea. The Amalekites were the first assailants of the Israelites after their passage through the Red Sea. By divine command as a punishment for their hostility toward the Israelites, Saul invaded their country and destroyed their people amidst great destruction. About 20 years afterward they were attacked by David. It is said (I Samuel 27:8) that he smote the land and left neither man nor woman alive. Outside of the Old Testament we have but a very meager account of Ad'mah, and the king of Zĕ-bō'ĭm, and the king of Bē'lā (the same is Zō'ar;) and they joined battle with them in the vale of Sĭd'dim;

9 With Chĕd-ŏr-lā'o-mēr the king of Ē'lăm, and with Tī'dal king of nations, and Am'ra-phel king of Shī'när, and Ā'rĭ-ŏch king of El'la-sär; four kings with five.

10 And the vale of Sĭd'dim was full of [8]slimepits; and the kings of Sŏd'om and Go-mŏr'rah fled, and fell there; and they that remained fled to the mountain.

11 And they took all the goods of Sŏd'om and Go-mŏr'rah, and all their victuals, and went their way.

12 And they took Lŏt, [9]Ā'brăm's brother's son, who dwelt in Sŏd'om, and his goods, and departed.

13 ¶ And there came one that had escaped, and told Ā'brăm, the Hē'brew; for he dwelt in the plain of Măm're the Am'or-īte, brother of Ĕsh'cŏl, and brother of Ā'nēr: and these were confederate with Ā'brăm.

14 And when [9]Ā'brăm heard that his [10]brother [a]was taken captive, he armed his trained servants, born in his own house, three hundred and eighteen, and pursued them unto [11]Dăn.

15 And he divided himself against them, he and his servants, by night, and smote them, and pursued them unto Hō'bah, which is on the left hand of [12]Dā-măs'cus.

16 And he brought back all the goods, and also brought again his brother Lŏt, and his goods, and the women also, and the people.

17 ¶ And the king of Sŏd'om went out to meet him after his return from the slaughter of Chĕd-ŏr-lā'o-mēr, and of the kings that were with him, at the valley of Shā'veh, which is the king's [13]dale.

18 And [11]Mĕl-chĭz'e-dĕk king of Sā'lem brought forth bread and wine: and he was the [15]priest of [b]the most high God.

19 And he [16]blessed him, and said, Blessed be [17]Ā'brăm of the most high God, possessor of heaven and earth.

20 And blessed be the most high God, which hath delivered thine enemies into thy hand. And he gave him [18]tithes [c]of all.

21 And the king of Sŏd'om said unto [17]Ā'brăm, Give me the persons, and take the goods to thyself.

22 And Ā'brăm said to the king of [4]Sŏd'om, I have lift up mine hand unto the Lord, the most high God, the possessor of heaven and earth,

23 That I will not take from a thread even to a shoelatchet, and that I will not take any thing that is thine, lest thou shouldest say, I have made Ā'brăm rich:

24 Save only that which the young men have eaten, and the portion of the men which went with me, [19]Ā'nēr, [20]Ĕsh'cŏl, and [21]Măm're; let them take their portion.

CHAPTER 15.

1 God encourageth Abram. 2 Abram complaineth for want of an heir. 4 God promiseth him a son, and a multiplying of his seed. 6 Abram is justified by faith. 7 Canaan is promised again, and confirmed by a sign, 12 and a vision.

1 After these things the word of the Lord came unto [1]Ā'brăm in a [a]vision, saying, [b]Fear not, Ā'brăm: I am thy [2]shield, and thy exceeding [c]great reward.

2 And Ā'brăm said, Lord God, what wilt thou give me, seeing I go childless, and the steward of my house is this [3]E-li-ē'zēr of [4]Dā-măs'cus?

3 And Ā'brăm said, Behold, to me thou hast given no seed: and, lo, one born in my house is mine heir.

4 And, behold, the word of the Lord came unto him, saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that shall come forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir.

5 And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, So shall thy [5]seed be.

6 And he [d]believed in the Lord; and he [c]counted [e]it to him for righteousness.

7 And he said unto him, I am the Lord that

8. Pits of asphaltum. Such bituminous pits abounded there as to give the Dead Sea the name, "asphaltic lake."

9. See 7, ch. 11.

10. Simply meaning a kinsman.

11. A city near the source of the Jordan. It is doubtless the same as the Danjaan of II Sam. 24:6; also the Dan mentioned in Dt. 34:1. The ancient name of the place was Laish or Leshem.

12. The metropolis and capital of Syria, situated in the midst of a plain of the same name, by some held to be the most ancient city in the world, is called by the orientals, "a pearl surrounded by emeralds," because of the extreme beauty of the surrounding valley as well as the city. The groves of D. consist principally of olive trees, which present a remarkable appearance of freshness and beauty. Of the origin of D. little is known. Some ascribe the founding to Abraham, while others claim it was an earlier period. It was at one time captured by Alexander the Great. About 633 A. D. it was captured by Abubeker, successor of Mohammed, who made it the capital of the whole Mussulman world substituting Islamism for Christianity. D. remained in the hands of Caliphas till captured by the Turks. D. is famous in the first age of Christianity for the conversion and first preaching of the Apostle Paul. (Acts 9:3-20; Gal. 1:17.) The present aspect of D. is far different from its original beauty, though many rich Armenian merchants still live there, whose dwellings are built of cedar with marble floors. The houses of the poor are built with mud with a small grating for windows, presenting many striking resemblances to stables. They invariably have a very foul pool of water immediately before the door. The bazaars of D. are noted the world over for their striking appearance and magnificent goods.

13. Meaning depression. The name of a valley near Jerusalem where Absalom built a family monument. (Gen. 14:17; II Sam. 18:18.) It is also called the vale of Shaveh.

14. The mysterious stranger without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days nor end of life (Heb. 7:3), i. e., without a recorded genealogy, a matter of prime importance with the Hebrews. M. was a high priest of the most high God, which title even placed him above Abraham, the father of the faithful. It was this sacred character that the Psalmist a thousand years later used as a type of the Messiah. (Ps. 110:4.) His title indicated King of Righteousness, also King of Peace, to whom Abraham paid his tithes which was a tenth of the spoils. It is recorded that even the priesthood themselves paid tithes to M. He is represented as one of the most sincere followers of the true God, one of the most righteous men of all history. So pure was his life that some maintained that he was the son of God himself appearing in human form. But, according to Ps. 110:4 and Heb. 6:20, 7:3, such a comparison is an empty platitude making Christ like himself. Others claim that he is no other than Shem, the most pious of Noah's sons, but this view is also discarded by most authorities. A majority of scholars concur in the opinion that M. is an example of righteousness such as God has always had in each generation.

15. The primitive meaning of priest was one who presided over things religious, also one who could foretell and who could invoke the blessings of God upon men. A man who officiates or transacts with God on behalf of others statedly or for the occasion.

16. A bestowing of the gifts of God, both temporal and spiritual.

17. See 7, ch. 11.

18. Sig. 10th, which means to be rich—ten is the rich number, as it includes all the units under it. It is the Scripture number sig. abundance, as (Gen. 31:41)—"Thou hast changed my wages ten times." (I Sam. 1:8)—"Am I not better to thee than ten sons?" (Job 19:3)—"These ten times have ye reproached me." (Luke 19:16)—"Thy pound has gained ten pounds." The giving of a tenth dates back to the patriarchal period. (Lev. 27:30.) The incorporation of tithes in the Mosaic law is simply a reconstitution of the patriarchal religion.

19. One of the three Canaanites who joined their forces with Abraham in pursuit of Amraphel and his allies who had pillaged Sodom and carried off Lot.

20. One of the Amoritish chiefs who joined with Abraham in pursuit of the forces who had carried off Lot.

21. The name of an Amoritish chief who with his brothers Aner and Eshcol, were in alliance with Abraham.

Ch. 15. B. C. 1913.

NOTE.—Here for the first time occurs that profound expression, the word Jehovah, sig. of the self-revealing of God, through Him who "was in the beginning with God," coming to Abraham in a vision. A. arouses from his vision and gives utterance to the words in vs. 2, 3. In v. 1 is the first record which we have where the "word of the Lord" is said to come unto man.

1. See 7, ch. 11.

2. Thy protection the shield which will ward off the attacks of thine enemies.

3. The same name as Lazarus of the New Testament whom, before the birth of Ishmael and Isaac, Abraham regarded as his heir. He was a steward of Abraham.

4. See 12, ch. 14.

5. Posterity, also those who imitate in character.

will give unto thy seed all these countries: and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed. (Gen. 26:4.) Who can count the dust of Jacob, and the number of the 4th part of Israel? (Num. 23:10.) The Lord your God hath multiplied you, and, behold, ye are this day as the stars of heaven for multitude. (Dt. 1:10.) As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured; so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me. (Jer. 33:22.)

a. And Abram said unto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdman and thy herdman; for we be brethren. (Gen. 13:8.)

b. The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedek. (Ps. 110:4.) And it is far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedek there ariseth another priest, who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life. (Heb 7:15, 16.)

c. And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's: it is holy unto the Lord. And if a man will at all redeem ought of his tithes, he shall add thereto the fifth part thereof. And concerning the tithe of the herd, or of the flock, even of whatsoever passeth under the rod, the tenth shall be holy unto the Lord. (Lev. 27:30-32.)

a. And God spake unto Israel in the visions of the night, and said, Jacob, Jacob. And he said, Here am I. (Gen. 46:2.)

b. Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. (Isa. 41:10.) Be strong, and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Dt. 31:6.) What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.) But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an adversary unto thine adversaries. (Ex. 23:22.)

c. So that a man shall say, Verily there is a reward for the righteous; verily he is a God that judgeth in the earth. (Ps. 58:11.) But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. (Heb. 11:6.)

d. For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? For we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness. (Rom. 4:3, 9.)

e. And that was counted unto him for righteousness unto all generations for evermore. (Ps. 106:31.) Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness (6). Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham (7). And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the Gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed (8). So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham. (Gal. 3:6-9.)

brought thee out of Ur of the Chăl'dees, to give thee this land to inherit it.

8 And he said, Lord God, whereby shall I know that I shall inherit it?

9 And he said unto him, Take me an heifer of three years old, and a she goat of three years old, and a ram of three years old, and a turtle-dove, and a young pigeon.

10 And he took unto him all these, and divided them in the midst, and laid each piece one against another: but the birds divided he not.

11 And when the fowls came down upon the carcasses, A'brăm drove them away.

12 And when the sun was going down, a deep sleep fell upon A'brăm; and, lo, an horror of great darkness fell upon him.

13 And he said unto A'brăm, Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not their's, and shall serve them; and they shall [f]afflict them [g]four hundred years;

14 And also [h]that nation, whom they shall serve, will I judge: and afterward shall they come out with great substance.

15 And thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace; thou shalt be buried in a good old age.

16 But in the fourth generation they shall come hither again: for the iniquity of the Am'-or-ītes is not yet full.

17 And it came to pass, that, when the sun went down, and it was dark, behold a smoking furnace, and a burning lamp that passed between those pieces.

18 In the same day the Lord made a [7]covenant with A'brăm, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of E'gўpt unto the great river, the river Eū-phrā'tēs:

19 The [8]Kĕn'ītes, and the [9]Kĕn-iz-zītes, and the [10]Kăd'mŏn-ītes, 20 And the [11]Hīt'tītes, and the Pĕr'īz-zītes, and the [12]Rĕph'a-ĭms, 21 And the [13]Ăm'or-ītes, and the [14]Cā'năan-ītes, and the [15]Gīr'gā-shītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes.

CHAPTER 16.

1 Sarai, being barren, giveth Hagar to Abram. 4 Hagar, being afflicted for despising her mistress, runneth away. 7 An angel sendeth her back to submit herself, 11 and telleth her of her child. 15 Ishmael is born.

1 Now [1]Sā'rāi [2]A'brăm's wife bare him no children: and she had an handmaid, an E'gўp'tian, whose name was [3]Hā'gar.

2 And Sā'rāi said unto A'brăm, Behold now, the Lord hath restrained me from bearing: I pray thee, go in unto my maid; it may be that I may obtain children by her. And A'brăm hearkened to the voice of Sā'rāi.

3 And Sā'rāi A'brăm's wife took Hā'gar [4]her maid the E-gўp'tian, after A'brăm had dwelt ten years in the land of Cā'năan, and gave her to her husband A'brăm to be his wife.

4 ¶ And he went in unto [3]Hā'gar, and she conceived: and when she saw that she had conceived, her mistress was [5]despised [a]in her eyes.

5 And Sā'rāi said unto A'brăm, My wrong be upon thee: I have given my maid into thy bosom; and when she saw that she had conceived, I was despised in her eyes: the Lord judge between me and thee.

6 But [2]A'brăm said unto Sā'rāi, Behold, thy maid is in thy hand; do to her as it pleaseth thee. And when [1]Sā'rāi dealt hardly with her, she fled from her face.

7 ¶ And the angel of the [6]Lord found her by a fountain of water in the wilderness, by the fountain in the way to Shûr.

8 And he said, [3]Hā'gar, Sā'rāi's maid, whence camest thou? and whither wilt thou go? And she said, I flee from the face of my mistress Sā'rāi.

9 And the angel of the Lord said unto her, Return to thy mistress, and [7]submit [b]thyself under her hands.

10 And the angel of the Lord said unto her, I will multiply thy seed exceedingly, that it shall not be numbered for multitude.

11 And the angel of the Lord said unto her, Behold, thou art with child, and shalt bear a son, and shalt call his name [8]Ish'ma-el; because the Lord hath heard thy affliction.

12 And he will be a wild man; his hand will be against every man, and every man's hand [9]against him; and he shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren.

13 And she called the name of the Lord that spake unto her, [c]Thou God seest me: for she said, Have I also here looked after him that seeth me?

14 Wherefore the well was called Bē'er-la-hāi'roi; behold, it is between Kā'desh and Bē'red.

15 ¶ And Hā'gar bare A'brăm a son: and [2]A'brăm called his son's name, which Hā'gar bare, [8]Ish'ma-el.

16 And A'brăm was [10]fourscore and six years old, when Hā'gar bare Ish'ma-el to A'brăm.

CHAPTER 17.

1 God reneweth the covenant. 5 Abram his name is changed in token of a greater blessing. 10 Circumcision is instituted. 15 Sarai her name is changed, and she blessed. 17 Isaac is promised. 23 Abraham and Ishmael are circumcised.

1 And when [1]A'brăm was ninety years old and nine, the Lord appeared to A'brăm, and

6. Placed to his credit.
7. An agreement, sealing the promise Jehovah made to Abraham and repeating for the fourth time "unto thy seed have I given this land."
8. A tribe of people living among the Amalekites who, when Saul was sent to destroy the Amalekites, were ordered to leave—a mercy shown them because of their kindness to Israel.
9. A Canaanitish tribe over which it was promised the seed of Abraham should have dominion. They are supposed to have sprung from Edom.
10. One of the nations of Canaan which dwelt in the northeast part of Palestine under Hermon at the time Abraham lived in the land.
11. A nation of warriors in constant conflict with the kings around them. A people upon whose history recent research in Egypt and Assyria has thrown much light. They were descendants of Heth.
12. An ancient people of unusual stature who in the time of Abraham dwelt in the country beyond the Jordan, supposed to be the most ancient or aboriginal inhabitants of Palestine, prior to the Canaanites, by whom they were driven beyond the river.
13. See 7, ch. 14.
14. The descendants of Cain, the son of Ham, grandson of Noah. The inhabitants of Canaan, called the promised land.
15. Supposed to be a part of the large family of Hibites, as they are omitted in nine cases in which the nations of Canaan are mentioned, while in the tenth they are mentioned and the Hibites omitted.

Ch. 16. B. C. 1911.

1. See 8, ch. 11.
2. See 7, ch. 11.
3. A native of Egypt, presumably one of the female slaves given to Abraham by Pharaoh during A.'s visit to Egypt. She became handmaid to Sarah, Abraham's wife. She was given to A. by S. in concubinage, although she still remained a servant. Such an unexpected elevation was too much for the weak mind of Hagar, whereupon she immediately began to indulge in triumph over her less favored mistress and gradually grew into disrespect and insolence toward her. Such actions deeply wounded the feelings of S., who immediately complained to her husband. He in his meek, submissive way, allowed her to take what means she thought best to secure the desired redress, which was so severe that H. fled from her mistress, but the angel of the Lord soon appeared unto her and told her to return to her mistress. Obedient to the angel's commands she returned to the tent of A., where in due time her son Ishmael was born. Fourteen years after, Isaac, Abraham's heir, was born. Again unpleasant relations broke out between Sarah and her maid Hagar, whereupon H. and her son I. were expelled from the tent of Abraham. Soon after leaving A. the two exiles lost their way. Overcome by fatigue and thirst, Ishmael's strength was soon exhausted. A burning fever took possession of him; his mother, despairing of his life, lingered near by, bemoaning her fate. A second time the angel of the Lord appeared unto her and directed her to a fountain of water, and the lives of both were saved.
4. The polygamous conduct here recorded is not to be defended. Like other immoralities in A.'s life, it is to be condemned as contrary to God's orders. The history of polygamy everywhere shows how the unholy practice breeds mischief, bitterness and sorrow. In this short ch. all these evils are seen to flow from a single instance of bigamy in one of its mildest forms. Polygamy has ever been practiced among the descendants of Ishmael, which has always been to them a physical and moral curse.
5. Brought into contempt; belittled.
6. Here for the first time is presented that much debated expression "angel of Jehovah," although not perhaps the first appearance of this angel. (Gen. 12:7.) There are two different views held regarding this angel, one that he was a specially created angel sent forth to speak and act in the name of Jehovah; the other that he was a manifestation of God in human form or Jehovah himself speaking in his own divine name, while there are still others who claim he was a special commissioned angel at each different appearance, not necessarily the same angel every time.
7. Humble thyself, obey, cease from contention.
8. Eldest son of Abraham, born to him by Hagar, fourteen years before the birth of Isaac. When Ishmael was 14 years of age, he and his mother were driven into the desert by Sarah, A.'s legal wife. His life having been spared, he made the desert his home and soon acquired great authority and influence over the native tribes. True friendship seems to have always existed between Ishmael and his half-brother, Isaac. He was the father of 12 sons, who gave their name to as many tribes. (Gen. 17:20; 25: 12-16.) He also has two daughters, one of whom became the wife of Esau. Ishmael appears to have been a wild and wayward boy. In Gen. 16:11, 12 it was prophesied that he should be "a wild man"; "his hand will be against every man, and every man's hand against him." In boyhood and youth, he had been the darling and pet of A., high-spirited and enthusiastic; he could easily see himself the heir apparent of A.'s estate, but upon being expelled, he could not realize his boyish dreams. He could, however, be the leader of a tribe of his own and would outrival the man who had so often harried the folds of A. His emblem would be the wild ass of the desert with its home in the pathless wilderness, whom no man could tame. He would live in wild freedom, afar from the hated communities of those who banished him from their midst. He died at the age of 137.
9. Such a wild and lawless race could never be at peace with a civilized community, and would also be engaged in constant feuds among themselves.
10. 86 years.

f. Therefore they did set over them taskmasters to afflict them with their burdens. (Ex. 1:11.)

g. Now the sojourning of the children of Israel who dwelt in Egypt was 430 years. (Ex. 12:40.)

h. Wherefore say unto the children of Israel, I am the Lord, and I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will rid you out of their bondage, and I will redeem you with a stretched out arm, and with great judgments. (Ex. 6:6.) And the Lord showed signs and wonders, great and sore, upon Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his household, before our eyes. (Dt. 6:22.)

Chapter 16.

a. For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four which it cannot bear (21); For an odious woman when she is married; and an handmaid that is heir to her mistress. (Prov. 30:21, 23.)

b. Servants be subject to your masters with all fear. (I Peter 2:18.)

c. O Lord, thou hast searched me and known me (1). Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off (2). Thou compassest my path and my lying down, and are acquainted with all my ways. (Ps. 139:1-3).

said unto him, I am the Almighty God; [a]walk before me, and [b]be thou [3]perfect.

2 And I will make my covenant between me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly.

3 And [1]Ā'brăm fell on his face: and God talked with him, saying,

4 As for me, behold, my [4]covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a [5]father of many nations.

5 Neither shall thy name any more be called [6]Ā'brăm, but thy name shall be Ā'brā-hăm; for a father of many nations have I made thee.

6 And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee.

7 And I will establish my [4]covenant between me and thee and thy [7]seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee.

8 And I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land wherein thou art a stranger, all the land of Cā'năan, for an everlasting possession; and [c]I will be their God.

9 ¶ And God said unto [8]Ā'brā-hăm, Thou [d]shalt keep my [4]covenant therefore, thou, and thy seed after thee in their generations.

10 This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee; Every man child among you shall be circumcised.

11 And [e]ye shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin; and it shall be a token of the covenant betwixt me and you.

12 And he that is eight days old shall be circumcised among you, every man child in your generations, he that is born in the house, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed.

13 He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with thy money, must needs be circumcised: and my covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting [9]covenant.

14 And the uncircumcised man child whose flesh of his foreskin is not circumcised, that soul shall be [f]cut off from his people; he hath broken my covenant.

15 ¶ And God said unto Ā'brā-hăm, As for [9]Sā'rāi thy wife, thou shalt not call her name Sā'rāi, but Sā'rah shall her name be.

16 And I will bless her, and give thee a son also of her: yea, I will bless her, and she shall be a mother of nations; kings of people shall be of her.

17 Then Ā'brā-hăm fell upon his face, and [10]laughed, and said in his heart, Shall a child be born unto him that is an hundred years old? and shall Sā'rah, that is ninety years old, bear?

18 And Ā'brā-hăm said unto God, O that [11]Īsh'ma-el might live before thee!

19 And God said, [9]Sā'rah thy wife shall bear thee a son indeed: and thou shalt call his name Ī'saac: and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, and with his seed after him.

20 And as for [11]Īsh'ma-el, I have heard thee: Behold, I have blessed him, and will make him fruitful, and will multiply him exceedingly; twelve princes shall he beget, and I will make him a great nation.

21 But my [4]covenant will I establish with Ī'saac, which [9]Sā'rah shall bear unto thee at this set time in the next year.

22 And he left off talking with him, and God went up from [8]Ā'brā-hăm.

23 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm took [11]Īsh'ma-el his son, and all that were born in his house, and all that were bought with his money, every male among the men of Ā'brā-hăm's house; and circumcised the flesh of their foreskin in the selfsame day, as God had said unto him.

24 And [8]Ā'brā-hăm was ninety years old and nine, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

25 And [11]Īsh'ma-el his son was thirteen years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

26 In the selfsame day was Ā'brā-hăm circumcised, and Īsh'ma-el his son.

27 And all the men of his house, born in the house, and bought with money of the stranger, were circumcised with him.

Ch. 17. B. C. 1898.

1. See 7, ch. 11.

2. Often used in the scriptures for conduct in life; general demeanor; to live and believe on the Lord, depend on him; remain in the state of intimate fellowship with him and under a continued impression of his presence; to worship, obey, and please him.

3. Blameless; a serving of the Lord in the sincerity of conscience, through love without hypocrisy or deception.

4. God's promise or agreement to graciously bestow favors and blessings, both physical and spiritual, on man.

5. The progenitor or founder or patriarch of a race or nation.

6. Hereinafter known by the name of Abraham. Jehovah now changes the name of Abram, sig., Father of a multitude, to one which is to become the head of a Hebrew nation. Ab. 7, ch. 11.

7. See 5, ch. 15.

8. To distinguish it from those temporary arrangements which were confined to particular individuals or classes, like the ministerial law, the Levitical covenant, and the Jewish and second covenant. A perpetual grant of the everlasting covenant to Abraham and his seed in their generations to the end of time.

9. See 8, ch. 11.

10. The successive outbursts of mixed emotion over these promises are not the laughter of incredulity.

11. See 8, ch. 16.

12. Which means he shall laugh, a memorial of Abraham's joyful emotion when recorded. The only son of Abraham and Sarah. The first fact recorded in the life of Isaac is the command to take him to offer for a sacrifice. "Thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest, take a burnt offering on a mountain in the land of Moriah." At 40 he was married to Rebekah, his mother's kinswoman, daughter of Bethuel, Nahor's son. To them two sons, Jacob and Esau, were born; Isaac preferring the latter, who possessed those more robust qualities of character in which the father was deficient, Rebekah giving preference to Jacob. The above predilections produced a division of feeling which caused much domestic unhappiness and hatred between the two sons. Later in life, a famine compels Isaac to seek food in some foreign land. Jehovah warning him against Egypt, he goes to Abimelech of Philistia. Here, like his father Abraham, he denies his wife, fearing Abimelech would take her from him by force and perhaps murder him. He said to his wife, "When they ask of thee, say, I am his sister," The subterfuge was later discovered and Isaac and Rebekah sent on their way. Through the artful contrivance of R., I. was deceived into conferring the blessings of his family on Jacob instead of the firstborn, Esau. At this time Isaac was almost blind and could only determine the identity of his sons by touch, and the sound of their voices. Esau was hairy; and Rebekah, having placed the skin of a kid on Jacob's hands, deceived I.'s touch. Though I. thought the voice to be that of J. yet he yielded to the deception of touch, and the blessing was pronounced. I. was gentle, dutiful, faithful and sensitive. He appears as a man of suffering rather than as a man of action, a man of constant and tender affections. His life, judged by worldly standard, might seem inactive and unfruitful, but the "unblest years, prayers and gracious acts and daily thank offering of a pastoral life" are not to be so esteemed, though they make no show in history.

Chapter 17.

a. And Enoch walked with God after he begat Methuselah 300 years, and begat sons and daughters. (Gen. 5:22.) And he blessed Joseph, and said, God, before whom my fathers Abraham and Isaac did walk, the God which fed me all my life, long unto this day. (Gen. 48:15.) I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living. (Ps. 116:9.) He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? (Mic. 6:8.) That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory. (I Thess. 2:12.)

b. There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil. (Job 1:1.) Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations, and Noah walked with God. (Gen. 6:9.) Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. (Mat. 5:48.) But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing. (Js. 1:4.) But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation. (I Peter 1:15.) Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord your God hath commanded you: he shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. (Dt. 5:32.) Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God. (Dt. 18:13.) Be ye therefore very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the book of the law of Moses, that ye turn not aside therefrom to the right hand or to the left. (Josh. 23:6.) Let your heart therefore be perfect with the Lord our God, to walk in his statutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day. (I Kings 8:61.) Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord. Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart. They also do know iniquity; they walk in his ways. Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments. (Ps. 119:1, 2, 3, 6.) Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me. (Mat. 19:21.) The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his master. (Lu. 6:40.) Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. (II Cor. 7:1.) Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you. (II Cor. 13:11.) And he gave some, apostles, and some, prophets, and some, evangelists, and some, pastors and teachers (11). For the perfecting of the saints (12). Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ. (Eph. 4:11, 12, 13.) Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before (13). I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus (14). Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded; and if in anything ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you. (Phil. 3:13-15.) But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed. (Ja. 1:25.) If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. (I Jno. 4:12.) If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. (Ja. 3:2).

c. For this God is our God for ever and ever. He will be our guide even unto death. (Ps. 48:14.)

d. All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies. (Ps. 25:10.)

e. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had, yet being uncircumcised; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. (Rom. 4:11.) For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature. (Gal. 6:15.)

f. And it came to pass by the way in the inn, that the Lord met him, and sought to kill him. (Ex. 4:24.)

2 And he lift up his eyes and looked, and, lo, [3]three [a]men stood by him: and when he saw them, he [b]ran to meet them from the tent door, and bowed himself toward the ground.

3 And said, My Lord, if now I have found favour in thy sight, pass not away, I pray thee, from thy servant:

4 Let a little water, I pray you, be fetched, and wash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree:

5 And I will fetch a morsel of bread, and comfort ye your hearts; after that ye shall pass on: for therefore are ye come to your servant. And they said, So do, as thou hast said.

6 And Ā'brā-hăm hastened into the tent unto Sā'rah, and said, Make ready quickly three [4]measures of fine meal, knead it, and make cakes upon the hearth.

7 And Ā'brā-hăm ran unto the herd, and fetcht a calf tender and good, and gave it unto a young man; and he hasted to dress it.

8 And he took butter, and milk, and the calf which he had dressed, and set it before them; and he stood by them under the tree, and they did eat.

9 ¶ And they said unto him, Where is [5]Sā'-rah thy wife? And he said, Behold, in the tent.

10 And he said, I will certainly return unto thee according to the time of life; and, lo, Sā'rah thy wife shall have a son. And Sā'rah heard it in the tent door, which was behind him.

11 Now Ā'brā-hăm and Sā'rah were old and well stricken in age; and it ceased to be with Sā'rah after the manner of women.

12 Therefore Sā'rah [6]laughed within herself, saying, After I am waxed old shall I have pleasure, my lord being old also?

13 And the Lord said unto Ā'brā-hăm, Wherefore did Sā'rah laugh, saying, Shall I of a surety bear a child, which am old?

14 Is any thing [c]too hard for the Lord? At the time appointed I will return unto thee, according to the time of life, and Sā'rah shall have a son.

15 Then Sā'rah [7]denied, saying, I laughed not; for she was afraid. And he said, Nay; but thou didst laugh.

16 ¶ Then the men rose up from thence, and looked toward [8]Sŏd'om: and Ā'brā-hăm went with them to bring them on the way.

17 And the Lord said, [d]Shall I hide from [9]Ā'brā-hăm that thing which I do;

18 Seeing that [9]Ā'brā-hăm shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him?

19 For I know him that he [e]will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; that the Lord may bring upon Ā'brā-hăm that which he hath spoken of him.

20 And the Lord said, Because the cry of [8]Sŏd'om and [10]Go-mŏr'rah is great, and because their sin is very grievous;

21 I will go down now, [f]and see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me; and if not, I will know.

22 And the men turned their faces from thence, and went toward [8]Sŏd'om: but [9]Ā'brā-hăm stood yet before the Lord.

23 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm drew near, and said, [g]Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked?

24 Peradventure there be fifty righteous within the city: wilt thou also destroy and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are therein?

25 That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that [g]the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: Shall [i]not the Judge of all the earth do right?

26 And the Lord said, If I find in [8]Sŏd'om fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes.

27 And [9]Ā'brā-hăm answered and said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to [j]speak unto the Lord, which am but [11]dust and ashes:

28 Peradventure there shall lack five of the fifty righteous: wilt thou destroy all the city for lack of five? And he said, If I find there forty and five, I will not destroy it.

29 And he spake unto him [k]yet again, and said, Peradventure there shall be forty found there. And he said, I will not do it for forty's sake.

30 And he said unto him, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak: Peradventure there shall thirty be found there. And he said, I will not do it, if I find thirty there.

31 And he said, Behold now, [l]I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord: Peradventure there shall be twenty found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for twenty's sake.

32 And he said, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: [10]Peradventure ten shall be found there. And he said, [m]I will not destroy it [12]for ten's sake.

3. Angels of the Lord. One of the three appearing to be the angel of Jehovah, assuming human form for the special purpose of appearing before Abraham to bring Sarah to a belief in the promise made to A.

4. Each measure equal to one peck. The large quantity here taken signifies the bounty of Abraham's hospitality.

5. See 8, ch. 11.

6. Not allowed, but with secret incredulity.

7. This denial was immediately silenced by the answer, "Thou didst laugh." This direct divining of her thoughts made her afraid and immediately converted her incredulity into faith.

8. See 4, ch. 14.

9. See 6, ch. 17.

10. See 5, ch. 14.

11. In the scriptures men are frequently called dust and ashes as their bodies are formed from, nourished through, and shall return to dust.

12. In this intercession of Abraham we do well to note—(1) how the righteous may be the salt of the earth; (2) the long-suffering and mercy of God; (3) the humility and boldness with which we should plead before God; (4) the efficacy of prayer.

Chapter 18.

a. And there came two angels to Sodom at even. (Gen. 19:1.) The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.) For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways (11). They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone. (Ps. 91:11, 12.)

b. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. (Heb. 13:2.) For I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in; naked, and ye clothed me; I was sick, and ye visited me; I was in prison, and ye came unto me. (Math. 25:35, 36.)

c. Ah Lord God! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee. (Jer. 32:17.) But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible. (Math. 19:26.) And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform. (Rom. 4:21.) Trust ye in the Lord for ever; for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength. (Isa. 26:4.) For with God nothing shall be impossible. (Lu. 1:37.)

d. The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and he will show them his covenant. (Ps. 25:14.) Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth; but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. (Jno. 15:15.)

e. And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. (Dt. 6:7.) And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. (Eph. 6:4.)

f. But all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (Heb. 4:13.)

g. The Lord trieth the righteous; but the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth (5). Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and an horrible tempest; this shall be the portion of their cup. (Ps. 11:5, 6.) Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him; for they shall eat the fruit of their doings (10). Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him; for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Isa. 3:10, 11.) Many sorrows shall be to the wicked; but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about. (Ps. 32:10.) For the arms of the wicked shall be broken; but the Lord upholdeth the righteous. (Ps. 37:17.) Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace (37). But the transgressors shall be destroyed together! the end of the wicked shall be cut off. (Ps. 37:37, 38.) Blessings are upon the head of the just; but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked. (Prov. 10:6.) The hope of the righteous shall be gladness; but the expectation of the wicked shall perish. (Prov. 10:28.) By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted; but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked. (Prov. 11:11.) The wicked are overthrown, and are not; but the house of the righteous shall stand. (Prov. 12:7.)

i. Doth God pervert judgment? Or doth the Almighty pervert justice? (Job 8:3.) Verily there is a reward for the righteous; verily he is a God that judgeth in the earth. (Ps. 58:11.) The judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether. (Ps. 19:9.) Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding. Far be it from God, that he should do wickedness; and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity (10). Yea, surely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment. (Job 34:10, 12.) Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy; for thou renderest to every man according to his work. (Ps. 62:12.) Justice and judgment are the habitations of thy throne; mercy and truth shall go before thy face. (Ps. 89:14.) All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; but the Lord weigheth the spirits. (Prov. 16:2.)

j. And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Lu. 18:1.)

k. Pray without ceasing. (I Thess. 5:17.) Thus I fell down before the Lord forty days and forty nights, as I fell down at the first; because the Lord had said he would destroy you. (Dt. 9:25.)

l. Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. (Heb. 4:16.)

m. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another,

ABRAHAM'S OAK.

33 And the Lord went his way, as soon as he had left communing with [9]Ā'brā-hăm: and Ā'brā-hăm returned unto his place.

CHAPTER 19.

1 Lot entertaineth two angels. 4 The vicious Sodomites are stricken with blindness. 12 Lot is sent for safety into the mountains. 18 He obtaineth leave to go into Zoar. 24 Sodom and Gomorrah are destroyed. 26 Lot's wife is a pillar of salt. 30 Lot dwelleth in a cave. 31 The incestuous original of Moab and Ammon.

1 And there came two [1]angels to Sŏd'om at even; and Lŏt sat in the gate of [3]Sŏd'om: and [2]Lŏt seeing them rose up to meet them; and he bowed himself with his face toward the ground;

2 And he said, Behold now, my lords, [a]turn in, I pray you, into your servant's house, and tarry all night, and wash your feet, and ye shall rise up early, and go on your ways. And they said, Nay; but we will abide in the street all night.

3 And he pressed upon them greatly; and they turned in unto him, and entered into his house; and he made them a feast, and did bake [4]unleavened bread, and they did eat.

4 ¶ But before they lay down, the men of the city, even the men of [3]Sŏd'om, compassed the house round, both old and young, all the people from every quarter:

5 And they called unto [2]Lŏt, and said unto him, Where are the men which came in to thee this night? bring them out unto us, that we may know them.

6 And Lŏt went out at the door unto them, and shut the door after him,

7 And said, I pray you, brethren, do not so wickedly.

8 Behold now, [5]I have two daughters which have not known man; let me, I pray you, bring them out unto you, and do ye to them as is good in your eyes: only unto these men do nothing; for therefore came they under the shadow of my roof.

9 And they said, Stand back. And they said again, This one fellow came in to sojourn, and he will needs be a judge: now will we deal worse with thee, than with them. And they pressed sore upon the man, even [2]Lŏt, and came near to break the door.

10 But the men put forth their hand, and pulled Lŏt into the house to them, and shut to the door.

11 And they [6]smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great: so that they wearied themselves to find the door.

12 ¶ And the [7]men said unto Lŏt, Hast thou here any besides? son in law, and thy sons, and thy daughters, and whatsoever thou hast in the city, bring them out of this place:

13 For we will destroy this place, because the cry of them is waxen great before the face of the Lord; and the Lord hath sent us to destroy it.

14 And Lŏt went out, and spake unto his sons in law, which married his daughters, and said, Up, [b]get you out of this place; for the Lord will destroy this city. But he seemed as one that mocked unto his sons in law.

15 ¶ And when the morning arose, then the angels hastened [2]Lŏt, saying, Arise, take thy wife, and thy two daughters, which are here; lest thou be consumed in the iniquity of the city.

16 And while he lingered, the men laid hold upon his hand, and upon the hand of his wife, and upon the hand of his two daughters; [c]the Lord being merciful unto him: and they brought him forth, and set him without the city.

17 ¶ And it came to pass, when they had brought them forth abroad, that he said, Escape for thy life; look not behind thee, neither stay thou in all the plain; escape to the mountain, lest thou be consumed.

18 And [2]Lŏt said unto them, Oh, not so, my Lord:

19 Behold now, thy servant hath found grace in thy sight, and thou hast magnified thy mercy, which thou hast shewed unto me in saving my life; and I cannot escape to the mountain, lest some evil take me, and I die:

20 Behold now, this city is near to flee unto, and it is a little one: Oh, let me escape thither, (is it not a little one?) and my soul shall live.

21 And he said unto him, See, I have accepted thee concerning this thing also, that I will not overthrow this city, for the which thou hast spoken.

22 Haste thee, escape thither; for I cannot do any thing till thou be come thither. Therefore the name of the city was called [8]Zō'ar.

23 ¶ The sun was risen upon the earth when Lŏt entered into Zō'ar.

24 Then the [d]Lord rained upon [3]Sŏd'om and upon [9]Go-mŏr'rah brimstone and fire from the Lord out of [10]heaven;

25 And he overthrew those cities, and all the plain, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and that which grew upon the ground.

26 ¶ But his wife [11]looked back from behind him, and she [e]became a pillar of salt.

27 ¶ And [12]Ā'brā-hăm gat up early in the morning to the place where he stood before the Lord:

28 And he looked toward [3]Sŏd'om and [9]Go-mŏr'rah, and toward all the land of the plain, and beheld, and, lo, the smoke of the country went up as the smoke of a furnace.

29 ¶ And it came to pass, when God destroyed the cities of the plain, that God [13]remembered [12]Ā'brā-hăm, and sent Lŏt out of the midst of the overthrow, when he overthrew the cities in the which Lŏt dwelt.

30 ¶ And [2]Lŏt went up out of Zō'ar, and dwelt in the mountain, and his two daughters with him; for he feared to dwell in Zō'ar: and he dwelt in a cave, he and his two daughters.

31 And the firstborn said unto the younger, Our father is old, and there is not a man in the earth to come in unto us after the manner of all the earth:

32 Come [f]let us make our father drink [14]wine, and we will lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.

33 And they made their father drink wine that night: and the firstborn went in, and lay

Ch. 19. B. C. 1898.

NOTE.—In ch. 19 is presented another picture in the life of Lot. After Abraham rescued him from the eastern king he returns to Sodom. Although he remained true to his religious conceptions, his daughters married men of the city and his family appears to have become considerably affected by the vices of the place.

1. The two angels who left Abraham on the heights.

2. See 4, ch. 12.

3. See 4, ch. 14.

4. This is the first occurrence of the word unleavened. It means sweetness, and denotes bread not allowed time to ferment or to be made sour by leaven.

5. The oriental idea of hospitality would almost compel men to lay down their lives or go to any extreme for the safety of their guests, but still this proposition of Lot's is utterly shocking and outrageous and reveals how clearly his long residence in wicked Sodom had dulled his moral sense.

6. The angels smote the wicked mob with instant blindness, which aborted their plans and compelled them to disperse.

7. The angels who had remained over night with Lot.

8. That is, little.

9. See 5, ch. 14.

10. The circumstances set forth this destruction as miraculous, but—as in the plagues of Egypt—it is believed that God used natural agencies to accomplish his purpose. The country round about is subject to volcanic action, also earthquakes; perhaps both causes were set to work by Jehovah. Such actions generally cause lightnings to play and thunders to roll. In this way the authorities claim we have all the phenomena which the most literal interpretation of the sacred records can demand.

11. The wife, being anxious for those who had been left behind, among them her sons-in-law, also perhaps reluctant to leave a place which had so long been her home and where much of their property was left, lingered behind the rest of them and looked back until she was overtaken by the burning fumes, and suddenly involved in the destruction. Smothered, and stiffened as she stood by saline incrustations, she became a pillar of salt. Biblical scholars agree that it is not necessary to suppose she was actually turned into a pillar of salt, but having been killed by the fiery and sulphurous vapor with which the air was filled and afterwards incrusted in salt, she resembles an actual statue of salt.

12. See 6, ch. 17.

13. In this passage Lot's rescue is attributed to Abraham, thus making the second time Abraham has rescued Lot.

14. This incest proposed by the eldest daughter and readily followed by her younger sister, indicates what demoralizing power life in Sodom had had over them. They had become thoroughly saturated with the wickedness of Sodom. We are not to understand that Lot's daughters believed the whole human race to have been destroyed, but that they now have no hope of marriage with any of the men of the country to which they had fled.

that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Ja. 5:16.)

a. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. (Heb. 13:2.)

b. Separate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may consume them in a moment (21). Get you up from among this congregation, that I may consume them as in a moment. And they fell upon their faces. (Num. 16:21, 45.) Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and ye receive not of her plagues. (Rev. 18:4.)

c. He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for thy strength shall no man prevail. (I Sam. 2:9.) The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate. (Ps. 34:22.) The Lord preserveth all them that love him; but all the wicked will he destroy. (Ps. 145:20.) But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us (4). Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ (by grace ye are saved.) (Eph. 2:4, 5.)

d. And that the whole land thereof is brimstone, and salt, and burning, that it is not sown, nor beareth, nor any grass groweth therein, like the overthrow of Sodom, and Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboim, which the Lord overthrew in his anger, and in his wrath. (Dt. 29:23.) Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and an horrible tempest; this shall be the portion of their cup. (Ps. 11:6.) And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly. (II Pet. 2:6.)

e. Remember Lot's wife. (Lu. 17:32.)

f. And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares. (Lu. 21:34.)

with her father; and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose.

34 And it came to pass on the morrow, that the firstborn said unto the younger, Behold, I lay yesternight with my father: let us make him drink wine this night also; and go thou in, and lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.

35 And they made their father drink wine that night also: and the younger arose, and lay with him; and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose.

36 Thus were both the daughters of [15]Lŏt with child by their father.

37 And the firstborn bare a son, and called his name [16]Mō'ab: the same is the father of the [17]Mō'ab-ītes unto this day.

38 And the younger, she also bare a son, and called his name [18]Bĕn-am'mī: the same is the father of the children of Ām'mŏn unto this day.

CHAPTER 20.

1 Abraham sojourneth at Gerar, 2 denieth his wife, and loseth her. 3 Abimelech is reproved for her in a dream. 9 He rebuketh Abraham, 14 restoreth Sarah, 16 and reproveth her. 17 He is healed by Abraham's prayer.

1 And [1]Ā'brā-hăm journeyed from thence toward the south country, and dwelled between Kā'desh and Shûr, and sojourned in Gĕ'rär.

2 And Ā'brā-hăm said of [2]Sā'rah his wife, She is my [3]sister: and A-bĭm'ĕ-lech king of Gĕ'rär sent, and took to Sā'rah.

3 But God came to [4]A-bĭm'ĕ-lech in a [5]dream by night, and said to him, Behold, thou art but a dead man, for the woman which thou hast taken; for she is a man's wife.

4 But A-bĭm'ĕ-lech had not come near her: and he said, Lord, wilt thou slay also a righteous nation?

5 Said he not unto me, She is my sister? and she, even she herself said, He is my brother: in the integrity of my heart and innocency of my hands have I done this.

6 And God said unto him in a dream, Yea, I know that thou didst this in the integrity of thy heart; for I also withheld thee from sinning against me: therefore suffered I thee not to touch her.

7 Now therefore restore the man his wife; for he is a [6]prophet, and he [a]shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live: and if thou restore her not, know thou that thou shalt surely die, thou, and all that are thine.

8 Therefore [4]A-bĭm'ĕ-lech rose early in the morning, and called all his servants, and told all these things in their ears: and the men were sore afraid.

9 Then [4]A-bĭm'ĕ-lech called [1]Ā'brā-hăm, and said unto him, What hast thou done unto us? and what have I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my kingdom a [b]great sin? thou hast done deeds unto me that ought not to be done.

10 And A-bĭm'ĕ-lech said unto Ā'brā-hăm, What sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing?

11 And Ā'brā-hăm said, Because I thought, Surely the [c]fear of God is not in this place; and they will slay me for my wife's sake.

15. Thus close the chief incidents in the life of Lot. Throughout his life may be traced the judgments as well as the mercies of God. His choice of the plain of the Jordan, while leading him to wealth and prosperity, led him also to temptation. Though saved from the destruction of Sodom and urged to flee for his life, still his feebleness of faith caused him to linger (v. 16), then to fear escape to the mountains (v. 19), then to doubt the safety of the place God had prepared for him (v. 30). His daughters lead him into intoxication and betrayed him into far more dreadful wickedness. The veil is then drawn and we hear of him no more. He is saved indeed from the destruction at Sodom, but now he is an outcast, widowed, homeless, hopeless, without children or grandchildren, save the authors and heirs of his shame.

16. Which means "from father"; the founder of the Moabites.

17. A tribe descended from Moab, the son of Lot, and his eldest daughter, and therefore related to the Hebrews.

18. Which means "son of my people," i. e., begotten of my own race.

Ch. 20. B. C. 1898.

1. See 6, ch. 17.

2. See 8, ch. 11.

3. A repetition of the folly he committed in Egypt. After the destruction of Sodom, Abraham moved into the country of Abimelech, and, fearing that the extreme beauty of Sarah might lead him into trouble with the king, he declared her to be his sister.

4. The name of the Philistine king of Gerar in the time of Abraham. A.'s taking Sarah into his harem, shows that even in those early times, kings claimed the right of taking to themselves the unmarried females, not only of their own subjects, but of any other people.

5. The patriarchal method that Jehovah frequently adopted of communicating with his subjects.

6. Here the word prophet first occurs, though the spirit of prophecy had long been abroad, speaking through Enoch and Noah. A prophet is one who speaks a divine message.

7. Nothing is known of the birth of Sarah except what is here stated. Many authorities, however, state "daughter," here used, means "granddaughter," and that Sarah was really the sister of Lot.

Ch. 21. B. C. 1897-1891.

1. The wife of Abraham, 10 years his junior, was married to him in Ur. She was also his half-sister, being the daughter of his father, but not his mother. Her name was originally spelled Sarai, meaning princely or contentious. She is presented as a woman of extreme beauty, and on entering Egypt, A., fearing that her beauty would attract the Egyptians and lead to his murder, represented her as his sister. For 5 and 20 years promises had been made to Abraham and Sarah and assurance after assurance received that an heir should be given unto them. At last the time of fulfillment has arrived.

2. Abraham was first called Abram, a Hebrew word meaning High Father, or Father of Elevation, this being his original name, but which afterward, by Jehovah, was extended to Abraham, meaning father of a multitude, sig. of the promise given him at this time, of a numerous posterity. (Gen. 17:1-5.)

A. was a native of Chaldea and descended through Heber in the ninth generation from Shem, the son of Noah. His father was Terah.

3. See 12, ch. 17.

4. The Hebrew word here used, the Piel form, is the same form used in various other places and in each instance meant committing some rude act which caused Sarah to be filled with indignation and contempt for him. She would not have her boy

12 And yet indeed she is my sister; she is the [7]daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother; and she became my wife.

13 And it came to pass, when God caused me to wander from my father's house, that I said unto her, This is thy kindness which thou shalt shew unto me; at every place whither we shall come, say of me, He is my brother.

14 And [4]A-bĭm'ĕ-lech took sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and womenservants, and gave them unto Ā'brā-hăm, and restored him [2]Sā'rah his wife.

15 And A-bĭm'ĕ-lech said, Behold, my land is before thee: dwell where it pleaseth thee.

16 And unto Sā'rah he said, Behold, I have given thy brother a thousand pieces of silver: behold, he is tŏ thee a covering of the eyes, unto all that are with thee, and with all other: thus she was reproved.

17 ¶ So [1]Ā'brā-hăm prayed unto God: and God healed [4]A-bĭm'ĕ-lech, and his wife, and his maidservants; and they bare children.

18 For the Lord had fast closed up all the wombs of the house of A-bĭm'ĕ-lech, because of Sā'rah Ā'brā-hăm's wife.

CHAPTER 21.

1 Isaac is born. 4 He is circumcised. 6 Sarah's joy. 9 Hagar and Ishmael are cast forth. 15 Hagar in distress. 17 The angel comforteth her. 22 Abimelech's covenant with Abraham at Beer-sheba.

1 And the Lord visited [1]Sā'rah as he had said, and the Lord did unto Sā'rah as he had spoken.

2 For Sā'rah conceived, and bare [2]Ā'brā-hăm a son in his old age, at the set time of which God had spoken to him.

3 And Ā'brā-hăm called the name of his son that was born unto him, whom Sā'rah bare to him, [3]Ī'ṣaac.

4 And Ā'brā-hăm circumcised his son Ī'ṣaac being eight days old, as God had commanded him.

5 And [2]Ā'brā-hăm was an hundred years old, when his son [3]Ī'ṣaac was born unto him.

6 ¶ And [1]Sā'rah said, God hath made me to laugh, so that all that hear will laugh with me.

7 And she said, Who would have said unto [2]Ā'brā-hăm, that [1]Sā'rah should have given children suck? for I have born him a son in his old age.

8 And the child grew, and was weaned: and [2]Ā'brā-hăm made a great feast the same day that [3]Ī'ṣaac was weaned.

9 ¶ And Sā'rah saw the [4]son of Hā'gar the E-ġўp'tian, which she had born unto Ā'brā-hăm, mocking.

10 Wherefore she said unto [2]Ā'brā-hăm, Cast out this bondwoman and her son; for the son of this bondwoman shall not be heir with my son, even with [3]Ī'ṣaac.

11 And the thing was very [5]grievous in Ā'brā-hăm's sight because of his son.

12 ¶ And God said unto Ā'brā-hăm, Let it not be grievous in thy sight because of the lad, and because of thy bondwoman; in all that Sā'rah hath said unto thee, hearken unto her voice; for in [6]Ī'ṣaac shall thy seed be called.

13 And also of the son of the bondwoman will I make a nation, because he is thy seed.

14 And [2]Ā'brā-hăm rose up early in the Chapter 20.

a. And Samuel said, Gather all Israel to Mizpeh, and I will pray for you unto the Lord. (I Sam. 7:5.) My servant Job shall pray for you; for him will I accept; lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job. (Job 42:8.) And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him (15). Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Ja. 5:15, 16.)

b. And Moses said unto Aaron, What did this people unto thee, that thou hast brought so great a sin upon them? (Ex. 32:21.)

c. Fear before him, all the earth; the world also shall be stable, that it be not moved. (I Chr. 16:30.) Wherefore now let the fear of the Lord be upon you; take heed, and do it; for there is no iniquity with the Lord our God, nor respect of persons, nor taking of gifts. (II Chr. 19:7.) Stand in awe, and sin not; commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still. (Ps. 4:4.) And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God, for they shall wisely consider of his doing. (Ps. 64:9.) He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him; he also will hear their cry, and save them. (Ps. 145:19.) The fear of the Lord is to hate evil; pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate. (Prov. 8:13.) He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the Lord; but he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him (2). A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil; but the fool rageth, and is confident (16). In the fear of the Lord is strong confidence; and his children shall have a place of refuge (26). The fear of the Lord is the fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death. (Prov. 14:2, 16, 26, 27.) By mercy and truth iniquity is purged; and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.)

morning, and took bread, and a bottle of water, and gave it unto Hā'gar, putting it on her shoulder, and the child, and sent her away: and she departed, and wandered in the wilderness of [7]Bē'er-shē'bà.

15 And the water was spent in the bottle, and she cast the child under one of the shrubs.

16 And she went, and sat her down over against him a good way off, as it were a bowshot: for she said, Let me not see the death of the child. And she sat over against him, and lift up her voice, and wept.

17 And God heard the voice of the lad; and the angel of God called to Hā'gar out of heaven, and said unto her, What aileth thee, Hā'gar? fear not; for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he is.

18 Arise, lift up the lad, and hold him in thine hand; for I will make him a great nation.

19 And God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water; and she went, and filled the bottle with water, and gave the lad drink.

20 And [a]God was with the lad; and he grew, and [b]dwelt in the [8]wilderness, and became an archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wilderness of Pā'ran: and his mother took him a wife out of the land of Ē'ğyp.

22 ¶ And it came to pass at that time, that A-bĭm'ĕ-lech and Phī'chol the chief captain of his host spake unto Ā'brā-hăm, saying, God is with thee in all that thou doest:

23 Now therefore [9]swear unto me here by God that thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor with my son, nor with my son's son: but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned.

24 And Ā'brā-hăm said, I will swear.

25 And [2]Ā'brā-hăm reproved [4]A-bĭm'ĕ-lech because of a well of water, which A-bĭm'ĕ-lech's servants had violently taken away.

26 And [10]A-bĭm'ĕ-lech said, I [11]wot not who hath done this thing: neither didst thou tell me, neither yet heard I of it, but to-day.

27 And Ā'brā-hăm took sheep and oxen, and gave them unto A-bĭm'ĕ-lech; and both of them made a covenant.

28 And [2]Ā'brā-hăm set seven ewe [12]lambs of the flock by themselves.

29 And [10]A-bĭm'ĕ-lech said unto Ā'brā-hăm, What mean these seven ewe lambs which thou hast set by themselves?

30 And he said, For these seven ewe lambs shalt thou take of my hand, that they may be a witness unto me, that I have digged this well.

31 Wherefore he called that place [13]Bē'er-shē'bà; because there they sware both of them.

32 Thus they made a covenant at [13]Bē'er-shē'bà: then [10]A-bĭm'ĕ-lech rose up, and [14]Phī'chol the chief captain of his host, and they returned into the land of the [15]Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

33 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm planted a grove in Bē'er-shē'bà, and called there on the name of the Lord, the [c]everlasting God.

34 And Ā'brā-hăm sojourned in the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes' land many days.

CHAPTER 22.

1 Abraham is tempted to offer Isaac. 11 The angel stayeth him. 13 Isaac is exchanged with a ram. 14 The place is called Jehovah-jireh. 15 Abraham is blessed again. 20 The generation of Nahor unto Rebekah.

1 And it came to pass after these things, that [a]God did [1]tempt [2]Ā'brā-hăm, and said unto him, Ā'brā-hăm: and he said, Behold, here I am.

2 And he said, [b]Take now thy son, thine only son [3]Ī'şaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of [4]Mo-rī'ah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

3 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm rose up early in the morning, and saddled his [5]ass, and took two of contaminated by such associates. He is therefore to be expelled.

5. Abraham had great affection for Ishmael and he was therefore not disposed at this time to grant Sarah's request of expulsion.

6. The promised seed should spring not from Ishmael, but from Isaac. The promise came first to Adam, second to Noah, third to Abraham, fourth Isaac, fifth Jacob, sixth Judah, seventh David.

7. A place in the southern part of Canaan which took its name from the well dug by Abraham and the oath which confirmed his treaty with Abimelech.

8. His mother's care followed him to this point and selected for him a wife out of her own native land, after which we hear no more of her.

9. Abraham's duplicity and deception in the matter of Sarah doubtless incited Abimelech to seek this oath.

10. See 4, ch. 20.

11. I knew not.

12. Abraham here takes seven lambs because the Hebrew word for swear, in vs. 23 and 24, is the verbal form of the word seven, and means lit. to seven one's self, which doubtless gave rise to the custom of sealing an oath by seven offerings with seven witnesses.

13. Well of the oath. It took its name from the well which was dug by Abraham and the oath which confirmed his treaty with Abimelech. It seemed to be near a favorite place of A. Here he planted one of the groves which formed the temples of those remote times (v. 33).

14. The commander of the troops of Abimelech, the titular name of the commander-in-chief of the armies of the Philistine king of Gerar.

15. A strong tribe southwest of Israel. Beersheba seems to have been on the border of the land of the Philistines. The I.'s had established themselves in their land as early as the time of Abraham, and founded a kingdom at Gerar. When the Israelites left Egypt, they were afraid of returning by the shortest road because of the P.'s. In the time of Joshua (Josh. 13:3), the P.'s appear in a league of five tribes, and J. seems to have thought it prudent to undertake nothing which would bring him in contact with them. In the time of Eli, the P.'s got possession of the ark (I Sam. 4), but were subsequently defeated by Samuel, which put an end to their dominion that had lasted for 40 years. (I Sam. 7.) Notwithstanding their defeat, the P.'s continued to be troublesome neighbors and there were constant wars against them all the days of Saul (I Sam. 14:52). Under Jehoram, in union with the Arabians, they fell on Jerusalem and carried off the king's substance, his wives and children (II Chr. 21:16). The names of their chief cities were Gaza, Ashdod, Askelon, Gath and Ekron, and it is strange to say that all of these towns have never once disappeared from history, but exist to-day under the names of Gazzeh, Askalum, Yafa, Estud, Ummlakis and Beitjabrim. Four and one-half miles from Gaza a colossal marble statue was discovered in 1870. It is over 15 ft. high above the pedestal. It is the figure of a man with long hair hanging in ringlets upon his shoulders, having a long beard, every feature typifying age.

Ch. 22. B. C. 1872.

NOTE.—Ch. 22 presents the seventh and great test of Abraham's faith, the offering of Isaac. For many long years A. has been undergoing a severe training or schooling preparing him for his final work, and here in this ch. the spiritual life of the old patriarch reaches its climax. Home and native land have long been left behind, revelation after revelation has lifted him into close and intimate friendship with God. He has sacrificed his natural yearnings for Ishmael, and all his hopes now rest on Isaac. Now, as a final test of his faith and confidence in God he is commanded to go forth and offer in sacrifice even this son of miracle; thus early the experience of this old patriarch suggests the teachings of our Saviour when he declares, "He that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me, and he that loseth his life for me shall find it" (Mat. 10:37-39).

The offering of Isaac in sacrifice by Abraham marks the crowning event in the life of this patriarch. Jehovah never intended A. to execute the terrible command. At this time the sacrifice of the firstborn was frequently practiced in Semitic races. Doubtless the question had often come to A., "Am I behind Assyria, Ammon and Moab in my devotion?" The ideas of mercy and justice were low in that period, and needed to be raised. To propitiate the deity by child-murder, was regarded as the height of religious devotion; therefore the command to offer up Isaac in sacrifice fulfills the two-fold object of giving the crowning fruit of A.'s absolute faith in Jehovah and of demonstrating the moral superiority of faith in J. over the religious customs of other Semitic races, as other gods accepted the sacrifice of the firstborn. Jehovah stayed the hand of A. and forbade the sacrifice of his child. Thus J. upheld the instinct implanted in human nature which shrunk in horror from the act. He taught that J. had no pleasure in the infliction of suffering upon the innocent, that the character of J. was raised above that of heathen gods by higher love and truer justice. (Hastings.)

1. To prove, to test, to try; in various ways God is said to try or prove men, i. e., their virtue (Ps. 26:2). "Examine me, O Lord, and prove me: try my reins and my heart." (Dt. 8:2-16)—"And thou shalt remember all the ways which the Lord thy God led thee, these 40 years in the wilderness, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keep his commandments or no. . . . Who fed thee in the wilderness with manna, which thy fathers knew not, that he might humble thee, and that he might prove thee, to do thee good at thy latter end." (1) Their faith and obedience. (Ex. 15:25)—"And he cried unto the Lord: and the Lord showed him a tree, which when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweet; that he made for them a statute and an ordinance, and there he proved them." (Ex. 20:20)—"And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not." (2) By commands difficult to be executed. (Ex. 16:4)—"Then said the Lord unto Moses, Behold I will rain bread from heaven to you; and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day, that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law or no." Lange remarks that the word not only means to prove, but to prove under circumstances which have originated from sin that increases the severity of the proof and makes it a temptation, as man's life is in a world of trial, trials which come from evil sources. (I Pet. 5:8)—"Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour." All such solicitations to evil are among the offenses which Jesus deplored. (Mat. 18:7) "Woe unto the world because of offenses! For it must needs be that offenses come; but woe to that man by whom the offense cometh!" When thus viewed, it is manifest that God tempts no man. (James 1:13)—"Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man."

Chapter 21.

a. And the Lord was with Joseph, and he was a prosperous man. (Gen. 39:2.)

b. And he will be a wild man; his hand will be against every man, and every man's hand against him; and he shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren. (Gen. 16:12.)

c. The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms; and he shall thrust out the enemy from before thee; and shall say, Destroy them. (Dt. 33:27.) Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting; thou art God. (Ps. 90:2.) Hast thou not known, hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? There is no searching of his understanding. (Isa. 40:28.) Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, from everlasting and to everlasting. (Ps. 41:13.)

a. Blessed is the man that endureth temptation, for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him (12). Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God; for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man. (Ja. 1:12, 13.) Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. (Ja. 4:7.) Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you. (I Pet. 4:12.)

b. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (Jno. 3:16.)

his young men with him, and Ĭ'ṣaac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of which God had told him.

4 Then on the third day [2]Ā'bră-hăm lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off.

5 And [2]Ā'bră-hăm said unto his young men, Abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again to you.

6 And Ā'bră-hăm took the wood of the burnt offering and laid it upon [3]Ĭ'ṣaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.

7 And Ĭ'ṣaac spake unto Ā'bră-hăm his father, and said, My father: and he said, Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the lamb for a burnt offering?

8 And Ā'bră-hăm said, My son, God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together.

9 And they came to the place which God had told him of; and [2]Ā'bră-hăm built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and bound Ĭ'ṣaac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood.

10 And Ā'bră-hăm stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son.

11 And the [c]angel of the Lord called unto him out of heaven, and said, Ā'bră-hăm, Ā'bră-hăm: and he said, Here am I.

12 And he said, [c]Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now I know that thou [d]fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.

13 And [2]Ā'bră-hăm lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Ā'bră-hăm went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering [e]in the stead of his son.

14 And [2]Ā'bră-hăm called the name of that place [7]Je-hō'vah-jĭ'reh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the Lord it shall be seen.

15 ¶ And the angel of the Lord called unto Ā'bră-hăm out of heaven a second time,

16 And said, By myself have I sworn, saith the Lord, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:

17 That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies;

18 And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice.

19 So [2]Ā'bră-hăm returned unto his young men, and they rose up and went together to [8]Bē-'er-shē'bà; and Ā'bră-hăm dwelt at Bē'er-shē-bà.

20 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that it was told Ā'bră-hăm, saying, Behold, [9]Mĭl'cah, she hath also born children unto thy brother [10]Nā'hor;

21 Hŭz his firstborn, and Bŭz his brother, and Ke-mū'el the father of Ā'ram, 22 And Chē'sed, and Hā'zō, and Pĭl'dăsh, and Jĭd'laph, and Bĕth-u'el.

23 And Bĕth-u'el begat Re-bĕk'ah: these eight Mĭl'cah did bear to Nā'hor, Ā'bră-hăm's brother.

NOTE.—The darkest shadows and deepest gloom fall over the path of the aged patriarch. He ceases to hear promises and revelations. His history sinks to the mere facts of domestic life and runs swiftly on to its close. His beloved companion dies, but his faith in the word of God abides with him.

CHAPTER 23.

1 The age and death of Sarah. 3 The purchase of Machpelah, 19 where Sarah was buried.

1 And [1]Sā'rah was an hundred and seven and twenty years old: these were the years of the life of Sā'rah.

2 And Sā'rah died in [2]Kĭr'jath-är'bà; the same is Hē'bron in the land of Cā'năan: and Ā'bră-hăm came to mourn for Sā'rah, and to weep for her.

3 ¶ And Ā'bră-hăm stood up from before his dead, and spake unto the sons of [3]Hĕth, saying,

4 I am a stranger and a sojourner with you: give me a possession of a buryingplace with you, that I may bury my dead out of my sight.

5 And the children of Hĕth answered Ā'bră-hăm, saying unto him,

6 Hear us, my lord: thou art a mighty prince among us: in the choice of our sepulchres bury thy dead; none of us shall withhold from thee his sepulchre, but that thou mayest bury thy dead.

7 And [4]Ā'bră-hăm stood up, and bowed [a]himself to the people of the land, even to the children of [3]Hĕth.

8 And he communed with them, saying, If it be your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight; hear me, and intreat for me to [5]Ē'phron the son of Zō'har, 9 That he may give me the cave of [6]Măch-pē'lah, which he hath, which is in the end of his field; for as much money as it is worth he shall give it me for a possession of a buryingplace amongst you.

10 And Ē'phron dwelt among the children of Hĕth: and Ē'phron the Hĭt'tīte answered Ā'bră-hăm in the audience of the children of Hĕth, even of all that went in at the gate of his city, saying, 11 Nay, my lord, hear me: the field give I thee, and the cave that is therein, I give it thee; in the presence of the sons of my people give I it thee: bury thy dead.

12 And Ā'bră-hăm bowed down himself before the people of the land.

13 And he spake unto Ē'phron in the audience of the people of the land, saying, But if thou wilt give it, I pray thee, hear me: I will give thee money for the field; take it of me, and I will bury my dead there.

14 And Ē'phron answered Ā'bră-hăm saying unto him,

15 My lord, hearken unto me: the land is worth four hundred shekels of silver; what is that betwixt me and thee? bury therefore thy dead.

16 And [4]Ā'bră-hăm hearkened unto Ē'phron; and Ā'bră-hăm weighed to [5]Ē'phron the silver, which he had named in the audience of the sons of Hĕth, four hundred [7]shekels of silver, current money with the merchant.

17 ¶ And the field of [5]Ē'phron, which was in [6]Măch-pē'lah, which was before [8]Măm're, the field, and the cave which was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, that were in all the borders round about, were made sure

c. And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams. (1 Sam. 15:22.) Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. (Lu. 11:2.)

d. Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him (9). Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy. (Ps. 33:8, 18.) The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.) Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord; that walketh in his ways (1). Thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord. (Ps. 128:1, 4.) Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.) The fear of the Lord is to hate evil. (Prov. 8:13.)

e. Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us. (1 Cor. 5:7.)

a. Render therefore to all their dues; tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor. (Rom. 13:7.)

b. Now this was the manner in former times in Israel concerning redeeming, and concerning changing, for to confirm all things; a man plucked off his shoe, and gave to his neighbor; and this was a testimony in Israel. Therefore the kinsman said unto Boaz, Buy it for thee. So he drew off his shoes. And Boaz said unto the elders, and unto all the people, Ye are witnesses this day, that I have bought all that was Elimelech's, and all that was Chilion's and Mahlon's of the hand of Naomi. presence of the children of Hĕth, before all that went in at the gate of his city.

19 And after this, Ā'brā-hăm buried [1]Sā'rah his wife in the cave of the field of Măch-pē'lah before Măm're: the same is Hē'bron in the land of [2]Cā'năan.

20 And the field, and the cave that is therein, were made [b]sure unto Ā'brā-hăm for a possession of a buryingplace by the sons of [3]Hĕth.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Abraham sweareth his servant. 10 The servant's journey: 12 His prayer: 14 His sign. 15 Rebekah meeteth him, 18 fulfilleth his sign, 22 receiveth jewels, 23 sheweth her kindred, 25 and inviteth him home. 26 The servant blesseth God. 29 Laban entertaineth him. 34 The servant sheweth his message. 50 Laban and Bethuel approve it. 58 Rebekah consenteth to go. 62 Isaac meeteth her.

1 And [1]Ā'brā-hăm was old, and well stricken in age: and the Lord had [a]blessed Ā'brā-hăm in all things.

2 And Ā'brā-hăm said unto his eldest servant of his house, that ruled over all that he had, [b]Put, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh:

3 And I will make thee swear by the Lord, the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, that thou [c]shalt not take a wife unto my son of the daughters of the [2]Cā'năan-ītes, among whom I dwell:

4 But thou shalt go unto my country, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son [3]Ī'şaac.

5 And the servant said unto him, Peradventure the woman will not be willing to follow me unto this land: must I needs bring thy son again unto the land from whence thou camest?

6 And Ā'brā-hăm said unto him, Beware thou that thou bring not my son thither again.

7 ¶ The Lord God of heaven, which took me from my father's house, and from the land of my kindred, and which spake unto me, and that sware unto me, saying, Unto thy seed will I give this land; he shall send his [d]angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife unto my son from thence.

8 And if the woman will not be willing to follow thee, then thou shalt be clear from this my [4]oath: only bring not my son thither again.

9 And the servant put his hand [5]under the thigh of Ā'brā-hăm his master, and sware to him concerning that matter.

10 ¶ And the servant took ten camels of the camels of his master, and departed; for all the goods of his master were in his hand: and he arose, and went to [6]Mĕs-o-po-tā'mī-ā, under the city of [7]Nā'hor.

11 And he made his camels to kneel down without the city by a well of water at the time of the evening, even the time that women go out to draw water.

12 And he said, O Lord God of my master [1]Ā'brā-hăm, I [e]pray thee, send me good speed this day, and shew kindness unto my master Ā'brā-hăm.

13 Behold, I stand here by the well of water; and the daughters of the men of the city come out to draw water:

14 And let it come to pass, that the damsel to whom I shall say, Let down thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drink; and she shall say, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also: let the same be she [f]that thou hast appointed for thy servant [3]Ī'şaac; and thereby shall I know that thou hast shewed kindness unto my master.

15 ¶ And it came to pass, before [g]he had done speaking, that, behold, [8]Re-bĕk'ah came out, who was born to [9]Bĕth-u'el, son of Mĭl'cah, the wife of Nā'hor, Ā'brā-hăm's brother, with her pitcher upon her shoulder.

16 And the damsel was very fair to look upon, a virgin, neither had any man known her: and she went down to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came up.

17 And the servant ran to meet her, and said, Let [h]me, I pray thee, drink a little water of thy pitcher.

18 And she said, [i]Drink, my lord: and she

Ch. 24. B. C. 1857.

NOTE.—Ch. 24 is especially devoted to a record of the incidents connected with the marriage of Isaac. After the death of Sarah the house of A. was left in gloom. He again removed into the south country and was now probably living near Beersheba. After about two years A.'s loneliness, caused by the death of Sarah, prompts him to seek a wife for his son Isaac. The following points should be carefully noted in this ch.: (1) The authority of parents and the elder brother in negotiating marriages; (2) the chief servant is the manager or go-between of such affairs for a princely family; (3) marriage between cousins or blood relations, rather than strangers; (4) careful consideration of religious affinity, and its influence on the posterity; (5) the marriage union cemented by mutual love.

1. See 2, ch. 21.

2. The descendants of Canaan, the son of Ham and the grandson of Noah; inhabitants of the land of C. and adjoining districts. Primarily it was applied to the coast, secondarily to the valley of the Jordan. But in time it came to be extended to the whole country, including the mountainous district occupied by the Amorites. When the Israelites were delivered from Egypt by Moses in order to take possession of the promised land, that country was then inhabited by the descendants of Canaan, who were divided into six or seven distinct nations, viz., the Hittites, Girgashites, Amorites, Canaanites proper, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites. (Ex. 3:17.) Besides these there were several Canaanitish tribes who lived beyond the northern borders of the promised land, but with them the Israelites had no concern. In Ex. 23:23, the I.'s are commanded to dispossess and destroy the six C. tribes. The Old Testament story of the C.'s has in recent years been very powerfully reinforced by archaeological research. From the Old Testament we learn: (1) The C.'s lived in cities "walled up to heaven." (2) They made likenesses of idols which Israel was to destroy. (3) The C.'s adored Tammuz and Ashtoreth. (4) Letters are mentioned in David's time and writing in the time of Moses. (5) The C.'s had horses and chariots of iron. (6) Esau, David, Solomon and Rameses the Second married Hittite wives. (7) Egypt was the enemy of Israel and I. was the enemy of the C.'s. (8) The C.'s were the sons of Ham and they were uncircumcised. (9) Great riches are mentioned as found by the Hebrews when they attacked the C.'s. Archaeology has obtained from monuments the following: (1) The Hittites lived in walled towns. (2) They had carved representations of the gods. (3) They adored Tammuz, Ashtoreth and Set. (4) They could write on stone and metal. (5) They had chariots and horses. (6) They married out of their own tribe. (7) They entered into an alliance with Egypt. (8) They were a Turanian race, and therefore not circumcised, as that is not a Turanian custom. (9) They had riches of gold, silver and bronze.

3. See 12, ch. 17.

4. An appeal to Jehovah; in attestation of the truth or confirmation of what you say or promise.

5. Thigh is here used euphemistically for the genital member, regarded among the patriarchs as the most sacred part of the body, hence the creative organ became the symbol of creator and the object of worship among all nations of antiquity. It is for this reason that God claimed it as the sign of a covenant in the rite of circumcision. Nothing could in those days render the oath more solemn than touching the symbol of creation, the sign of the covenant.

6. The country between the two rivers, Euphrates and Tigris.

7. The city where A.'s brother Nahor lived, with his grandson, Laban (see Gen. 24:47), where Terah and A. made their home after they left the land of the Chaldees, where Terah died, where A. received his call to go into Canaan; the chief city in Mesopotamia.

8. Daughter of Bethuel, sister of Laban, the wife of Isaac. The story of the marriage constitutes one of the most beautiful passages of sacred history.

9. Son of Nahor, father of Laban and of Rebekah.

Chapter 24.

a. And Abram was very rich in cattle, in silver and in gold. (Gen. 13:2.) And the Lord hath blessed my master greatly; and he is become great; and he hath given him flocks, and herds, and silver, and gold, and manservants and maidservants, and camels, and asses. (Gen. 24:35.) So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham. (Gal. 3:9.) Now, therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people; for all the earth is mine. (Ex. 19:5.) Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse. A blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day. (Dt. 11:26, 27.) When a man's ways please the Lord he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him. (Prov. 16:7.)

b. And the time drew nigh that Israel must die; and he called his son Joseph, and said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, put, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh, and deal kindly and truly with me; bury me not, I pray thee, in Egypt. (Gen. 47:29.)

c. Neither shalt thou make marriages with them; thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son. (Dt. 7:3.) Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers. (II Cor. 6:14.)

d. Behold, I send an angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared. (Ex. 23:20.) The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.) For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways (11). They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone. (Ps. 91:11, 12.) And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory (3). And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, that understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not. (Is. 6:3, 9.) And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison; and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. (Acts 12:7, 8.)

e. Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. (Phil. 4:6.) Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. (Heb 4:16.) If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed. (Ja. 1:5, 6.) And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us. And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him. (I Jno. 5:14, 15.) Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord. Lord, hear my voice; let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications. (Ps. 130:1, 2.) And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Lu. 18:1.)

f. House and riches are the inheritance of fathers; and a prudent wife is from the Lord. (Prov. 19:14.)

g. The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry. (Ps. 34:15.) I cried unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. (Ps. 3:4.) Thou hast given him his heart's desire and hast not withholden the request of his lips. (Ps. 21:2.) But verily God hath heard me; he hath attended to the voice of my prayer. (Ps. 66:19.) I love the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications. (Ps. 116:1.) And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in paradise. (Lu. 23:42, 43.)

h. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. (Jno. 4:7.)

i. Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous. (1 Pet. 3:8.) Use hospitality one to another without grudging. (I Pet. 4:9.) Every man ac-hasted, and let down her pitcher upon her hand, and gave him drink.

19 And when she had done giving him drink, she said, I will draw water for thy camels also, until they have done drinking.

20 And she hasted, and emptied her pitcher into the trough, and ran again unto the well to draw water, and drew for all his camels.

21 And the man wondering at her held his peace, to wit whether the Lord had made his journey prosperous or not.

22 And it came to pass, as the camels had done drinking, that the man took a golden earring of half a shekel weight, and two bracelets for her hands of ten [10]shekels weight of gold;

23 And said, Whose daughter art thou? tell me, I pray thee: is there room in thy father's house for us to lodge in?

24 And she said unto him, I am the daughter of [9]Bĕth-ū'el the son of Mīl'cah, which she bare unto Nā'hor.

25 She said moreover unto him, We have both straw and [11]provender enough, and room to lodge in.

26 And the man bowed down his head, and worshipped the Lord.

27 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of my master [1]Ā'bră-hăm, who hath not left destitute my master of his mercy and his truth: I being in the way, the Lord [j]led me to the house of my master's brethren.

28 And the damsel ran, and told them of her mother's house these things.

29 ¶ And [8]Re-bĕk'ah had a brother, and his name was Lā'ban: and [12]Lā'ban ran out unto the man, unto the well.

30 And it came to pass, when he saw the earring and bracelets upon his sister's hands, and when he heard the words of [8]Re-bĕk'ah his sister, saying, Thus spake the man unto me; that he came unto the man; and, behold, he stood by the camels at the well.

31 And he said, Come in, thou blessed of the Lord; wherefore standest thou without? for I have prepared the house, and room for the camels.

32 ¶ And the man came into the house: and he ungirded his camels, and gave straw and [11]provender for the camels, and water to wash his feet, and the men's feet that were with him.

33 And there was set meat before him to eat: but he said, [k]I will not eat, until I have told mine errand. And he said, Speak on.

34 And he said, I am [1]Ā'bră-hăm's servant.

35 And the Lord hath blessed my master greatly; and he is become great: and he hath given him flocks, and herds, and silver, and gold, and menservants, and maidservants, and camels, and asses.

36 And [13]Sā'rah my master's wife bare a son to my master when she was old: and unto him hath he given all that he hath.

37 And my master made me swear, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my son of the daughters of the [2]Cā'năan-ītes, in whose land I dwell:

38 But thou shalt go unto my father's house, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son.

39 And I said unto my master, Peradventure the woman will not follow me.

40 And he said unto me, The Lord, before whom I [m]walk, will send his [14]angel with thee, and prosper thy way; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of my kindred, and of my father's house:

41 Then shalt thou be clear from this my [4]oath, when thou comest to my kindred; and if they give not thee one, thou shalt be clear from my oath.

42 And I came this day unto the well, and said, O Lord God of my master [1]Ā'bră-hăm, if now thou do prosper my way which I go:

43 Behold, I stand by the well of water; and it shall come to pass, that when the virgin cometh forth to draw water, and I say to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water of thy pitcher to drink;

44 And she say to me, [n]Both drink thou, and I will also draw for thy camels: let the same be the woman whom the Lord hath appointed out for my master's son.

45 And before I had done speaking in mine heart, behold, [8]Re-bĕk'ah came forth with her pitcher on her shoulder; and she went down unto the well, and drew water; and I said unto her, Let me drink, I pray thee.

46 And she made haste, and let down her pitcher from her shoulder, and said, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also: so I drank, and she made the camels drink also.

47 And I asked her, and said, Whose daughter art thou? And she said, The daughter of [9]Bĕth-ū'el, Nā'hor's son, whom Mīl'cah bare unto him: and I put the [15]earring upon her face, and the bracelets upon her hands.

48 And I bowed down my head, and worshipped the Lord, and blessed the Lord God of my master [1]Ā'bră-hăm, which had led me in the right way to take my master's brother's daughter unto his son.

49 And now if ye will deal kindly and truly with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me; that I may turn to the right hand, or to the left.

50 Then [12]Lā'ban and [9]Bĕth-ū'el answered and said, The thing proceedeth from the Lord: we cannot speak unto thee bad or good.

51 Behold, [8]Re-bĕk'ah is before thee, take her, and go, and let her be thy master's son's wife, as the Lord hath spoken.

52 And it came to pass, that, when [1]Ā'brăhăm's servant heard their words, he worshipped the Lord, bowing himself to the earth.

53 And the servant brought forth jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment, and gave them to Re-bĕk'ah: he gave also to her brother and to her mother precious things.

54 And they did eat and drink, he and the men that were with him, and tarried all night; and they rose up in the morning, and he said, Send me away unto my master.

55 And her brother and her mother said, Let the damsel abide with us a few days, at the least ten; after that she shall go.

56 And he said unto them, Hinder me not, seeing the Lord hath prospered my way; send me away that I may go to my master.

57 And they said, We will call the damsel, and enquire at her mouth.

58 And they called [8]Re-bĕk'ah, and said unto her, Wilt thou go with this man? And she said, I will go.

59 And they sent away [8]Re-bĕk'ah their sister, and her nurse, and [1]Ā'bră-hăm's servant, and his men.

60 And they blessed Re-bĕk'ah, and said unto her, Thou art our sister, be thou the 12. Son of Bethuel. It is in connection with the negotiations for Rebekah's hand that we first read of Laban. He seems to have been the moving spirit in his father's house. It is he who receives A.'s servant, listens to what he says, and takes the lead in subsequent negotiations. In his every act he displays a grasping disposition. He offers his younger daughter Rachel to Jacob for his wife for seven years' service, but at the end of that time by a ruse passes Leah off on Jacob and compels J. to serve another seven years for Rachel. At the end of the second seven years J. wishes to return home, but, through feint of disinterestedness, L. makes a bargain whereby he retains J., but L. continually changes the wages so as to give him the advantage of J. Finally J. leaves L. As soon as L. finds out the circumstances he starts in pursuit and overtakes the fugitive on the borders of Gilead. L. accuses J. of theft, which J. denies, and tells L. to make search. L. does so, but is outwitted by his daughter R., whereupon J. upbraids L. for the manner in which he had treated him. L., conscious of the truth of J.'s reproaches, makes no attempt to reply. Finally L. takes his departure for home, bidding his daughters and their families an affectionate good-bye. The character of L. is not an amiable one. His sisters and daughters all show duplicity and acquisitiveness. L. displays an exaggeration of the same qualities. His leading motive is always self-interest, and he is not very particular in the means adopted for securing his ends.

k. Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips; I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my necessary food. (Job 23:12.) Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ (5). Not with eye-service as menpleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart; (6). With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men. (Eph. 6:5-7.)

m. And Enoch walked with God: and he was not; for God took him. (Gen. 5:24.) And when Abram was 90 years old and 9, the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect. (Gen. 17:1.)

n. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. (Heb. 13:2.) For I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in. (Math. 25:35.)

mother of thousands of millions, and let thy seed possess the gate of those which hate them.

61 ¶ And Re-bĕk'ah arose, and her damsels, and they rode upon the camels, and followed the man: and the servant took Re-bĕk'ah, and went his way.

62 And [3]Ī'ṣaac came from the way of the well [10]Lă-hāi'-roi; for he dwelt in the south country.

63 And Ī'ṣaac went out to [o]meditate in the field at the eventide: and he lifted up his eyes, and saw, and, behold, the camels were coming.

64 And [8]Re-bĕk'ah lifted up her eyes, and when she saw [3]Ī'ṣaac, she lighted off the camel.

65 For she had said unto the servant, What man is this that walketh in the field to meet us? And the servant had said, It is my master: therefore she took a vail, and covered herself.

66 And the servant told Ī'ṣaac all things that he had done.

67 And [3]Ī'ṣaac brought her into his mother Sā'rah's tent, and took [8]Re-bĕk'ah, and she became his wife; and he loved her: and Ī'ṣaac was comforted after his mother's death.

CHAPTER 25.

1 The sons of Abraham by Keturah. 8 Death of Abraham. 12 The generations of Ishmael. 17 His age, and death. 19 Isaac prayeth for Rebekah, being barren. 22 The children strive in her womb. 24 The birth of Esau and Jacob. 27 Their difference. 29 Esau selleth his birthright.

1 Then again [1]Ā'bră-hăm took a wife, and her name was [2]Ke-tū'rah.

2 And she bare him Zīm'răn, and Jŏk'shan, and Mē'dan, and Mĭd'ī-an, and Ĭsh'bāk, and Shu'ah.

3 And Jŏk'shan begat Shē'bā, and Dē'dan. And the sons of Dē'dan were As-shu'rim, and Le-tū'shim, and Le-ŭm'mim.

4 And the sons of Mĭd'ī-an; Ē'phah, and Ē'phēr, and Hā'noch, and A-bī'dah, and Ēl'-da-ah. All these were the children of Ke-tū'rah.

5 ¶ And [1]Ā'bră-hăm gave all that he had unto [3]Ī'ṣaac.

6 But unto the sons of the [4]concubines, which Ā'bră-hăm had, Ā'bră-hăm gave gifts, and sent them away from Ī'ṣaac his son, while he yet lived, eastward, unto the east country.

7 And these are the days of the years of [1]Ā'bră-hăm's life which he lived, an [5]hundred threescore and fifteen years.

8 Then Ā'bră-hăm gave up the ghost, and died in a good old [a]age, an old man, and full of years; and [b]was gathered to his people.

9 And his sons [3]Ī'ṣaac and [6]Ĭsh'ma-el buried him in the cave of Măch-pē'lah, in the field of Ē'phron the son of Zō'har the Hĭt'tīte, which is before Măm're;

10 The field which Ā'bră-hăm purchased of the sons of Hĕth: there was Ā'bră-hăm buried, and Sā'rah his wife.

11 ¶ And it came to pass after the death of Ā'bră-hăm, that God blessed his son [3]Ī'ṣaac; and Ī'ṣaac dwelt by the well Lă-hāi'-roi.

12 ¶ Now these are the generations of [6]Ĭsh'-ma-el, Ā'bră-hăm's son, whom Hā'gar the E-ğўp'tian, Sā'rah's handmaid, bare unto Ā'bră-hăm:

13 And these are the names of the sons of Ĭsh'ma-el, by their names, according to their generations: the firstborn of Ĭsh'ma-el, Ne-bā'-joth; and Kē'dăr, and Ăd'be-el, and Mĭb'sam,

14 And Mĭsh'mā, and Du'mah, and Mās'sā,

15 Hā'dăr, and Tē'mā, Jĕ'tŭr, Nā'phish, and Kĕd'e-mah:

16 These are the sons of Ĭsh'ma-el, and these are their names, by their towns, and by their castles; twelve princes according to their nations.

17 And these are the years of the life of Ĭsh'-ma-el, an hundred and thirty and seven years: and he gave up the ghost and died; and was gathered unto his people.

18 And they dwelt from Hav'ī-lah unto Shûr, that is before Ē'ğўpt, as thou goest toward Ās-sўr'ī-à: and he died in the presence of all his brethren.

19 ¶ And these are the generations of Ī'ṣaac, Ā'bră-hăm's son: Ā'bră-hăm begat Ī'ṣaac:

20 And [3]Ī'ṣaac was forty years old when he took [7]Re-bĕk'ah to wife, the daughter of Bĕth-u'el the Sўr'ī-an of Pā'dan-ā'ram, the sister to Lā'ban the Sўr'ī-an.

21 And Ī'ṣaac intreated the Lord for his wife, because she was barren: and the Lord was intreated of him, and Re-bĕk'ah his wife conceived.

22 And the children struggled together within her; and she said, If it be so, why am I thus? And she went to enquire of the Lord.

23 And the Lord said unto her, Two nations are in thy womb, and two manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels; and the one people shall be stronger than the other people; and the elder shall serve the younger.

24 ¶ And when her days to be delivered were fulfilled, behold, there were twins in her womb.

25 And the first came out red, all over like an hairy garment; and they called his name [8]Ē'saụ.

26 And after that came his brother out, and his hand took hold on Ē'saụ's heel; and [c]his name was called [9]Jā'cob: and [3]Ī'ṣaac was threescore years old when she bare them.

16. The well of the vision of life, the well where the angel of God appeared to Hagar, also where Isaac dwelt before and after the death of his father.

Ch. 25. B. C. 1853.

1. See 2, ch. 21.

2. The second wife or, styled in I Chr. 1:32, the concubine of Abraham, by whom he had six sons.

3. See 12, ch. 17.

4. A half-wife, or wife of inferior rank, who may at the will of the husband be put aside with a present.

5. 175.

6. A.'s eldest son, born to him by Hagar, fourteen years before the birth of Isaac. He was of a wild disposition and made the desert his home. By his prowess in the capture and killing of wild animals and by his wild and daring disposition he acquired great influence over the native tribes. He was high-spirited and not disposed to accept defeat. If he could not become the heir of A. he would become the head of a tribe of his own.

7. See 8, ch. 24.

8. His whole body was as if covered with a fur, a sign of excessive sensual vigor and wildness. He was the eldest son of Isaac and Rebekah and twin brother with Jacob. Esau was a very ardent and lofty spirit, always daring, and became quite skillful in everything he undertook. At one time having experienced a disappointment in the chase, returning footsore and hungry, he asked his brother J. for food. J. saw the exigency in which E. was and resolved not to let it pass unimproved. Consequently he puts a price on his food and offers it to E. for his birthright. E., urged on by his cravings of hunger, and alarmed perhaps by the fear of death from starvation, accepts the bargain, and immediately the contract was sanctioned by an oath. E. was the favorite of his father, while J. was specially beloved by his mother. Family strife continues to exist between the brothers, until E. reaches forty, when he leaves and marries two Hittite wives, Judith and Bashemoth. The time for the fulfilling of the contract between the two brothers whereby E. transfers his birthright to J.—having arrived, R. begins to devise means to secure the advantage for J. I. is sick unto death. He asks his favorite son E. to go and get him some venison, and no sooner does he start than R. says to J., "Hasten, get a kid, kill it, and I will cook it; take it in to your father and secure the blessing before Esau returns." But in fear J. says, "E.'s hands are hairy. Father will feel of me and discover the deception." R. says, "Not so; I will cover your hands with the skin of the kid," which was accordingly done; and thus through this deception the boy's compact was sealed and E.'s birthright gone. Many years after this when J. returns from Laban within the borders of the Jordan, he fears to meet E., who had become quite powerful, remembering, as he does, the wrong he did E. in stealing his birthright from him, but his fears were groundless, for with extended arms E. met his brother, fell upon his neck, and together they wept. In character E. was a true child of his age—he embraced the virtues and defeats of his time and race. Restless, impulsive and fearless, always light-hearted as a child, he was careless of the future, with no self-control or manly thoughtfulness. The enjoyment of the hour was more to him than the greatest promises of what was in store. His bounding health and animal spirits engrossed him and he found his delight in their gratification; yet, withal, he had many of the traits of an excellent man. He was generous, frank and honest, kindly and forgiving. Having no settled habits of honest toil, no fixed religious principles, no reverence for the future, there was nothing on which his better nature might fall back, and therefore he lived only for excitement and pleasure.

9. Meaning supplanter; son of Isaac and Rebekah; twin brother of Esau. He was also called Israel, the father of the 12 patriarchs who were the ancestors of the 12 tribes of Israel. So marked and determined was the struggle for supremacy between Jacob and Esau that we read J. was born with his hand holding to the heel of E., endeavoring to hold him back and secure the first place for himself. From this circumstance it is said he was called Jacob, which means, who takes by the heel, to trip up or supplant. This at least was the Hebrew idea. However, J. grew up to be a plain, quiet, home loving man, pursuing the life of a shepherd. In early life an incident occurred which displayed the character of Jacob. His brother returned exhausted from the chase, and asked J. for something to eat. J. saw his opportunity and did not scruple to make the most of it, saying, "Sell me first thy birthright." Esau consented; but still J. is not satisfied and he has E. to seal his promise with an oath. The birthright carries with it not only a better position in the family, a larger inheritance of the possessions, but also the father's blessing. J. here illustrates not only

o. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. (Ps. 1:2.) Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud; and he shall hear my voice. (Ps. 55:17.) Now, when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and his windows being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees 3 times a day and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. (Dan. 6:10.) And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come he was there alone. (Math. 14:23.) And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed. (Mk. 1:35.) And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God. (Lu. 6:12.) On the morrow, as they went on their journey and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the house-top to pray about the 6th hour. (Acts 10:9.) This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein; for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success. (Josh. 1:8.) Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer. (Ps. 19:14.)

a. And thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace; thou shalt be buried in a good old age. (Gen. 15:15.)

b. And Isaac gave up the ghost, and died, and was gathered unto his people, being old and full of days; and his sons Esau and Jacob buried him. (Gen. 35:29.)

c. And he said, Is not he rightly named Jacob? For he hath supplanted me these two times; he took away my birthright; and, behold, now he hath taken away my blessing. And he said, Hast thou not reserved a blessing for me? (Gen. 27:36.)

27 And the boys grew: and [8]Ē'sąu was a cunning hunter, a man of the field; and [9]Jā'cob was a plain man, dwelling in tents.

28 And [2]Ī'ṣaac loved Ē'sąu, because he did eat of his venison: but [7]Re-bĕk'ah loved [9]Jā'cob.

29 ¶ And Jā'cob sod [10]pottage: and [3]Ē'sąu came from the field, and he was faint:

30 And Ē'sąu said to [9]Jā'cob, Feed me, I pray thee, with that same red pottage; for I am faint: therefore was his name called Ē'dom.

31 And Jā'cob said, Sell me this day thy birthright.

32 And [3]Ē'sąu said, Behold, I am at the point to die: and what profit shall this birthright do to me?

33 And [9]Jā'cob said, Swear to me this day; and he sware unto him: and he [d]sold his birthright unto Jā'cob.

34 Then [9]Jā'cob gave Ē'sąu bread and pottage of lentiles; and he did eat and drink, and rose up, and went his way: thus [3]Ē'sąu [11]despised his birthright.

CHAPTER 26.

1 Isaac goeth to Gerar, 2 God instructeth, and blesseth him. 7 He is reproved by Abimelech for denying his wife. 18 He diggeth Esek, Sitnah, and Rehoboth. 26 Abimelech maketh a covenant with him. 34 Esau's wives.

1 And there was a famine in the land, beside the first famine that was in the days of [1]Ā'brā-hăm. And [2]Ī'ṣaac went unto A-bĭm'ĕ-lech king of the [4]Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes unto Gĕ'rär.

2 And the Lord [5]appeared unto him, and said, Go not down into Ē'gўpt; dwell in the land which I shall tell thee of:

3 Sojourn in this land, and I [a]will be with thee, and will bless thee; for unto thee, and unto thy seed, [b]I will give all these countries, and I will perform the oath which I sware unto Ā'brā-hăm thy father;

4 And [c]I will make thy seed to multiply as the stars of heaven, and will give unto thy seed all these [6]countries; and in thy seed [d]shall all the nations of the earth be blessed;

5 Because that [1]Ā'brā-hăm [e]obeyed my [8]voice, and kept my [9]charge, my [10]commandments, my [11]statutes, and my [12]laws.

6 ¶ And Ī'ṣaac dwelt in Gē'rär:

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife; and he said, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife; lest, said he, the men of the place should kill me for Re-bĕk'ah; because she was fair to look upon.

8 And it came to pass, when he had been there a long time, that A-bĭm'ĕ-lech king of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes looked out at a window, and saw, and, behold, [2]Ī'ṣaac was [13]sporting with [14]Re-bĕk'ah his wife.

9 And A-bĭm'ĕ-lech called [2]Ī'ṣaac, and said, Behold, of a surety she is thy wife: and how saidst thou, She is my sister? And Ī'ṣaac said unto him, Because I said, Lest I die for her.

10 And A-bĭm'ĕ-lech said, What is this thou hast done unto us? one of the people might lightly have lien with thy wife, and thou [f]shouldest have brought guiltiness upon us.

11 And A-bĭm'ĕ-lech charged all his people, saying, He that [g]toucheth this man or his wife shall surely be put to death.

12 Then Ī'ṣaac sowed in that land, and received in the same year an [15]hundredfold: and the Lord blessed him.

13 And the man waxed [h]great, and went forward, and grew until he became very great:

14 For he had possession of flocks, and possession of herds, and great store of servants: and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes envied him.

15 For all the wells which his father's servants had digged in the days of Ā'brā-hăm his father, the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had stopped them, and filled them with earth.

16 And A-bĭm'ĕ-lech said unto Ī'ṣaac, Go from us; for thou art much mightier than we.

17 And Ī'ṣaac departed thence, and pitched his tent in the valley of Gē'rär, and dwelt there.

18 And Ī'ṣaac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of his father Ā'brā-hăm; for the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had stopped them after the death of Ā'brā-hăm: and he called their names after the names by which his father had called them.

19 And Ī'ṣaac's servants digged in the valley, and found there a well of [16]springing water.

20 And the herdmen of Gē'rär did strive with Ī'ṣaac's herdmen, saying, The water is ours: and he called the name of the well Ē'sek; because they strove with him.

21 And they digged another well, and strove for that also: and he called the name of it Sĭt'nah.

22 And he removed from thence, and digged another well; and for that they strove not: and he called the name of it Rĕ-hō'both; and he said, For now the Lord hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land.

23 And he went up from thence to Bē'er-shē'bą.

24 And the Lord appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Ā'brā-hăm thy father: fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Ā'brā-hăm's sake.

25 And he builded an altar there, and called upon the name of the Lord, and pitched his tent there: and there Ī'ṣaac's servants digged a well.

26 Then A-bĭm'ĕ-lech went to him from Gē'rär, and Ā-hŭz'zath one of his friends, and Phĭ'chŏl the chief captain of his army.

27 And Ī'ṣaac said unto them, Wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye hate me, and have sent away from you?

28 And they said, We saw certainly that the Lord was with thee: and we said, Let there be now an oath betwixt us, even betwixt us and thee, and let us make a covenant with thee;

29 That thou will do us no hurt, as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee nothing but good, and have sent thee away in peace: thou art now the blessed of the Lord.

30 And he made them a feast, and they did eat and drink.

31 And they rose up betimes in the morning, and sware one to another: and Ī'ṣaac sent them away, and they departed from him in peace.

32 And it came to pass the same day, that Ī'ṣaac's servants came, and told him concerning the well which they had digged, and said unto him, We have found water.

33 And he called it Shĕ'bą: therefore the name of the city is Bē'er-shē'bą unto this day.

34 And Ē'sąu was forty years old when he took to wife Jū'dith the daughter of Bē'e-rī the Hĭt'tīte, and Bą'sē-măth the daughter of Ē'lon the Hĭt'tīte:

35 Which were a grief of mind unto Ī'ṣaac and to Rĕ-bĕk'ah.

cunning and deception. While living with Laban there were born to J. eleven sons and one daughter; six sons and a daughter (Dinah) by Leah, two sons by Zilpah (Leah's handmaid), two sons by Bilhah (Rachel's handmaid) and Joseph by Rachel. Finally, while Laban is engaged in sheepshearing, J. takes his flight, and directs his steps toward Gilead. R. steals her father's Teraphim, or household gods. Upon hearing of J.'s departure, L. pursues and overtakes him in the hilly country of Gilead. Their meeting is everything but a pleasant one; but L.'s leave-taking is noted for its affectionate good-bye—and thus the long game of well-matched wits is ended. L. returns to Haran, J. journeys on to Canaan. But a fresh danger now threatens J. He must pass through the country of his brother E., whom he had treated so foully. He sends on ahead a present of 580 head of cattle to E. Night comes on and in the solitude and darkness a strange and nameless dread comes over J. The terrible thought that God was an antagonist, took possession of him and so vividly did he realize it that he seemed to be engaged in an actual struggle with a man. The struggle continued till daybreak. The mysterious stranger saw he could not prevail against J. by the means which a wrestler would naturally employ; so, in order to show his superiority and to escape before daylight, sprained J.'s thigh. J. now perceives that his antagonist is no ordinary mortal and seizes the opportunity to win a blessing from him. "I will not let thee go unless thou bless me!" The blessing came in the form of a change of names. Henceforth J. is known as Israel, meaning "perseverer with God." The dreaded meeting with E. passes off happily, as E. has forgiven his brother. J. now comes to Bethel, the place where Jehovah had met him in his dream as he started from home. Jehovah promising to bring him back safely, which he had done; while J. in fulfillment of his vow, proceeded to build an altar to Jehovah. Departing from Bethel, Rachel dies, leaving an infant son whom Jacob called Benjamin. The active period of J.'s life is now over, and Joseph becomes the moving spirit during the quiet of his remaining days. Joseph was his father's favorite son. He sends him to Shechem, where his brother was feeding the flocks, to see that all is well with them. The brothers fall upon Joseph and sell him, reporting to J. that his son had been killed by wild beasts, and thus in his old age J. is deceived by his sons, as he in his youth had deceived his own aged father and suffers severe retribution of his early craftiness. A famine comes over Canaan and J. sends his sons to Egypt to buy corn. Joseph is now the first in authority under Pharaoh. After severely trying his brothers he makes known his identity and sends for his father, who comes and spends the remaining years of his life in Goshen, under the protection of Pharaoh and Joseph.

11. Valued not; considered of but little importance.

Ch. 26. B. C. 1804.

NOTE.—This is the only ch. in the history of Isaac which is devoted entirely to his own life, the others being largely intermixed with the history of his father or his sons. There exists in it a remarkable similarity to many passages in the life of Abraham, so striking that many rationalistic critics have not hesitated to pronounce them one and the same story, but, on the other hand, there are many points of real difference, and the above mentioned rationalistic critics have failed to take into consideration how much of human life, as well as history, is ever repeating itself, and how slow are many of the best men to improve by the errors of their fathers or predecessors. To show this is an important part of the purpose of this ch.

3. The name of the Philistine king of Gerar, B. C. about 1985.
4. A strong tribe southwest of the land of Israel who had established themselves as early as the time of Abraham, when they had founded a kingdom at Gerar. In the days of the judges there were many conflicts between the Israelites and the P.'s. In the time of Eli the P.'s succeeded in getting the ark into their possession, but they received a defeat from Samuel which put an end to their dominion, that had lasted 40 years.
5. The last recorded vision which A. had previous to this was at the sacrifice of Isaac, more than 50 years before.

d. Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. (Heb. 12:16.)

Chapter 26.

a. And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing. (Gen. 12:2.) And thy servant is in the midst of thy people which thou hast chosen, a great people, that cannot be numbered nor counted for multitude. (I Kings 3:8.)

b. For all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever. (Gen. 13:15.)

c. And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them; and he said unto him, So shall thy seed be. (Gen. 15:5.)

d. His name shall endure for ever; his name shall be continued as long as the sun; and men shall be blessed in him; all nations shall call him blessed. (Ps. 72:17.) His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne as the sun before me. (Ps. 89:36.) And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee; and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. (Gen. 12:3.) He shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. (Lu. 1:33.)

e. The promise and blessing of v. 4 was given to Abraham because he obeyed God. And said, By myself have I sworn, saith the Lord; for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son. (Gen. 22:16.) Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and his testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee. (Dt. 6:17.) The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me. (Ps. 18:20.) Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 7:21.)

f. Then Abimelech called Abraham, and said unto him, What hast thou done unto us? And what have I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my kingdom a great sin? Thou hast done deeds unto me that ought not to be done. (Gen. 20:9.)

20 And the herdmen of Gē'rär did strive with Ī'şaac's herdmen, saying, The water is our's: and he called the name of the well [17]Ē'sĕk; because they strove with him.

21 And they digged another well, and strove for that also: and he called the name of it [18]Sĭt'nah.

22 And he removed from thence, and digged another well; and for that they strove not: and he called the name of it [19]Rē-hō'both; and he said, For now the Lord hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land.

23 And he went up from thence to Bē'er-shē'bà.

24 And the Lord [j]appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Ā'brā-hăm thy father: fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Ā'brā-hăm's sake.

25 And he builded an altar [k]there, and called upon the name of the Lord, and pitched his tent there: and there [2]Ī'şaac's servants digged a well.

26 ¶ Then A-bĭm'ĕ-lech went to him from Gē'rär, and A-hŭz'zath one of his friends, and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his army.

27 And [2]Ī'şaac said unto them, Wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye hate me, and have sent me away from you?

28 And they said, We saw certainly that the Lord was with thee: and we said, Let there be now an oath [k]betwixt us, even betwixt us and thee, and let us make a covenant with thee;

29 That thou wilt do us no hurt, as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee nothing but good, and have sent thee away in peace: thou art now the blessed of the Lord.

30 And he made them a feast, and they did eat and drink.

31 And they rose up betimes in the morning, and sware one to another: and [2]Ī'şaac sent them away, and they departed from him in peace.

32 And it came to pass the same day, that [2]Ī'şaac's servants came, and told him concerning the well which they had digged, and said unto him, We have found water.

33 And he called it [29]Shē'bah: therefore the name of the city is Bē'er-shē'bà unto this day.

34 ¶ And [21]Ē'şau was forty years old when he took to wife Jū'dith the daughter of Be-ē'rī the Hĭt'tīte, and Băsh'ĕ-măth the daughter of Ē'lon the Hĭt'tīte:

35 Which were a grief of mind unto [2]Ī'şaac and to [22]Re-bĕk'ah.

CHAPTER 27.

1 Isaac sendeth Esau for venison. 6 Rebekah instructeth Jacob to obtain the blessing. 15 Jacob under the person of Esau obtaineth it. 30 Esau bringeth venison, and by importunity obtaineth a blessing. 41 He threateneth Jacob.

1 And it came to pass, that when [1]Ī'şaac was old, and his eyes were dim, so that he could not see, he called [2]Ē'şau his eldest son, and said unto him, My son: and he said unto him, Behold, here am I.

2 And he said, Behold now, I am old, I [a]know not the day of my death:

3 Now therefore [3]take, I pray thee, thy weapons, thy quiver and thy bow, and go out to the field, and take me some [4]venison;

4 And make me [5]savoury meat, such as I love, and bring it to me, that I may eat; that my soul may bless thee before I die.

5 And [6]Re-bĕk'ah heard when Ī'şaac spake to Ē'şau his son. And Ē'şau went to the field to hunt for venison, and to bring it.

6 ¶ And Re-bĕk'ah spake unto [7]Jā'cob her son, saying, Behold, I heard thy father speak unto Ē'şau thy brother, saying,

7 Bring me venison, and make me savoury meat, that I may eat, and bless thee before the Lord before my death.

8 Now therefore, my son, [b]obey my voice according to that which I command thee.

9 Go now to the flock, and fetch me from thence two good kids of the goats; and I will make them savoury [c]meat for thy father, such as he loveth:

10 And thou shalt bring it to thy father, that he may eat, and that he may bless thee before his death.

11 And [7]Jā'cob said to [6]Re-bĕk'ah his mother, Behold, Ē'şau my brother is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man:

12 My father peradventure will feel me, and I shall seem to him as a deceiver; and I shall bring [8]a curse upon me, and not a blessing.

13 And his mother said unto him, Upon [f]me be thy curse, my son; only obey my voice, and go fetch me them.

14 And he went, and fetched, and brought them to his mother: and his mother made [g]savoury meat, such as his father loved.

15 And [6]Re-bĕk'ah took goodly raiment of her eldest son [2]Ē'şau, which were with her in the house, and put them upon [7]Jā'cŏb her younger son.

16 And she put the skins of the kids of the goats upon his hands, and upon the smooth of his neck:

17 And she gave the [5]savoury meat and the NOTE.—Thirty-six years have passed since Esau's marriage and the twin brothers both remain in their father's household. Jacob is now 77 years old and unmarried, and there seems no probability that his purchased birthright will be of any avail to him. Isaac is 137 years old, the age at which his half-brother Ishmael died. His sight is failing, he feels the approach of death. Hence he is now possessed with a strong desire to bless his eldest son. He seems to be wholly unmindful of the prophecy in Gen. 25:23, therefore he willfully purposes to give the firstborn his dying benediction. But in his attempt, which is a negligent disregard of prophecy, he is strangely overruled by the power of God, through the craftiness of Rebekah.

3. Hunt.

4. Some edible game.

5. Prepared in that especial manner of which he was very fond.

6. Rebekah heard the conversation of v. 5, and immediately spoke to Jacob. When she saw Isaac going contrary to what she knew to be the divine word, she had no hesitation to thwart his purpose. Also see 8, ch. 24.

7. See 9, ch. 25.

8. To curse, signifies to imprecate, to call for mischief upon, or wish evil to one. To cause to be visited with a just punishment as a retribution for some sin. Rebekah has no fear in this line. She is either sure that it is the divine will for Jacob to receive the blessing, or she is willing to run any risk to obtain it for him.

i. Wherefore he called that place Beersheba; because there they sware both of them. (Gen. 21:31.)

j. And God appeared unto Jacob again, when he came out of Padan-aram, and blessed him. (Gen. 35:9.) And the Lord appeared to Solomon by night, and said unto him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place to myself for an house of sacrifice. (II Chr. 7:12.) And immediately I was in the spirit; and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne. And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone; and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald. (Rev. 4:2, 3.)

k. I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord. (Ps. 116:17.) And it came to pass at that time, that Abimelech and Phichol the chief captain of his hosts, spake unto Abraham, saying, God is with thee and all that thou doest. Now, therefore, swear unto me here by God, that thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor with my son, nor with my son's son; but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned. (Gen. 21:22, 23.)

a. Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth. (Prov. 27:1.) Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. (Ja. 4:14.)

(Dt. 27:18.) Cursed be he that setteth light by his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:16.)

f. I will be surety for him; of my hand shalt thou require him; if I bring him not unto thee and set him before thee, then let me bear the blame for ever. (Gen. 43:9.) And the woman of Tekoah said unto the king, My lord, O king, the iniquity be on me, and on my father's house: and the king and his throne be guiltless. (II Sam. 14:9.) The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. bread, which she had prepared, into the hand of her son [7]Jā'cob.

18 ¶ And he came unto his father, and said, My father: and he said, Here am I; who art thou, my son?

19 And [7]Jā'cob said unto his father, I am [2]Ē'sąu thy firstborn; I have [h]done according as thou badest me: arise, I pray thee, sit and eat of my venison, that thy soul may bless me.

20 And [1]Ī'ṣaac said unto his son, How is it that thou hast found it so quickly, my son? And he said, Because the Lord thy God brought it [3]to me.

21 And [1]Ī'ṣaac said unto [7]Jā'cob, Come near, I pray thee, that I may feel thee, my son, whether thou be my very son [2]Ē'sąu or not.

22 And [7]Jā'cob went near unto [1]Ī'ṣaac his father; and he felt him, and said, The voice is [7]Jā'cob's voice, but the hands are the hands of [2]Ē'sąu.

23 And he discerned him not, because his [4]hands were hairy, as his brother Ē'sąu's hands: so he blessed him.

24 And he said, Art thou my very son [2]Ē'sąu? And he said, I am.

25 And he said, Bring it near to me, and I will eat of my son's venison, [i]that my soul may bless thee. And he brought it near to him, and he did eat: and he brought him wine, and he drank.

26 And his father [1]Ī'ṣaac said unto him, Come near now, and kiss me, my son.

27 And he came near, and kissed him: and he smelled the smell of his raiment, and blessed him, and said, See, the smell of my son is as the smell of a field which the Lord hath blessed:

28 Therefore God give thee of the [10]dew of heaven, and the [11]fatness of the earth, and [12]plenty of corn and wine:

29 Let people serve thee, and nations bow down to thee: be lord over thy brethren, and let thy mother's sons bow down to thee: [13]cursed [k]be every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee.

30 ¶ And it came to pass, as soon as Ī'ṣaac had made an end of blessing [7]Jā'cob, and Jā'cob was yet scarce gone out from the presence of Ī'ṣaac his father, that [2]Ē'sąu his brother came in from his hunting.

31 And he also had made savoury meat, and brought it unto his father, and said unto his father, Let my father arise, and eat of his son's venison, that thy soul may bless me.

32 And [1]Ī'ṣaac his father said unto him, Who art thou? And he said, I am thy son, thy firstborn [2]Ē'sąu.

33 And [1]Ī'ṣaac [14]trembled very exceedingly, and said, Who? where is he that hath taken venison, and brought it me, and I have eaten of all before thou camest, and have blessed him? yea, [l]and he shall be blessed.

34 And when [2]Ē'sąu heard the words of his father, he [15]cried with a great and exceeding bitter cry, and said unto his father, Bless me, even me also, O my father.

35 And [17]he said, Thy brother came with [m][16]subtilty, and hath taken away thy blessing.

36 And [18]he said, Is not he rightly named [19]Jā'cob? for he hath supplanted me these two times: he took away my [20]birthright; and, behold, now he hath taken away my blessing. And he said, Hast thou not reserved a blessing for me?

37 And [1]Ī'ṣaac answered and said unto [2]Ē'sąu, Behold, [n]I have made him thy lord, and all his brethren have I given to him for servants; and with corn and wine have I sustained him: and what shall I do now unto thee, my son?

38 And [2]Ē'sąu said unto his father, Hast thou but one blessing, my father? bless me, even me also, O my father. And Ē'sąu lifted up his voice, and wept.

39 And [1]Ī'ṣaac his father answered and [21]said unto him, Behold, thy dwelling shall be the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven from above;

40 And by thy [22]sword shalt thou live, and shalt serve thy brother; and it shall come to pass when thou shalt have the dominion, that thou shalt break his yoke from off thy neck.

41 ¶ And Ē'sąu hated Jā'cob because of the blessing wherewith his father blessed him: and Ē'sąu said in his heart, The days of [23]mourning for my father are at hand; then will I slay my brother Jā'cob.

42 And these words of [2]Ē'sąu her elder son were told to [6]Re-bĕk'ah: and she sent and called [7]Jā'cob her younger son, and said unto him, Behold, thy brother Ē'sąu, as touching thee, doth [24]comfort himself, purposing to kill thee.

43 Now therefore, my son, obey my voice; and arise, flee thou to [25]Lā'ban my brother to Hā'ran;

44 And tarry with him a few [26]days, until thy brother's fury turn away;

45 Until thy brother's anger turn away from thee, and he forget that which thou hast done to him: then I will send, and fetch thee from thence: why should I be deprived also of you both in one day?

46 And [6]Re-bĕk'ah said to [1]Ī'ṣaac, I am weary of my life because of the daughters of [27]Hĕth: if Jā'cob take a wife of the daughters of Hĕth, such as these which are of the daughters of the land, what good shall my life do me?

mayest inherit the land wherein thou art a stranger, which God gave unto A'bră-hăm.

5 And [1]I'şaac sent away [2]Jā'cob: and he went to [4]Pā'dan-ā'ram unto Lā'ban, son of [5]Bĕth-u'el the Sўr'ĭ-an, the brother of Re-bĕk'-ah, Jā'cob's and [3]Ē'sau's mother.

6 ¶ When E'sau saw that I'şaac had blessed Jā'cob, and sent him away to Pā'dan-ā'ram, to take him a wife from thence; and that as he blessed him he gave him a charge, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Cā'năan;

7 And that Jā'cob obeyed his father and his mother, and was gone to Pā'dan-ā'ram;

8 And Ē'sau seeing that the daughters of Cā'năan pleased not I'şaac his father;

9 Then went Ē'sau unto Ish'ma-el, and took unto the wives which he had [c]Mā'ha-lath the daughter of Ish'ma-el A'bră-hăm's son, the sister of Ne-bā'joth, to be his wife.

10 ¶ And Jā'cob went out from Bē'er-shē'bå, and went [d]toward Hā'ran.

11 And he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set; and he took of the stones of that place, and put them for his pillows, and lay down in that place to sleep.

12 And he dreamed, and behold a [10]ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the angels of God ascending and descending on it.

13 And, [e]behold, the Lord stood above it, and said, I am the Lord God of A'bră-hăm thy father, and the God of I'şaac: the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to [11]thy seed;

14 And thy [f]seed shall be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south: and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.

15 And, behold, I am with thee, and will [g]keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will [h]not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of.

16 ¶ And [2]Jā'cob awaked out of his sleep, and he said, Surely [12]the Lord is in [i]this place; and I knew it not.

17 And he was [13]afraid, and said, How dreadful is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven.

18 And [2]Jā'cob rose up early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put for his pillows, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil upon the top of it.

19 And he called the name of that place [14]Bĕth'el: but the name of that city was called Lŭz at the first.

20 And Jā'cob vowed a vow, saying, [15]If [j]God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on,

3. The most beloved of the two daughters of Laban, whom Jacob married, who became the mother of Joseph and Benjamin. She died in Bethlehem, where her sepulchre is still shown. Jacob had bargained with Laban, R.'s father, to serve him seven years for her, but at the end of the seven years, L., through deception, gave unto Jacob, Leah, his eldest daughter, instead of R., and then compelled J. to serve him another seven years for the hand of R. Together with her many charms, R. seems to have possessed many traits of character which were not attractive. She was a discontented, fretful and impatient spirit. She appears to have shared all the duplicity and falsity of her family, and was an expert in covering her evil steps.

1 Then [1]Jā'cob went on his journey, and came into the land of the people of the east.

2 And he looked, and behold a well in the field, and, lo, there were three flocks of sheep lying by it; for out of that well they watered the flocks: and a great stone was upon the well's mouth.

3 And thither were all the flocks gathered: and they rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the sheep, and put the stone again upon the well's mouth in his place.

4 And [1]Jā'cob said unto them, My brethren, whence be ye? And they said, Of Hā'ran are we.

5 And he said unto them, Know ye [2]Lā'ban the son of Nā'hor? And they said, We know him.

6 And he said unto them, Is he well? And they said, He is well: and, behold, [3]Rā'chel his daughter cometh with the sheep.

7 And he said, Lo, it is yet high day, neither is it time that the cattle should be gathered together: water ye the sheep, and go and feed them.

8 And they said, We cannot, until all the flocks be gathered together, and till they roll the stone from the well's mouth; then we water the sheep.

9 ¶ And while he yet spake with them, [3]Rā'-chel came with her father's sheep: for she kept them.

10 And it came to pass, when [1]Jā'cob saw [3]Rā'chel the daughter of [2]Lā'ban his mother's brother, and the sheep of Lā'ban his mother's brother, that Jā'cob went near, and rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the flock of Lā'ban his mother's brother.

11 And [1]Jā'cob kissed [3]Rā'chel, and lifted up his voice, and wept.

12 And Jā'cob told Rā'chel that he was her father's brother, and that he was Re-bĕk'ah's son: and she ran and told her father.

13 And it came to pass, when Lā'ban heard the tidings of Jā'cob his sister's son, that he ran to meet him, and embraced him, and kissed him, and brought him to his house. And he told Lā'ban [4]all these things.

And the captain of the Lord's host said unto Joshua, Loose thy shoe from off thy foot: for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Joshua did so. (Josh. 5:15.)

j. See v. 15.

k. Thou hast avouched the Lord this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and to hearken unto his voice. (Dt. 26:17.)

l. And he built there an altar, and called the place Elbethel: because their God appeared unto him when he fled from the face of his brother. (Gen. 35:7.) And Moses built an altar, and called the name of it Jehovah-nissi. (Ex. 17:15.) And Moses wrote all the words of the Lord, and rose up early in the morning, and builded an altar under the hill, and 12 pillars, according to the 12 tribes of Israel. (Ex. 24:4.) And Jacob took a stone and set it up for a pillar. (Gen. 31:45.)

m. And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree is the Lord's; it is holy unto the Lord. (Lev. 27:30.) Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. (Mal. 3:10.) And thither ye shall bring your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and heave offerings of your hand, and your vows, and your freewill offerings, and the firstlings of your herds and of your flocks. (Dt. 12:6.)

14 And [2]Lā'ban said to him, Surely thou art my bone and my flesh. And he abode with him the [5]space of a month.

15 ¶ And [2]Lā'ban said unto [1]Jā'cob, Because thou art my brother, shouldest thou therefore serve me for nought? tell me, what shall thy wages be?

16 And [2]Lā'ban had two daughters: the name of the elder was [6]Lē'ah, and the name of the younger was [3]Rā'chel.

17 [6]Lē'ah was tender eyed; but [3]Rā'chel was beautiful and well favoured.

18 And Jā'cob loved Rā'chel; and said, [a]I will [7]serve thee seven years for [3]Rā'chel thy younger daughter.

19 And [2]Lā'ban said, It is better that I give her to thee, than that I should give her to another man: abide with me.

20 And [1]Jā'cob served seven years for [3]Rā'chel; and they seemed unto him but a few days, for the [b]love he had to her.

21 ¶ And [1]Jā'cob said unto [2]Lā'ban, Give me my wife, for my days are fulfilled, that I may go in unto her.

22 And Lā'ban gathered together all the men of the place, and made a feast.

23 And it came to pass in the evening, that he took [6]Lē'ah his daughter, and brought her to him; and he went in unto her.

24 And Lā'ban gave unto his daughter Lē'ah Zĭl'pah his maid for an handmaid.

25 And it came to pass, that in the morning, behold, it was Lē'ah: and he said to Lā'ban, What is this thou hast done unto me? did not I serve with thee for Rā'chel? wherefore then hast thou [8]beguiled me?

26 And Lā'ban said, It must not be so done in our country, to give the younger before the firstborn.

27 Fulfil [9]her week, and we will give thee this also for the service which thou shalt serve with me yet seven other years.

28 And [1]Jā'cob did so, and fulfilled her week: and he gave him [3]Rā'chel his daughter to wife also.

29 And [2]Lā'ban gave to [3]Rā'chel his daughter Bĭl'hah his handmaid to be her maid.

30 And he went in also unto Rā'chel, and he loved also Rā'chel more than Lē'ah, and served with him yet seven other years.

31 ¶ And when the Lord [c]saw that Lē'ah was hated, he opened her womb: but Rā'chel was [10]barren.

32 And Lē'ah conceived, and bare a son, and she called his name Reu'ben: for she said, Surely the Lord hath [d]looked upon my affliction; now therefore my husband will love me.

33 And she conceived again, and bare a son; and said, Because the Lord hath heard that I was hated, he hath therefore given me this son also: and she called his name Sĭm'e-on.

34 And she conceived again, and bare a son; and said, Now this time will my husband be joined unto me, because I have born him three sons: therefore was his name called Lē'vĭ.

35 And she conceived again, and bare a son: and she said, Now will I praise the Lord: therefore she called his name Jū'dah; and left bearing.

5. The length of time Jacob stayed with Laban before making the bargain for Rachel's hand.

6. The elder of the two daughters of Laban was given by her father to Jacob as his wife in the place of Rachel, her sister. She was not so beautiful as her sister, having weak and red eyes, which probably partially accounted for J.'s preference for R. L. bore J. six sons, Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issacher, and Zebulum, and a daughter Dinah.

7. J. not having rich and costly presents as a dowry for his bride, offers all he has, i. e., the cheerful labor of his hands.

8. To delude; betray or deceive; to act falsely with, which is perhaps a retribution for his own supplanting and defrauding Esau.

9. The seven days' celebration of the marriage feast. Laban proposes to J. that at the end of Leah's seven days he will give him Rachel on the condition that he will serve yet another seven years.

10. A chastisement for Jacob's partiality, an intimation perhaps that the blessings were "not of him that willeth, but of God that showeth mercy."

Ch. 30. B. C. 1749-1745.

1. See 3, ch. 29.
2. See 9, ch. 25.
3. Displeased.
4. The handmaid whom Rachel bestowed upon Jacob; the mother of Dan and Naphtali.
5. Son of Jacob and Bilhah, and founder of one of the tribes of Israel.
6. See 6, ch. 29.
7. The passion and rivalry of Rachel provoked Leah to adopt the same expedient and thus silenced all boasting in that direction.
8. That is, a troop or company.
9. Meaning happiness or blessed.
10. The eldest son of Leah and Jacob. He seems to have done what he could to rescue Joseph from the hands of his brothers when they sought to kill him, although he eventually acquiesced in the deception practiced upon his father. During the famine when he goes down to Egypt for corn, he offers to make the lives of his own son responsible for that of Benjamin. For his conduct in the matter of Bilhah, Jacob in his last blessing deprived him of his pre-eminence and double portion that belonged to his birthright, assigning the former to Judah and the latter to Joseph. The curse that "thou shalt not excel" was passed upon him by his father and was exactly fulfilled. Reuben was of an ardent, impetuous, unbalanced, and generous nature. He was quick to respond to an emotion or an aroused feeling and as quick to subside.
11. This word in its plural form occurs only in two places of scripture. The Hebrew word meant love-plants. It has a parsley-shaped root and was thought to possess an unusual and strong effect on the system. The ancients believed that he who incautiously touched it would die; consequently, when wishing to kill it, they would dig a furrow around it until the roots were exposed, then tie a dog to it, after which the person tying the dog must get away. The dog would then endeavor to follow him, pull up the plant, and die. After this the root could be handled without fear. There has been much discussion among scholars as to its identity, but so far no satisfactory conclusion has been reached.

CHAPTER 30.

1 Rachel, in grief for her barrenness, giveth Bilhah her maid unto Jacob. 5 She beareth Dan and Naphtali. 9 Leah giveth Zilpah her maid, who beareth Gad and Asher. 14 Reuben findeth mandrakes, with which Leah buyeth her husband of Rachel. 17 Leah beareth Issachar, Zebulun, and Dinah. 22 Rachel beareth Joseph. 25 Jacob desireth to depart. 27 Laban stayeth him on a new covenant. 37 Jacob's policy, whereby he became rich.

1 And when [1]Rā'chel saw that she bare [2]Jā'cob no children, Rā'chel envied her sister; and said unto Jā'cob, Give me children, or [a]else I die.

2 And [2]Jā'cob's [3]anger was kindled against Rā'chel: and he said, Am I in God's [b]stead, who hath withheld from thee the fruit of the womb?

3 And she said, Behold [c]my maid [4]Bĭl'hah, go in unto her; and she shall bear upon my knees, that I may also have children by her.

4 And she gave him Bĭl'hah her handmaid to wife: and Jā'cob went in unto her.

5 And Bĭl'hah conceived, and bare [2]Jā'cob a son.

6 And [1]Rā'chel said, God hath judged [d]me, and hath also heard my voice, and hath given me a son: therefore called she his name [5]Dān.

7 And Bĭl'hah Rā'chel's maid conceived again, and bare Jā'cob a second son.

8 And [1]Rā'chel said, With great wrestlings have I wrestled with my sister, and I have prevailed: and she called his name Năph'ta-lī.

9 When [6]Lē'ah saw that she had left bearing, she [7]took Zĭl'pah her maid, and gave her Jā'cob to wife.

10 And Zĭl'pah Lē'ah's maid bare Jā'cob a son.

11 And Lē'ah said, A troop cometh: and she called his name [8]Găd.

12 And Zĭl'pah Lē'ah's maid bare Jā'cob a second son.

13 And [6]Lē'ah said, Happy am I, for the daughters will call me blessed: and she called his name [9]Āsh'ēr.

14 ¶ And [10]Reu'ben went in the days of wheat harvest, and found [11]mandrakes in the field, and brought them unto his mother Lē'ah. Then Rā'chel said to Lē'ah, Give me, I pray thee, of thy son's mandrakes.

15 And she said unto her, Is it a small matter that thou hast taken my husband? and wouldest thou take away my son's mandrakes also? And Rā'chel said, Therefore he shall lie with thee to night for thy son's mandrakes.

16 And [2]Jā'cob came out of the field in the evening, and [6]Lē'ah went out to meet him, and said, Thou must come in unto me; for surely I have hired thee with my son's mandrakes. And he lay with her that night.

17 And God hearkened unto Lē'ah, and she conceived, and bare Jā'cob the fifth son.

18 And Lē'ah said, God hath given me my

Chapter 29.

a. Thus have I been 20 years in thy house; I served thee 14 years for thy two daughters, and 6 years for thy cattle; and thou hast changed my wages ten times. (Gen. 31:41.) And David sent messengers to Ishbosheth, Saul's son, saying, Deliver me my wife Michal, which I espoused to me for 100 foreskins of the Philistines. (II Sam. 3:14.)

b. Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be condemned. (Sol. 8:7.)

c. Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord, and the fruit of the womb is his reward. (Ps. 127:3.)

d. And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows. (Ex. 3:7.) And when we cried unto the Lord God of our fathers, the Lord heard our voice, and looked on our affliction, and our labor, and our oppression. (Dt. 26:7.) Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry. (Ps. 106:44.)

Chapter 30.

a. For wrath killeth the foolish man, and envy slayeth the silly one. (Job 5:2.) A sound heart is the life of the flesh; but envy the rottenness of the bones. (Prov. 14:30.) Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm; for love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave; the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame. (Sol. 8:6.)

b. Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned; behold, the judge standeth before the door. (Ja. 5:9.)

b. But unto Hannah he gave a worthy portion; for he loved Hannah; but the Lord had shut up her womb. (I Sam. 1:5.)

c. And Sarai said unto Abram, Behold now, the Lord hath restrained me from bearing, I pray thee, go in unto my maid; it may be that I may obtain children by her. And Abram hearkened to the voice of Sarai. (Gen. 16:2.)

d. Judge me, O Lord my God, according to thy righteousness; and let them not rejoice over me. (Ps. 35:24.) Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation; O deliver me from the deceitful hire, because I have given my maiden to my husband: and she called his name [12]Is'sa-char.

19 And Le'ah conceived again, and bare Jā'cob the sixth son.

20 And Le'ah said, God hath endued me with a good dowry; now will my husband dwell with me, because I have born him six sons: and she called his name [13]Zĕb'u-lun.

21 And afterwards she bare a daughter, and called her name [14]Di'nah.

22 ¶ And God [e]remembered Rā'chel, and God hearkened to her, and opened her womb.

23 And she conceived, and bare a son; and said, God hath taken away my reproach:

24 And she called his name [15]Jŏ'seph: and said, The Lord shall add to me another son.

25 ¶ And it came to pass, when [1]Rā'chel had born Jŏ'seph, that [2]Jā'cob said unto [16]Lā'ban, Send me away, that I may go unto mine own place, and to my country.

26 Give me my wives and my children, for whom I have served thee, and let me go: for thou knowest my service which I have done thee.

27 And [16]Lā'ban said unto him, I pray thee, if I have found favour in thine eyes, tarry: for I have learned by experience that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake.

28 And he said, Appoint me thy wages, and I will give it.

29 And he said unto him, [f]Thou knowest how I have served thee, and how thy cattle was with me.

30 For it was little which thou hadst before I came, and it is now increased unto a multitude; and the Lord hath blessed thee since my coming: and now when shall I [g]provide for mine own house also?

31 And he said, What shall I give thee? And [2]Jā'cob said, Thou shalt not give me any thing: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I will again feed and keep thy flock.

32 I will pass through all thy flock today, removing from thence all the speckled and spotted cattle, and all the brown cattle among the sheep, and the spotted and speckled among the goats: and of such shall be my hire.

33 So shall my [h]righteousness answer for me in time to come, when it shall come for my hire before thy face: every one that is not [17]speckled and spotted among the goats, and brown among the sheep, that shall be counted stolen with me.

34 And [16]Lā'ban said, Behold, I would it might be according to thy word.

35 And he removed that day the he goats that were ringstraked and spotted, and all the she goats that were speckled and spotted, and every one that had some white in it, and all the brown among the sheep, and gave them into the hand of his sons.

36 And [18]he set three days' journey betwixt himself and [2]Jā'cob: and Jā'cob fed the rest of [16]Lā'ban's flocks.

37 ¶ And Jā'cob took him [19]rods of green poplar, and of the hazel and chestnut tree; and [20]pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appear which was in the rods.

38 And he set the rods which he had pilled before the flocks in the gutters in the watering troughs when the flocks came to drink, that they should conceive when they came to drink.

39 And the flocks conceived before the rods, and brought forth cattle ringstraked, speckled, and spotted.

40 And [2]Jā'cob did separate the lambs, and set the faces of the flocks toward the ringstraked, and all the brown in the flock of [16]Lā'ban; and he put his own flocks by themselves, and put them not unto Lā'ban's cattle.

41 And it came to pass, whensoever the stronger cattle did conceive, that [2]Jā'cob laid the rods before the eyes of the cattle in the gutters, that they might conceive among the rods.

42 But when the cattle were feeble, he put them not in: so the feebler were [16]Lā'ban's, and the stronger [2]Jā'cob's.

43 And the man increased exceedingly, and had much cattle, and maidservants, and menservants, and camels, and asses.

12. That is, meaning hire.
13. That is, dwelling.
14. Meaning judgment, kindred to the name Dan.
15. Son of Jacob and Rachel, the particular favorite of his father, which partially excited jealousy on the part of his half-brothers. When Joseph was but 17 years old, he told his father of some conduct on the part of his half-brothers which he thought needed his father's attention. This served to intensify the enmity which his brothers held toward him. Their aversion reached its highest pitch when he later acquainted them with two dreams which he had, indicating his own pre-eminence in the family. His brothers now became filled with envy uncontrollable, and when his father sent him out to Shechem to see how his brothers were faring with the flocks, they devised means for his immediate destruction, which they would unhesitatingly have carried into effect but for Reuben, his half-brother. A compromise was finally effected and J. cast into a pit. This deed seems to have been committed just before dinner, and while the brothers were eating, they beheld a caravan of Arabian merchants bearing loads to India. Judah now proposes that they sell J. to the merchants. Accordingly the unhappy youth was sold into slavery by his brothers. To punish their father for his partiality, the brothers dipped J.'s garment into the blood of a kid and sent it to Jacob to make him believe that his favorite child had been killed by some wild beast. The merchants sold Joseph to Potiphar, an officer of Pharoah's court. He soon became a favorite among the Egyptians and was put in complete control of P.'s household. Because he refused to engage in the sinful wishes of P.'s wife, she swore falsely against him to her husband and had J. cast into prison, but here he soon gained distinction and was placed in control of the prison. Two prisoners—the chief of the king's butlers and the chief of the bakers—each had a dream, which was interpreted to them by J. The interpretation came true, and when, later, Pharoah had a dream he was told by the chief butler of J.'s ability. Pharoah, failing to get an interpretation from the wise men and magicians, sent a messenger for J., who, without hesitation, rendered unto P. an interpretation, which, according to J., foreboded the approach of a seven years' famine, to abate the evils of which he recommended that some discreet and wise man should be put in full power over Egypt. P. was alarmed and called a council of his advisers, all of whom seemed to recognize the fact that J.'s wisdom was of divine origin, consequently selected him as dictator for the approaching time of need. He was made ruler over all Egypt. P. called J.'s name Zaphnathpaaneah, meaning, "savior of the world." The seven years of abundance which preceded the seven years of famine, gave J. opportunity to provide against the famine. "And all countries came into Egypt to Joseph for to buy corn." (Gen. 41:57.) Soon Jacob's sons were forced to go down into E. for corn. As soon as J. saw them he recognized them and tested them severely to prove their love for his father and younger brother Benjamin. After their second visit he had them go back for their father, bring him with all their families and herds and live in Goshen under the protection of Pharoah and himself. J. lived 110 years. His character was singularly amiable and free from fault. He was a true son, true brother and true servant. Always loyal and faithful, disinterested and sincere, modest and considerate, he won the esteem of everybody. He was always obedient to duty, never complaining but always working. In misfortune he was resigned, temptations he resisted. He had a lively sense of dependence upon God and his duty toward him. J. was a type of Christ; the beloved of his father; sent by his father on an errand to his brethren; without fault; sold by his brethren for money; thence exalted to their lord, their saviour, the saviour of multitudes unknown to him, of the world; all of which took place in spite of the disgraceful sin of his brethren, his sale and his destruction, which was overruled, not necessitated. Without offense on his part, J. was committed to prison with two criminals; he foretold the release of one and the execution of the other. Christ was crucified between two thieves; he saves one and condemns the other. (Longman.) In his history we have a striking illustration of the fact that truth is stranger than fiction. He was buried with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.
16. See 12, ch. 24.
17. The Assyrian sheep are said to be almost always white, therefore it would seem that Jacob was giving Laban most all the fruits of his labor, L. not being able to divine the intention in J.'s heart.
18. Laban. While Jacob had to tend L.'s flocks, L. sought to take advantage of him, not only by separating them himself, fearing to trust J., but separated his own from J.'s flock a three days' journey, thus seeking every advantage.
19. Jacob avails himself of what was known at that time to be a well established fact, that impressive colors fixed upon the attention of the mother are almost sure to mark the offspring.
20. Peeled or cut in places to make spotted.

Ch. 31. B. C. 1739.

NOTE.—Ch. 31 records Jacob's flight from his uncle and father-in-law, Laban. Twenty years have passed since J. first came to L.'s home. Alone he came, but now he has developed into a multitude. Twelve children have been born unto him, everything has prospered in his herds, his flocks are numbered by the hundreds. His family and their interests have developed to such proportion that he and L. can no longer dwell together. He is therefore called to separate, as was Abraham 200 years before.

and unjust man. (Ps. 43:1.) O Lord, thou hast seen my wrong; judge thou my cause. (Lam. 3:59.)

e. And God remembered Noah, and every living thing, and all the cattle that was with him in the ark; and God made a wind to pass over the earth, and the waters asswaged. (Gen. 8:1.) And they rose up in the morning early, and worshipped before the Lord, and returned, and came to their house to Ramah; and Elkanah knew Hannah his wife; and the Lord remembered her. (I Sam. 1:19.)

f. Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? (Math. 24:45.) Not purloining, but showing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. (Titus 2:10.)

g. But if any provide not for his own and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel. (I Tim. 5:8.)

h. And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday. (Ps. 37:6.) The righteousness of the perfect shall direct his way; but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness (5). The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them; but transgressors shall be taken in their own naughtiness (6). The wicked worketh a deceitful work; but to him that soweth righteousness shall be a sure reward. (Prov. 11:5, 6, 18.)

a. For wrath killeth the foolish man, and envy slayeth the silly one. (Job 5:2.) A sound heart is the life of the flesh; but envy the rottenness of the bones. (Prov. 14:30.) Again, I considered all travail, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbor. This is also vanity and vexation of spirit. (Ecc. 4:4.) Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. (Rom. 13:13.) But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison. (Ja. 3:8.)

was our father's; and of that which was our father's hath he gotten all [b]this glory.

2 And [3]Jā'cob beheld [c]the countenance of [2]Lā'ban, and, behold, it was not toward him as before.

3 And the Lord said unto Jā'cob, Return [d]unto the land of thy fathers, and to thy kindred; and I will be with thee.

4 And [3]Jā'cob sent and called [4]Rā'chel and [5]Lē'ah to the field unto his flock,

5 And said unto them, I see your father's [6]countenance, that it is not toward me as before; but the God of my father [e]hath been with me.

6 And ye know that with all my power I have served your father.

7 And your father hath [7]deceived me, and changed [f]my wages [8]ten times; but God [g]suffered him not to hurt me.

8 If he said thus, The speckled shall be thy wages; then all the cattle bare speckled: and if he said thus, The ringstraked shall be thy hire; then bare all the cattle ringstraked.

9 Thus God hath taken away the cattle of your father, and given them to me.

10 And it came to pass at the time that the cattle conceived, that I lifted up mine eyes, and saw in a dream, and, behold, the rams which leaped upon the cattle were ringstraked, speckled, and grisled.

11 And the angel of God spake unto me in a dream, saying, [3]Jā'cob: And I said, Here am I.

12 And he said, Lift up now thine eyes, and see, all the rams which leap upon the cattle are ringstraked, speckled, and grisled: for I [h]have [9]seen all that [2]Lā'ban doeth unto thee.

13 I am the God of [10]Bĕth'-el, where thou anointedst the pillar, and where thou vowedst a vow unto me: now arise, get thee out from this land, and return unto the land of thy kindred.

14 And [4]Rā'chel and [5]Lē'ah answered and said unto him, Is there yet any portion or inheritance for us in our father's house?

15 Are we not counted of him strangers? for [i]he hath sold us, and hath quite devoured also our money.

16 For all the riches which God hath taken from our father, that is our's, and our children's: now then, whatsoever God hath said unto thee, do.

17 ¶ Then [3]Jā'cob rose up, and set his sons and his wives upon camels;

18 And he carried away all his cattle, and all his goods which he had gotten, the cattle of his getting, which he had gotten in Pā'dan-ā'ram, for to go to [11]Ī'ṣaac his father in the land of Cā'năan.

19 And Lā'ban went to shear his sheep: and Rā'chel had stolen the [12]images that were her father's.

20 And Jā'cob stole away unawares to Lā'ban the Sȳr'ī-an, in that he told him not that he fled.

21 So he fled with all that he had; and he rose up, and passed over the river, and set his face toward the mount Gĭl'e-ăd.

22 And it was told [2]Lā'ban on the third day that [3]Jā'cob was fled.

23 And he took his [13]brethren with him, and pursued after him seven days' journey; and they overtook him in the mount Gĭl'e-ăd.

24 And God came to Lā'ban the Sȳr'ī-an in a dream by night, and said unto him, Take heed that thou speak not to Jā'cob [14]either good or bad.

25 ¶ Then [2]Lā'ban overtook [3]Jā'cob. Now Jā'cob had pitched his tent in the mount: and Lā'ban with his brethren pitched in the mount of Gĭl'e-ăd.

26 And Lā'ban said to Jā'cob, What hast thou done, that thou hast stolen away unawares to me, and carried away my daughters, as captives taken with the sword?

27 Wherefore didst thou flee away secretly, and steal away from me; and didst not tell me, that I might have sent thee away with mirth, and with songs, with tabret, and with harp?

28 And hast not [15]suffered me to kiss my sons and my daughters? thou hast now done foolishly in so doing.

29 It is in the power of my hand to do you hurt: but the God of your father spake unto me yesternight, saying, Take thou heed that thou speak not to [3]Jā'cob either good or bad.

30 And now, though thou wouldest needs be gone, because thou sore longedst after thy father's house, yet wherefore hast thou stolen my gods?

31 And [3]Jā'cob answered and said to [2]Lā'ban, Because I was afraid: for I said, Peradventure thou wouldest take by force thy daughters from me.

32 With whomsoever thou findest thy gods, let him not [j]live: before our brethren discern thou what is thine with me, and take it to thee. For Jā'cob knew not that [4]Rā'chel had stolen them.

33 And Lā'ban went into Jā'cob's tent, and into Lē'ah's tent, and into the two maidservants' tents; but he found them not. Then went he out of Lē'ah's tent, and entered into Rā'chel's tent.

34 Now [4]Rā'chel had taken the [12]images, and put them in the camel's furniture, and sat upon them. And Lā'ban searched all the tent, but found them not.

35 And she said to her father, Let it not displease my lord that I cannot [k]rise up before thee; for the custom of women is upon me. And he searched, but found not the [l]images.

36 ¶ And [3]Jā'cob was wroth, and [16]chode with Lā'ban: and Jā'cob answered and said to

6. Used in a variety of applications; facial expression; general conduct; the actions toward one.

7. Been false to.

8. Used as a full or round number, i. e., many times, but not necessarily 10 times.

9. Jehovah's purpose is to punish Laban for his unnatural policy toward his children, and not to show favor to Jacob's deception. In their natural tendencies, J. and L. are both bad enough, but in this action L. is the aggressor and J. is simply moving in self-defense.

12. Teraphim, or house gods; the image he used in the divination.

13. That is, numerous relatives to accompany and assist him in the chase.

14. That is, that you do not meet him kindly and then become enraged and create trouble.

15. Allowed or given opportunity to.

16. Upbraided.

b. Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, when the glory of his house is increased. (Ps. 49:16.)

c. But unto Cain and to his offering he had not respect. And Cain was very wroth, and his countenance fell. (Gen. 4:5.)

d. And behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of. (Gen. 28:15.) And Jacob said, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, the Lord which saidst unto me, Return unto thy country, and to thy kindred, and I will deal well with thee. (Gen. 32:9.)

e. And it came to pass at that time, that Abimelech and Phichol the chief captain of his host spake unto Abraham, saying, God is with thee in all that thou doest. (Gen. 21:22.) Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have; for he hath said, I will never leave thee nor forsake thee. (Heb. 13:5.) Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them; for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Dt. 31:6.) What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.) And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of. (Gen. 28:15.)

g. He suffered no man to do them wrong; yea, he reproved kings for their sakes. (Ps. 105:14.) And they journeyed; and the terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jacob. (Gen. 35:5.) He will not suffer thy foot to be moved; he that keepeth thee will not slumber (3). The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil; he shall preserve thy soul. (Ps. 121:3, 7.)

h. And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows. (Ex. 3:7.) At his day thou shalt give him his hire, neither shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it; lest he cry against thee unto the Lord, and it be sin unto thee. (Dt. 24:15.) For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the Lord; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him. (Ps. 12:5.)

i. And Laban said unto Jacob, Because thou art my brother, shouldest thou therefore serve me for naught? Tell me, what shall thy wages be? (Gen. 29:15.)

j. With whomsoever of thy servants it be found, both let him die, and we also will be my lord's bondmen. (Gen. 44:9.)

k. Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. (Ex. 20:12.) Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honor the face of the old man and fear thy God; I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:32.) For God commanded, saying, Honor thy father and mother; and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. (Mat. 15:4.)

l. See v. 19.

[2]Lā'ban, What is my trespass? what is my sin, that thou hast so hotly pursued after me?

37 Whereas thou hast searched all my stuff, what hast thou found of all thy household stuff? set it here before my brethren and thy brethren, that they may judge betwixt us both.

38 This twenty years have I been with thee; thy ewes and thy she goats have not cast their young, and the rams of thy flock have I not eaten.

39 That which was torn of beasts I brought not unto thee; I bare the loss of it; of my hand didst thou require it, whether stolen by day, or stolen by night.

40 Thus I was; in the day the drought consumed me, and the frost by night; and my sleep departed from mine eyes.

41 Thus have I been twenty years in thy house; I served [m]thee fourteen years for thy two daughters, and six years for thy cattle: and thou hast changed my wages ten times.

42 Except the God of my father, the God of [17]Ā'brā-hăm, and the fear of [11]Ī'ṣaac, had been with me, surely thou hadst sent me away now empty. God [n]hath seen mine affliction and the labour of my hands, and rebuked thee yesternight.

43 ¶ And [2]Lā'ban answered and said unto [3]Jā'cob, These daughters are my daughters, and these children are my children, and these cattle are my cattle, and all that thou seest is mine: and what can I do this day unto these my daughters, or unto their children which they have born?

44 Now therefore come thou, let us make a [18]covenant, I and thou; and let [o]it be for a witness between me and thee.

45 And [3]Jā'cob took a stone, and set it up for a pillar.

46 And Jā'cob said unto his brethren, Gather stones; and they took stones, and made an heap: and they did eat there upon the heap.

47 And [2]Lā'ban called it [19]Jē'gar-sā-ha-dū'thā: but Jā'cob called it [20]Găl'ĕ-ed.

48 And Lā'ban said, This heap is a witness between me and thee this day. Therefore was the name of it called Găl'ĕ-ed;

49 And [21]Mĭz'pah; for he said, The Lord watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from another.

50 If thou shalt afflict my daughters, or if thou shalt take other wives beside my daughters, no man is with us; see, God is witness betwixt me and thee.

51 And [2]Lā'ban said to [3]Jā'cob, Behold this heap, and behold this pillar, which I have cast betwixt me and thee;

52 This heap be witness, and this pillar be witness, that I will not pass over this heap to thee, and that thou shalt not pass over this heap and this pillar unto me, for harm.

53 The God of [17]Ā'brā-hăm, and the God of Nā'hor, the God of their father, judge betwixt us. And [3]Jā'cob sware by the fear of his father [11]Ī'ṣaac.

54 Then Jā'cob offered sacrifice upon the mount, and called his brethren to eat bread: and they did eat bread, and tarried all night in the mount.

55 And early in the morning [2]Lā'ban rose up, and kissed his sons and his daughters, and blessed them: and Lā'ban departed, and returned unto his place.

CHAPTER 32.

1 Jacob's vision at Mahanaim. 3 His message to Esau. 6 He is afraid of Esau's coming. 9 He prayeth for deliverance. 13 He sendeth a present to Esau. 24 He wrestleth with an angel at Peniel, where he is called Israel. 31 He halteth.

1 And [1]Jā'cob went on his way, and [2]the [a]angels of God met him.

2 And when Jā'cob saw them, he said, This is God's [b]host: and he called the name of that place [3]Mā-ha-nā'im.

3 And [1]Jā'cob sent messengers before him to [4]Ē'saụ his brother unto the land of Sē'ĭr, the country of Ē'dom.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Thus [c]shall ye speak unto my lord Ē'saụ; Thy servant Jā'cob saith thus, I have sojourned with [5]Lā'ban, and stayed there until now:

5 And I have oxen, and asses, flocks, and menservants, and womenservants: and I [d]have sent to tell my lord, that I may find grace in thy sight.

6 ¶ And the messengers returned to [1]Jā'cob, saying, We came to thy brother [4]Ē'saụ, and also [e]he cometh to meet thee, and four hundred men with him.

7 Then Jā'cob was greatly [7]afraid and distressed: and he [f]divided the people that was with him, and the flocks, and herds, and the camels, into two bands;

8 And said, If [4]Ē'saụ come to the one company, and smite it, then the other company which is left shall escape.

9 ¶ And [1]Jā'cob said, O God of my father [8]Ā'brā-hăm, and God of my father [9]Ī'ṣaac, the Lord which [10]saidst unto me, Return unto thy country, and to thy kindred, and I will deal well with thee:

10 I am not [g]worthy of the least of all the mercies, and of all the truth, which thou hast shewed unto thy servant; for with my staff I passed over this Jor'dan; and now I am become two bands.

11 Deliver me, I pray thee, from the hand of my brother, from the hand of [4]Ē'saụ: for I fear him, lest he will come and smite me, and the mother with the children.

12 And thou saidst, I will surely do thee good, and make thy seed as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.

13 ¶ And he lodged there that same night; and took of that which came to his hand a present for [4]Ē'saụ his brother;

14 Two hundred she goats, and twenty he goats, two hundred ewes, and twenty rams, 15 Thirty milch camels with their colts, forty kine, and ten bulls, twenty she asses, and ten foals.

16 And he delivered them into the hand of his servants, every drove by themselves;

17. Abraham was first called Abram, a Hebrew word, meaning high father, or father of elevation, this being his original name, but which afterward by Jehovah was extended to Abraham, meaning father of a multitude, sig. of the promise given him at this time, of a numerous posterity. (Gen. 17:1-5.) A. was a native of Chaldea and descended through Heber in the ninth generation from Shem, the son of Noah. His father was Terah.

18. An agreement, and called upon God to witness between us. Laban became fearful of Jacob's God.

19. That is, the heap of witnesses.

20. The Hebrew name for heap of witnesses.

21. A watchtower.

Ch. 32. B. C. 1739.

NOTE.—In this ch. Jacob approaches the great crisis in his life. After 20 years absence from the land of promise he returns upon its eastern border. As the angel of God was with him on his departure and promised to bring him back, it now meets him again upon his return.

1. See 9, ch. 25.

2. In the absence of any mention being made of a dream the majority of the critics argue that in this instance Jacob had an open vision and, as Elijah, he beheld a host of the angels of God round about him.

3. That is, two hosts or camps, his own and that of the angels.

4. See 8, ch. 25.

5. See 12, ch. 24.

6. Not knowing what Jacob's message meant, Esau did not propose to be over-reached by him again. So he takes 400 of his followers or warriors and proceeds to meet Jacob.

7. Twenty years before Jacob fled from his brother to prevent his killing him; and, not knowing whether Esau had forgiven him or not, well he might tremble when told that his brother was coming with 400 warriors.

8. See 17, ch. 31.

9. See 12, ch. 17.

10. In vs. 9 to 12, Jacob pleads with Jehovah with all the fervor of a fearful soul. It is believed he makes the following points: (1) He appeals to the God of his fathers; (2), he uses the covenant-name Jehovah; (3) he pleads the promises made; (4) he humbly acknowledges the mercies of God; (5) he honors the fidelity of God and bemoans the infidelity of himself; (6) he acknowledges his prosperity as a blessing from God; (7) he prays for deliverance from Esau; (8) he is honest and confesses his fears; (9) he pleads for the mothers and their children; (10) in conclusion he pleads the promises the second time.

m. Fulfill her week, and we will give thee this also for the service which thou shalt serve with me yet seven other years. (Gen. 29:37.)

n. And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows. (Ex. 3:7.) Remembering mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall. My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is humbled in me. (Lam. 3:19, 20.) Thou calledst in trouble and I delivered thee; I answered thee in the secret place of thunder; I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. (Ps. 81:7.)

o. And Joshua said unto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be a witness unto us; for it hath heard all the words of the Lord which he spake unto us; it shall be therefore a witness unto you, lest ye deny your God. (Josh. 24:27.)

Chapter 32.

a. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. (Ps. 91:11.) Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation? (Heb. 1:14.) The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.)

b. Bless ye the Lord, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure. (Ps. 103:21.) Praise ye him, all his angels; praise ye him, all his hosts. (Ps. 148:2.) And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God. (Lu. 2:13.)

c. A soft answer turneth away wrath; but grievous words stir up anger. (Prov. 15:1.)

d. See ch. 33:8-15.

e. See ch. 33:1.

f. A good man showeth favor, and lendeth; he will guide his affairs with discretion. (Ps. 112:5.) Discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee. (Prov. 2:11.) For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him. (Is. 28:26.)

g. To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him. (Dan. 9:9.) And refused to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didst among them; but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage; but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger and of great kindness, and forsookest them not. (Neh. 9:17.) But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared (4). Let Israel hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is mercy; and with him is plenteous redemption. (Ps. 130:4,7.)

and said unto his servants, Pass over before me, and put a space betwixt drove and drove.

17 And he commanded the foremost, saying, When [4]Ē'sạu my brother meeteth thee, and asketh thee, saying, Whose art thou? and whither goest thou? and whose are these before thee?

18 Then thou shalt say, They be thy servant Jā'cob's; it is a present sent unto my lord Ē'sạu: and, behold, also he is behind us.

19 And so commanded he the second, and the third, and all that followed the droves, saying, On this manner shall ye speak unto Ē'sạu, when ye find him.

20 And say ye moreover, Behold, thy servant [1]Jā'cob is behind us. For he said, I will [11]appease him with the present that goeth before me, and afterward I will see his face; peradventure he will accept of me.

21 So went the present over before him: and himself lodged that night in the company.

22 And he rose up that night, and took his two wives, and his two womenservants, and his eleven sons, and passed over the ford Jăb'bok.

23 And he took them, and sent them over the brook, and sent over that he had.

24 ¶ And Jā'cob was left alone; and there [12]wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day.

25 And when he saw that he prevailed not against him, he [13]touched the hollow of his thigh; and the hollow of [1]Jā'cob's thigh was out of joint, as he wrestled with him.

26 And he said, Let me go, for the day breaketh. And he said, I will not let thee go, except thou bless me.

27 And he said unto him, What is thy name? And he said, Jā'cob.

28 And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jā'cob, but Ĭs'ra-el; for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed.

29 And Jā'cob asked him, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name? And he said, Wherefore is it that thou dost ask after my name? And he blessed him there.

30 And [1]Jā'cob called the name of the place [14]Pe-nī'el: for I have seen [h]God face to face, and my life is preserved.

31 And as he passed over Pe-nū'el the sun rose upon him, and he halted upon his thigh.

32 Therefore the children of Ĭs'ra-el eat not of the sinew which shrank, which is upon the hollow of the thigh, unto this day: because he touched the hollow of Jā'cob's thigh in the sinew that shrank.

CHAPTER 33.

1 The kindness of Jacob and Esau at their meeting. 17 Jacob cometh to Succoth. 18 At Shalem he buyeth a field, and buildeth an altar called El-elohe-Israel.

1 And [1]Jā'cob lifted up his eyes, and looked, and, behold, [2]Ē'sạu came, and with him four hundred men. And he divided the children unto [3]Lē'ah, and unto [4]Rā'chel, and unto the two handmaids.

2 And he put the handmaids and their children foremost, and Lē'ah and her children after, and Rā'chel and [6]Jō'sẹph [5]hindermost.

3 And he passed over before them, and bowed himself to the ground seven times, until he came near to his brother.

4 And Ē'sạu ran to meet him, and embraced him, and fell on his neck, and kissed him: and they wept.

5 And he lifted up his eyes, and saw the women and the children; and said, Who are those with thee? And he said, The children which [a]God [a]hath graciously given thy servant.

6 Then the handmaidens came near, they and their children, and they bowed themselves.

7 And Lē'ah also with her children came near, and bowed themselves: and after came Jō'sẹph near and Rā'chel, and they bowed themselves.

8 And he said, What meanest thou by all this drove which I met? And he said, These are [b]to find [b]grace in the sight of my lord.

9 And Ē'sạu said, I have enough, my brother; keep that thou hast unto thyself.

10 And [1]Jā'cob said, Nay, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, then receive my present at my hand: for therefore I have seen thy face, as though I had seen the face of God, and thou wast pleased with me.

11 Take, I pray thee, my blessing that is brought to thee; because God hath dealt graciously with me, and because I have enough. And he urged him, and he took it.

12 And he said, Let us take our journey, and let us go, and I will go before thee.

13 And he said unto him, My lord knoweth that the children are tender, and the flocks and herds with young are with me: and if men should overdrive them one day, all the flock will die.

14 Let my lord, I pray thee, pass over before his servant: and I will lead on [8]softly, according as the cattle that goeth before me and the children be able to endure, until I come unto my lord unto Sē'ĭr.

15 And [2]Ē'sạu said, Let me now leave with thee some of the folk that are with me. And he said, What needeth it? let me find grace in the sight of my lord.

16 ¶ So Ē'sạu returned that day on his way unto Sē'ĭr.

17 And [1]Jā'cob journeyed to Sŭc'coth, and built him an house, and made booths for his cattle: therefore the name of the place is called Sŭc'coth.

18 ¶ And Jā'cob came to Shā'lem, a city of Shē'chem, which is in the land of Cā'năan, when he came from Pā'dan-ā'ram; and pitched his tent before the city.

19 And he bought a [9]parcel of a field, where he had spread his tent, at the hand of the children of [c]Hā'mor, Shē'chem's father, for an hundred pieces of money.

20 And he erected there an altar, and [d]called it [10]Ēl-e-lō'he-Ĭs'ra-el.

12. The angel of Jehovah struggling with Jacob. The contest lasts all night, and at the approach of day, when the angel declares his departure, J. refuses to let him go without a blessing. A blessing came in the form of a change of name, from J. to Israel, meaning a preserver with God.

Ch. 34. B. C. 1732.

NOTE.—In ch. 34 is recorded Jacob's or Israel's first bitter fruits in contact with the heathen. Shechem, son of Hamor, having seduced J.'s daughter Dinah, desires to obtain her in marriage. Her brothers agree, upon one condition, but soon after Simeon and Levi fall upon the house of Hamor and slay them all. Here the transaction seems to pass from a personal character to a national significance.

1. Daughter of Jacob and Leah; full sister of Simeon and Levi. While Jacob's camp was in the neighborhood of Shechem, she was seduced by S., the son of Hamor. Her hand was sought in marriage, which was agreed upon by her brothers, only upon the condition that all the inhabitants should become circumcised. This was conceded, but the third day Simeon and Levi fell upon the town and slew all the people. (Gen. 34:25, 26.) Of Dinah's subsequent life nothing is known.

h. And he said, Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me and live. (Ex. 33:20.) And ye said, Behold, the Lord our God hath shown us his glory and his greatness, and we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire: we have seen this day that God doth talk with man, and he liveth. (Dt. 5:24.) And Manoah said unto his wife, We shall surely die, because we have seen God. (Jud. 13:22.) Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of people of unclean lips; for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts. (Is. 6:5.)

a. And Joseph said unto his father, They are my sons, whom God hath given me in this place. And he said, Bring them, I pray thee, unto me, and I will bless them. (Gen. 48:9.) Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord; and the fruit of the womb is his reward. (Ps. 127:3.) d. And he built there an altar, and called the place Elbethel: because there God appeared unto him, when he fled from the face of his brother. (Gen. 35:7.)

he took her, and lay with her, and [4]defiled her.
3 And his soul clave unto Dī'nah the daughter of Jā'cob, and he loved the damsel, and spake kindly unto the damsel.
4 And Shē'chem spake unto his father Hā'mor, saying, Get me this damsel to wife.
5 And [3]Jā'cob heard that he had defiled [1]Dī'nah his daughter: now his sons were with his cattle in the field: and Jā'cob held his peace until they were come.
6 ¶ And Hā'mor the father of Shē'chem went out unto Jā'cob to commune with him.
7 And the sons of [3]Jā'cob came out of the field when they heard it: and the men were grieved, and they were [a]very wroth, because he had wrought [b]folly in Īs'ra-el in lying with Jā'cob's daughter; which [c]thing ought not to be done.
8 And Hā'mor communed with them, saying, The soul of my son Shē'chem longeth for your daughter: I pray you give her him to wife.
9 And make [d]ye marriages with us, and give your daughters unto us, and take our daughters unto you.
10 And ye shall dwell with us: and the land shall be before you; dwell and trade ye therein, and get you possessions therein.
11 And Shē'chem said unto her father and unto her brethren, Let me find grace in your eyes, and what ye shall say unto me I will give.
12 Ask me never so much [e]dowry and gift, and I will give according as ye shall say unto me: but give me the damsel to wife.
13 And the sons of [3]Jā'cob answered Shē'chem and Hā'mor his father [f]deceitfully, and said, because he had defiled Dī'nah their sister:
14 And they said unto them, We cannot do this thing, to give our sister to one that is uncircumcised; for that were a reproach unto us:
15 But in this will we consent unto you: If ye will be as we be, that every male of you be [g]circumcised;

It was ordained to be performed on himself, on his descendants and slaves, as well as strangers joining themselves to the Hebrew nation to sig. their participation in the benefits of the covenant and their acceptance of its obligations.

6. Simeon, second son of Jacob and Leah. Only two incidents in his life are related in the Book of Gen. One is that with his brother Levi, he massacred the Shechemites in revenge for the dishonor of his sister Dinah; the other is, that Joseph retained him in Egypt as security that his brothers would return with Benjamin.

7. Third son of Jacob and Leah, who, with his brother Simeon, avenged the wrong done to their sister Dinah, for which a curse was pronounced upon them.

17 But if ye will not hearken unto us, to be circumcised; then will we take our daughter, and we will be gone.
18 And their words pleased Hā'mor, and Shē'chem Hā'mor's son.
19 And the young man deferred not to do the thing, because he had delight in [3]Jā'cob's daughter: and he was more honourable than all the house of his father.
20 ¶ And Hā'mor and Shē'chem his son came unto the gate of their city, and communed with the men of their city, saying,
21 These men are peaceable with us; therefore let them dwell in the land, and trade therein; for the land, behold, it is large enough for them; let us take their daughters to us for wives, and let us give them our daughters.
22 Only herein will the men consent unto us for to dwell with us, to be one people, if every male among us be circumcised, as they are circumcised.
23 Shall not their cattle and their substance and every beast of their's be our's? only let us consent unto them, and they will dwell with us.
24 And unto Hā'mor and unto Shē'chem his son hearkened all that went out of the gate of his city; and every male was circumcised, all that went out of the gate of his city.
25 ¶ And it came to pass on the third day, when they were sore, that two of the sons of Jā'cob, Sĭm'e-on [h]and Lē'vī, Dī'nah's brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the city boldly, and slew all the males.
26 And they slew Hā'mor and Shē'chem his son with the edge of the sword, and took Dī'nah out of Shē'chem's house and went out.
27 The sons of [3]Jā'cob came upon the slain, and spoiled the city, because they had defiled their sister.
28 They took their sheep, and their oxen, and their asses, and that which was in the city, and that which was in the field,
29 And all their wealth, and all their little ones, and their wives took they captive, and spoiled even all that was in the house.
30 And [3]Jā'cob said to [6]Sĭm'e-on and [7]Lē'vī, Ye have [i]troubled me to make me to stink among the inhabitants of the land, among the Cā'năan-ītes and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes: and I being

Chapter 34.

a. Cursed be their anger, for it was fierce; and their wrath, for it was cruel; I will divide them in Jacob, and scatter them in Israel. (Gen. 49:7.) But when king David heard of all these things, he was very wroth. (II Sam. 13:21.) For wrath killeth the foolish man, and envy slayeth the silly one. (Job 5:2.) Cease from anger, and forsake wrath; fret not thyself in any wise to do evil. (Ps. 37:8.) He that is soon angry dealeth foolishly: and a man of wicked devices is hated (17). He that is slow to wrath is of great understanding; but he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly. (Prov. 14:17, 29.) Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry; for anger resteth in the bosom of fools. (Ecc. 7:9.)

b. And it shall be, that he that is taken with the accursed thing shall be burnt with fire, he and all that he hath; because he hath transgressed the covenant of the Lord, and because he hath wrought folly in Israel. (Josh. 7:15.) And I took my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Israel: for they have committed lewdness and folly in Israel. (Jud. 20:6.)

c. There shall be no whore of the daughters of Israel, nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel. (Dt. 23:17.) And she answered him, Nay, my brother, do not force me; for no such thing ought to be done in Israel; do not thou this folly. (II Sam. 13:12.)

d. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. (Ex. 23:32.)

e. And if a man entice a maid that is not betrothed, and lie with her; he shall surely endow her to be his wife. If her father utterly refuse to give her unto him, he shall pay money according to the dowry of virgins. (Ex. 22:16, 17.) And Saul said, Thus shall ye say to David, the king desireth not any dowry, but an hundred foreskins of the Philistines, to be avenged of the king's enemies. (I Sam. 18:25.)

f. But Absalom pressed him, that he let Amnon and all the king's sons go with him. Now Absolom had commanded his servants, saying, Mark ye now when Amnon's heart is merry with wine, and when I say unto you, Smite Amnon; then kill him, fear not; have not I commanded you? Be courageous, and be valiant. (II Sam. 13:27, 28.) Be not a witness against thy neighbor without cause; and deceive not with thy lips. (Prov. 24:28.) For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile. (I Pet. 3:10.) If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot hath hasted to deceit. (Job 31:5.) He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within mine house; he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight. (Ps. 101:7.)

g. This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee: Every man child among you shall be circumcised (10). And ye shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin; and it shall be a token of the covenant betwixt me and you (11). And he that is eight days old shall be circumcised among you, every man child in your generations, he that is born in the house, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed (12). He that is born in thine house, and he that is bought with thy money, must needs be circumcised; and my covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant. (Gen. 17:10-13.) For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law; but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision (25). Therefore if the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision? (26). And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfill the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law? (27). For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh (28). But he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men but of God. (Rom. 2:25-29.) Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness (9). How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision (10). And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also (11): And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised (12). For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. (Rom. 4:9-13.)

h. Simeon and Levi are brethren; instruments of cruelty are in their habitations (5). O my soul, come not thou into their secret; unto their assembly, mine honor, be not thou united: for in their anger they slew a man, and in their selfwill they did down a wall (6). Cursed be their anger, for it was fierce; and their wrath, for it was cruel: I will divide them in Jacob, and scatter them in Isreal. (Gen. 49:5-7.)

i. And Joshua said, Why hast thou troubled us? The Lord shall trouble thee this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones, and burned them with fire, after they had stoned them with stones. (Josh. 7:25.)

few in number, they shall gather themselves together against me, and slay me; and I shall be destroyed, I and my house.

31 And they said, Should he deal with our sister as with an harlot?

CHAPTER 35.

1 God sendeth Jacob to Beth-el. 2 He purgeth his house of idols. 6 He buildeth an altar at Beth-el. 9 God blesseth Jacob at Beth-el. 16 Rachel travaileth of Benjamin, and dieth in the way to Edar. 23 The sons of Jacob. 27 Jacob cometh to Isaac at Hebron. 28 The age, death, and burial of Isaac.

1 And God said unto [1]Jā'cob, Arise, go up to Bĕth'-el, and dwell there: and make there an altar unto God, that appeared unto thee when thou fleddest from the face of [2]Ē'saŭ thy brother.

2 Then Jā'cob said unto his [a]household, and to all that were with him, [3]Put away [b]the strange gods that are among you, and be [c]clean, and change your garments:

3 And let us arise, and go up to Bĕth'-el; and I will make there an altar unto God, who [d]answered me in the day of my distress, and was with [e]me in the way which I went.

4 And they gave unto [1]Jā'cob all the strange gods which were in their hand, and all their [f]earrings which were in their ears; and Jā'cob [5]hid them under the oak which was by Shē'chem.

5 And they journeyed: and [f]the [6]terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jā'cob.

6 ¶ So Jā'cob came to Lŭz, which is in the land of Cā'năan, that is, Bĕth'-el, he and all the people that were with him.

7 And he built there an altar, and called the place [7]Ēl-bĕth'-el: because there God appeared unto him, when he fled from the face of his brother.

8 But Dĕb'o-rah Re-bĕk'ah's nurse died, and she was buried beneath Bĕth'-el under an oak: and the name of it was called [8]Āl'lŏn-băch'ŭth.

9 ¶ And [9]God [g]appeared unto Jā'cob again, when he came out of Pā'dan-ā'ram, and blessed him.

10 And God said unto him, Thy name is [1]Jā'cob: [h]thy name shall not be called any more Jā'cob, but Īs'ra-el shall be thy name: and he called his name Īs'ra-el.

11 And God said unto him, I am God Almighty: be fruitful and multiply; a nation and a company of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins;

12 And the land which I gave [10]Ā'brā-hăm and [11]Ī'ṣaac, to thee I will give it, and to thy seed after thee will I give the land.

13 And God went up from him in the place where he talked with him.

14 And Jā'cob set up a pillar in the place where he talked with him, even a pillar of stone: and he poured a drink [12]offering thereon, and he poured oil thereon.

15 And [1]Jā'cob called the name of the place where God spake with him, Bĕth'-el.

16 ¶ And they journeyed from Bĕth'-el; and there was but a little way to come to Ēph'răth: and [3]Rā'chel travailed, and she had hard labour.

17 And it came to pass, when she was in hard labour, that the midwife said unto her, Fear not; thou shalt have this son also.

18 And it came to pass, as her soul was in departing, (for she died) that she called his name Bĕn-ō'nī: but his father called him Bĕn'ja-min.

19 And Rā'chel died, and was buried in the way to Ēph'răth, which is Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm.

20 And Jā'cob set a pillar upon her grave: that is the pillar of Rā'chel's grave unto this day.

21 ¶ And Īs'ra-el journeyed, and spread his tent beyond the tower of Ē'dăr.

22 And it came to pass, when Īs'ra-el dwelt in that land, that Reu'ben went and [i]lay with Bĭl'hah his father's [14]concubine: and Īs'ra-el heard it. Now the [15]sons of Jā'cob were twelve:

23 The sons of Lē'ah; Reu'ben, Jā'cob's firstborn, and Sĭm'e-on, and Lē'vī, and Jū'dah, and Īs'sa-char, and Zĕb'u-lun:

24 The sons of Rā'chel; Jō'ṣeph, and Bĕn'ja-min:

25 And the sons of Bĭl'hah, Rā'chel's handmaid; Dăn, and Năph'ta-lī:

26 And the sons Zĭl'pah, Lē'ah's handmaid; Găd, and Ăsh'ēr: these are the sons of Jā'cob, which were born to him in Pā'dan-ā'ram.

27 ¶ And Jā'cob came unto Ī'ṣaac his father unto Măm're, unto the city of Ăr'bah, which is Hē'bron, where Ā'brā-hăm and Ī'ṣaac sojourned.

28 And the days of Ī'ṣaac were an [16]hundred and fourscore years.

29 And Ī'ṣaac gave up the ghost, and died, and was gathered unto his people, being old and full of days: and his sons [2]Ē'saŭ and [1]Jā'cob buried him.

3. Three things Jacob now commands: (1) "Put away your strange gods, i. e., "Terraphim," Rachel had stolen from her father; (2) "Be clean," rather, cleanse yourself, that is, ceremonial ablution; (3) "Change your garments"—another token of their assuming a new and higher mode of religious life.

4. Here mentioned because used as charms, and with superstitious reverence.

5. That is, to bury them as dead nothings, which was the proper disposition to make of them.

6. To terrify, to make afraid; a condition inspired by God himself because of Jacob's wrong-doings.

7. That is, God—the God of Bethel.

8. That is, the oak of weeping.

9. Thirty years since God appeared to him in the dream of the ladder—years of discipline and of sorrow. Hereafter Jacob appears as a new man, as the aged saint meditating promises.

Chapter 35.

a. For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him. (Gen. 18:19.) And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served, that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell; but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. (Josh. 24:15.)

b. And Laban went to shear his sheep; and Rachel had stolen the images that were her father's. (Gen. 31:19.) And Samuel spake unto all the house of Israel, saying, If ye do return unto the Lord with all your hearts, then put away the strange gods and Ashtaroth from among you, and prepare your hearts unto the Lord, and serve him only; and he will deliver you out of the hands of the Philistines. (1 Sam. 7:3.) Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name. (Dt. 6:13.) There shall no strange god be in thee; neither shalt thou worship any strange god. (Ps. 81:9.)

c. And the Lord said unto Moses, Go unto the people, and sanctify them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their clothes. (Ex. 19:10.) Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.) I will wash mine hands in innocency; so will I compass thine altar, O Lord. (Ps. 26:6.) Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name; and deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake. (Ps. 79:9.) Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away; and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. (Jno. 15:2.)

d. Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses. (Ps. 107:6.) And call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me. (Ps. 50:15.) Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. (Jno. 14:1.)

e. Nevertheless I am continually with thee; thou hast holden me by my right hand. (Ps. 73:23.) I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God; in him will I trust. (Ps. 91:2.) He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber (3). The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil; he shall preserve thy soul. (Ps. 121:3, 7.)

f. I will send my fear before thee, and will destroy all the people to whom thou shalt come; and I will make all thine enemies turn their backs unto thee. (Ex. 23:27.) Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth. (Ps. 46:10.) And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing. (Ps. 64:9.) I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him. (Ecc. 3:14.)

g. Yea, he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication unto him: he found him in Bethel, and there he spake with us. (Hos. 12:4.) And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush; and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed. (Ex. 3:2.) In Gibeon the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream by night: and God said, Ask what I shall give thee. (1 Ks. 3:5.) And the Lord was angry with Solomon, because his heart was turned from the Lord God of Israel, which had appeared unto him twice. (1 Ks. 11:9.) And I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the name of God Almighty; but by my name JEHOVAH was I not known to them. (Ex. 6:3.)

h. Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abraham; for a father of many nations have I made thee. (Gen. 17:5.) And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel; for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed. (Gen. 32:28.)

i. Unstable as water, thou shalt not excel; because thou wentest up to thy father's bed; then defiledst thou it: he went up to my couch. (Gen. 49:4.) Now the sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel, (for he was the firstborn; but, forasmuch as he defiled his father's bed, his birthright was given unto the sons of Joseph the son of Israel: and the genealogy is not to be reckoned after the birthright.) (I Chr. 5:1.)

CHAPTER 36.

1 Esau's three wives. 6 His removing to mount Seir. 9 His sons. 15 The dukes which descended of his sons. 20 The sons and dukes of Seir. 24 Anah findeth mules. 31 The kings of Edom. 40 The dukes that descended of Esau.

1 Now these are the generations of [1]Ē'sąu, who is Ē'dom.

2 Ē'sąu [2]took his wives of the daughters of Cā'năan; Ā'dah the daughter of Ē'lon the Hīt'tīte, and A-hō-lĭb'ă-mah the daughter of Ā'nah the daughter of Zĭb'e-on the Hī'vīte;

3 And Băsh'ĕ-măth Ĭsh'ma-el's daughter, sister of Ne-bā'joth.

4 And Ā'dah bare to Ē'sąu Ēl'ĭ-phăz; and Băsh'ĕ-măth bare Reų'el;

5 And A-hō-lĭb'ă-mah bare Jē'ŭsh, and Ja-ā'lam, and Kō'rah: these are the sons of Ē'sąu, which were born unto him in the land of Cā'năan.

6 And Ē'sąu took his wives, and his sons, and his daughters, and all the persons of his house, and his cattle, and all his beasts, and all his substance, which he had got in the land of Cā'năan; and went into the country from the face of his brother Jā'cob.

7 For their riches were more than that they might dwell together; and the land wherein they were strangers could not bear them because of their cattle.

8 Thus dwelt Ē'sąu in mount Sē'ĭr: Ē'sąu is Ē'dom.

9 ¶ And [3]these are the generations of Ē'sąu the father of the Ē'dom-ītes in mount Sē'ĭr:

10 These are the names of Ē'sąu's sons; Ēl'ĭ-phăz the son of Ā'dah the wife of Ē'sąu, Reų'el the son of Băsh'ĕ-măth the wife of Ē'sąu.

11 And the sons of Ēl'ĭ-phăz were Tē'man, Ō'mar, Zē'pho, and Gā'tam, and Kĕ'năz.

12 And Tĭm'nà was concubine to Ēl'ĭ-phăz Ē'sąu's son; and she bare to Ēl'ĭ-phăz [a]Ām'a-lĕk: these were the sons of Ā'dah Ē'sąu's wife.

13 And these are the sons of Reų'el; Nā'hăth, and Zē'rah, Shăm'mah, and Mĭz'zah: these were the sons of Băsh'ĕ-măth Ē'sąu's wife.

14 ¶ And these were the sons of A-hō-lĭb'ă-mah, the daughter of Ā'nah the daughter of Zĭb'e-on, Ē'sąu's wife: and she bare to Ē'sąu Jē'ŭsh, and Ja-ā'lam, and Kō'rah.

15 ¶ [4]These were dukes of the sons of Ē'sąu: the sons of Ēl'ĭ-phăz the firstborn son of Ē'sąu; duke Tē'man, duke Ō'mar, duke Zē'pho, duke Kĕ'năz, 16 Duke Kō'rah, duke Gā'tam, and duke Ām'a-lĕk: these are the dukes that came of Ēl'ĭ-phăz in the land of Ē'dom; these were the sons of Ā'dah.

17 ¶ And these are the sons of Reų'el Ē'sąu's son; duke Nā'hăth, duke Zē'rah, duke Shăm'mah, duke Mĭz'zah: these are the dukes that came of Reų'el in the land of Ē'dom; these are the sons of Băsh'ĕ-măth Ē'sąu's wife.

18 ¶ And these are the sons of A-hō-lĭb'ă-mah Ē'sąu's wife; duke Jē'ŭsh, duke Ja-ā'lam, duke Kō'rah: these were the dukes that came of A-ho-lĭb'ă-mah the daughter of Ā'nah, Ē'sąu's wife.

19 These are the sons of Ē'sąu, who is Ē'dom, and these are their dukes.

20 ¶ [5]These are the sons of Sē'ĭr the Hō'rīte, who inhabited the land; Lō'tan, and Shō'bal, and Zĭb'e-on, and Ā'nah, 21 And Dī'shon, and Ē'zĕr, and Dī'shan: these are the dukes of the Hō'rītes, the children of Sē'ĭr in the land of Ē'dom.

22 And the children of Lō'tan were Hō'rī and Hē'mam; and Lō'tan's sister was Tĭm'nà.

23 And the children of Shō'bal were these; Āl'văn, and Măn'a-hăth, and Ē'bal, Shĕ'pho, and Ō'nam.

24 And these are the children of Zĭb'e-on; both Ā'jah, and Ā'nah: this was that Ā'nah that found the mules in the wilderness, as he fed the asses of Zĭb'e-on his father.

25 And the children of Ā'nah were these; Dĭ'shon, and A-ho-lĭb'ă-mah the daughter of Ā'nah.

26 And these are the children of Dĭ'shon; Hĕm'dan, and Ēsh'ban, and Ĭth'ran, and Chĕ'ran.

27 The children of Ē'zĕr are these; Bĭl'hăn, and Zā'a-văn, and Ā'kan.

28 The children of Dĭ'shan are these; Ūz, and Ā'răn.

29 These are the dukes that came of the Hō'rītes; duke Lō'tan, duke Shō'bal, duke Zĭb'e-on, duke Ā'nah, 30 Duke Dĭ'shon, duke Ē'zĕr, duke Dĭ'shan: these are the dukes that came of Hō'rī, among their dukes in the land of Sē'ĭr.

31 ¶ [6]And these are the kings that reigned in the land of Ē'dom, before there reigned any king over the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

32 And Bē'là the son of Bē'or reigned in Ē'dom: and the name of his city was Dĭn'hă-bah.

33 And Bē'là died, and Jō'băb the son of Zē'rah of Bŏz'rah reigned in his stead.

34 And Jō'băb died, and Hū'sham of the land of Tĕm'a-nī reigned in his stead.

35 And Hū'sham died, and Hā'dăd the son of Bē'dăd, who smote Mĭd'ĭ-an in the field of Mō'ab, reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was Ā'vĭth.

36 And Hā'dăd died, and Săm'lah of Mas're-kah reigned in his stead.

37 And Săm'lah died, and Saul of Rē-hō'both by the river reigned in his stead.

38 And Saul died, and Bā'al-hā'nan the son of Ăch'bor reigned in his stead.

39 And Bā'al-hā'nan the son of Ăch'bor died, and Hā'dăr reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was Pā'u; and his wife's name was Me-hĕt'a-bel, the daughter of Mā'tred, the daughter of Mĕz'a-hāb.

40 And these are the names of the dukes that came of Ē'sąu, according to their families, after their places, by their names; duke Tĭm'nah, duke Āl'vah, duke Jē'theth,

41 Duke A-ho-lĭb'ă-mah, duke Ē'lah, duke Pī'non,

42 Duke Kĕ'năz, duke Tē'man, duke Mĭb'zar,

43 Duke Mag'dĭ-el, duke Ī'ram: these be the dukes of Ē'dom, according to their habitations in the land of their possession: he is Ē'sąu the father of the Ē'dom-ītes.

Ch. 36. B. C. 1840-1740.

NOTE.—The record of the generations of Esau is inserted here in accord with the uniform plan of the Book of Gen. to finish up and dispose of the history of Esau before beginning the latter and fuller history of Jacob, which is to occupy not only the remainder of Gen., but also the rest of the Pentateuch. The genealogy of the Edomites is carried as far as the reign of Hadar, who was perhaps the king of Edom, to whom Moses applied for passage through the land.

1. See note 8, ch. 25, for history of Esau. God had given Mount Seir to Esau as an inheritance. Esau largely destroyed the original inhabitants, those who were left intermarrying with the descendants of Esau.

2. In vs. 1-8, is given a record of Esau's wives and children and their removal to Mt. Seir.

3. In vs. 9-14, is given the record of the sons and grandsons of Esau as heads of tribes.

4. In vs. 15-19, is given the record of the chief tribal fathers of the Edomites named under the title of dukes.

5. In vs. 20-30, is given a record of the Horites, the original occupants of Mount Seir; they were subdued by the sons of Esau and the remaining remnants of their tribes intermarried with the Edomites, becoming so identified with them as to be included in this genealogy.

6. In vs. 31-39, the kings of Edom are given. How a monarchy arose among the Edomites we are not told. But it is noticeable that of the eight kings here mentioned, not one is said to have succeeded his father. It is therefore supposed they were chosen by the dukes.

Ch. 37. B. C. 1729.

NOTE.—This is the last ch. of the Book of Gen. headed by the special designation generations. Though largely devoted to Joseph, Jacob is still the head of the patriarchal family. J. now dwelling in the green vale of Hebron, half-way between Beersheba (place of Isaac's sojourning) and Salem (afterward Jerusalem, the city of Melchisedek, earliest seat of civilized life in Palestine). Here the spies found the rich valley of Eshcol, with its giant grape clusters, also Kirjath-Arba and his gigantic sons. Here, too, stands the large, wide-spreading oak, regarded as the successor of Abraham's "oak of Mambre." From now on the history of Jacob gradually, almost imperceptibly passes into that of the tribes (his sons), above whom hovers —vague and dim—the awful form of Israel, the aged Patriarch. The old father made perfect through suffering, appears like some superior spirit watching over them, sternly rebuking all their follies and misdeeds committed behind his back; yet he himself, eventually, has to bear the burden of iniquities planned without his knowledge.

CHAPTER 37.

2 Joseph is hated of his brethren. 5 His two dreams. 13 Jacob sendeth him to visit his brethren. 18 His brethren conspire his death. 21 Reuben saveth him. 26 They sell him to the Ishmeelites. 31 His father, deceived by the bloody coat, mourneth for him. 36 He is sold to Potiphar in Egypt.

1 And [1]Jā'cob dwelt in the land wherein his father was a stranger, in the land of Cā'năan.

2 These are the generations of [1]Jā'cob. [2]Jō'sĕph, being seventeen years old, was feeding the flock with his brethren; and the lad was

Chapter 36.

a. Then came Amalek, and fought with Israel in Rephidin. (Ex. 17:8.) And when he looked on Amalek, he took up his parable, and said, Amalek was the first of the nations; but his latter end shall be that he perish for ever. (Num. 24:20.) Remember what Amelek did unto thee by the way, when ye were come forth out of Egypt. Therefore it shall be, when the Lord thy God hath given thee rest from all thine enemies round about, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance to possess it, that thou shalt blot out the remembrance of Amalek from under heaven; thou shalt not forget it. (Dt. 25:17-19.) Thus saith the Lord of hosts, I remember that which Amalek did to Israel, how he laid wait for him in the way, when he came up from Egypt. Now go and smite Amalek, and utterly destroy all that they have, and spare them not; but slay both man and woman, infant and suckling, ox and sheep, camel and ass. (I Sam. 15:2, 3.)

with the sons of Bĭl'hah, and with the sons of Zĭl'pah, his father's wives: and Jō'şeph brought unto his father their [3]evil report.

3 Now Ĭs'ra-el loved [2]Jō'şeph more than all his children, because he was the son of his old age: and he made him a coat of many colours.

4 And when his brethren saw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, they [c]hated him, and could not speak peaceably unto him.

5 ¶ And [2]Jō'şeph [4]dreamed a dream, and he told it his brethren: and they hated him yet the more.

6 And he said unto them, Hear, I pray you, this dream which I have dreamed:

7 For, behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and, lo, my sheaf arose, and also stood upright; and, behold, your sheaves stood round about, and made [5]obeisance to my sheaf.

8 And his brethren said to him, Shalt thou indeed [b]reign over us? or shalt thou indeed have dominion over us? And they [a]hated him yet the more for his dreams, or for his words.

9 ¶ And he dreamed yet another dream, and told it his brethren, and said, [b]Behold, I have dreamed a dream more; and, behold, the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made [5]obeisance to me.

10 And he told it to his father, and to his brethren: and his father rebuked him, and said unto him, What is this dream that thou hast dreamed? Shall I and thy mother and thy brethren indeed come to bow [b]down ourselves to thee to the earth?

11 And his brethren envied him; but his father observed the saying.

12 ¶ And his brethren went to feed their father's flock in Shĕ'chem.

13 And [6]Ĭs'ra-el said unto [2]Jō'şeph, Do not thy brethren feed the flock in Shĕ'chem? come, and I will send thee unto them. And he said to him, Here am I.

14 And he said to him, Go, I pray thee, see whether it be well with thy brethren, and well with the flocks; and bring me word again. So he sent him out of the vale of Hē'bron, and he came to Shē'chem.

15 ¶ And a certain man found him, and, behold, he was wandering in the field: and the man asked him, saying, What seekest thou?

16 And he said, I seek my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they feed their flocks.

17 And the man said, They are departed hence; for I heard them say, Let us go to [7]Dō'than. And [2]Jō'şeph went after his brethren, and found them in Dō'than.

18 And when they saw him afar off, even before he came near unto them, they [c]conspired against him to slay him.

19 And they said one to another, Behold, this dreamer cometh.

20 Come now therefore, and let us [8]slay him, and cast him into some pit, and we [d]will say, Some evil beast hath devoured him: and we shall see what will become of his dreams.

21 And [9c]Reu'ben heard it, and he delivered him out of their hands; and said, Let us not kill him.

22 And [9]Reu'ben said unto them, Shed no blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, and lay no hand upon him; that he might rid him out of their hands, to deliver him to his father again.

23 ¶ And it came to pass, when [2]Jō'şeph was come unto his brethren, that they stript Jō'şeph out of his coat, his coat of many colours that was on him;

24 And they took him, and cast him into a pit: and the pit was empty, there was no water in it.

25 And they sat down to eat bread: and they lifted up their eyes and looked, and, behold, a company of Ĭsh'me-el-ītes came from Gĭl'e-ăd with their camels bearing spicery and balm and myrrh, going to carry it down to Ē'gўpt.

26 And [10]Jū'dah said unto his brethren,

3. Rather an evil report, not of any definite crime, but of a floating rumor, which affected the character of his brethren.

4. These two dreams clearly indicate Joseph as having kingly authority over his father, mother and brethren. And how powerfully this dream must have returned to them all when—more than 20 years after—the venerable patriarch and his 11 sons made obeisance to the prince of Egypt who said, "I am Joseph!"

5. To prostrate in homage to royalty, bow down to; humbly beseech, do reverence.

6. The name Jehovah gave to Jacob. For history of J., see 9, ch. 25.

7. About 17 miles further north on the border of the great plain that has always been the granary of Palestine.

8. Result of entertaining sinful thoughts, cultivating a jealous and envious spirit.

9. He whom we might expect to be most offended by the princely garment is the readiest to show him favor.

The eldest son of Jacob and Leah. He seems to have done what he could to rescue Joseph from the hands of his brothers, who sought to kill him, although he eventually acquiesced in the deception practiced upon his father. During the famine when he goes down to Egypt for corn, he offers to make the lives of his own son responsible for that of Benjamin. For his conduct in the matter of Bilhah, Jacob in his last blessing deprived him of his pre-eminence and double portion that belonged to his birthright, assigning the former to Judah and the latter to Joseph. The curse that "thou shalt not excel" was passed upon him by his father and was exactly fulfilled. Reuben was an ardent, impetuous, unbalanced, and generous nature. He was quick to respond to an emotion or an aroused feeling and as quick to subside.

10. The fourth son of Jacob and Leah (B. C. about 1916). Gen. records more of his history than that of any other of the twelve sons of Jacob, excepting Joseph. It was his suggestion which prevented the brothers from killing J. Though his words—"What profit is it if we slay our brother, and conceal his blood? Come let us sell him"—seem to imply a selfish motive; subsequent actions prove that he spoke in this manner only because he knew it to be the way to appeal to his brothers. Not long after this Judah (Gen. 38: 1, 2) went to Adullam and married a woman of Canaan called Shuah. To them three children were born, viz., Er, Onan and Shelah. (Gen. 38:3-5.) As soon as Er reached the proper age he was married to a woman named Tamar, but soon after died childless. The patriarchical law, later adopted in the Mosaic code (Dt. 25:5, 6) required the second son to marry the widow of his brother. This Onan did, but he also soon died childless. Judah now became reluctant to bestow his younger and only remaining son upon this woman, and put her off by saying Shelah was too young. After a time Judah's wife died, and when the period of mourning had passed, he went to Timnath to attend the shearing of the sheep. The opportunity suggested evil thoughts to Tamar, who arrayed herself in the guise of a loose woman and waylaid Judah by the roadside. She succeeded in her object, and when the consequences became manifest in the person of Tamar, Judah was highly enraged at her crime. Exercising his authority as the head of the family she had wronged, he ordered her committed to the flames, but when she appeared for execution, she produced the rings and bracelets and staff he had left as pledge with her. Judah acknowledged them to be his, and confessed he had done wrong in withholding Shelah from her. These circumstances seem to have disgusted Judah with residence in towns, and ever afterward he lived in his father's tents. It was largely through Judah that Jacob allowed Benjamin to go down into Egypt. When Joseph was so severely testing his brothers to prove their love for their father and Benjamin, it was Judah who plead with Joseph to let them take their brother back, lest their father should die of grief. There is not in the whole range of literature a finer piece of true natural eloquence than that in which Judah offers himself to remain a bond slave in the place of Benjamin, for whose safe return he had made himself responsible to his father. Nothing further is recorded of Judah till he, along with his brothers, received the final blessing of his father.

a. And Esau hated Jacob because of the blessing wherewith his father blessed him: and Esau said in his heart, The days of mourning for my father are at hand: then will I slay my brother Jacob. (Gen. 27:41.) But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes. (I Jno. 2:11.) In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil; whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother. (I Jno. 3:10.) But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your father forgive your trespasses. (Math. 6:15.) Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice. (Eph. 4:31.) He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now. (I Jno. 2:9.) If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen? (I Jno. 4:20.)

b. And Joseph was the governor over the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land: and Joseph's brethren came, and bowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth (6). And Joseph remembered the dreams which he dreamed of them, and said unto them, Ye are spies; to see the nakedness of the land ye are come. (Gen. 42:6, 9.) And when Joseph came home, they brought him the present which was in their hand into the house, and bowed themselves to him to the earth. (Gen. 43:26.) And Judah and his brethren came to Joseph's house; for he was yet there; and they fell before him on the ground. (Gen. 44:14.) Let people serve thee, and nations bow down to thee; be lord over thy brethren, and let thy mother's sons bow down to thee; cursed be every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee. (Gen. 27:29.)

c. And Saul spake to Jonathan his son, and to all his servants, that they should kill David. (I Sam. 19:1.) And the Lord said unto Moses, If her father had but spit in her face, should she not be ashamed 7 days? let her be shut out from the camp 7 days, and after that let her be received in again (14). And the Lord spake suddenly unto Moses, and unto Aaron, and unto Miriam, Come out ye three unto the tabernacle of the congregation. And they three came out. (Num. 12:4.) Then the Pharisees went out and held a counsel against him, how they might destroy him. (Math. 12:14.) And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsel with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him. (Mk. 3:6.) Thou shalt not raise a false report; put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness. (Ex. 23:1.)

d. Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another. And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou proclaim the name of thy God: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:11, 12.) But ye are forgers of lies, ye are all physicians of no value. (Job 13:4.) Thou shalt destroy them that speak leasing; the Lord will abhor the bloody and deceitful man (6). For there is no faithfulness in their mouth; their inward part is very wickedness; their throat is an open sepulchre; they flatter with their tongue. (Ps. 5:6, 9.) Let the lying lips be put to silence; which speak grievous things proudly and contemptuously against the righteous. (Ps. 31:18.) But the king shall rejoice in God; every one that sweareth by him shall glory; but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped. (Ps. 63:11.) Bread of deceit is sweet to a man; but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel. (Prov. 20:17.) But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolators, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone; which is the second death (8). And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination or maketh a lie; but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life. (Rev. 21:8, 27.)

e. And Reuben answered them, saying, Spake I not unto you, saying, Do not sin against the child; and ye would not hear? Therefore, behold, also his blood is required. (Gen. 42:22.)

AT JOSEPH'S WELL.

HEBRON, ONE OF THE WORLD'S OLDEST CITIES.

What profit is it if we slay our brother, and conceal his blood?

27 Come, and let us sell him to the Ish'-me-el-ītes and let not our hand be upon him; for he is [f]our brother and our flesh. And his brethren were content.

28 Then there passed by Mĭd'ī-an-ītes merchantmen; and they drew and lifted up Jō'-şeph out of the pit, and sold [2]Jō'şeph to the Ish'me-el-ītes for twenty pieces of silver: and they brought Jō'şeph into Ēğўpt.

29 ¶ And [3]Reu'ben returned unto the pit; and, behold, Jō'şeph was not in the pit; and he rent his clothes.

30 And he returned unto his brethren, and said, The child is not; and I, whither shall I go?

31 And they took [2]Jō'şeph's coat, and killed a kid of the goats, and dipped the coat in the blood;

32 And they sent the coat of many colours, and they brought it to their father; and said, This [d]have we found: know now whether it be thy son's coat or no.

33 And he knew it, and said, It is my son's coat; an evil beast hath devoured him; [2]Jō'-şeph is without doubt rent in pieces.

34 And [1]Jā'cob rent his clothes, and put sackcloth upon his loins, and mourned for his son many days.

35 And all his sons and all his daughters rose up to comfort him; but he refused to be comforted; and he said, For I will go down into the [11]grave unto my son mourning. Thus his father wept for him.

36 And the Mĭd'ī-an-ītes sold him into Ē'ğўpt unto Pŏt'ī-phar, an officer of Phā'raōh's, and captain of the guard.

CHAPTER 38.

1 Judah begetteth Er, Onan, and Shelah. 6 Er marrieth Tamar. 13 She deceiveth Judah. 27 She beareth twins, Pharez and Zarah.

1 And it came to pass at that time, that [1]Jū'dah went down from his brethren, and turned in to a certain A-dŭl'lăm-īte, whose name was Hī'rah.

2 And Jū'dah saw there a daughter of a certain Cā'năan-īte, whose name was [2]Shu'ah; and he [3]took her, and went in unto her.

3 And she conceived, and bare a son; and he called his name Ēr.

4 And she conceived again, and bare a son; and she called his name Ō'nan.

5 And she yet again conceived, and bare a son; and called his name Shē'lah: and he was at Chē'zīb, when she bare him.

6 And Jū'dah took a wife for Ēr his firstborn, whose name was Tā'mar.

7 And Ēr, Jū'dah's firstborn, was [4]wicked in the sight of the Lord; and the Lord [5]slew [a]him.

8 And Jū'dah said unto Ō'nan, Go in unto [b]thy brother's wife, and marry her, and raise up [6]seed to thy brother.

11. Grave; the original was sheol, which is the first occurrence of this word. It means the place or state of the dead. It is derived from a word meaning to dig, i. e., the grave; although sometimes derived from a verb meaning to ask, i. e., the wonder with which we ask for the dead. (Lewes.)

The Greek word hades, meaning the unseen abode of the dead, the eye ever peering into the darkness of the world of the dead, or with inquiring wonder listening to the silence of that world of the dead. Both give rise to the same question—"Where is he?" Both seem to imply with equal emphasis that the one unseen and unheard yet really is. Jacob did not expect to go into the grave with his son, as he thought him devoured by the wild beast, but he did think he could and would go to him.

Ch. 38. B. C. 1729-1727.

NOTE.—Ch. 38 forms an essential part of the history of the generations of Jacob. In that history two chief persons were Joseph and Judah; Joseph from his high character, his personal importance, his influence on the destinies of the race, and his typical foreshadowing of the Messiah; Judah from his obtaining the virtual right of leadership, and from his being the ancestor of David and our Saviour (the "son of David"). Hence, when there comes a pause in the history of Joseph, because of his having been sold into Egypt, the historian recurs to the events in the family of Judah, which he carries down to the birth of Pharez, the next link in the ancestry of the Saviour. There is here a remarkable contrast between the impure line of Judah and his children and the chastity and moral integrity of Joseph in the succeeding chapter. (Speakers' Com.)

1. See 10, ch. 37.

2. Father of Judah's wife.

3. This marriage with a Canaanitish woman was a source of many evils, and to save the chosen people from complete affiliation with the heathen, and ruin from that cause, Jehovah brought them into Egypt, where years of bondage would prevent further contamination from them.

4. An imbibing of the idolatry and vice of the Canaanites.

5. Some sudden or fearful death that was recognized as a judgment stroke.

6. The first mention of Levirate marriage.

9 And Ō'nan knew that the seed should not be his; and it came to pass, when he went in unto his brother's wife, that he spilled it on the ground, lest that he should give seed to his brother.

10 And the thing which he did displeased the Lord: wherefore he [a]slew him also.

11 Then said [1]Jū'dah to Tā'mar his daughter in law, Remain a widow at thy father's house, till Shē'lah my son be grown: for he said, Lest peradventure he die also, as his brethren did. And Tā'mar went and dwelt in her father's house.

12 ¶ And in process of time the daughter of [2]Shu'ah Jū'dah's wife died; and Jū'dah was comforted, and went up unto his sheepshearers to Tīm'nath, he and his friend Hī'rah the A-dŭl'lăm-īte.

13 And it was told Tā'mar, saying, Behold thy father in law goeth up to Tīm'nath to shear his sheep.

14 And she put her widow's garments off from her, and covered her with a vail, and wrapped herself, and sat in an open place, which is by the way to Tīm'nath; for she saw that Shē'lah was grown, and she was not given unto him to wife.

15 When [1]Jū'dah saw her, he thought her to be an harlot; because she had covered her face.

16 And he turned unto her by the way, and said, Go to, I pray thee, let me come in unto thee; (for he knew not that she was his daughter in law.) And she said, What wilt thou give me, that thou mayest come in unto me?

17 And he said, I will send thee a kid from the flock. And she said, Wilt [c]thou give me a pledge, till thou send it?

18 And he said, What pledge shall I give thee? And she said, [d]Thy signet, and thy bracelets, and thy staff that is in thine hand. And he gave it her, and came in unto her, and she conceived by him.

19 And she arose, and went away, and [e]laid by her vail from her, and put on the garments of her widowhood.

20 And [1]Jū'dah sent the kid by the hand of his friend the A-dŭl'lăm-īte, to receive his pledge from the woman's hand: but he found her not.

21 Then he asked the men of that place, saying, Where is the harlot, that was openly by the way side? And they said, There was no harlot in this place.

22 And he returned to [1]Jū'dah, and said, I cannot find her; and also the men of the place said, that there was no harlot in this place.

23 And [1]Jū'dah said, Let her take it to her, lest we be shamed: behold, I sent this kid, and thou hast not found her.

24 ¶ And it came to pass about three months after, that it was told [1]Jū'dah, saying, Tā'mar thy daughter in law hath [f]played the harlot; and also, behold, she is with child by whoredom. And [1]Jū'dah, said, Bring her forth, and let her [g]be burnt.

f. And they said one to another, We are verily guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we would not hear; therefore is this distress come upon us. (Gen. 42:21.)

a. God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day. (Ps. 7:11.) Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God; depart from me therefore, ye bloody man. (Ps. 139:19.) The Lord preserveth all them that love him; but all the wicked will he destroy. (Ps. 145:20.) But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it. (Prov. 2:22.) Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth; much more the wicked and the sinner. (Prov. 11:31.) Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him; for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Is. 3:11.) But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth; and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. (Is. 11:4.) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God. (Heb. 10:30-31.)

b. Saying, Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. (Math. 22:24.) If brethren dwell together, and one of them die, and have no child, the wife of the dead shall not marry without unto a stranger; her husband's brother shall go in unto her and take her to him to wife and perform the duty of an husband's brother unto her. And it shall be, that the firstborn which she beareth shall succeed in the name of his brother which is dead, that his name be not put out of Israel. (Dt. 25:5-6.)

c. See v. 20.

e. See v. 14.

f. Do not prostitute thy daughter, to cause her to be a whore; lest the land fall to whoredom, and the land become full of wickedness. (Lev. 19:29.) There shall be no whore of the daughters of Israel, nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel. (Dt. 23:17.) Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths; for she hath cast down many wounded, yea, many strong men have been slain by her. Her house is the way of hell, going down to the chambers of death. (Prov. 7:25-27.)

g. And the daughter of any priest, if she profane herself by playing the whore, she profaneth her father; she shall be burnt with fire. (Lev. 21:9.)

25 When she was brought forth, she sent to her father in law, saying, By the man, whose these are, am I with child: and she said, Discern, I pray thee, whose are these, the signet, and bracelets, and staff.

26 And [1]Jū'dah acknowledged them, and said, She hath been more [j]righteous than I; because that I gave [h]her not to Shē'lah my son. And he knew her again [i]no more.

27 ¶ And it came to pass in the time of her travail, that, behold, twins were in her womb.

28 And it came to pass, when she had travailed, that the one put out his hand: and the midwife took and bound upon his hand a scarlet thread, saying, This came out first.

29 And it came to pass, as he drew back his hand, that, behold, his brother came out: and she said, How hast thou broken forth? this breach be upon thee: therefore his name was called Phā'rĕz.

30 And afterward came out his brother, that had the scarlet thread upon his hand: and his name was called Zā'rah.

CHAPTER 39.

1 Joseph advanced in Potiphar's house. 7 He resisteth his mistress's temptation. 13 He is falsely accused. 20 He is cast in prison. 21 God is with him there.

1 And [1]Jō'şeph was brought down to Ē'ġўpt; and Pŏt'ĭ-phar, an officer of [2]Phā'raōh, captain of the guard, an E-ġўp'tian, bought him of the hands of the Ĭsh'me-el-ītes, which had brought him down thither.

2 And the Lord was [c]with Jō'şeph, and he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house of his master the E-ġўp'tian.

3 And his master saw that the Lord was [c]with him, and that the Lord [b]made all that he did to prosper in his hand.

4 And [1]Jō'şeph [c]found grace in his sight, and he served him: and he made him overseer over his house, and all that he had he put into his hand.

5 And it came to pass from the time that he had made him overseer in his house, and over all that he had, that the [d]Lord blessed the E-ġўp'tian's house for Jō'şeph's sake; and the blessing of the Lord was upon all that he had in the house, and in the field.

6 And he left all that he had in [1]Jō'şeph's hand; and he knew not ought he had, save the bread which he did eat. And Jō'şeph was a goodly person, and well favoured.

7 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that his master's wife cast her eyes upon [1]Jō'şeph; and she said, Lie with me.

8 But he refused, and said unto his master's wife, Behold, my master wotteth not what is with me in the house, and he hath committed all that he hath to my hand;

9 There is none greater in this house than I; neither hath he kept back any thing from me but thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this [e]great wickedness, and sin against God?

10 And it came to pass, as she spake to [1]Jō'şeph day by day, that he hearkened not unto her, to lie by her, or to be with her.

11 And it came to pass about this time, that [1]Jō'şeph went into the house to do his business; and there was none of the men of the house there within.

12 And she caught him by his garment, saying, Lie with me: and he left his garment in her hand, and fled, and got him out.

13 And it came to pass, when she saw that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled forth, 14 That [3]she called unto the men of her house, and spake unto them, saying, See, he hath brought in an Hē'brew unto us to mock us; he came in unto me to lie with me, and I cried with a loud voice:

15 And it came to pass, when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, that he left his garment with me, and fled, and got him out.

16 And she laid up his garment by her, until his lord came home.

17 And she [f]spake unto him according to these words, saying, The Hē'brew servant, which thou hast brought unto us, came in unto me to mock me:

18 And it came to pass, as I lifted up my voice and cried, that he left his garment with me, and [f]fled out.

19 And it came to pass, when his master heard the words of his wife, which she spake unto him, saying, After this manner did thy servant to me; that his wrath was kindled.

20 And [1]Jō'şeph's master took him, and [g]put [4]him into the prison, a place where the king's prisoners were bound: and he was there in the prison.

21 ¶ But the Lord was with [1]Jō'şeph, and shewed him mercy, and gave him [h]favour in the sight of the keeper of the prison.

22 And the keeper of the prison committed to Jō'şeph's hand all the prisoners that were in the prison; and whatsoever they did there, he was the doer of it.

23 The keeper of the prison looked not to any thing that was under his hand; because the Lord was with him, and that which he did, the [a]Lord made it to prosper.

7. He acknowledged his sin and resolved to do so no more; and because he thus humbled himself, God gave him grace, and not only exalted him, but blessed the children that were begotten in sin.

2. The Pharaoh of Joseph was the last or last but one of the fifteenth dynasty. It is usually conjectured that the Pharaoh who so elevated Joseph was a Hyksos, "shepherd king."

3. Quick to ruin the man who would not do her bidding. Observe how lofty was Joseph's answer.

4. Put him in prison or the house of the round tower where the king's prisoners were kept. A very light punishment considering the severity of the Egyptian laws.

i. Surely it is meet to be said unto God, I have borne chastisement, I will not offend any more; that which I see not, teach thou me; if I have done iniquity I will do no more. (Job 34:31, 32.)

Chapter 39.

a. And it came to pass at that time, that Abimelech and Phichol the chief captain of his hosts spake unto Abraham, saying, God is with thee in all that thou doest. (Gen. 21:22.) And the Lord appeared unto him the same night and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father; fear not, for I am with thee and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed, for my servant Abraham's sake. (Gen. 26:24.) And David behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the Lord was with him (14). And Saul saw and knew that the Lord was with David, and that Michal, Saul's daughter, loved him. (1 Sam. 18:14, 28.) Every word of God is pure; he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him. (Prov. 30:5.) And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt; but God was with him. (Acts 7:9.) The words of the Lord are pure words; as silver tried in a furnace of earth; purified 7 times. (Ps. 12:6.)

b. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper. (Ps. 1:3.) For bodily exercise profiteth little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. (I Tim. 4:8.) But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Math. 6:33.)

c. And said, My Lord, if now I have found favor in thy sight, pass not away, I pray thee, from thy servant. (Gen. 18:3.) Unless the Lord had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence (17). When I said, My foot slippeth; thy mercy, O Lord, held me up (18). In the multitude of my thoughts within me thy comforts delight my soul. (Ps. 94:17-19.) By the grace of God I am what I am; and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I labored more abundantly than they all; yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. (I Cor. 15:10.)

d. And Laban said unto him, I pray thee, if I have found favor in thine eyes, tarry; for I have learned by experience that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake. (Gen. 30:27.) And ye shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper. (Ps. 1:3.) And the Lord appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father: fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Abraham's sake. (Gen. 26:24.)

e. So he that goeth in to his neighbor's wife; whosoever toucheth her shall not be innocent (29). But whoso committeth adultery with a woman lacketh understanding; he that doeth it destroyeth his own soul. (Prov. 6:29, 32.) For it is a fire that consumeth to destruction, and would root out all mine increase. (Job 31:12.) Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled; but whoremongers and adulterers, God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

f. Thou shall not raise a false report; put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness (Ex. 23:1.) For a whore is a deep ditch; and a strange woman is a narrow pit. (Prov. 23:27.) A lying tongue hateth those that are afflicted by it; and a flattering mouth worketh ruin. (Prov. 26:28.) The wicked are estranged from the womb; they go astray as soon as they be born, speaking lies. (Ps. 58:3.)

g. Whose feet they hurt with fetters; he was laid in iron. (Ps. 105:18.) For this is thankworthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully. (I Pet. 2:19.)

h. And the Lord gave the people favor in the sight of the Egyptians. Moreover the man Moses was very great in the land of Egypt, in the sight of Pharaoh's servants, and in the sight of the people. (Ex. 11:3.) He made them also to be pitied of all those that carried them captives. (Ps. 106:46.) When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him. (Prov. 16:7.) Now God had brought Daniel into favor and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs. (Dan. 1:9.)

CHAPTER 40.

1 The butler and baker of Pharaoh in prison. 4 Joseph hath charge of them. 5 He interpreteth their dreams. 20 They come to pass according to his interpretation. 23 The ingratitude of the butler.

1 And it came to pass [1]after these things, that the butler of the king of Ē'ğўpt and his baker had [2]offended their lord the king of Ē'ğўpt.

2 And [3]Phā'raōh was [a]wroth against two of his officers, against the chief of the butlers, and against the chief of the bakers.

3 And he put [b]them in [4]ward in the house of the captain of the guard, into the prison, the place where [5]Jō'şeph was bound.

4 And the captain of the guard charged Jō'şeph with them, and he served them: and they continued a season in ward.

5 ¶ And they dreamed a dream both of them, each man his dream in one night, each man according to the interpretation of his dream, the butler and the baker of the king of Ē'ğўpt, which were bound in the prison.

6 And [5]Jō'şeph came in unto them in the morning, and looked upon them, and, behold, they were sad.

7 And he asked [3]Phā'raōh's officers that were with him in the ward of his lord's house, saying, Wherefore look ye so sadly to day?

8 And they said unto him, We have dreamed a dream, and there is no interpreter of it. And [5]Jō'şeph said unto them, Do not [c]interpretations belong to God? tell me them, I pray you.

9 And the chief butler told his dream to [5]Jō'şeph, and said to him, In my dream, behold, a [6]vine was before me;

10 And in the vine were three branches: and it was as though it budded and her blossoms shot forth; and the clusters thereof brought forth ripe grapes:

11 And [3]Phā'raōh's cup was in my hand: and I took the grapes, and pressed them into Phā'raōh's cup, and I gave the cup into Phā'raōh's hand.

12 And [5]Jō'şeph said unto him, This is the interpretation of it: The three branches are three days:

13 Yet within three days shall [3]Phā'raōh lift up thine head, and restore thee unto thy place: and thou shalt deliver Phā'raōh's cup into his hand, after the former manner when thou wast his butler.

14 But think [d]on me when it shall be well with thee, and shew kindness, I pray thee, unto me, and make mention of me unto Phā'raōh, and bring me out of this house:

15 For indeed I was stolen away out of the land of the Hē'brews: and here also have I done nothing that they should put me into the dungeon.

16 When the chief baker saw that the interpretation was good, he said unto Jō'şeph, I also was in my dream, and, behold, I had three white baskets on my head:

17 And in the uppermost basket there was of all manner of [7]bakemeats for Phā'raōh; and the birds did eat them out of the basket upon my head.

18 And Jō'şeph answered and said, This is the interpretation thereof: The three baskets are three days:

19 Yet within three days shall Phā'raōh lift up thy head from off thee, and shall hang thee on a tree; and the birds shall eat thy flesh from off thee.

20 ¶ And it came to pass the third day, which was [3]Phā'raōh's birthday, that he made a feast unto all his servants: and he lifted up the head of the chief butler and of the chief baker among his servants.

21 And he restored the chief butler unto his butlership again; and he gave the cup into Phā'raōh's hand:

22 But he hanged the chief baker: as [5]Jō'şeph had interpreted to them.

23 Yet did not the chief butler remember Jō'şeph, but forgat him.

CHAPTER 41.

1 Pharaoh's two dreams. 25 Joseph interpreteth them. 33 He giveth Pharaoh counsel. 38 Joseph is advanced. 50 He begetteth Manasseh and Ephraim. 54 The famine beginneth.

1 And it came to pass at the end of two [1]full years, that Phā'raōh dreamed: and, behold, he stood by the river.

2 And, behold, there came up out of the [2]river seven well favoured [3]kine and fatfleshed; and they fed in a meadow.

3 And, behold, seven other kine came up after them out of the river, ill favoured and leanfleshed; and stood by the other kine upon the brink of the river.

4 And the ill favoured and leanfleshed kine did eat up the seven well favoured and fat kine. So Phā'raōh awoke.

5 And he slept and dreamed the second time: and, behold, seven ears of corn came up upon one stalk, rank and good.

6 And, behold, seven thin ears and blasted with the east [4]wind sprung up after them.

7 And the seven thin ears devoured the seven rank and full ears. And Phā'raōh awoke, and, behold, it was a dream.

8 And it came to pass in the morning that his spirit was [5]troubled; and he sent and called for all the [c]magicians [a]of Ē'ğўpt, and all the wise men thereof: and Phā'raōh told them his dream; but there was [7]none that could interpret them unto Phā'raōh.

9 ¶ Then spake the chief butler unto Phā'raōh, saying, I do remember my [5]faults this day:

10 Phā'raōh was wroth [b]with his servants, and put me in ward in the captain of the guard's house, both me and the chief baker:

11 And we dreamed a dream in one night, I and he; we dreamed each man according to the interpretation of his dream.

12 And there was there with us a young man, an Hē'brew, servant to the captain of the guard; and we told him, and he [c]interpreted to us our dreams; to each man according to his dream he did interpret.

13 And it came to pass, as he [d]interpreted to us, so it was; me he restored unto mine office, and him he hanged.

14 ¶ Then Phā'raōh sent and called [9]Jō'şeph,

Chapter 40

a. The wrath of a king is as messengers of death; but a wise man will pacify it. (Prov. 16:14.)

b. See ch. 39:20.

c. And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can show it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh (11). But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and maketh known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream and the visions of thy head upon thy bed are these (28). The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret. (Dan. 2:11, 28, 47.)

d. And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. (Lu. 23:42.)

e. Withhold not good from them to whom it is due when it is in the power of thine hand to do it. (Prov. 3:27.) Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man. Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength; nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard. (Ecc. 9:15, 16.)

Chapter 41.

a. Then Pharaoh also called the wise men and the sorcerers; now the magicians of Egypt, they also did in like manner with their enchantments. (Ex. 7:11.) Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvelous work among this people, even a marvelous work and a wonder; for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid. (Is. 29:14.) And in all matters of wisdom and understanding, that the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his realm. (Dan. 1:20.)

c. See ch. 40:12.

d. See ch. 40:22.

and they brought him hastily out [c]of the dungeon: and he shaved himself, and changed his raiment, and came in unto Phā'raōh.

15 And Phā'raōh said unto [9]Jō'ṣeph, I have dreamed a dream, and there is none that can interpret it: [f]and I have heard say of thee, that thou canst understand a dream to interpret it.

16 And Jō'ṣeph answered Phā'raōh saying, [g]It is not in me: God shall give Phā'raōh an answer of peace.

17 And Phā'raōh said unto [9]Jō'ṣeph, In my dream, behold, I stood upon the bank of the river:

18 And, behold, there came up out of the river seven kine, fatfleshed and well favoured; and they fed in a meadow:

19 And, behold, seven other kine came up after them, poor and very ill favoured and leanfleshed, such as I never saw in all the land of Ē'ğўpt for badness:

20 And the lean and the ill favoured kine did eat up the first seven fat kine:

21 And when they had eaten them up, it could not be known that they had eaten them; but they were still ill favoured, as at the beginning. So I awoke.

22 And I saw in my dream, and, behold, seven ears came up in one stalk, full and good:

23 And, behold, seven ears, withered, thin, and blasted with the east wind, sprung up after them:

24 And the thin ears devoured the seven good ears: and I told this unto the magicians; but there was none that could declare it to me.

25 ¶ And [9]Jō'ṣeph said unto Phā'raōh, The dream of Phā'raōh is [10]one: God hath shewed Phā'raōh what he [h]is about to do.

26 The seven good kine are seven years; and the seven good ears are seven years: the dream is one.

27 And the seven thin and ill favoured kine that came up after them are seven years; and the seven empty ears blasted with the east wind shall be seven years of famine.

28 This is the thing which I have spoken unto Phā'raōh: What God is about to do he sheweth unto Phā'raōh.

29 Behold, there come seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Ē'ğўpt:

30 And there shall arise after them seven years of [11]famine; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Ē'ğўpt; and the famine shall consume the land;

31 And the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of that famine following; for it shall be very grievous.

32 And for that the dream was doubled unto Phā'raōh twice; it is because the thing is [i]established by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass.

33 Now therefore let Phā'raōh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Ē'ğўpt.

34 Let Phā'raōh do this, and let him appoint officers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land [j]of Ē'ğўpt in the seven plenteous years.

35 And let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Phā'raōh, and let them keep food in the cities.

36 And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Ē'ğўpt; that the land perish not through the famine.

37 ¶ And the thing was good in the eyes of Phā'raōh, and in the eyes of all his servants.

38 And Phā'raōh said unto his servants, Can we find such a one as this is, a man in whom [j]the Spirit of God is?

39 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'ṣeph, Forasmuch as God hath shewed thee all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou art:

40 Thou shalt be over my house, and according unto thy word shall all my people be ruled: only in the throne will I be greater than thou.

41 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'ṣeph, See, I have set [k]thee over all the land of Ē'ğўpt.

42 And Phā'raōh took off his [12] ring from his hand, and put it upon Jō'ṣeph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain [l]about his neck;

43 And he made him to ride in the second chariot which he had; and they cried before him, Bow the knee: and he made him ruler over all the land of Ē'ğўpt.

44 And Phā'raōh said unto Jō'ṣeph, I am Phā'raōh, and without thee shall no man lift up his hand or foot in all the land of Ē'ğўpt.

45 And Phā'raōh called Jō'ṣeph's name [13]Zăph'nath-pā-a-nē'ah; and he gave him to wife Ās'e-năth the daughter of Po-tĭph'e-rah priest of Ōn. And Jō'ṣeph went out over all the land of Ē'ğўpt.

46 ¶ And [9]Jō'ṣeph was thirty [14]years old when he stood before Phā'raōh king of Ē'ğўpt. And Jō'ṣeph went out from the presence of Phā'raōh, and went throughout all the land of Ē'ğўpt.

47 And in the seven plenteous years the earth brought forth by handfuls.

48 And he gathered up all the food of the seven years, which were in the land of Ē'ğўpt, and laid up the food in the cities: the food of the field, which was round about every city, laid he up in the same.

49 And [9]Jō'ṣeph gathered corn as the sand of the sea, very much, until he left numbering; for it was without number.

50 And unto Jō'ṣeph were born two sons before the years of famine came, which Ās'e-năth the daughter of Po-tĭph'e-rah priest of Ōn bare unto him.

10. That is, the two dreams are but two parts of one and the same dream.

11. The first famines mentioned in the Bible are the famines of Abraham and Isaac. (Gen. 12:10; 26:1.) They were only partial in extent. The next and one of great extent, was in the time of Jacob. It is recorded, "There was famine in all lands." (Gen. 41:54.) It lasted seven years and was remarkable in being preceded by seven years of plenty, which, being foretold by Joseph, the Egyptian government was able to lay up plenty of corn. It is to be noted, however, that this is a famine restricted to the want of corn. There is no indication that there was any lack of pasturage. (Gen. 46:6)—"And they took their cattle and their goods which they had gotten in the land of Canaan, and came into Egypt."

12. Signet ring, hence transfer of royal authority to Joseph.

13. That is, bread of life. By some it is claimed to mean revealer of secrets, or one to whom secrets are revealed. (Vulgate.)

14. Therefore had been 13 years in Egypt.

e. He raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth the needy out of the dunghill; that he may set him with princes, even with the princes of his people. (Ps. 113:7, 8.)

f. The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and he will show them his covenant. (Ps. 25:14.) And I have heard of thee, that thou canst make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the 3d ruler in the kingdom. (Dan. 5:16.)

g. But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but for their sakes that shall make known the interpretation to the king, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart. (Dan. 2:30.) Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think anything as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God. (II Cor. 3:5.)

h. But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and maketh known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these (28); As for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter; and he that revealeth secrets maketh known to thee what shall come to pass (29). Forasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter; and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure. (Dan. 2:28, 29, 45.) After this I looked and, behold, a door was opened in heaven; and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will show thee things which must be hereafter. (Rev. 4:1.)

i. Or prepared of God.—Remember the former things of old; for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me (9). Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure (10). Calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man that executeth my counsel from a far country; yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass; I have proposed it, I will also do it. (Is. 46:9-11.)

j. And the Lord said unto Moses, Take thee Joshua the son of Nun, a man in whom is the spirit, and lay thine hand upon him. (Num 27:18.) But there is a spirit in man: and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding. (Job 32:8.) Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm. (Dan. 6:3.)

k. The king's favor is toward a wise servant: but his wrath is against him that causeth shame. (Prov. 14:35.) Better is a poor and a wise child than an old and foolish king, who will no more be admonished. For out of prison he cometh to reign; whereas also he that is born in his kingdom becometh poor. (Ecc. 4:13, 14.)

l. Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the 3d ruler in the kingdom. (Dan. 5:29.)

51 And [9]Jō'şeph called the name of the firstborn [10]Ma-năs'seh: For God, said he, hath made me forget all my toil, and all my father's house.

52 And the name of the second called he [10]Ē'phră-ĭm: For God hath caused me to be fruitful in the land of my affliction.

53 ¶ And the seven years of plenteousness, that was in the land of Ē'ġўpt, were ended.

54 And the seven years of dearth began to come, according as Jō'şeph had said: and the [m]dearth was in all lands; but in all the land of Ē'ġўpt there was bread.

55 And when all the land of Ē'ġўpt was famished, the people cried to Phā'raōh for bread: and Phā'raōh said unto all the E-ġўp'tians, Go unto Jō'şeph; what he saith to you, do.

56 And the [11]famine was over all the face of the earth: and Jō'şeph opened all the storehouses, and sold [n]unto the E-ġўp'tians; and the famine waxed sore in the land of Ē'ġўpt.

57 And all countries came into Ē'ġўpt to Jō'şeph for to buy corn; because that the famine was so sore in all lands.

CHAPTER 42.

1 Jacob sendeth his ten sons to buy corn in Egypt. 16 They are imprisoned by Joseph for spies. 18 They are set at liberty, on condition to bring Benjamin. 21 They have remorse for Joseph. 24 Simeon is kept for a pledge. 25 They return with corn, and their money. 29 Their relation to Jacob. 36 Jacob refuseth to send Benjamin.

1 Now when [1]Jā'cob saw that there was corn in Ē'ġўpt, Jā'cob said unto his sons, Why do ye [2]look one upon another?

2 And he said, Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Ē'ġўpt: get you down thither, and buy for us from thence; that we may live, and not die.

3 ¶ And [3]Jō'şeph's ten [4]brethren went down to buy corn in Ē'ġўpt.

4 But Bĕn'ja-min, [3]Jō'şeph's brother, Jā'cob sent not with his brethren; for he said, Lest [a]peradventure mischief befall him.

5 And the sons of Ĭs'ra-el came to buy corn among those that came: for the famine was in the [b]land of Cā'năan.

6 And [3]Jō'şeph was the [5]governor over the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land: and Jō'şeph's brethren came, and [c]bowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth.

7 And [3]Jō'şeph saw his brethren, and he knew them, but made himself strange unto them, and spake [c]roughly unto them; and he said unto them, Whence come ye? And they said, From the land of Cā'năan to buy food.

8 And [3]Jō'şeph knew his brethren, but they knew him not.

9 And Jō'şeph [d]remembered the dreams which he dreamed of them, and said unto them, Ye are spies; to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

10 And they said unto him, Nay, my lord, but to buy food are thy servants come.

11 We are all one man's sons; we are true men, thy servants are no spies.

12 And he said unto them, Nay, but to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

13 And they said, Thy servants are twelve brethren, the sons of one man in the land of Cā'năan; and, behold, the youngest is this day with our father, and one is not.

14 And Jō'şeph said unto them, That is it that I spake unto you, saying, Ye are spies:

15 Hereby ye shall be proved: By the [f]life of Phā'raōh ye shall not go forth hence, except your youngest brother come hither.

16 Send one of you, and let him fetch your brother, and ye shall be kept in prison, that your words may be proved, whether there be any truth in you: or else by the life of Phā'raōh surely ye are spies.

17 And he put them all together into [8]ward three days.

18 And [3]Jō'şeph said unto them the third day, This do, and live; for I [e]fear God:

19 If ye be true men, let one of your brethren be bound in the house of your prison: go ye, carry corn for the famine of your houses:

20 But bring your youngest brother unto me; so shall your words be verified, and ye shall not die. And they did so.

21 ¶ And they said one to another, We [g]are verily guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we would not hear; therefore [f]is this distress come upon us.

22 And [11]Reu'ben answered them, saying, Spake I not unto you, saying, Do not sin against the child; and ye would not hear? therefore, behold, also his blood is [10][g]required.

23 And they knew not that [3]Jō'şeph understood them; for he spake unto them by an interpreter.

24 And he turned himself about from them, and wept; and returned to them again, and communed with them, and took from them [12]Sĭm'e-on, and bound him before their eyes.

25 ¶ Then [3]Jō'şeph commanded to fill their sacks with corn, and to restore every man's

15. Meaning forgetting, for he says God had made him forget the dark side of his exile, had overruled the evil and made good come therefrom.

16. Fruitful in the land of my affliction. A recognition of the fact that God was in the results, but that Egypt was not his proper home.

Ch. 42. B. C. 1707.

1. See note 9, ch. 25, for life of Jacob.

2. Fear, born of a guilty conscience, dreading a retributive judgment in the land whither they had sold their brother.

3. See 15, ch. 30, for history of Joseph.

4. Would not go alone—another expression of fear.

5. Supervision, that a general traffic be not carried on for profit among nations who might wish to take advantage of the opportunity.

6. Joseph desires to know whether they have treated his father and brother kindly or not. He therefore tests them severely to prove the strength of their affections.

7. Egyptian form of oath.

8. Under watch or surveillance.

9. The brothers here seem to recognize a divine retribution in their trials as a punishment for the sin they committed against their brother Joseph.

10. That the avenger of blood has overtaken them is their fear.

11. See 10, ch. 30, for life of Reuben.

m. Moreover he called for a famine upon the land; he brake the whole staff of bread (Ps. 105:16.) Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance. (Acts 7:11.)

n. And Joseph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corn which they bought: and Joseph brought the money into Pharaoh's house (14). And it shall come to pass in the increase, that ye shall give the 5th part unto Pharaoh; and 4 parts shall be your own, for seed of the field, and for your food, and for them of your households, and for food for your little ones. (Gen. 47:14-24.) He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him; but blessings shall be upon the head of him that selleth it. (Prov. 11:26.)

a. See v. 38.

b. And there was a famine in the land; and Abram went down into Egypt to sojourn there; for the famine was grievous in the land. (Gen. 12:10.) And there was a famine in the land, beside the first famine that was in the days of Abraham. And Isaac went unto Abimelech king of the Philistines unto Gerar. (Gen. 26:1.) Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction; and our fathers found no sustenance. (Acts 7:11.)

c. Let people serve thee, and nations bow down to thee; be lord over thy brethren, and let thy mother's sons bow down to thee; cursed be every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee. (Gen. 27:29.) For, behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and lo, my sheaf arose, and also stood upright; and, behold, your sheaves stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheaf. (Gen. 37:7.) The sons also of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despise thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee, The city of the Lord, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel. (Is. 60:14.)

d. And Joseph dreamed a dream, and he told it his brethren; and they hated him yet the more (5). And he dreamed yet another dream, and told it his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream more; and, behold, the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made obeisance to me. (Gen. 37:5, 9.)

e. Thou shalt not rule over him with rigor, but shalt fear thy God. (Lev. 25:43.) But the former governors that had been before me were chargeable unto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides 40 shekels of silver; yea, even their servants bear rule over the people; but so did not I, because of the fear of God. (Neh. 5:15.)

f. Fools because of their transgression and because of their iniquities, are afflicted. (Ps. 107:17.) His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sins. (Prov. 5:22.) Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished, but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered. (Prov. 11:21.) Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard. (Prov. 21:13.) For what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged; and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again. (Math. 7:2.) Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy; for thou renderest to every man according to his works. (Ps. 62:12.) If thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not: doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? And he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? And shall not he render to every man according to his works? (Prov. 24:12.) But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it. (Prov. 2:22.) The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the just. (Prov. 3:33.)

g. And surely your blood of your lives will I require; at the hand of every beast will I require it, and at the hand of man; at the hand of every man's brother will I require the life of man. (5.) And God said, This is the token of the covenant which I make between me and you and every living creature, that is with you, for perpetual generations. (Gen. 9:5, 12.) That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation. (Lu. 11:50.)

money into his sack, and to give them provision for the way: and thus [h]did he unto them.

26 And they laded their asses with the corn, and departed thence.

27 And as one of them opened his sack to give his ass provender in the inn, he espied his money; for, behold, it was in his sack's mouth.

28 And he said unto his brethren, My money is restored; and, lo, it is even in my sack: and their heart failed them, and they were afraid, saying one to another, What is this that God hath done unto us?

29 ¶ And they came unto [1]Jā'cob their father unto the land of Cā'năan, and told him all that befell unto them; saying,

30 The man, who is the lord of the land, spake roughly to us, and took us for spies of the country.

31 And we said unto him, We are true men; we are no spies:

32 We be twelve brethren, sons of our father; one is not, and the youngest is this day with our father in the land of Cā'năan.

33 And the man, the lord of the country, said unto us, Hereby shall I know that ye are true men; leave one of your brethren here with me, and take food for the famine of your households, and be gone:

34 And bring your youngest brother unto me: then shall I know that ye are no spies, but that ye are true men: so will I deliver you your brother, and ye shall traffick in the land.

35 ¶ And it came to pass as they emptied their sacks, that, behold, every man's bundle of money was in his sack: and when both they and their father saw the bundles of money, they were afraid.

36 And [1]Jā'cob their father said unto them, Me have ye bereaved of my children: [3]Jō'şeph is not, and [12]Sĭm'e-on is not, and ye will take [13]Bĕn'ja-min away: all these things are against me.

37 And Reu'ben spake unto his father, saying, Slay my two sons, if I bring him not to thee: deliver him into my hand, and I will bring him to thee again.

38 And he said, My son shall not go down with you; for [i]his brother is dead, and he is left alone: if mischief befall him by the way in the which ye go, then shall ye bring [j]down my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave.

CHAPTER 43.

1 Jacob is hardly persuaded to send Benjamin. 15 Joseph entertaineth his brethren. 31 He maketh them a feast.

1 And the famine was [1]sore [a]in the land.

2 And it came to pass, when they had eaten up the corn which they had brought out of Ē'gўpt, their father said unto them, Go again, buy us a little food.

3 And Jū'dah spake unto him, saying, The man did solemnly protest unto us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, except your [b]brother be with you.

4 If thou wilt send our brother with us, we will go down and buy thee food:

5 But if thou wilt not send him, we will not go down: for the man said unto us, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you.

6 And [2]Ĭs'ra-el said, Wherefore dealt ye so ill with me, as to tell the man whether ye had yet a brother?

7 And they said, The man asked us straitly of our state, and of our kindred, saying, Is your father yet alive? have ye another brother? and we told him according to the tenor of these words: could we certainly know that he would say, Bring your brother down?

8 And Jū'dah [3]said unto Ĭs'ra-el his father, Send the lad with me, and we will arise and go; that we may live, and not die, both we, and thou, and also our little ones.

9 I will be surety for him; of my hand shalt thou require him: if I bring him not unto thee, and set him before thee, then let me bear the blame for ever:

10 For except we had lingered, surely now we had returned this second time.

11 And their father [2]Ĭs'ra-el said unto them, If it must be so now, do this; take of the best fruits in the land in your vessels, and carry down the man a present, a little balm, and a little honey, spices, and myrrh, nuts, and almonds:

12 And take double money in your hand; and the money that was brought again in the mouth of your sacks, carry it again in your hand; peradventure it was an oversight:

13 Take also your brother, and arise, go again unto the [4]man:

14 And God Almighty give you mercy before the [4]man, that he may send away your other brother, and Bĕn'ja-min. If I be [5]bereaved of my children, I am bereaved.

15 ¶ And the men took that present, and they took double money in their hand, and Bĕn'ja-min; and rose up, and went down to Ē'gўpt, and stood before [6]Jō'şeph.

16 [7]And when Jō'şeph saw Bĕn'ja-min with them, he said to the ruler of his house, Bring these men home, and slay and make ready; for these men shall dine with me at noon.

17 And the man did as [6]Jō'şeph bade; and the man brought the men into Jō'şeph's house.

18 And the men were afraid, because they were brought into Jō'şeph's house; and they said, Because of the money that was returned in our sacks at the first time are we brought in; that he may seek occasion against us, and fall upon us, and take us for bondmen, and our asses.

19 And they came near to the steward of [6]Jō'şeph's house, and they communed with him at the door of the house,

20 And said, O sir, we came indeed down at the first time to buy food:

21 And it came to pass, when we came to the inn, that we opened our sacks, and, behold, every man's money was in the mouth of his sack, our money in full weight: and we have brought it again in our hand.

22 And other money have we brought down in our hands to buy food: we cannot tell who put our money in our sacks.

12. As he was one of the most cruel and heartless of the brothers in making away with Joseph, his punishment is now likewise the greatest.

13. The youngest of the sons of Jacob. Full brother to Joseph. His mother, Rachel, died immediately after he was born.

Ch. 43. B. C. 1707.

1. That is, had continued two years.

2. Jacob.

3. Judah persuades Israel, his father, he also pleads with Joseph.

4. Joseph. The brothers had not recognized him.

5. Deprived or robbed of.

6. See 15, ch. 30, for life of Joseph.

7. Vs. 15-34, feast and reception at Joseph's house.

h. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Math. 5:44.) Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. (17.) Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink; for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good. (Rom. 12:17, 20, 21.) If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink. (Prov. 25:21.) Bless them that persecute you; bless, and curse not. (Rom. 12:14.)

i. And he knew it, and said, It is my son's coat; an evil beast hath devoured him; Joseph is without doubt rent in pieces. (Gen. 37:33.) And the one went out from me, and I said, Surely he is torn in pieces; and I saw him not since. (Gen. 44:28.)

j. And all his sons and all his daughters rose up to comfort him; but he refused to be comforted; and he said, For I will go down into the grave unto my son mourning. Thus his father wept for him. (Gen. 37:35.) It shall come to pass, when he seeth that the lad is not with us, that he will die; and thy servants shall bring down the gray hairs of thy servant our father with sorrow to the grave. (Gen. 44:31.)

a. Behold, there come 7 years of great plenty throughout all the land of Egypt. And there shall arise after them 7 years of famine; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt; and the famine shall consume the land. And the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of that famine following; for it shall be very grievous. And for that the dream was doubled unto Pharaoh twice; it is because the thing is established by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass. (Gen. 41:29-32.) And Elijah went to show himself unto Ahab. And there was a sore famine in Samaria. (I Ks. 18:2.) And in the 4th month, in the 9th day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land. (Jer. 52:6.) Our skin was black like an oven because of the terrible famine. (Lam. 5:10.)

b. But bring your youngest brother unto me; so shall your words be verified, and ye shall not die. And they did so. (Gen. 42:20.) And thou saidst unto thy servants, Except your youngest brother come down with you, ye shall see my face no more. (Gen. 44:23.)

23 And he said, Peace be to you, fear not: your God, and the God of your father, hath given you treasure in your sacks: I had your money. And he brought Sĭm'e-on out unto them.

24 And the [8]man brought the men into Jō'ṣeph's house, and gave [c]them water, and they washed their feet; and he gave their asses provender.

25 And they made ready the present [9]against Jō'ṣeph came at noon: for they heard that they should eat bread there.

26 ¶ And when [10]Jō'ṣeph came home, they brought him the present which was in their hand into the house, and [10]bowed [d]themselves to him to the earth.

27 And he asked them of their welfare, and said, Is your father well, the old man of whom ye spake? Is he yet alive?

28 And they answered, Thy servant our father is in good health, he is yet alive. And they bowed [d]down their heads, and made obeisance.

29 And he lifted up his eyes, and saw his brother Bĕn'ja-min, his mother's son, and said, Is this your younger brother, of whom ye spake unto me? And he said, God be gracious unto thee, my son.

30 And Jō'ṣeph made haste; for his [11]bowels did yearn upon his brother: and he sought where to weep; and he entered into his chamber, and wept there.

31 And he washed his face, and went out, and refrained himself, and said, Set on bread.

32 And they set on for him by himself, and for them by themselves, and for the Ē-ġўp'tians, which did eat with him, by themselves: because the Ē-ġўp'tians might not eat bread with the Hē'brews; for that is an [e]abomination unto the Ē-ġўp'tians.

33 And they sat before him, the firstborn according to his birthright, and the youngest according to his youth: and the men marvelled one at another.

34 And he took and sent messes unto them from before him: but Bĕn'ja-min's mess was five times so much as any of their's. And they drank, and were merry with him.

CHAPTER 44.

1 Joseph's policy to stay his brethren. 14 Judah's humble supplication to Joseph.

1 And [1]he commanded the steward of his house, saying, Fill the men's sacks with food, as much as they can carry, and put every man's money in his sack's mouth.

2 And put my [2]cup, the silver cup, in the sack's mouth of the youngest, and his corn money. And he did according to the word that [3]Jō'ṣeph had spoken.

3 As soon as the morning was light, the men were sent away, they and their asses.

4 And when they were gone out of the city, and not yet far off, [3]Jō'ṣeph said unto his steward, Up, follow after the men; and when thou dost overtake them, say unto them, Wherefore have ye rewarded evil for good?

5 Is not this it in which my Lord drinketh, and whereby indeed he [4]divineth? ye have done evil in so doing.

6 ¶ And he overtook them, and he spake unto them these same words.

7 And they said unto him, Wherefore saith my lord these words? God forbid that thy servants should do according to this thing:

8 Behold, the money, [a]which we found in our sacks' mouths, we brought again unto thee out of the land of Cā'năan: how then should we steal out of thy lord's house silver or gold?

9 With whomsoever of thy servants it be found, both [b]let him die, and we also will be my lord's bondmen.

10 And [5]he said, Now also let it be according unto your words: he with whom it is found shall be my servant; and ye shall be blameless.

11 Then they speedily took down every man his sack to the ground, and opened every man his sack.

12 And he searched, and began at the eldest, and left at the youngest: and the cup was found in Bĕn'ja-min's sack.

13 Then they rent [c]their clothes, and laded every man his ass, and returned to the city.

14 ¶ And Jū'dah and his brethren came to Jō'ṣeph's house; for he was yet there: and they fell [d]before him on the ground.

15 And [3]Jō'ṣeph said unto them, What deed is this that ye have done? wot ye not that such a man as I can certainly divine?

16 And Jū'dah said, What [e]shall we say unto my lord? what shall we speak? or how shall we clear ourselves? God hath found out the iniquity of thy servants: behold, we [f]are my lord's servants, both we, and he also with whom the cup is found.

17 And he said, God forbid that I should do so: but the man in whose hand the cup is found, he shall be my servant; and as for you, get you up in peace unto your father.

18 ¶ Then [6]Jū'dah came near unto him, and said, Oh my lord, let thy servant, I pray thee, speak a word in my lord's ears, and let [g]not thine anger burn against thy servant: for thou art even as Phā'raōh.

8. Steward of Joseph's house.

9. By the time.

10. All eleven of his brothers now bowing down to Joseph—another act fulfilling Joseph's dreams.

11. To love, to have compassion upon.

Ch. 44. B. C. 1707.

1. Joseph.

2. A large silver goblet or bowl out of which Joseph is wont to divine. See v. 5.

3. See note 15, ch. 30, for history of Joseph.

4. Or maketh trial to interpret secrets as a magician.

5. The steward of Joseph's house.

6. Nothing in all the range of literature surpasses this appeal of Judah in behalf of his father and brother. He denies nothing. He seems to be overwhelmed with the fact that all his iniquities were open before God, and that the judgments of God were in their trials. Kalisch observes J., the lion, could never degrade his dignity by an outburst of impotent rage. The tempest of his feelings was checked by controlling reason. Stepping forward toward the inexorable man, with the courage and modesty of a hero, he delivered that address which is one of the masterpieces of Hebrew literature. It is not distinguished by the charms of a rhetorician, its strength and beauty lie in the selection, arrangement, and intrinsic emphasis of the facts. The deep and fervent love of the aged father for his youngest son forms the central fact, round which the other parts of the speech—the allusion to Joseph, to Rachel, and to the struggle of the brothers before their departure to Canaan—are skillfully grouped. Jacob would never survive the loss of Benjamin, and, if they returned without him, they would see their father expire in agony before their eyes. Now, anxious to seal his filial love by the greatest sacrifice he could offer, Judah was ready to renounce his home, his wife, his children, and toil forever in the drudgery of Egyptian bondage.

c. Let a little water, I pray you, be fetched, and wash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree. (Gen. 18:4.) And the man came into the house; and he ungirded his camels, and gave straw and provender for the camels, and water to wash his feet, and the men's feet that were with him. (Gen. 24:32.) And he turned to the woman and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet; but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head. (Lu. 7:44.) Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work. (I Tim. 5:10.)

e. That ye shall say, Thy servants' trade hath been about cattle from our youth even until now, both we and also our fathers; that ye may dwell in the land of Goshen; for every shepherd is an abomination unto the Egyptians. (Gen. 46:34.) And Moses said, It is not meet so to do; for we shall sacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians to the Lord our God; lo, shall we sacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eyes, and will they not stone us? (Ex. 8:26.)

a. And it came to pass, when we came to the inn, that we opened our sacks, and, behold, every man's money was in the mouth of his sack, our money in full weight; and we have brought it again in our hand. (Gen. 43:21.)

b. With whomsoever thou findest thy gods, let him not live; before our brethren discern thou what is thine with me, and take it to thee. For Jacob knew not that Rachel had stolen them. (Gen. 31:32.)

c. And Reuben returned unto the pit, and behold, Joseph was not in the pit; and he rent his clothes (29). And Jacob rent his clothes, and put sackcloth upon his loins, and mourned for his son many days. (Gen. 37:29, 34.) Then David took hold on his clothes, and rent them; and likewise all the men that were with him. (II Sam. 1:11.) Then the king arose and tare his garments, and lay on the earth, and all his servants stood by with their clothes rent. (II Sam. 13:31.)

d. For, behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and, lo, my sheaf arose, and also stood upright; and, behold, your sheaves stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheaf. (Gen. 37:7.)

e. Behold, I am vile; what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth. (Job 40:4.) Slay utterly old and young, both maids, and little children, and women: but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the ancient men which were before the house. (Ez. 9:6.) Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight; that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest and be clear when thou judgest. (Ps. 51:4.)

f. See v. 9.

g. And he said unto him, O let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak: Peradventure there shall 30 be found there. And he said, I will not do it if I find 30 there (30). And he said, O let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once; Peradventure 10 shall be found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for 10 sake. (Gen. 18:30, 32.) And Aaron said, Let not the anger of my lord wax hot; thou knowest the people, that they are set on mischief. (Ex. 32:22.) Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak; slow to wrath: For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. (Ja. 1:19, 20.)

19 My lord asked his servants, saying, Have ye a father, or a brother?
20 And we said unto my lord, We have a father, an old man, and a child of his old age, a little one; and his brother is dead, and he alone is left of his mother, and his father loveth him.
21 And thou saidst unto thy servants, Bring [h]him down unto me, that I may set mine eyes upon him.
22 And we said unto my lord, The lad cannot leave his father: for if he should leave his father, his father would die.
23 And thou saidst unto thy servants, Except [i]your youngest brother come down with you, ye shall see my face no more.
24 And it came to pass when we came up unto thy servant my father, we told him the words of my lord.
25 And our father said, Go again, and buy us a little food.
26 And we said, We cannot go down: if our youngest brother be with us, then will we go down: for we may not see the man's face, except our youngest brother be with us.
27 And thy servant my father said unto us, Ye know that my wife bare me two sons:
28 And the one went out from me, and I said, Surely he is torn in pieces; and I saw him not since:
29 And if ye take [k]this also from me, and mischief befall him, ye shall bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave.
30 Now therefore when I come to thy servant my father, and the lad be not with us; seeing that his life is bound up in the lad's life;
31 It shall come to pass, when he seeth that the lad is not with us, that he will die: and thy servants shall bring down the gray hairs of thy servant our father with sorrow to the grave.
32 For thy servant became [l]surety for the lad unto my father, saying, If I bring him not unto thee, then I shall bear the blame to my father for ever.
33 Now therefore, I pray thee, let thy servant abide instead of the lad a bondman to my lord; and let the lad go up with his brethren.
34 For how shall I go up to my father, and the lad be not with me? lest peradventure I see the evil that shall come on my father.

CHAPTER 45.

1 Joseph maketh himself known to his brethren. 5 He comforteth them in God's providence. 9 He sendeth for his father. 16 Pharaoh confirmeth it. 21 Joseph furnisheth them for their journey. 25 Jacob is revived with the news.

1 Then [1]Jō'seph could not refrain himself before all them that stood by him; and he cried, Cause every man to go out from me. And there stood no man with him, while Jō'seph made himself known unto his brethren.

Ch. 45. B. C. 1707-1706.

1. See 15, ch. 30, for life of Joseph.

2. Or terrified, filled with trepidation.

3. Previous to this meeting they had not suspected who Joseph was, and when he displayed such warmth of feeling and love toward them and their father and Benjamin, they were troubled, and shrank away from before his face.

4. He notices their fear and seeks to put them at ease by assuring them that he is one of them.

5. Neither let there be anger in your eyes.

6. Four times he repeats the statement that God's hand had been directing this matter—he wanted them to see it.

7. The word father is used in such a sense in many lands. The Romanists call their priests father, the Mohammedan caliphs give their grand vizier this title.

8. Goshen was on the northeast frontier of Egypt, the part of the country nearest to Canaan, east of the Pelusiac branch of the Nile. There are at the present time more flocks and herds here than in any other part of Egypt, thus showing that it was the best part of the country.

9. That is, in my native language. He has been talking to them in the Egyptian tongue, but now he speaks in their own language.

10. See 16, ch. 42, for history of Benjamin.

2 And he wept aloud: and the Ē-ġyp'tians and the house of Phā'raōh heard.
3 And [1]Jō'seph said unto his brethren, I am Jō'seph; doth my father yet live? And his brethren could not answer him; for they were [2a]troubled [3]at his presence.
4 And [1]Jō'seph said unto his brethren, Come near to me, I pray you. And they came [4]near. And he said, I am Jō'seph your brother, whom ye [b]sold into Ē'ġyp.
5 Now therefore be not grieved, [5]nor angry with yourselves, that ye sold me hither: for [c]God [c]did send me before you to preserve life.
6 For these two years hath the famine been in the land: and yet there are five years, in the which there shall neither be earing nor harvest.
7 And God sent me before you to preserve you a posterity in the earth, and to save your lives by a great deliverance.
8 So now it was not you that sent me hither, but God: and he hath made me a [7]father [d]to Phā'raōh, and lord of all his house, and a ruler throughout all the land of Ē'ġyp.
9 Haste ye, and go up to my father, and say unto him, Thus saith thy son [1]Jō'seph, God hath made me lord of all Ē'ġyp: come down unto me, tarry not:
10 And thou shalt dwell in the land of [8]Gō'shen, and thou shalt be near unto me, thou, and thy children, and thy children's children, and thy flocks, and thy herds, and all that thou hast:
11 And there will I nourish thee; for yet there are five years of famine; lest thou, and thy household, and all that thou hast, come to poverty.
12 And, behold, your eyes see, and the eyes of my brother [10]Bĕn'ja-min, that it is [9]my mouth that speaketh unto you.
13 And ye shall tell my father of all my glory in Ē'ġyp, and of all that ye have seen; and ye shall haste and bring down my father hither.
14 And he fell upon his brother [10]Bĕn'ja-min's neck, and wept; and [10]Bĕn'ja-min wept upon his neck.
15 Moreover he kissed all his brethren, and wept upon them: and after that his brethren talked with him.
16 ¶ And the fame thereof was heard in Phā'raōh's house, saying, [1]Jō'seph's brethren are come: and it pleased Phā'raōh well, and his servants.
17 And Phā'raōh said unto [1]Jō'seph, Say unto thy brethren, This do ye; lade your beasts, and go, get you unto the land of Cā'nāan;
18 And take your father and your households, and come unto me: and I will give you the good of the land of Ē'ġyp, and ye shall eat the [e]fat of the land.
19 Now thou art commanded, this do ye; take you wagons out of the land of Ē'ġyp for

b. Hereby ye shall be proved: By the life of Pharaoh ye shall not go forth hence, except your youngest brother come hither (15). But bring your youngest brother unto me; so shall your words be verified, and ye shall not die. And they did so. (Gen. 42:15, 20.)
i. See ch. 43:3-5.
j. And he knew it, and said, It is my son's coat; an evil beast hath devoured him; Joseph is without doubt rent in pieces. (Gen. 37:33.)
k. And Jacob their father said unto them, Me have ye bereaved of my children; Joseph is not, and Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin away; all these things are against me (36). And he said, My son shall not go down with you; for his brother is dead, and he is left alone; if mischief befall him by the way in the which ye go, then shall ye bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave. (Gen. 42:36, 38.)
l. See ch. 43:9.

a. But now it has come upon thee, and thou faintest; it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled. (Job 4:5.) Therefore am I troubled at his presence; when I consider, I am afraid of him. (Job 23:15.) Thou holdest mine eyes waking; I am so troubled that I cannot speak. (Ps. 77:4.) And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear. (Math. 14:26.)
b. Then there passed by Midianites, merchantmen; and they drew and lifted up Joseph out of the pit, and sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for 20 pieces of silver; and they brought Joseph into Egypt. (Gen. 37:38.)
c. But as for you, ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive. (Gen. 50:20.) And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zeruiah? So let him curse, because the Lord hath said unto him, Curse David. Who shall then say, Wherefore hast thou done so? And David said to Abishai, and to all his servants, Behold, my son, which came forth of my bowels, seeketh my life; how much more now may this Benjamite do it? Let him alone, and let him curse, for the Lord hath bidden him. (II Sam. 16:10, 11.) Moreover he called for a famine upon the land; he brake the whole staff of bread. He sent a man before them, even Joseph, who was sold for a servant. (Ps. 105:16, 17.) The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go. (Acts 3:13.)
d. And he made him to ride in the second chariot which he had; and they cried before him, Bow the knee; and he made him ruler over all the land of Egypt. (Gen. 41:43.) And Micah said unto him, Dwell with me, and be unto me a father and a priest, and I will give thee 10 shekels of silver by the year, and a suit of apparel, and thy victuals. So the Levite went in. (Jud. 17:10.)
e. Therefore God give thee of the dew of heaven, and the fatness of the earth, and plenty of corn and wine. (Gen. 27:28.) All the best of the oil, and all the best of the wine, and of the wheat, the firstfruits of them which they shall offer unto the Lord, them have I given thee. (Num. 18:12.)

your little ones, and for your wives, and bring your father, and come.

20 Also [11]regard not your stuff; for the good of all the land of Ē'ġўpt is your's.

21 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did so: and [1]Jō'şeph gave them wagons, according to the commandment of Phā'raōh, and gave them provision for the way.

22 To all of them he gave each man changes of raiment; but to [10]Bĕn'ja-min he gave three hundred pieces of silver, and five changes of raiment.

23 And to his father he sent after this manner; ten asses laden with the good things of Ē'ġўpt, and ten she asses laden with corn and bread and meat for his father by the way.

24 So he sent his brethren away, and they departed: and he said unto them, See that ye fall [12]not out by the way.

25 ¶ And they went up out of Ē'ġўpt, and came into the land of Cā'năan unto Jā'cob their father, 26 And told him saying, [1]Jō'şeph is yet alive, and he is governor over all the land of Ē'ġўpt. And [13]Jā'cob's heart fainted, for he believed them not.

27 And they told him all the words of [1]Jō'şeph, which he had said unto them: and when he saw the wagons which Jō'şeph had sent to carry him, the spirit of [13]Jā'cob their father revived:

28 And [14]Ĭs'ra-el said, It is enough; Jō'şeph my son is yet alive: I will go and see him before I die.

CHAPTER 46.

1 Jacob is comforted by God at Beer-sheba: 5 Thence he with his company goeth into Egypt. 8 The number of his family that went into Egypt. 29 Joseph meeteth Jacob. 31 He instructeth his brethren how to answer to Pharaoh.

1 And [1]Ĭs'ra-el took his journey with all that he had, and came to [2]Bē'er-shē'bà, and offered sacrifices unto the God of his father Ī'ṣaac.

2 And God [3]spake unto Ĭs'ra-el in the visions of the night, and said, Jā'cob, Jā'cob. And he said, Here am I.

3 And he said, I am God, the God of thy father: fear not to go down into Ē'ġўpt; for I will there make of thee [a]a great nation:

4 I will go down with [b]thee into Ē'ġўpt; and I will also [4]surely [c]bring thee up again: and [5]Jō'şeph shall put his hand upon thine eyes.

5 And Jā'cob rose up from Bē'er-shē'bà: and the [6]sons of Ĭs'ra-el carried Jā'cob their father, and their little ones, and their wives, in the wagons which Phā'raōh had sent to carry him.

6 And they took their cattle, and their goods, which they had gotten in the land of Cā'năan, and came into Ē'ġўpt, Jā'cob, and all his seed with him:

7 His sons, and his sons' sons with him, his daughters, and his sons' daughters, and [7]all his seed brought he with him into Ē'ġўpt.

8 ¶ And these are the names of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, which came into Ē'ġўpt, Jā'cob and his sons: Reu'ben, Jā'cob's firstborn.

9 And the sons of Reu'ben; Hā'noch, and Phăl'lū, and Hĕz'ron, and Cär'mī.

11. Bring all you have; all losses you may incur in moving your household goods shall be made good unto you. Let not your possessions keep you away.

12. Let not each one seek to clear himself of all blame and accuse others, lest ye "fall out" with one another on the way.

13. See 9, ch. 25, for history of Jacob.

14. The change of name from Jacob to Israel is quite significant here, and seems to have been studiously used in this verse inasmuch as the prophecy that Jacob should be the heir of the great promises made to Abraham, was being fulfilled and the name Israel being realized.

Ch. 46. B. C. 1706.

NOTE.—In ch. 47 the chosen family of Abraham is to be developed into a chosen nation. The prophecy of ch. 15:13-15 is about to be realized, and therefore Jacob recognizes the call of Jehovah in the command to go down into Egypt. For more than two centuries Abraham and his children had talked and walked with Jehovah as they moved from one pasture to another between Shechem and Beersheba. Amidst the hostile and idolatrous Canaanitish tribes the chosen family had no opportunity of development, and were in constant danger of absorption; but in the Egyptian sojourn now before them, they were to come in contact with the world's highest civilization, thus becoming cultured, yet having the requisite isolation and antagonism to save their religion and their national life from extinction.

1. In the opening statement the writer uses the covenant name "Israel" instead of the personal name "Jacob," from the sense of the national significance of the journey just before them; but after the journey is once begun, the attention is immediately directed to the personal experiences and movements of Jacob individually, through whom the national spirit is to be worked out.

2. How fitting that he should pause here and offer sacrifices to Jehovah! Here Abraham had called on Jehovah, the everlasting God, and here Isaac, his father, had first taught Jacob the name of God.

3. Jacob, oppressed and saddened as he turns his back upon the land of promise, is cheered when God spoke to him as he had done to Abraham in a similar crisis (ch. 15:1) and to Isaac when the same doubt oppressed him (ch. 26:24).

4. Not literally true that he would bring Jacob back in person (because he told Jacob "Joseph shall put his hands upon thine eyes," meaning to close them in death) but in the chosen people which were to spring from him, as the heir of God's covenant though he should die in Egypt, he would return in them.

5. See 3, ch. 44, for history of Joseph.

6. That is, sons of the covenant.

7. This list of names is not a full census of the whole family of Israel since none of the wives are mentioned and only two female descendants are mentioned; neither is it intended to give all the grandchildren who were born in Canaan; for, as his sons migrated in the prime of life, it is highly improbable that no children were born to them in Egypt, where it is said that Israel was "fruitful and increased abundantly." Here is given simply a list of the heads of tribes, and of the grandsons and of the great grandsons and of the great great grandsons who became heads of independent tribal families, whether born in Canaan or in Egypt. In Num. 26, the list is given again, but there five of the grandsons who are here mentioned, are left out, probably because their families became extinct. The two women are mentioned probably because of some historical importance. (Newhall.)

8. The sacred number 70.

10 ¶ And the sons of Sĭm'e-on; Je-mū'el, and Jā'min, and Ō'hăd, and Jā'chin, and Zō'har, and Shā'ul the son of a Cā'năan-īt-ish woman.

11 ¶ And the sons of Lē'vī; Gĕr'shŏn, Kō'hath, and Me-rā'rī.

12 ¶ And the sons of Jū'dah; Ēr, and Ō'nan, and Shē'lah, and Phā'rĕz, and Zā'rah: but Ēr and Ō'nan died in the land of Cā'năan. And the sons of Phā'rĕz were Hĕz'ron and Hā'mūl.

13 And the sons of Ĭs'sa-char; Tō'là, and Phū'vah, and Jōb, and Shĭm'ron.

14 ¶ And the sons of Zĕb'u-lun; Sē'red, and Ē'lon, and Jäh'lĕ-el.

15 These be the sons of Lē'ah, which she bare unto Jā'cob in Pā'dan-ā'ram, with his daughter Dī'nah: all the souls of his sons and his daughters were thirty and three.

16 ¶ And the sons of Găd; Zĭph'ī-on, and Hăg'gī, Shu'nī, and Ēz'bŏn, Ē'rī, and Ăr'ō-dī, and A-rē'lī.

17 ¶ And the sons of Āsh'ēr; Jĭm'nah, and Ĭsh'u-ah, and Ĭs'u-ī, and Be-rī'ah, and Sē'rah their sister: and the sons of Be-rī'ah; Hē'bĕr, and Măl'chī-el.

18 These are the sons of Zĭl'pah, whom Lā'ban gave to Lē'ah his daughter, and these she bare unto Jā'cob, even sixteen souls.

19 The sons of Rā'chel Jā'cob's wife; Jō'şeph, and Bĕn'ja-min.

20 ¶ And unto Jō'şeph in the land of Ē'ġўpt were born Ma-năs'seh and Ē'phrā-ĭm, which Ās'e-nath the daughter of Po-tĭ'phe-rah priest of Ōn bare unto him.

21 ¶ And the sons of Bĕn'ja-min were Bē'lah, and Bē'chĕr, and Āsh'bel, Gē'rà, and Nā'aman, Ē'hī, and Rōsh, Mŭp'pim, and Hŭp'pim, and Ärd.

22 These are the sons of Rā'chel, which were born to Jā'cob: all the souls were fourteen.

23 ¶ And the sons of Dăn; Hū'shim.

24 ¶ And the sons of Năph'ta-lī; Jäh'zĕ-el, and Gū'nī, and Jē'zĕr, and Shĭl'lem.

25 These are the sons of Bĭl'hah, which Lā'ban gave unto Rā'chel his daughter, and she bare these unto Jā'cob: all the souls were seven.

26 All [d]the souls that came with Jā'cob into Ē'ġўpt, which came out of his loins, besides Jā'cob's sons' wives, all the souls were threescore and six;

27 And the sons of Jō'şeph, which were born him in Ē'ġўpt, were two souls: all the souls of the house of Jā'cob, which came into Ē'ġўpt, were [8]threescore and ten.

28 ¶ And he sent Jū'dah before him unto Jō'şeph, to direct his face unto Gō'shen: and they came into the land of Gō'shen.

29 And [5]Jō'şeph made ready his chariot, and went up to meet Ĭs'ra-el his father, to Gō'shen, and presented himself unto him; and he fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while.

30 And Ĭs'ra-el said unto [5]Jō'şeph, Now let me die, since I have [e]seen thy face, because thou art yet alive.

31 And Jō'şeph said unto his brethren, and unto his father's house, I will go up, and shew Phā'raōh, and say unto him, My brethren, and my father's house, which were in the land of Cā'năan, are come unto me;

Chapter 46.

a. And thou shalt speak and say before the Lord thy God, A Syrian ready to perish was my father; and he went down into Egypt and sojourned there with a few, and became there a nation, great, mighty, and populous. (Dt. 26:5.)

b. And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of. (Gen. 28:15.) And Israel said unto Joseph, Behold, I die; but God shall be with you and bring you again unto the land of your fathers. (Gen. 48:21.) The Lord is thy keeper; the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand (5). The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil; he shall preserve thy soul. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for ever more. (Ps. 121:5, 7, 8.)

c. But in the 4th generation they shall come hither again; for the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet full. (Gen. 15:16.) For his sons carried him into the land of Canaan, and buried him in the cave of the field of Machpelah, which Abraham bought with the field for a possession of a buryingplace of Ephron the Hittite, before Mamre (13). And Joseph said unto his brethren, I die; and God will surely visit you, and bring you out of this land unto the land which he sware to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. And Joseph took an oath of the children of Israel, saying, God will surely visit you, and ye shall carry up my bones from hence. (Gen. 50:13, 24, 25.)

d. And all the souls that come out of the loins of Jacob were 70 souls; for Joseph was in Egypt already. (Ex. 1:5.)

e. Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word; for mine eyes have seen thy salvation. (Lu. 2:29, 30.)

32 And the men are [9]shepherds, for their trade hath been to feed cattle; and they have brought their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have.

33 And it shall come to pass, when Phā'raōh shall call you, and shall say, What [f]is your occupation?

34 That ye shall say, Thy servants' trade hath been about cattle from our youth even until now, both we, and also our fathers: that ye may dwell in the land of Gō'shen; for every shepherd is an abomination unto the Ē-ġўp'tiaṇs.

CHAPTER 47.

1 Joseph presenteth five of his brethren, 7 and his father, before Pharaoh. 11 He giveth them habitation and maintenance. 13 He getteth all the Egyptians' money, 16 their cattle, 18 their lands to Pharaoh. 22 The priests' land was not bought. 28 Jacob's age.

1 Then [1]Jō'ṣeph came [a]and told Phā'raōh, and said, My father and my brethren, and their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have, are come out of the land of Cā'năan; and, behold, they are in the land of Gō'shen.

2 And he took some of his brethren, even five men, and presented them unto Phā'raōh.

3 And Phā'raōh said unto his brethren, [b]What is your occupation? And they said unto Phā'raōh, [2]Thy [c]servants are shepherds, both we, and also our fathers.

4 They said moreover unto Phā'raōh, For to sojourn in the land are we come; for thy servants have no pasture for their flocks; for the famine is sore in the land of Cā'năan: now therefore, we pray thee, let thy servants dwell in the land of Gō'shen.

5 And Phā'raōh spake unto [1]Jō'ṣeph, saying, Thy father and thy brethren are come unto thee:

6 The land of Ē'ġўpt is before thee; in the best of the land make thy father and brethren to dwell; in the land of Gō'shen let them dwell: and if thou knowest any men of [4]activity among them, then make them [d]rulers over my cattle.

7 And [1]Jō'ṣeph brought in [3]Jā'cob his father, and set him before Phā'raōh: and Jā'cob blessed Phā'raōh.

8 And Phā'raōh said unto [3]Jā'cob, How old art thou?

9 And Jā'cob said unto Phā'raōh, The days of the years of my pilgrimage are an hundred and thirty years: few [e]and evil have the days of the years of my life been, and have not [f]attained unto the days of the years of the life of my fathers in the days of their pilgrimage.

10 And [3]Jā'cob blessed Phā'raōh, and went out from before Phā'raōh.

11 ¶ And [1]Jō'ṣeph placed his father and his brethren, and gave them a possession in the land of Ē'ġўpt, in the best of the land, in the land of Ra-mē'sēṣ, as Phā'raōh had commanded.

12 And Jō'ṣeph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his father's household, with bread, according to their families.

13 ¶ And there was no bread in all the land; for the famine [g]was very sore so that the land of Ē'ġўpt and all the land of Cā'năan fainted by reason of the famine.

14 And Jō'ṣeph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Ē'ġўpt, and in the land of Cā'năan, for the corn which they bought: and Jō'ṣeph brought the money into Phā'raōh's house.

15 And when [6]money failed in the land of Ē'ġўpt, and in the land of Cā'năan, all the Ē-ġўp'tiaṇs came unto Jō'ṣeph, and said, Give us bread: for why [h]should we die in thy presence? for the money faileth.

16 And Jō'ṣeph said, Give your cattle; and I will give you for your cattle, if money fail.

17 And they [6]brought their cattle unto Jō'ṣeph, and [1]Jō'ṣeph gave them bread in exchange for horses, and for the flocks, and for the cattle of the herds, and for the asses: and he fed them with bread for all their cattle for that year.

18 When that year was ended, they came unto him the [7]second year, and said unto him, We will not hide it from my lord, how that our money is spent; my lord also hath our herds of cattle; there is not ought left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies, and our lands:

19 Wherefore shall we die before thine eyes, both we and our land? [6]buy us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be servants unto Phā'raōh: and give us seed, that we may live, and not die, that the land be not desolate.

20 And [1]Jō'ṣeph bought all the land of Ē'ġўpt for Phā'raōh; for the Ē-ġўp'tiaṇs sold every man his field, because the famine prevailed over them: so the land became Phā'raōh's.

21 And as for the people, he [8]removed them to cities from one end of the borders of Ē'ġўpt even to the other end thereof.

22 Only the land of the priests bought he not; for the priests had a portion assigned them of Phā'raōh, and did eat their portion which Phā'raōh gave them: wherefore they sold not their lands.

23 Then [1]Jō'ṣeph said unto the people, Behold, I have bought you this day and your land for Phā'raōh: lo, here is seed for you, and ye shall sow the land.

24 And it shall come to pass in the increase, that ye shall give the fifth part unto Phā'raōh, and four parts shall be your own, for seed of the field, and for your food, and for them of your households, and for food for your little ones.

25 And they said, Thou hast saved our lives: let us find grace in the sight of my lord, and we will be Phā'raōh's servants.

26 And [1]Jō'ṣeph made it a law over the land of Ē'ġўpt unto this day, that Phā'raōh should have the fifth part; except the land of the priests only, which became not Phā'raōh's.

27 ¶ And Īs'ra-el dwelt in the land of Ē'ġўpt, in the country of Gō'shen; and they had possessions therein, and [i]grew, and multiplied exceedingly.

28 And [3]Jā'cob lived in the land of Ē'ġўpt seventeen years: so the whole age of Jā'cob was an hundred forty and seven years.

29 And the time drew [j]nigh that Īs'ra-el

9. Because "shepherds are an abomination to the Egyptians"; Joseph introduces them to Pharaoh as such, for that will insure them the isolation demanded by their providential mission. (Newhall.)

Holding the position that he did at court, he could have produced social pre-eminence for his father and brothers, but he seeks rather the spiritual good of his people, again demonstrating the fact that he feels the hand of Providence leading him.

d. And the man Jeroboam was a mighty man of valour; and Solomon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Joseph. (I Ks. 11:28.) Seest thou a man diligent in his business? He shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men. (Prov. 22:29.) The hand of the diligent shall bear rule; but the slothful shall be under tribute. (Prov. 12:24.)

e. Man that is born of a woman is of few days, and full of trouble. (Job. 14:1.) For all his days are sorrows, and his travail grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity. (Ecc. 2:23.)

f. And these are the days of the years of Abraham's life which he lived, an hundred threescore and fifteen years. (Gen. 25:7.) And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel; for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed. (Gen. 32:28.)

g. And there shall arise after them 7 years of famine; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt; and the famine shall consume the land. (Gen. 41:30.) Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction; and our fathers found no sustenance. (Acts 7:11.)

j. And the Lord said unto Moses, Behold, thy days approach that thou must die; call Joshua, and present yourselves in the tabernacle of the congregation, that I may give him a charge. And Moses and Joshua went, and presented themselves in the tabernacle of the congregation. (Dt. 31:14.) Now the days of David drew nigh that he should die. (I Ks. 2:1.)

must die: and he called his son [1]Jō'ṣeph, and said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, put, I pray thee, thy hand under my [g]thigh, and deal kindly and truly with me; bury me not, I pray thee, in Ē'gўpt.

30 But I will lie with my fathers, and thou shalt carry me out of Ē'gўpt, and bury me in their buryingplace. And he said, I will do as thou hast said.

31 And he said, Swear unto me. And he sware unto him. And Īs'ra-el bowed himself upon the bed's head.

CHAPTER 48.

1 Joseph with his sons visiteth his sick father. 3 Jacob repeateth the promise. 7 He telleth Joseph of his mother's grave. 9 He blesseth Ephraim and Manasseh. 21 He prophesieth their return to Canaan.

1 And it came to pass [1]after these things, that one told [2]Jō'ṣeph, Behold, thy father is sick: and he [3]took with him his two sons, Ma-nās'seh and Ē'phră-ĭm.

2 And one told [4]Jā'cob, and said, Behold, thy son Jō'ṣeph cometh unto thee: and Īs'ra-el strengthened himself and sat upon the bed.

3 And [4]Jā'cob said unto [2]Jō'ṣeph, God Almighty appeared unto me at [5]Lŭz [a]in the land of Cā'năan, and blessed me,

4 And said unto me, Behold, I will make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, and I will make of thee a multitude of people; and will give this land to thy seed after thee for an everlasting possession.

5 ¶ And now thy [6]two sons, Ē'phră-ĭm and Ma-nās'seh, which were born unto thee in the land of Ē'gўpt before I came unto thee into Ē'gўpt, [6]are mine; as Reu'ben and Sĭm'e-on, they shall be mine.

6 And thy issue, which thou begettest after them, shall be thine, and shall be called after the name of their brethren in their inheritance.

7 And as for me, when I came from Pā'dan, Rā'chel died by me in the land of Cā'năan in the way, when yet there was but a little way to come unto Ēph'răth: and I buried her there in the way of Ēph'răth; the same is Bĕth'lĕhĕm.

8 And [7]Īs'ra-el beheld [2]Jō'ṣeph's sons, and said, Who are these?

9 And Jō'ṣeph said unto his father, They are my sons, whom God hath given me in this place. And he said, Bring them, I pray thee, unto me, and I will bless them.

10 Now the eyes of [7]Īs'ra-el [b]were dim for age, so that he could not see. And he brought them near unto him; and he kissed them, and embraced them.

11 And [7]Īs'ra-el said unto [2]Jō'ṣeph, I had not thought to see thy face: and, lo, God hath shewed me also thy seed.

12 And [2]Jō'ṣeph brought them out from between his knees, and he bowed himself with his face to the earth.

14 And Īs'ra-el stretched out his right hand, and laid it upon Ē'phră-ĭm's head, who was the younger, and his left hand upon Ma-nās'seh's head, [8]guiding his hands wittingly; for Ma-nās'seh was the firstborn.

15 ¶ And he blessed [2]Jō'ṣeph, and said, God, before whom my fathers Ā'bră-hăm and Ī'ṣaac did walk, the God which fed me all my life long unto this day,

16 The Angel which redeemed me from all evil, bless the lads; and let my name be named on them, and the name of my fathers Ā'brăhăm and Ī'ṣaac; and let them grow into a multitude in the midst of the earth.

17 And when [2]Jō'ṣeph saw that his father laid his right hand upon the head of Ē'phră-ĭm, it [9]displeased him: and he held up his father's hand, to remove it from Ē'phră-ĭm's head unto Ma-nās'seh's head.

18 And Jō-ṣeph said unto his father, Not so, my father: for this is the firstborn; put thy right hand upon his head.

19 And his father refused, and said, I know it, my son, I know it: he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great: but truly his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a multitude of nations.

20 And he blessed them that day, saying, In thee shall [7]Īs'ra-el bless, saying, God make thee as Ē'phră-ĭm and as Ma-nās'seh: and he set Ē'phră-ĭm before Ma-nās'seh.

21 And [7]Īs'ra-el said unto [2]Jō'ṣeph, Behold, I die: but God shall be with you, and bring you again unto the land of your fathers.

22 Moreover I have given to thee one portion above thy brethren, which I took out of the hand of the Ām'or-īte with my sword and with my bow.

CHAPTER 49.

1 Jacob calleth his sons to bless them. 3 Their blessing in particular. 29 He chargeth them about his burial. 33 He dieth.

1 And [1]Jā'cob called unto his sons, and said, Gather yourselves together, that I may [a]tell you that which shall befall you in the last days.

2 Gather yourselves together, and hear, ye sons of [1]Jā'cob; and hearken [b]unto [2]Īs'ra-el your father.

3 ¶ Reu'ben, thou art my firstborn, my [3]might, and the beginning of my [3]strength, the excellency of dignity, and the excellency of [4]power.

4 [5]Unstable as water, thou [c]shalt not excel; because thou wentest up to thy father's bed; then defiledst thou it: he went up to my couch.

5 ¶ Sĭm'e-on and Lē'vī are brethren; instruments [6]of cruelty are in their habitations.

6 O my soul, come not thou into their secret; unto their assembly, mine honour, be

9. Used euphemistically for the genital organ or creative organ of the body, which had become the symbol of the Creator, and object of worship among all nations of antiquity, and it is for this reason that God claimed it as the sign of the covenant between himself and his chosen people in the rite of circumcision. Nothing, therefore, could render the oath more solemn in those days than touching the symbol of creation, the sign of the covenant.

Ch. 48. B. C. 1689.

1. Soon after the events mentioned in ch. 47.

2. See 15, ch. 30, for history of Joseph.

3. Joseph not only hastens to his father's bedside to see the sick, but takes with him his two sons to secure Jacob's blessings upon them, and to have them formally recognized as heirs of the covenant promises from which their Egyptian birth had alienated them for a time.

4. See 9, ch. 25, for history of Jacob.

5. Almond tree; the ancient name of Bethel.

6. They are to have the tribal ranks of sons though they are grandsons. It is said that because of his sins, Reuben was deprived of his birthright. (I Chr. 5:1, 2)—"Now the sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel (for he was the firstborn; but, forasmuch as he defiled his father's bed, his birthright was given unto the sons of Joseph, the son of Israel, and the genealogy is not to be reckoned after the birthright. For Judah prevailed above his brethren, and of him came the chief ruler; but the birthright was Joseph's)." Now given unto his two sons thus gave Joseph a double portion, which was reckoned as one of the privileges of the firstborn.

7. The covenant-name of Jacob.

8. Joseph had purposely placed Manasseh, the elder, on Jacob's right to receive the first blessing; but, as if guided by Providence through his blindness, Jacob crosses his hands and places his right hand on Ephraim's head.

9. Was evil in his eye, and he sought to correct what he thought was a mistake on the part of his father. But Israel said, "The younger brother shall be greater." (Gen. 48: 19.)

Ch. 49. B. C. 1689.

NOTE.—In ch. 49 is given a record of Jacob's calling his sons together, and, in the form of prophecy, pronouncing curses on Reuben, Simeon and Levi and blessings on the others. The moral instability of Reuben, the disorganized social condition of Simeon and Levi, the ideal sovereignty and vine-clad territory of Judah, the maritime advantages enjoyed by Zebulun, the ignoble indifference which led Issachar to prefer ease to independence, the quick and effective attack of Dan, the war-like bravery of Gad, the richness of Asher's soil, the blessings of populousness, military efficiency, climate and soil showered upon Joseph, the martial skill and success of Benjamin—these briefly are the features which the poet selects and develops, one after another, in varied and effective imagery. (Hastings.) Since the time of Abraham the covenant promise and chosen seed have been represented by one great father or patriarch, but henceforth they are to be represented by twelve tribes instead. And therefore it is fitting, as in this ch. recorded, that the voice of prophecy should issue from the lips of Jacob, the last of the great patriarchs, before his death. Israel will have no successor like himself, therefore the Book of Gen. ends with the generations of Jacob.

1. See note 9, ch. 25, for history of Jacob.

2. Covenant-name of Jacob.

3. Might and strength refer to physical energy.

4. Used in the sense of authority, prerogative of the firstborn, which in this case (because of Reuben's sin) is to be transferred to Judah and Joseph.

5. Here indicated by his incestuous intercourse with Bilhah, his father's concubine. (Ch. 35:22.)

6. Reference to the cruel slaughter of the Shechemites (Gen. 34:25-31). As Reuben's incest cost him the rights and glory of the firstborn, so the bloody deed of Simeon and Levi brings them curses instead of blessings.

Chapter 48.

a. And, behold, the Lord stood above it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac; the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed. (Gen. 28:13.) And God said unto Jacob, Arise, go up to Bethel, and dwell there: and make there an altar unto God, that appeared unto thee when thou fleddest from the face of Esau thy brother. (Gen. 35:1.)

b. And it came to pass, that when Isaac was old, and his eyes were dim, so that he could not see, he called Esau his eldest son, and said unto him, My son; and he said unto him, Behold, here am I (1). And make me savory meat, such as I love, and bring it to me, that I may eat, that my soul may bless thee before I die. (Gen. 27:1, 4.)

Chapter 49.

a. And this is the blessing wherewith Moses the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death. (Dt. 33:1.) Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets. (Amos 3:7.) Thou shalt not oppress an hired servant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of thy strangers that are in thy land within thy gates. (Dt. 24:14.)

b. Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the Lord. (Ps. 34:11.)

c. Now the sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel (for he was the firstborn; but, forasmuch as he defiled his father's bed, his birthright was given unto the sons of Joseph the son of Israel; and the genealogy is not to be reckoned after the birthright). (I Chr. 5:1.)

And it came to pass, when Israel dwelt in that land, that Reuben went and lay with Bilhah, his father's concubine; and Israel heard it. Now the sons of Jacob were twelve. (Gen. 35:22.)

not thou united; for in their anger they slew a man, and in their selfwill they digged down a wall.

7 Cursed be [d]their anger, for it was fierce; and their wrath, for it was cruel: I will divide them in Jā'cob, and scatter them in Īs'ra-el.

8 ¶ Jū'dah, thou art he whom thy brethren shall praise: thy hand shall be in the neck of thine enemies; thy father's children shall bow down before thee.

9 Jū'dah is a lion's whelp: from the prey, my son, thou art gone up: he stooped down, he couched as a lion, and as an old lion; who shall rouse him up?

10 The [f]sceptre [e]shall not depart from Jū-dah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until [g]Shī'lōh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be.

11 Binding his foal unto the vine, and his ass's colt unto the choice vine; he washed his garments in wine, and his clothes in the blood of grapes:

12 His eyes shall be red with wine, and his teeth white with milk.

13 ¶ Zĕb'u-lun shall dwell at the haven of the sea; and he shall be for an haven of ships; and his border shall be unto Zī'dŏn.

14 ¶ Īs'sa-char is a [8]strong ass couching down between two burdens:

15 And he saw that rest was good, and the land that it was pleasant; and bowed his shoulder to bear, and became a servant unto tribute.

16 ¶ Dăn shall judge his people, as one of the tribes of Īs'ra-el.

17 Dăn shall be a serpent by the way, an adder in the path, that biteth the horse heels, so that his rider shall fall backward.

18 I have [g]waited for thy salvation, O Lord.

19 Găd, a troop shall overcome him: but he shall overcome at the last.

20 ¶ Out of Āsh'ĕr his bread shall be fat, and he shall yield royal dainties.

21 ¶ Năph'ta-lī is a hind let loose: he giveth goodly words.

22 ¶ [10]Jō'sĕph is a fruitful bough, even a fruitful bough by a well; whose [11]branches run over the wall:

23 The [12]archers have sorely grieved him, and shot at him, and hated him:

24 But his bow abode in strength, and the arms of his hands were made strong by the hands of the mighty God of Jā'cob; (from thence is the shepherd, the stone of Īs'ra-el:)

25 Even by the God of thy father, who shall help thee; and by the Almighty, who shall bless thee with blessings of heaven above, blessings of the deep that lieth under, blessings of the breasts, and of the womb:

26 The blessings of thy father have prevailed above the blessings of my progenitors unto the utmost bound of the everlasting hills: they shall be on the head of [10]Jō'sĕph, and on the crown of the head of him that was separate from his brethren.

27 ¶ Bĕn'ja-min shall ravin as a wolf: in the morning he shall devour the [h]prey, and at night he shall divide the spoil.

7. The symbol of tribal authority in Israel.

8. Until the Peace-giver comes, meaning the Messiah. This rendering makes Shiloh a proper name. Designating the Messiah, who was to spring from the tribe of Judah. Jacob's vision extended for a moment into the distant future, and saw the regal position the tribe of Judah was destined to hold at the time when all the tribes should be organized into a kingdom. There are many other eminent authorities who prefer the rendering "until he comes to Shiloh," because, wherever else Shiloh occurs, it denotes the Ephraimites. They claim it is natural to take it so, the clause thus being understood to refer to the assembling of Israel as a nation at Shiloh. (Josh. 18:1.) When Judah may be supposed to have lost the preeminence or tribe leadership held by it in the wanderings. (Num. 10: 14.) This interpretation does not necessarily affect the Messianic character of the whole passage—it simply does not direct the thought to the word Shiloh.

9. That is, strongly built, fit for carrying burdens. Issachar's leading characteristic was a disposition to look for a reward or hire like a beast of burden rather than for liberty and honor.

10. See 3, ch. 44.

11. Daughters.

12. Would be chief or leader.

Ch. 50. B. C. 1689.

1. See 3, ch. 44.

2. It will be observed that throughout this ch. a prominence is given to Joseph, which is doubtless due to his official position in Egypt, as well as his great devotion to his father.

3. That is, it took 40 days to embalm him.

4. After the 40 days required for embalming had past, they continued to mourn for Jacob 30 days more, which made it 70 days from his death until his burial.

5. Jacob was given one of the grandest funeral processions in history, in which the various officers of the Egyptian court and the entire house of Israel, except the little children, participated.

6. That is, the mourning of the Egyptians.

28 ¶ All these are the twelve tribes of Īs'ra-el: and this is it that their father spake unto them, and blessed them; every one according to his blessing he blessed them.

29 And he charged them, and said unto them, I am to be gathered unto my people: bury me with my fathers in the cave that is in the field of Ē'phron the Hĭt'tīte, 30 In the cave that is in the field of Măch-pē'lah, which is before Măm're, in the land of Cā'năan, which Ā'brā-hăm bought with the field of Ē'phron the Hĭt'tīte for a possession of a buryingplace.

31 There they buried Ā'brā-hăm and Sā'rah his wife; there they buried Ī'saac and Re-bĕk'-ah his wife; and there I buried Lē'ah.

32 The purchase of the field and of the cave that is therein was from the children of Hĕth.

33 And when [1]Jā'cob had made an end of commanding his sons, he gathered up his feet into the bed, and yielded up the ghost, and was gathered unto his people.

CHAPTER 50.

1 The mourning for Jacob. 4 Joseph getteth leave of Pharaoh to go to bury him. 7 The funeral. 22 His age. 23 He seeth the third generation of his sons. 24 He prophesieth unto his brethren of their return. 26 He dieth.

1 And [1]Jō'sĕph [2]fell upon his father's face, and wept upon him, and kissed him.

2 And [1]Jō'sĕph commanded his servants the physicians to [a]embalm his father: and the physicians embalmed Īs'ra-el.

3 And [3]forty days were fulfilled for him; for so are fulfilled the days of those which are embalmed: and the E-gўp'tians [4]*b*mourned for him threescore and ten days.

4 And when the days of his mourning were past, [1]Jō'sĕph spake unto the house of Phā'-raōh, saying, If now I have found grace in your eyes, speak, I pray you, in the ears of Phā'raōh, saying,

5 My father made me swear, saying, Lo, I die: in my grave which I have digged for me in the land of Cā'năan, there shalt thou bury me. Now therefore let me go up, I pray thee, and bury my father, and I will come again.

6 And Phā'raōh said, Go up, and bury thy father, according as he made thee swear.

7 ¶ And [1]Jō'sĕph went up to bury his father: and with him went up all the servants of Phā'-raōh, the elders of his house, and [5]all the elders of the land of Ē'gўpt,

8 And all the house of [1]Jō'sĕph, and his brethren, and his father's house: only their little ones, and their flocks, and their herds, they left in the land of Gō'shen.

9 And there went up with him both chariots and horsemen: and it was a very great company.

10 And they came to the threshing-floor of Ā'tad, which is beyond Jor'dan, and there they mourned with a great and very sore lamentation: and he made a mourning for his father seven days.

11 And when the inhabitants of the land,

d. For wrath killeth the foolish man, and envy slayeth the silly one. (Job 5:2.) A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty; but a fool's wrath is heavier than them both. (Prov. 27:3.) And my wrath shall wax hot, and I will kill you with the sword; and your wives shall be widows, and your children fatherless. (Ex. 22:24.) Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath. (Ja. 1:19.)

e. I shall see him, but not now: I will behold him, but not nigh: there shall come a Star out of Jacob, and a Sceptre shall rise out of Israel, and shall smite the corners of Moab, and destroy all the children of Sheth. (Num. 24:17.) The Lord shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion; rule thou in the midst of thine enemies. (Ps. 110:2.) Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him. (Math. 2:2.)

f. And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek; and his rest shall be glorious. (Is. 11:10.) And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. (Is. 60:3.) And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come; and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts. (Hag. 2:7.)

g. Lord, I have hoped for thy salvation, and done thy commandments (1661). I have longed for thy salvation, O Lord; and thy law is my delight. (Ps. 119:166, 174.)

h. Behold, the people shall rise up as a great lion, and lift up himself as a young lion; he shall not lie down until he eat of the prey, and drink the blood of the slain. (Num. 23:24.) Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee. (Zech. 14:1.)

Chapter 50.

a. And they buried him in his own sepulchres which he had made for himself in the city of David, and laid him in the bed which was filled with sweet odors and divers kinds of spices prepared by the apothecaries' art; and they made a very great burning for him. (II Chr. 16:14.) And there came also Nicodemus, which at the first came to Jesus by night, and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about an hundred pound weight. Then took they the body of Jesus and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury. (Jno. 19:39, 40.)

b. And when all the congregation saw that Aaron was dead, they mourned for Aaron 30 days, even all the house of Israel. (Num. 20:29.) And the children of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab 30 days: so the days of weeping and mourning for Moses were ended. (Dt. 34:8.)

the Cā′năan-īteṣ, saw the mourning in the floor of Ā′tad, they said, This is a grievous mourning to the E-ġўp′tianṣ: wherefore the name of it was called [6]Ā′bĕl-mĭz′rā-im, which is beyond Jor′dan.

12 And his sons did unto him according as he commanded them:

13 For his [c]sons carried him into the land of Cā′năan, and buried him in the cave of the field of Măch-pē′lah, which Ā′brā-hăm bought with the field for a possession of a burying-place of Ē′phron the Hĭt′tīte, before Măm′re.

14 ¶ And [1]Jō′ṣeph returned into Ē′ġўpt, he, and his brethren, and all that went up with him to bury his father, after he had buried his father.

15 ¶ And when [1]Jō′ṣeph's brethren saw that their father was dead, they said, Jō′ṣeph will peradventure hate us, and will certainly requite us all the evil which we did unto him.

16 And they sent a messenger unto Jō′ṣeph, saying, Thy father did command before he died, saying, 17 So shall ye say unto [1]Jō′ṣeph, Forgive, I pray thee now, the trespass of thy brethren, and their sin; for they did unto thee evil: and now, we pray thee, forgive the trespass of the servants of the God of thy father. And [1]Jō′ṣeph wept when they spake unto him.

7. That is, it is not mine to punish, God is your judge and mine.

8. Here at the sepulchre of Joseph ended the great book of Generations, wherein are laid the historical, doctrinal, and ethical foundations of divine revelations.

9. As the book of Gen. significantly closes with the words "in Egypt," be it remembered that for centuries the posterity of Jacob now vanishes from our sight, living in servile travail in Egypt.

18 And his brethren also went and fell [d]down before his face; and they said, Behold, we be thy servants.

19 And [1]Jō′ṣeph said unto them, Fear not: for [7]am I the place of God?

20 But as for [c]you, ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive.

21 Now therefore fear ye not: I will [f]nourish you, and your little ones. And he comforted them, and spake kindly unto them.

22 ¶ And [1]Jō′ṣeph dwelt in Ē′ġўpt, he, and his father's house: and Jō′ṣeph lived an hundred and ten years.

23 And Jō′ṣeph saw Ē′phrā-ĭm's children of the third generation: the children also of Mā′-chĭr the son of Ma-năs′seh were brought up upon Jō′ṣeph's knees.

24 And [1]Jō′ṣeph said unto his brethren, I die: and God will surely visit you, and bring you out of this land unto the land which he sware to Ā′brā-hăm, to Ī′ṣaac, and to Jā′cob.

25 And Jō′ṣeph took an oath of the children of Ĭs′ra-el, saying, God will surely visit you, and ye shall carry up my bones from hence.

26 So [8]Jō′ṣeph died, being an hundred and ten years old: and they embalmed him, and he was put in a coffin in [9]Ē′ġўpt.

c. So Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers. And were carried over into Sychem, and laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the father of Sychem. (Acts 7:15, 16.)

d. For, behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and, lo, my sheaf arose and also stood upright; and, behold, your sheaves stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheaf. (Gen. 37:7.)

e. Every day they wrest my words; all their thoughts are against me for evil. (Ps. 56:5.) Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy and cut off nations, not a few. (Is. 10:7.)

f. And Joseph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his father's household, with bread, according to their families. (Gen. 47:12.) But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Math. 5:44.)

EXODUS

NOTE.—In Exodus is a continuation of the book of Genesis or Generations, the Book of Beginnings. Exodus is the second part of that book, joined to the first by a simple connective particle, with Moses either as author direct or as partial author and compiler.

In Exodus is found a record of the deliverance of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage, of their journey to Sinai, and of the covenant and legislation given at that mountain. Exodus not only gives a historical outline of the people whose wanderings it would chronicle, but in the life and wanderings of these people they find God everywhere.

And this it is that gives to Exodus its real unity. Exodus portrays Jehovah the supreme God, ruling in Egypt, and master over nature; the faithful and persistent God who made his choice of the fathers of the Hebrew race and will not draw back; the God of grace who loves to give guidance, counsel, help, food, drink, every needed supply; the Holy One who requires obedience to his will, and takes steps to make known that will; a jealous God who demands that due worship shall be paid to him, and to none else; the covenant God, and the two sides to the covenant are: I. Jehovah is Israel's God. II. Israel is Jehovah's people. In Exodus the sacred writer did not aim to furnish a full history of Israel, as the historian, but seeks to develop the fulfillment of God's plans, and hence he hastens over whole ages to the time of the accomplishment of the patriarchal promises. It thus becomes, not a history of Israel, but of God-in-Israel.

The fabric of Divine Revelation has risen in Genesis like a pyramid in ten successive stages, broad as creation at the bottom, and narrowing at the summit, in Exodus, to a single family, which becomes lost from view in the darkness of Egyptian heathenism. The spiritual history of this family is now resumed. The way has been prepared and the writer proceeds to describe Jehovah as taking up his abode with men.

Exodus furnishes us with Jehovah's movings in the birth and adoption of Israel.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The children of Israel, after Joseph's death, do multiply. 15 The godliness of the midwives, in saving the men children alive. 22 Pharaoh commandeth the male children to be cast into the river.

1 Now [1]these are the names of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, which came into Ē'ġўpt; every man and his household came with Jā'cob.

2 Reu'ben, Sĭm'e-on, Lē'vī, and Jū'dah,

3 Ĭs'sa-char, Zĕb'u-lun, and Bĕn'ja-min,

4 Dăn, and Năph'ta-lī, Găd, and Ăsh'ĕr.

5 And all the souls that came out of the loins of Jā'cob were seventy [a]souls: for Jō'ṣeph was in Ē'ġўpt already.

6 And Jō'ṣeph [b]died, and all his brethren, and all that generation.

7 ¶ And the children of [c]Ĭs'ra-el were [2]fruitful, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty; and the land was filled with them.

8 Now there arose up a [3]new king over Ē'ġўpt, which knew not Jō'ṣeph.

9 And he said unto his people, Behold, the people of the [d]children of Ĭs'ra-el [4]are more and mightier than we:

10 Come on, let us [e]deal wisely with them; lest they multiply, and it come to pass, that, when there falleth out any war, they join also unto our enemies, and fight against us, and so get them up out of the land.

11 Therefore they did set over them [5]taskmasters to afflict them with their burdens. And they built for Phā'raōh treasure cities, Pī'thom and Ra-ăm'sēṣ.

12 [6]But the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied and grew. And they were grieved because of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

13 And the Ē-ġўp'tians made the children of Ĭs'ra-el to serve with [7]rigour:

14 And they [f]made their lives [8]bitter with hard bondage, in morter, and in brick, and in all manner of service in the field: all their service, wherein they made them serve, was with rigour.

15 ¶ And the king of Ē'ġўpt spake to the Hē'brew midwives, of which the name of the one was Shĭph'rah, and the name of the other Pū'ah:

16 And he said, [9]When ye do the office of a midwife to the Hē'brew women, and see them upon the stools; if it be a son, then ye shall kill him: but if it be a daughter, then she shall live.

17 But the midwives [g]feared God, and did not as the king of Ē'ġўpt commanded them, but saved the men children alive.

18 And the king of Ē'ġўpt called for the midwives, and said unto them, Why have ye done this thing, and have saved the men children alive?

19 And the [h]midwives [10]said unto Phā'raōh, Because the Hē'brew women are not as the Ē-ġўp'tian women; for they are lively, and are delivered ere the midwives come in unto them.

20 Therefore God [11]dealt [i]well with the midwives: and the people multiplied, and waxed very mighty.

21 And it came to pass, because the midwives feared God, [j]that he [12]made them houses.

22 And Phā'raōh charged all his people, saying, Every son that is born ye shall cast into the river, and every daughter ye shall save alive.

ANALYSIS OF EXODUS.

Chs. 1-15.

1. The birth of Israel. (Chs. 1-15.)

I. Preparatory period.

(A). Increase and oppression of Israel. (Chs. 1, 2.)

(B). Call and commission of Moses. (Chs. 3, 4.)

2. The struggle.

(A). The intercessions of Moses, and the attending judgments. (Chs. 5-13.)

(B). The victory of Israel's triumph over Egypt. (Chs. 14, 15.)

II. Adoption of Israel by Jehovah, ch. 15:22, to ch. 40.

1. Preparatory period on the march from Egypt to the Red Sea and to Sinai. (Ch. 15:22 to ch. 18:27 inclusive.)

2. Jehovah revealing himself as king of Israel. (Ch. 19 to ch. 24:18.)

3. Jehovah taking up his abode with Israel in the tabernacle. (Chs. 25-31.)

4. Jehovah's covenant broken and renewed. (Chs. 32-34.)

5. The construction and benediction of the house of God, the tabernacle. (Chs. 35-40.)

Ch. 1. B. C. 1706-1635.

1. The heads of the tribes.

2 Abundantly increased in numbers.

3. A new reigning family from the dynastics of Gen.

4. Not in actual numbers now but in rate of increase so as to be alarming.

5. Chief or master, to supervise the labors of the Israelites in the tasks imposed upon them.

6. God was with them, and their afflictions were made to yield blessings in disguise.

7. Without mercy, without consideration; oppressive.

8. Void of rest, peace, enjoyment, respect.

9. The most cruel of all edicts. A command to Shiprah and Puah, superintendents of the midwives, to cause all male children to be put to death at the moment of birth, and thus give the appearance of still birth.

10. Made excuse, because they feared God, and said, "The Israelites give birth before the midwives get to them, so the order cannot be executed."

11. God forgave their false excuse, because their intentions were good and they refused to do evil further than make a false statement in their defence.

12. Increased their posterity.

Ref. Exodus. Chapter 1.

a. All the souls that came with Jacob into Egypt, which came out of his loins, besides Jacob's sons' wives, all the souls were threescore and six. And the sons of Joseph, which were born him in Egypt, were two souls; all the souls of the house of Jacob, which came into Egypt, were threescore and ten. (Gen. 46:26, 27.) Thy fathers went down into Egypt with threescore and ten persons; and now the Lord thy God hath made thee as the stars of heaven for multitude. (Dt. 10:22.)

b. So Joseph died, being an hundred and ten years old; and they embalmed him, and he was put in a coffin in Egypt. (Gen. 50:26.)

c. And he said, I am God, the God of thy father; fear not to go down into Egypt; for I will there make of thee a great nation. (Gen. 46:3.) And he increased his people greatly, and made them stronger than their enemies. (Ps. 105:24.) But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt. (Acts 7:17.)

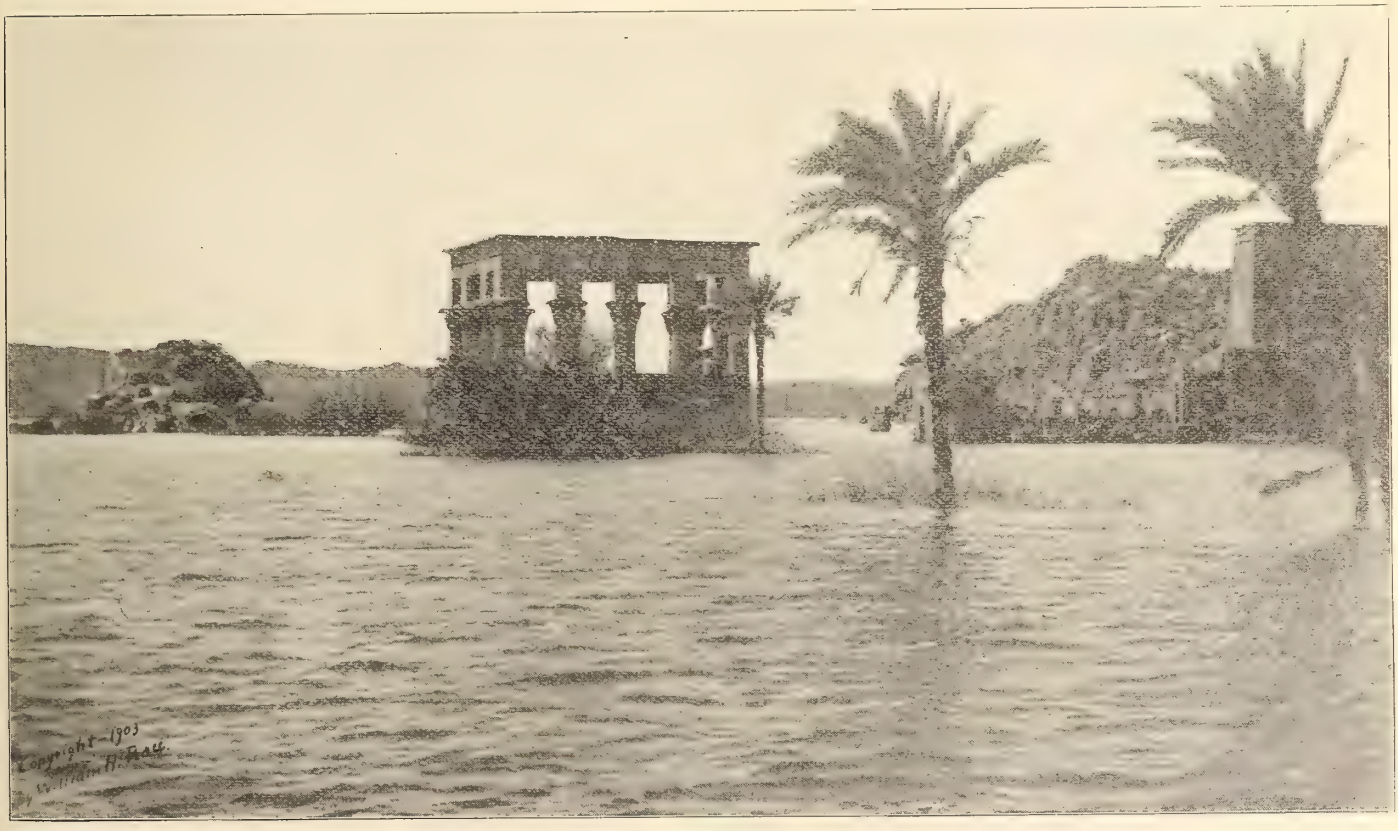
d. And he increased his people greatly; and made them stronger than their enemies. (Ps. 105:24.)

e. The wicked in his pride doth persecute the poor: let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined. (Ps. 10:2.) They have taken crafty counsel, against thy people, and consulted against thy hidden ones. They have said, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation; that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance. (Ps. 83:3, 4.) He taketh the wise in their own craftiness; and the counsel of the froward is carried headlong. (Job 5:13.) The prince that wanteth understanding is also a great oppressor; but he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days. (Prov. 28:16.) The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live. (Acts 7:19.)

f. How our fathers went down into Egypt, and we have dwelt in Egypt a long time; and the Egyptians vexed us, and our fathers. (Num. 20:15.)

He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker; but he that honoreth him hath mercy on the poor. (Prov. 14:31.) And the king shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. (Math. 25:40.)

g. By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.) My flesh trembleth for fear of thee; and I am afraid of thy judgments. (Ps. 119:120.) Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name. (Mal. 3:16.)



h. And the woman took the two men, and hid them, and said thus, There came men unto me, but I wist not whence they were. (Josh. 2:4.)

i. The wicked worketh a deceitful work; but to him that soweth righteousness shall be a sure reward. (Prov. 11:18.) Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet surely I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him. (Ecc. 8:12.) For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labor of love, which ye have shown toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. (Heb. 6:10.) Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy. (Ps. 33:18.) He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him; he also will hear their cry, and will save them. (Ps. 145:19.)

j. For thou, O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, hast revealed to thy servant, saying, I will build thee an house; therefore hath thy servant found in his heart to pray this prayer unto thee. (II Sam. 7:27.) And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. (Mal. 3:17.) The Lord taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy. (Ps. 147:11.)

SPHINX AND GREAT PYRAMID.

PHARAOH'S TOMB.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Moses is born, 3 and in an ark cast into the flags. 5 He is found, and brought up by Pharaoh's daughter. 11 He slayeth an Egyptian. 13 He reproveth an Hebrew. 15 He fleeth into Midian. 21 He marrieth Zipporah. 22 Gershom is born. 23 God respecteth the Israelites' cry.

1 And there went a man of the [1]house of Lē'vī, and took to [a]wife a [2]daughter of Lē'vī.

2 And the woman conceived, and bare a son: and when she saw him that he was a [3]goodly child, she [4b]hid him three months.

3 And when she could not longer hide him, she took for him an [5]ark of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and with pitch, and put the child therein; and she laid it in the flags by the river's brink.

4 And [6]his sister stood afar off, to wit what would be done to him.

5 ¶ And the [7]daughter of [8]Phā'raōh came down to [9]wash herself at the river; and her maidens walked along by the river's side; and when she saw the ark among the flags, she sent her maid to fetch it.

6 And when she had opened it, she saw the child: and, behold, the babe wept. And she had [10]compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hē'brews' children.

7 Then said his sister to [8]Phā'raōh's daughter, Shall I go and call to thee a nurse of the Hē'brew women, that she may nurse the child for thee?

8 And [8]Phā'raōh's daughter said to her, Go. And the maid went and called the child's mother.

9 And [8]Phā'raōh's daughter said unto her, Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages. And the woman took the child, and nursed it.

10 And the child grew and she brought him unto [8]Phā'raōh's daughter, and he became her son. And she called his name [11]Mō'şeş: and she said, Because I drew him out of the water.

11 ¶ And it came to pass in those days, when [11]Mō'şeş was [12]grown, that he went out unto his brethren, and [13]looked on [c]their burdens: and he spied an Ē-ġўp'tian smiting an Hē'brew, one of his brethren.

12 And he [14]looked this way and that way, and when he saw that there was no man, he slew the Ē-ġўp'tian, and hid him in the sand.

13 And when he went out the second day, behold, two men of the Hē'brews strove together: and he said to him that did the wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow?

14 And he said, Who made thee a prince and a judge over us? intendest thou to kill me, as thou killedst the Ē-ġўp'tian? And Mō'şeş feared, and said, Surely this thing is known.

15 Now when [8]Phā'raōh heard this thing, he sought to slay [11]Mō'şeş. But Mō'şeş fled from the face of Phā'raōh, and dwelt in the land of Mĭd'ĭ-an: and he sat down by a well.

16 Now the priest of [d]Mĭd'ĭ-an had seven daughters: and they came and drew water, and filled the troughs to water their father's flock.

17 And the shepherds came and drove them away: but Mō'şeş [15]stood up and helped them, and watered their flock.

18 And when they came to Reu'el their father, he said, How is it that ye are come so soon to day?

19 And they said, An [16]Ē-ġўp'tian delivered us out of the hand of the shepherds, and also drew water enough for us, and watered the flock.

Ch. 2. B. C. 1573-1531.

1. Amram, a descendant of Levi, through Kohath.

2. Jochebed, wife of Amram, her nephew, mother of Aaron, Miriam and Moses.

3. A prophetic vision, beautiful before God.

4. That is, by faith, she hid the child, and was not afraid.

5. Made of the bulrush, or papyrus, a shrub which grows in the marshy places of Egypt. It was daubed with the mud, called slime, from which Egyptian bricks were made.

6. Miriam, his only sister.

7. The respect paid to women in Egypt was much higher than in Asia or in Greece, and though Pharaoh had issued the order to kill all the male children of the Israelites, his daughter found Moses in the bulrushes and preserved his life.

8. Rameses II, of the 19th dynasty, is generally accounted the Pharaoh of the oppression, and his son and successor Meremptah is considered to be the Pharoah of the Ex. All the kings named Rameses were great builders, but Rameses II was the greatest of them all. Several cities were called after him. He reigned 67 years. The mummies of R. II and Meremptah have both been discovered and are now retained in the British museum. While on the monument of Maremptah is found a record of the Israelites, yet the monuments of Egypt give us no record either of the oppression or the exodus. (Hast.)

9. That is, to bathe; the Nile was considered as an emanation of the god Osiris, and bathing in its waters was devotional as well as sanitary, as the Nile was regarded as the mother of all life and fruitfulness.

10. The Egyptians were taught to regard mercy as one of the chief conditions of acceptance in the day of judgment. In the Book of the Dead recently translated from a papyrus by Birch, the spirit is represented as answering to the judge of the dead, "I have not afflicted any man; I have not made any man to weep; I have not withheld milk from the mouths of infants."

11. Rather Moshes (from the Egypt. word Mos or Mas, to draw). Moses was born during the three years of the existence of the edict issued by the king, giving any one authority, to put to death every Hebrew male child. In order to preserve his life his mother made a little ark of bulrushes, and when the child was three months old (she being able to keep him concealed until this time), put him in the ark and set him afloat on the Nile, at or near the place where the daughter of Pharoah was wont to go and bathe daily. His sister Miriam was set to watch that no harm befell the infant.

He is discovered by Pharaoh's daughter who, despite the edict to kill all infant Hebrew male children, resolves to adopt him as her own child. His sister Miriam who had been watching offers to go and get a nurse, which offer is accepted by P.'s daughter, and the child's mother is brought as his hired nurse, in all of which there seems to have been the hand of God executing the plan. Moses is reared in the Egyptian court and given the best possible education capable in Egypt, but he always seems to have been bowed down and divinely impressed with the oppression and sufferings of his people. At one time, while strolling among them, he sees a man attempting to kill a Hebrew man. Moses goes to the assistance and slays the offending party, but later fearing the deed may become known he flees into the land of Midian, and there at the well meets the seven daughters of the priest. He drives off the shepherds and assists the daughters to water their sheep, and afterward marries Zipporah, one of the seven daughters. After a time the king of Egypt from whom Moses had fled, died. Then Jehovah told M. to return to E. as "all the men who sought his life were dead." M. at once set out with his wife and son, but on the way Jehovah sought to kill him because he was not circumcised. Zipporah, his wife, averted the divine wrath by circumcising their son. On the way, after M. had reached Goshen, the angel of Jehovah appeared to him in a bush which burned without being consumed. Jehovah told M. that he had seen the oppression of his people and had come down to deliver them and bring them to Canaan and that he, M., was to be their leader; but M. feared that the people would not believe Jehovah had sent him, whereupon J. gave him three signs to convince them, viz.: 1, a rod turned into a serpent and back into a rod again; 2, his hand made leprous and then restored to health; 3, water poured on the ground and turned into blood. Then M. pleads his lack of fluent speech, and J. answered, "I will be with thy mouth and teach thee what to say." Pharaoh refused to let the Israelites go, whereupon Jehovah, through Moses, inflicted the Egyptians with ten plagues, closing the plague season with the slaying of the firstborn of the Egyptians; and the E., in a panic, made the Israelites start on their journey in such haste that they carried their dough with them unbaked. The I., under the leadership of M., were guided by J. in a pillar of cloud by day and fire by night. M. led the people in the wilderness toward the sea. Pharaoh recovering from his terror, pursued them with his army. Coming up to them, the pillar placed itself between the I.'s and the E.'s so as not only to guide the I.'s, but to confuse the E.'s. A strong east wind drove back the waters of the Red Sea and M. and his people crossed in safety, the waters again coming together, as the hosts of Pharaoh were attempting to cross and drowning them all. From the sea M. led Israel through the wilderness to Sinai and they camped before the mountain. Jehovah came down upon Sinai, called M. to him, and conversed with him. M. alone was allowed to approach Jehovah, and from him, while on the mount, Moses received the Ten Commandments—the words of the covenant, written on two tables of stone. Without anything to eat or drink, M. remained with Jehovah forty days and forty nights. During this time the people corrupted themselves and made the golden calf. Jehovah now prepared to kill them all, but upon the intercession of M. he repented of the evil he would do them.

When Moses reached the camp, he called to his side all who were faithful to Jehovah. The Levites responded, and at the command of Moses killed 3,000 of the evil doers. Because of their sin Jehovah now refused to go with them, essaying to send his angel; but, being moved by their prayers, he again relented and said, "My presence shall go with thee." After the departure from Sinai the Israelites were fed with manna from heaven. At Kadesh they lacked water, but at the command of Jehovah M. smote the rock and the waters burst forth. M. sent Caleb and others to spy out the highlands of Canaan. They reported the land was fertile, but the inhabitants powerful. Because his people had tempted him ten times none of the adults of that generation, save Caleb, were allowed to enter Canaan. Jehovah called M. to the top of Pisgah, whence he showed him all Canaan. After M.'s death Jehovah buried him in the valley of Moab. His tomb no man knoweth. Though Jehovah had communed with his patriarchs, Moses is the first man to receive a divine commission to perform miracles. (Hast.) Especially was M. distinguished by three qualities of character. First, faith; by faith he esteemed the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasuries in Egypt. Second, prayerfulness; in every time of emergency his immediate resort was to Jehovah; he was not speaking to a stranger but rather like a son making supplications to his father, so he never plead in vain; his was the prayer of faith. Third, humility; he coveted no distinction and sought no prominence; his humility was allied with, or naturally flowed out of, his meekness; day and night he labored for his people, never thinking of himself. The only blot upon his character was a lack of patience, or self-control, but this was more evident in the earlier portion of his life than in later years. (Dr. W. W. Taylor.) To Moses we owe that important portion of Holy Scripture, the Pentateuch, which makes us acquainted with the creation of the world, the entrance of sin and death, the first promises of redemption, the flood, the peopling of the post-diluvian earth, the origin of nations, the call of Abraham, and the giving of the law.

12. That is, 40 years old.

13. Moved with compassion; sympathy for.

14. Cautious, as a soldier.

15. Came to their assistance.

16. Judging from his costume and language, having been reared at the Egyptian court, the maidens thought Moses to be an E.

Chapter 2.

a. And the name of Amram's wife was Jochebed, the daughter of Levi, whom her mother bare to Levi in Egypt: and she bare unto Amram Aaron and Moses, and Miriam their sister. (Num. 26:59.) And Amram took him Jochebed his father's sister to wife; and she bare him Aaron and Moses; and the years of the life of Amram were an hundred and thirty and seven years. (Ex. 6:20.)

b. By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the king's commandment. (Heb. 11:23.)

c. By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season; Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt; for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward. (Heb. 11:24-26.) For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness. (Ps. 84:10.)

d. See ch. 3:1.

20 And he said unto his daughters, And where is he? why is it that ye have left the man? call him, that he may eat bread.

21 And [11]Mō'ṣeṣ was content to dwell with the man: and he gave Mō'ṣeṣ [17]Zīp-pō'rah his daughter.

22 And she bare him a son, and he called his name [18]Gēr'shōm: for he said, I have been a [e]stranger in a strange land.

23 ¶ And it came to pass in process [f]of time, that the king of Ē'ġўpt died: and the children of Īs'ra-el [19]sighed [g]by reason of the bondage, and they cried, and their cry [h]came up unto God by reason of the bondage.

24 And God [20]heard [i]their groaning, and God remembered his [j]covenant with A'brā-hăm, with Ī'ṣaac, and with Jā'cob.

25 And God looked upon the children of Īs'ra-el, and God had respect unto them.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Moses keepeth Jethro's flock. 2 God appeareth to him in a burning bush. 9 He sendeth him to deliver Israel. 14 The name of God.

1 Now [1]Mō'ṣeṣ kept the flock of Jē'thro his father in law, the priest of Mĭd'ī-an: and he led the flock to the [2]backside of the [3]desert, and came to the [4]mountain of God, even to [5]Hō'reb.

2 And [6]the [a]angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush [7]was not consumed.

3 And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ said, I will now turn aside and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt.

4 And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God [b]called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, [1]Mō'ṣeṣ, Mō'ṣeṣ. And he said, Here am I.

5 And he said, Draw not nigh hither: [8]put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest [c]is holy ground.

6 Moreover he said, I am the [9]God of thy father, the God of A'brā-hăm, the God of Ī'ṣaac, and the God of Jā'cob. And Mō'ṣeṣ hid his face; for he was afraid to [d]look upon God.

7 ¶ And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Ē'ġўpt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows;

8 And I am [e]come down to [f]deliver them out of the hand of the Ē-ġўp'tiaṇs, and to bring them up out of that land unto a good land and a large, unto a land [g]flowing with milk and honey; unto the place of the [h]Cā'năan-ītes, and the Hĭt'tītes, and the Ăm'or-ītes, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, and the Hī'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes.

9 Now therefore, behold, the cry of the children of Īs'ra-el is come unto me: and I have also seen the oppression [i]wherewith the Ē-ġўp'tiaṇs oppress them.

10 Come now therefore, and I will send thee [j]unto [10]Phā'raōh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Īs'ra-el out of Ē'ġўpt.

11 ¶ And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ said unto God, [11]Who am I, that I should go unto Phā'raōh, and that I should bring forth the children of Īs'ra-el out of Ē'ġўpt?

17. Sig. (little bird) of his wilderness home.

18. A stranger there, indicating that Moses felt himself to be an exile and that his heart is with his far-off people.

19. Groan, mourn, cast down as a result of.

20. Giving attention to, consider, come to assistance.

Ch. 3. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—In chapter three is recorded the call and commission of Moses. Through all their years of suffering and burdens Jehovah has watched Israel, but now they are ready, and the deliverer Moses has also received his training and is ready. Events are fast ripening, another epoch is opening, in which providence will again disclose itself, and the divine voice which had been silent for many centuries will be heard once more. For forty years M. is to go through his trials of preparation.

1. For history of Moses, see 11, ch. 2.

2. The western side. The Hebrews always called the east front, hence to the west the back side.

3. The desert of Arabia, not a hot sandy plain, as the deserts of Africa, but a very uneven, rocky, gravel covered tract, which, except in the heat of summer, furnished fair pasturage for flocks.

4. The mountain on which was revealed the glory of Jehovah-Sinai.

5. Horeb is the term used for the seat of the Deity according to the northern tribes. Sinai is the term used for the seat of the Deity according to the southern tribes, hence the two names become one and interchangeable. (Hastings.)

6. The angel of Jehovah, which had not made its appearance on earth since the days of the patriarchs.

7. The lowly bramble, typifying despised Israel in its servitude, and the fire that burst forth among the dry thorns and yet did not consume them, was the god who dwelt in Israel, under whose providence those afflictions came, which, though they burned, did not destroy, because he, the changeless Jehovah, was in their midst.

8. The orientals always removed their sandals at the door lest they defile the house, thus by their own simple custom Moses was taught that he was drawing nigh to Jehovah.

9. The God of the sacred patriarchal line, who remembers his covenant with them.

10. See 8, ch. 2.

11. At 40 years of age Moses was anxious to begin the task of delivering his people, and in personal combat slew an Egyptian, who had made an attack on an Israelite; but at eighty after forty years of preparation, he exclaimed, "Who am I?" and plead his own weakness.

---

e. These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. (Heb. 11:13.)

f. And Moses was fourscore years old, and Aaron fourscore and three years old, when they spake unto Pharaoh. (Ex. 7:7.)

g. For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the Lord; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him. (Ps. 12:5.)

h. At his day thou shalt give him his hire, neither shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it: lest he cry against thee unto the Lord, and it be sin unto thee. (Dt. 24:15.) Behold, the hire of the laborers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of sabaoth. (Js. 5:4.) And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows; And I come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them up out of that land unto a good land and a large, unto a land flowing with milk and honey; unto the place of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites. (Ex. 3:7, 8.)

i. And I have also heard the groaning of the children of Israel, whom the Egyptians keep in bondage; and I have remembered my covenant. (Ex. 6:5.)

j. He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations (8). For he remembered his holy promise, and Abraham his servant. (Ps. 105:8, 42.) To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenants. (Luke 1:72.)

a. In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. (Is. 63:9.) And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? (Acts 9:4.) And the angel of God, which went before the camp of Israel, removed and went behind them; and the pillar of the cloud went from before their face and stood behind them. (Ex. 14:19.) And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews (Acts 12:11.) For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily. (Col. 2:9.)

b. And the Lord said unto Moses, Thus thou shalt say unto the children of Israel, Ye have seen that I have talked with you from heaven. (Ex. 20:22.) And when Moses was gone into the tabernacle of the congregation to speak with him, then he heard the voice of one speaking unto him from off the mercy seat that was upon the ark of testimony, from between the two cherubim; and he spake unto him. (Num. 7:89.) Did ever people hear the voice of God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard, and live? (33). Out of heaven he made thee to hear his voice, that he might instruct thee; and upon earth he showed thee his great fire; and thou heardest his words out of the midst of the fire. (Dt. 4:33, 36.) When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight, and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him. (Acts 7:31.)

c. And the captain of the Lord's host said unto Joshua, Loose thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Joshua did so. (Josh. 5:15.) Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet; for the place where thou standest is holy ground. (Acts 7:33.) So will I make my holy name known in the midst of my people Israel; and I will not let them pollute my holy name any more; and the heathens shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Israel. (Ez. 39:7.)

d. And he said, Hear thou therefore the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing by him on his right hand and on his left. (I Ks. 22:19.) These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him. (Jno. 12:41.) And immediately I was in the spirit; and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one set on the throne. And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone; and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald. (Rev. 4:2, 3.)

e. And the Lord came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of men builded. (Gen. 11:5.) I will go down now, and see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me: and if not, I will know. (Gen. 18:21.) The Lord looketh from heaven; he beholdeth all the sons of men. (Ps. 33:13.) God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek God. (Ps. 53:2.)

f. And it came to pass the selfsame day, that the Lord did bring the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt by their armies. (Ex. 12:51.) Many are the afflictions of the righteous; but the Lord delivereth him out of them all. (Ps. 34:19.) For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, as in the day of Midian. (Is. 9:4.) For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall. (Is. 25:4.)

g. And they told him, and said, We came unto the land whither thou sentest us, and surely it floweth with milk and honey; and this is the fruit of it. (Num. 13:27.)

h. In the same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river of Euphrates. (Gen. 15:18.) Then your south quarter shall be from the wilderness of Zin along by the coast of Edim, and your south border shall be the outmost coast of the salt sea eastward. (Num. 34:3.) And Solomon reigned over all kingdoms from the river unto the land of the Philistines, and unto the border of Egypt; they brought presents, and served Solomon all the days of his life. (I Ks. 4:21.) Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance. (Ps. 105:11.)

i. See ch. 1, vs. 8, 11, 13, 14, 22.

j. And with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider, and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and his rider. (Jer. 51:21.) And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger and according to my fury; and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God. (Ez. 25:14.)

12 And he said, Certainly I [k]will be with thee; and [12]this shall be a [13]token unto thee, that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Ē'gўpt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain.

13 And [1]Mō'şeş said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you; and they shall say to me, What is his [14]name? what shall I say unto them?

14 And God said unto [1]Mō'şeş, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, I AM [l]hath sent me unto you.

15 And God said moreover unto Mō'şeş, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Ā'brā-hăm, the God of Ī'şaac, and the God of Jā'cob, hath sent me unto you: this is [15]my name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all generations.

16 Go, and gather the elders of Ĭs'ra-el together, and say unto them, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Ā'brā-hăm, of Ī'şaac, and of Jā'cob, appeared unto me, saying, I have surely [m]visited you, and seen that which is done to you in Ē'gўpt:

17 And I have said, I will bring you up out of the affliction of Ē'gўpt unto the land of the Cā'năan-ītes, and the Hĭt-tītes, and the Ām'or-ītes, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, and the Hī'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes, unto a land flowing with milk and honey.

18 And they shall hearken to thy voice: and thou shalt come, thou and the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, unto the king of Ē'gўpt, and ye shall say unto him, The Lord God of the Hē'brews hath met with us: and now let us go, we beseech thee, [16]three days' journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to the Lord our God.

19 ¶ And I [17]am sure that the king of Ē'gўpt will not let you go, no, not by a mighty hand.

20 And I will stretch out my hand, and smite Ē'gўpt with all my wonders which I will do in the midst thereof: and after that he will let you go.

21 And I will give this people [18]favour in the sight of the Ē-gўp'tians: and it shall come to pass, that, when ye go, ye shall not go empty:

22 But every woman shall [19]borrow of her neighbour, and of her that sojourneth in her house, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment: and ye shall put them upon your sons, and upon your daughters; and ye shall [20]spoil the Ē-gўp'tians.

12. Beacon, evidence, a sign.

13. That is, the burning bramble or bush is a token.

14. With the Hebrews names were significant of indicative character, as, the change made by God, from Abram to Abraham, from Jacob to Israel, which indicated change of character and relation. When Jacob pleaded with the angel, "Tell me thy name?" he meant, "Reveal thy character," so now he desires to look at his commission, and says "What is thy name?"

15. The memorial name Jehovah, literally rendered, "I am, who am," i. e., "I am he who is." "I only am he who exists in himself." Grammatically the words here rendered "I am" is the first person, future of the verb of existence, translated as a present (the Hebrew has no proper present), which tense conveys the idea of the future continuance of the present state (Nordh, Heb. Gram. sec. 964, 2). The word translated Jehovah (more properly Jahveh) is the third person, future, of the same verb, in its archaic form. Havah is as some think formed from this verb with a prefix and so Jehovah has the same meaning in the third person which this word has in the first. Thus the name afterward announced to Moses in Ex. 6:3, is the same as "I am." In the mouth of God it is, "I, who am," in the mouth of man it is "he, who is." This is the only real proper name of God. Other names set forth some of his attributes, attributes which, to some degree, he shares with creative beings. This name alone sets forth his innermost, incommunicable nature. Our word Lord and God means governor, which simply brings before us God's authority. Deity from the Latin deus, Sanskrit dyaus, from div. to shine, and means the shining one, which spring from the Aryan ancestors; sun-worship in Asia, hence is slightly idolatrous in its related meaning. Besides Jehovah there are five Hebrew names often used, El and Elohim, sig. the strong, and the strong ones; Elyon, signifies the most high; Shaddai, the almighty; and Adhonai corresponds to our Lord. But the memorial name comprises all these ideas, and infinitely more.

16. The first request made by the Israelites was not for national independence, but religious independence, acknowledgment of the God of Israel.

17. Lit. I know.

18. Kindness, consideration, recognition.

19. Lit. ask.

20. Strip, take out from, to snatch away from.

CHAPTER 4.

1 Moses's rod is turned into a serpent. 6 His hand is leprous. 14 Aaron is appointed to assist him. 18 Moses departeth from Jethro. 21 God's message to Pharaoh. 27 Aaron is sent to meet Moses. 31 The people believeth them.

1 And [1]Mō'şeş answered and said, But, behold, they will not believe me, nor hearken unto my voice: for they will say, The Lord hath not appeared unto thee.

2 And the Lord said unto him, What is that in thine hand? And he said, [2]A rod.

3 And he said, Cast it on the ground. And he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent; and [1]Mō'şeş fled from before it.

4 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the tail. And he put forth his hand, and caught it, and it became a rod in his hand:

5 That they may [a]believe that the Lord God of their fathers, the God of Ā'brā-hăm, the God of Ī'şaac, and the God of Jā'cob, hath appeared unto thee.

6 ¶ And the Lord said furthermore unto him, Put now thine hand into thy bosom. And he put his hand into his bosom: and when he took it out, behold, his hand [3]was leprous as snow.

7 And he said, Put thine hand into thy bosom again. And he put his hand into his bosom again; and plucked it out of his bosom, and, behold, it was [b]turned again as his other flesh.

8 And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe thee, neither hearken to the voice of the first [c]sign, that they will believe the voice of the latter [c]sign.

9 And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe also these two signs, neither hearken unto thy voice, that thou shalt take of the [d]water of the river, and pour it upon the dry land: and the [4]water which thou takest out of the river shall become blood upon the dry land.

10 ¶ And [1]Mō'şeş said unto the Lord, O my Lord, I am not [5]eloquent, neither heretofore, nor since thou hast spoken unto thy servant: but I am slow [e]of speech, and of a slow tongue.

Ch. 4. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—In ch. 4, Moses appears before us armed with supernatural power, which is the first instance of the kind in history. The patriarchs had communication with God in visions waking or sleeping, but they wrought no miracles, for they held no mediatorial relation to mankind and needed no supernatural credentials, but now events have changed. A mediatorial nation was to be founded which should stand supernaturally accredited before mankind and the founder of this nation is therefore clothed with supernatural powers. It is also especially noteworthy that the Scriptures furnish no example of a miracle wrought by man till we reach the period of written history recorded by original witnesses.

1. See 11, ch. 2, for historical account of the life of Moses.
2. The shepherd's staff.
3. Even the signs which Jehovah gave Moses were indicative of the national conditions. For example, the second sign—the hand made leprous—symbolizes Israel, first fresh and young, then foul and weak, then clean and strong.
4. The Nile was the Egyptian national god, for its fertilizing power was deemed to proceed from Osiris himself. Thus Jehovah smites Egypt's life-giving god, which is stretched through the land a loathsome corpse, its water changed to blood.
5. Lit. not a man of words.

k. There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life: as I was with Moses, so I will be with thee; I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Josh. 1:5.) What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.) Be strong, and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them; for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Dt. 31:6.) For the Lord your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to save you. (Dt. 20:4.) So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Heb. 13:6.) The Lord is my light, and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.)

l. And I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the name of God Almighty, but by my name JEHOVAH was I not known to them. (Ex. 6:3.) Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am. (Jno. 8:58.) Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and for ever. (Heb. 13:8.)

m. And Joseph said unto his brethren, I die; and God will surely visit you, and bring you out of this land unto the land which he sware to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. (Gen. 50:24.)

a. And the Lord said unto Moses, Lo, I come unto thee in a thick cloud, that the people may hear when I speak with thee, and believe thee for ever. And Moses told the words of the people unto the Lord. (Ex. 19:9.) And ye came near and stood under the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire unto the midst of heaven, with darkness, clouds, and thick darkness. And the Lord spake unto you out of the midst of the fire; ye heard the voice of the words, but saw no similitude; only ye heard a voice. (Dt. 4:11, 12.)

b. See now that I, even I, am he, and there is no God with me: I kill, and I make alive; I wound, and I heal; neither is there any that can deliver out of my hand. (Dt. 32:39.) He that is our God is the God of salvation; and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death. (Ps. 68:20.)

c. And he said, Lord God, whereby shall I know that I shall inherit it? And he said unto him, Take me an heifer of three years old and a she goat of three years old, and a ram of three years old, and a turtledove, and a young pigeon. And it came to pass, that, when the sun went down, and it was dark, behold a smoking furnace, and a burning lamp that passed between those pieces. (Gen. 15:8, 9, 17.) And he said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, then show me a sign that thou talkest with me. (Jud. 6:17.) And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years. (Lu. 1:18.) And as he sat upon the Mt. of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world? (Math. 24:3.) Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee, but he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it; but the sign of the prophet Jonas. (Mat. 12:38, 39.)

d. See ch. 7, v. 19.

e. Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child, (Jer. 1:6.)

11 And the Lord said unto him, Who hath made man's mouth? or who maketh the dumb, or deaf, or the seeing, or the blind? have not I the Lord?

12 Now therefore go, and I will be [e]with thy mouth, and [f]teach thee what thou shalt say.

13 And he said, O my Lord, send, I pray thee, by the hand of him whom thou [7]wilt send.

14 And the [8]anger of the Lord was kindled against Mō'ṣeṣ, and he said, Is not [9]Aâr'on the Lē'vīte thy brother? I know that he can speak well. And also, behold, he cometh forth to meet thee: and when he seeth thee, he will be glad in his heart.

15 And thou [10]shalt speak unto him, and [g]put words in his mouth: and I will be with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and will [f]teach you what ye shall do.

16 And he shall be thy spokesman unto the people: and he shall be, even he shall be to thee instead of a mouth, and thou [h]shalt be to him instead of God.

17 And thou shalt take this rod in thine hand, wherewith thou shalt do signs.

18 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ went and returned to Jē'thro his father in law, and said unto him, Let me go, I pray thee, and return unto my brethren which are in Ē'ġўpt, and see whether they be yet alive. And Jē'thrō said to Mō'ṣeṣ, Go in peace.

19 And the Lord said unto Mō'ṣeṣ in Mĭd'ĭ-an, Go, return into Ē'ġўpt: for all the men are dead which sought thy life.

20 And Mō'ṣeṣ took his wife and his sons, and set them upon an ass, and he returned to the land of Ē'ġўpt: and Mō'ṣeṣ took the [i]rod of God in his hand.

21 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'ṣeṣ, When thou goest to return into Ē'ġўpt, see that thou do all those wonders before Phā'raōh, which I have put in thine hand: but I will [11]harden [j]his heart, that he shall not let the people go.

22 And thou shalt say unto Phā'raōh, Thus saith the Lord, Ĭs'ra-el [12]is my son, [k]even my [l]firstborn:

23 And I say unto thee, Let [12]my son go, that he may serve me: and if thou refuse to let him go, behold, I will slay [m]thy son, even thy firstborn.

24 ¶ And it came to pass by the way in the inn, that the [14]Lord met him, and [n]sought to kill him.

25 Then Zĭp-pō'rah took a [o]sharp stone, and cut off the [15]foreskin of her son, and cast it at his feet, and said, Surely a bloody husband art thou to me.

26 So he let him go: then she said, A bloody husband thou art, because of the circumcision.

27 ¶ And the Lord said to Aâr'on, Go into the wilderness to meet [1]Mō'ṣeṣ. And he went, and met him in the mount of God, and kissed him.

28 And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ told [16]Aâr'on all the words of the Lord who had sent him, and all the [p]signs which he had commanded him.

29 ¶ And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ and Aâr'on went and gathered together all the elders of the children of Ĭs'ra-el:

30 And [16]Aâr'on spake all the words which the Lord had spoken unto [1]Mō'ṣeṣ, and did the signs in the sight of the people.

31 And the people believed: and when they heard that the Lord had [q]visited the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and that he had looked upon their affliction, then they [r]bowed their heads and worshipped.

6. Here for the first time prophetic inspiration is promised to man, henceforth in the whole subsequent history of the church we see this endowment of the Holy Ghost.

7. Should send.

8. The wrath.

9. Aaron, the Levite, now first appears, and Moses for a time retires behind him. This is nothing but natural. For forty years Moses has been in the desert plains receiving his special preparation, while during the same forty years Aaron has lived in the atmosphere of the highest civilization. Aaron becomes God's spokesman to the people. It is Aaron's rod that buds. A. is Jehovah's high priest. It is his sons that come to honor and wear the splendid vestments of the tabernacle.

10. Moses was to be the mediator, while Aaron was to be the interpreter of God's word, as he received it from Moses. Yet it is interesting to note that M. grows in faith and loses his traces of rustic, desert life, he grows more and more into prominence and Aaron gradually recedes.

11. Moses is now forewarned, lest he should become despondent, what shall be the attitude of Pharaoh. The expression here used means God permits, rather than causes, the hardness of P.'s heart, as a judgment proceeding directly from God, as a consequential punishment for the sins already committed by Pharaoh.

12. In God's covenant Israel was adopted as the first-born of the nation, and adopted as the child of Jehovah. Thus Pharaoh who styled himself "son of Ra" the sun-god, was commanded to release Israel, the son of Jehovah; so in every instance the blow is struck at Egypt's god.
The conflict is religious, not political; the war is waged from heaven.

13. That is, Israel.

14. Moses was uncircumcised and circumcision was the seal of the covenant. For neglecting this seal, death was the penalty. As Moses advanced toward Egypt, Jehovah barred his way and would not allow him to go forward until he consecrated himself to the God of Israel.

15. The sign of the covenant.

16. The eldest son of the Levite Amram and Jochebed. He was the brother of Moses and Miriam, being three years older than Moses. He was born the year before Pharaoh's edict for destroying the Hebrew male infants. Aaron married Elisheba (or Elizabeth), of the tribe of Judah. Of this marriage he had four sons, Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar. The first two were destroyed by fire from heaven. From the other two the race of the chief priests were continued in Israel. Aaron, being more eloquent than his brother Moses, was directed by Jehovah to assist the great law-giver. The two met at Mt. Horeb whither they had both been sent by divine direction (Ex. 4:27). They immediately began their journey toward Egypt and presented themselves before Pharaoh, and exhibited the credentials of their divine commission by working several miracles in his presence. Pharaoh, however, drove them from his presence and increased the burdens of their people. While on Mount Sinai with Aaron, his sons and the seventy elders near by Moses received a divine command regarding the Hebrew ecclesiastical establishment and the vestment of Aaron and his sons with the priestly offices, the functions of which they were to discharge before Jehovah forever. Thus the name of Aaron occurs as the first anointed priest. During the forty days that Moses continued in the Mount, when in communion with Jehovah, Aaron weakly allowed himself, urged by the people, to make the golden calf. When confronted with his sin, Aaron at first endeavored to excuse himself, but afterward became penitent, humbled himself and was pardoned. Because of his sins and mistrust, Aaron was not allowed to enter the promised land, and when the host arrived at Mt. Hor the divine mandate came that Aaron, accompanied by his brother Moses, and his son Eleazar, should ascend to the top of the mountain in the view of all the people and that he should there transfer his pontifical robe to his son, and then die. (Num. 20:23-29.) He was 123 years old. His son and brother buried him in a cavern of the mountain.

f. Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer: For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist. (Lu. 21:14, 15.) But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak; for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. (Mat. 10:19.) And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake. (Acts 6:10.)

g. And he answered and said, Must I not take heed to speak that which the Lord hath put in my mouth? (Num. 23:12.) I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and I will put my words in his mouth; and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him. (Dt. 18:18.) But as for thee, stand thou here by me, and I will speak unto thee all the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, that they may do them in the land which I give them to possess it. (Dt. 5:31.)

h. Hearken now unto my voice, I will give thee counsel, and God shall be with thee. Be thou for the people to God-ward, that thou mayest bring the causes unto God. (Ex. 18:19.) And Moses brought their cause before the Lord. (Num. 27:5.)

i. And Moses said unto Joshua, Choose us out men, and go out, fight with Amelek; tomorrow I will stand on the top of the hill with the rod of God in my hand. (Ex. 17:9.) Take the rod, and gather thou the assembly together, thou, and Aaron, thy brother, and speak ye unto the rock before their eyes; and it shall give forth his water, and thou shalt bring forth to them water out of the rock; so thou shalt give the congregation and their beasts drink. And Moses took the rod from before the Lord, as he commanded him. (Num. 20:8, 9.)

j. For it was of the Lord to harden their hearts, that they should come against Israel in battle, that he might destroy them utterly, and that they might have no favor, but that he might destroy them, as the Lord commanded Moses. (Josh. 11:20.) But Sihon king of Heshbon would not let us pass by him; for the Lord thy God hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, that he might deliver him into thy hands, as appeareth this day. (Dt. 2:30.) Wherefore the king hearkened not unto the people; for the cause was from the Lord, that he might perform his saying, which the Lord spake by Ahijah the Shilonite unto Jeroboam the son of Nebat. (I Ks. 12:15.)

k. When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt. (Hos. 11:1.) Who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises. (Rom. 9:4.) Ye are the children of the Lord your God. Ye shall not cut yourselves, nor make any baldness between your eyes for the dead. (Dt. 14:1.)

l. For I am a father to Israel and Ephraim is my firstborn. (Jer. 31:9.) Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruit of his creatures. (Ja. 1:18.)

m. And it came to pass, that at midnight the Lord smote all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharaoh that sat on his throne unto the firstborn of the captive that was in the dungeon; and all the firstborn of cattle. (Ex. 12:29.)

n. And God's anger was kindled because he went; and the angel of the Lord stood in the way for an adversary against him. (Num. 22:22.) And the uncircumcised man child whose flesh of his foreskin is not circumcised, that soul shall be cut off from his people; he hath broken my covenant. (Gen. 17:14.)

o. At that time the Lord said unto Joshua, Make thee sharp knives, and circumcise again the children of Israel the second time. And Joshua made him sharp knives and circumcised the children of Israel at the hill of the foreskins. (Josh. 5:2, 3.)

p. See vs. 2-4, 6, 7, 9.

q. And also that nation, whom they shall serve, will I judge: and afterward shall they come out with great substance. (Gen. 15:14.) But as for you, ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive. (Gen. 50:20.)

r. And the man bowed down his head, and worshipped the Lord. (Gen. 24:26.) And David said to all the congregation, Now bless the Lord your God. And all the congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers and bowed down their heads, and worshipped the Lord, and the king. (1 Chr. 29:20.)

CHAPTER 5.

1 Pharaoh chideth Moses and Aaron for their message. 5 He increaseth the Israelites' task. 20 They cry out upon Moses and Aaron. 22 Moses complaineth to God.

1 And afterward [1]Mō'şeş and [2]Aâr'on went in, and told [3]Phā'raōh, Thus saith the [4]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el, Let my people go, that they may hold a feast unto me in the wilderness.

2 And [3]Phā'raōh said, [5]Who [a]is the Lord, that I should obey his voice to let Ĭs'ra-el go? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Ĭs'ra-el go.

3 And they said, [6]The God of the Hē'brewş hath met with us: let us go, we pray thee, [7]three days' journey into the desert, and sacrifice unto the Lord our God; lest he fall upon us with pestilence, or with the sword.

4 And the king of Ē'ġўpt said unto them, [7]Wherefore do ye, Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, [8]let the people from their works? [9]get you unto your [b]burdens.

5 And [3]Phā'raōh said, Behold, the people of the land now are [c]many, and ye make them rest from their burdens.

6 And [3]Phā'raōh commanded the same day the taskmasters of the people, and their officers, saying,

7 Ye shall no more give the people straw to make brick, as heretofore: let them go and gather straw for themselves.

8 And the [10]tale of the bricks, which they did make heretofore, ye shall lay upon them; ye shall not diminish ought thereof: for they be idle; therefore they cry, saying, Let us go and sacrifice to our God.

9 Let there more work be laid upon the men that they may labour therein; and let them not [11]regard vain words.

10 ¶ And the taskmasters of the people went out, and their officers, and they spake to the people, saying, Thus saith [3]Phā'raōh, I will not give you straw.

11 Go ye, get you straw where ye can find it: yet not ought of your work shall be diminished.

12 So the people were scattered abroad throughout all the land of Ē'ġўpt to gather [12]stubble instead of straw.

13 And the taskmasters hasted them, saying, Fulfil your works, your [13]daily tasks, as when there was straw.

14 And the officers of the [d]children of Ĭs'ra-el, which Phā'raōh's taskmasters had set over them, were beaten, and demanded, Wherefore have ye not fulfilled your task in making brick both yesterday and to day, as heretofore?

15 ¶ Then the officers of the children of Ĭs'ra-el came and cried unto [3]Phā'raōh, saying, Wherefore dealest thou thus with thy servants?

16 There is no straw given unto thy servants, and they say to us, Make brick: and, behold, thy servants are beaten; but the fault is in thine own people.

17 But he said, Ye are idle, ye are idle: therefore ye say, Let us go and do sacrifice to the Lord.

18 Go therefore now, and work; for there shall no straw be given you, yet shall ye deliver the [14]tale of bricks.

19 And the officers of the children of Ĭs'ra-el did see that they [15]were in evil case, after it was said, Ye shall not minish ought from your bricks of your daily task.

20 ¶And they met [1]Mō'şeş and [2]Aâr'on, who stood in the way, as they came forth from [3]Phā'raōh:

21 And they said unto them, The Lord look upon you, and judge; because ye have made our savour to be abhorred in the eyes of Phā'raōh, and in the eyes of his servants, to put a sword in their hand to slay us.

22 And [1]Mō'şeş [c]returned unto the Lord, and said, Lord, wherefore hast thou so evil entreated this people? why is it that thou hast sent me?

23 For since I came to [3]Phā'raōh to speak in thy name, he hath done evil to this people; neither hast thou [f]delivered thy people at all.

CHAPTER 6.

1 God reneweth his promise by his name JEHOVAH. 14 The genealogy of Reuben, 15 of Simeon, 16 of Levi.

1 Then the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Now shalt thou see what I will do to [2]Phā'raōh: for with a strong hand shall he let them go, and with a strong hand shall he drive them out of his land.

2 And God spake unto [1]Mō'şeş, and said unto him, I [3]am the Lord.

3 And I appeared unto [4]Ā'brā-hăm, unto [5]Ĭ'şaac, and unto [6]Jā'cob, by the name of [7]God [a]Almighty, but by my name [8]JEHOVAH [b]was I not known to them.

4 And I have also [c]established my [9]covenant with them, to give them the land of [10]Cā'năan, the land of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers.

5 And I have also heard the [d]groaning of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, whom the Ē-ġўp'tiaṇs keep in bondage; and I have remembered my covenant.

6 Wherefore say unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, I am the Lord, and I will [e]bring you out from under the burdens of the Ē-ġўp'tiaṇs, and I will rid you out of their bondage, and I

Ch. 5. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—With ch. 5 begins the Struggle, commencing with the intercessions (ch. 5) and closing with the Judgment (ch. 13). The era of preparation ends and the first act of the struggle begins. Moses and Aaron declare their mission to Pharaoh: "Thus saith Jehovah, God of Israel."

1. For historical account of the life of Moses, see ch. 11: 2.
2. For historical account of Aaron see 21, ch. 4.
3. For historical account of the life of Pharaoh, see 8, ch. 2.
4. Jehovah, which is the proper name of God, and not the compound word "Lord God."
5. To this time the name of Jehovah had not been much used in Egypt, and it is probable that Pharaoh had never heard it.
6. When conferring with strangers, the Israelites referred to themselves as Hebrews; hence Jehovah, whom they styled God of Israel, Pharaoh would style God of Hebrews. Therefore this expression is used by way of explanation to Pharaoh.
7. Why.
8. Stop or interrupt the people from their work.
9. Spoken to the elders or captains of the Israelites.
10. The counting or numbering of the bricks which they make shall now be added to their work.
11. Consider, think on or pay attention to.
12. That is, straw from the harvest field, instead of having it brought to them as before. They are now compelled to gather their own straw from the harvest field and make as many bricks as before when the straw was furnished them.
13. Make the same number as when the straw was furnished.
14. The same number.
15. Were set on mischief, when they said.

2. For historical account of Pharaoh see 8, ch. 2.
3. Jehovah.
4. For historical account of Abraham see Gen. 31:17.
5. For historical account of Isaac see Gen. 27:1.
6. For historical account of Jacob see Gen. 9:25.
7. Self-existent, Jewish, national, God of Power.
8. In my character Jehovah I was not made known to them. From the time of the call of Abraham, God had been unfolding his character, as by degrees the patriarchs could become acquainted with him. Man is not instructed by teaching him names, but by unfolding to him the import of names; and this was what Jehovah had been doing with Israel through such appellations as El, Elyon, El Shaddi. But time is now ripe for another name and they are to receive the great Covenant name. It was the import of the name and not the sound that was unknown to the fathers.
9. Promise, agreement.
10. The ancient name of that portion of Palestine which lay to the west of Jordan.

Chapter 5.

a. Who are they among all the gods of the countries that have delivered their country out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of mine hand? (II Ks. 18:35.) What is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have, if we pray unto him? (Job 21:15.) The Lord shall cut off all flattering lips and the tongue that speaketh proud things (3). For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the Lord; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him. (Ps. 12:3, 5.)

b. As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear; so is a wicked ruler over the poor people. (Prov. 28:15.) Therefore they did set over them taskmasters to afflict them with their burdens. And they built for Pharaoh treasure cities Pithom and Raamses. (Ex. 1:11.)

c. And the children of Israel were fruitful, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty; and the land was filled with them. And he said unto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Israel are more and mightier than we. (Ex. 1:7, 9.)

d. And he said unto Abram, Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serve them; and they shall afflict them four hundred years. (Gen. 15:13.)

e. And Moses said unto the Lord, wherefore hast thou afflicted thy servant? and wherefore have I not found favor in thy sight, that thou layest the burden of all this people upon me? (Num. 11:11.) And David was greatly distressed; for the people spake of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was grieved, every man for his sons and for his daughters; but David encouraged himself in the Lord his God (I Sam. 30:6.)

f. Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering (for he is faithful that promised). (Heb. 10:23.) God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord. (I Cor. 1:9.)

a. And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect. (Gen. 17:1.) And Jacob said unto Joseph, God Almighty appeared unto me at Luz in the land af Canaan and blessed me. (Gen. 48:3.)

b. And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM; and he said, Thus shall thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you. (Ex. 3:14.) Sing unto God, sing praises to his name; extoll him that rideth upon the heavens by his name JAH, and rejoice before him. (Ps. 68:4.) That men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the Most High over all the earth. (Ps. 83:18.) Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am. (Jno. 8:58.) John to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne. (Rev. 1:4.)

c. In that same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river of Euphrates. (Gen. 15:18.) He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations (8). For he remembered his holy promise, and Abraham his servant. (Ps. 105:8, 42.)

d. And God heard their groaning, and God remembered his covenant with Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob. (Ex. 2:24.)

e. And the Lord brought us forth out of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with great terribleness, and with signs, and with wonders. (Dt. 26:8.) I removed his shoulder from the burden; his hands were delivered from the pots. (Ps. 81:6.) And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercy endureth for ever: With a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm; for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 136:11, 12.)

will [f]redeem you with a stretched out arm, and with great judgments:

7 And I will take you to me for a [g]people, and I will be to [h]you a God: and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God, which bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Ē-ġўp'tians.

8 And I will bring you in unto the land, concerning the which I did [11]swear to give it to [4]Ā'brā-hăm, to [5]Ī'şaac, and to [6]Jā'cob; and I will give it you for an [12]heritage: I am the Lord.

9 ¶ And [1]Mō'şeş spake so unto the children of Īs'ra-el: but [13]they hearkened not unto [1]Mō'şeş, for anguish of spirit, and for cruel bondage.

10 And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

11 Go in, speak unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'ġўpt, that he let the children of Īs'ra-el go out of his land.

12 And [1]Mō'şeş spake before the Lord, saying, Behold, the children of Īs'ra-el have not hearkened unto me; how then shall [2]Phā'raōh hear me, who am of uncircumcised lips?

13 And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, and gave them a charge unto the children of Īs'ra-el, and unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'ġўpt, to bring the children of Īs'ra-el out of the land of Ē'ġўpt.

14 ¶ These be the heads of their fathers' houses: The sons of Reu'ben the firstborn of Īs'ra-el; Hā'noch, and Păl'lu, Hĕz'ron, and Cär'mī: these be the families of Reu'ben.

15 And the sons of Sīm'e-on; Je-mū'el, and Jā'min, and Ō'hăd, and Jā'chin, and Zō'har, and Shā'ul the son of a Cā'năan-īt-ish woman: these are the families of Sīm'e-on.

16 ¶And these are the names of the sons of Lē'vī according to their generations; Gēr'shŏn, and Kō'hath, and Me-rā'rī: and the years of the life of Lē'vī were an hundred thirty and seven years.

17 The sons of Gēr'shŏn; Lĭb'nī, and Shī'mī, according to their families.

18 And the sons of Kō'hath; Ām'răm, and Īz'har, and Hē'bron, and Ŭz'zĭ-el: and the years of the life of Kō'hath were an hundred thirty and three years.

19 And the sons of Me-rā'rī; Mā'ha-lī and Mū'shi: these are the families of Lē'vī according to their generations.

20 And Ām'răm took him Jŏch'e-bed his [2]father's sister to wife; and she bare him Aâr'on [3]and Mō'şeş: and the years of the life of Ām'răm were an hundred and thirty and seven years.

21 ¶ And the sons of Īz'har; Kō'rah, and Nē'pheg, and Zĭch'rī.

22 And the sons of Ŭz'zĭ-el; Mīsh'a-el, and Ēl'za-phăn, and Zĭth'rī.

11. Which promised to.
12. Inheritance, possession.
13. For their cruel oppression crushed them in an anguish that made them dead to hope.
15. Elizabeth, that is, God is her oath, or she owns and worships God.
16. For historical account of Aaron see 21, ch. 4.
17. Verses 28, 29, 30 properly belong to the next chapter and should be read in connection with chapter 7.

5. Pharaoh had so far resisted the truth and gone so deep in sin that the judgments of God served only to increase his obstinacy, which was here foreseen and predicted that Moses might not be disheartened when it came true.
6. Future tense, meaning will not.
7. Will show or make manifest my power.
8. Eighty years.
9. Eighty-three years.
10. Moses and Aaron now stand before Pharaoh as ministers of judgment, and the conflict opens between Jehovah and the false gods of Egypt. Events were to burn into the national consciousness of Israel and into the memory of the world the great truths revealed in the Memorial Name; and the faith of Israel, the sin of Pharaoh, and the might and splendor of Egyptian heathenism were the divinely chosen instruments to accomplish this work.

The rich Nile lands teemed with gods, and was the mother country of the idolatries that, centuries afterwards, covered the Mediterranean islands and peninsulas, and filled classic literature with such manifold forms of beauty. The gods of Greece were born in Egypt, and the Sibyls of Delphos and Cumeea descended from the sorcerers who contended with Moses. Here the immense ram-headed Ammun and Hawk-headed Ra, the placid monumental Osiris, the colossal Rameses, sitting in granite, "with his vast hands resting upon his elephantine knees," with their brother gods of the age of Pharaohs have looked down upon the rising and falling Nile through all the centuries of European civilization. It was here in the midst of the center of idolatry the struggle began. It should be remembered that the weapons and the tactics of the warfare of this struggle were not such as to inflame the pride of the people of Israel or to awaken in after generations the thirst for military glory, but such as to turn the tides of their faith and hope wholly away from themselves to their God. Hence the Hebrew national anthems glory in Jehovah rather than Israel. Not the baptism of a war of national independence, but that of the Red Sea redemption was their great national remembrance. Enthusiasm for Jehovah thus became the national passion. And how appropriate was this in the training of a nation which was to teach the world true religion.

23 And Aâr'on took him [15]E-lish'e-bà, daughter of Ām-mĭn'a-dab, sister of Na-ash'on, to wife; and she bare him Nā'dāb, and Abī'hū, Ē-le-ā'zar, and Ĭth'a-mär.

24 And the sons of Kō'rah; Ās'sĭr, and Ēl'kă-nah, and A-bī'ă-săph: these are the families of the Kor'hītes.

25 And Ē-le-ā'zar Aâr'on's son took him one of the daughters of Pū'tī-el to wife; and she bare him Phĭn'e-has: these are the heads of the fathers of the Lē'vītes according to their families.

26 These are that [16]Aâr'on and [1]Mō'şeş, to whom the Lord said, Bring out the children of Īs'ra-el from the land of Ē'ġўpt according to their armies.

27 These are they which spake to [2]Phā'raōh king of Ē'ġўpt, to bring out the children of Īs'ra-el from Ē'ġўpt: these are that Mō'şeş and [16]Aâr'on.

28 [17]¶ And it came to pass on the day when the Lord spake unto [1]Mō'şeş in the land of Ē'ġўpt, 29 That the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying, I am the Lord: speak thou unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'ġўpt all that I say unto thee.

30 And [1]Mō'şeş said before the Lord, Behold, I am of uncircumcised lips, and how shall Phā'raōh hearken unto me?

CHAPTER 7.

1 Moses is encouraged to go to Pharaoh. 8 His rod is turned into a serpent. 11 The sorcerers do the like. 13 Pharaoh's heart is hardened. 19 The river is turned into blood.

1 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, See, I have made thee [2]a [a]god to [3]Phā'raōh: and [4]Aâr'on thy brother shall be thy prophet.

2 Thou shalt speak all that I command thee: and [4]Aâr'on thy brother shall speak unto [3]Phā'raōh, that he send the children of Īs'ra-el out of his land.

3 And I will [5]harden Phā'raōh's heart, and [b]multiply my signs and my wonders in the land of Ē'ġўpt.

4 But [3]Phā'raōh [6]shall not hearken unto you, that [b]I may lay my hand upon Ē'ġўpt, and bring forth mine armies, and my people the children of Īs'ra-el, out of the land of Ē'ġўpt by great judgments.

5 And the Ē-ġўp'tians shall know that I [c]am the Lord, when I [7]stretch forth [d]mine hand upon Ē'ġўpt, and bring out the children of Īs'ra-el from among them.

6 And [1]Mō'şeş and [4]Aâr'on did as the Lord commanded them, so did they.

7 And Mō'şeş was [8]fourscore [e]years old, and Aâr'on fourscore and [9]three years old, when they spake unto [3]Phā'raōh.

8 ¶ [10]And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō'şeş and unto [4]Aâr'on, saying,

f. Thou in thy mercy hast led forth the people which thou hast redeemed; thou hast guided them in thy strength unto thy holy habitation. (Ex. 15:13.) Because the Lord loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your fathers, hath the Lord brought you out with a mighty hand and redeemed you out of the house of bondmen, from the hand of Pharaoh, king of Egypt. (Dt. 7:8.) Now these are thy servants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy strong hand. (Neh. 1:10.) Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. (Math. 20:28.) For ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's. (I Cor. 6:20.) Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father. (Gal. 1:4.)

g. For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God; the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth. (Dt. 7:6.) For thou hast confirmed to thyself thy people Israel to be a people unto thee for ever; and thou, Lord, art become their God. (II Sam. 7:24.) Now, therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people; for all the earth is mine. (Ex. 19:5.) But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. (I Pet. 2:9.)

h. That he may establish thee today for a people unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath said unto thee, and as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. (Dt. 29:13.) He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. (Rev. 21:7.) And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee and their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee and to thy seed after thee (7). And I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land wherein thou art a stranger, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession; and I will be their God. (Gen. 17:7, 8.)

i. And there went a man of the house of Levi, and took to wife a daughter of Levi. And the woman conceived, and bare a son; and when she saw him that he was a goodly child, she hid him three months. (Ex. 2:1, 2.)

Chapter 7.

a. And he shall be thy spokesman unto the people; and he shall be, even he shall be to thee instead of a mouth, and thou shalt be to him instead of God. (Ex. 4:16.) See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, and to build, and to plant. (Jer. 1:10.) Hearken now unto my voice, I will give thee counsel, and God shall be with thee: Be thou for the people to God-ward, that they mayest bring the causes unto God. (Ex. 18:19.)

b. And the Lord said unto Moses, Pharaoh shall not hearken unto you; that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Egypt. (Ex. 11:9.) And the Lord said unto Moses, Go in unto Pharaoh; for I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants that I might show these my signs before him. (Ex. 10:1.)

c. And the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, when I have gotten me honor upon Pharaoh, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen. (Ex. 14:18.)

d. And I will stretch out my hand, and smite Egypt with all my wonders which I will do in the midst thereof; and after that he will let you go. (Ex. 3:20.)

e. And he said unto them, I am an hundred and twenty years old

9 When Phā′raōh shall speak unto you, saying, [f]Shew a miracle for you: then thou shalt say unto [4]Aâr′on, Take thy rod, and cast it before [3]Phā′raōh, and it shall become a serpent.

10 ¶ And [1]Mō′şeş and [4]Aâr′on went in unto [3]Phā′raōh, and they did so as the Lord had commanded: and [4]Aâr′on cast down his rod before [3]Phā′raōh, and before his servants, and it became a [11]serpent.

11 Then [3]Phā′raōh also called the [12]wise men and the [13]sorcerers: [g]now the magicians of Ē′ġўpt, they also did in like [h]manner with their enchantments.

12 For they cast down every man his rod, and they became [13]serpents: but Aâ′ron's [14]rod swallowed up their rods.

13 And he [15]hardened Phā′raōh's heart, that he hearkened not unto them; as the Lord had said.

14 ¶ And the Lord said unto [1]Mō′şeş, [3]Phā′raōh's heart is hardened, he refuseth to let the people go.

15 Get thee unto Phā′raōh in the morning; lo, he goeth out unto the water; and thou shalt stand by the river's brink against he come; and the rod which was turned to a serpent shalt thou take in thine hand.

16 And thou shalt say unto him, The Lord God of the Hē′brewş hath sent me unto thee, saying, Let my people go, [i]that they may serve me in the wilderness: and, behold, hitherto thou wouldest not hear.

17 Thus saith the Lord, In this thou [j]shalt know that I am the Lord: behold, I will smite with the rod that is in mine hand upon the waters which are in the river, and they shall be turned to blood.

18 And the fish that is in the river shall die, and the river shall stink; and the Ē-ġўp′tianş shall lothe to [k]drink of the water of the river.

19 ¶ And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō′şeş, Say unto Aâr′on, Take thy rod, and stretch [l]out thine hand upon the waters of Ē′ġўpt, upon their streams, upon their rivers, and upon their ponds, and upon all their pools of water, that they may become blood; and that there may be blood throughout all the land of Ē′ġўpt, both in vessels of wood, and in vessels of stone.

20 And [1]Mō′şeş and [4]Aâr′on did so, as the Lord commanded; and he lifted up the rod, and smote the waters that were in the river, in the sight of [3]Phā′raōh, and in the sight of his servants; and all the [16]waters that were in the river were [m]turned to blood.

21 And the fish that was in the river died; and the river stank, and the Ē-ġўp′tians could not drink of the water of the river; and there was blood throughout [17]all the land of Ē′ġўpt.

22 And the magicians of Ē′ġўpt did so with their enchantments: and Phā′raōh's heart was hardened, neither did he hearken unto them; as the Lord had said.

23 And Phā′raōh turned and went into his house, neither did he [n]set his heart to this also.

24 And all the Ē-ġўp′tianş digged round about the river for water to drink; for they could not drink of the water of the river.

25 And seven days were fulfilled, after that the Lord had smitten the river.

CHAPTER 8.

1 Frogs are sent. 8 Pharaoh sueth to Moses, 12 and Moses by prayer removeth them away. 16 The dust is turned into lice. 20 The swarms of flies. 32 Pharaoh yet is hardened.

1 And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō′şeş, Go unto Phā′raōh, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people [a]go, that they may serve me.

2 And if thou refuse to let them go, behold, I will smite all thy borders with [b]frogs:

3 And the river shall bring forth frogs abundantly, which shall go up and come into thine house, and into thy bedchamber, and upon thy bed, and into the house of thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thine ovens, and into thy kneading troughs:

4 And the frogs shall come up both on thee, and upon thy people, and upon all thy servants.

5 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Mō′şeş, Say unto [2]Aâr′on, [c]Stretch forth thine hand with thy rod over the streams, over the rivers, and over the ponds, and cause frogs to come up upon the land of Ē′ġўpt.

6 And [2]Aâr′on stretched out his hand over the waters of Ē′ġўpt; and the frogs [b]came up, and covered the land of Ē′ġўpt.

7 And the [d]magicians did so with their enchantments, and brought up frogs upon the land of Ē′ġўpt.

8 ¶ Then Phā′raōh called for Mō′şeş and Aâr′on, and said, [3]Intreat [e]the Lord, that he may take away the frogs from me, and from my people; and I will let the people go, that they may do sacrifice unto the Lord.

9 And Mō′şeş said unto Phā′raōh, Glory over me: [4]when shall I intreat for thee, and for thy servants, and for thy people, to destroy the frogs from thee and thy houses, that they may remain in the river only?

10 And [5]he said, To morrow. And [6]he said, Be it according to thy word: that thou mayest know that there is none [f]like unto the Lord our God.

this day; I can no more go out and come in; also the Lord hath said unto me, Thou shalt not go over this Jordan. (Dt. 31:2.) And when he was full forty years old it came into his heart to visit his brethren and the children of Israel (23). And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of Mt. Sina an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush. (Acts 7:23, 30.)

f. Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above. (Is. 7:11.) Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign showest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? (Jno. 2:18.)

g. Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth; men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith. (II Tim. 3:8.)

h. See ch. 8, vs. 7, 18.

i. And he said, Certainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a token unto thee, that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain. (Ex. 3:12.)

j. And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebuke; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them. (Ez. 25:17.) Thus shall they know that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord God. (Ez. 34:30.) The Lord is known by the judgment which he executeth; the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion. Selah. (Ps. 9:16.) Lord, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not see; but they shall see, and be ashamed for their envy at the people; yea, the fire of thine enemies shall devour them. (Is. 26:11.)

k. See v. 24.

l. And the Lord said unto Moses, Stretch forth thine hand toward heaven, that there may be hail in all the land of Egypt, upon man, and upon beast, and upon every herb of the field, throughout the land of Egypt. (Ex. 9:22.) And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent; and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great. (Rev. 16:21.) The Lord also thundered in the heavens, and the Highest gave his voice; hailstones and coals of fire. (Ps. 18:13.) He destroyed their vines with hail; and their sycamore trees with frost. (Ps. 78:47.) He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land. (Ps. 105:32.)

m. And had turned their rivers into blood; and their floods, that they could not drink. (Ps. 78:44.)

n. He, that being often reproved, hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy. (Prov. 29:1.)

b. Their land brought forth frogs in abundance in the chambers of their kings. (Ps. 105:30.)

c. See ch. 7, v. 19.

d. See ch. 7, v. 11.

e. Now therefore forgive, I pray thee, my sin only this once, and intreat the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death only. (Ex. 10:17.) Therefore the people came to Moses, and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against the Lord, and against thee; pray unto the Lord that he take away the serpents from us, and Moses prayed for the people. (Num. 21:7.)

f. There is none like unto the God of Jeshurun, who rideth upon the heaven is thy help, and in his excellency on the sky. (Dt. 33:26.) O Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God beside thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears. (I Chr. 17:20.) Among the gods there is none like unto thee, O Lord; neither are there any works like unto thy works. (Ps. 86:8.) Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me. (Is. 46:9.)

11 And the frogs shall depart from thee, and from thy houses, and from thy servants, and from thy people; they shall remain in the river only.

12 And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on went out from Phā'raōh; and Mō'şeş cried [g]unto the Lord because of the frogs which he had brought against Phā'raōh.

13 And the Lord did according to the word of Mō'şeş; and the frogs died out of the houses, out of the villages, and out of the fields.

14 And they gathered them together upon [7]heaps: and the land stank.

15 But when Phā'raōh saw that there was [h]respite, he hardened his heart, and hearkened not unto them; as the Lord had said.

16 ¶ And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Say unto [2]Aâr'on, Stretch out thy rod, and smite the dust of the land, that it may become lice throughout all the land of Ē'ġўpt.

17 And they did so; for Aâr'on stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the earth, and [8]it became lice in man, and in beast; all the dust of the land became lice throughout all the land of Ē'ġўpt.

18 And the magicians did so with their enchantments to bring forth lice, but they [i]could not: so there were lice upon [9]man, and upon beast.

19 Then the magicians said unto Phā'raōh, This is the [10]finger [j]of God: and Phā'raōh's heart was hardened, and he hearkened not unto them; as the Lord had said.

20 ¶ And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Phā'raōh; lo, he cometh forth to the water; and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people go, that they may serve me.

21 Else, if thou wilt not let my people go, behold, I will send swarms of flies upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thy houses: and the houses of the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs shall be full of swarms of [11]flies, and also the ground whereon they are.

22 And I will sever in that day the land of [12]Gō'shen, in which my people dwell, that no swarms of flies shall be there; to the end thou mayest know that I am the Lord in the midst of the earth.

23 And I will put a [13]division between my people and thy people: to morrow shall this sign be.

24 And the Lord did so; and there came a grievous swarm of flies into the house of Phā'raōh, and into his servants' houses, and into all the land of Ē'ġўpt: the land was corrupted by reason of the swarm of flies.

25 ¶ And Phā'raōh called for [1]Mō'şeş and for [2]Aâr'on, and said, Go ye, sacrifice to your God in the land.

26 And [1]Mō'şeş said, It is not meet so to do; for we shall sacrifice the [14]abomination of the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs to the Lord our God: lo, shall we sacrifice the abomination of the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs before their eyes, and will they not stone us?

27 We will go three days' journey into the wilderness and sacrifice to the Lord our God, [k]as he shall command us.

28 And Phā'raōh said, I will let you go, that ye may sacrifice to the Lord your God in the wilderness; only ye shall not go very far away: intreat [l]for me.

29 And [1]Mō'şeş said, Behold, I go out from thee, and I will intreat the Lord that the swarms of flies may depart from Phā'raōh, from his servants, and from his people, to morrow: but let not Phā'raōh deal deceitfully any more in not letting the people go to sacrifice to the Lord.

30 And [1]Mō'şeş went out from Phā'raōh, and intreated the Lord.

31 And the Lord did according to the word of Mō'şeş; and he removed the swarms of flies from Phā'raōh, from his servants, and from his people; there remained not one.

32 And Phā'raōh [m]hardened his heart at this time also, neither would he let the people go.

CHAPTER 9.

1 The murrain of beasts. 8 The plague of boils and blains. 13 His message about the hail. 22 The plague of hail. 27 Pharaoh sueth to Moses, 35 but yet is hardened.

1 Then the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Go in unto Phā'raōh, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hē'brews, Let my people go, that they may serve me.

2 For if thou [a]refuse to let them go, and wilt hold them still,

3 Behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thy cattle which is in the field, upon the horses, upon the asses, upon the camels, upon the oxen, and upon the sheep: there shall be a very grievous murrain.

4 And the Lord shall [b]sever between the cattle of Ĭs'ra-el and the cattle of Ē'ġўpt: and there shall nothing die of all that is the children's of Ĭs'ra-el.

5 And the Lord appointed a set time, saying, To morrow the Lord shall do this thing in the land.

7. Literally vast heaps.

8. The very dust became lice. While this miracle did not strike such a direct blow at Egyptian idolatry as did some other miracles, indirectly it was more effective, as it rendered unclean the sacred animals and the priests themselves, so that all worship in the temple was cut off.

9. The priests were required to be scrupulously clean; but now their garments, robes, and gods were covered with the loathsome lice. Thus the words of Moses smote every god and every temple in Egypt.

10. That is, an affliction from their own gods preventing them from performing the miracle.

11. The dog-fly, an insect which in Egypt gives great annoyance to man and beast.

12. While the putrid Nile had afflicted the Egyptians and Israelites alike, and the frogs and lice had to a certain extent been a torment to both, from now on the Israelites were to be sacredly exempt from the plagues which would be another sign to Pharaoh.

13. Set a sign of redemption or deliverance.

14. The ox was an abomination to Jehovah because of the worship of the Egyptians.

g. And he went out from Pharaoh, and intreated the Lord. (Ex. 10:18.) Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual, fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much (16). Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and 6 months (17). And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit. (Js. 5:16-18.) So Abraham prayed unto God; and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maidservant; and they bare children. (Gen. 20:17.) And the people cried unto Moses; and when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire was quenched. (Num. 11:2.) And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Intreat now the face of the Lord thy God, and pray for me that my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before. (I Ks. 13:6.)

h. Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil. (Ecc. 8:11.) A wicked man hardeneth his face; but as for the upright, he directeth his way. (Prov. 21:29.)

i. And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. (Lu. 10:18.) Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth; men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith. But they shall proceed no further; for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as theirs also was. (II Tim. 3:8, 9.) And the magicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the Egyptians. (Ex. 9:11.)

j. And they said, If ye send away the ark of the God of Israel, send it not empty; but in any wise return him a trespass offering; then ye shall be healed, and it shall be known to you why his hand is not removed from you (3). And see, if it goeth up by the way of his own coast to Bethshemesh, then he hath done us this great evil; but if not, then we shall know that it is not his hand that smote us; it was a chance that happened to us. (I Sam. 6:3, 9.) I will teach you by the hand of God; that which is with the Almighty will I not conceal. (Job. 27:11.) But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God has come upon you. (Lu. 11:20.)

k. And he said, Certainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a token unto thee that I have sent thee. When thou hast brought forth the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain. (Ex. 3:12.)

l. And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Intreat now the face of the Lord thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before. (I Ks. 13:6.) Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me. (Acts 8:24.) Therefore the people came to Moses, and said, We have sinned; for we have spoken against the Lord, and against thee; pray unto the Lord, that he take away the serpents from us. And Moses prayed for the people. (Num. 21:7.)

m. And the Lord said unto Moses, When thou goest to return into Egypt, see that thou do all those wonders before Pharaoh, which I have put in thy hand; but I will harden his heart, that he shall not let the people go. (Ex. 4:21.) Happy is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief. (Prov. 28:14.) For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might show my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth. (Rom. 9:17, 18.)

a. But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God. (Rom. 2:5.)

b. See ch. 8, v. 22.

6 And the Lord did that thing on the morrow, and [1]all the [c]cattle of Ē′ġўpt died: but of the cattle of the children of Is′ra-el died not one.

7 And Phā′raōh sent, and, behold, there was not one of the cattle of the Is′ra-el-ītes dead. And the heart of Phā′raōh was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

8 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō′şeş and unto Aâr′on, Take to you handfuls of ashes of the furnace, and let Mō′şeş sprinkle it toward the heaven in the sight of Phā′raōh.

9 And it shall become small dust in all the land of Ē′ġўpt, and shall be a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast, throughout all the land of Ē′ġўpt.

10 And they took ashes of the furnace, and stood before Phā′raōh; and Mō′şeş sprinkled it up toward heaven; and it became [d]a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast.

11 And the [2]magicians [c]could not stand before Mō′şeş because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the Ē-ġўp′tianş.

12 And the Lord hardened the heart of Phā′raōh, and he hearkened not unto them; as the Lord had spoken unto Mō′şeş.

13 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō′şeş, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Phā′raōh, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hē′brewş, Let my people go, that they may serve me.

14 For I will at this time send all my plagues upon thine heart, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people; that thou mayest know that there is none like [f]me in all the earth.

15 For now I will stretch out my hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with pestilence; and thou shalt be cut off from the earth.

16 And in very deed for this cause have I raised thee up, for to [3]shew in thee my power; and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth.

17 As yet [4]exaltest thou thyself against my people, that thou wilt not let them go?

18 Behold, to morrow about this time I will cause it to rain a very grievous [g]hail, such as hath not been in Ē′ġўpt since the foundation thereof even until now.

19 Send therefore now, and [5]gather thy cattle, and all that thou hast in the field; for upon every man and beast which shall be found in the field, and shall not be brought home, the hail shall come down upon them, and they shall die.

20 He that feared the word of the Lord among the servants of Phā′raōh made his servants and his cattle flee into the houses:

21 And he that regarded not the word of the Lord left his servants and his cattle in the field.

22 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō′şeş, Stretch forth thine hand toward heaven, that there may be hail [g]in all the land of Ē′ġўpt, upon man, and upon beast, and upon every herb of the field, throughout the land of Ē′ġўpt.

23 And Mō′şeş stretched forth his rod toward heaven: and the Lord sent [h]thunder and hail, and the [6]fire ran along upon the ground; and the Lord rained hail upon the land of Ē′ġўpt.

24 So there was hail, and fire mingled with the hail, very [7]grievous, such as there was none like it in all the land of Ē′ġўpt since it became a nation.

25 And the hail [g]smote throughout all the land of Ē′ġўpt all that was in the field, both man and beast; and the hail smote every herb of the field, and brake every tree of the field.

26 Only in the land of Gō′shen, where [i]the children of Is′ra-el were, was there no hail.

27 ¶ And Phā′raōh sent, and called for Mō′şeş and Aâr′on, and said unto them, I have sinned this time: the [j]Lord is righteous, and I and my [8]people are wicked.

28 Intreat the [k]Lord (for it is enough) that there be no more mighty thunderings and hail; and I will let you go, and ye shall stay no longer.

29 And Mō′şeş said unto him, As soon as I am gone out of the city, I will spread abroad my hands unto the Lord; and the thunder shall cease, neither shall there be any more hail; that thou mayest know how that the earth [l]is the Lord's.

30 But as for thee and thy servants, I know that [m]ye will not yet fear [n]the Lord God.

31 And the flax and the [9]barley was smitten: for the barley was in the ear, and the flax was [9]bolled.

32 But the wheat and the rye were not smitten: for they were not grown up.

33 And Mō′şeş went out of the city from

1. Much or many.

2. This affliction of the boils has become so severe that all the idolatrous prophets have been stricken down and we hear of them no more.

3. For this cause have I made thee to stand, to show thee my power.

4. Raised up against.

5. The only instance where the Egyptians have been advised how to escape the judgment after it has been announced.

6. Lightning.

7. Much lightning.

8. Pharaoh's first confession of sin, which is a lip-confession rather than a heart-confession; a groaning under the weight of God's hand rather than any sign of righteousness on Pharaoh's part.

9. The barley was in the ear and the flax was in the flowers which occurred the last of January or in February.

c. He made a way to his anger; he spared not their soul from death, but gave their life over to the pestilence. (Ps. 78:50.)

d. The Lord will smite thee with the botch of Egypt, and with the emerods, and with the scab, and with the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed. (Dt. 28:27.) But the hand of the Lord was heavy upon them of Ashdod, and he destroyed them, and smote them with emerods, even Ashdod and the coasts thereof. (I Sam. 5:6.) And he smote his enemies in the hinder parts; he put them to a perpetual reproach. (Ps. 78:66.)

e. And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. (Lu. 10:18.) Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth; men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith. But they shall proceed no further; for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as theirs also was. (II Tim. 3:8, 9.) And the magicians did so with their enchantments to bring forth lice, but they could not; so there were lice upon man, and upon beast. (Ex. 8:18.)

f. O Lord God, thou hast begun to show thy servant thy greatness, and thy mighty hand; for what God is there in heaven or in earth, that can do according to thy works, and according to thy might? (Dt. 3:24.) O Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God beside thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears. (II Chr. 17:20.) Among the gods there is none like unto thee, O Lord; neither are there any works like unto thy works. (Ps. 86:8.) Remember the former things of old; for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me. (Is. 46:9.)

g. And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent; and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great. (Rev. 16:21.) He gave up their cattle also to the hail, and their flocks to hot thunderbolts. (Ps. 78:48.) He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land. (Ps. 105:32.) And it came to pass, as they fled from before Israel, and were in the going down to Bethhoron, that the Lord cast down great stones from heaven upon them unto Azekah, and they died; they were more which died with hailstones than they whom the children of Israel slew with the sword. (Josh. 10:11.)

h. The Lord also thundered in the heavens, and the Highest gave his voice; hailstones and coals of fire. (Ps. 18:13.) He destroyed their vines with hail, and their sycamore trees with frost. (Ps. 78:47.)

i. But against any of the children of Israel shall not a dog move his tongue, against man or beast; that ye may know how that the Lord doth put a difference between the Egyptians and Israel. (Ex. 11:7.) And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places. When it shall hail, coming down on the forest; and the city shall be low in a low place. (Is. 32:18, 19.)

j. Whereupon the princes of Israel and the king humbled themselves; and they said, The Lord is righteous. (II Chr. 12:6.) The Lord is righteous; he hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked. (Ps. 129:4.) The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works. (Ps. 145:17.) The Lord is righteous; for I have rebelled against his commandment; hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow; my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity. (Lam. 1:18.) Therefore hath the Lord watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us; for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth; for we obeyed not his voice. (Dan. 9:14.)

k. And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Intreat now the face of the Lord thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before. (I Ks. 13:6.) Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come unto me. (Acts 8:24.) Therefore the people came to Moses, and said, We have sinned; for we have spoken against the Lord, and against thee; pray unto the Lord, that he take away the serpents from us. And Moses prayed for the people. (Num. 21:7.)

l. The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. (Ps. 24:1.) For the earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof. (I Cor. 10:26.)

m. Let favor be shown to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness; in the land of uprightness will he deal unjustly, and will not behold the majesty of the Lord. (Is. 26:10.)

n. But the Lord your God ye shall fear; and he shall deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies. (II Ks. 17:39.) Let all the earth fear the Lord. Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him. (Ps. 33:8.) The Lord reigneth; let the people tremble; he sitteth between the cherubim; let the earth be moved. (Ps. 99:1.)

Phā'raōh, and spread abroad his hands unto the Lord: and the thunders and hail ceased, and the rain was not poured upon the earth.

34 And when Phā'raōh saw that the rain and the hail and the thunders were ceased, he sinned yet more, and hardened his heart, he and his servants.

35 And the heart of Phā'raōh was hardened, neither would he let the children of Īs'ra-el go; as the Lord had spoken by Mō'şeş.

CHAPTER 10.

1 God threateneth to send locusts. 7 Pharaoh inclineth to let the Israelites go. 12 The plague of the locusts. 16 Pharaoh sueth to Moses. 21 The plague of darkness. 24 Pharaoh sueth to Moses, 27 but yet is hardened.

1 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Go in unto Phā'raōh: for I have [2]hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants, that I might shew these my signs before him:

2 And [3]that thou [a]mayest tell in the ears of thy son, and of thy son's son, what things I have wrought in Ē'ġўpt, and my signs which I have done among them; that ye may know how that I am the Lord.

3 And [1]Mō'şeş and [4]Aâr'on came in unto [5]Phā'raōh, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hē'brews, How long wilt thou refuse to [b]humble thyself before me? let my people go, that they may serve me.

4 Else, if thou refuse to let my people go, behold, to morrow will I bring the [6]locusts into thy coast:

5 And they shall cover the face of the earth, that one cannot be able to see the earth: and they shall eat the residue of that which is escaped, which remaineth unto you from the hail, and shall eat every tree which groweth for you out of the field:

6 And they [c]shall fill thy houses, and the houses of all thy servants, and the houses of all the Ē-ġўp'tians, which neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers' fathers have seen, since the day that they were upon the earth unto this day. And he turned himself, and went out from Phā'raōh.

7 And Phā'raōh's [7]servants said unto him, How long shall this man be a snare unto us? let the men go, that they may serve the Lord their God: knowest thou [8]not yet that Ē'ġўpt is destroyed?

8 And [1]Mō'şeş and [4]Aâr'on were brought again unto [5]Phā'raōh: and he said unto them, Go, serve the Lord your God: but who are they that shall go?

9 And [1]Mō'şeş said, [9]We [d]will go with our young and with our old, with our sons and with our daughters, with our flocks and with our herds will we go; for we must hold a feast unto the Lord.

10 And he said unto them, [10]Let the Lord be so with you, as I will let you go, and your little ones: look to it; for evil is before you.

11 Not so: go now ye that are men, and serve the Lord; for that ye did desire. And they were driven out from Phā'raōh's presence.

12 ¶ And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, [c]Stretch out thine hand over the land of Ē'ġўpt for the locusts, that they may come up upon the land of Ē'ġўpt, and [e]eat every herb of the land, even all that the hail hath left.

13 And [1]Mō'şeş stretched forth his rod over the land of Ē'ġўpt, and the Lord brought an east wind upon the land all that day, and all that night; and when it was morning, the east wind brought the locusts.

14 And the [g]locusts went up over all the land of Ē'ġўpt, and rested in all the coasts of Ē'ġўpt: very grievous were they; before them there were no such locusts as they, neither after them shall be such.

15 For they covered the face of the whole earth, so that the land was [h]darkened; and they did eat every herb of the land, and all the fruit of the trees which the hail had left: and there remained not any green thing in the trees, or in the herbs of the field, through all the land of Ē'ġўpt.

16 ¶ Then Phā'raōh [11]called for Mō'şeş and Aâr'on in haste; and he said, I [i]have sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

17 Now therefore forgive, I pray thee, my sin only this once, and intreat [j]the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death only.

18 And he went out from Phā'raōh, and intreated the Lord.

19 And the Lord turned a mighty strong west wind, which took away the locusts, and cast them into the Red sea; there remained not one locust in all the coasts of Ē'ġўpt.

20 But the Lord [2]hardened [k]Phā'raōh's heart, so that he would not let the children of Īs'ra-el go.

21 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Stretch out thine hand toward heaven, that there may be darkness over the land of Ē'ġўpt, [12]even darkness which may be felt.

22 And Mō'şeş stretched forth his hand toward heaven; and there was a thick darkness in all the land of Ē'ġўpt three days:

23 They saw not one another, neither rose any from his place for three days: but all the children of Īs'ra-el had light in their dwellings.

24 ¶ And Phā'raōh called unto Mō'şeş, and

6. The locust is said to destroy not only from appetite but also from pure love of destruction.

7. For the first time the courtiers of Pharaoh venture to plead with him, and for the first time he sends for Moses and Aaron after they have predicted the plague and gone forth to bring it up on the land; which shows that the judgments were more and more forcibly impressing the Egyptians.

8. Dost thou not know that everything has been destroyed?

9. Moses says all males and females, old and young, will be expected to go, which is the Egyptian custom, therefore Pharaoh presents only a false pretense when he says he supposed that the men only were included in the request.

10. The language of scornful irony, meaning "Jehovah will indeed be with you when I let you go."

11. Hastened to call.

12. Literally, and one shall feel darkness. A fearfully expressive figure descriptive of the darkness which would soon encompass Egypt.

Chapter 10.

a. Only take heed to thyself, and keep thy soul diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thine heart all the days of thy life: but teach them thy sons, and thy sons' sons. (Dt. 4:9.) We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the times of old. (Ps. 44:1.) Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children and other generations. (Joel 1:3.)

b. Because thine heart was tender, and thou didst humble thyself before God, when thou heardest his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thyself before me, and didst rend thy clothes, and weep before me; I have even heard thee also, saith the Lord. (II Chr. 34:27.) Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up. (Ja. 4:10.) Humble yourselves therefore unto the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time. (I Pet. 5:6.) If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land. ((II Chr. 7:14.)

c. And the river shall bring forth frogs abundantly, which shall go up and come into thine house, and into thy bedchamber, and upon thy bed, and into the house of thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thine ovens, and into thy kneadingtroughs (3). Else, if thou wilt not let my people go, behold, I will send swarms of flies upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thy houses; and the houses of the Egyptians shall be full of swarms of flies, and also the ground whereon they are. (Ex. 8:3, 21.)

d. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.)

e. And the Lord spake unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and stretch out thine hand upon the waters of Egypt, upon their streams, upon their rivers, and upon their ponds, and upon all their pools of water, that they may become blood. (Ex. 7:19.)

f. See vs. 4, 5.

g. Thou shalt carry much seed out into the field, and shalt gather but little in; for the locusts shall consume it. (Dt. 28:38.) He gave also their increase unto the caterpillar, and their labor unto the locust. (Ps. 78:46.) He spake, and the locusts came, and caterpillars, and that without number. (Ps. 105:34.)

h. A day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness, as the morning spread upon the mountains; a great people and a strong; there hath not been ever the like; neither shall be any more after it, even to the years of many generations. (Joel 2:2.)

i. Destroy thou them, O God; let them fall by their own counsels; cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions; for they have rebelled against thee. (Ps. 5:10.) Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst that I with all escape. (Ps. 141:10.) But he that sinneth against me wrongeth his own soul; all they that hate me love death. (Prov. 8:36.) Notwithstanding the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings. (Mic. 7:13.)

j. And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Intreat now the face of the Lord thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before. (I Ks. 13:6.) Surely it is meet to be said unto God, I have borne chastisement, I will not offend any more. (Job 34:31.) Therefore the people came to Moses and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against the Lord, and against thee; pray unto the Lord, that he take away the serpents from us. And Moses prayed for the people. (Num 21:7.) Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Ja. 5:16.)

said, Go ye, serve the Lord; only let your flocks and your herds be stayed: let your little ones also go with you.

25 And Mō'şeş said, Thou must give us also sacrifices and burnt offerings, that we may sacrifice unto the Lord our God.

26 Our cattle also shall go with us; there shall not an hoof be left behind; for thereof must we take to serve the Lord our God; and we know not with what we must serve the Lord, until we come thither.

27 ¶ But the Lord [z]hardened [k]Phā'raōh's heart, and he would not let them go.

28 And Phā'raōh said unto him, Get thee from me, take heed to thyself, see my face no more; for in that day thou seest my face thou shalt die.

29 And Mō'şeş said, Thou hast spoken well, I will see thy face again no [l]more.

CHAPTER 11.

1 God's message to the Israelites to borrow jewels of their neighbours. 4 Moses threateneth Pharoah with the death of the firstborn.

1 And the Lord [1]said unto Mō'şeş, Yet will I bring one plague more upon Phā'raōh, and upon Ē'ġўpt; afterwards he will let you go hence: when he shall let you go, he shall surely thrust you out hence altogether.

2 Speak now in the ears of the people, and let every man [2]borrow of his neighbour, and every woman of her neighbour, [a]jewels of silver, and jewels of gold.

3 And the Lord gave the people favour in the sight of the Ē-ġўp'tiaṇs. Moreover the man Mō'şeş was very great in the land of Ē'ġўpt, in the sight of Phā'raōh's servants, and in the sight of the people.

4 And Mō'şeş said, Thus saith the Lord, About midnight will I go out into the midst of Ē'ġўpt:

5 And [b]all the firstborn in the land of Ē'ġўpt shall die, from the firstborn of Phā'raōh that sitteth upon his throne, even unto the firstborn of the maidservant that is behind the mill; and all the firstborn of beasts.

6 And there shall be a great cry throughout all the land of Ē'ġўpt, such as there was none like it, nor shall be like it any more.

7 But against any of the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall not a dog move his tongue, against man or beast: that ye may know how that the Lord doth put a [c]difference between the Ē-ġўp'tiaṇs and Ĭs'ra-el.

8 And all these thy servants shall come down unto me, and bow down themselves unto me, saying, Get thee out, and all the people that follow thee: and after that I will go out. And he went out from Phā'raōh in [3]a great anger.

9 And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Phā'raōh shall not hearken unto you; that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Ē'ġўpt.

10 And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on did all these wonders before Phā'raōh: and the Lord hardened [d]Phā'raōh's heart, so that he would not let the children of Ĭs'ra-el go out of his land.

1 And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō'şeş and [2]Aâr'on in the land of Ē'ġўpt, saying,

2 This month shall be unto you the beginning of months: it shall be the first month of the year to you.

3 ¶ Speak ye unto all the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, In the tenth day of this month they shall take to them every man a lamb, according to the house of their fathers, a lamb for an house:

4 And if the household be too little for the lamb, let him and his neighbour next unto his house take it according to the number of the souls; every man according to his eating shall make your count for the lamb.

5 Your lamb shall be [a]without blemish, a male of the first year: ye shall take it out from the sheep, or from the goats:

6 And ye shall keep it up until the [b]fourteenth day of the same month: and the whole [3]assembly of the congregation of Is'ra-el shall kill it in the evening.

7 And they shall take of the blood, and [4]strike it on the two side posts and on the upper door post of the houses, wherein they shall eat it.

8 And they shall eat the flesh in that night, roast with fire, and [5]unleavened [c]bread; and with [6]bitter herbs they shall eat it.

9 [7]Eat not of it raw, nor sodden at all with water, but roast with fire; his head with his legs, and with the [8]purtenance thereof.

10 And ye shall let [d]nothing of it remain until the morning; and that which remaineth of it until the morning ye shall burn with fire.

11 ¶ And thus shall ye eat it; with your loins girded, your shoes on your feet, and your staff in your hand; and ye shall eat it in haste: it is the Lord's [e]passover.

NOTE.—The long travail has come to an end and Israel's birth-hour is approaching. The institution of the passover, which was the national birthday festival, is carefully related. First, the command given, verses 1-20; second, the fulfillment, verses 21-28; then follows the last and most awful of the judgment strokes, and the exodus itself, from which the book of Ex. takes its name. The passover, which is the oldest of the Jewish festivals, has outlasted all the rest, and is the only one which has passed from the old to the new covenant. In the passover we are carried back to the time when the temple had not yet been reared, nor the tabernacle set up, nor the priesthood consecrated, when each house was made a temple, each doorway an altar, and each father a priest. True national worship must ever begin at home. (W.)

k. And in the time of his distress did he trespass yet more against the Lord: this is that king Ahaz. (II Chr. 28:22.) Or despiseth thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? (4). But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God. (Rom. 2:4, 5.) And I will harden Pharaoh's heart, that he shall follow after them; and I will be honored upon Pharaoh, and upon all his host; that the Egyptians may know that I am the Lord And they did so (4). And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he pursued after the children of Israel; and the children of Israel went out with an high hand. (Ex. 14:4, 8.)

l. By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king; for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible. (Heb. 11:27.)

Chapter 11.

a. But every woman shall borrow of her neighbor, and of her that sojourneth in her house, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment; and ye shall put them upon your sons, and upon your daughters; and ye shall spoil the Egyptians. (Ex. 3:22.)

b. I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt; your young men have I slain with the sword, and have taken away your horses; and I have made the stink of your camps to come up unto your nostrils; yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord. (Amos. 4:10.)

c. Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not. (Mal. 3:18.)

d. And in the time of his distress did he trespass yet more against the Lord: this is that king Ahaz. (II Chr. 28:22.)

d. Or despisest thou the richness of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God. (Rom. 2:4, 5.)

And I will harden Pharaoh's heart, that he shall follow after them; and I will be honored upon Pharaoh, and upon all his host; that the Egyptians may know that I am the Lord. And they did so (4). And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he pursued after the children of Israel; and the children of Israel went out with an high hand. (Ex. 14:4, 8.)

a. And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? (8). But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing; for I am a great King, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen. (Mal. 1:8, 14.) How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God. (Heb. 9:14.)

b. In the fourteenth day of the first month at even is the Lord's passover. (Lev. 23:5.)

c. Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. (I Cor. 5:8.)

d. Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread; neither shall the fat of my sacrifice remain until the morning. (Ex. 23:18.)

e. See vs. 21-28 for the purpose or design of the passover.

beast; and against all the [f]gods of Ē'ġўpt I will execute judgment: I am the Lord.

13 And the blood shall be to you for a token upon the houses where ye are: and when I see the blood, I will pass over you, and the plague shall not be upon you to destroy you, when I smite the land of Ē'ġўpt.

14 And this day shall be unto you for a memorial; and ye shall keep it a feast [g]to the Lord throughout your generations; ye shall keep it a feast by an ordinance for ever.

15 Seven[9] days [h]shall ye eat unleavened bread; even the first day ye shall put away leaven out of your houses: for whosoever eateth leavened bread from the first day until the seventh day, [10]that [i]soul shall be cut off from Ĭs'ra-el.

16 And in the first day there shall be an [11]holy convocation, and in the seventh day there shall be an holy convocation to you; no manner of work shall be done in them, save that which every man must eat, that only may be done of you.

17 And ye shall observe the feast of unleavened bread; for in this selfsame day have I brought your armies out of the land of Ē'ġўpt: therefore shall ye observe this day in your generations by an ordinance for ever.

18 ¶ In the first [j]month, on the fourteenth day of the month at even, ye shall eat unleavened bread, until the one and twentieth day of the month at even.

19 Seven [k]days shall there be no leaven found in your houses: for whosoever eateth that which is leavened, even that [i]soul shall be cut off from the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el, whether he be a stranger, or born in the land.

20 Ye shall eat nothing leavened; in all your habitations shall ye eat [c]unleavened bread.

21 ¶ Then [1]Mō'şeş called for all the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, and said unto them, Draw out and take you a lamb according to your families, and kill the [l]passover.

22 And ye shall take a bunch of [12]hyssop, and dip it in the blood that is in the bason, and strike the lintel and the two side posts with the blood that is in the bason; and none of you shall go out at the door of his house until the morning.

23 For the Lord will pass through to smite the Ē-ġўp'tianş; and when he seeth the blood upon the lintel, and on the two side posts, the Lord will pass over the door, and will not suffer the [m]destroyer to come in unto your houses to smite you.

24 And ye shall observe this thing for an ordinance to thee and to thy sons for ever.

25 And it shall come to pass, when ye be come to the land which the Lord will give you, according as he hath promised, that ye shall keep this service.

26 And it shall come to pass, when your [n]children shall say unto you, What mean ye by this service?

27 That ye shall say, It is the sacrifice of the Lord's passover, who passed over the houses of the children of Ĭs'ra-el in Ē'ġўpt, when he smote the Ē-ġўp'tianş, and delivered our houses. And the people bowed the head and worshipped.

28 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el went away, and did as the Lord had commanded Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, so did they.

29 ¶ And it came to pass, that at midnight the Lord [o]smote all the firstborn in the land of Ē'ġўpt, from the firstborn of Phā'raōh that sat on his throne unto the firstborn of the captive that was in the dungeon; and all the firstborn of cattle.

30 And Phā'raōh rose up in the night, he, and all his servants, and all the Ē-ġўp'tianş; and there was a great [p]cry in Ē'ġўpt; for there was not a house where there was not one dead.

31 ¶ And he called for [1]Mō'şeş and [2]Aâr'on by night, and said, Rise up, and get you forth from among my people, both ye and the children of Ĭs'ra-el; and go, serve the Lord, as ye have said.

32 Also take your flocks and your herds, as ye have said, and be gone; and [13]bless me also.

33 And the Ē-ġўp'tianş were [q]urgent upon the people, that they might send them out of the land in haste; for they said, We be all dead men.

34 And the people took their dough before it was leavened, their kneadingtroughs being bound up in their clothes upon their shoulders.

35 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did according to the word of Mō'şeş; and they borrowed [r]of the Ē-ġўp'tianş jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment:

36 And the Lord gave the people favour in the sight of the Ē-ġўp'tianş, so that they lent unto them such things as they required. And they spoiled the Ē-ġўp'tianş.

37 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el journeyed from Ra-mē'sēş to Sŭc'coth, about [14]six [s]hundred thousand on foot that were men, beside children.

38 And a mixed multitude went up also with them; and flocks, and herds, even very much cattle.

39 And they baked unleavened cakes of the dough which they brought forth out of E'ġўpt,

9. The sacred cycle or number of days.

10. Excommunicated.

11. The first and seventh days were to be set apart as days of general assembly in which no work should be done. The people were to gather and converse with one another on the mighty mercies Jehovah had shown them. This was the origin of the Jewish synagogue.

f. For the Egyptians buried all their firstborn, which the Lord had smitten among them; upon their gods also the Lord executed judgments. (Num. 33:4.) Thou shalt not revile the gods, nor curse the ruler of thy people. (Ex. 22:28.) God standeth in the congregation of the mighty; he judgeth among the gods. (Ps. 82:1.)

g. And the king commanded all the people, saying, Keep the passover unto the Lord your God, as it is written in the book of this covenant. (II Ks. 23:21.)

h. Thou shalt eat no leavened bread with it; seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread therewith, even the bread of affliction; (for thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt in haste) that thou mayest remember the day when thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt all the days of thy life (3). Six days thou shalt eat unleavened bread: and on the seventh day shall be a solemn assembly to the Lord thy God: thou shalt do no work therein. (Dt. 16:3, 8.) Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us. (I Cor. 5:7.)

i. But the man that is clean, and is not in a journey, and forbeareth to keep the passover, even the same soul shall be cut off from among his people; because he brought not the offering of the Lord in his appointed season, that man shall bear his sin. (Num. 9:13.) And the uncircumcised man child whose flesh of his foreskin is not circumcised, that soul shall be cut off from his people; he hath broken my covenant. (Gen. 17:14.) For if we sin willfuly after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sin. (Heb. 10:26.)

j. In the fourteenth day of the first month at even is the Lord's passover. (Lev. 23:5.)

k. The feast of unleavened bread shalt thou keep. Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, as I commanded thee, in the time of the month Abib; for in the month Abib thou camest out from Egypt. (Ex. 34:18.)

l. And the children of Israel encamped in Gilgal, and kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the month at even in the plains of Jericho. (Josh. 5:10.)

m. Through faith he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the first-born should touch them. (Heb. 11:28.)

n. Remember the days of old, consider the years of many generations; ask thy father, and he will show thee; thy elders, and they will tell thee. (Dt. 32:7.) That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born; who should arise and declare them to their children. (Ps. 78:6.)

o. For all the first-born of the children of Israel are mine, both man and beast; on the day that I smote every first-born in the land of Egypt I sanctified them for myself. (Num. 8:17.) Who smote the first-born of Egypt, both of man and beast. (Ps. 135:8.)

p. Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard. (Prov. 21:13.) For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shown no mercy; and mercy rejoiceth against judgment. (Js. 2:13.)

q. Egypt was glad when they departed; for the fear of them fell upon them. (Ps. 105:38.)

r. But every woman shall borrow of her neighbor, and of her that sojourneth in her house, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment; and ye shall put them upon your sons, and upon your daughters; and ye shall spoil the Egyptians. (Ex. 3:22.)

s. And he said, I am God, the God of thy father: fear not to go down into Egypt; for I will there make of thee a great nation. (Gen. 46:3.) And Moses said, The people, among whom I am, are six hundred thousand footmen; and thou hast said, I will give them flesh, that they may eat a whole month. (Num. 11:21.)

for it was not leavened; because they were [t]thrust out of Ē'ġўpt, and could not tarry, neither had they prepared for themselves any victual.

40 ¶ Now the sojourning of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, who dwelt in Ē'ġўpt, was four [u]hundred and thirty years.

41 And it came to pass at the end of the four hundred and thirty years, even the [15]selfsame day it came to pass, that all the hosts of the Lord went out from the land of Ē'ġўpt.

42 It is a night to be much observed unto the Lord for bringing them out from the land of Ē'ġўpt: this is that night of the Lord to be observed of all the children of Ĭs'ra-el in their generations.

43 And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, This is the ordinance of the passover: There shall no [16]stranger eat thereof:

44 But every man's servant that is bought for money, when thou hast [v]circumcised him, then shall he eat thereof.

45 A foreigner and an hired servant shall not eat thereof.

46 In one house shall it be eaten; thou shalt not carry forth ought of the flesh abroad out of the house; neither shall ye break a bone thereof.

47 All the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el shall keep it.

48 And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the passover to the Lord, let all his males be [17]circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof.

49 One [w]law shall be to him that is homeborn, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among you.

50 Thus did all the children of Ĭs'ra-el; as the Lord commanded [1]Mō'şeş and [2]Aâr'on, so did they.

51 And it came to pass the selfsame day, that the Lord did bring the children of Ĭs'ra-el out of the land of Ē'ġўpt by their armies.

CHAPTER 13.

1 The firstborn are sanctified to God. 3 The memorial of the passover is commanded. 17 The Israelites go out of Egypt, and carry Joseph's bones with them. 21 God guideth them by a pillar of a cloud, and a pillar of fire.

1 And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō'şeş, saying,

2 [2]Sanctify unto me all the [a]firstborn, whatsoever openeth the womb among the children of Ĭs'ra-el, both of man and of beast; it is mine.

3 ¶ And [1]Mō'şeş said unto the people, Remember this day, in which ye came out from Ē'ġўpt, out of the house of bondage; for by strength of hand the Lord brought you out from this place: there shall no leavened bread be eaten.

4 This day came ye out in the month Ā'bĭb.

5 ¶ And it shall be when the Lord shall bring thee into the land of the Cā'năan-ītes, and the Hĭt'tītes, and the Ām'or-ītes, and the Hī'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes, which he sware unto thy fathers to give thee, a land flowing with milk and honey, that thou shalt keep this service in this month.

6 Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, and in the seventh day shall be a feast to the Lord.

7 Unleavened bread shall be eaten [b]seven days; and there shall no leavened bread be seen with thee, neither shall there be leaven seen with thee in all thy quarters.

8 ¶ And thou shalt shew thy son in that day, saying, This is done because of that which the Lord did unto me when I came forth out of Ē'ġўpt.

9 And it shall be for a [3]sign [c]unto thee upon thine hand, and for a memorial between thine eyes, that the Lord's law may be in thy mouth: for with a strong hand hath the Lord brought thee out of Ē'ġўpt.

10 Thou shalt therefore keep this [4]ordinance in his season from year to year.

11 ¶ And it shall be when the Lord shall bring thee into the land of the Cā'năan-ītes, as he [d]sware unto thee and to thy fathers, and shall give it thee, 12 That thou shalt set apart unto the Lord all that [e]openeth the matrix, and every firstling that cometh of a beast which thou hast; the males shall be the Lord's.

13 And every firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a lamb; and if thou wilt not redeem it, then thou shalt break his neck: and all the firstborn of man among thy children shalt thou redeem.

14 ¶ And it [f]shall be when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, What is this? that thou shalt say unto him, By strength of hand the Lord brought us out from Ē'ġўpt, from the house of bondage:

15 And it came to pass, when Phā'raōh would hardly let us go, that the Lord slew all the firstborn in the land of Ē'ġўpt, both the firstborn of man, and the firstborn of beast: therefore I sacrifice to the Lord all that openeth the [e]matrix, being males; but all the firstborn of my children I redeem.

16 And it shall be for a token upon thine hand, and for frontlets between thine eyes: for by strength of hand the Lord brought us forth out of Ē'ġўpt.

17 ¶ And it came to pass, when Phā'raōh had let the people go, that God led them not through the way of the land of the Phĭ-lĭs'-

15. That is, the very day after the passover and death of the firstborn.

16. One who did not bear the covenant sign of circumcision.

17. Which is the sign that he has partaken of the covenant.

Ch. 13. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—The promulgation of the law of the firstborn and of the feast of unleavened bread. In verses 1 and 2 Jehovah gives to Moses the law of the firstborn, and in verses 3-16 Moses repeats the law to the people; also repeating to them the law of the feast of unleavened bread, which had been given to Moses before they started on their march. (Ch. 12:15-20.) In the slaying of the firstborn of Egypt the flower of Egypt had been cut down for the deliverance of Israel, and now the flower of their families and possessions were to be devoted to God forever.

1. For historical account of Moses see 11, ch. 2.

2. To pronounce or observe as ceremonially or morally clean; to consecrate; to dedicate to the service of God.

3. The law of Jehovah is to be the perpetual ornament and adornment of Israel, a constant sign, like the bracelet clasped upon the hand or the fillet bound about the forehead.

4. Appointed custom, manner or law.

t. See ch. 11:1.

u. And this I say, that the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect. (Gal. 3:17.)

v. And he that is eight days old, shall be circumcised among you, every man child in your generation, he that is born in the house, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed. He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with thy money, must needs be circumcised; and my covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant. (Gen. 17:12, 13.)

w. One law and one manner shall be for you, and for the stranger that sojourneth with you. (Num. 15:16.) There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female; for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:28.)

a. Only the firstling of the beast, which should be the Lord's firstling, no man shall sanctify it; whether it be ox, or sheep, it is the Lord's. (Lev. 27:26.) Because all the first-born are mine; for on the day that I smote all the first-born in the land of Egypt I hallowed unto me all the first-born in Israel, both man and beast: mine shall they be: I am the Lord. (Num. 3:13.) (As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord.) (Lu. 2:23.)

b. Thou shalt eat no leavened bread with it; seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread therewith, even the bread of affliction; for thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt in haste: that thou mayest remember the day when thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt all the days of thy life (3). Six days thou shalt eat unleavened bread; and on the seventh day shall be a solemn assembly to the Lord thy God: thou shalt do no work therein. (Dt. 16:3, 8.)

c. Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul, and bind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may be as frontlets between your eyes. (Dt. 11:18.) For they shall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck. (Prov. 1:9.) Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me. (Is. 49:16.)

d. In the same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river of Euphrates. (Gen. 15:18.) And, behold, the Lord stood above it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac: the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed. (Gen. 28:13.)

e. All that openeth the matrix is mine; and every firstling among thy cattle, whether ox or sheep, that is male. (Ex. 34:19.) Every thing that openeth the matrix in all flesh, which they bring unto the Lord, whether it be of men or beasts, shall be thine; nevertheless the firstborn of man shalt thou surely redeem, and the firstling of unclean beasts shalt thou redeem. (Num. 18:15.)

f. And when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, What mean the testimonies and the statutes, and the judgments, which the Lord our God hath commanded you? (Dt. 6:20.)

tĭnes, although that was near; for God said, Lest peradventure the people repent [g]when they see war, and they return to Ē'ġўpt:

18 But God led the people about, through the way of the wilderness of the Red sea: and the children of Ĭs'ra-el went up [5]harnessed out of the land of Ē'ġўpt.

19 And Mō'şeş took the [6]bones [h]of Jō'şeph with him: for he had straitly sworn the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, God will surely visit you; and ye shall carry up my bones away hence with you.

20 ¶ And they took their journey from Sŭc'coth, and encamped in Ē'tham, in the edge of the wilderness.

21 And the Lord [7]went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night:

22 He took not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from before the people.

CHAPTER 14.

1 God instructeth the Israelites in their journey. 5 Pharaoh pursueth after them. 15 God instructeth Moses. 19 The cloud removeth behind the camp. 21 The Israelites pass through the Red sea, 23 which drowneth the Egyptians.

1 And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they turn and encamp before Pī-ha-hī'roth, between Mīg'dol and the sea, over against Bā'al-zē'phon: before it shall ye encamp by the sea.

3 For Phā'raōh [a]will say of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, They are [2]entangled in the land, the wilderness hath shut them in.

4 And I will [3]harden [b]Phā'raōh's heart, that he shall follow after them; and I will be honoured upon Phā'raōh, and upon all his host; that the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs may know that I am the Lord. And they did so.

5 ¶ And it was told the king of Ē'ġўpt that the people fled: and the heart of Phā'raōh and of his servants was turned against the people, and they said, Why [4]have we done this, that we have let Ĭs'ra-el go from serving us?

6 And he made ready his chariot, and took his people with him:

7 And he took six hundred chosen chariots, and all the chariots of Ē'ġўpt, and captains over every one of them.

8 And the Lord hardened the heart of Phā'raōh king of Ē'ġўpt, and he pursued after the children of Ĭs'ra-el: and the children of Ĭs'ra-el went out with an high [5]hand.

9 But the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs pursued after them, all the horses and chariots of Phā'raōh, and his horsemen, and his army, and overtook them encamping by the sea, beside Pī-ha-hī'roth, before Bā'al-zē'phon.

5. That is, five in a rank.

6. The dying charge of Joseph made more than 100 years before is now remembered (Gen. 50:24, 25). "And Joseph said unto his brethren, I die; and God will surely visit you and bring you out of this land, unto the land which he swear to Abraham, to Isaac and to Jacob; and Joseph took an oath of the children of Israel, saying, "God will surely visit you, and ye shall carry up my bones from hence."

7. Jehovah now takes command of the host and for forty years he directs their marches. As at the burning bramble Jehovah revealed himself to Moses by fire, so now by the same symbol he reveals himself to all Israel. Fire reveals power without form, the most intense power with which we are familiar, yet mysterious.

Ch. 14. B. C. 1491.

1. For historical account of Moses see 11, ch. 2.

2. Lost or bewildered.

3. Was hardened through continued sin, and because of that hardness of heart Pharaoh would follow after them.

4. What is this that we have done? The panic having subsided, Pharaoh's obstinacy again shows itself and he begins to make preparations for following the Israelites.

5. Openly and defiantly; in great spirits.

6. That is, cried in terror, not the pleading of faith.

7. Grievously afflict; bear heavily upon.

8. That is, the manifestation of Jehovah in the pillar of clouds and fire.

9. Blinded them.

10. In the time of Old Testament history the hours are reckoned in three watches; the first "or beginning of the watches," from sunset to 10 p. m. (Lam. 2:19); the "middle watch" from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. (Judg. 7:10), and the morning watch from 2 a. m. to sunrise. It was therefore after 2 o'clock in the morning when the cloud, that hung like a black curtain over and before the Egyptians, opened and Jehovah "looked upon them" through his lightning. To appreciate truly the awfulness of this scene we must remember that thunder and lightning are extremely rare in Egypt.

10 ¶ And when Phā'raōh drew nigh, the children of Ĭs'ra-el lifted up their eyes, and, behold, the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs marched after them; and they were sore afraid: and the children of Ĭs'ra-el [6]cried[c] out unto the Lord.

11 And they said unto Mō'şeş, Because there were no graves in Ē'ġўpt, hast thou taken us away to die in the wilderness? wherefore hast thou dealt thus with us, to carry us forth out of Ē'ġўpt?

12 Is not this the word that we did tell thee in Ē'ġўpt, saying, Let us alone, that we may serve the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs? For it had been better for us to serve the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs, than that we should die in the wilderness.

13 ¶ And Mō'şeş said unto the people, [d]Fear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord, which he will shew to you to day: for the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs whom ye have seen to-day, ye shall see them again no more for ever.

14 The Lord [e]shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace.

15 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Wherefore criest thou unto me? speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they go forward:

16 But lift [f]thou up thy rod, and stretch out thine hand over the sea, and divide it: and the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall go on dry ground through the midst of the sea.

17 And I, behold, I will [g]harden the hearts of the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs, and they shall follow them: and I will get me [7]honour upon Phā'raōh, and upon all his host, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen.

18 And the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs shall know that I am the Lord, when I have gotten me [7]honour upon Phā'raōh, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen.

19 ¶ And [8]the angel of God, which went before the camp of Ĭs'ra-el, removed and went behind them; and the pillar of the cloud went from before their face, and [8]stood behind them:

20 And it came between the camp of the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs and the camp of Ĭs'ra-el; and it was a cloud and [9]darkness to them, but it gave light by night to these: so that the one came not near the other all the night.

21 And Mō'şeş stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were [h]divided.

22 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el went into the [h]midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left.

23 ¶ And the Ē-ġўp'tiaņs pursued, and went in after them to the midst of the sea, even all Phā'raōh's horses, his chariots, and his horsemen.

24 And it came to pass, that in the [10]morn-

g. And they will tell it to the inhabitants of this land; for they have heard that thou Lord art among this people; that thou Lord art seen face to face; and that thy cloud standeth over them, and that thou goest before them, by day time in a pillar of a cloud, and in a pillar of fire by night. (Num. 14:14.) And refuse to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didst among them; but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage; but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and forsookest them not. (Neh. 9:17.)

h. And Joseph took an oath of the children of Israel, saying, God will surely visit you, and ye shall carry up my bones from hence. (Gen. 50:25.) And the bones of Joseph, which the children of Israel brought up out of Egypt, buried they in Shechem, in a parcel of ground which Jacob bought of the sons of Hamor, the father of Shechem for an hundred pieces of silver; and it became the inheritance of the children of Joseph. (Josh. 24:32.)

a. Saying, God hath forsaken him; persecute and take him; for there is none to deliver him. (Ps. 71:11.)

b. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God; for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man (13). But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust and enticed (14). Then, when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death. (Ja. 1:13-15.)

c. Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses. (Ps. 107:6.)

d. Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness (10). For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee. Fear not, thou worm Jacob and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the Lord, and the redeemer, the Holy One of Israel. (Is. 41:10, 13, 14.) Fear ye not me? saith the Lord; will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it; and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet they can not pass over it? (Jer. 5:22.) But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear. Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. (Lu. 12:5.)

e. For the Lord your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to save you. (Dt. 20:4.) Ye shall not fear them; for the Lord your God he shall fight for you. (Dt. 3:22.) One man of you shall chase a thousand; for the Lord your God, he it is that fighteth for you, as he hath promised you. (Josh. 23:10.)

f. See vs. 21, 26.

g. He that, being often reproved, hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy. (Prov. 29:1.)

h. For the Lord your God dried up the waters of Jordan from before you, until ye were passed over, as the Lord your God did to the Red Sea, which he dries up from before us, until we were gone over. (Josh. 4:23.) And thou didst divide the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on dry land; and their persecutors thou threwest into the deeps as a stone into the mighty waters. (Neh. 9:11.) He turned the sea into dry land; they went through the flood on foot; there did we rejoice in him. (Ps. 66:6.) By faith they passed through the Red Sea as by dry land; which the Egyptians essaying to do were drowned. (Heb. 11:29.)

ing watch the Lord looked unto the host of the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs through the pillar of fire and of the cloud, and troubled the host of the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs, 25 And took off their chariot wheels, that they drave them heavily: so that the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs said, Let us flee from the face of Ĭs'ra-el; for the Lord fighteth for them against the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs.

26 ¶ And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Stretch out thine hand over the sea, that the waters may come again upon the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs, upon their chariots, and upon their horsemen.

27 And [1]Mō'şeş stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the sea returned [i]to his strength when the morning appeared; and the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs fled against it; and the Lord overthrew the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs in the midst of the sea.

28 And the waters returned, and covered the [j]chariots, and the horsemen, and all the host of Phā'raōh that came into the sea after them; there remained not so much as one of them.

29 But the children of Ĭs'ra-el walked upon [h]dry land in the midst of the sea; and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left.

30 Thus the Lord [k]saved Ĭs'ra-el that day out of the hand of the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs; and Ĭs'ra-el saw the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs dead upon the sea shore.

31 And Ĭs'ra-el saw that great work which the Lord did upon the Ē-gўp'tiaṇs: and the people feared the Lord, and [l]believed the Lord, and his servant Mō'şeş.

CHAPTER 15.

1 Moses' song. 22 The people want water. 23 The waters at Marah are bitter. 25 A tree sweeteneth them. 27 At Elim are twelve wells, and seventy palm trees.

1 Then sang [1]Mō'şeş and the children of Ĭs'ra-el this song unto the Lord, and spake, saying, I will sing unto the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

2 The Lord is [a]my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will [b]exalt him.

3 The Lord is a man of [c]war: the Lord is his name.

4 Phā'raōh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea: his chosen captains also are drowned in the Red sea.

5 The depths have covered them: they sank into the bottom as a stone.

6 Thy right hand, O Lord, is become glorious in power: thy right hand, O Lord, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.

7 And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed [d]them as stubble.

8 And with the blast of thy nostrils the waters were gathered together, the floods stood upright as an heap, and the depths were congealed in the heart of the sea.

9 The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil; my lust shall be satisfied upon them; I will draw my sword, my hand shall destroy them.

10 Thou didst blow with thy wind, the sea covered them: they sank as lead in the mighty waters.

11 Who is like unto thee, O Lord, among the gods? who is like thee, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders?

12 Thou stretchedst out thy right hand, the earth swallowed them.

13 Thou in thy [e]mercy hast led forth the people which thou hast redeemed: thou hast guided them in thy strength unto thy holy habitation.

14 The people shall hear, and be afraid: sorrow shall take hold on the inhabitants of Păl-es-tī'nā.

15 Then the dukes of Ē'dom shall be amazed; the mighty men of Mō'ab, trembling shall take hold upon them; all the inhabitants of Cā'năan shall melt away.

16 Fear and dread shall fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm they shall be as still as a stone; till thy people pass over, O

Ch. 15. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—Verses 1-21 of ch. 15 constitute a song of deliverance of Moses and Miriam, and is true Hebrew poetry. Rhyme, measure, regularity in accents in number and quantity are not to be found. Parallelisms are the special characteristics of the form of Hebrew poetry which consists in correspondences of sound or sense between successive lines, phrases or words, so that the sentiments are reinforced by repetition, comparison and contrast. Hebrew poetry being so largely made up of monosyllables and dissyllables appears at a great disadvantage when translated into another language. This poem is simple, sensuous, passionate—simple, for the words are transparent to the sentiments; sensuous, for the imagery flashes the ideas to the soul through the senses; passionate, for every word is a flame, with religion as its inspiration. "I will sing to Jehovah!" is the poem; "sing to Jehovah" is the perpetual refrain; and the grand chorus bursts from the great host at last, "Jehovah shall reign forever and ever." The poem is divided into five stanzas or strains. The first is descriptive and in the third person, but as the bard's spirit rises the second strain mounts into apostrophe, which is maintained to the end. Thus the ode rolls in five successive waves, each returning in the refrain and all rolling up together in a grand final chorus. (W.)

Poem (by the whole congregation).

(1) I will sing unto Jehovah, for he is most glorious,
The horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

I. The Glory of Jehovah (male voices).

(2) My might and my song (is) Jah, and he became to me salvation;
This is my God, and I will glorify him.

(3) Jehovah, the hero of war, Jehovah (is) his name.

(4) The chariots of Pharaoh and his host he shook into the sea;
The flower of his knights sank in the Sea of Rushes. (Read, Red Sea.)

(5) Abysses covered them;
They went down into the depths like a stone.

Chorus (female voices and the whole congregation). See v. 21.

II. Apostrophe to Jehovah.

(6) Thy right hand, Jehovah, (is) glorious in might;
Thy right hand, Jehovah, crusheth the enemy.

(7) In the greatness of thy majesty thou castest down thy foes;
Thou sendest forth thy wrath, it devoureth them like stubble.

(8) At the blast of thy nostrils heave the waters,
Rise like a heap the floods,
Stiffen the depths in the heart of the sea.
Chorus (verse 21).

III. Triumph over the Enemy.

(9) Said the enemy: I will chase; I will seize;
I will divide spoil; sated shall be my lust.
I will bare my sword; my hand shall clutch them.

(10) Thou didst blow with thy breath, covered them the sea,
Sank they like lead in the mighty waters.
Chorus (verse 21).

IV. Triumph over Heathen Gods.

(11) Who like thee among the gods, Jehovah?
Who like thee, glorious in holiness,
Fearful in praises, doing wonders?

(12) Thou stretchedst forth thy hand, the earth swallowed them.

(13) Thou ledest in thy mercy the people thou hast redeemed:
Thou guidest (them) in thy might to the holy habitation.
Chorus (verse 21).

V. Future Triumph.

(14) Listen, (the) nations, (and) tremble;
Terror seizes the dwellers in Palestine.

(15) Then are confounded the dukes of Edom;
The princes of Moab, trembling takes hold of them;
Melt away all the inhabitants of Canaan:

(16) There falls upon them horror and trembling.
By the greatness of thy arm they shall be still a stone,
Till thy people pass through, Jehovah;
Till pass through the people which thou hast redeemed.

(17) Thou shalt bring them and plant them in the mount of thine inheritance,
The place of thy dwelling (which) thou hast made, Jehovah,
The sanctuary, Lord, (which) thy hands have established.

Grand Chorus (by the whole congregation).

(18) Jehovah shall reign for ever and ever.
Chorus to each strain.

(21) Sing unto Jehovah, for he is most glorious,
The horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

i. And it came to pass, when the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord were come up out of the midst of the Jordan, and the soles of the priests' feet were lifted up unto the dry land, that the waters of the Jordan returned unto their place, and flowed over all his banks, as they did before. (Josh. 4:18.)

j. And he led them on safely, so that they feared not; but the sea overwhelmed their enemies. (Ps. 78:53.) And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy. (Ps. 106:10.)

k. Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake, that he might make his mighty power to be known (8). And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy. (Ps. 106:8, 10.)

l. Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. (Jno. 11:45.) Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did. (Jno. 2:23.)

Chapter 15.

a. Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid; for the Lord Jehovah is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation. (Is. 12:2.) The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation. He is my God, and I will prepare him a habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him. (Ex. 15:2.) Salvation belongeth unto the Lord; thy blessing is upon thy people. (Ps. 3:8.) Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer. (Ps. 19:14.) Lead me in thy truth and teach me; for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day. (Ps. 25:5.) The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation (14). I will praise thee; for thou hast heard me, and art become my salvation (21). God is the Lord, which hath showed us light, bind the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar. (Ps. 118:14, 21, 27.)

b. Exalt ye the Lord our God, and worship at his footstool; for he is holy. (Ps. 99:5.)

c. And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True; and in righteousness he doth judge and make war. (Rev. 19:11.) But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth; and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. (Is. 11:4.)

d. Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they may not be; and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob unto the ends of the earth. (Ps. 59:13.) Therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust; because they have cast away the law of the Lord of hosts, and despise the word of the Holy One of Israel. (Is. 5:24.) By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of his nostrils are they consumed. (Job 4:9.)

e. With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful, with an upright man thou wilt show thyself upright. (Ps. 18:25.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Lu. 6:36.)

Lord, till the people pass over, which thou [f]hast purchased.

17 Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thine inheritance, in the place, O Lord, which thou hast made for thee to dwell in, in the Sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established.

18 The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

19 For the horse of Phā'raōh went in with his chariots and with his horsemen into the sea, and the Lord brought again the waters of the sea upon them; but the children of Ĭs'ra-el went on dry land in the midst of the sea.

20 ¶ And Mĭr'ĭ-am the prophetess, the sister of Aâr'on, took a timbrel in her hand; and all the women went out after her with timbrels and with dances.

21 And Mĭr'ĭ-am answered them, Sing ye to the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

22 So Mō'şeş brought Ĭs'ra-el from the Red sea, and they went out into the wilderness of Shûr; and they went three days in the wilderness and found no water.

23 ¶ And when they came to Mā'rah, they could not drink of the waters of Mā'rah, for they were bitter: therefore the name of it was called Mā'rah.

24 And the people murmured against Mō'şeş, saying, What shall we drink?

25 And he [g]cried unto the Lord; and the Lord shewed him a tree, which when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweet: there he made for them a statute and an ordinance, and there he proved them,

26 And said, If thou wilt diligently [h]hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Ē-ğўp'-tians: for I am the Lord [i]that healeth thee.

27 ¶ And they came to Ē'lĭm, where were twelve wells of water, and threescore and ten palm trees: and they encamped there by the waters.

CHAPTER 16.

1 The Israelites come to Sin. 2 They murmur for want of bread. 4 God promiseth bread from heaven. 11 Quails are sent, 14 and manna. 16 The ordering of manna. 25 It was not to be found on the sabbath. 32 An omer of it is preserved.

1 And they took their journey from Ē'lĭm, and all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el came unto the wilderness of [1]Sĭn, which is between Ē'lĭm and Sĭ'nāi, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departing out of the land of Ē'ğўpt.

2 And the whole congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el [a]murmured against Mō'şeş and Aâr'on in the wilderness:

3 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el said unto them, Would to God we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Ē'ğўpt, when we sat by the flesh pots, and when we did eat bread to the full; for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger.

4 ¶ Then said the Lord unto Mō'şeş, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a [2]certain rate every day, that I may [b]prove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no.

5 And it shall come to pass, that on the [3]sixth day they shall prepare that which they bring in; and it shall be twice as much as they gather daily.

6 And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on said unto all the children of Ĭs'ra-el, At even, then ye shall know that the Lord hath brought you out from the land of Ē'ğўpt:

7 And in the morning, then ye shall see the glory of the Lord; for that he heareth your murmurings against the Lord: and what are we, that ye [a]murmur against us?

8 And [4]Mō'şeş said, This shall be, when the Lord shall give you in the evening flesh to eat, and in the morning bread to the full; for that the Lord heareth your murmurings which ye [a]murmur against him: and what are we? your murmurings are not against us, but [c]against the Lord.

9 ¶ And [4]Mō'şeş spake unto [5]Aâr'on, Say unto all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'rael, Come near before the Lord: for he hath heard your [a]murmurings.

10 And it came to pass, as Aâr'on spake unto the whole congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they looked toward the wilderness, and, behold, the glory of the Lord appeared in the cloud.

11 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

12 I [d]have heard the [a]murmurings of the children of Ĭs'ra-el: speak unto them, saying, At [e]even ye shall eat flesh, and [f]in the morning ye shall be filled with bread; and ye [g]shall know that I am the Lord your God.

13 And it came to pass, that at even the quails came up, and covered the camp: and in the morning the dew lay round about the host.

14 And when the dew that lay was gone up, behold, upon the face of the wilderness there lay a small round thing, as small as the hoar frost on the ground.

15 And when the children of Ĭs'ra-el saw it, they said one to another, It is manna: for they wist not what it was. And Mō'şeş said unto them, This [h]is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat.

16 ¶ This is the thing which the Lord hath

Ch. 16. B. C. 1491.

1. The majority of authorities agree the "wilderness of sin" to be the flat sea-coast strip of desert which broadens into elkaa stretching down to (Cape) Mohammed.

2. Sufficient amount for each day.

3. Shall gather a double portion the sixth day; first, to test their faith; second, to teach them they shall not work on the seventh, or Sabbath day.

4. See 11, ch. 2.

5. See 21, ch. 4.

f. But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. (I Pet. 2:9.)

g. And call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me. (Ps. 50:15.)

h. Wherefore it shall come to pass, if ye hearken to these judgments, and keep and do them, that the Lord thy God shall keep unto thee the covenant and the mercy which he sware unto thy fathers. (Dt. 7:12.)

i. Who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases. (Ps. 103:3.) He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds. (Ps. 147:3.) And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written, The spirit of the Lord is upon thee, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor, he hath sent me to heal the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. (Lu. 4:17, 18.) And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick; the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity. (Is. 33:24.) When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee. (Mk. 2:5.)

a. But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord. (Ps. 106:25.) Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured and were destroyed of the destroyer. (I Cor. 10:10.) Say not thou, what is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not enquire wisely concerning this. (Ecc. 7:10.)

b. And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God. (Rom. 12:2.) Examine yourselves whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates? (II Cor. 13:5.) Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. (I Thess. 5:21.) Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world. (I Jno. 4.1.)

c. He that heareth you, heareth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me; and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me. (Lu. 10:16.) Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God; and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation. (Rom. 13:2.)

d. How long shall I bear with this evil congregation, which murmur against me? I have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel, which they murmur against me. (Num. 14:27.)

e. See v. 6.

f. See v. 7.

g. So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain; then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall be no strangers pass through her any more. (Joel 3:17.)

h. Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat (31). Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead (49). This is that bread which came down from heaven; not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead; he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever. (Jno. 6:31, 49, 58.) And did all eat the same spiritual meat. (I Cor. 10:3.)

commanded, Gather of it every man according to his eating, an [6]omer for every man, according to the number of your persons; take ye every man for them which are in his tents.

17 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did so, and gathered, some more, some less.

18 And when they did mete it with an omer, he that gathered much had [i]nothing over, and he that gathered little had no lack; they gathered every man according to his eating.

19 And Mō'şeş said, Let no man leave of it till the morning.

20 Notwithstanding they hearkened not unto [4]Mō'şeş; but some of them left of it until the morning, and it bred worms, and stank: and Mō'şeş was wroth with them.

21 And they gathered it every morning, every man according to his eating: and when the sun waxed hot, it melted.

22 ¶ And it came to pass, that on the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers for one man: and all the rulers of the congregation came and told [4]Mō'şeş.

23 And he said unto them, This is that which the Lord hath said, To morrow is the rest of the holy [j]sabbath unto the Lord: bake that which ye will bake to day, and seethe that ye will seethe; and that which remaineth over lay up for you to be kept until the morning.

24 And they laid it up till the morning, as Mō'şeş bade: and it did not [k]stink, neither was there any worm therein.

25 And [4]Mō'şeş said, Eat that to day; for to day is a [7][j]sabbath unto the Lord: to day ye shall not find it in the field.

26 Six [l]days ye shall gather it; but on the seventh day, which is the [j]sabbath, in it there shall be none.

27 ¶ And it came to pass, that there went out some of the people on the seventh day for to gather, and they found none.

28 And the Lord said unto [4]Mō'şeş, How long [m]refuse ye to keep my commandments and my laws?

29 See, for that the Lord hath given you the [j]sabbath, therefore he giveth you on the sixth day the bread of two days; abide ye every man in his place, let no man go out of his place on the seventh day.

30 So the people rested on the seventh day.

31 And the house of Ĭs'ra-el called the name thereof Manna: and it was like coriander seed white; and the taste of it was like wafers made with honey.

32 ¶ And Mō'şeş said, This is the thing which the Lord commandeth, Fill an omer of it to be kept for your generations; that they may see the bread wherewith I have fed you in the wilderness, when I brought you forth from the land of Ē'gўpt.

33 And [4]Mō'şeş said unto [5]Aâr'on, [n]Take a pot, and put an omer full of manna therein, and lay it up before the Lord, to be kept for your generations.

34 As the Lord commanded Mō'şeş, so [5]Aâr'on laid it up [n]before the [8]Testimony, to be kept.

35 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did eat manna [9]forty years, [o]until they came to a land inhabited; they did eat manna, until they came unto the borders of the land of Cā'năan.

36 Now an omer is the tenth part of an ephah.

6. 3½ pints.

7. In three ways the sanctity of the Sabbath was to be made manifest in this miracle; first, a double quantity was proved on the sixth day; second, there was none on the seventh day; third, that gathered on the sixth did not putrefy on the seventh.

8. The two tablets of the law.

9. Verses 32 to 36 are valuable in throwing light on the manner in which the book was written. The account of the manna laid up before the testimony was composed after the ark of the testimony was made and the tabernacle set up, while the 35th verse was written after the forty years' journey was ended, which clearly indicates that Moses had daily prepared his diary and at the close of his long career wove the events into a regular treatise.

CHAPTER 17.

1 The people murmur for water at Rephidim. 5 God sendeth Moses to the rock in Horeb. 8 Amalek is overcome by the holding up of Moses' hands. 15 Moses buildeth the altar Jehovah-nissi.

Ch. 17. B. C. 1491.

1 And all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el journeyed from the wilderness of Sĭn, after their journeys, according to the commandment of the Lord, and pitched in Rĕph'ĭ-dim: and there was no water for the people to drink.

1. For historical account see 11. ch. 2.

2 Wherefore the people did chide with [1]Mō'şeş, and said, Give us water that we may drink. And [1]Mō'şeş said unto them, Why chide ye with me? wherefore do ye [a]tempt the Lord?

3 And the people thirsted there for water; and the people [b]murmured against Mō'şeş, and said, Wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Ē'gўpt, to kill us and our children and our cattle with thirst?

4 And [1]Mō'şeş cried unto the Lord, saying, What shall I do unto this people? they be almost ready to stone me.

5 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, [c]Go on before the people, and take with thee of the elders of Ĭs'ra-el; and thy rod, wherewith thou smotest the river, take in thine hand, and go.

6 Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock in Hō'reb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may [d]drink. And [1]Mō'şeş did so in the sight of the elders of Ĭs'ra-el.

7 And he called the name of the place Măs'sah, and Mĕr'ĭ-bah, because of the chiding of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and because they [a]tempted the Lord, saying, Is the Lord [e]among us, or not?

i. As it is written, He that had gathered much had nothing over; and he that had gathered little had no lack. (II Cor. 8:15.)

j. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it; because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made. (Gen. 2:3.) Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. (Ex. 20:8.) Six days shall work be done; but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, and holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein; it is the sabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings. (Lev. 23:3.) Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctified them. (Ez. 20:12.) Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. (Dt. 5:12.)

k. See v. 20.

l. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work; but the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. (Ex. 20:9, 10.)

m. Notwithstanding they would not hear, but hardened their necks, like to the neck of their fathers, that did not believe in the Lord their God. (II Ks. 17:14.) They soon forgat his works; they waited not for his counsel. (Ps. 106:13.) O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved; how long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee? (Jer. 4:14.)

n. Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the convenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant. (Heb. 9:4.) And he took and put the testimony into the ark, and set the staves on the ark, and put the mercy seat above upon the ark. (Ex. 40:20.)

o. And thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee these forty years in the wilderness, to humble thee, and to prove thee, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keep his commandments, or no. And he humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; that he might make thee know that man doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live. (Dt. 8:2, 3.) Thou gavest also thy good spirit to instruct them, and withheldest not thy manna from their mouth, and gavest them water for their thirst; yea, forty years didst thou sustain them in the wilderness, so that they lacked nothing, their clothes waxed not old, and their feet swelled not. (Neh. 9:20, 21.)

a. But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord. (Is. 7:12.) Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. (Math 4:7.) Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents. (I Cor. 10:9.) Ye shall not tempt the Lord your God, as ye tempted him in Massah. (Dt. 6:16.)

b. But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord. (Ps. 106:25.) Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer. (I Cor. 10:10.) Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not enquire wisely concerning this. (Ecc. 7:10.)

c. And thou, son of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though briers and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions; be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house. (Ez. 2:6.) Be not afraid of their faces; for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.) By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible. (Heb. 11:27.) But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye; and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled. (I Pet. 3:14.)

d. And did all drink the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them; and that Rock was Christ. (I Cor. 10:4.) Ye opened the rock, and the waters gushed out; they ran in the dry places like a river. (Ps. 105:41.)

e. Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound; they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance. (Ps. 89:15.) Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice. (Ps. 63:7.) Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people. (Lu. 1:68.)

8 ¶ Then came Ăm'a-lĕk, and fought with Ĭs'ra-el in Rĕph'ĭ-dim.

9 And [1]Mō'şeş said unto [2]Jōsh'u-à, Choose us out men, and go out, fight with [3]Ăm'a-lĕk: to morrow I will stand on the top of the hill with the [4]rod of God in mine hand.

10 So Jōsh'u-à did as Mō'şeş had said to him, and fought with [3]Ăm'a-lĕk: and Mō'şeş, Aâr'on, and [5]Hûr went up to the top of the hill.

11 And it came to pass, when [1]Mō'şeş held up his hand, that Ĭs'ra-el prevailed: and when he let [6]down his hand, Ăm'a-lĕk prevailed.

12 But [1]Mō'şeş' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon; and Aâr'on and Hûr stayed up his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun.

13 And Jōsh'u-à [7]discomfited Ăm'a-lĕk and his people with the edge of the sword.

14 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Write this for a memorial in a [8]book, and rehearse it in the ears of Jōsh'u-à: for I will utterly put out the remembrance of Ăm'a-lĕk from under heaven.

15 And [1]Mō'şeş built an altar, and called the name of it [9]Je-hō'vah-nĭs'sĭ:

16 For he said, [10]Because the Lord hath sworn that the Lord will have war with Ăm'a-lĕk from generation to generation.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Jethro bringeth to Moses his wife and two sons. 7 Moses entertaineth him. 13 Jethro's counsel is accepted. 27 Jethro departeth.

1 When [1]Jē'thro, the priest of Mĭd'ĭ-an, [2]Mō'şeş' father in law, heard of all that God had done for Mō'şeş, and for Ĭs'ra-el his people, and that the Lord had brought Ĭs'ra-el out of Ē'ġўpt;

2 Then [1]Jē'thro, [2]Mō'şeş' father in law, took Zĭp-pō'rah, Mō'şeş' wife, after he had sent her back,

3 And her two sons; of which the name of the one was [3]Gĕr'shŏm; for he said, I have been an alien in a strange land:

4 And the name of the other was [4]E-li-ē'zēr; for the God of my father, said he, was mine help, and delivered me from the sword of Phā'raōh:

5 And Jē'thro, Mō'şeş' father in law, came with his sons and his wife unto Mō'şeş into the wilderness, where he encamped at the [5]mount of God:

6 And he said unto [2]Mō'şeş, I thy father in law [1]Jē'thro am come unto thee, and thy wife, and her two sons with her.

7 ¶And [2]Mō'şeş went out to meet his father in law, and did obeisance, and kissed him; and they asked each other of their welfare; and they came into the tent.

8 And [2]Mō'şeş told his father in law all that the Lord had done unto Phā'raōh and to the Ē-ġўp'tianş for Ĭs'ra-el's sake, and all the travail that had come upon them by the way, and how the Lord delivered them.

9 And [1]Jē'thro rejoiced for all the goodness which the Lord had done to Ĭs'ra-el, whom he had delivered out of the hand of the Ē-ġўp'tianş.

10 And [1]Jē'thro said, Blessed be the Lord, who hath delivered you out of the hand of the Ē-ġўp'tianş, and out of the hand of Phā'raōh, who hath delivered the people from under the hand of the Ē-ġўp'tianş.

11 Now I know that the Lord is greater [a]than all gods: for in the thing wherein they dealt [c]proudly [b]he was above them.

12 And [1]Jē'thro, [2]Mō'şeş' father in law, took a burnt offering and sacrifices for God: and Aâr'on came, and all the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, to eat bread with Mō'şeş' father in law before [c]God.

13 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that Mō'şeş sat to judge the people: and the people stood by Mō'şeş from the morning unto the evening.

14 And when Mō'şeş' father in law saw all that he did to the people, he said, What is this thing that thou doest to the people? why sittest thou thyself alone, and all the people stand by thee from morning unto even?

15 And Mō'şeş said unto his father in law, Because the people come unto me to enquire [d]of God.

16 When they have a matter, they come unto me; and I judge between one and another, and I do make them know the statutes of God, and his laws.

17 And Mō'şeş' father in law said unto him, The thing that thou doest is not good.

18 Thou wilt surely wear away, both thou, and this people that is with thee: for this thing is too heavy for thee; thou are not able to perform it thyself alone.

19 Hearken now unto my voice, I will give thee counsel, and God shall be with thee. Be thou for the people to [7]God-ward, that thou mayest bring the causes unto God:

20 And thou shalt teach them ordinances and laws, and shalt shew them the way wherein they must walk, and the work that they must do.

21 Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people [e]able men, such as [f]fear God, men [g]of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them, to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.

22 And let them judge the people at all seasons: and it shall be, that [8]every great matter they shall bring unto thee, but every small matter they shall judge: so shall it be easier for thyself, and they shall bear the burden with thee.

23 If thou shalt do this thing, and God command thee so, then thou shalt be able to endure, and all this people shall also go to their place in peace.

24 So [2]Mō'şeş hearkened to the voice of his father in law, and did all that he had said.

25 And Mō'şeş chose able men out of all Ĭs'ra-el, and made them heads over the people, rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.

2. Joshua, successor to Moses, the second leader of Israel, now first makes his appearance. His name was originally Hoshea (or Oshea), which means help or deliverance, but in Numbers 13:16 his name was changed by Moses into Jehoshua or Joshua, thus giving him the addition of the Memorial Name Jah, making it mean the Jehovah Savior. Joshua was the military leader of Israel under the direction of Moses through all the desert journey. After the death of Moses God encouraged and directed Joshua directly to take on him the government of the Hebrews, and promised to give him his continued presence and support. He died at the age of 110, and was buried at Timnath-Serah, his own city. Joshua possessed the character of a devout warrior who combined strength with gentleness. He with the simplicity of a child, obeyed the divine impulse.

3. The Amalekites were a nomadic people of whom we find the first trace in the life of Abraham. (Gen. 14:7.)

4. Moses called his staff the "rod of God" because all the wonders wrought by it were revelations of God's power, not of his.

5. This Hur is said to have been the husband of Miriam. Moses was thus accompanied by his kinsman, brother and brother-in-law, as he went up into the hill to plead with God.

6. That is, putting down his staff, the symbol of the presence and power of Jehovah.

7. Overthrow.

8. The Book, wherein was kept the record of this wonderful history, where all of God's statutes were written. It was doubtless the book used by Moses, or his scribes, in the composition of the Pentateuch, if not the Pentateuch itself. (W.)

9. That is, the Lord my banner.

10. Because the hand of Amalek is against the throne of the Lord, therefore the Lord will have, etc.

Ch. 18. B. C. 1491.

1. The priest of Midian and father-in-law of Moses. It was while keeping the flocks of Jethro that Moses beheld the vision of the burning bush and received from Jehovah his commission to the court of Egypt.

2. For historical account of Moses see 11, ch. 2.

3. That is, a stranger there.

4. Meaning my God is an help.

5. The Sinaitic range, or mass of mountains known as Horeb.

6. Insolently.

7. The representative of the people before God.

8. Questions of much importance.

Chapter 18.

a. But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in parts; that I may not overcharge you all. (II Cor. 2:5.) For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. (Ps. 95:3.) For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods. (Ps. 135:5.)

b. Cast abroad the rage of thy wrath: and behold every one that is proud, and abase him. Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low, and tread down the wicked in their place. (Job 40:11, 12.) Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do err from thy commandments. (Ps. 119:21.) He hath showed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts. (Lu. 1:51.)

c. And did eat and drink before the Lord on that day with great gladness. And they made Solomon the son of David king the second time, and anointed him unto the Lord to be the chief governor, and Zadok to be priest. (I Chr. 29:22.) Behold Israel after the flesh; are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar? (18). Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils; ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils (21). Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. (I Cor. 10:18, 21, 31.)

d. Then called I upon the name of the Lord: O Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul. (Ps. 116:4.) I cried unto the Lord with my voice; with my voice unto the Lord did I make my supplication. (Ps. 142:1.) And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Luke 18:1.)

e. And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord: that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers. (Dt. 6:18.) Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business. (Acts 6:3.)

f. And Joseph said unto them the third day, This do, and live; for I fear God. (Gen. 42:18.) The God of Israel said, The Rock of Israel spake to me, He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. (II Sam. 23:3.) Thou shalt not rule over him with rigor, but shalt fear thy God. (Lev. 25:43.) But the former governors that had been before me were chargeable unto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beside forty shekels of silver; yea, even their servants bare rule over the people, but so did not I, because of the fear of God. (Neh. 5:15.)

g. He that hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken 26 And they judged the people at all seasons: the hard causes they brought unto Mō'şeş, but every small matter they judged themselves.

27 ¶ And [2]Mō'şeş let his father in law depart; and he went his way into his own land.

CHAPTER 19.

1 The people come to Sinai. 3 God's message unto the people out of the mount. 8 The people's answer. 10 The people are prepared against the third day. 16 The fearful presence of God upon the mount.

1 In the third [1]month, when the children of Ĭs'ra-el were gone forth out of the land of Ē'ġўpt, the [1]same day came they into the wilderness of Sī'nāi.

2 For they were departed from Rĕph'ī-dim, and were come to the desert of [2]Sī-nāi, and had pitched in the wilderness; and there [6]Ĭs'ra-el camped before the mount.

3 And [3]Mō'şeş went up unto God, and the Lord called unto him out of the mountain, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of [7]Jā'cob, and tell the children of Ĭs'ra-el;

4 Ye have seen what I did unto the Ē-ġўp'tians, and how [a]I bare you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto myself.

5 Now therefore, if ye will [b]obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine:

6 And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

7 ¶ And [3]Mō'şeş came and called for the elders of the people, and laid before their faces all these words which the Lord commanded him.

8 And all the people answered together, and said, All that the Lord hath spoken we will do. And [3]Mō'şeş returned the words of the people unto the Lord.

9 And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Lo, I come unto thee [8]in a [c]thick cloud, that the people may hear when I speak with thee, and believe thee for ever. And [3]Mō'şeş told the words of the people unto the Lord.

10 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Go unto the people, and [4]sanctify [d]them to day and to morrow, and let them wash their clothes, 11 And be ready against the third day: for the third day the Lord will come down in the sight of all the people upon mount [2]Sī-nāi.

12 And thou shalt set bounds unto the people round about, saying, Take heed to yourselves, that ye go not up into the mount, or touch the border of it: whosoever toucheth the mount shall be surely put to death:

Ch. 19. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—Jehovah revealed as King of Israel. The divine glory revealed. With ch. 19 we approach the most sublime and impressive narrative of the Old Testament. The struggle and victory of the exodus is over; two months' experience and exposures of the desert journey have passed; the Israelites have pitched their tents at the foot of the holy mountain where Moses beheld the burning bush, and here they await further revelations of Jehovah.

1. Forty-five days after the departure from Egypt, for adding sixteen days of the first month to twenty-nine of the second, the sum is 45. To this add the day Moses went up to meet God (v. 3), then the next day after when he returned the people's answer to God (vs. 7, 8), and the three days more mentioned in verses 10 and 11, which makes just 50 days from the giving of the law on Mt. Sinai. Hence the feast which was given and kept in after time to celebrate this event was called Pentecost, or the fiftieth day.

2. The open plain before the mountains.

3. See 11, ch. 2.

4. Wash and ceremonially cleanse.

5. Making clean for the coming of the Lord.

6. The elders.

7. The only occurrence of this expression in the Pentateuch, doubtless referring here to the special promises made to the old patriarchs. (Speakers' Commentary.)

8. Behold I am coming.

9. So sacred and awful was that mount to be esteemed that no thing unbidden or unsanctified should touch it.

10. Lowest part, or base.

11. The whole of it was smoking.

12. Groaned.

13. Give warning to them.

Ch. 20. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—Most of the authorities agree that the first five commandments were written on the first tablet and the remaining five on the second, viz.:

First Tablet:

(1) Thou shalt have no other gods before me.

13 There shall not an [9]hand touch it, but he shall surely be stoned, or shot through; whether it be beast or man, it shall not live: when the trumpet soundeth long, they shall come up to the mount.

14 ¶ And [3]Mō'şeş went down from the mount unto [d]the people, and sanctified the people; and they [c]washed their clothes.

15 And he said unto the people, Be ready against the third day: come not at your wives.

16 ¶ And it came to pass on the third day in the morning, that there were thunders and lightnings, and a thick cloud upon the mount, and the voice of the trumpet exceeding loud; so that all the people that was in the camp trembled.

17 And [3]Mō'şeş brought forth the people out of the camp to meet with God; and they stood at the [10]nether part of the mount.

18 And mount Sī'nāi was altogether on a [11]smoke, because the Lord descended upon it in fire: and the smoke thereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mount [12]quaked [c]greatly.

19 And when the voice of the trumpet sounded long, and waxed louder and louder, Mō'şeş spake, and God answered him by a voice.

20 And the Lord came down upon mount [2]Sī'nāi, on the top of the mount: and the Lord called [3]Mō'şeş up to the top of the mount; and Mō'şeş went up.

21 And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Go down, [13]charge the people, lest they break through unto the Lord to gaze, and many of them perish.

22 And let the priests also, which come near to the Lord, [d]sanctify themselves, lest the Lord [f]break forth upon them.

23 And [3]Mō'şeş said unto the Lord, The people cannot come up to mount [2]Sī'nāi: for thou chargedst us, saying, Set bounds about the mount, and sanctify it.

24 And the Lord said unto him, Away, get thee down, and thou shalt come up, thou, and Aâr'on with thee: but let not the priests and the people break through to come up unto the Lord, lest he break [f]forth upon them.

25 So [3]Mō'şeş went down unto the people, and spake unto them.

CHAPTER 20.

1 The ten commandments. 18 The people are afraid. 20 Moses comforteth them. 22 Idolatry is forbidden. 24 Of what sort the altar should be.

1 And God [1]spake all these words, saying,

2 I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Ē'ġўpt, out of the house of bondage.

any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgment between man and man. (Ez. 18:8.) He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be moved. (Ps. 15:5.) These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbor; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates. (Zech. 8:16.) The lip of truth shall be established for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment. (Prov. 12:19.)

a. As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings. (Dt. 32:11.) And in all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them and carried them all the days of old. (Is. 63:9.)

b. Ye shall walk after the Lord your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and obey his voice, and ye shall serve him, and cleave unto him. (Dt. 13:4.) Thou shalt therefore obey the voice of the Lord thy God, and do his commandments and his statutes, which I commanded thee this day. (Dt. 27:10.) And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers. (Dt. 6:18.) That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God. (Ez. 11:20.)

c. And ye came near and stood under the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire unto the midst of heaven, with darkness, clouds, and thick darkness. (Dt. 4:11.) Clouds and darkness are round about him; righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne. (Ps. 97:2.)

d. Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.) Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. (II Cor. 7:1.) Speak thou also unto the children of Israel, saying, Verily my sabbaths ye shall keep; for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations; that ye may know that I am the Lord that doth sanctify you. (Ex. 31:13.) Then Moses said unto Aaron, This is it that the Lord spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them that come nigh me, and before all the people I will be glorified. And Aaron held his peace. (Lev. 10:3.)

e. O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people, when thou didst march through the wilderness (7). The earth shook, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God, even Sinai itself was moved at the presence of God, the God of Israel. (Ps. 68:7, 8.) Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob. (Ps. 114:7.) I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly. (Jer. 4:24.)

f. And the anger of the Lord was kindled against Uzzah; and God smote him there for his error; and there he died by the ark of God. (II Sam. 6:7.) And he smote the men of Bethshemesh, because they had looked into the ark of the Lord, even he smote of the people fifty thousand and threescore and ten men. And the people lamented, because the Lord had smitten many of the people with a great slaughter. (I Sam. 6:19.)

3 Thou [a]shalt have no other gods before me.
4 Thou shalt [b]not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth:
5 Thou shalt not bow [c]down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a [d]jealous God, visiting the [e]iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me;
6 And shewing [f]mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.
7 Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy [g]God in vain; for the Lord will not [h]hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.
8 Remember the [i]sabbath day, to keep it holy.

(2) Thou shalt not make any graven images.

(3) Thou shalt not take the name of God in vain.

(4) Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy.

(5) Honor thy father and thy mother.

Second Tablet:

(6) Thou shalt not kill.

(7) Thou shalt not commit adultery.

(8) Thou shalt not steal.

(9) Thou shalt not bear false witness.

(10) Thou shalt not covet.

1. Reference to the supernatural giving or origin of the ten commandments.

9 Six days [j]shalt thou labour, and do all thy work:
10 But the seventh day is the [i]sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates:
11 For in six [j]days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath [i]day, and hallowed it.
12 ¶ Honour [k]thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.
13 Thou shalt [l]not kill.
14 Thou [m]shalt not commit adultery.
15 Thou [n]shalt not steal.

Chapter 20.

a. Ye shall not go after other gods, of the gods of the people which are round about you. (Dt. 6:14.) For thou shalt worship no other god: for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God. (Ex. 34:14.) Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong. But they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the Lord (Is. 31:1.) But the Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting King; at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation. (Jer. 10:10.)

b. Ye shall make you no idols nor graven image, neither rear you up a standing image, neither shall ye set up any image of stone in your land, to bow down unto it: for I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 26:1.) Confounded be they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols; worship him, all ye gods. (Ps. 97:7.) Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19:4.) Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the Lord your God, which he made with you, and make you a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, which the Lord thy God hath forbidden thee. (Dt. 4:23.) Thou shalt not make thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth. (Dt. 5:8.)

c. With whom the Lord had made a covenant, and charged them, saying, Ye shall not fear other gods, nor bow yourselves to them, nor serve them, nor sacrifice to them (35). And the covenant that I have made with you, ye shall not forget; neither shall ye fear other gods. (II Ks. 17:35, 38.) There shall no strange god be in thee; neither shalt thou worship any strange god. (Ps. 81:9.) Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no god but me; for there is no saviour beside me. (Hos. 13:4.) Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry. (I Cor. 10:14.) Little children, keep yourselves from idols. (I Jno. 5:21.)

d. For thou shalt worship no other god: for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God. (Ex. 34:14.) They have moved me to jealousy with that which is not God, they have provoked me to anger with their vanities; and I will move them to jealousy with those which are not a people; I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation. (Dt. 32:21.) How long, Lord? wilt thou be angry for ever? shall thy jealousy burn like a fire? (Ps. 79:5.) Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than he? (I Cor. 10:22.)

e. God layeth up his iniquity for his children; he rewardeth them, and he shall know it. (Job 21:19.) The tabernacle of the congregation, and the ark of the testimony, and the mercy seat that is thereupon, and all the furniture of the tabernacle. (Ex. 31:7.) If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (I Jno. 1:9.) A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth; and the recompense of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him. (Prov. 12:14.) According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompense to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompense. (Is. 59:18.) According to their uncleanness, and according to their transgressions, have I done unto them, and hid my face from them. (Ez. 39:24.)

f. (For the Lord thy God is a merciful God;) he will not forsake thee, neither destroy thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers which he sware unto them. (Dt. 4:31.) Nevertheless for thy great mercies' sake thou didst not utterly consume them, nor forsake them; for thou art a gracious and merciful God. (Neh. 9:31.) O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 107:1.) To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him. (Dan. 9:9.) Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy. (Mic. 7:18.) But he, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not; yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath. (Ps. 78:38.)

g. But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Math. 5:33.) And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God. I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:12.) That which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keep and perform; even a free-will offering, according as thou hast vowed unto the Lord thy God, which thou hast promised with thy mouth. (Dt. 23:23.) Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain. (Dt. 5:11.)

h. Shall I count them pure with the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights? (11). For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth (12). Therefore also will I make thee sick in smiting thee, in making thee desolate because of thy sins. (Mic. 6:11-13.) They shall lick the dust like a serpent, they shall move out of their holes like worms of the earth; they shall be afraid of the Lord our God, and shall fear because of thee. (Mic. 7:17.) Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness; according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin. For I acknowledge my transgressions; and my sin is ever before me. Against thee, thee only have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight; that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. (Ps. 51:1-4.)

i. Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. (Dt. 5:12.) And God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it; because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made. (Gen. 2:3.) Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy. (Ex. 20:8.) Six days shall work be done; but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings. (Lev. 23:3.) Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctify them. (Ez. 20:12.)

j. Six days thou shalt do thy work, and on the seventh day thou shalt rest; that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy hand-maid, and the stranger, may be refreshed. (Ex. 23:12.) Six days thou shalt work; but on the seventh day thou shalt rest: in earing time and in harvest thou shalt rest. (Ex. 34:21.) The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep. (Ecc. 5:12.) And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the laborer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. (Lu. 10:7.) And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you. (I Thes. 4:11.) Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. Six days thou shalt labor, and do all thy work. (Dt. 5:12, 13.)

k. For God commanded, saying, Honor thy father and mother; and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. (Math. 15:4.) Honor thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise). (Eph. 6:2.) And he that curseth his father or his mother shall surely be put to death. (Ex. 21:17.) Cursed be he that setteth light by his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:16.) Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness. (Prov. 20:20.)

l. For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. (Rom. 13:9.) And the Lord said unto Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? And he said, I know not: Am I my brother's keeper? (9). And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground. And now art thou cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thine hand. (Gen. 4:9-11.) And surely your blood of your lives will I require; at the hand of every beast will I require it; and at the hand of man; at the hand of every man's brother will I require the life of man. (Gen. 9:5.) And if he smite him with an instrument of iron, so that he die, he is a murderer; the murderer shall surely be put to death. (Num. 35:16.) At the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death; but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death. (Dt. 17:6.)

m. Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery; But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. (Math. 5:27, 28.) Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honor thy father and mother. (Mk. 10:19.) Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them; now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body (13). Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid (15). Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his own body. (I Cor. 6.13, 15, 18.) And if a man entice a maid that is not betrothed,. and lie with her, he shall surely endow her to be his wife. (Ex. 22:16.) And the man that committeth adultery with another man's wife, even he that committeth adultery with his neighbor's wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death. (Lev. 20:10.) Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

n. If a man steal an ox, or a sheep, and kill it, or sell it; he shall restore five oxen for an ox, and four sheep for a sheep (1). If a thief be found breaking up, and be smitten that he die, there shall no blood be shed for him (2). If the sun be risen upon him, there shall be blood shed for him; for he should make full restitution; if he have nothing, then he shall be sold for his theft (3). If the theft be certainly found in his hand alive, whether it be ox, or ass, or sheep, he shall restore double. (Ex. 22:1-4.) The robbery of the wicked shall destroy them; because they refuse to do judgment. (Prov. 21:7.)

16 Thou shalt not bear false [o]witness against thy neighbour.

17 Thou shalt not covet [p]thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy [q]neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.

18 ¶ And all the people saw the thunderings, and the lightnings, and the noise of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking: and when the people saw it, they removed, and stood afar off.

19 And they said unto Mō'şeş, Speak thou with us, and we will hear: but let not God speak with us, lest we die.

20 And Mō'şeş said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear [r]may be before your faces, that ye sin not.

21 And the people stood afar off, and Mō'şeş drew near unto the thick darkness where God was.

22 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Thus thou shalt say unto the children of Is'ra-el, Ye have seen that I have [2]talked with you from heaven.

23 Ye shall not make with me gods [s]of silver, neither shall ye make unto you gods [s]of gold.

24 ¶ An altar of earth thou shalt make unto me, and shalt sacrifice thereon thy burnt offerings, and thy peace offerings, thy sheep, and thine oxen: in all places where I record my name I will come unto thee, and I will bless thee.

25 And if thou wilt make me an altar of stone, thou shalt not build it of hewn stone: for if thou lift up thy tool upon it, thou hast polluted it.

26 Neither shalt thou go up by steps unto mine altar, that thy nakedness be not discovered thereon.

CHAPTER 21.

1 Laws for menservants. 7 For womenservants. 12 For manslaughter. 16 For stealers of men. 17 For cursers of parents. 18 For smiters. 22 For a hurt by chance. 28 For an ox that goreth.

1 Now these are the [1]judgments which thou shalt [a]set before them.

2 If thou buy an [2]Hē'brew servant, six years he shall serve: and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing.

3 If he came in by himself, he shall go out by himself: if he were married, then his wife shall go out with him.

4 If his master have given him a wife, and she have born him sons or daughters; the wife and her children shall be her master's, and he shall go out by himself.

5 And if the servant shall plainly say, I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free:

6 Then his master shall bring him unto the judges; he shall also bring him to the door, or unto the door post; and his master shall bore his ear through with an aul; and he shall serve him for ever.

7 ¶ And if a man sell his daughter to be a maidservant, she shall not go out as the menservants do.

8 If she [3]please not her master, who hath betrothed her to himself, then shall he let her be redeemed: to sell her unto a strange nation he shall have no power, seeing he hath dealt deceitfully with her.

9 And if he have betrothed her unto his son, he shall deal with her after the manner of daughters.

10 If he take him another wife; her food, her raiment, and her duty of marriage, shall he not diminish.

11 And if he do not these three unto her, then shall she go out free without money.

12 ¶ He that [b]smiteth a man, so that he die, shall be surely put to death.

13 And if a man [c]lie not in wait, but God deliver him into his hand; then I will appoint thee a place whither he shall flee.

14 But if a man come [d]presumptuously upon his neighbour, to slay him with guile; thou shalt take him from mine altar, that he may die.

15 ¶ And he that smiteth his father, or his mother, shall be surely put to death.

16 ¶ And he that stealeth a man, and selleth him, or if he be found in his hand, he shall surely be put to death.

17 ¶ And he that [4]curseth [e]his father, or his mother, shall surely be put to death.

18 ¶ And if men strive together, and one smite another with a stone, or with his fist, and he die not, but keepeth his bed:

19 If he rise again, and walk abroad upon his staff, then shall he that smote him be quit: only he shall pay for the loss of his time, and shall cause him to be thoroughly healed.

20 ¶ And if a man smite his servant, or his maid, with a rod, and he die under his hand; he shall be surely punished.

21 Notwithstanding, if he continue a day or two, he shall not be punished: for he is his money.

22 ¶ If men strive, and hurt a woman with child, so that her fruit depart from her, and

1. Decisions of law, judicial statutes.

2. In the time of Moses slavery existed among all nations. The Mosaical legislation therefore was adapted to mitigate the evils of slavery and to make provisions for universal emancipation. (Lev. 25:10.) "And ye shall hallow the fiftieth year and proclaim liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof, it shall be a jubilee unto you, and ye shall return every man unto his possession and ye shall return every man unto his family."

3. If she be evil, or defective, in the eyes of the master.

4. Esteem lightly, unkind toward, revileth.

o. Neither shalt thou bear false witness against thy neighbor. (Dt. 5:20.) He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness. (Math. 19:18.) Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honor thy father and thy mother. (Lu. 18:20.) Thou shalt not raise a false report; put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness. (Ex. 23:1.) Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another. (Lev. 19:11.) These six things doth the Lord hate; yea, seven are an abomination unto him (16): A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood (17). An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief (18). A false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren. (Prov. 6:16-19.)

p. Incline my heart unto thy testimonies, and not to covetousness. (Ps. 119:36.) For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth, and smote him; I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart. (Is. 57:17.) For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. (Rom. 13:9.)

q. But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. (Math. 5:28.)

r. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do his commandments; his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.)

s. And in all things that I have said unto you, Be circumspect; and make no mention of the name of other gods, neither let it be heard out of thy mouth. (Ex. 23:13.) Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods; I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19:4.) Cursed be the man that maketh any graven or molten image, an abomination unto the Lord, the work of the hands of the craftsman, and putteth it in a secret place. And all the people shall answer and say, Amen. (Dt. 27:15.) Confounded be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols; worship him, all ye gods. (Ps. 97:7.)

Chapter 21.

a. Now these are the commandments, the statutes, and the judgments, which the Lord your God commanded to teach you, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go to possess it. (Dt. 6:1.) But he that doeth wrong, shall receive for the wrong which he hath done; and there is no respect of persons. (Col. 3:25.) With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to man. (Eph. 6:7.) According to their uncleanness, and according to their transgressions, have I done unto them, and hid my face from them. (Ez. 39:24.)

b. Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man. (Gen. 9:6.) Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place; for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. (Math. 26:52.)

c. And this is the case of the slayer which shall flee thither, that he may live; whoso killeth his neighbor ignorantly, whom he hated not in time past; As when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbor to hew wood, and his hand fetcheth a stroke with the ax to cut down the tree, and the head slippeth from the helve, and lighteth upon his neighbor, that he die; he shall flee unto one of those cities, and live. (Dt. 19:4, 5.)

d. But if any man hate his neighbor, and lie in wait for him, and rise up against him, and smite him mortally that he die, and fleeth into one of these cities (11). Then the elders of his city shall send and fetch him thence and deliver him into the hands of the avenger of blood, that he may die. (Dt. 19:11, 12.)

e. Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness. (Prov. 20:20.)

yet no mischief follow: he shall be surely punished, according as the woman's husband will lay upon him; and he shall pay as the judges determine.

23 And if any mischief follow, then thou shalt give life for life,

24 Eye for [f]eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, 25 Burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.

26 ¶ And if a man smite the eye of his servant, or the eye of his maid, that it perish; he shall let him go free for his eye's sake.

27 And if he smite out his manservant's tooth, or his maidservant's tooth; he shall let him go free for his tooth's sake.

28 ¶ If an ox gore a man or a woman, that they die: then the ox shall be surely stoned, and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the ox shall be quit.

29 But if the ox were wont to push with his horn in time past, and it hath been testified to his owner, and he hath not kept him in, but that he hath killed a man or a woman; the ox shall be stoned, and his owner also shall be put to death.

30 If there be laid on him a sum of money, then he shall give for the ransom of his life whatsoever is laid upon him.

31 Whether he have gored a son, or have gored a daughter, according to this judgment shall it be done unto him.

32 If the ox shall push a manservant or a maidservant; he shall give unto their master thirty shekels of silver, and the ox shall be stoned.

33 ¶ And if a man shall open a pit, or if a man shall dig a pit, and not cover it, and an ox or an ass fall therein;

34 The owner of the pit shall make it good, and give money unto the owner of them; and the dead beast shall be his.

35 ¶ And if one man's ox hurt another's, that he die; then they shall sell the live ox, and divide the money of it; and the dead ox also they shall divide.

36 Or if it be known that the ox hath used to push in time past, and his owner hath not kept him in; he shall surely pay ox for ox; and the dead shall be his own.

CHAPTER 22.

1 Of theft. 5 Of damage. 7 Of trespasses. 14 Of borrowing. 16 Of fornication. 18 Of witchcraft. 19 Of beastiality. 20 Of idolatry. 21 Of strangers, widows, and fatherless. 25 Of usury. 26 Of pledges. 29 Of the first-fruits.

1 If a man shall steal an ox, or a sheep, and kill it, or sell it; he shall restore [1]five oxen for an ox, and [1]four [a]sheep for a sheep.

2 ¶ If a thief be found breaking up, and be smitten that he die, there shall no blood be shed for him.

3 If the sun be risen upon him, there shall be blood shed for him; for he should make full restitution; if he have nothing, then he shall be sold for his theft.

Ch. 22. B. C. 1491.

1. Five oxen and four sheep, a varying penalty apportioned according to the magnitude of the loss.

2. Take her.

3. Thy tears.

4 If the theft be certainly found in his hand alive, whether it be ox, or ass, or sheep; he shall restore double.

5 ¶ If a man shall cause a field or vineyard to be eaten, and shall put in his beast, and shall feed in another man's field; of the best of his own field, and of the best of his own vineyard, shall he make restitution.

6 ¶ If fire break out, and catch in thorns, so that the stacks of corn, or the standing corn, or the field, be consumed therewith; he that kindled the fire shall surely make restitution.

7 ¶ If a man shall deliver unto his neighbour money or stuff to keep, and it be stolen out of the man's house; if the thief be found, let him pay double.

8 If the thief be not found, then the master of the house shall be brought unto the judges, to see whether he have put his hand unto his neighbour's goods.

9 For all manner of trespass, whether it be for ox, for ass, for sheep, for raiment, or for any manner of lost thing, which another challengeth to be his, the cause [b]of both parties shall come before the judges; and whom the judges shall condemn, he shall pay double unto his neighbour.

10 If a man deliver unto his neighbour an ass, or an ox, or a sheep, or any beast, to keep; and it die, or be hurt, or driven away, no man seeing it:

11 Then shall an oath of the Lord be between them both, that he hath not put his hand unto his neighbour's goods; and the owner of it shall accept thereof, and he shall not make it good.

12 And if it be stolen from him, he shall make restitution unto the owner thereof.

13 If it be torn in pieces, then let him bring it for witness, and he shall not make good that which was torn.

14 ¶ And if a man borrow ought of his neighbour, and it be hurt, or die, the owner thereof being not with it, he shall surely make it good.

15 But if the owner thereof be with it, he shall not make it good: if it be an hired thing, it came for his hire.

16 ¶ And if a man entice a maid that is not betrothed, and lie with her, he shall surely [2]endow her to be his wife.

17 If her father utterly refuse to give her unto him, he shall pay money according to the dowry of virgins.

18 ¶ Thou shalt not [c]suffer a witch to live.

19 ¶ Whosoever lieth with a beast shall surely be put to death.

20 ¶ He that sacrificeth unto any god, save unto the Lord only, he shall be utterly destroyed.

21 ¶ Thou shalt neither vex a stranger, nor oppress him: for ye were strangers in the land of Ē′gўpt.

22 ¶ Ye shall not [d]afflict any widow, or fatherless child.

23 If thou afflict them in any wise, and they cry at all unto me, I will surely hear [e]their cry;

---

f. And thine eye shall not pity; but life shall go for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot. (Dt. 19:21.) Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth; but I say unto you, That ye resist not evil; but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. (39). But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Math. 5:38, 39, 44.) Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth; as he hath caused a blemish in a man, so shall it be done to him again. (Lev. 24:20.)

Chapter 22.

a. And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. (Lu. 19:8.)

b. If there be a controversy between men, and they come unto judgment, that the judges may judge them; then they shall justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked. (Dt. 25:1.)

c. There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch. (Dt. 18:10.)

d. He doth execute the judgment of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment. (Dt. 10:18.) Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. (Is. 1:17.)

e. And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them? (Lu. 18:7.) So that they cause the cry of the poor to come unto him, and he heareth the cry of the afflicted. (Job 34:28.) Behold, the hire of the laborers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth; and the cries of them which have reaped, are entered into the ears of the Lord of sabaoth. (Ja. 5:4.)

f. Take thou no usury of him, or increase; but fear thy God; that thy brother may live with thee. (Lev. 25:36.)

g. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.)

h. Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, and say unto them, Ye shall be holy; for I the Lord your God am holy. (Lev. 19:2.)

24 And my wrath shall wax hot, and I will kill you with the sword; and your wives shall be widows, and your children fatherless.

25 ¶ If thou lend money to any of my people that is poor by thee, thou shalt [f]not be to him as an usurer, neither shalt thou lay upon him usury.

26 If thou at all take thy neighbour's raiment to pledge, thou shalt deliver it unto him by that the sun goeth down:

27 For that is his covering only, it is his raiment for his skin: wherein shall he sleep? and it shall come to pass, when he crieth unto me, that I will hear; for I am gracious.

28 ¶ Thou shalt not revile the gods, nor curse the ruler of thy people.

29 ¶ Thou shalt not delay to offer the first [g]of thy ripe fruits, and of thy [h]liquors: the firstborn of thy sons shalt thou give unto me.

30 Likewise shalt thou do with thine oxen, and with thy sheep: seven days it shall be with his dam; on the eighth day thou shalt give it me.

31 ¶ And ye shall be [i]holy men unto me: neither shall ye eat any flesh that is torn of beasts in the field; ye shall cast it to the dogs.

CHAPTER 23.

1 Of slander and false witness. 3, 6 Of justice. 4 Of charitableness. 10 Of the year of rest. 12 Of the sabbath. 13 Of idolatry. 14 Of the three feasts. 20 An Angel is promised.

1 Thou shalt not [1]raise a false report; put not thine hand with the wicked to be an [a]unrighteous witness.

2 ¶ Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil; neither shalt thou speak in a cause to decline after many to wrest judgment:

3 ¶ Neither shalt thou [b]countenance a poor man in his cause.

4 ¶ If [c]thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt surely bring it back to him again.

5 If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee lying under his burden, and wouldest forbear to help him, thou shalt surely help with him.

6 Thou shalt not wrest the judgment of thy poor in his cause.

7 Keep thee far from a false matter; and the innocent and righteous slay thou not: for [d]I will not justify the wicked.

8 ¶ And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous.

9 ¶ Also thou shalt not oppress a stranger: for ye know the heart of a stranger, seeing ye were strangers in the land of Ē′gўpt.

10 And six years thou shalt sow thy land, and shalt gather in the fruits thereof:

Ch. 23. B. C. 1491.

1. Receive, encourage, or recognize false reports.

2. Have regards for, attend to with respect.

3. Commonly known as the passover, instituted at the exodus. It was to last seven days, and was to commence on the 15th day of the first month (Abib), which was at the time that the firstfruits of the barley harvest could be waved as an offering before the Lord.

4. Seven weeks after the feast of unleavened bread or the passover, that is, on the fiftieth day thereafter (Lev. 23:15-21), hence called "Pentecost" (Acts 2:1).

5. Commonly known as the feast of the "Tabernacles" (Lev. 23:34-41; Dt. 16:13-15), which occurred at the end of the harvest.

6. At the feast of unleavened bread, the feast of the harvest, the feast of ingathering.

7. To boil or roast.

8. The angel of Jehovah.

11 But the seventh year thou shalt let it rest and lie still; that the poor of thy people may eat: and what they leave the beasts of the field shall eat. In like manner thou shalt deal with thy vineyard, and with thy oliveyard.

12 Six [e]days thou shalt do thy work, and on the seventh [f]day thou shalt rest: that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy handmaid, and the stranger, may be refreshed.

13 And in all things that I have said unto you be [2]circumspect: and make no mention of the name of [g]other gods, neither let it be heard out of thy mouth.

14 ¶ Three times thou shalt keep a feast unto me in the year.

15 Thou shalt keep the feast of [3]unleavened bread: (thou shalt eat unleavened bread seven days, as I commanded thee, in the time appointed of the month Ā′bĭb; for in it thou camest out from Ē′gўpt: and none shall appear before me empty:)

16 And the feast [4]of harvest, the firstfruits of thy labours, which thou hast sown in the field: and the feast of [5]ingathering, which is in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labours out of the field.

17 Three [6]times in the year all thy males shall appear before the Lord God.

18 Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread; neither shall the fat of my sacrifice remain until the morning.

19 The first of the [h]firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not [7]seethe a kid in his mother's milk.

20 ¶ Behold, I send an [8]Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared.

21 Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke [i]him not; for he will [j]not pardon your transgressions: for my name is in him.

22 But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then [k]I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an adversary unto thine adversaries.

23 For mine Angel [l]shall go before thee, and bring thee in unto the Ām′or-ītes, and the Hĭt′tītes, and the Pĕr′ĭz-zītes, and the Cā′năan-ītes, the Hī′vītes, and the Jĕb′u-sītes: and I will cut them off.

24 Thou shalt not [g]bow down to their gods, nor serve them, nor do after their works: but thou shalt utterly overthrow them, and quite break down their images.

25 And ye shall [m]serve the Lord your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take [n]sickness away from the midst of thee.

26 ¶ There shall nothing cast their young,

Chapter 23.

a. Whoso privily slandereth his neighbor, him will I cut off; him that hath an high look and a proud heart will not I suffer. (Ps. 101:5.) He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a slander, is a fool. (Prov. 10:18.) A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall not escape. (Prov. 19:5.)

b. Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment; thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty; but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor. (Lev. 19:15.)

c. If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink. (Prov. 25:21.) See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men. (I Thes. 5:15.) But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Math. 5:44.)

d. For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness. (Rom. 1:18.) And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent. (Acts 17:30.)

h. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.)

i. And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. (Eph. 4:30.) But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit; therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them. (Is. 63:10.) And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body. (Rom. 8:23.)

j. And Joshua said unto the people, Ye cannot serve the Lord; for he is an holy God, he is a jealous God; he will not forgive your transgressions nor your sins. (Josh. 24:19.) If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death; I do not say that he shall pray for it. (I Jno. 5:16.)

k. And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee; and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. (Gen. 12:3.)

l. The Lord God of heaven, which took me from my father's house, and from the land of my kindred, and which spake unto me, and that sware unto me, saying, Unto thy seed will I give this land; he shall send his angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife unto my son from thence (7). And he said unto me, The Lord, before whom I walk, will send his angel with thee, and prosper thy way. (Gen. 24:7, 40.) And when we cried unto the Lord, he heard our voice, and sent an angel, and hath brought us forth out of Egypt. (Num. 20:16.) The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.) For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone. (Ps. 91:11, 12.) Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation? (Heb. 1:14.)

m. And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul. (Dt. 10:12.) Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan, for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt 27 I will send my [o]fear before thee, and will [9]destroy all the people to whom thou shalt come, and I will make all thine enemies turn their backs unto thee.

28 And I will send hornets before thee, which shall drive out the Hī'vīte, the Cā'năanīte, and the Hĭt'tīte, from before thee.

29 I will not drive them out from before thee in one year; lest the land become desolate, and the beast of the field multiply against thee.

30 By little and little I will drive them out from before thee, until thou be increased, and inherit the land.

31 And I will set thy bounds from the Red sea even unto the sea of the [10]Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and from the desert unto the river: for I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand; and thou shalt drive them out before thee.

32 Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods.

33 They shall not dwell [11]in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me: for if thou serve their gods, it will surely be a snare unto thee.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Moses is called up into the mountain. 4 Moses buildeth an altar, and twelve pillars. 6 He sprinkleth the blood of the covenant. 9 The glory of God appeareth. 14 Aaron and Hur have the charge of the people. 15 Moses goeth into the mountain.

1 And he said unto [1]Mō'şeş, come up unto the Lord, thou, and Aâr'on, Nā'dăb, and A-bī'hū, and seventy of the elders of Ĭs'ra-el; and worship ye afar off.

2 And Mō'şeş alone shall come near the Lord: but they shall not come nigh; neither shall the people go up with him.

3 ¶ And Mō'şeş came and told the people all the words of the Lord, and all the judgments: and all the people answered with one voice, and said, All the words which the Lord hath said will we do.

4 And Mō'şeş wrote all the words of the Lord, and rose up early in the morning, and builded an altar under the hill, and twelve pillars, according to the twelve tribes of Ĭs'ra-el.

5 And he sent young men of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, which offered burnt offerings, and sacrificed peace offerings of oxen unto the Lord.

6 And Mō'şeş took half of the blood, and put it in basons; and half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar.

7 And he took the book of the covenant, and [2]read in the audience of the people: and they said, All that the Lord hath said will we do, and be obedient.

8 And Mō'şeş took the blood, and sprinkled it on the people, and said, Behold [a]the blood of the covenant, which the Lord hath made with you concerning all these words.

NOTE.—Jehovah has set his people free from the yoke of bondage, has exhibited himself to them, has given them the ten words of the covenant or commandments, as a matchless body of laws to regulate the social and civil affairs of Israel. The next step now is to establish a system of worship that will centralize the religious interests of the people and develop by sacred services and symbols the knowledge and fear of Jehovah. Therefore the plan of the sanctuary which is to serve so lofty a purpose has its origin in the divine mind. Its purpose is a sacred and special meeting place for Jehovah and his people.

1. All contributions were to be willing offerings, indicating that God builds his house of willing souls.

9 ¶ Then went up Mō'şeş, and Aâr'on, Nā'dăb, and A-bī'hū, and seventy of the elders of Ĭs'ra-el:

10 And they saw the God of Ĭs'ra-el: and there was under his feet as it were a paved work of a sapphire stone, and as it were the body of heaven in his clearness.

11 And upon the nobles of the children of Ĭs'ra-el he laid not his hand: also they saw God, and did eat and drink.

12 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Come up to me into the mount, and be there: and I will give thee [b]tables of stone, and a law, and commandments which I have written; that thou mayest teach them.

13 And Mō'şeş rose up, and his minister Jŏsh'u-a: and Mō'şeş went up into the mount of God.

14 And he said unto the elders, Tarry ye here for us, until we come again unto you: and, behold, Aâr'on and Hûr are with you: if any man have any matters to do, let him come unto them.

15 And Mō'şeş went up into the mount, and [c]a cloud covered the mount.

16 And the glory of the Lord abode upon mount Sī'nāi, and the cloud covered it six days: and the seventh day he called unto Mō'şeş out of the midst of the cloud.

17 And the sight of the glory of the Lord was like devouring fire on the top of the mount in the eyes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

18 And Mō'şeş went into the midst of the cloud, and gat him up into the mount: and Mō'şeş was in the mount [d]forty days and forty nights.

CHAPTER 25.

1 What the Israelites must offer for the making of the tabernacle. 10 The form of the ark. 17 The mercy seat, with the cherubim. 23 The table, with the furniture thereof. 31 The candlestick, with the instruments thereof.

1 And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they bring me an offering: of every man that giveth it [1]willingly [a]with his heart ye shall take my offering.

3 And this is the offering which ye shall take of them; gold, and silver, and brass,

4 And blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair,

5 And rams' skins dyed red, and badgers' skins, and shittim wood,

6 Oil for the light, spices for anointing oil, and for sweet incense,

7 Onyx stones, and stones to be set in the ephod, and in the breastplate.

8 And let them make me a sanctuary; that [b]I may dwell among them.

9 According to all that I shew thee, after the pattern of the tabernacle, and the pattern of all the instruments thereof, even so shall ye make it.

thou serve. (Math. 4:10.) He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God. (Mic. 6:8.) Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. (Mat. 22:37.)

n. And the Lord will take away from thee all sickness, and will put none of the evil diseases of Egypt, which thou knowest, upon thee; but will lay them upon all them that hate thee. (Dt. 7:15.)

o. And they journeyed; and the terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jacob. (Gen. 35:5.) This day will I begin to put the dread of thee and the fear of thee upon the nations that are under the whole heaven, who shall hear report of thee, and shall tremble, and be in anguish because of thee. (Dt. 2:25.)

Chapter 24.

a. Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 1:2.)

b. And Moses turned, and went down from the mount, and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand, the tables were written on both their sides, on the one side and on the other were they written. And the tables were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, graven upon the tables. (Ex. 32:15, 16.)

c. While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. (Math. 17:5.)

d. When I was gone up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant which the Lord made with you, then I abode in the mount forty days and forty nights; I neither did eat bread nor drink water. (Dt. 9:9.)

Chapter 25.

a. Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver. (II Cor. 9:7.) Take ye from among you an offering unto the Lord; whosoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it, an offering of the Lord; gold, and silver, and brass. (Ex. 35:5.)

b. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. (Rev. 21:3.) And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (II Cor. 6:16.)

10 ¶ And they shall make an [2]ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof.

11 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, within and without shalt thou overlay it, and shalt make upon it a [3]crown of gold round about.

12 And thou shalt cast four rings of gold for it, and put them in the four corners thereof; and two rings shall be in the one side of it, and two rings in the other side of it.

13 And thou shalt make staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold.

14 And thou shalt put the staves into the rings by the sides of the ark, that the ark may be borne with them.

15 The staves shall be in the rings of the ark: they shall not be taken from it.

16 And thou shalt put [c]into the ark the [4]testimony which I shall give thee.

17 And thou shalt make a [5]mercy seat of pure gold: two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof.

18 And thou shalt make two [6]cherubim of gold, of beaten work shalt thou make them, in the two ends of the mercy seat.

19 And make one cherub on the one end, and the other cherub on the other end: even of the mercy seat shall ye make the cherubim on the two ends thereof.

20 And the cherubim shall stretch forth their wings on high, covering the mercy [5]seat with their wings, and their faces shall look one to another; toward the mercy seat shall the faces of the [6]cherubim be.

21 And thou shalt put the mercy seat above upon the ark; and in the ark thou shalt put the testimony that I shall give thee.

22 And there [d]I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the mercy seat, from between the two [d]cherubim which are upon the ark of the testimony, of all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Is'ra-el.

23 ¶ Thou shalt also make a table of shittim wood: two cubits shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof.

24 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, and make thereto a crown of gold round about.

25 And thou shalt make unto it a border of an hand breadth round about, and thou shalt make a golden crown to the border thereof round about.

26 And thou shalt make for it four rings of gold, and put the rings in the four corners that are on the four feet thereof.

27 Over against the border shall the rings be for places of the staves to bear the table.

28 And thou shalt make the staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, that the table may be borne with them.

29 And thou shalt make [e]the dishes thereof, and spoons thereof, and covers thereof, and bowls thereof, to cover withal: of pure gold shalt thou make them.

30 And thou shalt set upon the table shewbread [f]before me alway.

31 ¶ And thou shalt make a candlestick of pure gold: of beaten work shall the candlestick be made: his shaft, and his branches, his bowls, his knops, and his flowers, shall be of the same.

32 And six branches shall come out of the sides of it; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side, and three branches of the candlestick out of the other side:

33 Three bowls made like unto almonds, with a [7]knop and a flower in one branch; and three bowls made like almonds in the other branch, with a knop and a flower: so in the six branches that come out of the candlestick.

34 And in the candlestick shall be four bowls made like unto almonds, with their knops and their flowers.

35 And there shall be a [7]knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, according to the six branches that proceed out of the candlestick.

36 Their [7]knops and their branches shall be of the same: all it shall be one beaten work of pure gold.

37 And thou shalt make the seven lamps thereof: and they shall [g]light the lamps thereof, that they may give light over against it.

38 And the tongs thereof, and the snuff dishes thereof, shall be of pure gold.

39 Of a talent of pure gold shall he make it, with all these vessels.

40 And look that thou [h]make them after their pattern, which was shewed thee in the mount.

c. And I will write on the tables the words that were in the first tables which thou brakest, and thou shalt put them in the ark. (Dt. 10:2.) Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant. (Heb. 9:4.)

d. And the Lord said unto Moses, Speak unto Aaron thy brother that he come not at all times into the holy place within the veil before the mercy seat, which is upon the ark, that he die not; for I will appear in the cloud upon the mercy seat. (Lev. 16:2.) And thou shalt lay them up in the tabernacle of the congregation before the testimony, where I will meet with you. (Num. 17:4.) For he shall have judgment without mercy that hath shown no mercy; and mercy rejoiceth against judgment. (Ja. 2:13.) And when Moses was gone into the tabernacle of the congregation to speak with him, then he heard the voice of one speaking unto him from off the mercy seat that was upon the ark of testimony, from between the two cherubim, and he spake unto him. (Num. 7:89.) And Hezekiah prayed before the Lord, and said, O Lord God of Israel, which dwellest between the cherubim, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; thou hast made heaven and earth. (II Ks. 19:15.) Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadeth Joseph like a flock; thou that dwellest between the cherubim, shine forth. (Ps. 80:1.)

e. And upon the table of show-bread they shall spread a cloth of blue, and put thereon the dishes, and the spoons, and the bowls, and covers to cover withal; and the continual bread shall be thereon. (Num. 4:7.)

f. And thou shalt take fine flour, and bake 12 cakes thereof; two-tenth deals shall be in one cake. And thou shalt set them in two rows, six on a row, upon the pure table before the Lord. (Lev. 24:5, 6.)

g. And when Aaron lighteth the lamps at even, he shall burn incense upon it; a perpetual incense before the Lord throughout your generations. (Ex. 30:8.) Without the veil of the testimony, in the tabernacle of the congregation, shall Aaron order it from the evening unto the morning before the Lord continually: it shall be a statute forever in your generations. He shall order the lamps upon the pure candle-stick before the Lord continually. (Lev. 24:3, 4.) And they burn unto the Lord every morning and every evening burnt sacrifices and sweet incense; the show-bread also set they in order upon the pure table; and the candle-stick of gold with the lamps thereof, to burn every evening; for we keep the charge of the Lord our God; but ye have forsaken him. (II Chr. 13:11.)

h. And thou shalt rear up the tabernacle according to the fashion thereof, which was shown thee in the mount. (Ex. 26:30.) And this work of the candle-stick was of beaten gold, unto the shaft thereof, unto the flowers thereof, was beaten work; according unto the pattern which the Lord had shown Moses, so he made the candle-stick. (Num. 8:4.) Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen. (Acts 7:44.) Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle; for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern shown to thee in the mount. (Heb. 8:5.)

Chapter 26.

a. And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. (Rev. 21:3.)

tain four cubits: and every one of the curtains shall have one measure.

3 The five curtains shall be coupled [b]together one to another; and other five curtains shall be coupled one to another.

4 And thou shalt make loops of blue upon the edge of the one curtain from the selvedge in the coupling; and likewise shalt thou make in the uttermost edge of another curtain, in the coupling of the second.

5 Fifty loops shalt thou make in the one curtain, and fifty loops shalt thou make in the edge of the curtain that is in the coupling of the second; that the loops may take hold one of another.

6 And thou shalt make fifty [3]taches of gold, and couple the curtains together with the taches: and it shall be one tabernacle.

7 ¶ And thou shalt make curtains of goats' hair to be a covering upon the tabernacle: eleven curtains shalt thou make.

8 The length of one curtain shall be thirty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: and the eleven curtains shall be all of one measure.

9 And thou shalt couple five [b]curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves, and shalt double the sixth curtain in the forefront of the tabernacle.

10 And thou shalt make [c]fifty loops on the edge of the one curtain that is outmost in the coupling, and fifty loops in the edge of the curtain which coupleth the second.

11 And thou shalt make fifty [3]taches of brass, and put the taches into the loops, and couple the tent together, that it may be one.

12 And the remnant that remaineth of the curtains of the tent, the half curtain that remaineth, shall hang over the backside of the tabernacle.

13 And a cubit on the one side, and a cubit on the other side of that which remaineth in the length of the curtains of the tent, it shall hang over the sides of the tabernacle on this side and on that side, to cover it.

14 And thou shalt make a covering for the tent of rams' skins dyed red, and a covering above of badgers' skins.

15 ¶ And thou shalt make boards for the tabernacle of shittim wood standing up.

16 Ten cubits shall be the length of a board, and a cubit and a half shall be the breadth of one board.

17 Two [4]tenons shall there be in one board, set in order one against another: thus shalt thou make for all the boards of the tabernacle.

18 And thou shalt make the boards for the tabernacle, twenty boards on the south side southward.

19 And thou shalt make forty sockets of silver under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two [4]tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two [4]tenons.

20 And for the second side of the tabernacle on the north side there shall be twenty boards:

21 And their forty sockets of silver; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

22 And for the sides of the tabernacle westward thou shalt make six boards.

23 And two boards shalt thou make for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides.

24 And they shall be [b]coupled together beneath, and they shall be coupled together above the head of it unto one ring: thus shall it be for them both; they shall be for the two corners.

25 And they shall be eight boards, and their sockets of silver, sixteen sockets; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

26 ¶ And thou shalt make bars of shittim wood; five for the boards of the one side of the tabernacle, 27 And five bars for the boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the side of the tabernacle, for the two sides westward.

28 And the middle bar in the midst of the boards shall reach from end to end.

29 And thou shalt overlay the boards with gold, and make their rings of gold for places for the bars: and thou shalt overlay the bars with gold.

30 And thou shalt rear up the tabernacle according to the fashion thereof which was shewed thee in the mount.

31 ¶ And thou shalt make a [d]vail [5]of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen of cunning work: with cherubim shall it be made:

32 And thou shalt hang it upon four pillars of shittim wood overlaid with gold: their hooks shall be of gold, upon the four sockets of silver.

33 ¶ And thou shalt hang up the vail under the [3]taches, that thou mayest bring in thither within the vail the ark of the testimony: and the vail [5]shall divide unto you between [e]the holy place and the most holy.

34 And thou shalt [f]put the mercy seat upon the ark of the testimony in the most holy place.

35 And thou shalt set the table without the vail, and the candlestick over against the table on the side of the tabernacle toward the south: and thou shalt put the table on the north side.

36 And thou shalt make an hanging for the door of the tent, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine [1]twined linen, wrought with needlework.

37 And thou shalt make for the hanging five pillars of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, and their hooks shall be of gold: and thou shalt cast five sockets of brass for them.

3. Clasps, hooks or hands.

4. Small projections from the bottom of each board to set in the sockets.

5. A dividing curtain or division.

Ch. 27. B. C. 1491.

1. About 18 inches.

2. Similar to horns of cattle, a projection.

CHAPTER 27.

1 The altar of burnt offering, with the vessels thereof. 9 The court of the tabernacle inclosed with hangings and pillars. 18 The measure of the court. 20 The oil for the lamp.

1 And thou shalt make an altar of shittim wood, five cubits long, and five [1]cubits broad; the altar shall be foursquare: and the height thereof shall be three cubits.

2 And thou shalt make the [2]horns of it upon the four corners thereof: his horns shall be of the same: and thou shalt overlay it with brass.

b. Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit (4). And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord (5). And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all (6). For as the body is one and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ. (I Cor. 12:4-6, 12.)

d. And the Lord said unto Moses, Speak unto Aaron thy brother, that he come not at all times into the holy place within the vail before the mercy seat, which is upon the ark, that he die not; for I will appear in the cloud upon the mercy seat. (Lev. 16:2.) And he made the vail of blue, and purple, and crimson, and fine linen, and wrought cherubim thereon. (II Chr. 3:14.) And the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom. (Mk. 15:38.) And after the second vail, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all. (Heb. 9:3.)

e. And the Lord said unto Moses, Speak unto Aaron thy brother, that he come not at all times into the holy place within the vail before the mercy seat, which is upon the ark, that he die not. For I will appear in the cloud upon the mercy seat. (Lev. 16:2.) For there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candle-stick, and the table, and the showbread; which is called the sanctuary. And after the second vail, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all. (Heb. 9:2, 3.)

f. And thou shalt put the mercy seat above upon the ark; and in the ark thou shalt put the testimony that I shall give thee. (Ex. 25:21.) And he took and put the testimony into the ark, and set the staves on the ark, and put the mercy seat above upon the ark. (Ex. 40:20.) And over it the cherubim of glory, shadowing the mercy seat of which we cannot now speak particularly. (Heb. 9:5.)

3 And thou shalt make his pans to receive his ashes, and his shovels, and his basons, and his fleshhooks, and his firepans: all the vessels thereof thou shalt make of brass.

4 And thou shalt make for it a [3]grate of network of brass; and upon the net shalt thou make four brasen rings in the four corners thereof.

5 And thou shalt put it under the [4]compass of the altar beneath, that the net may be even to the midst of the altar.

6 And thou shalt make staves for the altar, staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with brass.

7 And the staves shall be put into the rings, and the staves shall be upon the two sides of the altar, to bear it.

8 Hollow with boards shalt thou make it: as [5]it was shewed thee in the mount, so shall they make it.

9 ¶ And thou [a]shalt make the court of the tabernacle: for the south side southward there shall be hangings for the court of fine twined linen of an hundred [1]cubits long for one side:

10 And the twenty pillars thereof and their twenty sockets shall be of brass; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets shall be of silver.

11 And likewise for the north side in length there shall be hangings of an hundred [1]cubits long, and his twenty pillars and their twenty sockets of brass; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver.

12 ¶ And for the breadth of the court on the west side shall be hangings of fifty [1]cubits: their pillars ten, and their sockets ten.

13 And the breadth of the court on the east side eastward shall be fifty [1]cubits.

14 The hangings of one side of the gate shall be fifteen [1]cubits: their pillars three, and their sockets three.

15 And on the other side shall be hangings fifteen cubits: their pillars three, and their sockets three.

16 ¶ And for the gate of the court shall be an hanging of twenty [1]cubits, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, wrought with needlework: and their pillars shall be four, and their sockets four.

17 All the pillars round about the court shall be filleted with silver; their hooks shall be of silver, and their sockets of brass.

18 ¶ The length of the court shall be an hundred [1]cubits, and the breadth fifty every where, and the height five cubits of fine twined linen, and their sockets of brass.

19 All the vessels of the tabernacle in all the service thereof, and all the [6]pins thereof, and all the pins of the court, shall be of brass.

20 ¶ And thou shalt command the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they bring thee pure oil olive beaten [7]for the light, to cause the lamp [8]to burn always.

21 In the tabernacle of the congregation without the [9]vail, which is before the testimony, [b]Aâr'on and his sons shall order it from evening to morning before the Lord: it shall [c]be a statute for ever unto their generations on the behalf of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

3. A sieve.

4. A rim or top margin.

5. As he showed thee.

6. Nails.

7. Drippings from crushed olives.

8. To ascend.

9. The hangings or partitions.

5. Settings of gold.

CHAPTER 28.

1 Aaron and his sons are set apart for the priest's office. 6 The ephod. 15 The breastplate with twelve precious stones. 30 The Urim and Thummim. 31 The robe of the ephod. 36 The plate of the mitre. 39 The embroidered coat. 40 The garments for Aaron's sons.

1 And take thou unto thee [1]Aâr'on thy brother, and his sons with him, from among the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office, even Aâr'on, Nā'dăb and A-bī'hū, Ĕ-le-ā'zar and Ĭth'a-mär, Aâr'on's sons.

2 And thou shalt [a]make [2]holy garments for [1]Aâr'on thy brother for glory and for beauty.

3 And thou shalt speak unto all that are wise hearted, [b]whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they may make [1]Aâr'on's garments to consecrate him, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.

4 And these are the garments which they shall make; a breastplate, and an ephod, and a robe, and a broidered coat, a mitre, and a girdle: and they shall make holy garments for [1]Aâr'on thy brother, and his sons, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.

5 And they shall take gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen.

6 ¶ And they shall make the ephod of gold, of blue, and of purple, of scarlet, and fine twined linen, with cunning work.

7 It shall have the two shoulderpieces thereof joined at the two edges thereof; and so it shall be joined together.

8 And the [3]curious girdle of the ephod, which is upon it, shall be of the same, according to the work thereof; even of gold, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 And thou shalt take two onyx stones, and [4]grave on them the names of the children of Ĭs'ra-el:

10 Six of their names on one stone, and the other six names of the rest on the other stone, according to their birth.

11 With the work of an engraver in stone, like the engravings of a signet, shalt thou engrave the two stones with the names of the children of Ĭs'ra-el: thou shalt make them to be set in [5]ouches of gold.

12 And thou shalt put the two stones upon the shoulders of the ephod for stones of memorial unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el: and [1]Aâr'on shall bear their names before the Lord upon his two shoulders [c]for a memorial.

13 ¶ And thou shalt make [5]ouches of gold;

14 And two chains of pure gold at the ends; of wreathen work shalt thou make them, and fasten the wreathen chains to the [5]ouches.

15 ¶ And thou shalt make the breastplate of

Chapter 27.

a. And he made the court: on the south side southward the hangings of the court were of fine twined linen, an hundred cubits. (Ex. 38:9.) Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name. (Ps. 100:4.)

b. And ere the lamp of God went out in the temple of the Lord, where the ark of God was, and Samuel was laid down to sleep. (I Sam. 3:3.) And they burn unto the Lord every morning and every evening burnt sacrifices and sweet incense; the showbread also set they in order upon the pure table; and the candle-stick of gold with the lamps thereof, to burn every evening; for we keep the charge of the Lord our God; but ye have forsaken him. (II Chr. 13:11.)

c. It shall be a perpetual statute for your generations throughout all your dwellings, that ye eat neither fat nor blood. (Lev. 3:17.) And it was so from that day forward, that he made it a statute and an ordinance for Israel unto this day. (I Sam. 30:25.)

a. And the cloths of service; and the holy garments of Aaron the priest and the garments of his sons, to minister in the priest's office. (Ex. 31:10.) And he put upon him the coat, and girded him with the girdle, and clothed him with a robe, and put the ephod upon him, and he girded him with the curious girdle of the ephod, and bound it unto him therewith (7). And Moses took of the anointing oil, and of the blood which was upon the altar, and sprinkled it upon Aaron, and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon his sons' garments with him; and sanctified Aaron and his garments, and his sons' garments with him. (Lev. 8:7, 30.) And strip Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son; and Aaron shall be gathered unto his people and shall die there (26). And Moses stripped Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son; and Aaron died there in the top of the mount; and Moses and Eleazar came down from the mount. (Num. 20:26, 28.)

b. And Moses said unto the children of Israel, See, the Lord hath called by name Bezaleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah; and he hath filled him with the spirit of God, and wisdom, in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship. (Ex. 35:30, 31.) Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? Doth he open and break the clods of his ground? (24). For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him. (Is. 28:24, 26.)

c. Then ye shall answer them, That the waters of Jordan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the Lord; when it passed over Jordan, the waters of Jordan were cut off: and these stones shall be for a memorial unto the children of Israel for ever. (Josh. 4:7.) And the crown shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of the Lord. (Zech. 6:14.)

[c]judgment with [7]cunning work; after the work of the ephod thou shalt make it; of gold, of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine twined linen, shalt thou make it.

16 Foursquare it shall be being doubled; a span shall be the length thereof, and a [8]span shall be the breadth thereof.

17 And thou shalt set in it settings of stones, even four rows of stones: the first row shall be a sardius, a topaz, and a carbuncle: this shall be the first row.

18 And the second row shall be an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond.

19 And the third row a ligure, an agate, and an amethyst.

20 And the fourth row a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper: they shall be set in gold in their inclosings.

21 And the stones shall be with the names of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet; every one with his name shall they be according to the twelve tribes.

22 ¶ And thou shalt make upon the breastplate chains at the ends of wreathen work of pure gold.

23 And thou shalt make upon the breastplate two rings of gold, and shalt put the two rings on the two ends of the breastplate.

24 And thou shalt put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings which are on the ends of the breastplate.

25 And the other two ends of the two wreathen chains thou shalt fasten in the two [5]ouches, and put them on the shoulderpieces of the ephod before it.

26 ¶ And thou shalt make two rings of gold, and thou shalt put them upon the two ends of the breastplate in the border thereof, which is in the side of the ephod inward.

27 And two other rings of gold thou shalt make, and shalt put them on the two sides of the ephod underneath, toward the forepart thereof, over against the other coupling thereof, above the curious girdle of the ephod.

28 And they shall bind the breastplate by the rings thereof unto the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, that it may be above the curious girdle of the ephod, and that the breastplate be not loosed from the ephod.

29 And [1]Aâr'on shall bear the names of the children of Ĭs'ra-el in the [d]breastplate of judgment upon his heart, when he goeth in unto the holy place, for a [e]memorial before the Lord continually.

30 ¶ And thou shalt put in the breastplate of judgment the [9]Ū'rim and the [9]Thŭm'mim; and they shall be upon Aâr'on's heart, when he goeth in before the Lord: and [1]Aâr'on shall bear the judgment of the children of Ĭs'ra-el upon his heart before the Lord continually.

31 ¶ And thou shalt make the robe of the ephod all of blue.

32 And there shall be an hole in the top of it, in the midst thereof: it shall have a binding of woven work round about the hole of it, as it were the hole of an [10]habergeon, that it be not rent.

33 ¶ And beneath upon the hem of it thou shalt make pomegranates of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, round about the hem thereof; and bells of gold between them round about:

34 A golden bell and a pomegranate, a golden bell and a pomegranate, upon the hem of the robe round about.

35 And it shall be upon [1]Aâr'on to minister: and his sound shall be heard when he goeth in unto the holy place before the Lord, and when he cometh out, that he die not.

36 ¶ And [e]thou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and grave upon it, like the engravings of a signet, HOLINESS TO THE LORD.

37 And thou shalt put it on a blue lace, that it may be upon the [11]mitre; upon the forefront of the mitre it shall be.

38 And it shall be upon [1]Aâr'on's forehead, that Aâr'on may [d]bear the iniquity of the holy things, which the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall hallow in all their holy gifts; and it shall be always upon his forehead, that they may be accepted before the Lord.

39 ¶ And thou shalt embroider the coat of fine linen, and thou shalt make the mitre of fine linen, and thou shalt make the girdle of needlework.

40 ¶ And for [1]Aâr'on's sons thou shalt make coats, and thou shalt make for them girdles, and bonnets shalt thou make for them, for glory and for beauty.

41 And thou shalt put them upon [1]Aâr'on thy brother, and his sons with him; and shalt anoint them, and consecrate them, and sanctify them, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office.

42 And thou shalt make them linen breeches to cover their nakedness; from the loins even unto the thighs they shall reach:

43 And they shall be upon [1]Aâr'on, and upon his sons, when they come in unto the tabernacle of the congregation, or when they come near unto the altar to minister in the holy place; that they bear not iniquity, and die: it shall be a statute for ever unto him and his seed after him.

CHAPTER 29.

1 The sacrifice and ceremonies of consecrating the priests. 38 The continual burnt offering. 45 God's promise to dwell among the children of Israel.

1 And this is the thing that thou shalt do unto them to hallow them, to minister unto me in the priest's office: Take one young bullock, and two rams without blemish,

2 And unleavened [1]bread, and cakes unleavened tempered with oil, and wafers unleavened anointed with oil: of wheaten flour shalt thou make them.

3 And thou shalt put them into one basket, and bring them in the basket, with the bullock and the two rams.

4 And [2]Aâr'on and his sons thou shalt bring unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shalt [a]wash them with water.

5 And thou shalt take the garments, and put upon [1]Aâr'on the coat, and the robe of the ephod, and the ephod, and the breastplate, and gird him with the curious girdle of the ephod:

6 And thou shalt put the [3]mitre upon his head, and put the holy crown upon the mitre.

6. Called breastplate of judgment from its holding the mysterious Urim and Thummim, by which the judgments of God were sometimes ascertained.

7. Artistic.

8. Half a cubit or about 9 inches.

9. Lights and perfections. Hebrew scholars generally agree that the Urim and Thummim were small images (stones) granted to the Israelites as a substitute for the images they had insisted on retaining for the purpose of divination, the Divine wisdom thus accommodating itself to the weakness and superstitions of the people; but, like all other idolatrous forms and practices this also passed away as the word of prophecy arose and established itself in Israel.

10. Military coat of mail.

11. Official cap or headwear of king or priest.

Ch. 29. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—Ch. 29 is devoted to the consecration of Aaron and his sons to the priesthood. A full and complete record of the solemn manner in which Aaron and his sons are set apart to the priesthood is here given.

1. Made without yeast.

2. For historical account of Aaron see 21, ch. 4.

3. Cap or headwear of priest.

d. Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as the seal upon thine arm; for love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave; the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame. (Song 8:6.) Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me. (Is. 49:15, 16.) For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us (24). So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. (Heb. 9:24, 28.)

e. And they made the plate of the holy crown of pure gold, and wrote upon it in a writing, like to the engravings of a signet, HOLINESS TO THE LORD. (Ex. 39:30.) Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; bring an offering, and come before him; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness. (I Chr. 16:29.) Thy testimonies are very sure; holiness becometh thine house, O Lord, for ever. (Ps. 93:5.) For such an High Priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens. (Heb. 7:26.)

Chapter 29.

a. Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.) Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean; from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. (Ez. 36:25.) Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. (II Cor. 7:1.)

7 Then shalt thou take the anointing oil, and pour it upon his head, and anoint him.
8 And thou shalt bring his sons, and put coats upon them.
9 And thou shalt gird them with girdles, [2]Aâr'on and his sons, and put the bonnets on them: and the priest's office shall be their's for a perpetual statute: and thou shalt consecrate Aâr'on and his sons.
10 And thou shalt cause a bullock to be brought before the tabernacle of the congre[2]gation: and [2]Aâr'on and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the bullock.
11 And thou shalt kill the bullock before the Lord, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
12 And thou shalt take of the blood of the bullock, and put it upon the horns of the altar with thy finger, and pour all the blood beside the bottom of the altar.
13 And thou shalt take all the fat that covereth the inwards, and the [4]caul that is above the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and burn them upon the altar.
14 But the flesh of the bullock, and his skin, and his dung, shalt thou burn with fire without the camp: it is a sin offering.
15 ¶ Thou shalt also take one ram; and [2]Aâr'on and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the ram.
16 And thou shalt slay the ram, and thou shalt take his blood, and sprinkle it round about upon the altar.
17 And thou shalt cut the ram in pieces, and wash the inwards of him, and his legs, and put them unto his pieces, and [5]unto his head.
18 And thou shalt burn the whole ram upon the altar: it is a [b]burnt offering unto the Lord: it is a sweet [6]savour, an offering made by fire unto the Lord.
19 ¶ And thou shalt take the other ram; and [2]Aâr'on and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the ram.
20 Then shalt thou kill the ram, and take of his blood, and put it upon the tip of the right ear of Aâr'on, and upon the tip of the right ear of his sons, and upon the thumb of their right hand, and upon the great toe of their right foot, and sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.
21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is upon the altar, and of the anointing oil, and sprinkle it upon Aâr'on, and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon the garments of his sons with him: and he shall be hallowed, and his garments, and his sons, and his sons' garments with him.
22 Also thou shalt take of the ram the fat and the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards, and the [4]caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder; for it is a ram of consecration:
23 And one loaf of bread, and one cake of oiled bread, and one wafer out of the basket of the [1]unleavened bread that is before the Lord:
24 And thou shalt put all in the hands of [2]Aâr'on, and in the hands of his sons; and shalt wave them for a wave [c]offering before the Lord.
25 And thou shalt receive them of their hands, and burn them upon the altar for a burnt [b]offering, for a sweet [6]savour before the Lord: it is an offering made by fire unto the Lord.
26 And thou shalt take the breast of the ram of Aâr'on's consecration, and wave it for a wave [7c]offering before the Lord: and it shall be thy part.
27 And thou shalt sanctify the breast of the wave [7]offering, and the shoulder of the heave [8]offering, which is waved, and which is heaved up, of the ram of the consecration, even of that which is for Aâr'on, and of that which is for his sons:
28 And it shall be [2]Aâr'on's and his sons' by a statute for ever from the children of Is'ra-el: for it is an heave offering: and it shall be an heave [8]offering from the children of Is'ra-el of the sacrifice of their peace offerings, even their heave offering unto the Lord.
29 ¶ And the holy garments of [2]Aâr'on shall be his sons' after him, to be anointed therein, and to be consecrated in them.
30 And that son that is priest in his stead shall put them on seven days, when he cometh into the tabernacle of the congregation to minister in the holy place.
31 ¶ And thou shalt take the ram of the consecration, and [11]seethe his flesh in the holy place.
32 And [2]Aâr'on and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram, and the bread that is in the basket, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
33 And [d]they shall eat those things wherewith the [e]atonement was made, to consecrate and to sanctify them: but [11]a stranger shall not eat thereof, because they are holy.
34 And if ought of the flesh of the consecrations, or of the bread, remain unto the morning, then thou shalt burn the remainder with fire: it shall not be eaten, because it is holy.
35 And thus shalt thou do unto Aâr'on, and to his sons, according to all things which I have commanded thee: seven days shalt thou consecrate them.
36 And thou shalt offer every day a bullock for a sin offering for [e]atonement: and thou shalt cleanse the altar, when thou hast made an atonement for it, and thou shalt anoint it, to sanctify it.
37 Seven days thou shalt make an [e]atonement for the altar; [f]and sanctify it; and it shall be an altar most holy: whatsoever toucheth the altar shall be holy.
38 ¶ Now this is that which thou shalt offer

4. Lobe or flap of the liver.

5. Upon.

6. Scent or smell.

7. Official undulations of sacrificial offerings. The wave offering was moved backward and forward in the line of the altar similar to that of a saw. The motion forward was a declaration in action that the offering belonged to Jehovah, while the movement back again denoted that God on his part returned the gift and assigned it as his own present to the priest. (H.)

8. Holding upward, thus presenting to God. The breast in the wave offering fell to Aaron and his sons. The heave shoulder to the officiating priest.

10. Boil or roast.

11. Every one not a Levite.

b. And he shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be accepted for him to make atonement for him. (Lev. 1:4.) Command Aaron and his sons, saying, This is the law of the burnt offering; it is the burnt offering, because of the burning upon the altar all night unto the morning, and the fire of the altar shall be burning in it (9). The fire shall ever be burning upon the altar; it shall never go out. (Lev. 6:9, 13.)

c. His own hands shall bring the offerings of the Lord made by fire; the fat with the breast; it shall he bring, that the breast may be waved for a wave offering before the Lord. (Lev. 7:30.) And the priests shall wave them for a wave offering before the Lord; this is holy for the priest, with the wave breast and heave shoulder; and after that the Nazarite may drink wine. (Num. 6:20.) And Moses took the breast, and waved it for a wave offering before the Lord; for of the ram of consecration it was Moses' part; as the Lord commanded Moses. (Lev. 8:29.)

d. Wherefore have ye not eaten the sin offering in the holy place, seeing it is most holy, and God hath given it to you to bear the iniquity of the congregation, to make atonement to them before the Lord? (Lev. 10:17.)

e. And he shall do with the bullock as he did with the bullock for a sin offering, so shall he do with this: and the priests shall make an atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them. (Lev. 4:20.) And the priest shall make an atonement for all the congregation of the children of Israel, and it shall be forgiven them; for it is ignorance; and they shall bring their offering, a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord, and their sin offering before the Lord, for their ignorance. (Num. 15:25.) When a ruler hath sinned, and done somewhat through ignorance against any of the commandments of the Lord his God concerning things which should not be done, and is guilty (22), And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat is taken away from off the sacrifice of peace offerings; and the priest shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savor unto the Lord; and the priest shall make an atonement for him, and it shall be forgiven him. (Lev. 4:22, 31.) And the priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord, and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he hath done in trespassing therein. (Lev. 6:7.) The anti-type Jesus Christ having come in the new dispensation to make atonement for man, the type of the old dispensation having been done away with.—For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. (Mat. 26:28.) Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification. (Rom. 4:25.) Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ (3). Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father. (Gal. 1:3, 4.) And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savor. (Eph. 5:2.)

f. And thou shalt anoint the altar of the burnt offering and all his vessels, and sanctify the altar; and it shall be an altar most holy. (Ex. 40:10.)

upon the altar; two lambs of the first year [g]day by day continually.

39 The one lamb thou shalt offer in the morning; and the other lamb thou shalt offer at even:

40 And with the one lamb a tenth [12]deal of flour mingled with the fourth part of an [13]hin of [14]beaten oil; and the fourth part of an hin of wine for a drink [15]offering.

41 And the other lamb thou shalt offer at even, and shalt do thereto according to the meat offering of the morning, and according to the drink [15]offering thereof, for a sweet [6]savour, an offering made by fire unto the Lord.

42 This shall be a continual [16]burnt offering throughout your generations at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord: where I will meet you, to speak there unto thee.

43 And there I will meet with the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and the tabernacle shall be sanctified by my glory.

44 And I will sanctify the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar: I will sanctify also both [2]Aâr'on and his sons, to minister to me in the priest's office.

45 ¶ And I will dwell among the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and will be their God.

46 And they shall know that I am the Lord their God, that brought them forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt, that I may dwell among them: I am the Lord their God.

CHAPTER 30.

1 The altar of incense. 11 The ransom of souls. 17 The brasen laver. 22 The holy anointing oil. 34 The composition of the perfume.

1 And thou shalt make an altar to burn [1]incense upon: of shittim wood shalt thou make it.

2 A [2]cubit shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof; foursquare shall it be: and two cubits shall be the height thereof: the horns thereof shall be of the same.

3 And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, the [3]top thereof, and the [4]sides thereof round about, and the horns thereof; and thou shalt make unto it a crown of gold round about.

4 And two golden rings shalt thou make to it under the crown of it, by the two corners thereof, upon the two sides of it shalt thou make it; and they shall be for places for the staves to bear it withal.

5 And thou shalt make the staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold.

6 And thou shalt put it before the [5]vail that is by the ark of the testimony, before the mercy [6]seat that is over the testimony, where I will meet with thee.

7 And [7]Aâr'on shall burn thereon sweet incense every morning: when he dresseth the lamps, he shall burn incense upon it.

8 And when Aâr'on lighteth the lamps at even, he shall burn incense upon it, a perpetual incense before the Lord throughout your generations.

9 Ye shall offer no [8]strange incense thereon, nor burnt sacrifice, nor meat offering; neither shall ye pour drink offering thereon.

10 And [7]Aâr'on shall make an [9]atonement [a]upon the horns of it once in a year with the blood of the sin offering of atonements: once in the year shall he make atonement upon it throughout your generations: it is most holy unto the Lord.

11 ¶ And the Lord spake unto [10]Mō'şeş, saying,

12 When thou takest the sum of the children of Ĭs'ra-el after their number, then shall they give every man a [11]ransom for his soul unto the Lord, when thou numberest them; that there be no plague among them, when thou numberest them.

13 This they shall give, every one that passeth among them that are numbered, half a shekel after the [12]shekel of the sanctuary: (a shekel is twenty gerahs:) an half shekel shall be the offering of the Lord.

14 Every one that passeth among them that are numbered, from twenty years old and above, shall give an offering unto the Lord.

15 The rich shall not give [13]more, and the poor shall not give [13]less than half a shekel, when they give an offering unto the Lord, to make an atonement for your souls.

16 And thou shalt take the atonement money of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and shalt appoint it for the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; that it may be a memorial unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el before the Lord, to make an [c]atonement for your souls.

17 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

18 Thou shalt also make a laver of brass, and his foot also of brass, to wash withal: and thou shalt put it between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and thou shalt put water therein.

19 For [7]Aâr'on and his sons [b]shall wash their hands and their feet thereat:

20 When they go into the tabernacle of the congregation, they shall wash with water, that they die not; or when they come near to the altar to minister, to burn offering made by fire unto the Lord:

21 So they shall wash their hands and their feet, that they die not: and it shall be a statute for ever to them, even to him and to his seed throughout their generations.

22 ¶ Moreover the Lord spake unto [10]Mō'şeş, saying,

23 Take thou also unto thee principal spices of pure myrrh five hundred shekels, and of sweet cinnamon half so much, even two hundred and fifty shekels, and of sweet calamus two hundred and fifty shekels,

24 And of cassia five hundred shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, and of oil olive an hin:

25 And thou shalt make it an oil of holy ointment, an ointment compound after the art of the apothecary: it shall be an holy anointing oil.

26 And thou shalt anoint the tabernacle of the congregation therewith, and the ark of the testimony,

27 And the table and all his vessels, and the candlestick and his vessels, and the altar of incense, 28 And the altar of burnt offering with all his vessels, and the laver and his foot.

29 And thou shalt sanctify them, that they may be most holy: whatsoever toucheth them shall be holy.

30 And thou shalt anoint Aâr'on and his sons, and consecrate them, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office.

31 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, This shall be an holy anointing oil unto me throughout your generations.

32 Upon man's flesh shall it not be poured, neither shall ye make any other like it, after the composition of it: it is holy, and it shall be holy unto you.

33 Whosoever compoundeth any like it, or whosoever putteth any of it [14]upon a stranger, shall even be cut off from his people.

34 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Take unto thee sweet spices, stacte, and onycha, and galbanum; these sweet spices with pure [15]frankincense: of each shall there be a like weight:

35 And thou shalt make it a perfume, a confection after the art of the apothecary, [16]tempered together, pure and holy:

36 And thou shalt beat some of it very small, and put of it before the testimony in the tabernacle of the congregation, where I will meet with thee: it shall be unto you most holy.

37 And as for the perfume which thou shalt make, ye shall not make to yourselves according to the composition thereof: it shall be unto thee holy for the Lord.

38 Whosoever shall make like unto that, to smell thereto, shall even be cut off from his people.

CHAPTER 31.

1 Bezaleel and Aholiab are called and made meet for the work of the tabernacle. 12 The observation of the sabbath is again commanded. 18 Moses receiveth the two tables.

1 And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō'şeş, saying,

2 See, I have called by name [2]Be-zal'ĕ-el the son of Ū'rī, the son of Hûr, of the tribe of Jū'dah:

3 And I have [a]filled him with the spirit of God, in wisdom, and in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship,

4 To devise [3]cunning works, to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass,

5 And in cutting of stones, to set them, and in carving of timber, to work in all manner of workmanship.

6 And I, behold, I have given with him [4]A-hō'lī-ab, the son of A-hĭs'a-mach, of the tribe of Dăn: and in the hearts of all that are wise hearted I have put wisdom, that they may make all that I have commanded thee;

7 The tabernacle of the congregation, and the ark of the testimony, and the mercy seat that is thereupon, and all the furniture of the tabernacle,

8 And the table and his furniture, and the pure candlestick with all his furniture, and the altar of incense,

9 And the altar of burnt offering with all his furniture, and the laver and his foot,

10 And the cloths of service, and the holy garments for [5]Aâr'on the priest, and the garments of his sons, to minister in the priest's office, 11 And the anointing oil, and sweet incense for the holy place: according to all that I have commanded thee shall they do.

12 ¶ And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō'şeş, saying,

13 Speak thou also unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, [b]Verily my sabbaths ye shall keep: for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations; that ye may know that I am the Lord that doth sanctify you.

14 Ye shall [b]keep the sabbath therefore; for it is holy unto you: every one that defileth it [6]shall surely be put to death: for whosoever doeth any work therein, that soul shall be cut off from among his people.

15 Six [c]days may work be done; but in the seventh is the [b]sabbath of rest, holy to the Lord: whosoever doeth any work in the sabbath day, he shall surely be put to death.

16 Wherefore the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall keep the [b]sabbath, to observe the sabbath throughout their generations, for a perpetual covenant.

17 It is [d]a sign between me and the children of Ĭs'ra-el for ever: for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he rested, and was refreshed.

18 ¶ And he gave unto [1]Mō'şeş, when he had made an end of communing with him upon mount Sī'nāi, [7]two [e]tables of testimony, tables of stone, written with the [8]finger of God.

CHAPTER 32.

1 The people cause Aaron to make a calf. 7 God is angered thereby. 11 At the intreaty of Moses he is appeased. 15 Moses cometh down with the tables. 19 He breaketh them. 20 He destroyeth the calf. 25 Moses causeth the idolaters to be slain.

1 And when the people saw that [1]Mō'şeş [a]delayed to come down out of the mount, the people gathered themselves together unto [2]Aâr'on, and said unto him, Up, make [b]us gods, which shall go before us; for as for this [1]Mō'şeş, the man that brought us up out of the land of Ē'gўpt, we [3]wot not what is become of him.

2 And [2]Aâr'on said unto them, Break off the golden earrings, which are in the ears of your wives, of your sons, and of your daughters, and bring them unto me.

3 And all the people brake off the golden earrings which were in their ears, and brought them unto [2]Aâr'on.

4 And he [c]received them at their hand, and fashioned it with a graving tool, after he had made it a molten calf: and they said, [4]These be thy gods, O Ĭs'ra-el, which brought thee up out of the land of Ē'gўpt.

5 And when [2]Aâr'on saw it, he built an altar before it; and Aâr'on made proclamation, and said, To morrow is a feast to the Lord.

6 And they rose up early on the morrow, and offered burnt offerings, and brought peace

2. Artistic.

3. Bezaleel, meaning protection of God; a famous workman, son of Uri, to whom Jehovah gave the construction of the ark in the wilderness; he was particularly given control of the metal, wood and stone works, with a general supervision of the entire construction.

4. A member of the tribe of Dan, who was to be associated with Bezaleel in the construction of the ark. Aholiab had special charge of the textile fabrics.

5. For historical account of Aaron see 21, ch. 4.

6. Observe that all the commandments of the first tablet have their violation punished by death. It was therefore taught that any willful violation of these laws was to be considered a capital crime, although none of them are so regarded in the New Testament. Not that God has changed, but that through the civilization of the human race the ministration of death has accomplished its purpose and has therefore been supplanted by other punishments and restrictions.

7. Smaller in size than the ark in which they were deposited and light enough for Moses to carry down the mountain. The majority of authorities agree that they were perhaps two or three inches thick to prevent breaking and about a foot square.

8. An anthropomorphic way of designating the divine agency in the preparation of the tablets and the writing of the commandments thereon, and is not to teach that Jehovah has a physical part or body. (H.)

Ch. 32. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—In chapter 32 is the most striking illustrati n imaginable of the gross hardness of heart and idolatrous tendencies of the people of that time and the necessity of a most severe legislation, strictly administered, to cultivate a moral sense in Israel. While yet under the very shadow of Sinai and so soon after the terrible displays of God's presence and power, as recorded in ch. 22, it would seem incredible that the people could possibly forget Jehovah, but such they did, and returned to the old form of idolatrous worship.

Chapter 31.

a. He was a widow's son of the tribe of Naphtali, and his father was a man of Tyre, a worker in brass; and he was filled with wisdom, and understanding and cunning to work all works in brass. And he came to king Solomon, and wrought all his works. (I Ks. 7:14.) For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him. (Is. 28:26.) For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit. (I Cor. 12:8.)

b. Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy. But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. (Ex. 20:8, 10.) Six days thou shalt work, but on the seventh day thou shalt rest; in earing time and in harvest thou shalt rest. (Ex. 34:21.) Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the Lord: whosoever doeth work therein shall be put to death. (Ex. 35:2.) Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary; I am the Lord (2). As long as it lieth desolate it shall rest; because it did not rest in your sabbaths, when ye dwelt upon it. (Lev. 26:2, 35.) Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctified them. (Ez. 20:12.) Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. (Dt. 5:12.) If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honorable; and shalt honor him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words (13). Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord; and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. (Is. 58:13-14.)

c. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work. (Ex. 20:9.) Six days thou shalt do thy work, and on the seventh day thou shalt rest, that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy handmaid, and the stranger, may be refreshed. (Ex. 23:12.) Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the Lord; whosoever doeth work therein shall be put to death. (Ex. 35:2.) The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep. (Ecc. 5:12.) And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we command you. (I Thess. 4:11.)

d. And hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God. (Ez. 20:20.)

e. And he declared unto you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even ten commandments; and he wrote them upon two tables of stone. (Dt. 4:13.) Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart. (II Cor. 3:3.)

Chapter 32.

a. When I was gone up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant which the Lord made with you, then I abode in the mount forty days and forty nights, I neither did eat bread nor drink water. (Dt. 9:9.)

b. Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us; for as for this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. (Acts 7:40.)

offerings; and the people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play.

7 ¶ And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Go, get thee down; for thy people, which thou broughtest out of the land of Ē'ġўpt, have corrupted themselves:

8 They have turned aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them: they have made them a molten calf, and have worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said, These be thy gods, O Ĭs'ra-el, which have brought thee up out of the land of E'ġўpt.

9 And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a [5]stiffnecked people:

10 Now therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them, and that I may consume them: and I will make of thee a great nation.

11 And [1]Mō'şeş besought the Lord his God, and said, Lord, why doth thy wrath wax hot against thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Ē'ġўpt with great power, and with a mighty hand?

12 [6]Wherefore should the Ē-ġўp'tianş speak, and say, For mischief did he bring them out, to slay them in the mountains, and to consume them from the face of the earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this evil against thy people.

13 Remember Ā'brā-hăm, Ī'şaac, and Ĭs'ra-el, thy servants, to whom thou swarest by thine own self, and saidst unto them, I will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have spoken of will I give unto your seed, and they shall inherit it for ever.

14 And the Lord [7]repented [d]of the evil which he thought to do unto his people.

15 ¶ And [1]Mō'şeş turned, and went down from the mount, and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand: the tables were written on both their sides; on the one side and on the other were they written.

16 And the tables were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, graven upon the tables.

17 And when [8]Jŏsh'u-å heard the noise of the people as they shouted, he said unto Mō'şeş, There is a noise of war in the camp.

18 And he said, It is not the voice of them that shout for mastery, neither is it the voice of them that cry for being overcome: but the noise of them that sing do I hear.

19 ¶ And it came to pass, as soon as he came nigh unto the camp, that he saw the calf, and the dancing: and [1]Mō'şeş' anger waxed hot, and he cast the tables out of his hands, and brake them beneath the mount.

20 And he took the calf which they had made, and burnt it in the fire, and ground it to powder, and [9]strawed it upon the water, and made the children of Ĭs'ra-el drink of it.

21 And [1]Mō'şeş said unto [2]Aâr'on, What did this people unto thee, that thou hast brought so great a sin upon them?

22 And [2]Aâr'on said, Let not the anger of my lord wax hot: thou knowest the people, that they are set on mischief.

23 For they said unto me, Make us gods, which shall go before us: for as for this Mō'şeş, the man that brought us up out of the land of Ē'ġўpt, we [3]wot not what is become of him.

24 And I said unto them, Whosoever hath any gold, let them break it off. So they gave it me: then I cast it into the fire, and there came [e]out this calf.

25 ¶ And when [1]Mō'şeş saw that the people were [f]naked; (for Aâr'on had made them naked unto their shame among their enemies:)

26 Then [1]Mō'şeş stood in the gate of the camp, and said, Who is on the Lord's side? let him come unto me. And all the sons of [10]Lē'vī gathered themselves together unto him.

27 And he said unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el, Put every man his sword by his side, and go in and out from gate to gate throughout the camp, and [11]slay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbour.

28 And the children of Lē'vī did according to the word of [1]Mō'şeş: and there fell of the people that day about three thousand men.

29 For [12]Mō'şeş had said, [13]Consecrate yourselves to day to the Lord, even every man upon his son, and upon his brother; that he may bestow upon you a blessing this day.

30 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that [1]Mō'şeş said unto the people, [g]Ye have sinned a great sin: and now I will go up unto the Lord; [14]peradventure [h]I shall make an atonement for your sin.

31 And [1]Mō'şeş returned unto the Lord, and said, Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold.

32 Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin—; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, [15]out [i]of thy book which thou hast written.

33 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Whosoever hath sinned against me, him will I blot out of my book.

34 Therefore now go, lead the people unto the place of which I have spoken unto thee: behold, mine [j]angels shall go before thee: nevertheless in the day when I visit I will visit [k]their sin upon them.

35 And the Lord [16]plagued the people, because they made the calf, which [2]Aâr'on made.

c. Whereupon the king took counsel, and made two calves of gold, and said unto them, It is too much for you to go up to Jerusalem; behold thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. (I Ks. 12:28.) They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image. (Ps. 106:19.) They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith; and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea, they worship. (Is. 46:6.) And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands. (Acts 7:41.) And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things. (Rom. 1:23.)

d. For the Lord shall judge his people, and repent himself of his servants, when he seeth that their power is gone, and there is none shut up, or left. (Dt. 32:36.) And God sent an angel unto Jerusalem to destroy it: and as he was destroying, the Lord beheld, and he repented him of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed, It is enough, stay now thine hand. (I Chr. 21:15.) If that nation, against whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them. (Jer. 18:8.) Rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God; for he is gracious and merciful; slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil. (Joel 2:13.) And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil that he had said that he would do unto them; and he did it not. (Jonah 3:10.)

e. Thou shalt have no other gods before me. (Ex. 20:3.) Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19:4.) Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the Lord your God which he made with you, and make you a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, which the Lord thy God hath forbidden thee. (Dt. 4:23.) Thou shalt not make thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth: Thou shalt not bow down thyself unto them, nor serve them; for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me, And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me and keep my commandments. (Dt. 5:8-10.)

h. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate; it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. (Amos. 5:15.)

i. If any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book. (Rev. 22:19.)

j. The Lord God of heaven, which took me from my father's house and from the land of my kindred, and which spake unto me, and that sware unto me, saying, Unto thy seed will I give this land; he shall send his angels before thee, and thou shalt take a wife unto my son from thence. (Gen. 24:7.) Behold I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared. (Ex. 23:20.) The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.) And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire (7). Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation? (Heb. 1:7, 14.)

CHAPTER 33.

1 The Lord refuseth to go with the people. 4 The people murmur. 7 The tabernacle is removed out of the camp. 9 The Lord talketh with Moses. 12 Moses desireth to see his glory.

1 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Depart, and go up hence, thou and the people which thou hast brought up out of the land of Ē'gўpt, unto the land which I sware unto Ā'brā-hām, to Ī'şaac, and to Jā'cob, saying, Unto thy seed will I give it:

2 And I will send an [a]angel before thee; and I will drive out the Cā'năan-īte, the Ām'or-īte, and the Hīt'tīte, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zīte, the Hī'vīte, and the Jĕb'u-sīte:

3 Unto a land flowing with milk and honey: for I will not go up in the midst of thee; for thou art a stiffnecked people: lest I consume thee in the way.

4 ¶ And when the people heard these evil tidings, they mourned: and no man did put on him his ornaments.

5 For the Lord had said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Say unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, Ye are a stiffnecked people: I will come up into the midst of thee in a moment, and consume thee: therefore now put off thy ornaments from thee, that I may [b]know what to do unto thee.

6 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el stripped themselves of their ornaments by the mount Hō'reb.

7 And [1]Mō'şeş took the [2]tabernacle, and pitched it without the camp, afar off from the camp, and called it the Tabernacle of the congregation. And it came to pass, that every one which sought the Lord went out unto the tabernacle of the congregation, which was without the camp.

8 And it came to pass, when [1]Mō'şeş went out unto the tabernacle, that all the people rose up, and stood every man at his tent door, and looked after Mō'şeş, until he was gone into the tabernacle.

9 And it came to pass, as [1]Mō'şeş entered into the tabernacle, the cloudy pillar descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, and the Lord [c]talked with Mō'şeş.

10 And all the people saw the cloudy pillar stand at the tabernacle door: and all the people rose up and worshipped, every man in his tent door.

11 And the Lord [d]spake unto Mō'şeş, face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp: but his servant Jŏsh'u-à, the son of Nŭn, a young man, departed not out of the tabernacle.

12 ¶ And [1]Mō'şeş said unto the Lord, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight.

13 Now therefore, I pray thee, if I have found [e]grace in thy sight, shew me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight: and consider that this nation is thy people.

14 And he said, [3]My [f]presence shall go with thee and I will give thee rest.

15 And he said unto him, If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence.

16 For wherein shall it be known here that I and thy people have found [e]grace in thy sight? is it not in that thou goest with us? so shall we be separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth.

17 And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, I will [g]do this thing also that thou hast spoken: for thou hast found grace in my sight, and I know thee by name.

18 And he said, I beseech thee, shew me thy glory.

19 And he said, I will make all my goodness pass before thee, and I will proclaim the name of the Lord before thee; and will be [h]gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will shew mercy on whom I will shew mercy.

20 And he said, Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, and live.

21 And the Lord said, Behold, there is a place by me, and thou shalt stand upon a rock:

22 And it shall come to pass, while my glory passeth by, that I will put thee in a clift of the rock, and will [i]cover thee with my hand while I pass by:

23 And I will take away mine hand, and thou shalt see my back parts: but my face shall [j]not be seen.

CHAPTER 34.

1 The tables are renewed. 5 The name of the Lord proclaimed. 8 Moses intreateth God to go with them. 10 God maketh a covenant with them. 28 Moses cometh down from the mount with the tables.

1 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the first: and [a]I will write upon these tables the words that were in the first tables, which thou brakest.

2 And be ready in the morning, and come up in the morning unto Mount Sī'nāi, and present thyself there to me in the top of the mount.

3 And no man shall come up with thee, neither let any man be seen throughout all the mount; neither let the flocks and herds feed before that mount.

4 ¶ And he hewed two tables of stone like unto the first; and [1]Mō'şeş rose up early in the morning, and went up unto Mount Sī'nāi, as the Lord had commanded him, and took in his hand the two tables of stone.

5 And the Lord descended in the cloud, and stood with him there, and proclaimed the name of the Lord.

6 And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, [b]merciful

NOTE.—In ch. 33 is recorded Jehovah's refusal to go further with the Israelites because of their sins, which must not go unpunished. He therefore tells Moses that he will send with him the angel of his presence instead of himself, and only through the persistent intercessions and pleadings of Moses did Jehovah continue with the Israelites.

2. The tent of Moses, which had hitherto been used as the central point of the Israelites' camp.

3. Observe the effect of the pleadings of Moses. In v. 3 Jehovah said, "I will not go up in the midst of thee," but after the penitence of the people and the incessant pleadings of Moses, Jehovah has compassion on them and says, "My presence shall go with thee." "The prayer of a righteous man availeth much."

For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God (23). Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ. (Rom. 3:22-24.) By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (Rom. 5:2.) Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace. And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work. (Rom. 11:5, 6.) For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast. (Eph. 2:8, 9.)

f. In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. (Is. 63:9.) Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual, fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Ja. 5:16.)

h. Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. (Rom. 4:4.)

i. He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty (1). He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler. (Ps. 91:1, 4.)

j. No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. (Jno. 1:18.)

b. And rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil. (Joel 2:13.) The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit. (Ps. 34:18.) And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments. (Ex. 20:6.)

and gracious, longsuffering, and abundant in [c]goodness and [d]truth,

7 Keeping [e]mercy for thousands, forgiving [f]iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation.

8 And [1]Mō'şeş made haste, and bowed his head toward the earth, and worshipped.

9 And he said, If now I have found [2]grace in thy sight, O Lord, let my Lord, I pray thee, go among us; for it is a stiffnecked people; and pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us for thine inheritance.

10 ¶ And he said, Behold, I make a covenant: before all thy people I will do marvels, such as have not been done in all the earth, nor in any nation: and all the people among which thou art shall see the work of the Lord: for it is a terrible thing that I will do with thee.

11 Observe thou that which I command thee this day: behold, I drive out before thee the Ām'or-īte, and the Cā'năan-īte, and the Hīt'tīte, and the Pĕr'īz-zīte, and the Hī'vīte, and the Jĕb'u-sīte.

12 Take heed to thyself, lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land whither thou goest, lest it be for a snare in the midst of thee:

13 But ye shall destroy their altars, break their images, and cut down their groves:

14 For thou shalt worship no other god: for the Lord, whose name is [g]Jealous, is a [h]jealous God:

15 Lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land, and they go a whoring after their gods, and do sacrifice unto their gods, and one call thee, and thou [i]eat of his sacrifice;

16 And thou take of their daughters unto thy sons, and their daughters go a [3]whoring after their gods, and make thy sons go a whoring after their gods.

17 Thou shalt make [j]thee no molten gods.

18 ¶ The feast of [4]unleavened [k]bread shalt thou keep. Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, as I commanded thee, in the time of the month Ā'bĭb: for in the month A bĭb thou camest out from Ē'gўpt.

19 All that openeth the matrix is mine; and every firstling among thy cattle, whether ox or sheep, that is male.

20 But the [l]firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a lamb: and if thou redeem him not, then shalt thou break his neck. All the firstborn of thy sons thou shalt redeem. And none shall appear before me empty.

21 ¶ Six [m]days thou shalt work, but on the seventh [n]day thou shalt rest: in earing time and in harvest thou shalt rest.

22 ¶ And thou shalt observe the feast of weeks, of the firstfruits of wheat harvest, and the feast of ingathering at the year's end.

23 ¶ Thrice in the year shall all your menchildren appear before the Lord God, the God of Ĭs'ra-el.

24 For I will cast out the nations before thee, and enlarge thy borders: neither shall any man desire thy land, when thou shalt go up to appear before the Lord thy God thrice in the year.

25 Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leaven; neither shall the sacrifice of the feast of the passover be left unto the morning.

26 The first of the [o]firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring unto the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not [5]seethe a kid in his mother's milk.

27 And the Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Write thou [p]these words: for after the tenor of these words I have made a covenant with thee and with Ĭs'ra-el.

28 And he was there with the Lord forty days and forty nights; he did neither eat bread, nor drink water. And [q]he wrote upon the tablets the words of the covenant, the ten commandments.

29 ¶ And it came to pass, when [1]Mō'şeş came down from mount Sī'năi with the two tables of [r]testimony in Mō'şeş' hand, when he came down from the mount, that Mō'şeş wist not that [6]the skin of his face shone while he talked with him.

30 And when Aâr'on and all the children

c. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.) Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? (Rom. 2:4.) The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance (9). And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you. (II Pet. 3:9, 15.)

d. For thy mercy is great above the heavens, and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds. (Ps. 108:4.) For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations. (Ps. 100:5.)

e. Thou showest loving-kindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them; the Great, the Mighty God, the Lord of hosts, is his name. (Jer. 32:18.) And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments. (Ex. 20:6.)

f. If I sin, then thou markest me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity. (Job 10:14.) Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast covered all their sin. Thou hast taken away all thy wrath; thou hast turned thyself from the fierceness of thine anger. (Ps. 85:2, 3.) Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities. (Ps. 51:9.) Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme. (Mk. 3:28.) But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses. (Mk. 11:26.) If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (I Jno. 1:9.)

g. For thus saith the high and lofty One, that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones. (Is. 57:15.) That they may shoot in secret at the perfect; suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not. (Ps. 64:4.) Be silent, O all flesh, before the Lord; for he is raised up out of his holy habitation. (Zech. 2:13.)

h. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them; for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. (Ex. 20:5.) And Joshua said unto the people, Ye cannot serve the Lord; for he is an holy God; he is a jealous God; he will not forgive your transgressions nor your sins. (Josh. 24:19.) Thus saith the Lord of hosts; I was jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fury. (Zech. 8:2.)

i. As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one. (I Cor. 8:4.)

j. Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods, I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19:4.) Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them. (Dt. 11:16.) Ye shall make you no idols nor graven image, neither rear you up a standing image, neither shall ye set up any image of stone in your land, to bow down unto it; for I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 26:1.) Thou shalt not make thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth. (Dt. 5:8.)

k. Thou shalt keep the feast of unleavened bread (thou shalt eat unleavened bread seven days, as I commanded thee, in the time appointed of the month Abib; for in it thou camest out from Egypt; and none shall appear before me empty). (Ex. 23:15.)

l. Every thing that openeth the matrix in all flesh, which they bring unto the Lord, whether it be of man or beasts, shall be thine; nevertheless the firstborn of man shalt thou surely redeem, and the firstling of unclean beasts shalt thou redeem. (Num. 18:15.)

m. Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. Six days thou shalt labor, and do all thy work. (Dt. 5:12, 13.) Six days thou shalt do thy work, and on the seventh day thou shalt rest; that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy handmaid and the stranger may be refreshed. (Ex. 23:12.) The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep. (Ecc. 5:12.)

n. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it; because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made. (Gen. 2:3.) Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. (Ex. 20:8.) Six days shall work be done: but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation. (Lev. 23:3.) Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctify them. (Ez. 20:12.)

o. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.)

p. Now go, write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for the time to come for ever and ever. (Is. 30:8.)

q. And the tables were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, graven upon the tables. (Ex. 32:16.) And he declared unto you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even ten commandments; and he wrote them upon two tables of stone. (Dt. 4:13.)

r. And Moses turned, and went down from the mount, and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand, the tables were written on both their sides; on the one side and on the other were they written. (Ex. 32:15.)

of Is'ra-el saw Mō'ṣeṣ, behold, the skin of his face shone; and they were afraid to come nigh him.

31 And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ called unto them; and Aâr'on and all the rulers of the congregation returned unto him: and Mō'ṣeṣ talked with them.

32 And afterward all the children of Is'ra-el came nigh: and he give them in commandment all that the Lord had spoken with him in mount Sī'nāi.

33 And till [1]Mō'ṣeṣ had done speaking with them, he put a vail on his face.

34 But when [1]Mō'ṣeṣ went in before the Lord to speak with him, he took the vail off, until he came out. And he came out, and spake unto the children of Is'ra-el that which he was commanded.

35 And the children of Is'ra-el saw the face of [1]Mō'ṣeṣ, that the skin of Mō'ṣeṣ' face shone: and Mō'ṣeṣ put the vail upon his face again, until he went in to speak with him.

1 And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ gathered all the congregation of the children of Is'ra-el together and said unto them, These are the words which the Lord hath commanded, that ye should do them.

2 Six [a]days shall work be done, but on the [b]seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the Lord: whosoever doeth work therein shall be put to death.

3 Ye [c]shall kindle no fire throughout your habitations upon the sabbath day.

4 ¶ And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ spake unto all the congregation of the children of Is'ra-el, saying, [d]This is the thing which the Lord commanded, saying,

5 Take ye from among you an offering unto the Lord: whosoever is of a [c]willing heart, let him bring it, an offering of the Lord; gold, and silver, and brass,

6 And blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair,

7 And rams' skins dyed red, and badgers' skins, and shittim wood,

8 And oil for the light, and spices for anointing oil, and for the sweet incense,

9 And onyx stones, and stones to be set for the ephod, and for the breastplate.

10 And every wise hearted among you shall come, and make all that the Lord hath commanded;

11 The tabernacle, his tent, and his covering, his [2]taches, and his boards, his bars, his pillars, and his sockets,

12 The ark, and the staves thereof, with the mercy seat, and the vail of the covering,

13 The table, and his staves, and all his vessels, and the shewbread,

14 The candlestick also for the light, and his furniture, and his lamps, with the oil for the light,

15 And the incense altar, and his staves, and the anointing oil, and the sweet incense, and the hanging for the door at the entering in of the tabernacle,

16 The altar of burnt [f]offering, with his brasen grate, his staves, and all his vessels, the laver and his foot, 20 ¶ And all the congregation of the children of Is'ra-el departed from the presence of Mō'ṣeṣ.

21 And they came, every one [e]whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing, and they brought the Lord's offering to the work of the tabernacle of the congregation, and for all his service, and for the holy garments.

22 And they came, both men and women, as many as were [e]willing hearted, and brought bracelets, and earrings, and rings, and tablets, all jewels of gold: and every man that offered offered an offering of gold unto the Lord.

23 And every man, with whom was found blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair, and red skins of rams, and badgers' skins, brought them.

24 Every one that did offer an offering of silver and brass brought the Lord's offering: and every man, with whom was found shittim wood for any work of the service, brought it.

25 And all the women that were wise hearted did spin with their hands, and brought that which they had spun, both of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine linen.

26 And all the women whose heart stirred them up in wisdom spun goats' hair.

27 And the rulers brought onyx stones, and stones to be set, for the ephod, and for the breastplate;

28 And spice, and oil for the light, and for the anointing oil, and for the sweet incense.

29 The children of Is'ra-el brought a [g]willing offering unto the Lord, every man and woman, whose heart made them willing to bring for all manner of work, which the Lord had commanded to be made by the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ.

30 ¶ And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ said unto the children of Is'ra-el, See, the Lord hath called by name Be-zal'ĕ-el the son of Ū'rī, the son of Hûr, of the tribe of Jū'dah;

31 And he hath filled him with the [h]spirit of God, in wisdom, in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship;

32 And to devise [4]curious works, to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, 33 And in the cutting of stones, to set them, and in carving of wood, to make any manner of cunning work.

34 And he hath put in his heart that he may teach, both he, and A-hō'lī-ab, the son of A-hīs'a-mach, of the tribe of Dăn.

35 Them hath he [i]filled with wisdom of heart, to work all manner of work, of the engraver, and of the [5]cunning workman, and of the embroiderer, in blue, and in purple, in scarlet, and in fine linen, and of the weaver, even of them that do any work, and of those that devise cunning work.

1 Then wrought Be-zal'ĕ-el and A-hō'lĭ-ab, and every [a]wise hearted man, in whom the Lord put wisdom and understanding to know how to work all manner of work for the service of the sanctuary, according to all that the Lord had commanded.

2 And Mō'şeş called Be-zal'ĕ-el and A-hō'lĭ-ab, and every wise hearted man, in whose heart the Lord had put wisdom, even every one whose heart stirred him up to come unto the work to do it:

3 And they received of [1]Mō'şeş all the offering, which the children of Ĭs'ra-el had brought for the work of the service of the sanctuary, to make it withal. And they brought yet unto him free offerings every morning.

4 And all the wise men, that wrought all the work of the sanctuary, came every man from his work which they made;

5 ¶ And they spake unto [1]Mō'şeş, saying, [b]The people bring much more than enough for the service of the work, which the Lord commanded to make.

6 And [1]Mō'şeş gave commandment, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the camp, saying, Let neither man nor woman make any more work for the offering of the sanctuary. So the people were restrained from bringing.

7 For the stuff they had was sufficient for all the work to make it, and too much.

8 ¶ And [a]every wise hearted man among them that wrought the work of the tabernacle made ten curtains of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet: with [2]cherubim of cunning work made he them.

9 The length of one curtain was twenty and eight [3]cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: the curtains were all of one size.

10 And he coupled the five curtains one unto another: and the other five curtains he coupled one unto another.

11 And he made loops of blue on the edge of one curtain from the selvedge in the coupling: likewise he made in the uttermost side of another curtain, in the coupling of the second.

12 Fifty loops made he in one curtain, and fifty loops made he in the edge of the curtain which was in the coupling of the second: the loops held one curtain to another.

13 And he made fifty [4]taches of gold, and coupled the curtains one unto another with the taches: so it became one tabernacle.

14 ¶ And he made curtains of goats' hair for the tent over the tabernacle: eleven curtains he made them.

15 The length of one curtain was thirty cubits, and four cubits was the breadth of one curtain: the eleven curtains were of one size.

16 And he coupled five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves.

17 And he made fifty loops upon the uttermost edge of the curtain in the coupling, and fifty loops made he upon the edge of the curtain which coupleth the second.

18 And he made fifty [4]taches of brass to couple the tent together, that it might be one.

19 And he made a covering for the tent of rams' skins dyed red, and a covering of badgers' skins above that.

20 ¶ And he made boards for the tabernacle of shittim wood, standing up.

21 The length of a board was ten cubits, and the breadth of a board one cubit and a half.

22 One board had two [5]tenons, equally distant one from another: thus did he make for all the boards of the [6]tabernacle.

23 And he made boards for the tabernacle; twenty boards for the south side southward:

24 And forty sockets of silver he made under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons.

25 And for the other side of the tabernacle, which is toward the north corner, he made twenty boards,

26 And their forty sockets of silver; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

27 And for the sides of the [6]tabernacle westward he made six boards.

28 And two boards made he for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides.

29 And they were coupled beneath, and coupled together at the head thereof, to one ring: thus he did to both of them in both the corners.

30 And there were eight boards; and their sockets were sixteen sockets of silver, under every board two sockets.

31 ¶ And he made bars of shittim wood; five for the boards of the one side of the [6]tabernacle, 32 And five bars for the boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the tabernacle for the sides westward.

33 And he made the middle bar to shoot through the boards from the one end to the other.

34 And he overlaid the boards with gold, and made their rings of gold to be places for the bars, and overlaid the bars with gold.

35 ¶ And he made a [c]vail of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen: with cherubim made he it of [7]cunning work.

36 And he made thereunto four pillars of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold: their hooks were of gold; and he cast for them four sockets of silver.

37 ¶ And he made an hanging for the [6]tabernacle door of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, of needlework;

9 And the [a]cherubim spread out their wings on high, and covered with their wings over the mercy seat, with their faces one to another; even to the mercy seatward were the faces of the cherubim.

10 ¶ [7]And he made the table of shittim wood: two cubits was the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof:

11 And he overlaid it with pure gold, and made thereunto a crown of gold round about.

12 Also he made thereunto a border of an handbreadth round about; and made a crown of gold for the border thereof round about.

13 And he cast for it four rings of gold, and put the rings upon the four corners that were in the four feet thereof.

14 Over against the border were the rings, the places for the staves to bear the table.

15 And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold, to bear the table.

16 And he made the vessels which were upon the table, his dishes, and his spoons, and his bowls, and his covers to cover withal, of pure gold.

17 ¶ [8]And he made the candlestick of pure gold: of beaten work made he the candlestick; his shaft, and his branch, his bowls, his [6]knops, and his flowers, were of the same:

18 And six branches going out of the sides thereof; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side thereof, and three branches of the candlestick out of the other side thereof:

19 Three bowls made after the fashion of almonds in one branch, a [6]knop and a flower; and three bowls made like almonds in another branch, a knop and a flower: so throughout the six branches going out of the candlestick.

20 And in the candlestick were four bowls made like almonds, his [6]knops, and his flowers:

21 And a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, according to the six branches going out of it.

22 Their [6]knops and their branches were of the same: all of it was one beaten work of pure gold.

23 And he made his seven lamps, and his snuffers, and his snuffdishes, of pure gold.

24 Of a talent of pure gold made he it, and all the vessels thereof.

25 ¶ [9]And he made the incense altar of shittim wood: the length of it was a cubit, and the breadth of it a [2]cubit; it was foursquare; and two cubits was the height of it; the horns thereof were of the same.

26 And he overlaid it with pure gold, both the top of it, and the sides thereof round about, and the horns of it: also he made unto it a crown of gold round about.

27 And he made two rings of gold for it under the crown thereof, by the two corners of it, upon the two sides thereof, to be places for the staves to bear it withal.

28 And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold.

29 ¶ And he made the [b]holy anointing oil, and the pure [c]incense of sweet spices, according to the work of the apothecary.

CHAPTER 38.

1 The altar of burnt offering. 8 The laver of brass. 9 The court. 21 The sum of that the people offered.

2 And he made the horns thereof on the four corners of it; the horns thereof were of the same: and he overlaid it with brass.

4 And he made for the altar a brasen grate of network under the [3]compass thereof beneath unto the midst of it.

5 And he cast four rings for the four ends of the grate of brass, to be places for the staves.

6 And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with brass.

7 And he put the staves into the rings on the sides of the altar, to bear it withal; he made the [1]altar hollow with boards.

8 ¶ And he made the [b]laver of brass, and the foot of it of brass, of the lookingglasses of the women assembling, which assembled at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

4. By this name are denoted the winged creatures which in the religious symbolism of Old Testament are frequently mentioned as attending upon the Most High and as possessed of certain sacred duties in the court of the heavenly beings that surround the court of God. (H.)

1. Verses 1-7, is recorded the construction of the altar of burnt offerings.

2. About 90 inches.

3. Expanded rim or cornice around the top.

Chapter 37.

a. And there I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the mercy seat, from between the two cherubim which are upon the ark of the testimony, of all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Israel. (Ex. 25:22.) And within the oracle he made two cherubim of olive tree, each 10 cubits high. (I Ks. 6:23.) And in the most holy house he made two cherubim of image work, and overlaid them with gold. (II Chr. 3:10.) Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock; thou that dwellest between the cherubim, shine forth. (Ps. 80:1.) Then I looked, and, behold, in the firmament that was above the head of the cherubim there appeared over them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne. (Ez. 10:1.) And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man. (Jno. 1:51.)

b. It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments. (Ps. 133:2.) The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound. (Is. 61:1.) But ye have an unction, from the Holy One, and ye know all things. (I Jno. 2:20.)

c. Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense; and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice. (Ps. 141:2.) Spikenard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense; myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices. (Sol. 4:14.) And in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering; for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1:11.) And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense; that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand. (Rev. 8:3, 4.)

a. For purpose and design of the burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

b. Also he made a molten sea of ten cubits from brim to brim, round in compass, and five cubits the height thereof; and a line of thirty cubits did compass it round about. (II Chr. 4:2.) I will wash mine hands in innocency: so will I compass thine altar, O Lord. (Ps. 26:6.) In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem for sin and for uncleanness. (Zech. 13:1.) Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. (II Cor. 7:1.) Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.)

9 ¶ And he made [c]the court: on the south side southward the hangings of the court were of fine twined linen, an hundred cubits:

10 Their pillars were twenty, and their brasen sockets twenty: the hooks of the pillars and their fillets were of silver.

11 And for the north side the hangings were an hundred cubits, their pillars were twenty, and their sockets of brass twenty; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver.

12 And for the west side were hangings of fifty [2]cubits, their pillars ten, and their sockets ten; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver.

13 And for the east side eastward fifty [2]cubits.

14 The hangings of the one side of the gate were fifteen cubits; their pillars three, and their sockets three.

15 And for the other side of the court gate, on this hand and that hand, were hangings of fifteen cubits; their pillars three, and their sockets three.

16 All the hangings of the court round about were of fine twined linen.

17 And the sockets for the pillars were of brass; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver; and the overlaying of their [4]chapiters of silver; and all the pillars of the court were filleted with silver.

18 And the hanging for the gate of the court was needlework, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen: and twenty cubits was the length, and the height in the breadth was five cubits, answerable to the hangings of the court.

19 And their pillars were four, and their sockets of brass four; their hooks of silver, and the overlaying of their [4]chapiters and their fillets of silver.

20 And all the pins of the tabernacle, and of the court round about, were of brass.

21 ¶ This is the [5]sum of the tabernacle, even of the tabernacle of testimony, as it was counted, according to the commandment of Mō'şeş, for the service of the Lē'vītes, by the hand of Īth'a-mär, son to Aâr'on the priest.

22 And Be-zal'ĕ-el the son of Ū'rī, the son of Hūr, of the tribe of Jū'dah, made all that the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

23 And with him was A-hō'lī-ab, son of A-hīs'a-mach, of the tribe of Dăn, an engraver, and a [6]cunning workman, and an embroiderer in blue, and in purple, and in scarlet, and fine linen.

24 All the gold that was occupied for the work in all the work of the holy place, even the gold of the offering, was twenty and nine talents, and seven hundred and thirty shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary.

25 And the silver of them that were numbered of the congregation was an hundred talents, and a thousand seven hundred and threescore and fifteen shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary:

26 A bekah for every man, that is, half a shekel, after the shekel of the sanctuary, for every one that went to be numbered, from twenty years old and upward, for six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty men.

27 And of the hundred talents of silver were cast the sockets of the sanctuary, and the sockets of the vail; an hundred sockets of the hundred talents, a talent for a socket.

28 And of the thousand seven hundred seventy and five shekels he made hooks for the pillars, and overlaid their chapiters, and filleted them.

29 And the brass of the offering was seventy talents, and two thousand and four hundred shekels.

30 And therewith he made the sockets to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the brasen altar, and the brasen grate for it, and all the vessels of the altar,

31 And the sockets of the court round about, and the sockets of the court gate, and all the pins of the tabernacle, and all the pins of the court round about.

4. The top.

5. The weight of the gold, silver and brass employed in the construction of the sanctuary, viz., gold 29 talents and 730 shekels, equal to 1 ton 4 cwt., 2 qrs., 13 lbs; silver, 100 talents and 1,775 shekels, equal to 4 tons, 4 cwt., 2 qrs., 20 lbs.; brass, 70 talents, 2,400 shekels, equal to 2 tons, 1,900 cwt., 2 qrs. and 11 lbs. The above would be more than $1,000,000 in American currency. (Speaker's Com.)

6 Artistic workmen.

CHAPTER 39.

Ch. 39. B. C. 1491.

1 The cloths of service and holy garments. 2 The ephod. 8 The breastplate. 22 The robe of the ephod. 27 The coats, mitre, and girdle of fine linen. 30 The plate of the holy crown. 32 All is viewed and approved by Moses.

1 And of the blue, and purple, and scarlet, they made cloths of service, to do service in the holy place, and made the holy garments for Aâr'on; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

1. Artistic work.

2 And he made the ephod of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.

2. Settings of gold.

3 And they did beat the gold into thin plates, and cut it into wires, to work it in the blue, and in the purple, and in the scarlet, and in the fine linen, with [1]cunning work.

3. For historical account of Moses see 11, ch. 2.

4 They made shoulderpieces for it, to couple it together: by the two edges was it coupled together.

5 And the [a]curious girdle of his ephod, that was upon it, was of the same, according to the work thereof; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

4. Ruby, the stone of Reuben.

6 ¶ And they wrought onyx stones inclosed in [2]ouches of gold, graven, as signets are graven, [b]with the names of the children of Īs'ra-el.

5. Simeon's stone.

7 And he put them on the shoulders of the ephod, that they should be stones for a memorial to the children of Īs'ra-el; as the Lord commanded [3]Mō'şeş.

6. Levi's stone.

8 ¶ And he made the [c]breastplate of [1]cunning work, like the work of the ephod; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.

7. Judah's stone.

9 It was foursquare; they made the breastplate double: a span was the length thereof, and a span the breadth thereof, being doubled.

8. Issachar's stone.

10 And they set in it four rows of stones: the first row was a [4]sardius, a [5]topaz, and a [6]carbuncle: this was the first row.

9. Zebulun's stone.

11 And the second row, an [7]emerald, a [8]sapphire, and a [9]diamond.

10. Dan's stone.

12 And the third row, a [10]ligure, an [11]agate, and an [12]amethyst.

11. Naphtali's stone.

13 And the fourth row, a [13]beryl, an [14]onyx, and a [15]jasper: they were inclosed in [2]ouches of gold in their inclosings.

12. Gad's stone.

14 And the stones were according to the names of the children of Īs'ra-el, twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet, every one with his name, according to the twelve tribes.

13. Asher's stone.

14. Joseph's stone.

15. Benjamin's stone.

c. And thou shalt make the court of the tabernacle: for the south side southward there shall be hangings for the court of fine twined linen, of an hundred cubits long for one side. (Ex. 27:9.) For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. (Ps. 84:10.) Those that be planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God. (Ps. 92:13.)

Chapter 39.

a. And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins. (Is. 11:5.) Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness. (Eph. 6:14.)

b. Behold I have graven thee upon the palms of my hand; thy walls are continually before me. (Is. 49:16.) To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, saving he that receiveth it. (Rev. 2:17.) And it shall be for a sign unto thee upon thine hand, and for a memorial between thine eyes, that the Lord's law may be in thy mouth. (Ex. 13:9.)

c. And thou shalt make the breastplate of judgment with cunning work; after the work of the ephod, thou shalt make it; of gold, of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine twined linen, shalt thou make it. (Ex. 28:15.) For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as with a cloak. (Is. 59:17.)

15 And they made upon the breastplate chains at the ends, of wreathen work of pure gold.

16 And they made two [2]ouches of gold, and two gold rings; and put the two rings in the two ends of the breastplate.

17 And they put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings on the ends of the breastplate.

18 And the two ends of the two wreathen chains they fastened in the two [2]ouches, and put them on the shoulderpieces of the ephod, before it.

19 And they made two rings of gold, and put them on the two ends of the breastplate, upon the border of it, which was on the side of the ephod inward.

20 And they made two other golden rings, and put them on the two sides of the ephod underneath, toward the forepart of it, over against the other coupling thereof, above the curious girdle of the ephod.

21 And they did bind the breastplate by his rings unto the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, that it might be above the curious girdle of the ephod, and that the breastplate might not be loosed from the ephod; as the Lord commanded [3]Mō'şeş.

22 ¶ And he made the robe of the ephod of woven work, all of blue.

23 And there was an hole in the midst of the robe, as the hole of an [16]habergeon, with a band round about the hole, that it should not rend.

24 And they made upon the hems of the robe pomegranates of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and twined linen.

25 And they made bells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates upon the hem of the robe, round about between the pomegranates;

26 A bell and a pomegranate, a bell and a pomegranate, round about the hem of the robe to minister in; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

27 ¶ And they made coats of fine linen of woven work for Aâr'on, and for his sons,

28 And a [17]mitre of fine linen, and goodly bonnets of fine linen, and linen breeches of fine twined linen,

29 And a girdle of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, of needlework; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

30 ¶ And they made the plate of the holy crown of pure gold, and wrote upon it a writing, like to the engravings of a signet, [d]HOLINESS TO THE LORD.

31 And they tied unto it a lace of blue, to fasten it on high upon the [17]mitre; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

32 ¶ Thus was all the work of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation finished: and the children of Iş'ra-el did according to all that the Lord commanded Mō'şeş, so did they.

33 ¶ And they brought the [18]tabernacle [e]unto Mō'şeş, the tent, and all his furniture, his taches, his boards, his bars, and his pillars, and his sockets,

34 And the covering of rams' skins dyed red, and the covering of badgers' skins, and the vail of the covering,

35 The ark of the testimony, and the staves thereof, and the mercy seat,

16. Soldier's coat of mail.

17. Headwear or cap of high priest.

18. As Moses had received by revelation the plan and pattern of the tabernacle, it was necessary that all of its parts should be submitted to him for inspection.

Ch. 40. B. C. 1491-1490.

1. For historical account of Moses see 11, ch. 2.

2. The early dwelling place of Jehovah where he might meet with his people, prepared according to plans and patterns given by Jehovah himself.

3. The ark containing the covenant or commandments, also the cherubim hovering over the ark as symbolisms of the presence of Jehovah.

4 A round or oval shaped wash bowl.

5. For historical account of Aaron see 21, ch. 4.

36 The table, and all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread,

37 The pure candlestick, with the lamps thereof, even with the lamps to be set in order, and all the vessels thereof, and the oil for light,

38 And the golden altar, and the anointing oil, and the sweet incense, and the hanging for the tabernacle door,

39 The brasen altar, and his grate of brass, his staves, and all his vessels, the laver and his foot,

40 The hangings of the court, his pillars, and his sockets, and the hanging for the court gate, his cords, and his pins, and all the vessels of the service of the tabernacle, for the tent of the congregation, 41 The cloths of service to do service in the holy place, and the holy garments for Aâr'on the priest, and his sons' garments, to minister in the priest's office.

42 According to all that the Lord commanded Mō'şeş, so the children of Iş'ra-el made all the work.

43 And Mō'şeş did look upon all the work, and, behold, they had done it as the Lord had commanded, even so had they done it: and Mō'şeş blessed them.

CHAPTER 40.

1 The tabernacle is commanded to be reared, 9 and anointed. 13 Aaron and his sons to be sanctified. 16 Moses performeth all things accordingly. 34 A cloud covereth the tabernacle.

1 And the Lord spake unto [1]Mō'şeş, saying,

2 On the first day of the first month shalt thou set up the [2]tabernacle of the tent of the congregation.

3 And thou shalt put therein the [3]ark of the testimony, and cover the ark with the vail.

4 And thou shalt bring in the table, and set in order the things that are to be set in order upon it; and thou shalt bring in the candlestick, and light the lamps thereof.

5 And thou shalt set the [a]altar of gold for the incense before the ark of the testimony, and put the hanging of the door to the [2]tabernacle.

6 And thou shalt set the altar of the [b]burnt offering before the door of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation.

7 And thou shalt set the [4]laver between the tent of the congregation and the altar, and shalt put water therein.

8 And thou shalt set up the court round about, and hang up the hanging at the court gate.

9 And thou shalt take the anointing oil, and anoint the [2]tabernacle, and all that is therein, and shalt hallow it, and all the vessels thereof: and it shall be holy.

10 And thou shalt anoint the altar of the [b]burnt offering, and all his vessels, and sanctify the altar: and it shall be an altar most holy.

11 And thou shalt anoint the laver and his foot, and sanctify it.

12 And thou shalt bring [5]Aâr'on and his sons unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and wash them with water.

13 And thou shalt put upon Aâr'on the holy

d. Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine house, O Lord, for ever. (Ps. 93:5.) And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the Lord: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently and for durable clothing. (Is. 23:18.) In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD, and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar. (Zech. 14:20.)

e. Then verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary (1). For there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the showbread; which is called the Sanctuary (2). And after the second vail, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all (3). Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant (4). And over it the cherubim of glory shadowing the mercy seat. (Heb. 9:1-5.)

Chapter 40.

a. For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us. (Heb. 9:24.) Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus (19). Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:19, 22.)

b. For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

garments, and anoint him, and sanctify him; that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.

14 And thou shalt bring his sons, and clothe them with coats:

15 And thou shalt anoint them, as thou didst anoint their father, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office: for their anointing shall surely be an everlasting priesthood throughout their generations.

16 Thus did Mō'şeş: according to all that the Lord commanded him, so did he.

17 ¶ And it came to pass in the first month in the second year, on the first day of the month, that the [2]tabernacle was reared up.

18 And [1]Mō'şeş reared up the tabernacle, and fastened his sockets, and set up the boards thereof, and put in the bars thereof, and reared up his pillars.

19 And he spread abroad the tent over the tabernacle, and put the covering of the tent above upon it; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

20 ¶ And he took and put the [e]testimony intō the ark, and set the staves on the ark, and put the mercy seat above upon the ark:

21 And he brought the ark into the tabernacle, and set up the vail of the covering, and covered the ark of the testimony; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

22 ¶ And he put the table in the tent of the congregation, upon the side of the tabernacle northward, without the vail.

23 And he set the bread in order upon it before the Lord; as the Lord had commanded Mō'şeş.

24 ¶ And he put the candlestick in the tent of the congregation, over against the table, on the side of the tabernacle southward.

25 And he lighted the lamps before the Lord; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

6. The tables of the law, or the commandments.

7. The pillar of cloud by day and fire by night rested over the tabernacle, and when it moved from over the tabernacle it was a signal to the people that they should get ready for march; but as long as it remained stationary, they were to remain in camp, whether a day or six months.

26 ¶ And he put the golden altar in the tent of the congregation before the vail:

27 And he burnt sweet incense thereon; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

28 ¶ And he set up the hanging at the door of the tabernacle.

29 And he put the altar of burnt [b]offering by the door of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation, and offered upon it the burnt offering and the meat offering; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

30 ¶ And he set the [4]laver between the tent of the congregation and the altar, and put water there, to wash withal.

31 And [1]Mō'şeş and [5]Aâr'on and his sons washed their hands and their feet thereat:

32 When they went into the tent of the congregation, and when they came near unto the altar, they washed; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

33 And he reared up the court round about the tabernacle and the altar, and set up the hanging of the court gate. So [1]Mō'şeş finished the work.

34 ¶ Then a [c]cloud covered the tent of the congregation, and the glory of the Lord filled the [2]tabernacle.

35 And Mō'şeş was not [c]able to enter into the tent of the congregation, because the cloud abode thereon, and the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle.

36 And when the [c]cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle, the children of Ĭs'ra-el went onward in all their journeys:

37 But if the cloud [c]were not taken up, then they journeyed not till the day that it was taken up.

38 For the cloud [c]of the Lord was upon the tabernacle by day, and fire was on it by night, in the sight of all the house of Ĭs'ra-el, throughout all their journeys.

c. And the Lord said unto Moses, Speak unto Aaron thy brother, that he come not at all times into the holy place within the vail before the mercy seat, which is upon the ark; that he die not: for I will appear in a cloud upon the mercy seat. (Lev. 16:2.) And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke. (Is. 6:4.) And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power. (Rev. 15:8.) So that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of the Lord. (I Ks. 8:11.) In the daytime also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire. (Ps. 78:14.) And on the day that the tabernacle was reared up, the cloud covered the tabernacle, namely, the tent of the testimony; and at even there was upon the tabernacle as it were the appearance of fire until the morning. (Num. 9:15.)

LEVITICUS

NOTE.—Leviticus, the third book of the Pentateuch, was called by the Jews, Vayikra, from the initial word, meaning "and he called out," but since the Seventy translated it into Greek, it has been known in all European languages by the name of Leviticus, from the prominent part in the sacrificial rites performed by the tribe of Levi. The Talmud calls it the Law of Priests and also the Book of the Law of Offerings. It is the title page or preface of that minute and comprehensive system of offerings and sacrifices which Jehovah devised for the spiritual culture of the Hebrews and for prefiguring "Jesus, the Mediator of the New Covenant, and the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel."

In the true sense of history, it is historical only in that portion relating to the consecration of Aaron and his sons, their first offering of sacrifice, the judicial death of Aaron's two elder sons, Nadab and Abihu (ch. 10:1-7), and the arrest and execution of the blasphemer (ch. 24:10-23). Leviticus largely contains the further statements and developments of the Sinaitic legislation, the beginnings of which are described in Exodus, and exhibits the historical progress of that legislation.

The book also is partly of a prophetical character, as the law giver represents to himself the future history of his people. The prophetical character is especially manifested in chs. 25, 26, where the law appears in a truly sublime and divine attitude, and when its predictions refer to the whole futurity of a nation. Leviticus, being written by persons wholly of Jewish faith who have clearly elucidated their conception of Christian doctrine, especially of the atonement and of the exegesis of the epistle to the Hebrews, is of great value in the interpretation of the New Testament. It is also a repository of Jewish antiquities and a book deeply interesting to scientists, containing the earliest classifications of zoology and ornithology, and a minute diagnosis of the dreadful scourge of leprosy. It will be interesting for the reader to observe how in Exodus and Leviticus the idea of the holiness of Jehovah is gradually unfolded to the human race. Previous to the accounts recorded by these books the complete character or holiness of God which forms the bright background on which the deformities of sin must be portrayed had not been fully and emphatically disclosed. To the early patriarchs God always reveals the kind, gracious and merciful side of his nature. He talks with Abraham as a friend, putting him quite at ease in his presence; while Sarah laughs with incredulity when hearing the words of promise from the Lord's lips.

With the patriarchs there is no inspiration of painful awe, no putting off the sandals to tread upon hallowed ground sanctified by the tread of the most holy Jehovah. In the record of patriarchal life throughout the book of Genesis we look in vain for the words "holy" and "holiness" as descriptive of the character of Jehovah. From Adam to Moses there is no specific declaration or revelation of the holiness of the Supreme One. The hour had not arrived for the revelation of this attribute till the exiled Moses turned aside from his flock at Mt. Horeb to see the bush burning yet not consumed (Ex. 3:3), and to hear the sudden and awful words, "Draw not hither, I am holy," which gave to the world a new aspect of the nature and character of Jehovah, that from this hour was to be unfolded with ever increasing splendor throughout the records in Exodus and Leviticus. And now, for the first time since the fall of Adam, sin—through contrast—has received its proper measure and is seen as "exceeding sinful" and needs to be purged from the conscience by blood distinctly expiatory. Hence the offerings and sacrifices given to the Hebrew children in Leviticus. Leviticus, thus resolved into its component parts, becomes a great witness to the Christian doctrine of evolution. As herein recorded, under the inspiration and prompting of the spirit of God the laws for conduct and worship were shaped and modified, their form largely depending on historical circumstances. Side by side with the prophetic the priestly view of religion was needed. Jehovah was Israel's God; his righteousness and his holiness were now the phases of his character held to view and the law of holiness is given to the people.

The Mosaic authorship of Leviticus has been less questioned by modern critics than any other book of the law. The space of time covered is about one month. Compare Ex. 40:17 with Num. 1:1. Leviticus is readily divided into four parts: (1) The law of sacrifice (chs. 1-7), (2) the consecration of the priesthood (chs. 8-10), (3) the law of clean and unclean, with appendix on the day of atonement (chs. 11-16), (4) the law of holiness, with appendix (chs. 17-27). The central idea of the book—its spiritual meaning—is a prophecy of things to come, a shadow whereof the substance was Christ and his kingdom. The whole system breathes of heavenly mysteries. We cannot read the Epistle to the Hebrews without acknowledging that the Levitical priests served the type and pattern of heavenly things, that the sacrifices of the law pointed to and found their interpretation in the Lamb of God and in everything set forth the new attribute of Jehovah which had just been revealed, the holiness of Jehovah.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The burnt offerings. 3 Of the herd, 10 of the flocks, 14 of the fowls.

1 And the [1]Lord [2]called [a]unto [3]Mō'ses, and spake unto him out of the tabernacle of the congregation, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, and say unto them, If any man of you bring an offering unto the Lord, ye shall bring your offering of the cattle, even of the herd, and of the flock.

3 If his offering be a [4]burnt sacrifice of the herd, let him offer a [5]male [b]without blemish: he shall offer it of his own voluntary will at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord.

Ch. 1. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Chs. 1-7 are legislative in character and form the ritual of the altar; the chosen people having received the decalogue at the foot of Sinai, where, amidst the display of all that is terrific in the elements, they received two revelations—the holiness of Jehovah and the expression of his will—the purpose of both being that the divine purity, as a mirror, reflect the awfulness of sin wherein man may discover his moral defilements and the race be sanctified and elevated.

The imperative demand of the hour for that great host is a means of atonement for their sins which the great lawgiver now prepares.

1. The Hebrew word for Lord is Jehovah, a name which has very recently been disclosed in all its fullness to the Hebrew children and which means the holy, covenant-making, self-existing, eternal God.

4 And he [c]shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be [d]accepted for him to [c]make [c]atonement for him.

5 And he shall kill the [8]bullock before the Lord: and the priests, [9]Aâr'on's sons, shall bring the blood, and sprinkle the blood round about upon the altar that is by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

6 And he shall [7]flay the burnt offering, and cut it into his pieces.

7 And the sons of Aâr'on the priest shall put fire upon the altar, and lay the wood in order upon the fire.

8 And the priests, Aâr'on's sons, shall [10]lay the parts, the head, and the fat, in order upon the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar:

2. Called as if with an audible voice. This is the sixth and last time this word is used in Hebrew to indicate the method of communicating the divine will to Moses.

3. For historical account of Moses, see Ex., ch. 2, note 1.

4. The burnt sacrifice symbolizes the devotement of the entire man to the services of God. As fire purifies what it does not consume, it typifies the sanctifier, consuming inward sin and cleansing the indestructible essence of the soul.

5. All animals are spoken of as defective, when blind, broken, maimed, scabbed, having wens or scurvy, parts lacking or superfluous; also the castrated, spoken of as cut, crushed, bruised or broken. An animal was also considered an imperfect offering if under eight days old (Ex. 22:30). "Seven days it shall be with his dam: on the eighth day thou shalt give it me." This lesson constantly taught morning and evening to the people the sinlessness of Jesus Christ, "the Lamb without blemish and without spot."

6. The Hebrew primarily signifies to cover up, to conceal, hence to expiate, to forgive. The word atonement occurs only once in the New Testament (Rom. 5:11) and there signifies a reconciliation in our relations with God, but in the Old Testament it signifies expiation.

7. Skin.

8. The Biblical term used for the perfect son of a bull.

9. Designated (Ex. 29), but not yet consecrated (Lev. ch. 8).

10. The victim was cut in pieces to facilitate the burning.

Ref. Leviticus, Chapter 1.

a. And Moses went up unto God, and the Lord called unto him out of the mountain, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel. (Ex. 19:3.)

b. But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen. (Mal. 1:14.) That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish. (Eph. 5:27.) Ye shall offer at your own will a male without blemish, of the beeves, of the sheep, or of the goats (19). But whatsoever hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer; for it shall not be acceptable for you (20). And whosoever offereth a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the Lord to accomplish his vow, or a freewill offering in beeves or sheep, it shall be perfect to be accepted; there shall be no blemish therein (21). Blind, or broken, or maimed, or having a wen, or scurvy, or scabbed, ye shall not offer these unto the Lord, nor make an offering by fire of them upon the altar unto the Lord (22). Either a bullock or a lamb that hath any thing superfluous or lacking in his parts, that mayest thou offer for a freewill offering; but for a vow it shall not be accepted (23). Ye shall not offer unto the Lord that which is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut; neither shall ye make any offering thereof in your land (24). Neither from a stranger's hand shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these; because their corruption is in them and blemishes be in them: they shall not be accepted for you. (Lev. 22:19-25.)

c. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. (Isaiah 53:4.)

d. Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer; their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people. (Isaiah 56:7.)

e. And he shall do with the bullock as he did with the bullock for a sin offering, so shall he do with this: and the priest shall make an atonement for them and it shall be forgiven them. (Lev. 4:20.) And the priest shall make an atonement for all the congregation of the children of Israel, and it shall be forgiven them; for it is ignorance. (Num. 15:25.) And he shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be accepted for him to make atonement for him. (Lev. 1:4.) When a ruler hath sinned, and done somewhat through ignorance against any of the commandments of the Lord, his God, concerning things which should not be done, and is guilty (22). Or if his sin, wherein he hath sinned, come to his knowledge, he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a male without blemish (23). And if any one of the common people sin through ignorance, while he doeth somewhat against any of the commandments of the Lord, concerning things which ought not to be done, and be guilty (27); Or, if his sin, which he hath sinned, come to his knowledge: then he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a female without blemish, for his sin which he hath sinned (28). And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offering, and slay the sin offering in the place of the burnt offering (29). And the priest shall take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out all the blood thereof at the bottom of the altar (30). And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat is taken away from all the sacrifice of peace offerings; and the priest shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savor unto the Lord; and the priest shall make an atonement for him, and it shall be forgiven him. (Lev. 4:22, 23, 27-31.) And the priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord; and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he hath done in trespassing therein. (Lev. 6:7.) The anti-type Jesus Christ having come in the new dispensation to make atonement for man, the type of the old dispensation has been done away with—For this is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sin. (Math. 26:28.) Who was delivered

9 But his [11]inwards and his legs shall he wash in water: and the priest shall burn [12]all on the altar, to be a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a [f]sweet [13]savour unto the Lord.

10 ¶ And if his offering be of the flocks, namely, of the sheep, or of the goats, for a burnt sacrifice; he shall bring it a male without [b]blemish.

11 And he shall kill it on the side of the altar northward before the Lord: and the priests, Aär'on's sons, shall sprinkle his blood round about upon the altar.

12 And he shall cut it into his pieces, with his head and his fat: and the priest shall lay them in order on the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar:

13 But he shall wash the [11]inwards and the [11]legs with water: and the priest shall bring it [12]all, and burn it upon the altar: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet [13]savour unto the Lord.

14 ¶ And if the burnt sacrifice for his offering to the Lord be of [14]fowls, then he shall bring his offering of [g]turtledoves, or of young pigeons.

15 And the priest shall bring it unto the altar, and [15]wring off his head, and burn it on the altar; and the blood thereof shall be wrung out at the side of the altar:

16 And he shall pluck away his [16]crop with his [17]feathers, and cast it beside the altar on the east part, by the place of the ashes:

17 And he shall cleave it with the wings thereof, but [h]shall not divide it asunder: and the priest shall burn it upon the altar, upon the wood that is upon the fire: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord.

CHAPTER 2.

1 The meat offering of flour with oil and incense, 4 either baken in the oven, 5 or on a plate, 7 or in a fryingpan, 12 or of the firstfruits in the ear. 13 The salt of the meat offering.

1 And when any will offer [1]a meat [a]offering unto the [2]Lord, his offering shall be of fine flour; and he shall pour oil upon it, and put frankincense thereon:

2 And he shall bring it to Aär'on's sons the priests: and he shall take thereout his handful of the flour thereof, and of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof; and the priest shall burn the [3]memorial of it upon the altar, to be an offering made by fire, of a sweet [b]savour unto the [2]Lord:

3 And the remnant of the [1]meat offering shall be Aär'on's and his sons': [c]it is a thing most holy of the offerings of the [2]Lord made by fire.

4 ¶ And if thou [4]bring an oblation of a [1]meat [a]offering baken in the oven, it shall be unleavened cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, or unleavened wafers anointed with oil.

5 ¶ And if thy oblation be a [1]meat [a]offering baken in a pan, it shall be of fine flour unleavened, mingled with oil.

6 Thou shalt part it in pieces, and pour oil thereon: it is a [1]meat [a]offering.

7 ¶ And if thy oblation be a [a]meat offering baken in the [5]fryingpan, it shall be made of fine flour with oil.

8 And thou shalt bring the [1]meat [a]offering that is made of these [6]things unto the [2]Lord: and when it is presented unto the priest, he shall bring it unto the altar.

9 And the priest shall take from the [1]meat [a]offering a memorial thereof, and shall burn it upon the altar: it is an offering made by fire, of a sweet [b]savour unto the [2]Lord.

10 And that which is left of the [a]meat offering shall be Aär'on's and his sons': it is a thing most [c]holy of the offerings of the [2]Lord made by fire.

11 No [1]meat [a]offering, which ye shall bring unto the [2]Lord, shall be made with [7]leaven[d]: for [8]ye shall burn no leaven, nor any honey, in any offering of the Lord made by fire.

12 ¶ As for the oblation of the [9]firstfruits, ye shall offer them unto the [2]Lord: but they shall not be burnt on the altar for a sweet savour.

13 And every oblation of thy [1]meat offering shalt thou [e][10]season with salt; neither shalt thou suffer the salt [f]of the covenant of thy God to be lacking from thy [1]meat offering: with all thine offerings thou shalt offer salt.

14 And if thou offer a [1]meat offering of thy firstfruits unto the [2]Lord, thou shalt offer for the [1]meat offering of thy [g]firstfruits green [11]ears of corn dried by the fire, even corn beaten out of full ears.

15 And thou shalt put oil upon it, and lay frankincense thereon: it is a meat offering.

16 And the priest shall burn the memorial of it, part of the beaten corn thereof, and part of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof: it is an offering made by fire unto the [2]Lord.

---

11. The intestines, because they contained impurities, could not be burned until they had first been cleansed. Also, the lower parts below the knees having contracted defilement in walking, were not fit to lay upon the altar until they had been cleansed.

12. A part was to be retained of all offerings save the burnt offering, which was to be entirely consumed, as it was to represent the entire man.

13. A symbolism typifying that God receives with delight every true act of worship.

14. Jehovah adjusts the offering to the ability of the offerer, that none may be excluded.

15. Or pinch off the head with the nail.

16. Craw.

17. The great majority of Hebrew scholars agree that this expression, instead of being translated, feathers, should be, filth in the craw and connected viscera.

Ch. 2. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 1 gives the law for the burnt offering, which was an expiatory offering. Ch. 2 gives the law for the meat offering, spoken of in the R. V. as meal offering, food of any kind, and is therefore classed as a bloodless offering, which cannot be given until the expiatory or burnt offering has been offered to God. The meal offering and peace offering are designed to afford the offerer a visible medium of communion with the invisible Jehovah.

1. Meal or food offering; the showbread.

2. Jehovah.

3. Shall burn it as a memorial thereof upon the altar. (R. V.)

4. A general term for offering.

5. The Hebrew word is found in only one other place in the Bible (ch. 7:9). Gesenius defined it as kettle, rather than a pan to fry in.

6. The bread or food stuff.

7. Because of fermentation, was impure.

8. Not to be used because capable of fermentation, hence the active principle of corruption was in its very nature, and it was also a wild product and therefore did not carry with it the idea of property, which was requisite to sacrifices.

9. This offering was to be made publicly by the nation at the three great annual festivals: (1) On the day of the passover Sabbath a sheaf, usually of barley, was waved before the altar—before this festival no harvesting could be begun; (2) at the feast of Pentecost, 50 days afterward, as the word signifies, two loaves made from the new flour were to be waved in a similar manner; (3) the feast of ingathering or the feast of tabernacles, which was an acknowledgement of Jehovah's gift of fruitfulness. Though the Lord required the firstfruits of all the harvest, only seven kinds in their natural state were by usage liable to oblation, viz., wheat, barley, grapes, figs, pomegranates, olives and dates. The minimum fixed by law was one-sixtieth, which was in addition to the tithes, or one-tenth.

10. From its antiseptic quality salt is suggestive of that moral purity and fidelity required of all true worshipers. It was also applied to the bread offering because it was a perpetual memorial of the bond or union between Jehovah and Israel. (Num. 18:19)—"Thou shalt not suffer the salt of the covenant of thy God to be lacking."

11. Wheat and barley heads were called ears.

for our offences, and was raised again for our justification. (Rom. 4:25.) Grace be to you and peace, from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ, Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father. (Gal. 1:3, 4.) Walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savour. (Eph. 5:2.)

f. And the Lord smelled a sweet savour; and the Lord said in his heart, I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake; for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; neither will I again smite any more every thing living, as I have done. (Gen. 8:21.) For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish. (II Cor. 2:15.)

g. And if he be not able to bring a lamb then he shall bring for his trespass, which he hath committed, two turtle doves, or two young pigeons, unto the Lord; one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. (Lev. 5:7.) And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, a pair of turtle doves or two young pigeons. (Luke 2:24.)

h. And he took unto him all these, and divided them in the midst, and laid each piece one against another, but the birds divided he not. (Gen. 15:10.) And he shall bring them unto the priest, who shall offer that which is for the sin offering first and wring off his head from his neck, but shall not divide it asunder. (Lev. 5:8.)

Chapter 2.

a. And this is the law of the meat offering; the sons of Aaron shall offer it before the Lord, before the altar. (Lev. 6:14.) Then shall he that offereth his offering unto the Lord bring a meat offering of a tenth deal of flour mingled with the fourth part of an hin of oil. (Num. 15:4.)

b. See f, ch. 1.

c. This shall be thine of the most holy things, reserved from the fire; every oblation of theirs, every meat offering of theirs, and every sin offering of theirs, and every trespass offering of theirs, which they shall render unto me, shall be most holy for thee and for thy sons. (Num. 18:9.)

d. It shall not be baken with leaven. I have given it unto them for their portion of my offerings made by fire; it is most holy, as is the sin offering, and as the trespass offering. (Lev. 6:17.) Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees. (Math. 16:12.) And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod. (Mk. 8:15.) Therefore let us keep up the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. (I Cor. 5:8.) A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump. (Gal. 5:9.)

e. For every one shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt. (Mk. 9:49.) Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man. (Col. 4:6.)

f. All the heave offerings of the holy things, which the children of Israel offer unto the Lord, have I given thee, and thy sons and thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: it is a covenant of salt for ever before the Lord unto thee and to thy seed with thee. (Num. 18:19.) Ought ye not to know that the Lord God of Israel gave the kingdom over Israel to David for ever, even to him and to his sons by a covenant of salt? (II Chr. 13:5.)

g. The first of the first-fruits of thy land thou shalt bring unto the house of the Lord thy God. (Ex. 23:19.) Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.)

CHAPTER 3.

1 The peace offering of the herd, 6 of the flock, 7 either a lamb, 12 or a goat.

1 And if his oblation be a [a]sacrifice of [1]peace offering, if he offer it of the herd; whether it be a male or female; he shall offer it [b]without blemish before the [2]Lord.

2 And [c]he shall lay his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aâr'on's sons the priests shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.

3 And he shall offer of the sacrifice of the peace offering an offering made by fire unto the [2]Lord; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,

4 And the two [3]kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away.

5 And Aâr'on's sons shall burn it on the altar upon the burnt sacrifice, which is upon the wood that is on the fire: it is an offering made by fire, of a sweet [d]savour unto the [2]Lord.

6 ¶ And if his offering for a sacrifice of peace [a]offering unto the [2]Lord be of the flock; male or female, he shall offer it without [b]blemish.

7 If he offer a lamb for his offering, then shall he offer it before the [2]Lord.

8 And he shall lay [c]his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it before the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aâr'on's sons shall sprinkle the blood thereof round about upon the altar.

9 And he shall offer of the sacrifice of the peace [a]offering an offering made by fire unto the [2]Lord; the fat thereof, and the whole [4]rump, it shall he take off hard by the backbone; and the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,

10 And the two [3]kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away.

11 And the priest shall burn it upon the altar: it is the food [e]of the offering made by fire [5]unto the [2]Lord.

12 ¶ And if his offering be a goat, then he shall offer it before the [2]Lord.

13 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of it, and kill it before the tabernacle of the congregation: and the sons of Aâr'on shall sprinkle the blood thereof upon the altar round about.

14 And he shall offer thereof his offering, even an offering made by fire unto the [2]Lord; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,

15 And the two [3]kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away.

16 And the priest shall burn them upon the altar: it is the food [e]of the offering made by fire for a sweet savour: all the fat is the Lord's.

17 It shall be a [6]perpetual statute for your generations throughout all your dwellings, that ye eat neither fat nor [f]blood.

CHAPTER 4.

1 The sin offering of ignorance, 3 for the priest, 13 for the congregation, 22 for the ruler, 27 for any of the people.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, saying, If a [3]soul [a]shall sin through [4]ignorance against any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which ought not to be done, and shall do against any of them:

3 [5]If the priest that is anointed do sin according to the sin of the people; then let him [6]bring for his sin, which he hath sinned, a [b]young bullock without [c]blemish unto the [1]Lord for a sin offering.

4 And he shall bring the bullock unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the [1]Lord; and shall lay his hand upon the bullock's head, and kill the bullock before the [1]Lord.

5 And the priest that is anointed shall take of the bullock's blood, and bring it to the tabernacle of the congregation:

6 And the priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood [7]seven times before the [1]Lord, [d]before the vail of the sanctuary.

7 And the priest shall put some of the blood upon the horns of the altar of sweet incense before the [1]Lord, which is in the tabernacle of the congregation; and shall pour [e]all the blood of the bullock at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

8 And he shall take off from it all the fat of the bullock for the sin offering; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,

9 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away,

10 As it was taken off from the bullock of the sacrifice of peace offerings: and the priest shall burn them upon the altar of the burnt offering.

11 And the [f]skin of the bullock, and all his flesh, with his head, and with his legs, and his inwards, and his dung,

12 Even the whole bullock shall he carry forth without the camp unto a clean place, where the ashes are poured out, and burn him

Ch. 3. B. C. 1490.

1. Rendered by the Seventy a sacrifice of salvation, implying that it restores peace. By others styled a thanksgiving offering of one in the enjoyment of peace, and was to be eaten by the offerer and his friends in a festive banquet.

2. Jehovah.

3. The kidneys were burned because they were the supposed seat of some of the strongest sensual uncleanliness. By others their burning signifies the purgation by the fire of the holy spirit of the inscrutable depths of the spiritual nature and the cleansing of the heart from inbred sin.

4. A very unfortunate translation, as it should be read fat tail.

Ch. 4. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—The burnt offering, meat offering and peace offering are known as traditional, inasmuch as they are supposed to have been the practices of the people before the giving of the law of the priesthood. Ch. 4 introduces two offerings created by the law, viz., a sin offering and a trespass offering. They are introduced and their nature explained as though they were entirely unknown previous to this time. Simultaneous with the announcement that all errors and inadvertences are culpable, the sin offering is introduced.

1. Jehovah.

2. For life of Moses see 11, Ch. 2, Ex.

3. It is a noteworthy fact that throughout the description of sacrifices, Jehovah makes provision not for men, but for souls.

4. Up to this time Jehovah had overlooked the sins of his people which arose from lack of knowledge and imperfect judgment, hence the Hebrew word, shaggah—in error—occurs here for the first time in the Bible.

5. Vs. 3-12 deal with the sins of a priest.

6. Offer.

7. The number seven represents perfection.

Chapter 3.

a. And whosoever offereth the sacrifice of peace offerings unto the Lord to accomplish his vow, or a free-will offering in beeves or sheep, it shall be perfect to be accepted; there shall be no blemish therein. (Lev. 22:21.)

b. See b, ch. 1.

c. Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows; yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. (Is. 53:4.) So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. (Heb. 9:28.) Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness; by whose stripes ye were healed. (I Pet. 2:24.)

d. See f, ch. 1.

e. Speak unto Aaron and to his sons, that they separate themselves from the holy things of the children of Israel, and that they profane not my holy name in those things which they hallow unto me; I am the Lord. (Lev. 22:25.) Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? in that we say, The table of the Lord is contemptible (7). But ye have profaned it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted; and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible. (Mal. 1:7, 12.)

f. But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat. (Gen. 9:4.) For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure; but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence (20). And he that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith; for whatsoever is not of faith is sin. (Rom. 14:20, 23.) Only be sure that thou eat not the blood; for the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh. (Dt. 12:23.) But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood. (Acts 15:20.)

a. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night showeth knowledge. (Ps. 19:2.)

b. And he said unto Aaron, Take thee a young calf for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering, without blemish, and offer them before the Lord. (Lev. 9:2.) And this is a thing that thou shalt do unto them to hallow them, to minister unto me in the priest's office: Take one young bullock, and two rams without blemish. (Ex. 29:1.)

c. See b, ch. 1.

d. The Lord is well pleased for his righteousness' sake; he will magnify the law, and make it honorable. (Is. 42:21.) To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation. (II Cor. 5:19.) And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof; for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation. (Rev. 5:9.)

e. And he shall sprinkle of the blood of the sin offering upon the side of the altar; and the rest of the blood shall be wrung out at the bottom of the altar; it is a sin offering. (Lev. 5:9.)

f. But the flesh of the bullock, and his skin, and his dung, shalt thou burn with fire without the camp. It is a sin offering. (Ex. 29:14.)

on the wood with fire: where the ashes are poured out shall he be burnt.

13 ¶ [8]And if the whole congregation of Ĭs'-ra-el sin through ignorance, and the thing be hid from the eyes of the assembly, and they have done somewhat against any of the commandments of the [1]Lord concerning things which should not be done, and are gulty;

14 When the sin, which they have sinned against, is known, then the congregation shall offer a young bullock for the sin, and bring him before the tabernacle of the congregation.

15 And the elders of the congregation [g]shall lay their hands upon the head of the bullock before the [1]Lord: and the bullock shall be killed before the [1]Lord.

16 And the [h]priest that is anointed shall bring of the bullock's blood to the tabernacle of the congregation:

17 And the priest shall dip his finger in some of the blood, and sprinkle it seven times before the Lord, even before the vail.

18 And he shall put some of the blood upon the horns of the altar which is before the Lord, that is in the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall pour out all the blood at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

19 And he shall take all his fat from him, and burn it upon the altar.

20 And he shall do with the bullock as he did with the bullock for a sin offering, so shall he do with this: and the [i]priest shall make an [9]atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them.

21 And he shall carry forth the bullock without the camp, and burn him as he burned the first bullock: it is a sin offering for the congregation.

22 ¶ [10]When a ruler hath sinned, and done somewhat through ignorance against any of the commandments of the Lord his God concerning things which should not be done, and is guilty;

23 Or if his sin, wherein he hath sinned, come to his knowledge; he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a male without [c]blemish:

24 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the goat, and kill it in the place where they kill the burnt offering before the Lord: it is a sin offering.

25 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out his blood at the bottom of the altar of burnt offering.

26 And he shall burn all his fat upon the altar, as the fat of the sacrifice of peace offerings: and the priest shall make an [9]atonement [i]for him as concerning his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.

27 ¶ [11]And if any one of the common people sin through ignorance, while he doeth somewhat against any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which ought not to be done, and be guilty;

28 Or if his sin, which he hath sinned, come to his knowledge: then he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a female [c]without blemish, for his sin which he hath sinned.

29 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offering, and slay the sin offering in the place of the burnt offering.

30 And the priest shall take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out all the blood thereof at the bottom of the altar.

31 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat is taken away from off the sacrifice of peace offerings; and the priest shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savour unto the [1]Lord; and the priest shall make an [9]atonement [i]for him, and it shall be forgiven him.

32 And if he bring a lamb for a sin offering, he shall bring it a female [c]without blemish.

33 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offering, and slay it for a sin offering in the place where they kill the burnt offering.

34 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out all the blood thereof at the bottom of the altar:

35 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat of the lamb is taken away from the sacrifice of the peace offerings; and the priest shall burn them upon the altar, according to the offerings made by fire unto the [1]Lord: and the priest shall make an [9]atonement [i]for his sin that he hath committed, and it shall be forgiven him.

CHAPTER 5.

1 He that sinneth in concealing his knowledge, 2 in touching an unclean thing, 4 or in making an oath. 6 His trespass offering, of the flock, 7 of fowls, 11 or of flour. 14 The trespass offering in sacrilege, 17 and in sins of ignorance.

1 And if a soul sin, and [1]hear the voice of swearing, and is a witness, whether he hath seen or known of it; if he do not utter it, then he shall [a]bear his [2]iniquity.

2 Or if a [3]soul touch any unclean thing, whether it be a carcase of an unclean beast, or a carcase of unclean cattle, or the carcase of unclean creeping things, and if it be hidden from him; he also shall be [4]unclean, and guilty.

3 Or if he touch the uncleanness of man, whatsoever uncleanness it be that a man shall be defiled withal, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty.

4 Or if a [3]soul [5]swear, pronouncing with his lips to do [b]evil, or to do good, whatsoever it be

8. Vs. 13-21 refer to the sin of the congregation.

9. To make propitiation for; to cover up.

10. Vs. 22-26, the sin of a prince or of the rulers.

11. Vs. 27-35 refer to the sin of private individuals. The only difference between the method of expiating the sin of a private person and that of a ruler is the offering, which is to be a female for the private and a male for the ruler.

Ch. 5. B. C. 1490.

NOTE. Ch. 5 deals with the trespass offering, which is to be offered when the individual, unwittingly or without special purpose, trespasses against the ordinances of God in respect to holy things or the rights of property.

1. The sin of concealing testimony and thus thwarting justice.

2. Bear his part in equity, because of helping to conceal he becomes a partaker of the crime.

3. Anyone.

4. Vs. 2, 3 describe the involuntary violation of ceremonial purity.

5. The sin of inadvertency in oaths or vows.

g. And he shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be accepted for him to make atonement for him. (Lev. 1:4.)

h. Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us (12). For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh (13): How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit, offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God. (Heb. 9:12-14.)

i. Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him (9). For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life (10). And not only so, but we also joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement. (Rom. 5:9-11.) Wherefore in all things it behooved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest, in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. (Heb. 2:17.) For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect (1). And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices which can never take away sins. But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God. (Heb. 10:1, 11, 12.) And he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. (I Jno. 2:2.) Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's; for this he did once when he offered up himself. For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore. (Heb. 7:27, 28.) In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.)

a. But if he wash them not, nor bathe his flesh, then he shall bear his iniquity. (Lev. 17:16.) Therefore every one that eateth it shall bear his iniquity, because he hath profaned the hallowed thing of the Lord: and that soul shall be cut off from among his people. (Lev. 19:8.) But the man that is clean, and is not in a journey, and forbeareth to keep the passover, even the same soul shall be cut off from among his people; because he brought not the offering of the Lord in his appointed season, that man shall bear his sin. (Num. 9:13.)

b. And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:5.) And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, that a man shall pronounce with an oath, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty in one of these.

5 And it shall be, when he shall be guilty in one of these things, that he shall [c]confess that he hath sinned in that thing:

6 And he shall bring his [6]trespass offering unto the Lord for his sin which he hath sinned, a female from the flock, a lamb or a kid of the goats, for a sin offering; and the priest shall make [d]an atonement for him concerning his sin.

7 And if he be not able to bring a lamb, then he shall bring for his trespass, which he hath committed, two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, unto the Lord: [7]one for a sin offering, and the [7]other for a burnt offering.

8 And he shall bring them unto the priest, who shall offer that which is for the sin offering [7]first, and [8]wring off his head from his neck, but shall not divide it asunder:

9 And he shall sprinkle of the blood of the sin offering upon the side of the altar; and the rest of the blood shall be wrung out at the bottom of the altar: it is a sin offering.

10 And he shall offer the second for a burnt offering, according to the manner: and the priest shall make an [9]atonement [d]for him for his sin which he hath sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

11 ¶ But if he be not able to bring two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, then he that sinned shall bring for his offering the [10]tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a sin offering; he shall put no oil upon it, neither shall he put any frankincense thereon[11]: for it is a sin offering.

12 Then shall he bring it to the priest, and the priest shall take his handful of it, even a memorial thereof, and burn it on the altar, according to the offerings made by fire unto the [12]Lord: it is a sin offering.

13 And the priest shall make an [9]atonement[d] for him as touching his sin that he hath sinned in one of these, and it shall be forgiven him: and the remnant shall be the priest's, as a [13]meat offering.

14 ¶ And the [12]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

15 If a soul [14]commit a trespass, and sin through ignorance, in the [15]holy things of the [12]Lord; then he shall bring for his trespass unto the [12]Lord a ram without [e]blemish out of the flocks, with thy estimation by shekels of silver, after the shekel of the sanctuary, for a trespass offering:

16 And he shall make amends for the harm that he hath done in the holy thing, and shall add the fifth part thereto, and give it unto the priest: and the priest shall make [d]an atonement for him with the ram of the [6]trespass offering, and it shall be forgiven him.

17 ¶ And if a soul sin, and commit any of these things which are forbidden to be done by the commandments of the Lord; though he [f]wist it not, yet is he guilty, and shall bear his iniquity.

18 And he shall bring a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a [6]trespass offering, unto the priest: and the priest shall make [d]an atonement for him concerning his ignorance wherein he erred and [f]wist it not, and it shall be forgiven him.

19 It is a [6]trespass [g]offering: he hath certainly trespassed against the Lord.

CHAPTER 6.

1 The trespass offering for sins done wittingly. 8 The law of the burnt offering, 14 and of the meat offering. 19 The offering at the consecration of a priest. 24 The law of the sin offering.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

2 If a [3]soul sin, and [4]commit a trespass against the Lord, and [a]lie unto his neighbour in that which was [5]delivered him to keep, or in fellowship, or in a thing taken away by violence, or hath deceived his neighbour;

3 Or have found that which was lost, and lieth concerning it, and sweareth falsely; in any of all these that a man doeth, sinning therein:

4 Then it shall be, because he hath sinned, and is guilty, that he shall restore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, or that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found,

5 Or all that about which he hath [a]sworn falsely; he shall even [b]restore it in the principal, and shall add the fifth part more thereto, and give it unto him to whom it appertaineth, [6]in the day of his [7]trespass offering.

6 And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the [1]Lord, a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass [7]offering, unto the priest:

7 [8]And the priest shall make [c]an atonement for him before the [1]Lord: and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he hath done in trespassing therein.

8 [10]And the Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

9 Command Aâr'on and his sons, saying, This is the law [d]of the burnt offering: It is the [9]burnt offering, because of the burning upon the altar all night unto the morning, and the fire of the altar shall be burning in it.

10 And the priest shall put on his linen garment, and his linen breeches shall he put upon his flesh, and take up the ashes which the fire hath consumed with the burnt offering on the altar, and he shall put them beside the altar.

11 And he shall put off his garments, and put on other garments, and carry forth the ashes without the camp unto a clean place.

12 And the fire upon the altar shall be burning in it; it shall not be put out: and the priest shall burn wood on it every morning, and lay the [9]burnt [d]offering in order upon it; and he shall burn thereon the fat of the peace offerings.

---

6. Trespass offering and sin offering are closely allied, the sin offering typifying expiation and the trespass offering obedience or satisfaction. As every mortal offense is both a sin and a trespass, both offerings may be made for the same offense.

7. Bringing the sinner into reconciliation with God.

8. To pinch off with finger nail.

9. An expiation for, a covering up.

10. Three quarts.

11. The putting thereon of oil or frankincense would make a bread offering, which symbolizes acceptance, and the sinner must secure pardon before he offers the praises of acceptance.

12. Jehovah.

13. Meal or food offering.

14. This is the first time that the Hebrew word, to act treacherously, or faithless, is found in the Bible, which indicates another step in Jehovah's broadening the teachings of his people.

15. Things consecrated to Jehovah.

Ch. 6. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—The first seven verses of ch. 6 should form the concluding verses of ch. 5, as they are a continuation of the trespass offering and allow no break in the thought. Conforming to this idea, the Hebrew Bible makes ch. 5 end with the 7th verse of ch. 6 in the authorized version. The reader, therefore, should make the same connection and not allow a break in the thought which a chapter introduces.

1. Jehovah.

2. For life of Moses, see Ex. 2, note 11.

3. Anyone.

4. Ignorantly or unthoughtedly break the law.

5. As a trust.

6. In the day his offering is to be presented.

7. The offering of reconciliation.

8. A propitiation for a covering up.

9. While the sacrificial rules for the priests and for the individual worshipers were given in ch. 1, the following rules are for the guidance of the priests in the national morning and evening sacrifice.

10. Vs. 8-30 treat of the ordinances appertaining to the priests. They form what might be called the priest's sacrifice or altar book, in which his duties are carefully specified.

and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. (Acts 23:12.) And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom. (Mk. 6:23.)

c. They shall confess their sin which they have done; and he shall recompense his trespass with the principal thereof and add unto it the fifth part thereof, and give it unto him against whom he hath trespassed. (Num. 5:7.) Now therefore make confession unto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his pleasure; and separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives. (Ezra. 10:11.)

d. See i, ch. 4. Also e, ch. 1.

e. See b, ch. 1.

f. Who can understand his errors? Cleanse thou me from secret faults. (Ps. 19:12.) But he that knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required; and to whom men have committed much of him they will ask the more. (Lu. 12:48.)

g. Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him; he hath put him to grief; when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand. (Is. 53:10.) For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus (5). Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time. (I Tim. 2:5, 6.) For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offer, year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect. (Heb. 10:1.)

a. His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and fraud; under his tongue is mischief and vanity. (Ps. 10:7.) Let the lying lips be put to silence; which speak grievous things proudly and contemptuously against the righteous. (Ps. 31:18.) But the king shall rejoice in God; every one that sweareth by him shall glory; but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped. (Ps. 63:11.) Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds. (Col. 3:9.) Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another. (Lev. 19:11.)

b. And he shall restore the lamb fourfold, because he did this thing, and because he had no pity. (II Sam. 12:6.) And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord: Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. (Lu. 19:8.)

c. See i, ch. 4. Also e, ch. 1.

d. For the purpose and design of the burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

13 The fire shall ever be burning upon the altar; it shall never go out.

14 ¶ And this is the law of the [11]meat offering: the sons of Aâr'on shall offer it before the [1]Lord, before the altar.

15 And he shall take of it his handful, of the flour of the [11]meat offering, and of the oil thereof, and all the frankincense which is upon the meat offering, and shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savour, even the memorial of it, unto the Lord.

16 And the remainder thereof shall Aâr'on and his sons eat: with unleavened bread shall it be eaten in the holy place; in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation they shall eat it.

17 It shall not be baken with leaven. I have given it unto them for their portion of my offerings made by fire; it is most holy, as is the sin [12]offering, and as the [7]trespass offering.

18 All the males among the children of Aâr'on shall eat of it. It shall be a statute for ever in your generations concerning the offerings of the [1]Lord made by fire: every one that toucheth them shall be holy.

19 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

20 This is the offering of Aâr'on and of his sons, which they shall offer unto the [1]Lord in the day when he is anointed; the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a [11]meat offering perpetual, half of it in the morning, and half thereof at night.

21 In a pan it shall be made with oil; and when it is baken, thou shalt bring it in: and the baken pieces of the [11]meat offering shalt thou offer for a sweet savour unto the [1]Lord.

22 And the [13]priest of his sons that is anointed in his stead shall offer it: it is a statute for ever unto the [1]Lord; [c]it shall be wholly burnt.

23 For every meat [11]offering for the priest shall be wholly burnt: it shall not be eaten.

24 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

25 Speak unto Aâr'on and to his sons, saying, This is the law of the sin [12]offering: In the place where the [d]burnt offering is killed shall the sin offering be killed before the Lord: it is most holy.

26 The priest that offereth it for sin shall [14]eat it: in the holy place shall it be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation.

27 Whatsoever shall touch the flesh thereof shall be holy: and when there is sprinkled of the blood thereof upon any garment, thou shalt wash that whereon it was sprinkled in the holy place.

28 But the earthen vessel wherein it is sodden shall be broken: and if it be sodden in a brasen pot, it shall be both scoured, and rinsed in water.

29 All the males among the priests shall eat thereof: it is most holy.

30 And no sin [12]offering, whereof any of the blood is brought into the tabernacle of the congregation to reconcile withal in the holy place, shall be eaten: it shall be burnt in the fire.

CHAPTER 7.

1 The law of the trespass offering, 11 and of the peace offerings, 12 whether it be for a thanksgiving, 16 or a freewill offering.

1 Likewise this is [a]the law of the [7]trespass offering: it is most holy.

2 In the place where they kill the [2]burnt offering shall they kill the trespass offering: and the blood thereof shall he sprinkle round about upon the altar.

11. Meal or food offering.

12. An expiation offering for the sin of disobedience.

13. And the anointed priest that shall be in his stead from among his sons shall offer it. (R. V.)

14. God required the priests to eat the flesh in order that they might bear away or expiate the iniquity of the people to make atonement for them. Eating signifies the complete reception.

Ch. 7. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—This ch. continues the divine directions to the priests respecting their office concerning the various sacrifices. In it are given the rules for the trespass and the peace offerings. The prohibition of eating suet and blood, and the assignment of the priest's portion.

1. The priest's offering. The expiation for sins committed thoughtlessly or ignorantly against God or man.

2. The consuming offering to Jehovah typifying the complete purging or consuming of all uncleanness.

3. Fat tail.

4. Jehovah.

5. The sin offering and trespass offering were very much alike in their interior essence and symbolical meaning, the difference being largely that the trespass offering was always personal, while the sin offering might be congregational.

7. Meal or food offering.

8. The laws governing the peace offering given in vs. 11-21.

9. An expression of gratitude to Jehovah for the peace he has given to the offerer.

10. Leavened bread is here allowed because it is part of a joyful feast and not an expiation.

11. The heave offering was placed in the hands of the offerer, the priest putting his hands under the hands of the offerer and waving the oblation upward and downward—upward, presenting to Jehovah; downward, Jehovah in turn had given it to the offerer. This was not an act of worship, but a method of consecration.

12. Because it would be highly improper to leave exposed to putrefaction anything which was considered holy.

13. Many Hebrew scholars claim that the eating was limited to two days to compel the offerer or worshiper to invite the poor to his religious banquet.

14. Not reckoned as a worthy act, as obedience is more acceptable than sacrifice.

3 And he shall offer of it all the fat thereof; the [3]rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards,

4 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the caul that is above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away:

5 And the priest shall burn them upon the altar for an offering made by fire unto the [4]Lord: it is a [7]trespass offering.

6 Every male among the priests shall eat thereof: it shall be eaten in the holy place: it is most holy.

7 As the sin [5]offering is, so is the [a]trespass offering: there is one law for them: the priest that maketh atonement therewith shall have it.

8 And the [b]priest that offereth any man's [2]burnt offering, even the priest shall have to himself the skin of the burnt offering which he hath offered.

9 And all the [7]meat offering that is baken in the oven and all that is dressed in the fryingpan, and in the pan, shall be the priest's that offereth it.

10 And every meat [7]offering, mingled with oil, and dry, shall all the sons of Aâr'on have, one as much as another.

11 [8]And this is the law of the sacrifice of [9]peace offerings, which he shall offer unto the [4]Lord.

12 If he offer it for a thanksgiving, then he shall offer with the sacrifice of thanksgiving unleavened cakes mingled with oil, and unleavened wafers anointed with oil, and cakes mingled with oil, of fine flour, fried.

13 Besides the cakes, he shall offer for his offering [10]leavened bread with the sacrifice of thanksgiving of his peace offerings.

14 And of it he shall offer one out of the whole oblation for an [11]heave offering unto the Lord, and it shall be the priest's that sprinkleth the blood of the [9]peace offerings.

15 And the flesh of the sacrifice of his [9]peace offerings for thanksgiving shall be eaten the same day that it is offered; he shall not [12]leave any of it until the morning.

16 But if the sacrifice of his offering be a vow, or a voluntary offering, it shall be eaten the same day that he offereth his sacrifice: [13]and on the morrow also the remainder of it shall be eaten:

17 But the remainder of the flesh of the sacrifice on the third day shall be burnt with fire.

18 And if any of the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace [9]offerings be eaten at all on the third day, it shall not [14]be accepted, neither shall it be imputed unto him that offereth it: it shall be an abomination, and the soul that eateth of it shall bear his iniquity.

19 And the flesh that toucheth any unclean thing shall not be eaten; it shall be burnt with fire: and as for the flesh, all that be clean shall eat thereof.

20 But the soul that eateth of the flesh of the sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, that pertain unto the [4]Lord, having his uncleanness upon him, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.

21 Moreover the soul that shall touch any unclean thing, as the uncleanness of man, or any unclean beast, or any abominable unclean thing, and eat of the flesh of the sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, which pertain unto the [4]Lord, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.

22 ¶ And the [4]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

23 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, say-

c. And thou shalt receive them of their hands, and burn them upon the altar for a burnt offering, for a sweet savor before the Lord. It is an offering made by fire unto the Lord (Ex. 29:25.) Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. (Math. 20:28.)

ing, Ye shall eat no manner of fat, of ox, or of sheep, or of goat.

24 And the fat of the beast that dieth of itself, and the fat of that which is torn with beasts, may be used in any other use: but ye shall in no wise eat of it.

25 For whosoever eateth the fat of the beast, of which men offer an offering made by fire unto the [4]Lord, even the soul that eateth it shall be cut off from his people.

26 Moreover ye shall [c]eat no manner of blood, whether it be of fowl or of beast, in any of your dwellings.

27 Whatsoever soul it be that eateth any [c]manner of blood, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.

28 ¶ And the [4]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

29 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, He that offereth the sacrifice of his peace [9]offerings unto the [4]Lord shall bring his oblation unto the [4]Lord of the sacrifice of his peace offerings.

30 His own hands shall bring the offerings of the [4]Lord made by fire, the fat with the breast, it shall he bring, that the breast may be waved for a wave [15]offering before the [4]Lord.

31 And the priest shall burn the fat upon the altar: but the breast shall be Aâr'on's and his sons'.

32 And the right shoulder shall ye give unto the priest for an [11]heave offering of the sacrifices of your peace offerings.

33 He among the sons of Aâr'on, that offereth the blood of the peace [9]offerings, and the fat, shall have the right shoulder for his part.

34 For the wave breast and the heave shoulder have I taken of the children of Ĭs'ra-el from off the sacrifices of their peace [9]offerings, and have given them unto Aâr'on the priest and unto his sons by a statute for ever from among the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

35 ¶ [16]This is the portion of the anointing of Aâr'on, and of the anointing of his sons, out of the offerings of the [4]Lord made by fire, in the day when he presented them to minister unto the [4]Lord in the priest's office;

36 Which the [4]Lord commanded to be given them of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, in the day that he anointed them, by a statute [d]for ever throughout their generations.

37 This is the law of the [b]burnt [2]offering, of the meat offering, and of the sin [6]offering, and of the [a]trespass [5]offering, and of the consecrations, and of the sacrifice of the peace [9]offerings;

38 Which the [4]Lord commanded Mō'şeş in mount Sī'nāi, in the day that he commanded the children of Ĭs'ra-el to offer their oblations unto the Lord, in the wilderness of Sī'nāi.

CHAPTER 8.

1 Moses consecrateth Aaron and his sons. 14 Their sin offering. 18 Their burnt offering. 22 The ram of consecrations.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Take Aâr'on and his sons with him, and the garments, and the anointing oil, and a bullock for the sin offering, and two rams, and a basket of unleavened bread;

3 And gather thou all the congregation together unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

15. The offering is placed upon the hands of the worshiper, the priest putting his hands beneath, moving the offering to and fro horizontally. The rabbis say that it symbolically teaches that Jehovah is present in every quarter of the globe.

16. A summary of all preceding laws given in vs. 35-38.

Ch. 8. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Jehovah having taken up his residence among his people, invites them to draw near to him by the appointed sacrifices. Minute and elaborate rules were given whereby the sacrifices should be made. This required a ritual so extensive that a new institution of a professional order became necessary. Therefore in ch. 8 we have the consecration of the Aaronic priesthood.

1. Jehovah.

2. The divining-stones in the breastplate of the high priest through which was supposed to be revealed the divine will. This method was allowed by Jehovah because of the idolatrous divinations which the children of Israel had brought with them from Egypt, and, as they must learn slowly, Jehovah adapts the requirements to their capacity. They were merely a contrivance for casting lots.

3. A turban or special head-covering for priest or king.

4. This number indicates perfection, thus indicating the perfect consecration of Aaron.

5. To set him apart; to dedicate him to the service of Jehovah.

6. An expiation for sins committed whether through intention or ignorance.

7. The burnt offering was symbolical of the complete consuming or purging of sins and purifying of the offerer or worshiper.

8. Typical of the fact that the ear must be dedicated that it may be opened by the divine voice; also the hand and foot, that they may be efficient in the sacred services.

9. Fat tail.

4 And Mō'şeş did as the [1]Lord commanded him; and the assembly was gathered together unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

5 And Mō'şeş said unto the congregation, This is the thing which the [1]Lord commanded to be done.

6 And Mō'şeş brought Aâr'on and his sons, and [a]washed them with water.

7 And he put upon him the coat, and girded him with the girdle, and clothed him with the robe, and put the ephod upon him, and he girded him with the curious girdle of the ephod, and bound it unto him therewith.

8 And he [b]put the breastplate upon him: also he put in the breastplate the [2]Ū'rim and the Thŭm'mim.

9 And he put the [3]mitre upon his head; also upon the mitre, even upon his forefront, did he put the golden plate, the holy crown; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

10 And Mō'şeş took the anointing oil, and anointed the tabernacle and all that was therein, and sanctified them.

11 And he sprinkled thereof upon the altar seven [4]times, and anointed the altar and all his vessels, both the laver and his foot, to sanctify them.

12 And he poured of the anointing oil upon Aâr'on's head, and anointed him, to [5]sanctify him.

13 And Mō'şeş brought Aâr'on's sons, and put coats upon them, and girded them with girdles, and put bonnets upon them; as the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

14 And he brought the bullock for the sin [6]offering: and Aâr'on and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the bullock for the sin offering.

15 And he slew it; and Mō'şeş took the blood, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about with his finger, and purified the altar, and poured the blood at the bottom of the altar, and sanctified it, to make reconciliation upon it.

16 And he took all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and Mō'şeş burned it upon the altar.

17 But the bullock and his hide, his flesh, and his dung, he burnt with fire without the camp; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

18 ¶ And he brought the ram for the [7]burnt [c]offering: and Aâr'on and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the ram.

19 And he killed it; and Mō'şeş sprinkled the blood upon the altar round about.

20 And he cut the ram into pieces; and Mō'şeş burnt the head, and the pieces, and the fat.

21 And he washed the inwards and the legs in water; and Mō'şeş burnt the whole ram upon the altar: it was a burnt sacrifice for a sweet savour, and an offering made by fire unto the [1]Lord; as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

22 ¶ And he brought the other ram, the ram of consecration: and Aâr'on and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the ram.

23 And he slew it; and Mō'şeş took of the blood of it, and put it upon the [8]tip [d]of Aâr'on's right ear, and upon the [8]thumb of his right hand, and upon the great [8]toe of his right foot.

24 And he brought Aâr'on's sons, and Mō'-

c. But flesh with life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat. (Gen. 9:4.)

d. For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offer year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect (1). But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God. (Heb. 10:1, 12.)

Chapter 8.

a. I will wash my hands in innocency; so will I compass thine altar, O Lord. (Ps. 26:6.) Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord. (Is. 52:11.) Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean; from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. (Ezek. 36:25.)

b. And thou shalt put in the breastplate of judgment the Urim and the Thummim; and they shall be upon Aaron's heart, when he goeth in before the Lord; and Aaron shall bear the judgment of the children of Israel upon his heart, before the Lord continually. (Ex. 28:30.)

c. For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

d. I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. (Rom. 12:1.) For ye are bought with a price; therefore, glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's. (I Cor. 6:20.)

ṣeṣ put of the blood upon the tip of their right ear, and upon the thumbs of their right hands, and upon the great toes of their right feet: and Mō'ṣeṣ sprinkled the blood upon the altar round about.

25 And he took the fat, and the [16]rump, and all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and the right shoulder:

26 And out of the basket of unleavened bread, that was before the [1]Lord, he took one unleavened cake, and a cake of oiled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and upon the right shoulder:

27 And he put all upon Aâr'on's hands, and upon his sons' hands, and waved them for a wave [10]offering before the Lord.

28 And Mō'ṣeṣ took them from off their hands, and burnt them on the altar upon the [c]burnt [7]offering: they were consecrations for a [e]sweet savour: it is an offering made by fire unto the [1]Lord.

29 And Mō'ṣeṣ took the breast, and waved it for a wave [10]offering before the [1]Lord: for of the ram of consecration it was Mō'ṣeṣ' part; as the Lord commanded Mō'ṣeṣ.

30 And Mō'ṣeṣ took of the anointing oil, and of the blood which was upon the altar, and sprinkled it upon Aâr'on, and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon his sons' garments with him; and sanctified Aâr'on, and his garments, and his sons, and his sons' garments with him.

31 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto Aâr'on and to his sons, Boil the flesh at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and there eat it with the bread that is in the basket of consecrations, as I commanded, saying, Aâr'on and his sons shall eat it.

32 And that which remaineth of the flesh and of the bread shall ye burn with fire.

33 And ye shall not go out of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation in [11]seven days, until the days of your consecration be at an end: for seven days shall he consecrate you.

34 As he hath done this day, so the Lord hath commanded to do, to make an [f]atonement for you.

35 Therefore shall ye abide at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation day and night seven days, and keep [g]the charge of the [1]Lord, that ye die not: for so I am commanded.

36 So Aâr'on and his sons did all things which the [1]Lord commanded by the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ.

CHAPTER 9.

1 The first offerings of Aaron, for himself and the people. 8 The sin offering, 12 and the burnt offering for himself. 15 The offerings for the people. 24 Fire cometh from the Lord.

1 And it came to pass on the [1]eighth day, that [2]Mō'ṣeṣ called [3]Aâr'on and his sons, and the elders of Iṣ'ra-el;

2 And he said unto Aâr'on, Take thee a [4]young calf for a sin [5]offering, and a ram for a [a]burnt [6]offering, without [b]blemish, and offer them before [7]the [8]Lord.

3 And unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el thou shalt speak, saying, Take ye a kid of the goats for a sin [5]offering; and a calf and a lamb, both of the first year, without [b]blemish, for a [a]burnt [6]offering;

4 Also a bullock and a ram for peace [9]offerings, to sacrifice before the [8]Lord; and a meat [10]offering mingled with oil: for [11]to day the [8]Lord will appear unto you.

5 ¶ And they brought that which [2]Mō'ṣeṣ commanded before the tabernacle of the congregation: and all the congregation drew near and stood before the [8]Lord.

6 And [2]Mō'ṣeṣ said, This is the thing which the [8]Lord commanded that ye should do: and the glory of the [8]Lord shall appear unto you.

7 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto Aâr'on, Go unto the altar, and offer thy sin [5]offering, and thy [6]burnt offering, and make an [12]atonement [c]for thyself, and for the people: and offer the offering of the people, and make an [12]atonement for them; as the [8]Lord commanded.

8 ¶ Aâr'on therefore went unto the altar, and slew the calf of the sin [5]offering, which was for himself.

9 And the sons of Aâr'on brought the blood unto him: and he dipped his finger in the blood, and put it upon the horns of the altar, and poured out the blood at the bottom of the altar:

10 But the fat, and the kidneys, and the caul above the liver of the sin [5]offering, he burnt upon the altar; as the [8]Lord commanded [2]Mō'ṣeṣ.

11 And the flesh and the hide he burnt with fire without the camp.

12 And he slew the [a]burnt offering; and Aâr'on's sons presented unto him the blood, which he sprinkled round about upon the altar.

13 And they [13]presented the [6]burnt [a]offering unto him, with the pieces thereof, and the head: and he burnt them upon the altar.

14 And he did wash the [14]inwards and the [14]legs, and burnt them upon the burnt offering on the altar.

15 And he [16]brought the people's offering, and took the goat, which was the sin [5]offering for the people, and slew it, and offered it for sin, as the first.

16 And he brought the [a]burnt [6]offering, and offered it according to the manner.

17 And he brought the meat [15]offering, and took an handful thereof, and burnt it upon the altar, beside the burnt [a]sacrifice of the morning.

18 He slew also the bullock and the ram for a sacrifice of peace [17]offerings, which was for the people: and Aâr'on's sons presented unto him the blood, which he sprinkled upon the altar round about,

19 And the fat of the bullock and of the ram, the [18]rump, and that which covereth the inwards, and the kidneys, and the caul above the liver:

20 And they put the fat upon the breasts, and he burnt the fat upon the altar:

21 And the breasts and the right shoulder Aâr'on waved for a [19]wave offering before the [8]Lord; as Mō'ṣeṣ commanded.

22 And Aâr'on lifted up his hand toward the people, and [d]blessed them, and came down from offering of the sin [5]offering, and the [a]burnt [6]offering, and peace [17]offerings.

23 And Mō'ṣeṣ and Aâr'on went into the tabernacle of the congregation, and came out, and [20]blessed the people: and the glory of the [8]Lord appeared unto all the people.

10. The offering placed upon the hands of the worshiper, the priest putting his hands beneath and waving horizontally to and fro, which, the rabbis say, symbolically teaches that Jehovah is present in every quarter of the globe.

11. The Hebrew number of perfection. In the Hebrew conception the number was not perfect until it had been repeated seven times.

Ch. 9. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 9 establishes the national worship in permanent form. In it is recorded Aaron's first offering and blessing. Aaron had just been installed into his priestly office, and was on the same day commanded by Moses to perform its functions as the sins of the people were in pressing need of expiation. The superintendence of Moses is continued in order to rectify any mistake of these novitiates.

1. There are three eight-day services in the Levitical law—the other two are the cleansing of the leper (ch. 14:10-23) and the purification of a defiled Nazarite (Num. 6:10). There are also three such scenes in the Gospels: (1) The transfiguration (Lu. 9: 28); (2) the resurrection and manifestation on the first or eighth day of the week; (3) the second manifestation to all the apostles (John 20:19-26).

2. For life of Moses, see 11, ch. 2, Ex.

3. For life of Aaron, see 21, ch. 4, Ex.

4. In taking a young calf for a sin offering Moses delicately reminds Aaron of the great sin which he had committed in making the golden calf, and teaches him that the animal which was of idolatrous worship among the Egyptians as a symbol of the deity is fit only for a sin offering to Jehovah, the creator of all things. (W.)

5. A propitiation for the sins committed, either willfully or inadvertently.

6. The burnt offering typifying the complete consuming or purging of all sins of the worshiper.

7. That is, at the door of the tabernacle.

8. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

9. The offering of gratitude to Jehovah for the peace he has given to the worshiper.

10. Meal or food offering.

11. The word "for" contains the reason for all the sacrifices commanded in the preceding verses, as Jehovah manifests himself only to those who obediently seek him in his ordinances.

12. An expiation for, a covering up.

13. Delivered.

14. Unholy until washed and cleansed, therefore unfit to lay on the altar of sacrifice to Jehovah.

15. Meal or food offering.

16. Presented.

17. Expression or token of gratitude toward Jehovah.

18. Fat tail.

19. The offering was put upon the hand of the worshiper, the priest putting his hand underneath and waving horizontally to and fro, typifying, as claimed by the rabbis, Jehovah's presence in every quarter of the globe.

20. A blessing bestowed upon Israel by the priest in the name of Jehovah.

e. And walk in love, as also Christ hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savor. (Eph. 5:2.) For we are unto God a sweet savor of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish. (II Cor. 2:15.)

f. See i, ch. 4. Also e, ch. 1.

g. And when the cloud tarried long upon the tabernacle many days, then the children of Israel kept the charge of the Lord, and journeyed not. (Num. 9:19.) And keep the charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and his testimonies, as it is written in the law of Moses, that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and whithersoever thou turnest thyself. (I Ks. 2:3.)

Chapter 9.

a. For purpose and design of the burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

b. See b, ch. 1, Lev.

c. See i, ch. 4, Lev. Also e, ch. 1.

d. And the priests the sons of Levi shall come near (for them the Lord thy God hath chosen to minister unto him, and to bless in the name of the Lord; and by their word shall every controversy and every stroke be tried.) (Dt. 21:5.)

e. And it came to pass, that, when the sun went down and it was dark, behold a smoking furnace, and a burning lamp that passed between those pieces. (Gen. 15:17.) Now when Solomon had made an end of praying, the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices; and the glory of the Lord filled the house. (II Chr. 7:1.)

FIRST MAN TO CARRY HOLY FIRE FROM CHURCH OF THE HOLY SEPULCHRE.

24 And there came a [c]fire out from before the [s]Lord, and consumed upon the altar the burnt [o]offering and the fat: which when all the people saw, they shouted, and fell on their faces.

CHAPTER 10.

1 Nadab and Abihu, for offering of strange fire, are burnt by fire. 8 The priests are forbidden wine when they are to go into the tabernacle. 12 The law of eating the holy things.

1 And Nā'dăb and A-bī'hū, the sons of Aâr'on, took [1]either of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered [2]strange fire before the [4]Lord, which he commanded them [3]not.

2 And there went [c]out fire from before the [4]Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the [4]Lord.

3 Then Mō'şeş said unto Aâr'on, This is it that the [4]Lord spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them that come nigh me, and before all the people I will be [b]glorified. And Aâr'on held his peace.

4 And Mō'şeş called Mīsh'a-el and Ēl'za-phăn, the sons of Uz'zĭ-el the uncle of Aâr'on, and said unto them, Come near, carry your brethren from before the sanctuary out of the camp.

5 So they went near, and carried them in their coats out of the camp; as Mō'şeş had said.

6 And Mō'şeş said unto Aâr'on, and unto Ē-le-ā'zar and unto Ĭth'a-mär, his sons, [5]Uncover not your heads, neither rend your clothes; lest ye die, and lest wrath come upon all the people: but let your brethren, the whole house of Ĭs'ra-el, bewail the burning which the [4]Lord hath kindled.

7 And ye shall not go out from the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: for the anointing oil of the [4]Lord is upon you. And they did according to the word of Mō'şeş.

8 ¶ And the [4]Lord spake unto Aâr'on, saying,

9 Do not [6][c]drink wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee, when ye go [7]into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations:

10 And that ye may put difference between holy and unholy, and between unclean and clean;

11 And that ye may teach the children of Ĭs'ra-el all the statutes which the [4]Lord hath spoken unto them by the hand of Mō'şeş.

12 ¶ And Mō'şeş spake unto Aâr'on, and unto Ē-le-ā'zar and unto Ĭth'a-mär, his sons that were left, Take the [d]meat [5]offering that remaineth of the offerings of the [4]Lord made by fire, and eat it without leaven beside the altar: for it is most holy:

13 And ye shall eat it in the holy place, because it is thy due, and thy sons' due, of the sacrifices of the [4]Lord made by fire: for so I am commanded.

14 And the wave [8]breast and heave [9]shoulder shall ye eat in a clean place; thou, and thy sons, and thy daughters with thee: for they be thy due, and thy sons' due, which are given out of the sacrifices of peace offerings of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

15 The heave shoulder and the wave breast shall they bring with the offerings made by fire of the fat, to wave it for a wave offering before the Lord; and it shall be thine, and thy sons' with thee, by a statute for ever; as the Lord hath commanded.

16 ¶ And Mō'şeş diligently sought the goat of the sin [10]offering, and, behold, it was burnt: and he was angry with Ē-le-ā'zar and Ĭth'a-mär, the sons of Aâr'on, which were left alive, saying,

17 Wherefore have ye not eaten the sin [10]offering in the holy place, seeing it is most holy, and God hath given it you to bear the iniquity of the congregation, to make [e]atonement for them before the [4]Lord?

18 Behold, the blood of it was not brought in within the holy place; ye should indeed have eaten it in the holy place, as I commanded.

19 And Aâr'on said unto Mō'şeş, Behold, this day have they offered their sin [10]offering and their [f]burnt [11]offering before the Lord; and such things have befallen me: and if I had eaten the sin offering to day, should it have been accepted in the sight of the [4]Lord?

20 And when Mō'şeş heard that, he was content.

CHAPTER 11.

1 What beasts may, 4 and what may not be eaten. 9 What fishes. 13 What fowls. 29 The creeping things which are unclean.

1 And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş and to Aâr'on, saying unto them,

2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, These [a]are the [3]beasts which ye [2]shall eat among all the beasts that are on the earth.

3 Whatsoever parteth the hoof, and is cloven-footed, and cheweth the cud, among the beasts, that [3]shall ye eat.

4 Nevertheless these shall ye not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the hoof: as the camel, because he cheweth the

Ch. 11. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Chs. 11-27 embrace the second part of Lev., which treats of the holiness and sanctity of life, from the legislative standpoint. The minutest rules are given to guard the Hebrew in the choice of his food, the same as in his worship. Ch. 11 enjoins upon Israel the duty of holiness, as the foundation of the distinction in his food. As a man's character is greatly affected by what he puts into his mouth, through the mysterious connection between body and mind, the divine lawgiver begins at the foundation and regulates the food of the chosen people.

The time has now come when Jehovah must isolate the Hebrews from the surrounding idolatrous nations, that they might be witnesses to the unity of the Godhead and the worship of the one, true, holy and living God. They are weak and in their infancy as a nation, every safeguard must be thrown around them. Previous to this the sacrifices have been instituted, the ritual of the altar has been ordained, the priests have been consecrated; and the nation, now typically purged from sin, must be led along the path of holy living. In the very food he ate, the Israelite must have something to remind him of the law of his God, and feel himself enclosed on every side with the signs and indications of that righteousness which it was his great duty as a member of the covenant to cherish and exemplify. In that spirit ch. 11 should be read.

1. Living things.
2. May eat.
3. That ye may eat.

Ch. 10. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—This ch. deals with the sad effect of sin intruding into the holiest scenes of earth and casting down the anointed priests of Jehovah. It also contains a statute enforcing the priestly abstinence from wine, which appears to have been suggested by the drunkenness of Nadab and Abihu, two eldest sons of Aaron, also a law concerning the eating of the holy sacrifices. It deals with the blunders of the priests in burning the sin offering, which should have been eaten, and details Aaron's apology for their mistake. Nadab and Abihu, selected to accompany Moses Aaron and the seventy elders to Mt. Sinai, had just been invested with their priestly robes and entered upon their first services, when by a rash act they incurred the displeasure of Jehovah. This ch. opens with the positive sin of the priests and closes with an account of negative failure, and how in the former they dishonored God and in the latter forfeited his blessings.

1. Each.

2. These men were not at liberty to take their own censer. The fire is therefore called "strange" in distinction from that of celestial origin, which "came out from before Jehovah and consumed the burnt offering" (ch. 9:24). Therefore their sin consisted in the performance of the Lord's services in a manner which he commanded them not.

3. By the use of strange fire, i. e., not the celestial fire.

4. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

5. It was the law that the priest should never leave the altar to go to burials or interrupt his duties by shedding tears. He represented God as well as the people and he must abide at his duties, whoever died.

6. Vs. 9-11 contain the statute forbidding the priests to drink strong drinks. The Hebrew word, Yayin, here used for wine, is in 75 out of 136 passages spoken of with condemnation because of its disastrous effect. Unfermented wine called must in the Hebrew by tirosh is never prohibited, and is used 38 times.

7. When engaged in the service to Jehovah absolute abstinence is commanded.

8. Meal offering. Vs. 12-20 detail the law concerning eating the most holy things or the offerings.

9. That part of the shoulder used in the wave offering to and fro which according to the rabbinical tradition acknowledges Jehovah to be present in all quarters of the globe. The heave offering to be waved upward and downward, upward presenting to Jehovah, downward sig. that Jehovah had returned his offering with his favor.

10. The sacrifice or oblation, as an expiation for trespasses committed against Jehovah.

11. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah,

Chapter 10.

a. And there came out a fire from the Lord, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense. (Num. 16:35.) And the anger of the Lord was kindled against Uzzah; and God smote him there for his error; and there he died by the ark of God. (II Sam. 6:7.) For, behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. (Is. 66:15.) For our God is a consuming fire. (Heb. 12:29.)

b. And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified. (Is. 49:3.) And say, Thus saith the Lord God; Behold I am against thee, O Zidon, and I will be glorified in the midst of thee; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her. (Ezek. 28:22.) Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him. (Jno. 13:31.)

c. Lest they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted. (Prov. 31:5.) Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. (Prov. 20:1.) Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? (29). They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine (30). Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright (31). At last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder. (Prov. 23:29-32.) They shall not drink wine with a song; strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it. (Is. 24:9.)

d. And unleavened bread, and cakes unleavened tempered with oil, and wafers unleavened anointed with oil: of wheatened flour shalt thou make them. (Ex. 29:2.) This shall be thine of the most holy things, reserved from the fire: every oblation of theirs, every meat offering of theirs, and every sin offering of theirs, and every trespass offering of theirs, which they shall render unto me, shall be most holy for thee and for thy sons. In the most holy place shalt thou eat it; every male shall eat it; it shall be holy unto thee. (Num. 18:9, 10.)

Chapter 11.

a. These are the beasts which ye shall eat; the ox, the sheep and the goat. (Dt. 14:4.)

cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.

5 And the coney, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.

6 And the [4]hare, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is [b]unclean unto you.

7 And the [5]swine, though he divide the hoof, and be clovenfooted, yet he cheweth not the cud; he is unclean to you.

8 Of their flesh shall ye not eat, and their carcase shall ye not touch; [b]they are unclean to you.

9 ¶ These shall ye eat of all that are in the waters: whatsoever hath fins and scales in the waters, in the seas, and in the rivers, them shall ye eat.

11 They shall be even an abomination unto you; ye shall not eat of their flesh, but ye shall have their carcases in [6]abomination.

12 Whatsoever hath no fins nor scales in the waters, that shall be an [6]abomination unto you.

13 ¶ And these are they which ye shall have in [6]abomination among the fowls; they shall not be eaten, they are an [6]abomination: the eagle, and the [7]ossifrage, and the [8]ospray,

14 And the [9]vulture, and the kite after his kind;

15 Every [9]raven after his kind;

16 And the owl, and the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the hawk after his kind,

17 And the little owl, and the cormorant, and the great owl,

18 And the swan, and the pelican, and the gier eagle, 19 And the [10]stork, the heron after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat.

20 All [11]fowls that creep, going upon all four, shall be an [6]abomination unto you.

21 Yet these may ye eat of every flying creeping thing that goeth upon all four, which have legs above their feet, to leap withal upon the earth;

22 Even these of them ye may eat; the locust after his kind, and the bald locust after his kind, and the beetle after his kind, and the grasshopper after his kind.

23 But all other flying creeping things, which have four feet, shall be an [6]abomination unto you.

24 And for these ye shall be unclean: whosoever toucheth the carcase of them shall be unclean until the even.

25 And whosoever beareth ought of the carcase of them shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even.

26 The carcases of every beast which divideth the hoof, and is not clovenfooted, nor cheweth the cud, are unclean unto you; every one that toucheth them shall be unclean.

27 And [12]whatsoever goeth upon his paws, among all manner of beasts that go on all four, those [b]are unclean unto you: whoso toucheth their carcase shall be unclean until the even.

28 And he that beareth the carcase of them shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: they are unclean unto you.

29 ¶ These also shall be unclean unto you among the creeping things that creep upon the earth; the weasel, and the mouse, and the tortoise after his kind,

30 And the ferret, and the chameleon, and the lizard, and the snail, and the mole.

31 These are [b]unclean to you among all that creep: whosoever doth touch them, when they be dead, shall be unclean until the even.

32 And upon whatsoever any of them, when they are dead, doth fall, it shall be unclean; whether it be any vessel of wood, or raiment, or skin, or sack, whatsoever vessel it be, wherein any work is done, it must be put into water, and it shall be unclean until the even; so it shall be cleansed.

33 And every earthen vessel, whereinto any of them falleth, whatsoever is in it shall be unclean; and ye shall break it.

34 Of all meat which may be eaten, that on which such water cometh shall be unclean: and all drink that may be drunk in every such vessel shall be unclean.

35 And every thing whereupon any part of their carcase falleth shall be unclean; whether it be oven, or ranges for pots, they shall be broken down: for they are unclean, and shall be [b]unclean unto you.

36 Nevertheless a fountain or pit, wherein there is plenty of water, shall be clean: but that which toucheth their carcase shall be unclean.

37 And if any part of their carcase fall upon any sowing seed which is to be sown, it shall be clean.

38 But if any water be put upon the seed, and any part of their carcase fall thereon, it shall be [b]unclean unto you.

39 And if any beast, of which ye may eat, die; he that toucheth the carcase thereof shall be unclean until the even.

40 And [c]he that eateth of the carcase of it shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: he also that beareth the carcase of it shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even.

41 And every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth shall be an abomination; it shall not be eaten.

42 Whatsoever goeth upon the belly, and whatsoever goeth upon all four, or whatsoever hath more feet among all creeping things that creep upon the earth, them ye shall not eat; for they are an abomination.

43 Ye shall [d]not make yourselves abominable with any creeping thing that creepeth, neither shall ye make yourselves unclean with them, that ye should be defiled thereby.

44 For I am the Lord your God: ye shall therefore sanctify yourselves, and ye shall be holy; for I am holy: neither shall ye defile yourselves with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

4. Probably the species Lepus Sinaiticus, still found in the Sinaitic Peninsula. Only the Arabs eat their flesh.

5. The Jews are not alone in their abhorrence of the flesh of swine. To the Egyptian priests it was forbidden, by the Koran disallowed, by the Phoenicians, Ethiopians, and many other eastern nations absolutely rejected. It is probable the swine was excluded from the diet of the Hebrew on hygienic grounds, as liable to induce cutaneous diseases, especially the leprosy. Scrofula is from the Latin, scrofa, a breeding sow. Hence perhaps the reason the swine is classed as an animal of defilement.

6. Filthy before thee.

7. A species of the eagle, the bone breaker, as it lifts its prey high in the air and drops it to break the bones, that it may be swallowed.

8. Black eagle.

9. Birds which feed on carrion, decomposed flesh.

10. Sig. kindness and love, of which in all ages it has been the type.

11. Winged, creeping things that go upon all-fours, i. e., insects.

12. Monkeys, bears, frogs, etc.

b. For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving (4). For it is sanctified by the word of God in prayer. (1 Tim. 4:4, 5.) Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord. (Is. 52:11.) Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man (11). These are the things which defile a man; but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man. (Math. 15:11, 20.) But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean. And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common. (Acts 10:14,15.) That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. (Acts 15:29.) I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself; but to him that esteemeth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean (11). For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. (Rom. 14:14, 17.) But meat commendeth us not to God; for neither, if we eat, are we the better; neither, if we eat not, are we the worse. (I Cor. 8:8.) Let no man, therefore, judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holy day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days (16). Touch not; taste; handle not. (Col. 2:16, 21.) Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation. (Heb. 9:10.)

c. That which dieth of itself, or is torn with beasts, he shall not eat to defile himself therewith: I am the Lord. (Lev. 22:8.)

Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, my soul hath not been polluted; for from my youth up even till now, have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth. (Ezek. 4:14.) And ye shall be holy men unto me; neither shall ye eat any flesh that is torn of the beasts in the field; ye shall cast it to the dogs. (Ex. 22:31.)

d. Ye shall, therefore, put difference between clean beasts and unclean, and between unclean fowls and clean. And ye shall not make your souls abominable by beasts, or by fowl, or by any manner of living thing that creepeth on the ground, which I have separated from you as unclean. (Lev. 20:25.)

45 For I am the Lord that bringeth you up out of the land of Ē'gўpt, to be your God: ye [c]shall therefore be holy, for I am holy.

46 This is the law of the beasts, and of the fowl, and of every living creature that moveth in the waters, and of every creature that creepeth upon the earth:

CHAPTER 12.

1 The purification of women after childbirth.
6 Her offerings for her purifying.

1 And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, If a woman have conceived seed, and born a man child: then she shall be unclean seven days; according to the days of the separation for her infirmity shall she be unclean.

3 And in the [a]eighth day the flesh of his [1]foreskin shall be circumcised.

4 And she shall then continue in the blood of her purifying three and thirty days; she shall touch no hallowed thing, nor come into the sanctuary, until the days of her purifying be fulfilled.

5 But if she bear a maid child, then she shall be unclean two weeks, as in her separation: and she shall continue in the blood of her purifying threescore and six days.

6 And when the days of her purifying are fulfilled, for a son, or for a daughter, she shall bring [b]a lamb of the first year for a burnt [2]offering, and a young pigeon, or a turtledove, for a sin [3]offering, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest:

7 Who shall offer it before the [1]Lord, and make an [5]atonement [c]for her; and she shall be cleansed from the issue of her blood. This is the law for her that hath born a male or a female.

8 And if she be not able to bring a lamb, then she shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons; the one for the burnt [2]offering, and the other for a sin [3]offering: and the priest shall make an [5]atonement for her, and she shall be clean.

CHAPTER 13.

1 The laws and tokens whereby the priest is to be guided in discerning the leprosy.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, saying,

2 When a man shall have in the skin of his flesh a rising, a scab, or bright spot, and it be in the skin of his flesh like the [a]plague of leprosy; then he shall be brought unto Aâr'on the priest, or unto one of his sons the priests:

3 And the priest shall look on the plague in the skin of the flesh: and when the hair in the plague is turned white, and the plague in sight be deeper than the skin of his flesh, it is [a]a plague of leprosy: and the priest shall look on him, and pronounce him unclean.

4 If the bright spot be white in the skin of his flesh, and in sight be not deeper than the skin, and the hair thereof be not turned white; then the priest shall shut up him that hath the plague seven days:

5 And the priest shall look on him the seventh day: and, behold, if the plague in his sight be at a stay, and the plague spread not in the skin; then the priest shall shut him up seven days more:

6 And the priest shall look on him again the seventh day: and, behold, if the plague be somewhat dark, and the plague spread not in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him clean: it is but a scab: and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.

7 But if the scab spread much abroad in the skin, after that he hath been seen of the priest for his cleansing, he shall be seen of the priest again:

8 And if the priest see that, behold, the scab spreadeth in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a leprosy.

9 ¶ When the plague of leprosy is in a man, then he shall be brought unto the priest;

10 And the priest shall see him: and, behold, if the rising be white in the skin, and it have turned the hair white, and there be quick raw flesh in the rising;

11 It is an old leprosy in the skin of his flesh, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean, and shall not shut him up: for he is unclean.

12 And if a leprosy break out abroad in the skin, and the leprosy cover all the skin of him that hath the plague from his head even to his foot, wheresoever the priest looketh;

13 Then the priest shall consider: and, behold, if the leprosy have covered all his flesh, he shall pronounce him clean that hath the plague: it is all turned white: he is clean.

14 But when raw flesh appeareth in him, he shall be unclean.

15 And the priest shall see the raw flesh, and pronounce him to be unclean: for the raw flesh is unclean: it is a leprosy.

16 Or if the raw flesh turn again, and be changed unto white, he shall [b]come unto the priest;

17 And the priest shall see him: and, behold, if the plague be turned into white; then the priest shall pronounce him clean that hath the plague: he is clean.

18 ¶ The flesh also, in which, even in the skin thereof, was a [c]boil, and is healed,

19 And in the place of the boil there be a white rising, or a bright spot, white, and somewhat reddish, and it be shewed to the priest;

20 And if, when the priest seeth it, behold,

Ch. 12. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—The law of ceremonial purity advances from that of animals in ch. 11 to persons in ch. 12; and added thereto are the causes for defilement, such as arise from childbirth, leprosy and certain secretions, to which is added, in Num. 19:11-16, the pollution of touching a human corpse. All these defilements are suggestive of moral pollutions, staining and defiling the soul. This ch. also treats of woman after childbirth, and seeks to throw around parentage a sense of its terrible responsibility, inasmuch as it peoples heaven or hell.

1. The sign of the covenant (Gen. 17:11). Circumcision implies depravity and symbolizes spiritual regeneration. (Dt. 30:6)—"And the Lord thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live." (Jer. 4:4)—"Circumcise yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judea and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings." Water baptism takes the place of circumcision in the new covenant. (Col. 2:11, 12)—In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ. Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead."

2. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one is in the mood of grief or apprehension, to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

3. Offered as a propitiation or covering of minor offenses, the removal of ceremonial uncleanness, an atonement of sins of ignorance, either when the wrong doer was ignorant of the law or forgetful of it. To be offered when the wrong done could not be undone.

4. Jehovah.

5. To cover, to make reconciliation for.

Ch. 13. B. C. 1490.

1. Jehovah.

---

c. I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. (Rom. 12:1.) And such were some of you; but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God. (I Cor. 6:11.)

Chapter 12.

a. And he that is eight days old shall be circumcised among you, every man child in your generations, he that is born in the house, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed. (Gen. 17:12.) And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb. (Lu. 2:21.) Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers); and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man. (Jno. 7:22.)

b. He was oppressed and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth; he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. (Is. 53:7.) The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world (29). And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God! (Jno. 1:29, 36.) Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers (18); But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. (I Pet. 1:18, 19.) And I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth. (Rev. 5:6.) And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. (Rev. 7:14.)

c. See i, ch. 4. Also e, ch. 1.

Chapter 13.

a. Take heed in the plague of leprosy, that thou observe diligently, and do according to all that the priests the Levites shall teach you: as I commanded them, so ye shall observe to do. (Dt. 24:8.) And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go show yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass that, as they went, they were cleansed. (Lu. 17:14.)

b. And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy; who, seeing Jesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean (12). And he charged him to tell no man; but go, and show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. (Lu. 5:12, 14.)

c. And it shall become small dust in all the land of Egypt, and shall be a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast, throughout all the land of Egypt. (Ex. 9:9.) The Lord will smite thee with the botch of Egypt, and with the emerods, and with the scab, and with the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed. (Dt. 28:27.) So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown. (Job 2:7.)

it be in sight lower than the skin, and the hair thereof be turned white; the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague of leprosy broken out of the boil.

21 But if the priest look on it, and, behold, there be no white hairs therein, and if it be not lower than the skin, but be somewhat dark; then the priest shall shut him up seven days:

22 And if it spread much abroad in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a [2]plague.

23 But if the bright spot stay in his place, and spread not, it is a burning boil; and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

24 ¶ Or if there be any flesh, in the skin whereof there is a hot burning, and the quick flesh that burneth have a white bright spot, somewhat reddish, or white;

25 Then the priest shall look upon it: and, behold, if the hair in the bright spot be turned white, and it be in sight deeper than the skin; it is a leprosy broken out of the burning: wherefore the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is the [d]plague of leprosy.

26 But if the priest look on it, and, behold, there be no white hair in the bright spot, and it be no lower than the other skin, but be somewhat dark; then the priest shall shut him up seven days:

27 And the priest shall look upon him the seventh day: and if it be spread much abroad in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is the plague of leprosy.

28 And if the bright spot stay in his place, and spread not in the skin, but it be somewhat dark; it is a rising of the burning, and the priest shall pronounce him clean: for it is an inflammation of the burning.

29 ¶ If a man or woman have a plague upon the head or the beard;

30 Then the priest shall see the plague: and, behold, if it be in sight deeper than the skin; and there be in it a yellow thin hair; then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a dry [3]scall, even a leprosy upon the head or beard.

31 And if the priest look on the plague of the [3]scall, and, behold, it be not in sight deeper than the skin, and that there is no black hair in it; then the priest shall shut up him that hath the plague of the [3]scall seven days:

32 And in the seventh day the priest shall look on the plague: and, behold, if the [3]scall spread not, and there be in it no yellow hair, and the [3]scall be not in sight deeper than the skin;

33 He shall be shaven, but the [3]scall shall he not shave; and the priest shall shut up him that hath the [3]scall seven days more:

34 And the seventh day the priest shall look on the [3]scall: and, behold, if the [3]scall be not spread in the skin, nor be in sight deeper than the skin; then the priest shall pronounce him clean: and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.

35 But if the [3]scall spread much in the skin after his cleansing;

36 Then the priest shall look on him: and, behold, if the [3]scall be spread in the skin, the priest shall not seek for yellow hair; he is unclean.

37 But if the [3]scall be in his sight at a stay, and that there is black hair grown up therein; the [3]scall is healed, he is clean: and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

38 ¶ If a man also or a woman have in the skin of their flesh bright spots, even white bright spots;

39 Then the priest shall look: and, behold, if the bright spots in the skin of their flesh be darkish white; it is a freckled spot that groweth in the skin; he is clean.

40 And the man whose hair is fallen off his head, he is bald; yet is he clean.

41 And he that hath his hair fallen off from the part of his head toward his face, he is forehead bald: yet is he clean.

42 And if there be in the bald head, or bald forehead, a white reddish sore; it is a leprosy sprung up in his bald head, or his bald forehead.

43 Then the priest shall look upon it: and, behold, if the rising of the sore be white reddish in his bald head, or in his bald forehead, as the leprosy appeareth in the skin of the flesh;

44 He is a leprous man, he is unclean: the priest shall pronounce him utterly unclean; his plague is in his head.

45 [4]And the leper in whom the plague is, his clothes shall be rent, and his head bare, and he shall put a covering upon his upper lip, and shall cry, Unclean, unclean.

46 All the days wherein the plague shall be in him he shall be defiled; he is unclean: he shall dwell alone; [e]without the camp shall his habitation be.

47 [5]¶ The garment also that the plague of leprosy is in, whether it be a woollen garment, or a linen garment;

48 Whether it be in the warp, or woof; of linen, or of woollen; whether in a skin, or in any thing made of skin;

49 And if the plague be greenish or reddish in the garment, or in the skin, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; it is a plague of leprosy, and shall be shewed unto the priest:

50 And the priest shall look upon the plague, and shut up it that hath the plague seven days:

51 And he shall look on the plague on the seventh day: if the plague be spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in a skin, or in any work that is made of skin; the plague is a fretting leprosy; it is unclean.

52 He shall therefore burn that garment, whether warp or woof, in woollen or in linen, or any thing of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a fretting leprosy; it shall be burnt in the fire.

53 And if the priest shall look, and, behold, the plague be not spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin;

54 Then the priest shall command that they wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shall shut it up seven days more:

55 And the priest shall look on the plague, after that it is washed: and, behold, if the plague have not changed his colour, and the plague be not spread; it is unclean; thou shalt burn it in the fire; it is fret inward, whether it be bare within or without.

56 And if the priest look, and, behold, the

2. The plague of the leprosy.

3. A scurf, scab or mange. The word is not in the original. "Scall" occurs 13 times in this ch., once in the next, and nowhere else in the Bible.

4. In vs. 45, 46 Moses gives the rules to be followed by lepers.

5. In vs. 47-59 Moses treats of leprous garments. The fact that the author here uses the exact words as used in describing the leprosy in a man, has called forth no little uncomplimentary criticism from would-be skeptics. But modern science has clearly and conclusively vindicated the accuracy of Moses. Science has shown that the analogy between the insect which infests the skin and the garment is sufficiently close to not only justify, but to make necessary, the purposes of the ceremonial law as given by Moses.

d. And the Lord said furthermore unto him, Put now thine hand into thy bosom. And he put his hand into his bosom; and when he took it out, behold his hand was leprous as snow. (Ex. 4:6.) And the cloud departed from off the tabernacle, and, behold, Miriam became leprous, white as snow; and Aaron looked upon Miriam, and, behold she was leprous. (Num. 12:10.) And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean. And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed. (Mk. 1:40-42.)

e. Command the children of Israel, that they put out of the camp every leper, and every one that hath an issue, and whosoever is defiled by the dead. (Num. 5:2.) And the Lord said unto Moses, If her father had but spit in her face, should she not be ashamed seven days? Let her be shut out from the camp seven days, and after that let her be received in again. (Num. 12:14.) And there were four leprous men, at the entering of the gate; and they said one to another, Why sit we here until we die? (II Ks. 7:3.) And the Lord smote the king, so that he was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a several house. (II Ks. 15:5.) And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off. (Lu. 17:12.) Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us. (II Thes. 3:6.)

plague be somewhat dark after the washing of it; then he shall rend it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warp, or out of the woof:

57 And if it appear still in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; it is a spreading plague: thou shalt burn that wherein the plague is with fire.

58 And the garment, either warp, or woof, or whatsoever thing of skin it be, which thou shalt wash, if the plague be departed from them, then it shall be washed the second time, and shall be clean.

59 This is the law of the plague of leprosy in a garment of woollen or linen, either in the warp, or woof, or any thing of skins, to pronounce it clean, or to pronounce it unclean.

CHAPTER 14.

1 The rites and sacrifices in cleansing of the leper. 33 The signs of leprosy in a house. 43 The cleansing of that house.

1 And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 This shall be the law [a]of the leper in the day of his cleansing: He shall be brought unto the priest:

3 And the priest shall go forth out of the camp; and the priest shall look, and, behold, if the plague of leprosy be healed in the leper;

4 Then shall the priest command to take for him that is to be cleansed two birds alive and clean, and cedar wood, and scarlet, and hyssop:

5 And the priest shall command that one of the birds be killed in an earthen vessel over running water:

6 As for the living bird, he shall take it, and the cedar wood, and the scarlet, and the hyssop, and shall dip them and the living bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the running water:

7 And he shall sprinkle upon him that is to be cleansed from the leprosy [b]seven times, and shall pronounce him clean, and shall let the living bird [1]loose into the open field.

8 And he that is to be cleansed shall wash his clothes, and shave off all his hair, and wash himself in water, that he may be clean: and after that he shall come into the camp, and shall tarry abroad out of his tent seven days.

9 But it shall be on the seventh [2]day, that he shall shave all his hair off his head and his beard and his eyebrows, even all his hair he shall shave off: and he shall wash his clothes, also he shall wash his flesh in water, and he shall be clean.

10 And on the eighth day he shall take two he [c]lambs without blemish, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish, and three tenth deals of fine flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, and one [3]log of oil.

11 And the priest that maketh him clean shall present the man that is to be made clean, and those things, before the Lord, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:

12 And the priest shall take one he lamb, and offer him for a [4]trespass offering, and the log of oil, and wave them for a wave [5]offering before the Lord:

13 And he shall slay the [d]lamb in the place where he shall kill the sin offering and the burnt offering, in the holy place: for as the sin offering is the priest's, so is the [4]trespass offering: it is most holy:

14 And the priest shall take some of the blood of the [e]trespass offering, and the priest shall put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot:

15 And the priest shall take some of the log of oil, and pour it into the palm of his own left hand:

16 And the priest shall dip his right finger in the oil that is in his left hand, and shall sprinkle of the oil with his finger seven times before the Lord:

17 And of the rest of the oil that is in his hand shall the priest put upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, upon the blood of the trespass offering:

18 And the remnant of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall pour upon the head of him that is to be cleansed: and the priest shall make [f]an [6]atonement for him before the [7]Lord.

19 And the priest shall offer the sin offering, and make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed from his uncleanness: and afterward he shall kill the [g]burnt offering:

20 And the priest shall offer the burnt offering and the meat offering upon the altar: and the priest shall make an [f]atonement for him, and he shall be clean.

21 And if he be poor, and cannot get so much; then he shall take one lamb for a trespass offering to be waved, to make an [f]atonement for him, and one tenth deal of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering, and a log of oil;

22 And two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, such as he is able to get; and the one shall be a sin offering, and the other a [g]burnt offering.

23 And he shall bring them on the eighth day for his cleansing unto the priest, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, before the [7]Lord.

24 And the priest shall take the lamb of the trespass offering, and the log of oil, and the priest shall wave them for a wave offering before the Lord:

25 And he shall kill the [d]lamb of the trespass offering, and the priest shall take some of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot:

26 And the priest shall pour of the oil into the palm of his own left hand:

27 And the priest shall sprinkle with his right finger some of the oil that is in his left hand seven times before the [7]Lord:

28 And the priest shall put of the oil that is in his hand upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, upon the place of the blood of the trespass offering:

29 And the rest of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall put upon the head of him that is to be cleansed, to make [f]an atonement for him before the [7]Lord.

Ch. 14. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Vs. 1-32 are addressed to Moses and relate to the ritual for cleansing the leper and restoring him to full communion with Israel. Vs. 33-57 are addressed to Moses and Aaron, describing the leprosy in a house and prescribing the mode of its treatment.

1. Not released until the death of its companion; for the two birds typify one Christ in two stages of his atoning work—death and resurrection.

2. Sig the perfection of the cleansing.

3. Two-thirds of an imperial pint.

4. Offered as a consecration offering.

6. To cover; to make reconciliation for.

7. Jehovah.

Chapter 14.

a. And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. (Ez. 44:23.) And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. (Math. 8:2.) And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go show yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed. (Lu. 17:14.)

b. And Elisha sent a messenger unto him, saying, Go and wash in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come again to thee, and thou shalt be clean (10). Then went he down, and dipped himself seven times in Jordan according to the saying of the man of God; and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child, and he was clean. (II Ks. 5:10, 14.)

e. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.) In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins. (Col. 1:14.) Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience (9). How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God! (Heb. 9:9, 14.)

f. See i, ch. 4, Lev. Also e, ch. 1.

30 And he shall offer the one of the turtledoves, or of the young pigeons, such as he can get;
31 Even such as he is able to get, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a [g]burnt offering, with the meat offering: and the priest shall make [f]an atonement for him that is to be cleansed before the [7]Lord.
32 This is the law of him in whom is the plague of leprosy, whose hand is not able to get that which pertaineth to his cleansing.
33 ¶ [8]And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying,
34 When ye be come into the land of Cā'năan, which I give to you for a possession, and I put the plague of leprosy in a house of the land of your possession;
35 And he that owneth the house shall come and tell the priest, saying, It seemeth to me there is as it were a plague in the house:
36 Then the priest shall command that they empty the house, before the priest go into it to see the plague, that all that is in the house be not made unclean: and afterward the priest shall go in to see the house:
37 And he shall look on the plague, and, behold, if the plague be in the walls of the house with hollow strakes, greenish or reddish, which in sight are lower than the wall;
38 Then the priest shall go out of the house to the door of the house, and shut up the house seven days:
39 And the priest shall come again the seventh day, and shall look: and, behold, if the plague be spread in the walls of the house;
40 Then the priest shall command that they take away the stones in which the plague is, and they shall cast them into an unclean place without the city:
41 And he shall cause the house to be scraped within round about, and they shall pour out the dust that they scrape off without the city into an unclean place:
42 And they shall take other stones, and put them in the place of those stones; and he shall take other mortar, and shall plaister the house.
43 And if the plague come again, and break out in the house, after that he hath taken away the stones, and after he hath scraped the house, and after it is plaistered;
44 Then the priest shall come and look, and, behold, if the plague be spread in the house, it is a fretting leprosy in the house: it is unclean.
45 And he shall break down the house, the stones of it, and the timber thereof, and all the mortar of the house; and he shall carry them forth out of the city into an unclean place.
46 [a]Moreover he that goeth into the house all the while that it is shut up shall be unclean until the even.
47 And he that lieth in the house shall wash his clothes; and he that eateth in the house shall wash his clothes.
48 And if the priest shall come in, and look upon it, and, behold, the plague hath not spread in the house, after the house was plaistered: then the priest shall pronounce the house clean, because the plague is healed.
49 And he shall take to cleanse the house two birds, and cedar wood, and scarlet, and hyssop:
50 And he shall kill the one of the birds in an earthen vessel over running water:
51 And he shall take the cedar wood, and the hyssop, and the scarlet, and the living bird, and dip them in the blood of the slain bird, and in the running water, and sprinkle the house seven times:
52 And he shall cleanse the house with the blood of the bird, and with the running water, and with the living bird, and with the cedar wood, and with the hyssop, and with the scarlet:
53 But he shall let go the living bird out of the city into the open fields, and make an [f]atonement for the house: and it shall be clean.
54 This is the law for all manner of plague of leprosy, and scall, 55 And for the leprosy of a garment, and of a house,
56 And for a rising, and for a scab, and for a bright spot:
57 To teach when it is unclean, and when it is clean: this is the law of leprosy.

8. In vs. 33-45 is given the signs of leprosy in a house.

9. Vs. 46-57 give the rules governing the cleansing of a house suspected of leprosy.

CHAPTER 15.

1 The uncleanness of men in their issues. 13 The cleansing of them. 19 The uncleanness of women in their issues. 28 Their cleansing.
1 And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş and to Aâr'on, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, When any man hath a running issue out of his flesh, because of his issue he is unclean.
3 And this shall be his uncleanness in his issue: whether his flesh run with his issue, or his flesh be stopped from his issue, it is his uncleanness.
4 Every bed, whereon he lieth that hath the issue, is unclean: and every thing, whereon he sitteth, shall be unclean.
5 And whosoever toucheth his bed shall wash his clothes, [a]and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
6 And he that sitteth on any thing whereon he sat that hath the issue shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
7 And he that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
8 And if he that hath the issue spit upon him that is clean; then he shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
9 And what saddle soever he rideth upon that hath the issue shall be unclean.
10 And whosoever toucheth any thing that was under him shall be unclean until the even: and he that beareth any of those things shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
11 And whomsoever he toucheth that hath the issue, and hath not rinsed his hands in water, he shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
12 And the [b]vessel of earth, that he toucheth which hath the issue, shall be broken: and every vessel of wood shall be rinsed in water.
13 And when he that hath an issue is cleansed of his issue; then he shall number to himself seven days for his cleansing, and wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in running water, and shall be clean.
14 And on the eighth day he shall take to him [c]two turtledoves, or two young pigeons,

Chapter 15.

a. And every soul that eateth that which died of itself, or that which was torn with beasts, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger, he shall both wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even; then shall he be clean. (Lev. 17:15.) But the earthen vessel wherein it is sodden shall be broken; and if it be sodden in a brasen pot it shall be both scoured, and rinsed in water. (Lev. 6:28.) And upon whatsoever any of them, when they are dead, doth fall, it shall be unclean; whether it be any vessel of wood, or raiment, or skin, or sack, whatsoever vessel it be, wherein any work is done, it must be put into water, and it shall be unclean until the even so it shall be cleansed. (Lev. 11:32.)

c. And two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, such as he is able to get; and the one shall be a sin offering, and the other a burnt offering. and come before the Lord unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and give them unto the priest:

15 And the priest shall offer them, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a [d]burnt offering; and the priest shall make [e]an atonement for him before the Lord for his issue.

16 And if any man's seed of copulation go out from him, then he shall wash all his flesh in water, and be unclean until the even.

17 And every garment, and every skin, whereon is the seed of copulation, shall be washed with water, and be unclean until the even.

18 The woman also with whom man shall lie with seed of copulation, they shall both bathe themselves in water, and be unclean until the even.

19 ¶ And if a woman have an issue, and her issue in her flesh be blood, she shall be put apart seven days: and whosoever toucheth her shall be unclean until the even.

20 And every thing that she lieth upon in her separation shall be unclean: every thing also that she sitteth upon shall be unclean.

21 And whosoever toucheth her bed shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.

22 And whosoever toucheth any thing that she sat upon shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.

23 And if it be on her bed, or on any thing whereon she sitteth, when he toucheth it, he shall be unclean until the even.

24 And if any man lie with her at all, and her flowers be upon him, he shall be unclean seven days; and all the bed whereon he lieth shall be unclean.

25 And if a woman have an issue of her blood many days out of the time of her separation, or if it run beyond the time of her separation; all the days of the issue of her uncleanness shall be as the days of her separation: she shall be unclean.

26 Every bed whereon she lieth all the days of her issue shall be unto her as the bed of her separation: and whatsoever she sitteth upon shall be unclean, as the uncleanness of her separation.

27 And whosoever toucheth those things shall be unclean, and shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.

28 But if she be cleansed of her issue, then she shall number to herself seven days, and after that she shall be clean.

29 And on the eighth day she shall take unto her two turtles, or two young pigeons, and bring them unto the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

30 And the priest shall offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering; and the priest shall make [e]an atonement for her before the Lord for the issue of her uncleanness.

31 Thus shall ye [f]separate the children of Ĭs'ra-el from their uncleanness; that they die not in their uncleanness, when they defile my tabernacle that is among them.

32 This is the law of him that hath an issue, and of him whose seed goeth from him, and is defiled therewith;

33 And of her that is sick of her flowers, and of him that hath an issue, of the man, and of the woman, and of him that lieth with her that is unclean.

Ch. 16. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—The most solemn and significant ordinances of the Levitical code, embracing the entire scheme of the symbol worship, culminating in the day of atonement, is recorded in the 16th ch. Though the main part of the Mosaic ritual was sacrificial, because the guilt of sin was perpetually calling for new acts of purification, yet all were a part of one grand, comprehensive series of actions leading to the idea of atonement which is related in this ch.

1. Offered as a propitiation or covering of minor offenses, the removal of ceremonial uncleanness, an atonement of unintentional sins, either when the wrong doer was ignorant of the law or forgetful of it.

2. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah; offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension, to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

3. To condone, to cover, to make reconciliation for.

4. The goat laden with the sins of the people and which was sent to the spirit Zazel which abode in the wilderness; instituted that the ignorant people might have a visible means of the removal of their sins. (H.)

f. Take heed in the plague of leprosy, that thou observe diligently, and do according to all that the priests the Levites shall teach you; as I commanded them, so ye shall observe to do. (Dt. 24:8.) Her priests have violated my law, and have profaned mine holy things; they have put no difference between the holy and profane, neither have they shown difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them. (Ez. 22:26.) And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the profane and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. (Ez. 44:23.)

Chapter 16.

a. And Aaron shall make an atonement upon the horns of it once in a year with the blood of the sin offering of atonements; once in the year shall he make atonement upon it, throughout your generations; it is most holy unto the Lord. (Ex. 30:10.) But into the second went the high priest alone once a year, not without blood, which he offered for himself and for the errors of the people. (Heb. 9:7.) Having, therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus. (Heb. 10:19.)

b. And there I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the mercy seat, from between the two cherubim which are upon the ark of the testimony, of all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Israel. (Ex. 25:22.)

e. And thou shalt make an altar to burn incense upon; of shittim wood shalt thou make it (1). And Aaron shall burn thereon sweet incense every morning; when he dresseth the lamps; he shall burn incense upon it. (Ex. 30:1, 7.) And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand. (Rev. 8:3, 4.)

15 ¶ Then shall he kill the goat of the sin [1]offering, that is for the people, and bring his blood within the vail, and do with that blood as he did with the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it upon the mercy seat, and before the mercy seat:

16 And he shall make an [3]atonement [d]for the holy place, because of the uncleanness of the children of Is'ra-el, and because of their transgressions in all their sins: and so shall he do for the tabernacle of the congregation, that remaineth among them in the midst of their uncleanness.

17 And there shall be no man in the tabernacle of the congregation when he goeth in to make an [3]atonement [d]in the holy place, until he come out, and have made an [3]atonement for himself, and for his household, and for all the congregation of Is'ra-el.

18 And he shall go out unto the altar that is before the Lord, and make an [d]atonement for it; and shall take of the blood of the bullock, and of the blood of the goat, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about.

19 And he shall sprinkle of the blood upon it with his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and hallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Is'ra-el.

20 ¶ And when he hath made an end of reconciling the holy place, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar, he shall bring the live goat:

21 And Aär'on shall lay both his hands upon the head of the live goat, and confess over him all the iniquities of the children of Is'ra-el, and all their transgressions in all their sins, putting them upon the head of the goat, and shall send him away by the hand of a fit [4]man into the wilderness:

22 And the goat shall [f]bear upon him all their iniquities unto a land not inhabited: and he shall let go the goat in the wilderness.

23 And Aär'on shall come into the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall put off the linen garments, which he put on when he went into the holy place, and shall leave them there:

24 And he shall wash his flesh with water in the holy place, and put on his garments, and come forth, and offer his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the people, and make [d]an atonement for himself, and for the people.

25 And the fat of the sin [1]offering shall he burn upon the altar.

26 And he that let go the goat for the scapegoat shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward come into the camp.

27 And the bullock for the sin [1]offering, and the goat for the sin offering, whose blood was brought in to make [3]atonement [d]in the holy place, shall one carry forth without the camp; and they shall burn in the fire their skins, and their flesh, and their dung.

28 And he that burneth them shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp.

29 ¶ And this shall be a statute for ever unto you: that in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, ye shall afflict your souls, and do no work at all, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger that sojourneth among you:

30 For on that day shall the priest make an [d]atonement for you, to [g]cleanse you, that ye may be clean from all your sins before the Lord.

31 It shall be a sabbath of rest unto you, and ye shall afflict your souls, by a statute for ever.

32 And the priest, whom he shall anoint, and whom he shall consecrate to minister in the priest's office in his father's stead, shall make the atonement, [d]and shall put on the linen clothes, even the holy garments:

33 And he shall make an atonement for the holy sanctuary, and he shall make an atonement for the tabernacle of the congregation, and for the altar, and he shall make an atonement [d]for the priests, and for all the people of the congregation.

34 And this shall be an everlasting statute unto you, to make an atonement for the children of Is'ra-el for all their sins once a year. And he did as the Lord commanded Mō'ses.

5. Denoting the perfection of the expiation.

Ch. 17. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 17 relates to the blood of the slain animals, giving specific laws regarding it because the blood was supposed to contain the soul. Bahr regards v. 11 as the key to the whole theory of the Jewish sacrifices and in his great work presents the following points: (1) The central point of the sacrifice is not the killing of the animal, but the procedure with the blood; (2) that the end of the sacrifice is expiation or atonement; (3) that it is Jehovah from whom the atonement proceeds and that it is for man; (4) that the blood makes an atonement because the soul is in the blood; (5) that the atoning power does not reside in the material blood, but in the soul that is in the blood, that there is a symbolical substitution of the soul of the animal for the soul of man. Therefore ch. 17 impresses upon the Hebrew mind the sacredness of the blood of animals slain in sacrifice, and of the blood shed of all beasts and birds.

1. Jehovah.

2. Thanksgiving offering, of one in the enjoyment of peace, offered by a clear conscience.

3. Through the covenant relations Jehovah had married the chosen people, and their idolatrous practices were like the infidelity of a wife.

4. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

CHAPTER 17.

1 The blood of all slain beasts must be offered to the Lord at the door of the tabernacle. 7 They must not offer to devils. 10 All eating of blood is forbidden, 15 and all that dieth alone, or is torn.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'ses, saying,

2 Speak unto Aär'on, and unto his sons, and unto all the children of Is'ra-el, and say unto them; This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded, saying,

3 What man soever there be of the house of Is'ra-el, that killeth an ox, or lamb, or goat, in the camp, or that killeth it out of the camp,

4 And bringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer an offering unto the Lord before the tabernacle of the Lord; blood shall be [c]imputed unto that man; he hath shed blood; and that man shall be cut off from among his people:

5 To the end that the children of Is'ra-el may bring their sacrifices, which they offer in the open field, even that they may bring them unto the Lord, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest, and offer them for peace [2]offerings unto the Lord.

6 And the priest shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar of the Lord at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and burn the fat for a sweet savour unto the Lord.

7 And they shall no more offer their sacrifices unto devils, after whom they have gone a [3]whoring. This shall be a statute for ever unto them throughout their generations.

8 ¶ And thou shalt say unto them, Whatsoever man there be of the house of Is'ra-el, or of the strangers which sojourn among you, that offereth a burnt [4]offering [b]or sacrifice,

9 And bringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer it unto the Lord; even that man shall be cut off from among his people.

10 ¶ And whatsoever man there be of the house of Is'ra-el, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, that eateth [c]any manner of blood; I will even set my face against that soul that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people.

f. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses. (Matth. 8:17.) The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world. (Jno. 1:29.) Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness; by whose stripes ye were healed. (I Pet. 2:24.)

g. Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin. (Ps. 51:2.) And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me. (Jer. 33:8.) That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word. (Eph. 5:26.) But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (I Jno. 1:7.)

Chapter 17.

a. For until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law. (Rom. 5:13.) Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law, for sin is the transgression of the law. (I Jno. 3:4.)

b. For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

c. But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall 11 For the life of the flesh [5]is in the blood: and I have given it to you upon the altar to make an [6]atonement [d]for your souls: for it is the blood that maketh an [6]atonement for the soul.

12 Therefore I said unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, No soul of you shall eat blood, neither shall any stranger that sojourneth among you eat blood.

13 And whatsoever man there be of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, which hunteth and catcheth any beast or fowl that may be eaten; he shall even pour out the blood thereof, and cover it with dust.

14 For it is the life of all flesh; the blood of it is for the life thereof: therefore I said unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, Ye shall eat the blood of no manner of flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it shall be cut off.

15 And every soul that eateth that which died of itself, or that which was torn with beasts, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger, he shall both wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even: then shall he be clean.

16 But if he wash them not, nor bathe his flesh; then he shall bear his iniquity.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Unlawful marriages. 19 Unlawful lusts.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, [2]saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, [a]I am the [1]Lord your God.

3 After the doings of the land of Ē'gўpt, wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not do: and after the doings of the land of Cā'năan, whither I bring you, shall ye not do: neither shall ye walk in their ordinances.

4 Ye shall do my judgments, and keep mine ordinances, to walk therein: [a]I am the [1]Lord your God.

5 Ye shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgments: [b]which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the [1]Lord.

6 ¶ None of you shall approach to any that is near of kin to him, to uncover their nakedness: I am the [1]Lord.

7 The nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother, shalt thou not uncover: she is thy mother; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

8 The [c]nakedness of thy father's wife shalt thou not uncover: it is thy father's nakedness.

9 The [d]nakedness of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or daughter of thy mother, whether she be born at home, or born abroad, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover.

10 The nakedness of thy son's daughter, or of thy daughter's daughter, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover: for theirs is thine own nakedness.

11 The nakedness of thy father's wife's daughter, begotten of thy father, she is thy sister, thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

12 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister: she is thy father's near kinswoman.

13 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister: for she is thy mother's near kinswoman.

14 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's brother, thou shalt not approach to his wife: she is thine aunt.

15 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy daughter in law: she is thy son's wife; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

16 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy brother's wife: it is thy brother's nakedness.

17 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of a woman and her daughter, neither shalt thou take her son's daughter, or her daughter's daughter, to uncover her nakedness; for they are her near kinswomen: it is wickedness.

18 [3]Neither shalt thou take a wife to her sister, to vex her, to uncover her nakedness, beside the other in her life time.

19 [e]Also thou shalt not approach unto a woman to uncover her nakedness, as long as she is put apart for her uncleanness.

20 Moreover [e]thou shalt not lie carnally with thy neighbour's wife, to defile thyself with her.

21 And thou shalt not let any of thy seed pass through the fire to Mō'lech, neither shalt thou [f]profane the name of thy God: I am the Lord.

22 Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is [4]abomination.

23 Neither shalt thou lie with [5]any beast to defile thyself therewith: neither shall any woman stand before a beast or lie down thereto: it is confusion.

24 Defile [g]not ye yourselves in any of these things: for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you:

25 And the land is defiled: therefore I do visit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants.

26 Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you:

27 (For all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled;)

28 That the land spue not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spued out the nations that were before you.

29 For whosoever shall commit any of these abominations, even the souls that commit them shall be cut off from among their people.

30 Therefore shall ye keep mine ordinance, that ye commit not any one of these abominable customs, which were committed before you, and that ye [g]defile not yourselves therein: I am the Lord your God.

5. The "nephesh" (soul) of the flesh; the "animus," the subject of all the activities of knowing, feeling and willing, and "anima," the principle of animal life vitalizing the blood. In 1628 Dr. Harvey startled the scientific world with the discovery of the circulation and inherent principle of the blood; although Solomon had announced the same truth in Ecc. 12:6.

6. To condone, to cover, to make reconciliation.

Ch. 18. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Whenever a nation rejects God, it instinctively turns to the fetid pool of sensual pleasure to satisfy thirsty souls. The Hebrews, chosen as they were to be the people of God, needed especial instructions and safeguards against this degrading form of sin. This ch. prohibits the vices of Egypt and Canaan (Lev. 1:5), incestuous marriages (Lev. 6:18), and unlawful lusts (Lev. 19:30).

1. Jehovah.

2. The vices of Egypt and Canaan prohibited (vs. 1-5).

3. Prohibition of incestuous marriages (vs. 6-18).

4. Filthy, condemnation to thee.

5. A practice common in many heathen nations, and a crime punishable with death.

6. Unnatural lusts prohibited (vs. 19-30).

ye not eat. (Gen. 9:4.) Then they told Saul, saying, Behold, the people sin against the Lord in that they eat with the blood. And he said, Ye have transgressed; roll a great stone unto me this day. (I Sam. 14:33.)

d. See i, ch. 4. Also e, ch. 1.

a. And I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God; and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God, which bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians. (Ex. 6:7.) But because the Lord loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your fathers, hath the Lord brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you out of the house of bondmen, from the hand of Pharaoh, king of Egypt. (Dt. 7:8.) He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. (Rev. 21:7.)

b. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right; this do, and thou shalt live. (Lu. 10:28.) For Moses describeth the righteousness which is the law, That the man which doeth those things shall live by them. (Rom. 10:5.)

c. Unstable as water, thou shalt not excel, because thou wentest up to thy father's bed; then defilest thou it; he went up to my couch. (Gen. 49:4.) It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife. (I Cor. 5:1.)

d. And she answered him, Nay, my brother, do not force me; for no such thing ought to be done in Israel; do not thou this folly. (II Sam. 13:12.)

e. So he that goeth in to his neighbor's wife, whosoever toucheth her shall not be innocent. (Prov. 6:29.) Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery. (Math. 5:27.) Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived; neither fornicators nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, shall inherit the kingdom of God. (I Cor. 6:9, 10.) Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled; but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

f. And when they entered unto the heathen, whither they went, they profaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone forth out of his land. (Ezek. 36:20.) But ye have profaned it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted; and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible. (Mal. 1:12.)

g. But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man. (Math. 15:18.) If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is

CHAPTER 19.

A repetition of sundry laws.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
2 Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, [a]Ye shall be holy: for I the [1]Lord your God am holy.
3 ¶ Ye shall fear every man [b]his mother, and his father, and [c]keep my sabbaths: I am the [1]Lord your God.
4 ¶ Turn [d]ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the [1]Lord your God.
5 ¶ And if ye offer a sacrifice of peace [2]offerings unto the Lord, ye shall offer it at your own will.
6 It shall be eaten the same day ye offer it, and on the morrow: and if ought remain until the third day, it shall be burnt in the fire.
7 And if it be eaten at all on the third day, it is [3]abominable; it shall not be accepted.
8 Therefore every one that eateth it shall bear his iniquity, because he hath profaned the hallowed thing of the [1]Lord: and that soul shall be cut off from among his people.
9 ¶ And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harvest.
10 And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them [e]for the poor and stranger: I am the [1]Lord your God.
11 ¶ Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither [f]lie one to another.
12 ¶ And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the Lord.
13 ¶ Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbour, neither rob him: the wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning.
14 ¶ Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a [g]stumblingblock before the blind, but shalt fear thy God: I am the [1]Lord.
15 ¶ Ye shall do no [h]unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour.
16 ¶ Thou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer among thy people: neither shalt thou stand against the blood of thy neighbour: I am the Lord.
17 ¶ Thou shalt not [i]hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt [j]in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, and not suffer sin upon him.
18 ¶ Thou [k]shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, [l]but thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: I am the [1]Lord.
19 ¶ Ye shall keep my statutes. Thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with a diverse kind: thou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed: neither shall a garment mingled of linen and woollen come upon thee.
20 ¶ And whosoever lieth carnally with a woman, that is a bondmaid, betrothed to an husband, and not at all redeemed, nor freedom given her; she shall be scourged; they shall not be put to death, because she was not free.
21 And he shall bring his [4]trespass offering unto the Lord, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, even a ram for a trespass offering.
22 And the priest shall make [m]an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass [4]offering before the Lord for his sin which he hath done: and the sin which he hath done shall be forgiven him.
23 ¶ And when ye shall come into the land, and shall have planted all manner of trees for food, then ye shall count the fruit thereof as uncircumcised: three years shall it be as uncircumcised unto you: it shall not be eaten of.
24 But in the fourth year all the fruit thereof shall be holy to praise the Lord withal.
25 And in the fifth year shall ye eat of the fruit thereof, that it may yield unto you the increase thereof: I am the [1]Lord your God.
26 ¶ Ye shall not eat any thing with the blood: neither shall ye use enchantment, nor observe times.
27 Ye shall not [n]round the corners of your heads, neither shalt thou mar the corners of thy beard.
28 Ye shall not make any cuttings in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you: I am the [1]Lord.
29 ¶ Do not prostitute thy daughter, to cause her to be a whore; lest the land fall to whoredom, and the land become full of wickedness.
30 ¶ Ye shall keep [c]my sabbaths, and reverence [o]my sanctuary: I am the Lord.
31 ¶ Regard not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them: I am the Lord your God.
32 ¶ Thou [p]shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man, and fear thy God: I am the Lord.
33 ¶ And if a stranger sojourn with thee in your land, ye shall not vex him.

Ch. 19. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Is a recapitulation of the many laws given treating of holiness toward God and righteousness toward man (vs. 1-13) variously repeated; (14-19) penalty for seducing bondmaid; (20-22) regulations respecting the fruit of trees planted in Canaan; (23-25) blood eating, marring the body by cutting or painting, training a daughter for prostitution, profaning the Sabbath, and witchcraft are forbidden; (32-37) veneration for the aged, regard for the stranger, standard weights and measures are enjoined.

1. Jehovah.

2. A thanksgiving offering of one in the enjoyment of peace afforded by a clear conscience.

3. Condemnation to thee.

4. Offered when one had unwittingly trespassed against the ordinances of God, also for perjury.

holy, which temple ye are. (I Cor. 3:17.) For all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord, and because of these abominations the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee. (Dt. 18:12.)

Chapter 19.

a. According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love. (Eph. 1:4.) In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life. (Luke 1:75.)

b. For God commanded, saying, Honor thy father and mother; and He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. (Math. 15:4.) Honor thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise). (Eph. 6:2.) And he that curseth his father, or his mother, shall surely be put to death. (Ex. 21:17.) Cursed be he that setteth light by his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:16.)

c. Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. (Dt. 5:12.) And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work, which God created and made. (Gen. 2:3.) Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. (Ex. 20:8.) Six days shall work be done; but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings. (Lev. 23:3.) Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctify them. (Ezek. 20:12.)

d. Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry. (I Cor. 10:14.)

e. Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble. (Ps. 41:1.) He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker; but he that honoreth him hath mercy on the poor. (Prov. 14:31.) If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter; for he that is higher than the highest regardeth: and there be higher than they. (Ecc. 5:8.) My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons (1). But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors. (Ja. 2:1, 9.)

f. Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor; for we are members one of another. (Eph. 4:25.)

g. Let us not therefore judge one another any more; but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling block, or an occasion to fall, in his brother's way. (Rom. 14:13.) But take heed, lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to them that are weak. (I Cor. 8:9.)

h. How long will ye judge unjustly, and accept the persons of the wicked? (Ps. 82:2.) But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors. (Ja. 2:9.)

i. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer; and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. (I Jno. 3:15.)

j. Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. (Luke 17:3.)

k. Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. (Rom. 12:17.) The thought of foolishness is sin: and the scorner is an abomination to men. (Prov. 24:9.) Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing. (I Pet. 3:9.)

l. Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Math. 5:43, 44.)

m. See ch. 4, Lev. Also e, ch. 1.

n. See ch. 21:5.

o. Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear, than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they consider not that they do evil. (Ecc. 5:1.)

p. The glory of young men is their strength; and the beauty of old 34 But the stranger that dwelleth with you shall be unto you as one born among you, and thou shalt love him as thyself; for ye were strangers in the land of Ĕ'gўpt: I am the Lord your God.

35 ¶ Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in [5]meteyard, in weight, or in measure.

36 Just balances, just weights, a just [6]ephah, and a just [7]hin, shall ye have: I am the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Ē'gўpt.

37 Therefore shall [q]ye observe all my statutes, and all my judgments, and do them: I am the [1]Lord.

CHAPTER 20.

1 Of him that giveth of his seed to Molech. 6 Of going to wizards. 7 Of sanctification. 9 Of him that curseth his parents. 10 Of adultery. 11, 14, 17, 19 Of incest. 13 Of sodomy. 15 Of beastiality. 18 Of uncleanness. 27 Wizards must be put to death.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'sĕs, saying,

2 Again, thou shalt say to the children of Ĭs'ra-el, Whosoever he be of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, or of the strangers that sojourn in Ĭs'ra-el, that giveth any of his seed unto Mō'lech; he shall surely be put to death: the people of the land shall [2]stone him with stones.

3 And I will set my face against that man, and will cut him off from among his people; because he hath given of his seed unto Mō'lech, to defile [a]my sanctuary, and to profane my holy name.

4 And if the people of the land do any ways hide their eyes from the man, when he giveth of his seed unto Mō'lech, and kill him not:

5 Then I will set my face against that man, and against his family, and will cut him off, and all that go a [3]whoring after him, to commit whoredom with [b]Mō'lech, from among their people.

6 ¶ And the soul that turneth after such as have familiar spirits, and after wizards, to go a whoring after them, I will even set my face against that soul, and will cut him off from among his people.

7 ¶ Sanctify [c]yourselves therefore, and be ye holy: for I am the [1]Lord your God.

8 And ye shall keep my statutes, and do them: I am the [1]Lord which sanctify you.

9 ¶ For every one that [d]curseth his father or his mother shall be surely put to death: he hath cursed his father or his mother; his blood shall be upon him.

10 ¶ And the man that [e]committeth adultery with another man's wife, even he that committeth adultery with his neighbour's wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death.

11 And the man that lieth with his father's wife hath uncovered his father's nakedness: both of them shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.

12 And if a man lie with his daughter in law, both of them shall surely be put to death: they have wrought confusion; their blood shall be upon them.

13 [f]If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.

14 And if a man take a wife and her mother, it is wickedness: they shall be burnt with fire, both he and they; that there be no wickedness among you.

15 And if a man lie with a beast, he shall surely be put to death: and ye shall slay the beast.

16 And if a woman approach unto any beast, and lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman, and the beast: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.

17 And if a man shall take his sister, his father's daughter, or his mother's daughter, and see her nakedness, and she see his nakedness; it is a wicked thing; and they shall be cut off in the sight of their people: he hath uncovered his sister's nakedness; he shall bear his iniquity.

18 And if a man shall lie with a woman having her sickness, and shall uncover her nakedness; he hath discovered her fountain, and she hath uncovered the fountain of her blood: and both of them shall be cut off from among their people.

19 And thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister, nor of thy father's sister: for he uncovereth his near kin: they shall bear their iniquity.

20 And if a man shall lie with his uncle's wife, he hath uncovered his uncle's nakedness: they shall bear their sin; they shall die childless.

21 And if a man shall take his brother's wife, it is an unclean thing: he hath uncovered his brother's nakedness; they shall be childless.

22 ¶ Ye shall therefore keep all my statutes, and all my judgments, and do them: that the land, whither I bring you to dwell therein, spue you not out.

23 And ye shall not walk in the manners of the nation, which I cast out before you: for they committed all these things, and therefore I abhorred them.

24 But I have said unto you, Ye shall inherit their land, and I will give it unto you to possess it, a land that floweth with milk and honey: I am the Lord your God, which have [g]separated you from other people.

25 Ye shall therefore put difference between clean beasts and unclean, and between unclean fowls and clean: and ye shall not make your souls abominable by beast, or by fowl, or by any manner of living thing that creepeth on the ground, which I have separated from you as unclean.

26 And ye shall be holy unto me: for I the Lord am holy, and have severed you from other people, that ye should be mine.

NOTE.—Laws are worthless without penalties, so in ch. 20 the divine lawgiver records the penalties for the various crimes and vices heretofore specified. The penalties here mentioned refer only to earthly or temporal government.

1. Jehovah.

2. Stoning was the ordinary method of capital punishment, practiced by the Egyptians and in vogue among the Jews. The criminal was placed on a platform about twelve feet high, stripped naked, except the loins. The criminal was pushed off the scaffold backward and then large stones were dropped on his breast till death came to his relief.

3. A figurative term for idolatry.

men is the grey head. (Prov. 20:29.) Hearken unto thy father that begat thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old. (Prov. 23:22.) Rebuke not an elder, but entreat him as a father; and the younger man as brethren. (I Tim. 5:1.)

q. And it shall be our righteousness, if we observe to do all these commandments before the Lord our God, as he hath commanded us. (Dt. 6:25.)

Chapter 20.

a. Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord God; Surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; neither shall mine eye spare; neither will I have any pity. (Ezek. 5:11.)

b. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them; for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. (Ex. 20:5.) And they shall no more offer their sacrifices unto devils after whom they have gone a whoring. This shall be a statute for ever unto them throughout their generations. (Lev. 17:7.)

c. Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. (Math. 5:48.) According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love. (Eph. 1:4.) Because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy. (I Pet. 1:16.) Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children. (Eph. 5:1.)

d. Cursed be he that setteth light by his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:16.) Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness. (Prov. 20:20.) For God commanded, saying, Honor thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. (Math. 15:4.)

e. Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

f. And they called unto Lot, and said unto him, Where are the men which came in to thee this night? bring them out unto us, that we may know them. (Gen. 19:5.) Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen (25). Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them. (Rom. 1:25, 32.)

g. For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God, and the Lord hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people unto himself, above all the nations that are upon the earth. (Dt. 14:2.) For thou didst separate them from among all the people of the earth, to be thine 27 ¶ A man also or woman that hath a familiar spirit, or that is a wizard, shall surely be put to death: they shall stone them with stones: their blood shall be upon them.

CHAPTER 21.

1 Of the priests' mourning. 6 Of their holiness. 8 Of their estimation. 7, 13 Of their marriages. 17 The priests that have blemishes must not minister in the sanctuary.

1 And the [1]Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Speak unto the priests the sons of Aâr'on, and say unto them, There shall none be defiled [2]for the dead among his people:

2 But for his kin, that is near unto him, that is, for his mother, and for his father, and for his son, and for his daughter, and for his brother,

3 And for his sister a virgin, that is nigh unto him, which hath had no husband; for her may he be defiled.

4 But he shall not defile himself, being a chief man among his people, to profane himself.

5 They shall not make [3]baldness upon their head, neither shall they shave off the corner of their beard, nor make any cuttings in their flesh.

6 They shall be holy unto their God, and not [a]profane the name of their God: for the offerings of the [1]Lord made by fire, and the bread of their God, they do offer: therefore they shall be holy.

7 They shall not take a wife that is a whore, or profane; neither shall they take a woman put away from her husband: for he is holy unto his God.

8 Thou shalt sanctify him therefore; for he offereth the bread of thy God: he shall be holy unto thee: [b]for I the [1]Lord, which sanctify you, am holy.

9 ¶ And the daughter of any priest, if she profane herself by playing the whore, she profaneth her father: she shall be burnt with fire.

10 And he that is the high priest among his brethren, upon whose head the anointing oil was poured, and that is consecrated to put on the garments, shall not uncover his head, nor rend his clothes;

11 Neither shall he go in to any dead body, nor defile himself for his father, or for his mother;

12 Neither shall he go out of the sanctuary, nor profane the sanctuary of his God; for the crown of the anointing oil of his God is upon him: I am the [1]Lord.

13 And he shall take a wife in her virginity.

14 A widow, or a divorced woman, or profane, or an harlot, these shall he not take: but he shall take a virgin of his own people to wife.

15 Neither shall he profane his seed among his people: for I [c]the Lord do sanctify him.

16 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

17 [1]Speak unto Aâr'on, saying, Whosoever he be of thy seed in their generations that hath any blemish, let him not approach to offer the bread of his God.

18 For whatsoever man he be that hath a blemish, he shall not approach: a blind man, or a lame, or he that hath a flat nose, or any thing superfluous,

19 Or a man that is brokenfooted, or brokenhanded,

Ch. 21. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 21 treats of the holiness of the priest and his family.

1. Jehovah.

2. Contract ceremonial impurity by entering the house of the dead.

3. The eastern practice of shaving above the forehead when mourning for the dead.

4. Personal blemishes of the priesthood forbidden. Everything connected with the sacrifice of God should be perfect.

Ch. 22. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Instructions to the priests relative to the reverence becoming them in handling the people's offerings. As Israel was chosen to be the holy nation and they were now receiving their schooling in holiness, it was especially incumbent on the priests to prove their holiness as an example before the people, as well as their duty to Jehovah.

1. Jehovah.

2. The offering of the people.

20 Or crookbackt, or a dwarf, or that hath a blemish in his eye, or be scurvy, or scabbed, or hath his stones broken;

21 No man that hath a blemish of the seed of Aâr'on the priest shall come nigh to offer the offerings of the [1]Lord made by fire: he hath a blemish; he shall not come nigh to offer the bread of his God.

22 He shall eat the bread of his God, both of the most holy, and of the holy.

23 Only he shall not go in unto the vail, nor come nigh unto the altar, because he hath a blemish; that he profane not my sanctuaries: for I the [1]Lord do sanctify them.

24 And Mō'şeş told it unto Aâr'on, and to his sons, and unto all the children of Īs'ra-el.

CHAPTER 22.

1 The priests in their uncleanness must abstain from the holy things. 10 Who of the priest's house may eat of the holy things. 17 The sacrifices must be without blemish. 29 The law of eating the sacrifice of thanksgiving.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Speak unto Aâr'on and to his sons, that they separate themselves from the holy [2]things of the children of Īs'ra-el, and that they profane not my holy name in those things which they hallow unto me: I am the [1]Lord.

3 Say unto them, Whosoever he be of all your seed among your generations, that goeth unto the holy [2]things, which the children of Īs'ra-el hallow unto the [1]Lord, having his uncleanness upon him, that soul shall be cut off from my presence: I am the [1]Lord.

4 What man soever of the seed of Aâr'on is a leper, or hath a running issue; he shall not eat of the holy [2]things, until he be clean. And whoso toucheth any thing that is unclean by the dead, or a man whose seed goeth from him;

5 Or whosoever toucheth any creeping thing, whereby he may be made unclean, or a man of whom he may take uncleanness, whatsoever uncleanness he hath;

6 The soul which hath touched any such shall be unclean until even, and shall not eat of the holy [2]things, unless he wash his flesh with water.

7 And when the sun is down, he shall be clean, and shall afterward eat of the holy [2]things; because it is his food.

8 That which dieth of itself, or is torn with beasts, he shall not eat to defile himself therewith; I am the [1]Lord.

9 They shall therefore keep mine ordinance, lest they bear sin for it, and die therefore, if they profane it: I the [1]Lord do sanctify them.

10 There shall no stranger eat of the holy [2]thing: a sojourner of the priest, or an hired servant, shall not eat of the holy thing.

11 But if the priest buy any soul with his money, he shall eat of it, and he that is born in his house: they shall eat of his meat.

12 If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger, she may not eat of an offering of the holy [2]things.

13 But if the priest's daughter be a widow, or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house, as in her youth, she shall eat of her father's meat: but there shall no stranger eat thereof.

14 ¶ And if a man eat of the holy thing unwittingly, then he shall put the fifth part thereof unto it, and shall give it unto the priest with the holy thing.

inheritance, as thou spakest by the hand of Moses thy servant, when thou broughtest our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord God. (I Ks. 8:53.) But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. (I Pet. 2:9.)

Chapter 21.

a. And when they entered unto the heathen, whither they went, they profaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone forth out of his land. (Ezek. 36:20.) But ye have profaned it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted; and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible. (Mal. 1:12.)

b. See ch. 20, vs. 7, 8.

c. I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that 15 And they shall not profane the holy things of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, which they offer unto the Lord;

16 Or suffer them to bear the iniquity of trespass, when they eat their holy things: for I the Lord do sanctify them.

17 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

18 Speak unto Aâr'on, and to his sons, and unto all the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, Whatsoever he be of the house of Ĭs'ra-el, or of the strangers in Ĭs'ra-el, that will [3]offer his oblation for all his vows, and for all his freewill offerings, which they will offer unto the Lord for a [a]burnt [4]offering;

19 Ye shall offer at your own will a male [b]without blemish, of the beeves, of the sheep, or of the goats.

20 But whatsoever hath a [b]blemish, that shall ye not offer: for it shall not be acceptable for you.

21 And whosoever offereth a sacrifice of peace [3]offerings unto the Lord to accomplish his vow, or a freewill offering in beeves or sheep, it shall be perfect to be accepted; there shall be no blemish therein.

22 Blind, or broken, or maimed, or having a wen, or scurvy, or scabbed, ye shall not offer these unto the [1]Lord, nor make an offering by fire of them upon the altar unto the [1]Lord.

23 Either a bullock or a lamb that hath any thing superfluous or lacking in his parts, that mayest thou offer for a freewill offering; but for a vow it shall not be accepted.

24 Ye shall not offer unto the [1]Lord that which is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut; neither shall ye make any offering thereof in your land.

25 Neither from a stranger's hand shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these; because their corruption is in them, and blemishes be in them: they shall not be accepted for you.

26 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

27 When a bullock, or a sheep, or a goat, is brought forth, then it shall be seven days under the dam; and from the eighth day and thenceforth it shall be accepted for an offering made by fire unto the [1]Lord.

28 And whether it be cow or ewe, ye shall not kill it and her young both in one day.

29 And when ye will offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving unto the [1]Lord, offer it at your own will.

30 On the same day it shall be eaten up; ye shall leave none of it until the morrow: I am the [1]Lord.

31 Therefore shall ye keep my commandments, and do them: I am the [1]Lord.

32 Neither shall ye profane my holy name; but [c]I will be hallowed among the children of Ĭs'ra-el: I am the [1]Lord which hallow you, 33 That brought you out of the land of Ē'gўpt, to be [d]your God: I am the [1]Lord.

3. The offering presented in support of a supplicatory prayer.

4. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

Ch. 23. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—The festivals or the feasts of the Lord were instituted for the threefold purpose of preserving a knowledge of the facts on which their religion was based, an increase and maintenance of the feeling of national unity, and a development of their religious sentiments. The passover, commemorating the miraculous deliverance from Egypt; the feast of firstfruits, variously styled the feast of wheat-harvest, of weeks, or Pentecost; and the feast of ingathering, also called the feast of tabernacles. Pentecost is supposed to be in memory of the giving of the law at Sinai, although there is no Scriptural authority for the belief.

1. Jehovah.

2. Religious banquets.

3. All worldly thoughts to be put aside.

4. The seventh day, the period of perfection, the Sabbath day, a day set aside as sacred to Jehovah.

5. Because he passed over the blood-stained doors of the Hebrews when the death-angel smote the firstborn of Egypt.

6. The leaven is prohibited in this feast because it commemorates the hasty flight from Egypt, when the Israelites did not have time to make the leavened bread.

7. The seventh day of the feast.

8. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

9. Meal offering or food offering; a medium of communion.

10. There is no word "deals" in the Hebrew, but simply "two-tenths." Should be an ephod, about six quarts.

11. Consisting of wine poured upon the altar, and is emblematic of joy.

12. The hin contained five quarts.

13. Meal or food offering; a medium of communion.

CHAPTER 23.

1 The feasts of the Lord. 3 The sabbath. 4 The passover. 9 The sheaf of firstfruits. 15 The feast of Pentecost. 23 The feast of trumpets. 26 The day of atonement. 33 The feast of tabernacles.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, Concerning the [2]feasts of the Lord, which ye shall proclaim to be holy [3]convocations, even these are my feasts.

3 [a]Six days shall work be done: but the [4]seventh day is the [b]sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the [1]Lord in all your dwellings.

4 ¶ These are the feasts of the [1]Lord, even holy convocations, which ye shall proclaim in their seasons.

5 In the fourteenth day of the first month at even is the Lord's [5]passover.

6 And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the feast of unleavened [6]bread unto the Lord: seven days ye must eat unleavened bread.

7 In the first day ye shall have an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.

8 But ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord seven days: in the seventh [7]day is an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.

9 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

10 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye be come into the land which I give unto you, and shall reap the harvest thereof, then ye shall bring a sheaf of the [c]firstfruits of your harvest unto the priest:

11 And ye shall wave the sheaf before the [1]Lord, to be accepted for you: on the morrow after the sabbath the priest shall wave it.

12 And ye shall offer that day when ye wave the sheaf an he [d]lamb without blemish of the first year for a [e]burnt [8]offering unto the Lord.

13 And the meat [9]offering thereof shall be two [10]tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil, an offering made by fire unto the Lord for a sweet savour: and the drink [11]offering thereof shall be of wine, the fourth part of an [12]hin.

14 And ye shall eat neither bread, nor parched corn, nor green ears, until the self-same day that ye have brought an offering unto your God: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

15 ¶ And ye shall count unto you from the morrow after the sabbath, from the day that ye brought the sheaf of the wave offering; seven sabbaths shall be complete:

16 Even unto the morrow after the seventh sabbath shall ye number [f]fifty days; and ye shall offer a new meat [13]offering unto the Lord.

17 Ye shall bring out of your habitations ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. (Rom. 12:1.) Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (I Cor. 3:16.) Furthermore then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more. (I Thes. 4:1.)

b. See b, ch. 1, Lev.

c. And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory. (Is. 6:3.) After this manner therefore pray ye, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. (Math. 6:9.) Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. (Jno. 12:28.)

d. And I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God: and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God, which bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians. (Ex. 6:7.)

Chapter 23.

a. Six days thou shalt work: but on the seventh day thou shalt rest; in earing time and in harvest thou shalt rest. (Ex. 34:21.) The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep. (Ecc. 5:12.) And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the laborer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. (Lu. 10:7.) And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you. (I Thes. 4:11.) Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. Six days thou shalt labor, and do all thy work. (Dt. 5:12, 13.) Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. (Ex. 20:8.)

b. See ch. 19, Lev.

c. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.) For if the first-fruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches. (Rom. 11:16.) But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept. (I Cor. 15:20.) Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures. (Ja. 1:18.)

two wave loaves of two tenth deals: they shall be of fine flour; they shall be baken with leaven; they are the firstfruits unto the [1]Lord.

18 And ye shall offer with the bread seven lambs without blemish of the first year, and one young bullock, and two rams: they shall be for a [c]burnt [2]offering unto the [1]Lord, with their meat [3]offering, and their drink [13]offerings, even an offering made by fire, of sweet savour unto the [1]Lord.

19 Then ye shall sacrifice one kid of the goats for a sin [14]offering, and two [d]lambs of the first year for a sacrifice of peace [15]offerings.

20 And the priest shall wave them with the bread of the firstfruits for a wave [16]offering before the [1]Lord, with the two lambs: they shall be holy to the Lord for the priest.

21 And ye shall proclaim on the selfsame day, that it may be an holy convocation unto you: ye shall do no servile work therein: it shall be a statute for ever in all your dwellings throughout your generations.

22 ¶ [17]And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not make clean riddance of the corners of thy field when thou reapest, neither shalt thou gather any gleaning of thy harvest: thou shalt leave them unto the poor, and to the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

23 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

24 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, saying, In the seventh month, in the first day of the month, shall ye have a sabbath, a [18]memorial of blowing of trumpets, an holy convocation.

25 Ye shall do no servile work therein: but ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the [1]Lord.

26 ¶ [19]And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

27 Also on the tenth day of this seventh month there shall be a day of [20]atonement: it shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall afflict your souls, and offer an offering made by fire unto the [1]Lord.

28 And ye shall do no work in that same day: for it is a day of [20]atonement, [g]to make an atonement for you before the [1]Lord your God.

29 For whatsoever soul it be that shall not be afflicted in that same day, he shall be cut off from among his people.

30 And whatsoever soul it be that doeth any work in that same day, the same soul will I destroy from among his people.

31 Ye shall do no manner of work: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

32 It shall be unto you a [b]sabbath of rest, and ye shall afflict your souls: in the ninth day of the month at even, from even unto even, shall ye celebrate your sabbath.

33 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

34 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, saying, [h]The fifteenth day of this seventh month shall be the feast [21]of tabernacles for seven days unto the Lord.

35 On the first day shall be an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.

36 Seven days ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the [1]Lord: on the eighth day shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the [1]Lord: it is a solemn assembly; and ye shall do no servile work therein.

37 These are the feasts of the [1]Lord, which ye shall proclaim to be holy convocations, to offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord, a [i]burnt [13]offering, and a meat [13]offering, a sacrifice, and drink [11]offerings, every thing upon his day:

38 Beside the sabbaths of the Lord, and beside your gifts, and beside all your vows, and beside all your freewill offerings, which ye give unto the Lord.

39 Also in the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the Lord seven days: on the first day shall be a sabbath, and on the eighth day shall be a sabbath.

40 And ye shall take you on the first day the boughs of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and the boughs of thick trees, and willows of the brook; and ye shall rejoice before the [1]Lord your God seven days.

41 And ye shall keep it a feast unto the Lord seven days in the year. It shall be a statute for ever in your generations: ye shall celebrate it in the seventh month.

42 Ye shall dwell in booths seven days; all that are Īs'ra-el-ītes born shall dwell in booths:

43 That your generations may know that I made the children of Īs'ra-el to dwell in booths, when I brought them out of the land of Ē'ğўpt: I am the Lord your God.

44 And Mō'şeş declared unto the children of Īs'ra-el the feasts of the Lord.

CHAPTER 24.

1 The oil for the lamps. 5 The shewbread. 10 Shelomith's son blasphemeth. 13 The law of blasphemy. 17 Of murder. 18 Of damage. 23 The blasphemer is stoned.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Command the children of Īs'ra-el, that they bring unto thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, to cause the lamps to burn continually.

3 Without the vail of the testimony, in the tabernacle of the congregation, shall Aâr'on order it from the evening unto the morning before the [1]Lord continually: it shall be a statute for ever in your generations.

4 He shall order the lamps upon the pure candlestick before the [1]Lord continually.

5 ¶ And thou shalt take fine flour, and bake twelve cakes thereof: two tenth [2]deals shall be in one cake.

6 And thou shalt set them in two rows, six on a row, upon the pure table before the Lord.

7 And thou shalt put pure [3]frankincense upon each row, that it may be on the bread for a memorial, even an offering made by fire unto the [1]Lord.

8 Every sabbath he shall set it in order before the [1]Lord continually, being taken from the children of Īs'ra-el by an everlasting covenant.

9 And it shall be Aâr'on's and his sons'; and [a]they shall eat it in the holy place: for it is most holy unto him of the offerings of the [1]Lord made by fire by a perpetual statute.

10 ¶ And the son of an Īs'ra-el-īt-īsh woman, whose father was an E-ğўp'tian, went out among the children of Īs'ra-el: and this son of the Īs'ra-el-īt-īsh woman and a man of Īs'ra-el strove together in the camp;

11 And the Īs'ra-el-īt-īsh woman's son blasphemed the name of the Lord, and cursed. And they brought him unto Mō'şeş: (and his mother's name was Shĕl'o-mĭth, the daughter of Dĭb'rī, of the tribe of Dăn:)

12 And they put him in ward, that the mind [b]of the Lord might be shewed them.

18. A memorial of shouts of joy.

19. The day of expiations, vs. 26-32.

20. A day of condoning, of covering, of making reconciliation for sin.

21. Commemorating the fact that Israel abode in tents in the wilderness forty years, on account of their sins against Jehovah.

Ch. 24. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 24 describes the two remaining elements of the tabernacle ritual, viz., the oil for light, and the show-bread; then the remaining portion of the ch. is devoted to the details of a bit of sad history—a flagrant act of sin and its dreadful punishment. All the details of this ch. point directly to the two chief points which the book of Leviticus has been developing, viz., the holiness of the divine name and the sacredness of human life.

1. Jehovah, the covenant name of God.

2. 10½ gallons in the 12 loaves.

3. The frankincense used by the Jews in all their temple worship is not the common frankincense of commerce, which is a product of the avies excelsa. The true frankincense is a product of the boswellia thurifera. It is the symbol of intercession.

g. See i, ch. 4, Lev. Also e, ch. 1.

h. And the feast of harvest, the first-fruits of thy labors, which thou hast sown in the field; and the feast of ingathering, which is in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labors out of the field. (Ex. 23:16.) Thou shalt observe the feast of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy corn and thy wine. (Dt. 16:13.) Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand. (Jno. 7:2.)

Chapter 24.

a. And they shall eat those things wherewith the atonement was made, to consecrate and to sanctify them: but a stranger shall not eat thereof, because they are holy. (Ex. 29:33.)

b. And Moses said unto his father-in-law, Because the people come

13 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
14 Bring forth him that hath cursed without the camp; and let all that heard him lay their hands upon his head, and let all the congregation stone him.
15 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, Whosoever curseth his God shall bear his sin.
16 And he that [c]blasphemeth the name of the [1]Lord, he shall surely be put to death, and all the congregation shall certainly stone him: as well the stranger, as he that is born in the land, when he blasphemeth the name of the Lord, shall be put to death.
17 ¶ And he that [d]killeth any man shall surely be put to death.
18 And he that killeth a beast shall make it good; beast for beast.
19 And if a man cause a blemish in his neighbour; as he hath done, so shall it be done to him;
20 Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth: as he hath caused a blemish in a man, so shall it be done to him again.
21 And he that killeth a beast, he shall restore it: and he that killeth a man, he shall be put to death.
22 Ye shall have one manner of law, as well for the stranger, as for one of your own country: for I am the Lord your God.
23 ¶ And Mō'şeş spake to the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they should bring forth him that had cursed out of the camp, and stone him with stones. And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

CHAPTER 25.

1 The sabbath of the seventh year. 8 The jubile in the fiftieth year. 14 Of oppression. 18 A blessing of obedience. 23 The redemption of land. 29 Of houses. 35 Compassion of the poor. 39 The usage of bondmen. 47 The redemption of servants.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş in mount Sĭ'nāi, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye come into the land which I give you, then shall the land [2]keep a [a]sabbath unto the Lord.
3 Six years thou shalt sow thy field, and six years thou shalt prune thy vineyard, and gather in the fruit thereof;
4 But in the seventh year shall be a sabbath of rest unto the land, a sabbath for the Lord: thou shalt neither sow thy field, nor prune thy vineyard.
5 That which groweth of its own accord of thy harvest thou shalt not reap, neither gather the grapes of thy vine undressed: for it is a year of rest unto the land.
6 And the [a]sabbath of the land shall be meat for you; for thee, and for thy servant, and for thy maid, and for thy hired servant, and for thy stranger that sojourneth with thee,
7 And for thy cattle, and for the beast that are in thy land, shall all the increase thereof be meat.

Ch. 25. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—In ch. 25 Moses seeks to impress upon the Hebrews that there is a holiness of time the same as in everything else with which they had to do. Since the revelation to Moses in the burning bush there has been a constant effort to implant in the minds of the people the idea of the holiness of Jehovah, and that to worship him properly the people must also strive to attain to ceremonial holiness at least, as a symbol of the holiness of the life. In this ch. they are taught that every seventh year must be a year set aside to Jehovah; the seventh year selected because the number seven is the period of perfection, therefore the numbering of the year itself had the effect of impressing upon the minds of the people the idea of perfection as well as the worship which they were to offer. Political economists estimate that the entire wealth of the world is equal to seven harvests. This law therefore subtracts a sum equal to the entire wealth of a nation once in every 49 years. In Ex. 21:7 and 16, as well as in this ch., is recorded the verdict of Jehovah against the chattel slavery of man, and he herewith strikes at the very root of its existence.

1. Jehovah.

2. Was not to be killed.

3. Vs. 8-55 are descriptive of the year of justice. Twice in each century occurred a year of renewal and restoration, in which all debts due from one Israelite to another were remitted.

4. The jubilee occurred immediately after the seventh Sabbatical year.

5. Each 50th year a year of rest, release and restoration.

6. Vs. 14-17, rules for the sale of land.

7. Jehovah held title to Canaan and is therefore justified in ejecting, (1) the non-paying Canaanites; (2) the Israelites as worthless tenants.

8 ¶ [3]And thou shalt number [4]seven sabbaths of years unto thee, seven times seven years; and the space of the seven sabbaths of years shall be unto thee forty and nine years.
9 Then shalt thou cause the trumpet of the jubile to sound on the tenth day of the seventh month, in the day of atonement shall ye make the trumpet sound throughout all your land.
10 And ye shall hallow the [5]fiftieth year, and [b]proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof: it shall be a jubile unto you; and ye shall return every man unto his possession, and ye shall return every man unto his family.
11 A jubile shall that fiftieth year be unto you: ye shall not sow, neither reap that which groweth of itself in it, nor gather the grapes in it of thy vine undressed.
12 For it is the jubile; it shall be holy unto you: ye shall eat the increase thereof out of the field.
13 In the year of this jubile ye shall return every man unto his possession.
[c]14 And if thou sell ought unto thy neighbour, or buyest ought of thy neighbour's hand, ye shall not oppress one another:
15 According to the number of years after the jubile thou shalt buy of thy neighbour, and according unto the number of years of the fruits he shall sell unto thee:
16 According to the multitude of years thou shalt increase the price thereof, and according to the fewness of years thou shalt diminish the price of it: for according to the number of the years of the fruits doth he sell unto thee.
17 Ye shall not therefore [c]oppress one another; but thou shalt fear thy God: for I am the Lord your God.
18 ¶ Wherefore ye shall do my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them; and ye shall dwell in the land in safety.
19 And the land shall yield her fruit, and ye shall eat your fill, and dwell therein in safety.
20 And if ye shall say, What shall we eat the seventh year? behold, we shall not sow, nor gather in our increase:
21 Then I will command my blessing upon you in the sixth year, and it shall bring forth fruit for three years.
22 And ye shall sow the eighth year, and eat yet of old fruit until the ninth year; until her fruits come in ye shall eat of the old store.
23 ¶ The land shall not be [7]sold for ever: for the land [7]is mine; for ye are strangers and sojourners with me.
24 And in all the land of your possession ye shall grant a redemption for the land.
25 ¶ If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession, and if any of his kin come to redeem it, then shall he redeem that which his brother sold.
26 And if the man have none to redeem it, and himself be able to redeem it;
27 Then let him count the years of the sale unto me to enquire of God: When they had a matter, they come unto me; and I judge between one and another, and I do make them know the statutes of God, and his laws. (Ex. 18:15, 16.)

c. Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O Lord, and that the foolish people have blasphemed thy name. (Ps. 74:18.) Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. (Math. 12:31.) Do not they blaspheme that worthy name, by the which ye are called? (Ja. 2:7.)

d. Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man. (Gen. 9:6.) He that smiteth a man so that he die, shall be surely put to death. (Ex. 21:12.) Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death; but he shall be surely put to death. (Num. 35:31.) Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. (Math. 26:52.)

a. And six years thou shalt sow thy land, and shalt gather in the fruits thereof. (Ex. 23:10.) To fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed her sabbath: for as long as she lay desolate, she kept sabbath, to fulfill threescore and ten years. (II Chr. 36:21.)

b. To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn. (Is. 61:2.) For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come. (Is. 63:4.) This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem to proclaim liberty unto them. That every man should let his man-servant, and every man his maid-servant, being an Hebrew or an Hebrewess go free; that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother. (Jer. 34:8, 9.) To preach the acceptable year of the Lord. (Lu. 4:19.) Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. (Gal. 5:1.)

c. He that oppresseth the poor, reproacheth his Maker: but he that honoreth him hath mercy on the poor. (Prov. 14:31.) Rob not the poor, because he is poor: neither oppress the afflicted in the gate. (Prov. 22:22.) The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy; yea, they have oppressed the stranger wrongfully. (Ezek. 22:29.) That no man go thereof, and restore the overplus unto the man to whom he sold it; that he may return unto his possession.

28 But if he be not able to restore it to him, then that which is sold shall remain in the hand of him that hath bought it until the year of jubile: and in the jubile it shall go out, and he shall return unto his possession.

29 And if a man sell a dwelling house in a walled city, then he may redeem it within a whole year after it is sold; within a full year may he redeem it.

30 And if it be not redeemed within the space of a full year, then the house that is in the walled city shall be established for ever to him that bought it throughout his generations: it shall not go out in the jubile.

31 But the houses of the villages which have no wall round about them shall be counted as the fields of the country: they may be redeemed, and they shall go out in the jubile.

32 Notwithstanding the cities of the Lē'vītes, and the houses of the cities of their possession, may the Lē'vītes redeem at any time.

33 And if a man purchase of the Lē'vītes, then the house that was sold, and the city of his possession, shall go out in the year of jubile: for the houses of the cities of the Lē'vītes are their possession among the children of Īs'ra-el.

34 But the field of the suburbs of their cities may not be sold; for it is their perpetual possession.

35 ¶ [8]And if thy brother be waxen poor, and fallen in decay with thee; then thou shalt [d]relieve him: yea, though he be a stranger, or a sojourner; that he may live with thee.

36 Take thou [e]no usury of him, or increase: but fear thy God; that thy brother may live with thee.

37 [e]Thou shalt not give him thy money upon usury, nor lend him thy victuals for increase.

38 I am the Lord your God, which brought you forth out of the land of Ē'ġўpt, to give you the land of Cā'năan, and to be your God.

39 ¶ And if [f]thy brother that dwelleth by thee be waxen poor, and be sold unto thee; thou shalt not compel him to serve as a bondservant:

40 But as an hired servant, and as a sojourner, he shall be with thee, and shall serve thee unto the year of jubile:

41 And then shall he depart from thee, both he and his children with him, and shall return unto his own family, and unto the possession of his fathers shall he return.

42 For they are [g]my servants, which I brought forth out of the land of Ē'ġўpt: they shall not be sold as bondmen.

43 Thou shalt [h]not rule over him with rigour; but [i]shalt fear thy God.

44 Both thy bondmen, and thy bondmaids, which thou shalt have, shall be of the heathen that are round about you; of them shall ye buy bondmen and bondmaids.

45 Moreover of the children of the strangers that do sojourn among you, of them shall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they begat in your land: and they shall be your possession.

46 And ye shall take them as an inheritance for your children after you, to inherit them for a possession; they shall be your bondmen for ever: but over your brethren the children of Īs'ra-el ye shall not rule one over another with rigour.

47 ¶ And if a sojourner or stranger wax rich by thee, and thy brother that dwelleth by him wax poor, and sell himself unto the stranger or sojourner by thee, or to the stock of the stranger's family:

48 After that he is sold he may be redeemed again; one of his brethren may redeem him:

49 Either his uncle, or his uncle's son, may redeem him, or any that is nigh of kin unto him of his family may redeem him; or if he be able, he may redeem himself.

50 And he shall reckon with him that bought him from the year that he was sold to him unto the year of jubile: and the price of his sale shall be according unto the number of years, according to the time of an hired servant shall it be with him.

51 If there be yet many years behind, according unto them he shall give again the price of his redemption out of the money that he was bought for.

52 And if there remain but few years unto the year of jubile, then he shall count with him, and according unto his years shall he give him again the price of his redemption.

53 And as a yearly hired servant shall he be with him: and the other shall not rule with rigour over him in thy sight.

54 And if he be not redeemed in these years, then he shall go out in the year of jubile, both he, and his children with him.

55 For unto me the children of Īs'ra-el are servants; they are my servants whom I brought forth out of the land of Ē'ġўpt: I am the Lord your God.

8. Rules relating to mercy shown to the poor (vs. 36-43).

9. This word in the original sig. interest on money, loans; although our modern usage has given it the significance of excessive interest.

Ch. 26. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—This ch. is the fitting close of this book of the law, the 27th ch. being manifestly supplementary. In this ch. are seen manifestations of Jehovah's nature more majestic than anywhere else in the Pentateuch, except at the giving of the decalogue on Mt. Sinai. There the demonstrations of his presence inspired terror; but here his vengeance and compassion join in their divinest form. The appeal is to the two greatest motives of the human heart—hope and fear. The union of these two great elements, the law and the Gospel, constitutes the basis of genuine piety. (Auberlin.)

1. Jehovah.

2. Vs. 3-13 record the blessings promised for obedience.

CHAPTER 26.

1 Of idolatry. 2 Religiousness. 3 A blessing to them that keep the commandments. 14 A curse to those that break them.

1 Ye shall make you [a]no idols nor graven image, neither rear you up a standing image, neither shall ye set up any image of stone in your land, to bow down unto it: for I am the [1]Lord your God.

2 ¶ Ye shall keep [b]my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the Lord.

[2]3 ¶ If ye walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them;

4 Then I will give you rain in due season, beyond and defraud his brother in any matter: because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified. (I Thes. 4:6.)

d. He is ever merciful and lendeth; and his seed is blessed. (Ps. 37:26.) He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker, but he that honoreth him hath mercy on the poor. (Prov. 14:31.) But whoso hath this world's good and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? (I Jno. 3:17.)

e. If thou lend money to any of my people that is poor by thee, thou shalt not be to him as an usurer, neither shalt thou lay upon him usury. (Ex. 22:25.) Then I consulted with myself, and I rebuked the nobles, and the rulers, and said unto them, Ye exact usury, every one of his brother. And I set a great assembly against them. (Neh. 5:7.) He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be moved. (Ps. 15:5.) He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor. (Prov. 28:8.)

f. If thou buy an Hebrew servant, six years he shall serve; and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing. (Ex. 21:2.) But of the children of Israel did Solomon make no bondmen: but they were men of war, and his servants, and his princes, and his captains, and rulers of his chariots, and his horsemen. (I Ks. 9:22.) At the end of seven years let ye go every man his brother an Hebrew, which hath been sold unto thee; and when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear. (Jer. 34:14.)

g. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruits unto holiness, and the end everlasting life. (Rom. 6:22.) Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men. (I Cor. 7:23.)

h. And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing, threatening: knowing that your Master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him. (Eph. 6:9.) Masters, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a master in heaven. (Col. 4:1.)

i. And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:5.)

Chapter 26.

a. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth (4). Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. (Ex. 20:4, 5.) Confounded be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols: worship him, all ye gods. (Ps. 97:7.)

b. See c, ch. 19, Lev.

and the land shall yield her increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit.

5 And your threshing shall reach unto the vintage, and the vintage shall reach unto the sowing time: and ye shall eat your bread to the full, and dwell in your land safely.

6 And [c]I will give peace in the land, and ye shall lie down, and none shall make you afraid: and I will rid [d]evil beasts out of the land, neither shall the sword go through your land.

7 And ye shall chase your enemies, and they shall fall before you by the sword.

8 And five of you shall chase an hundred, and an hundred of you shall put ten thousand to flight: and your enemies shall fall before you by the sword.

9 For I will have respect unto you, and make you fruitful, and multiply you, and establish my covenant with you.

10 And ye shall eat old store, and bring forth the old because of the new.

11 And I will set my tabernacle among you: and my soul shall not abhor you.

12 And I [e]will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people.

13 I am the [1]Lord your God, which brought you forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt, that ye should not be their bondmen; and I have broken the bands of your yoke, and made you go upright.

[3]14 ¶ But if ye will not hearken unto me, and will not do all these commandments;

15 And if ye shall despise my statutes, or if your soul abhor my judgments, so that ye will not do all my commandments, but that ye break my covenant:

16 I also will do this unto you; I will even appoint [4]over you [f]terror, consumption, and the burning ague, that shall consume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart: and ye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it.

17 And I will set my face against you, and ye shall be [g]slain before your enemies: they that hate you shall reign over you; and ye shall [h]flee when none pursueth you.

18 And if ye will not yet for all this hearken unto me, then I will punish you [5]seven times more for [6]your sins.

19 And I will break the pride of your power; and I will make your heaven as iron, and your earth as brass:

20 And your strength shall be spent in vain: for your land shall not yield her increase, neither shall the trees of the land yield their fruits.

21 ¶ And if ye walk contrary unto me, and will not hearken unto me; I will bring seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins.

22 I will also send wild beasts among you, which shall rob you of your children, and destroy your cattle, and make you few in number; and your [i]high ways shall be desolate.

3. Vs. 14-39 record the threatenings against obedience. These divine threats embrace the future of Israel.

4. Supervisors or masters, severe and austere.

5. The number of perfection, typifying the chastisement will be complete.

6. National sins are punished in this world, as nations do not exist after death.

7. This prophecy was fulfilled in the siege of Jerusalem by Titus and the Roman army. See Josephus, Book 6, ch. 3, sec. 4.

8. Secular history, as well as divine, testifies that Palestine is filled with ruined cities.

9. Vs. 40-46 detail the promise of mercy after judgment and, therefore, Israel was not utterly destroyed.

23 And if ye will not be reformed by me by these things, but will walk contrary unto me;

24 Then will I also walk contrary unto you, and will punish you yet seven times for your sins.

25 And I will bring a sword upon you that shall avenge the quarrel of my covenant: and when ye are gathered together within your cities, [j]I will send the pestilence among you; and ye shall be delivered into the hand of the enemy.

26 And when I have broken the staff of your bread, ten women shall bake your bread in one oven, and they shall deliver you your bread again by weight: and ye shall eat, and not be satisfied.

27 And if ye will not for all this hearken unto me, but walk contrary unto me;

28 Then I will walk contrary unto you also in fury; and I, even I, will chastise you seven times for your sins.

29 And [k]ye shall eat the [h]flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye eat.

30 And I will destroy your high places, and cut down your images, and cast your carcases upon the carcases of your idols, and my soul shall abhor you.

31 And I will make your [8]cities waste, and bring your sanctuaries unto desolation, and I will not smell the savour of your sweet odours.

32 And I will bring the land into desolation: and your enemies which dwell therein shall be astonished at it.

33 And I will scatter you among the heathen, and will draw out a sword after you: and your land shall be desolate, and your cities waste.

34 Then shall the land enjoy her sabbaths, as long as it lieth desolate, and ye be in your enemies' land; even then shall the land rest, and enjoy her sabbaths.

35 As long as it lieth desolate it shall rest; because it did not rest in your sabbaths, when ye dwelt upon it.

36 And upon them that are left alive of you I will send a faintness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies; and the sound of a shaken leaf shall chase them; and they shall flee, as fleeing from a sword; and they shall fall when none pursueth.

37 And they shall fall one upon another, as it were before a sword, when none pursueth: and [l]ye shall have no power to stand before your enemies.

38 And ye shall perish among the heathen, and the land of your enemies shall eat you up.

39 And they that are left of you shall pine away in their iniquity in your enemies' lands; and also in the iniquities of their fathers shall they pine away with them.

[9]40 If they shall confess their iniquity, and the iniquity of their fathers, with their trespass which they trespassed against me, and that also they have walked contrary unto me;

c. And thou shalt be secure, because there is hope; yea, thou shalt dig about thee, and thou shalt take thy rest in safety. (Job 11:18.) And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. (Ezek. 34:25.)

d. And so it was in the beginning of their dwelling there, that they feared not the Lord: therefore the Lord sent lions among them, which slew some of them. (II Ks. 17:25.) So will I send upon you famine and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee. I the Lord have spoken it. (Ezek. 5:17.) If I cause noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts. (Ezek. 14:15.)

e. And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (II Cor. 6:16.) That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: they shall be my people, and I will be their God. (Ezek. 11:20.)

f. The Lord shall smite thee with a consumption, and with a fever, and with an inflammation, and with an extreme burning, and with the sword, and with blasting, and with mildew; and they shall pursue thee until thou perish. (Dt. 28:22.)

g. The anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. (Jud. 2:14.)

h. There were they in great fear, where no fear was: for God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee: thou hast put them to shame, because God hath despised them. (Ps. 53:5.) The wicked flee when no man pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion. (Prov. 28:1.)

i. In the days of Shamgar the son of Anath, in the days of Jael, the highways were unoccupied, and the travelers walked through byways. (Jud. 5:6.) But I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not. Thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land desolate. (Zech. 7:14.)

j. I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have taken away your horses; and I have made the stink of your camps to come up unto your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord. (Amos 4:10.)

k. So we boiled my son, and did eat him: and I said unto her on the next day, Give thy son, that we may eat him; and she hath hid her son. (II Ks. 6:29.)

l. And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoil them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. (Jud. 2:14.)

41 And that I also have walked contrary unto them, and have brought them into the land of their enemies; if then their [m]uncircumcised hearts be humbled, and they then accept of the punishment of their iniquity:

42 Then will I [n]remember my covenant with Jā'cob, and also my covenant with Ī'ṣaac, and also my covenant with Ā'brā-hăm will I remember; and I will remember the land.

43 The land also shall be left of them, and shall enjoy her sabbaths, while she lieth desolate without them: and they shall accept of the punishment of their iniquity: because, even because they despised my judgments, and because their soul abhorred my statutes.

44 And yet for all that, when they be in the land of their enemies, [o]I will not cast them away, neither will I abhor them, to destroy them utterly, and to break my covenant with them: for I am the Lord their God.

45 But I will for their sakes remember the covenant of their ancestors, whom I brought forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt in the sight of the [p]heathen, that I might be their God: I am the Lord.

46 These are the [q]statutes and judgments and laws, which the Lord made between him and the children of Īs'ra-el in mount Sī'nāi by the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ.

CHAPTER 27.

1 He that maketh a singular vow must be the Lord's. 2 The estimation of the person. 9 Of a beast given by vow. 14 Of a house. 16 Of a field, and the redemption thereof. 28 No devoted thing may be redeemed. 32 The tithe may not be changed.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, and say unto them, When a man shall make a [a]singular vow, the persons shall be for the [1]Lord by thy estimation.

3 And thy [2]estimation shall be of the male from twenty years old even unto sixty years old, even thy estimation shall be fifty shekels of silver, after the shekel of the sanctuary.

4 And if it be a female, then thy estimation shall be thirty shekels.

5 And if it be from five years old even unto twenty years old, then thy estimation shall be of the male twenty shekels, and for the female ten shekels.

6 And if it be from a month old even unto five years old, then thy estimation shall be of the male five shekels of silver, and for the female thy estimation shall be three shekels of silver.

7 And if it be from sixty years old and above; if it be a male, then thy estimation shall be fifteen shekels, and for the female ten shekels.

Ch. 27. B. C. 1491.

NOTE.—This ch. is supplementary in its character. The book ends with the promises and the threatenings, the solemn sanctions of the law, recorded in ch. 26. It is a treatise on a subject not included in the law as obligatory. It relates, therefore, not to obligations, but to voluntary acts, and circumscribes them with rules if the individual desires to make them.

1. Jehovah.

2. All souls are equal in the sight of Jehovah, but the ability of all men to redeem them is not equal. Therefore, this sliding scale of redemption:

A.	(1) A male from one month to 5 years old, 5 shekels	$ 3.03
	(2) From 5 years to 20 years, 20 shekels	12.12
	(3) From 20 to 60 years, 50 shekels	30.28
	(4) Above 60 years, about 15 shekels	8.96
B.	(1) Females from 1 month to 5 years old, 3 shekels	1.82
	(2) From 5 years to 20 years, 10 shekels	6.06
	(3) From 20 to 60 years, 30 shekels	18.17
	(4) Above 60 years, 10 shekels	6.06

3. Since, through the joy of religious experience a person may be prompted to pledge as an offering to God the substantial interests of life, as houses and lands, there must be laws which are recorded in vs. 14-25, regulating the manner of executing such vows.

8 But if he be poorer than thy estimation, then he shall present himself before the priest, and the priest shall value him; according to his ability that vowed shall the priest value him.

9 And if it be a beast, whereof men bring an offering unto the Lord, all that any man giveth of such unto the [1]Lord shall be holy.

10 He shall not alter it, nor change it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good: and if he shall at all change beast for beast, then it and the exchange thereof shall be holy.

11 And if it be any unclean beast, of which they do not offer a sacrifice unto the Lord, then he shall present the beast before the priest:

12 And the priest shall value it, whether it be good or bad: as thou valuest it, who art the priest, so shall it be.

13 But if he will at all redeem it, then he shall add a fifth part thereof unto thy estimation.

[3]14 ¶ And when a man shall sanctify his house to be holy unto the Lord, then the priest shall estimate it, whether it be good or bad: as the priest shall estimate it, so shall it stand.

15 And if he that sanctified it will redeem his house, then he shall add the fifth part of the money of thy estimation unto it, and it shall be his.

16 And if a man shall [b]sanctify unto the [1]Lord some part of a field of his possession, then thy estimation shall be according to the seed thereof: an homer of barley seed shall be valued at fifty shekels of silver.

17 If he sanctify his field from the year of jubile, according to thy estimation it shall stand.

18 But if he sanctify his field after the jubile, then the priest shall reckon unto him the money according to the years that remain, even unto the year of the jubile, and it shall be abated from thy estimation.

19 And if he that sanctified the field will in any wise redeem it, then he shall add the fifth part of the money of thy estimation unto it, and it shall be assured to him.

20 And if he will not redeem the field, or if he have sold the field to another man, it shall not be redeemed any more.

21 But the field, when it goeth out in the jubile, shall be holy unto the [1]Lord, as a field devoted; the possession thereof shall be the priest's.

22 And if a man sanctify unto the [1]Lord a field which he hath bought, which is not of the fields of his possession;

23 Then the priest shall reckon unto him the worth of thy estimation, even unto the year of the jubile: and he shall give thine estimation in that day, as a holy thing unto the [1]Lord.

24 In the year of the jubile the field shall

m. Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will punish all them which are circumcised with the uncircumcised. (Jer. 9:25.) Ye stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. (Acts 7:51.) But he is a Jew which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God. (Rom. 2:29.) In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins, of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ. (Col. 2:11.)

n. And God heard their groaning, and God remembered his covenant with Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob. (Ex. 2:24.) And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. (Ps. 106:45.) Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant. (Ezek. 16:60.)

o. And the Lord was gracious unto them, and had compassion on them, and had respect unto them, because of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and would not destroy them, neither cast he them from his presence as yet. (II Ks. 13:23.) God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel. (Rom. 2:2.)

p. The Lord hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly shown in the sight of the heathen. (Ps. 98:2.) But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt. (Ezek. 20:9.)

q. These are the statutes and judgments which ye shall observe to do in the land which the Lord God of thy fathers giveth thee to possess it, all the days that ye live upon the earth. (Dt. 12:1.) Moses commanded us a law, even the inheritance of the congregation of Jacob. (Dt. 33:4.) For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. (Jno. 1:17.)

Chapter 27.

a. Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When either man or woman shall separate themselves to vow a vow of a Nazarite, to separate themselves unto the Lord. (Num. 6:2.) And she vowed a vow, and said, O Lord of hosts, if thou wilt indeed look on the affliction of thine handmaid and remember me, and not forget thine handmaid, but will give unto thine handmaid a man child, then I will give him unto the Lord all the days of his life, and there shall no razor come upon his head (11). Therefore also I have lent him to the Lord; as long as he liveth he shall be lent to the Lord. And he worshipped the Lord there. (I Sam. 1:11, 28.)

b. And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (Thes. 5:23.) For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren. (Heb. 2:11.) By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. (Heb. 10:10.)

return unto him of whom it was bought, even to him to whom the possession of the land did belong.

25 And all thy estimations shall be according to the shekel of the sanctuary: twenty gerahs shall be the shekel.

26 ¶ Only the [c]firstling of the beasts, which should be the [1]Lord's firstling, no man shall sanctify it; whether it be ox, or sheep: it is the Lord's.

27 And if it be of an unclean beast, then he shall redeem it according to thine estimation, and shall add a fifth part of it thereto: or if it be not redeemed, then it shall be sold according to thy estimation.

[4]28 Notwithstanding no devoted thing, that a man shall devote unto the [1]Lord of all that he hath, both of man and beast, and of the field of his possession, shall be sold or redeemed: every devoted thing is most holy unto the [1]Lord.

4. Vs. 28-34 record the rules regulating things devoted to Jehovah and to tithes.

29 None devoted, which shall be devoted of men, shall be redeemed; but shall surely be put to death.

30 And [d]all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's: it is holy unto the [1]Lord.

31 And if a man will at all redeem ought of his tithes, he shall add thereto the fifth part thereof.

32 And concerning the tithe of the herd, or of the flock, even of whatsoever passeth under the rod, the tenth shall be holy unto the Lord.

33 He shall not search whether it be good or bad, neither shall he change it: and if he change it at all, then both it and the change thereof shall be holy; it shall not be redeemed.

34 These are the commandments, which the Lord commanded Mō'şeş for the children of Ĭs'ra-el in mount Sī'nāi.

c. Sanctify unto me all the first-born, whatsoever openeth the womb of the children of Israel, both of man and beast; it is mine (2). That thou shalt set apart unto the Lord all that openeth the matrix, and every firstling which cometh of a beast which thou hast; the males shall be the Lord's. (Ex. 13:2, 12.)

d. And, behold, I have given the children of Levi all the tenth in Israel for an inheritance, for their service which they served, even the service of the tabernacle of the congregation. (Num. 18:21.)

NUMBERS

NOTE.—The Book of Numbers is in reality the fourth chapter of a larger book called The Pentateuch, meaning the five fold book. The Jews regard the Pentateuch as one book, which they call the Torah, meaning the law. The Book of Numbers is of a mixed character. In it, history is interlaced with statutes, legislation, marches, rebellions and battles. The legislations of this book are all given as later enactments whenever special wants occur, similar to the decisions of the Supreme court when a case is brought before it. The book may properly be divided into four parts: (1) Events on preparing to leave Sinai (chs. 1-10), (2) the march (chs. 10-14), (3) the wanderings (chs. 15-19), (4) from Kadesh to the land of Moab (chs. 20-36).

In this book the people are numbered, for the purpose of separating the Levites from those Israelites who had to bear arms, and thus introducing into practice the law concerning the first-born, for whom the tribe of Levi became a substitute. For this reason the people are both numbered and separated into classes, the order in which tribe should occupy the camp is defined, and the Levites are introduced into their respective functions (chs. 1-4.) Then follow the laws relating to the authority of the priests in civil affairs (ch. 5). In ch. 9 is given a beautiful description of the celebration of the passover preparatory to the departure of the people from the mount. The people now seem to be ready to enter the Holy Land, thoroughly prepared for the mission before them; but as they were rebellious and stiffnecked, and consequently could not enter the Holy Land, it becomes necessary for the statement of accurate details setting forth the reasons why (chs. 11-14). Then for several chapters, the inner life of the now rejected race is carefully detailed, showing, on the one hand, the continuance of an evil disposition on the part of the people, and on the other, the majesty of God, watching over his holy law.

There has been, on the part of some critics, an effort to dispute the authorship of Moses, yet with but little avail. Throughout the Bible the inspired writers from Joshua to Christ quote or allude to the books of the Pentateuch as the works of Moses. Let him who would fain criticise tread lightly where the inspired writers and the Son of God has declared. The religious value of Numbers may be summed up as follows: (1) It teaches that a nation, as well as an individual, has a moral and religious character, and is bound by its acts, (2) the need of divine guidance is symbolized by the advance of the ark in the cloud, (3) types of character are presented which are worthy of study—Moses with the meekness of strong nature under restraint; Miriam with the petty jealousness which often disfigure even noble women; Caleb, honest and whole-hearted; Balaam, weak, but not worthless; the fickleness of the mob, the people's disposition to blame everybody but themselves, the readiness of the laity to assert their rights rather than fulfill their duties, (4) the lofty and broad view of prophetic inspiration.

CHAPTER 1.

1 God commandeth Moses to number the people. 5 The princes of the tribes. 17 The number of every tribe. 47 The Levites are exempted for the service of the Lord.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş in the wilderness of Sī'nāi, in the [a]tabernacle of the congregation, on the first day of the second month, in the second year after they were come out of the land of Ē'gўpt, saying,

2 Take [b]ye the sum of all the congregation of the children of Īs'ra-el, after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their [3]polls;

3 From twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war in Īs'ra-el: thou and Aâr'on shall number them by their armies.

4 And with you there shall be a man of every tribe; every one head of the house of his fathers.

5 ¶ And these are the names of the men that shall stand with you: of the tribe of Reu'ben; E-lī'zŭr the son of Shĕd'ĕ-ur.

6 Of Sīm'e-on; She-lū'mī-el the son of Zū-rĭ-shăd'da-ī.

7 Of Jū'dah; Näh'shon the son of Ăm-mĭn'-a-dab.

8 Of Īs'sa-char; Ne-thăn'e-el the son of Zū'ar.

9 Of Zĕb'u-lun; E-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon.

10 Of the children of Jō'şeph: of Ē'phrā-ĭm; E-lĭsh'a-mà the son of Ăm-mī'hŭd: of Ma-năs'-seh; Ga-mā'lī-el the son of Pē-dàh'zur.

11 Of Bĕn'ja-min; Ăb'i-dăn the son of Gĭd-e-ō'nī.

12 Of Dăn; Ā-hi-ē'zēr the son of Ăm-mi-shăd'da-ī.

13 Of Āsh'ēr; Pā'gi-el the son of Ōc'ran.

14 Of Găd; E-lī'a-săph the son of Deū'el.

15 Of Năph'ta-lī; A-hī'rà the son of Ē'nan.

16 These were the renowned of the congregation, princes of the tribes of their fathers, heads [c]of thousands in Īs'ra-el.

17 ¶ And [2]Mō'şeş and Aâr'on took these men which are expressed by their names:

18 And they assembled all the congregation together on the first day of the second month, and they declared their pedigrees after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, by their [3]polls.

19 As the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş, so he numbered them in the wilderness of Sī'nāi.

20 And the children of Reu'ben, Īs'ra-el's eldest son, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, by their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

21 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Reu'ben, were forty and six thousand and five hundred.

22 ¶ Of the children of Sĭm'e-on, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, those that were numbered of them, according to the number of the names, by their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, all that were [d]able to go forth to war;

23 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Sĭm'e-on, were fifty and nine thousand and three hundred.

24 ¶ Of the children of Găd, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

25 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Găd, were forty and five thousand six hundred and fifty.

26 ¶ Of the [e]children of Jū'dah, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

27 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Jū'dah, were threescore and fourteen thousand and six hundred.

28 ¶ Of the children of Īs'sa-char, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

29 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Īs'sa-char, were fifty and four thousand and four hundred.

Ref. Numbers. Chapter 1.

a. And there I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the mercy seat, from between the two cherubim which are upon the ark of testimony, of all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Israel. (Ex. 25:22.)

b. When thou takest the sum of the children of Israel after their number, then shall they give every man a ransom for his soul unto the Lord, when thou numberest them; that there be no plague among them, when thou numberest them. (Ex. 30:12.) For the king said to Joab the captain of the host, which was with him, Go now through all the tribes of Israel, from Dan even to Beersheba, and number ye the people, that I may know the number of the people. (II Sam. 24:2.)

c. Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them, to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens. (Ex. 18:21.)

d. Blessed be the Lord my strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight. (Ps. 144:1.) Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong. (I Cor. 16:13.)

e. Judah, thou art he whom thy brethren shall praise, thy hand shall be in the neck of thine enemies; thy father's children shall bow down before thee. (Gen. 49:8.) And Joab gave up the sum of the number of the people unto the king: and there were in Israel eight hundred thousand valiant men that drew the sword; and the men of Judah were five hundred thousand men. (II Sam. 24:9.) For Judah prevailed above his brethren, and of him came the chief ruler; but the birthright was Joseph's. (I Chr. 5:2.) Moreover he refused the tabernacle of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim (67). But chose the tribe of Judah, the Mount Zion which he loved. (Ps. 78:67, 68.) And here men that die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth. (Heb. 7:8.) And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof. (Rev. 5:5.)

30 ¶ Of the children of Zĕb'u-lun, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

31 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Zĕb'u-lun, were fifty and seven thousand and four hundred.

32 ¶ Of the children of Jō'şeph, namely, of the [f]children of Ē'phră-ĭm, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

33 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Ē'phră-ĭm, were forty thousand and five hundred.

34 ¶ Of the children of Ma-năs'seh, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

35 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Ma-năs'seh, were thirty and two thousand and two hundred.

36 ¶ Of the children of Bĕn'ja-min, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

37 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-min, were thirty and five thousand and four hundred.

38 ¶ Of the children of Dăn, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

39 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Dăn, were threescore and two thousand and seven hundred.

40 ¶ Of the children of Ăsh'ĕr, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war:

41 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Ăsh'ĕr, were forty and one thousand and five hundred.

42 ¶ Of the children of Năph'ta-lī, throughout their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

43 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Năph'ta-lī, were fifty and three thousand and four hundred.

44 These are those that were numbered, which Mō'şeş and Aâr'on numbered, and the princes of Ĭs'ra-el, being twelve men: each one was for the house of his fathers.

45 So were all those that were numbered of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, by the house of their fathers, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war in Ĭs'ra-el;

46 Even all they that were numbered were [g]six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty.

47 ¶ But the [h]Lē'vītes after the tribe of their fathers were [i]not numbered among them.

48 For the [1]Lord had spoken unto Mō'şeş, saying,

49 Only thou shalt not number the tribe of Lē'vī, neither take the sum of them among the children of Ĭs'ra-el:

50 But [j]thou shalt appoint the Lē'vītes over the tabernacle of testimony, and over all the vessels thereof, and over all things that belong to it: they shall bear the tabernacle, and all the vessels thereof; and they shall minister unto it, and shall encamp round about the tabernacle.

51 And when the tabernacle setteth forward, the Lē'vītes shall take it down: and when the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Lē'vītes shall set it up: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

52 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall pitch their tents, every man by his own camp, and every man by his own standard, throughout their hosts.

53 But the Lē'vītes shall pitch round about the tabernacle of testimony, that there be no [j]wrath upon the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el: [k]and the Lē'vītes shall keep the charge of the tabernacle of testimony.

54 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did according to all that the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş, so did they.

CHAPTER 2.

The order of the tribes in their tents.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying,

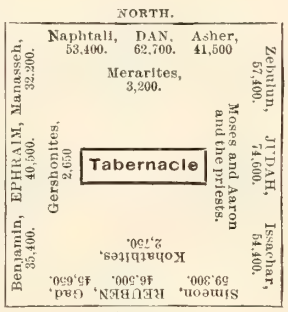
2 [a]Every man of the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall pitch by his own standard, with the ensign of their father's house: [b]far off about the tabernacle of the congregation shall they pitch.

3 And on the east side toward the rising of the sun shall they of the standard of the camp of Jū'dah pitch throughout their armies: and Näh'shon the son of Ăm-mĭn'a-dăb shall be captain of the children of Jū'dah.

4 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were threescore and fourteen thousand and six hundred.

5 And those that do pitch next unto him shall be the tribe of Ĭs'sa-char: and Ne-thăn'-e-el the son of Zū'ar shall be captain of the children of Ĭs'sa-char.

6 And his host, and those that were numbered thereof, were fifty and four thousand and four hundred.



7 Then the tribe of Zĕb'u-lun: and E-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon shall be captain of the children of Zĕb-u-lun.

8 And his host, and those that were num-

4. As the Levites were to be wholly devoted to the sacred duties as the firstborn, they were to be exempt from the payment of the half shekel atonement poll tax, also from military service, hence they were not enumerated in either census.

Ch. 2. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 2 is devoted to laying out the order and plans for the different tribes in the encampment; according to the descriptions of this chapter the tribes were encamped in the manner of the following figure. As to the exact size of this encampment, we are nowhere told in the scriptures, although a majority of the Hebrew scholars agree that the area was about 12 square miles.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. For historical account of the life of Moses see 11, ch. 2, Ex.

f. And his father refused, and said, I know it my son, I know it: he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great; but truly his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a multitude of nations. And he blessed them that day, saying, In thee shall Israel bless, saying, God shall make thee as Ephraim and as Manasseh: and he set Ephraim before Manasseh. (Gen. 48:19, 20.) On the west side shall be the standard of the camp of Ephraim according to their armies: And the captain of the sons of Ephraim shall be Elishama the son of Ammihud (18). And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were forty thousand and five hundred. (Num. 2:18, 19.) Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine: Ephraim is also the strength of mine head; Judah is my law-giver. (Ps. 60:7.)

g. And the children of Israel journeyed from Rameses to Succoth, about six hundred thousand on foot that were men, beside children. (Ex. 12:37.) These were the numbered of the children of Israel, six hundred thousand and a thousand seven hundred and thirty. (Num. 26:51.)

h. But the Levites were not numbered among the children of Israel; as the Lord commanded Moses. (Num. 2:33.) But Levi and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the king's word was abominable to Joab. (I Chr. 21:6.)

i. And they shall keep his charge, and the charge of the whole congregation before the tabernacle of the congregation, to do the service of the tabernacle. And they shall keep all the instruments of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the children of Israel to do the service of the tabernacle. (Num. 3:7, 8.)

j. And Moses said unto Aaron, and unto Eleazar and unto Ithamar, his sons, Uncover not your heads, neither rend your clothes, lest ye die, and lest wrath come upon all the people; but let your brethren, the whole house of Israel, bewail the burning which the Lord hath kindled. (Lev. 10:6.) And Moses said unto Aaron, Take a censer, and put fire therein from off the altar, and put on incense, and go quickly unto the congregation, and make an atonement for them: for there is wrath gone out from the Lord; the plague is begun. (Num. 16:46.) And ye shall keep the charge of the sanctuary and the charge of the altar; that there be no wrath any more upon the children of Israel. (Num. 18:5.)

k. And they shall keep thy charge, and the charge of all the tabernacle: only they shall not come nigh the vessels of the sanctuary and the altar, that neither they, nor ye also die (3). And they shall be joined unto thee, and keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, for all the service of the tabernacle: and a stranger shall not come nigh unto you (4). And ye shall keep the charge of the sanctuary, and the charge of the altar; that there be no wrath any more upon the children of Israel. (Num. 18:3-5.)

bered thereof, were fifty and seven thousand and four hundred.

9 All that were numbered in the camp of Jū'dah were an hundred thousand fourscore thousand and six thousand and four hundred, throughout their armies. These shall first set forth.

10 ¶ On the south side shall be the standard of the camp of Reu'ben according to their armies: and the captain of the children of Reu'ben shall be E-lī'zūr the son of Shĕd'ē-ur.

11 And his host, and those that were numbered thereof, were forty and six thousand and five hundred.

12 And those which pitch by him shall be the tribe of Sĭm'e-on: and the captain of the children of Sĭm'e-on shall be She-lū'mī-el the son of Zū-rī-shăd'da-ī.

13 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were fifty and nine thousand and three hundred.

14 Then the tribe of Găd: and the captain of the sons of Găd shall be E-lī'a-săph the son of Reu'el.

15 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were forty and five thousand and six hundred and fifty.

16 All that were numbered in the camp of Reu'ben were an hundred thousand and fifty and one thousand and four hundred and fifty, throughout their armies. And they shall set forth in the second rank.

17 ¶ Then the [c]tabernacle of the congregation shall set forward with the camp of the Lē'vītes in the midst of the camp: as they encamp, so shall they set forward, every man in his place by their standards.

18 ¶ On the west side shall be the standard of the camp of Ē'phră-ĭm according to their armies: and the captain of the sons of Ē'phră-ĭm shall be E-lĭsh'a-mà the son of Ăm-mī'hŭd.

19 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were forty thousand and five hundred.

20 And by him shall be the tribe of Ma-năs'seh: and the captain of the children of Ma-năs'seh shall be Ga-mā'lī-el the son of Pe-dăh'zur.

21 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were thirty and two thousand and two hundred.

22 Then the tribe of Bĕn'ja-mĭn: and the captain of the sons of Bĕn'ja-mĭn shall be Ăb'i-dăn the son of Gĭd-e-ō'nī.

23 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were thirty and five thousand and four hundred.

24 All that were numbered of the camp of Ē'phră-ĭm were an hundred thousand and eight thousand and an hundred, throughout their armies. And they shall go forward in the third rank.

25 ¶ The standard of the camp of Dăn shall be on the north side by their armies: and the captain of the children of Dăn shall be A-hi-ē'zēr the son of Ăm-mi-shăd'da-ī.

26 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were threescore and two thousand and seven hundred.

27 And those that encamp by him shall be the tribe of Ăsh'ēr: and the captain of the children of Ăsh'ēr shall be Pā'gi-el the son of Ōc'ran.

28 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were forty and one thousand and five hundred.

29 ¶ Then the tribe of Năph'ta-lī: and the captain of the children of Năph'ta-lī shall be A-hī'rà the son of Ē'nan.

30 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were fifty and three thousand and four hundred.

31 All they that were numbered in the camp of Dăn were an hundred thousand and fifty and seven thousand and six hundred. They shall go hindmost with their standards.

32 ¶ These are those which were numbered of the children of Ĭs'ra-el by the house of their fathers: all those that were numbered of the camps throughout their hosts were [d]six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty.

33 But the Lē'vītes were not numbered among the children of Ĭs'ra-el; as the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

34 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did according to all that the [1]Lord [e]commanded Mō'şeş: so they pitched by their standards, and so they set forward, every one after their families, according to the house of their fathers.

CHAPTER 3.

1 The sons of Aaron. 5 The Levites are given to the priests for the service of the tabernacle. 21 The families, number, and charge of the Gershonites, 27 of the Kohathites, 33 of the Merarites. 38 The place and charge of Moses and Aaron. 40 The firstborn are freed by the Levites. 44 The overplus are redeemed.

1 [2]These also are the generations of Aâr'on and Mō'şeş in the day that the [1]Lord spake with Mō'şeş in mount Sī'nāi.

2 And these are the names of the sons of Aâr'on; Nā'dăb the firstborn, and A-bī'hū, Ē-le-ā'zar, and Ĭth'a-mär.

3 These are the names of the sons of Aâr'on, the priests which were anointed, whom he consecrated to minister in the priest's office.

4 And [a]Nā'dăb and A-bī'hū died before the Lord, when they offered strange fire before the [1]Lord, in the wilderness of Sī'nāi, and they had no children: and Ē-le-ā'zar and Ĭth'a-mär ministered in the priest's office in the sight of Aâr'on their father.

5 ¶ [3]And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

6 Bring the tribe of Lē'vī near, and present them before Aâr'on the priest, that they may minister unto him.

7 And they shall keep his charge, and the charge of the whole congregation before the tabernacle of the congregation, to do the service of the tabernacle.

8 And they shall keep all the instruments of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, to do the service of the tabernacle.

9 And thou shalt give the Lē'vītes unto Aâr'on and to his sons: they are wholly given unto him out of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

10 And thou shalt appoint Aâr'on and his sons, and they shall wait on their priest's office: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

11 [4]And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

12 And I, behold, I have taken the Lē'vītes from among the children of Ĭs'ra-el instead of

Ch. 3. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—As a man is a religious being, he needs a special class of men set apart from secular cares and dedicated solely to sacred duties, the priests of Jehovah. It is the prerogative of God to select his own priesthood; the first selection is consummated upon the consecration of Aaron and his sons in this chapter.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. Vs. 1-4, consecration of Aaron and his sons to the priesthood.

3. Vs. 5-11, the Levites subordinated to Aaron in the performance of their duties.

4. Vs. 11-13, the Levites substituted for the firstborn. Upon that night, the saddest in history, when all the firstborn in Egypt were smitten, Jehovah commanded Moses to set apart unto the Lord all the firstborn of the Hebrews (Ex. 13:12-16). For some reason not stated in the Bible, Jehovah relinquished his claim and substituted the tribe of Levi in its stead.

Chapter 2.

a. See ch. 1:52.

b. Yet there shall be a space between you and it, about two thousand cubits by measure: come not near unto it, that ye may know the way by which ye must go: for ye have not passed this way heretofore. (Josh. 3:4.)

c. And the tabernacle was taken down; and the sons of Gershon, and the sons of Merari set forward, bearing the tabernacle (17). And the Kohathites set forward, bearing the sanctuary; and the other did set up a tabernacle against they came. (Num. 10:17, 21.)

d. A bekah for every man, that is, half a shekel, after the shekel of the sanctuary, for every one that went to be numbered, from twenty years old and upward, for six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty men. (Ex. 38:26.) And Moses said, The people, among whom I am, are six hundred thousand footmen; and thou hast said, I will give them flesh, that they may eat a whole month. (Num. 11:21.)

e. Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments. (Ps. 119:6.) And now, little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming. (I Jno. 2:28.)

Chapter 3.

a. And Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, took either of them all the firstborn that openeth the matrix among the children of Ĭs'ra-el: therefore the Lē'vītes shall be mine;

13 Because [b]all the firstborn are mine; for on the day that I smote all the firstborn in the land of Ē'gўpt I hallowed unto me all the firstborn in Ĭs'ra-el, both man and beast: mine shall they be: I am the [1]Lord.

14 ¶ [5]And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş in the wilderness of Sĭ'nāi, saying, 15 Number the children of Lē'vī after the house of their fathers, by their families: every male from a month old and upward shalt thou number them.

16 And Mō'şeş numbered them according to the word of the Lord, as he was commanded.

17 And these were the sons of Lē'vī by their names; Gēr'shŏn, and Kō'hath, and Me-rā'rī.

18 And these are the names of the sons of Gēr'shŏn by their families; Lĭb'nī, and Shĭm'e-ī.

19 And the sons of Kō'hath by their families; Ām'răm, and Ĭz'e-här, Hē'bron, and Ŭz'zĭ-el.

20 And the sons of Me-rā'rī by their families; Mäh'lī, and Mū'shī. These are the families of the Lē'vītes according to the house of their fathers.

21 Of Gēr'shŏn was the family of the Lĭb'nītes, and the family of the Shĭm'ītes: these are the families of the Gēr'shŏn-ītes.

22 Those that were numbered of them, according to the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, even those that were numbered of them were seven thousand and five hundred.

23 The families of the Gēr'shŏn-ītes shall pitch behind the tabernacle westward.

24 And the chief of the house of the father of the Gēr'shŏn-ītes shall be E-lī'a-săph the son of Lā'el.

25 And the charge of the sons of Gēr'shŏn in the tabernacle of the congregation shall be the tabernacle, and the tent, the covering thereof, and the hanging for the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, 26 And the hangings of the court, and the curtain for the door of the court, which is by the tabernacle, and by the altar round about, and the cords of it for all the service thereof.

27 ¶ And of Kō'hath was the family of the Ām'răm-ītes, and the family of the Ĭz'e-har-ītes, and the family of the Hē'bron-ītes, and the family of the Ŭz'zĭ-el-ītes: these are the families of the Kō'hath-ītes.

28 In the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, were eight thousand and six hundred, keeping the charge of the sanctuary.

29 The families of the sons of Kō'hath shall pitch on the side of the tabernacle southward.

30 And the chief of the house of the father of the families of the Kō'hath-ītes shall be E-lĭz'a-phan the son of Ŭz'zĭ'el.

31 And their [c]charge shall be the ark, and the table, and the candlestick, and the altars, and the vessels of the sanctuary wherewith they minister, and the hanging, and all the service thereof.

5. Vs. 14-39, the numbering of the Levites.

6. Vs. 40-43, the census of the firstborn males of the Israelites.

7. Vs. 44-51, the 273 firstborn above the number of the Levites, redeemed.

32 And Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aâr'on the priest shall be chief over the chief of the Lē'vītes, and have the oversight of them that keep the charge of the sanctuary.

33 ¶ Of Me-rā'rī was the family of the Mäh'lītes, and the family of the Mū'shītes: these are the families of Me-rā'rī.

34 And those that were numbered of them, according to the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, were six thousand and two hundred.

35 And the chief of the house of the father of the families of Me-rā'rī was Zū'rī-el the son of Ăb-i-hā'il: these shall pitch on the side of the tabernacle northward.

36 And under the custody and charge of the sons of Me-rā'rī shall be the boards of the tabernacle, and the bars thereof, and the pillars thereof, and the sockets thereof, and all the vessels thereof, and all that serveth thereto.

37 And the pillars of the court round about, and their sockets, and their pins, and their cords.

38 ¶ But those that encamp before the tabernacle toward the east, even before the tabernacle of the congregation eastward, shall be Mō'şeş, and Aâr'on and his sons, keeping the charge of the sanctuary for the charge of the children of Ĭs'ra-el; and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

39 All that were numbered of the Lē'vītes, which Mō'şeş and Aâr'on numbered at the commandment of the [1]Lord, throughout their families, all the males from a month old and upward, were twenty and two thousand.

40 ¶ [6]And the [1]Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Number all the firstborn of the males of the children of Ĭs'ra-el from a month old and upward, and take the number of their names.

41 And thou shalt take the Lē'vītes for me (I am the [1]Lord) instead of all the firstborn among the children of Ĭs'ra-el; and the cattle of the Lē'vītes instead of all the firstlings among the cattle of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

42 And Mō'şeş numbered, as the Lord commanded him, all the firstborn among the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

43 And all the firstborn males by the number of names, from a month old and upward, of those that were numbered of them, were twenty and two thousand two hundred and threescore and thirteen.

44 ¶ [7]And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

45 Take the Lē'vītes instead of all the firstborn among the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and the cattle of the Lē'vītes instead of their cattle; and the Lē'vītes shall be mine: I am the [1]Lord.

46 And for those that are to be redeemed of the two hundred and threescore and thirteen of the firstborn of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, which are more than the Lē'vītes;

47 Thou shalt even take five shekels [d]apiece by the poll, after the shekel of the sanctuary shalt thou take them: (the shekel is twenty gerahs:)

48 And thou shalt give the money, wherewith the odd number of them is to be redeemed, unto Aâr'on and to his sons.

49 And Mō'şeş took the [e]redemption money his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not. (Lev. 10:1.) • And Nadab and Abihu died, when they offered strange fire before the Lord. (Num. 26:61.) For the Lord thy God is a consuming fire, even a jealous God. (Dt. 4:24.) For behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots, like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. (Is. 66:15.) In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Thes. 1:8.) For our God is a consuming fire. (Heb. 12:29.)

b. Sanctify unto me all the first-born, whatsoever openeth the womb among the children of Israel, both of man and of beast: it is mine. (Ex. 13:2.) Only the firstling of the beasts, which should be the Lord's firstling, no man shall sanctify it; whether it be ox, or sheep, it is the Lord's. (Lev. 27:26.) As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord. (Luke 2:23.) That thou shalt set apart unto the Lord all that openeth the matrix, and every firstling that cometh of a beast which thou hast; the males shall be the Lord's (12). And it came to pass, when Pharaoh would hardly let us go, that the Lord slew all the first-born in the land of Egypt, both the first-born of man, and the first-born of beast: therefore I sacrifice to the Lord all that openeth the matrix, being males; but all the first-born of my children I redeem. (Ex. 13:12, 15.)

c. See ch. 4, v. 5.

d. And if it be from a month old even unto five years old, then thy estimation shall be of the male five shekels of silver, and for the female thy estimation shall be three shekels of silver. (Lev. 27:6.) And those that are to be redeemed from a month old shalt thou redeem, according to thine estimation, for the money of five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, which is twenty gerahs. (Num. 18:16.) Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time. (I Tim.

of them that were over and above them that were redeemed by the Lē'vītes:

50 Of the firstborn of the children of Ĭs'ra-el took he the money; a thousand three hundred and threescore and five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary:

51 And Mō'şeş gave the money of them that were [e]redeemed unto Aâr'on and to his sons, according to the word of the [1]Lord, as the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

CHAPTER 4.

1 The age and time of the Levites' service. 4 The carriage of the Kohathites. 16 The charge of Eleazar. 17 The office of the priests. 21 The carriage of the Gershonites, 29 of the Merarites. 34 The number of the Kohathites, 38 of the Gershonites, 42 and of the Merarites.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying,

2 Take the sum of the sons of Kō'hath from among the sons of Lē'vī, after their families, by the house of their fathers,

3 From [2]thirty [a]years old and upward even until fifty years old, all that enter into the host, to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 [3]This [b]shall be the service of the sons of Kō'hath in the tabernacle of the congregation, about the most holy things:

5 ¶ And when the camp setteth forward, Aâr'on shall come, and his sons, and they shall take down the [4]covering vail, and cover the ark of testimony with it:

6 And shall put thereon the covering of badgers' skins, and shall spread over it a cloth wholly of blue, and shall put in the staves thereof.

7 And upon the table of shewbread they shall spread a cloth of blue, and put thereon the dishes, and the spoons, and the bowls, and covers to cover withal: and the continual bread shall be thereon:

8 And they shall spread upon them a cloth of scarlet, and cover the same with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put in the staves thereof.

9 And they shall take a cloth of blue, and cover the candlestick of the light, and his lamps, and his tongs, and his snuffdishes, and all the oil vessels thereof, wherewith they minister unto it:

10 And they shall put it and all the vessels thereof within a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put it upon a bar.

11 And upon the golden altar they shall spread a cloth of blue, and cover it with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put to the staves thereof:

12 And they shall take all the instruments of ministry, wherewith they minister in the sanctuary, and put them in a cloth of blue, and cover them with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put them on a bar:

13 And they shall take away the ashes from the altar, and spread a purple cloth thereon:

14 And they shall put upon it all the vessels thereof, wherewith they minister about it, even the censers, the fleshhooks, and the shovels, and the basons, all the vessels of the altar; and they shall spread upon it a covering of badgers' skins, and put to the staves of it.

15 And when Aâr'on and his sons have made an end of [5]covering the sanctuary, and all the vessels of the sanctuary, as the camp is to set forward; after that, the sons of Kō'hath shall come to bear it: but they shall not touch any holy thing, lest they die. These things are the burden of the [c]sons of Kō'hath in the tabernacle of the congregation.

16 ¶ And to the office of Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aâr'on the priest pertaineth the oil for the light, and the sweet incense, and the daily meat offering, and the anointing oil, and the oversight of all the tabernacle, and of all that therein is, in the sanctuary, and in the vessels thereof.

17 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying,

18 Cut ye not off the tribe of the families of the Kō'hath-ītes from among the Lē'vītes:

19 But thus do unto them, that they may live, and not die, when they approach unto the most holy things: Aâr'on and his sons shall go in, and appoint them every one to his service and to his burden:

20 But [d]they shall not go in to see when the holy things are covered, lest they die.

21 ¶ [6]And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

22 Take also the sum of the sons of Gēr'shŏn, throughout the houses of their fathers, by their families;

23 From thirty years old and upward until fifty years old shalt thou number them; all that enter in to [e]perform the service, to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation.

24 This is the service of the families of the Gēr'shŏn-ītes, to serve, and for burdens:

25 And they shall bear the curtains of the tabernacle, and the tabernacle of the congregation, his covering, and the covering of the badgers' skins that is above upon it, and the hanging for the door of the tabernacle of the congregation,

26 And the hangings of the court, and the hanging for the door of the gate of the court, which is by the tabernacle and by the altar round about, and their cords, and all the instruments of their service, and all that is made for them: so shall they serve.

27 At the appointment of Aâr'on and his sons shall be all the service of the sons of the Gēr'shŏn-ītes, in all their burdens, and in all their service: and ye shall appoint unto them in charge all their burdens.

28 This is the service of the families of the sons of Gēr'shŏn in the tabernacle of the congregation: and their charge shall be under the hand of Ĭth'a-mär the son of Aâr'on the priest.

29 ¶ As for the sons of Me-rā'rī, thou shalt number them after their families, by the house of their fathers;

30 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old shalt thou number them, every one that entereth into the service, to do the work of the tabernacle of the congregation.

31 And this is the charge of their burden,

Ch. 4. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—In ch. 4 Jehovah defines the age limit, or the term of acceptable service, to be rendered by the Levites.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The minimum limit is fixed at 30 years, or 10 above the military age, probably because the sacred service required great physical strength, intellectual maturity and sound judgment, and these are not often reached before the age of 30.

3. Vs. 4-20, the services of the sons of Kohath, who have been given a post of honor, perhaps because Moses and Aaron are of this family.

4. The veil which separated the holy from the most holy place. It was this veil which was rent in twain at the crucifixion of Christ.

5. The sons of Aaron could assist only in preparing the sanctuary and its furniture when the cloud was not resting over the tabernacle, as at that period only Aaron was allowed to enter the holy of holies.

6. Vs. 21-28, assignment of the services of the sons of Gershon. They were given the transportation of the cloth and skin coverings of the tabernacle, with its numerous hangings, cords and curtains.

2:6.) Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. (Heb. 9:12.) Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers. But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish, and without spot. (I Pet. 1:18, 19.)

Chapter 4.

a. This is it that belongeth unto the Levites: from twenty and five years old and upward, they shall go in to wait upon the service of the tabernacle of the congregation. (Num. 8:24.)

b. See v. 15.

c. And the Kohathites set forward bearing the sanctuary: and the other did set up the tabernacle against they came. (Num. 10:21.) Then David said, None ought to carry the ark of God but the Levites: for them hath the Lord chosen to carry the ark of God, and to minister unto him for ever (2). And the children of the Levites bare the ark of God upon their shoulders, with the staves thereon, as Moses commanded according to the word of the Lord. (I Chr. 15:2, 15.)

d. And the Lord said unto Moses, Go down, charge the people, lest they break through unto the Lord to gaze, and many of them perish. (Ex. 19:21.)

e. For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds. (II Cor. 10:4.) Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might (10). Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. (Eph. 6:10, 11.)

according to all their service in the tabernacle of the congregation; the boards of the tabernacle, and the bars thereof, and the pillars thereof, and sockets thereof, 32 And the pillars of the court round about, and their sockets, and their pins, and their cords, with all their instruments, and with all their service: and by name ye shall reckon the instruments of the charge of their burden.

33 This is the service of the families of the sons of Me-rā'rī, according to all their service, in the tabernacle of the congregation, under the hand of Īth'a-mär the son of Aär'on the priest.

34 ¶ [7]And Mō'şeş and [f]Aär'on and the chief of the congregation numbered the sons of the Kō'hath-ītes after their families, and after the house of their fathers,

35 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation:

36 And those that were numbered of them by their families were two thousand seven hundred and fifty.

37 These were they that were numbered of the families of the Kō'hath-ītes, all that might do service in the tabernacle of the congregation, which Mō'şeş and Aär'on did number according to the commandment of the Lord by the hand of Mō'şeş.

38 And those that were numbered of the sons of Gēr'shŏn, throughout their families, and by the house of their fathers,

39 From thirty [g]years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation,

40 Even those that were numbered of them, throughout their families, by the house of their fathers, were two thousand and six hundred and thirty.

41 These are they that were numbered of the families of the sons of Gēr'shŏn, of all that might do service in the tabernacle of the congregation, whom Mō'şeş and Aär'on did number according to the commandment of the Lord.

42 ¶ And those that were numbered of the families of the sons of Me-rā'rī, throughout their families, by the house of their fathers,

43 From [g]thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation,

44 Even those that were numbered of them after their families, were three thousand and two hundred.

45 These be those that were numbered of the families of the sons of Me-rā'rī, whom Mō'şeş and Aär'on numbered according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Mō'şeş.

46 All those that were numbered of the Lē'vītes, whom Mō'şeş and Aär'on and the chief of Īs'ra-el numbered, after their families, and after the house of their fathers,

47 From [g]thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that came to do the service of the ministry, and the service of the burden in the tabernacle of the congregation,

48 Even those that were numbered of them, were eight thousand and five hundred and fourscore.

49 According to the commandment of the Lord they were numbered by the hand of Mō'şeş, [h]every one according to his service, and according to his burden: thus were they numbered of him, as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

7. Vs. 34-49, taking the census of the competent Levites.

CHAPTER 5.

1 The unclean are removed out of the camp.
5 Restitution is to be made in trespasses.
11 The trial of jealousy.

Ch. 5. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—For religious and hygienic reasons as well, ch. 5 gives the law for the removal of the unclean from the camp.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Command the children of Īs'ra-el, that they put out of the [a]camp every leper, and every one that hath an issue, and whosoever is defiled by the dead:

3 Both male and female shall ye put out, without the camp shall ye put them; that they defile not their camps, in the midst whereof I dwell.

4 And the children of Īs'ra-el did so, and put them out without the camp: as the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, so did the children of Īs'ra-el.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

5 ¶ [2]And the [1]Lord [b]spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

6 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, When a [c]man or woman shall commit any sin that men commit, to do a [3]trespass against the [1]Lord, and that person be guilty;

7 Then they shall [d]confess their sin which they have done: and he shall recompense his trespass [e]with the principal thereof, and add unto it the fifth part thereof, and give it unto him against whom he hath trespassed.

8 But if the man have no kinsman to recompense the trespass [f]unto, let the trespass be recompensed unto the Lord, even to the priest; beside the ram of the atonement, whereby [g]an atonement shall be made for him.

9 And every offering of all the holy things of the children of Īs'ra-el, which they bring unto the priest, shall be his.

10 And every man's hallowed things shall be his: whatsoever any man giveth the priest, it shall be his.

2. Vs. 5-10, rules for restitution for trespass. While this law was given in Leviticus (6:1-7), it is here repeated for two reasons: 1st, to effect a moral purging of the camp; 2nd, to supplement the law in case there is no next of kin.

3. An offense against the right of property.

11 ¶ [4]And the Lord [b]spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

12 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, and say unto them, If any man's wife go aside, and commit a trespass against him,

13 And a man lie with her carnally, and it be hid from the eyes of her husband, and be

g. Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil. (I Tim. 3:6.) Thy shoes shall be iron and brass; and as thy days, so shall thy strength be. (Dt. 33:25.)

h. Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit (4). And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord (5). And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all (6). But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal (7). And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. (I Cor. 12:4-7, 28.)

a. All the days wherein the plague shall be in him he shall be defiled; he is unclean; he shall dwell alone; without the camp shall his habitation be. (Lev. 13:46.) And there were four leprous men at the entering in of the gate; and they said one to another: Why sit we here until we die? (II Ks. 7:3.) Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing: go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord. (Is. 52:11.) And he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off. (Luke 17:12.)

b. And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, Here am I. (Ex. 3:4.) And the Lord spake unto you out of the midst of the fire: ye heard the voice of the words, but saw no similitude, only ye heard a voice. (Dt. 4:12.) And the Lord shall utter his voice before his army; for his camp is very great: for he is strong that executeth his word: for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible; and who can abide it? (Joel 2:11.) Whose voice then shook the earth; but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only but also heaven. (Heb. 12:26.)

c. If a soul sin, and commit a trespass against the Lord, and lie unto his neighbor in that which was delivered him to keep or in fellowship, or in a thing taken away by violence, or hath deceived his neighbor (2); Or have found that which was lost, and lieth concerning it, and sweareth falsely; if any of all these that a man doeth, sinning therein. (Lev. 6:2, 3.) And the flesh and the hide he burnt with fire without the camp. (Lev. 9:11.) If a man shall deliver unto his neighbor money or stuff to keep and it be stolen out of the man's house; if the thief be found, let him pay double. (Ex. 22:7.)

d. And it shall be, when he shall be guilty in one of these things, that he shall confess that he hath sinned in that thing. (Lev. 5:5.)

e. Or all that about which he hath sworn falsely; he shall even restore it in the principal, and shall add the fifth part more thereto, and give it unto him to whom it appertaineth, in the day of his trespass offering. (Lev. 6:5.)

f. As the sin offering is, so is the trespass offering: there is one law for them: the priest that maketh atonement therewith shall have it. (Lev. 7:7.)

kept close, and she be defiled, and there be no witness against her, neither she be taken with the manner;

14 And the spirit of [h]jealousy come upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be defiled: or if the spirit of jealousy come upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be not defiled:

15 Then shall the man bring his wife unto the priest, and he shall bring her [i]offering for her, the tenth part of an ephah of barley meal; he shall pour no oil upon it, nor put frankincense thereon; for it is an offering of jealousy, an offering of memorial, [j]bringing iniquity to remembrance.

16 And the priest shall bring her near, and set her before the [1]Lord:

17 And the priest shall take holy water in an earthen vessel; and of the dust that is in the floor of the tabernacle the priest shall take, and put it into the water:

18 And the priest shall set the woman before the [1]Lord, and uncover the woman's head, and put the offering of memorial in her hands, which is the jealousy offering: and the priest shall have in his hand the bitter water that causeth the curse:

19 And the priest shall charge her by an oath, and say unto the woman, If no man have lain with thee, and if thou hast not gone aside to uncleanness with another instead of thy husband, be thou free from this bitter water that causeth the curse:

20 But if thou hast gone aside to another instead of thy husband, and if thou be defiled, and some man have lain with thee beside thine husband:

21 Then the priest shall charge the woman with an oath of cursing, and the priest shall say unto the woman, The [1]Lord make thee a curse and an oath among thy people, when the [1]Lord doth make thy [5]thigh to rot, and thy belly to swell;

22 And this water that causeth the curse shall go [k]into thy bowels, to make thy belly to swell, and thy thigh to rot: And the woman shall say, Amen, amen.

23 And the priest shall write these curses in a book, and he shall blot them out with the bitter water:

24 And he shall cause the woman to drink the bitter water that causeth the curse: and the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter.

25 Then the priest shall take the jealousy offering out of the woman's hand, and shall wave the offering before the Lord, and offer it upon the altar:

26 And the priest shall take an handful of the offering, even the memorial thereof, and burn it upon the altar, and afterward shall cause the woman to drink the water.

5. Hebrew, to fall.

Ch. 6. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 6 is devoted to the law of the Nazarites, and the form of the priestly blessings. The Nazarite vow was purely voluntary and not obligatory, and for that reason is treated as a supplementary law, and omitted from the Levitical code. When an individual took upon himself the Nazarite's vow, he was as a person betrothed to God and must therefore avoid everything that would antagonize or interfere with such a surrender. The law governing the vow is given in this chapter.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The bonding of one's self to assume a certain obligation.

3. Fresh.

4. Raisins.

5. Could not enter the house where his father lay dead.

27 And when he hath made her to drink the water, then it shall come to pass, that, if she be defiled, and have done trespass against her husband, that the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter, and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall rot: and the woman [l]shall be a curse among her people.

28 And if the woman be not defiled, but be clean; then she shall be [m]free, and shall conceive seed.

29 This is the law of jealousies, when a wife goeth aside to another instead of her husband, and is defiled;

30 Or when the spirit of [h]jealousy cometh upon him, and he be jealous over his wife, and shall set the woman before the Lord, and the priest shall execute upon her all this law.

31 Then shall the man be guiltless from iniquity, and this woman shall [n]bear her iniquity.

CHAPTER 6.

1 The law of the Nazarites. 22 The form of blessing the people.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, and say unto them, When either man or woman shall [a]separate themselves to [2]vow a vow of a Năz'a-rīte, to separate themselves unto the [1]Lord:

3 He shall separate himself from wine and strong drink, and shall drink no vinegar of wine, or vinegar of strong drink, neither shall he drink any liquor of grapes, nor eat [3]moist grapes, or [4]dried.

4 All the days of his separation shall he eat nothing that is made of the vine tree, from the kernels even to the husk.

5 All the days of the vow of his separation there shall no [b]razor come upon his head: until the days be fulfilled, in the which he separateth himself unto the [1]Lord, he shall be holy, and shall let the locks of the hair of his head grow.

6 All the days that he separateth himself unto the [1]Lord [c]he shall come at no dead body.

7 He shall not make himself unclean [5]for his father, or for his mother, for his brother, or for his sister, when they die: because the consecration of his God is upon his head.

8 All the days of his separation he is holy unto the [1]Lord.

9 And if any man die very suddenly by him, and he hath defiled the head of his consecration; then he shall shave his head in the day of his cleansing, on the seventh day shall he shave it.

10 And on the eighth day he shall bring two [d]turtles, or two young pigeons, to the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:

11 And the priest shall offer the one for a

h. For jealousy is the rage of a man; therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance. (Prov. 6:34.) Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame. (Song 8:6.)

i. But if he be not able to bring two turtle doves, or two young pigeons, then he that sinned shall bring for his offering the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a sin offering; he shall put no oil upon it, neither shall he put any frankincense thereon; for it is a sin offering. (Lev. 5:11.)

j. And she said unto Elijah, What have I to do with thee, O thou man of God? art thou come unto me to call my sin to remembrance, and to slay my son? (I Ks. 17:18.) And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, which bringeth their iniquity to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord God. (Ezek. 29:16.)

k. As he clothed himself with cursing like as with his garment, so let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones. (Ps. 109:18.) Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:26.)

l. And thou shalt become an astonishment, a proverb, and a byword, among all nations whither the Lord shall lead thee. (Dt. 28:37.) And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. (Jer. 24:9.)

m. The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger. (Job 17:9.) Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass. And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday. (Ps. 37:5, 6.)

n. And if a man shall take his sister, his father's daughter, or his mother's daughter, and see her nakedness, and she see his nakedness; it is a wicked thing; and they shall be cut off in the sight of their people; he hath uncovered his sister's nakedness; he shall bear his iniquity. (Lev. 20:17.)

Chapter 6.

a. For, lo, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son; and no razor shall come on his head, for the child shall be a Nazarite unto God from the womb: and he shall begin to deliver Israel out of the hand of the Philistines. (Jud. 13:5.) Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them. (Acts 21:23.)

b. And she vowed a vow, and said, O Lord of hosts, if thou wilt indeed look on the affliction of thine handmaid, and remember me, and not forget thine handmaid, but will give unto thine handmaid a man-child, then I will give him unto the Lord all the days of his life, and there shall no razor come upon his head. (I Sam. 1:11.)

c. Neither shall he go in to any dead body, nor defile himself for his father, or for his mother. (Lev. 21:11.)

d. And two turtle doves, or two young pigeons, such as he is able to get; and the one shall be a sin offering, and the other a burnt offering. (Lev. 14:22.)

12 And he shall consecrate unto the [1]Lord the days of his separation, and shall bring a [f]lamb of the first year for a trespass [9]offering: but the days that were before shall be lost, because his separation was defiled.

13 ¶ And this is the [d]law of the Năz'a-rīte, when the days of his separation are fulfilled: he shall be brought unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:

14 And he shall offer his offering unto the [1]Lord, one he [f]lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish for a sin offering, and one ram without [g]blemish for peace [10]offerings,

15 And a basket of unleavened bread, [h]cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, and wafers of unleavened bread anointed with oil, and their [11]meat offering, and their drink [12]offerings.

16 And the priest shall bring them before the [1]Lord, and shall offer his sin [6]offering, and his burnt [7]offering:

17 And he shall offer the ram for a sacrifice of peace [10]offerings unto the Lord, with the basket of unleavened bread: the priest shall offer also his meat [11]offering, and his drink offering.

18 And the Năz'a-rīte shall shave the head of his separation at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall take the hair of the head of his separation, and put it in the fire which is under the sacrifice of the peace [10]offerings.

6. Offered as a propitiation or covering of minor offenses, the removal of ceremonial uncleanness; an atonement of sins of ignorance, either when the wrong doer was ignorant of the law or forgetful of it, to be offered when the wrong done could not be undone.

7. The sacrifice to be completely burned, as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

8. To condone, to cover, to make reconciliation for.

9. Offered when one had unwittingly trespassed against the ordinance of God in respect to holy things.

10. A thanksgiving offering of one in the enjoyment of peace afforded by a clear conscience; a vehicle of thanksgiving to Jehovah.

11. Meal or food offering.

12. An offering of wine, which was to be poured upon the altar, typical of great joy.

13. Cooked, usually boiled.

19 And the priest shall take the sodden shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened cake out of the basket, and one unleavened wafer, and shall put them upon the hands of the Năz'a-rīte, after the hair of his separation is shaven:

20 And the priest shall [i]wave them for a wave [14]offering before the [1]Lord: this is holy for the priest, with the wave breast and heave shoulder: and after [j]that the Năz'a-rīte may drink wine.

21 This is the law [d]of the Năz'a-rīte who hath vowed, and of his offering unto the [1]Lord for his separation, beside that that his hand shall get: according to the vow which he vowed, so he must do after the law of his separation.

22 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

23 Speak unto Aâr'on and unto his sons, saying, On this wise ye shall bless the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying unto them,

24 The [1]Lord bless thee, and keep [k]thee:

25 The [1]Lord [l]make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee:

26 The [1]Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and [m]give thee peace.

27 And they shall put my name upon the children of Ĭs'ra-el; and [n]I will bless them.

CHAPTER 7.

1 The offering of the princes at the dedication of the tabernacle. 10 Their several offerings at the dedication of the altar. 89 God speaketh to Moses from the mercy seat.

1 And it came to pass on the day that Mō'şeş had fully set up the tabernacle, and had anointed it, and [1]sanctified it, and all the in-

e. And the priest shall make an atonement for all the congregation of the children of Israel, and it shall be forgiven them; for it is ignorance: and they shall bring their offering, a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord, and their sin offering before the Lord for their ignorance. (Num. 15:25.) And he shall do with the bullock as he did with the bullock for a sin offering, so shall he do with this: and the priests shall make an atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them. (Lev. 4:20.) When a ruler hath sinned, and done somewhat through ignorance against any of the commandments of the Lord, his God, concerning things which should not be done, and is guilty (22). Or if his sin, wherein he hath sinned, come to his knowledge; he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a male without blemish (23). And if any one of the common people sin through ignorance, while he doeth somewhat against any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which ought not to be done, and be guilty (27). Or if his sin which he hath sinned, come to his knowledge: then he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a female without blemish, for his sin which he hath sinned (28). And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offering, and slay the sin offering in place of the burnt offering (29). And the priest shall take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out all the blood thereof at the bottom of the altar (30). And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat is taken away from off the sacrifice of peace offerings; and the priest shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savor unto the Lord; and the priest shall make an atonement for him, and it shall be forgiven him. (Lev. 4:22, 23, 27-31.) And the priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord: and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he hath done in trespassing therein. (Lev. 6:7.) For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. (Math. 26:28.) Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification. (Rom. 4:25.) Grace be to you and peace, from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ (3), Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father. (Gal. 1:3, 4.) Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him (9). For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life (10). And not only so, but we also joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement. (Rom. 5:9-11.) Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. (Heb. 2:17.) For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect (1). And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins (11). But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God. (Heb. 10:1, 11, 12.) And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. (I Jno. 2:2.) Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself (27). For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore. (Heb. 7:27, 28.) In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.)

f. He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. (Is. 53:7.) The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world (29). And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God! (Jno. 1:29, 36.) Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation, received by tradition from your fathers (18). But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. (I Pet. 1:18, 19.) And I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth. (Rev. 5:6.) And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. (Rev. 7:14.)

g. Ye shall offer at your own will a male without blemish, of the beeves, of the sheep, or of the goats (19). But whatsoever hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer: for it shall not be acceptable for you (20). And whosoever offereth a sacrifice of peace offerings, unto the Lord to accomplish his vow, or a free-will offering in beeves or sheep, it shall be perfect to be accepted; there shall be no blemish therein. (Lev. 22:19-21.) And if his offering for a sacrifice of peace offering unto the Lord be of the flock, male or female, he shall offer it without blemish. (Lev. 3:6.)

h. And unleavened bread, and cakes unleavened tempered with oil, and wafers unleavened anointed with oil: of wheatened flour shalt thou make them. (Ex. 29:2.)

i. And the breasts and the right shoulder Aaron waved for a wave offering before the Lord; as Moses commanded. (Lev. 9:21.) And thou shalt put all in the hands of Aaron, in the hands of his son; and shall wave them for a wave offering before the Lord. (Ex. 29:24.)

j. Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God now accepteth thy works. (Ecc. 9:7.)

k. The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul. (Ps. 121:7.) And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one as we are. (Jno. 17:11.) He shall deliver thee in six troubles: yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee. (Job 5:19.) Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me; that by me the preaching might be fully known: and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever, Amen. (II Tim. 4:17, 18.)

l. God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; Selah. (Ps. 67:1.) Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. (Dan. 9:17.)

m. Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee, because he trusteth in thee. (Is. 26:3.) Then Jesus said to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you. (Jno. 20:21.) Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all. (II Thes. 3:16.) Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. (Jno. 14:27.)

n. The Lord hath been mindful of us; he will bless us; he will bless the house of Israel; he will bless the house of Aaron. (Ps. 115:12.) The Lord that made heaven and earth bless thee out of Zion. (Ps. 134:3.) For thou, Lord, wilt bless the righteous; with favor wilt thou structments thereof, both the altar and all the vessels thereof, and had anointed them, and [1]sanctified them;

2 That the princes of Ĭs'ra-el, heads of the house of their fathers, who were the princes of the tribes, and were over them that were numbered, offered:

3 And they brought their offering before the [2]Lord, six covered wagons, and twelve oxen; a wagon for two of the princes, and for each one an ox: and they brought them before the tabernacle.

4 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

5 Take it of them, that they may be to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; and thou shalt give them unto the Lē'vītes, to every man according to his service.

6 And Mō'şeş took the wagons and the oxen, and gave them unto the Lē'vītes.

7 Two wagons and four oxen he gave unto the sons of Gēr'shŏn, according to their service:

8 And four wagons and eight oxen he gave unto the sons of Me-rā'rī, according unto their service, under the hand of Ĭth'a-mär the son of Aâr'on the priest.

9 But unto the sons of Kō'hath he gave none: because the service of the sanctuary belonging unto them was that [a]they should bear upon their shoulders.

10 ¶ [3]And the princes offered for [b]dedicating of the altar in the [4]day that it was anointed, even the princes offered their offering before the altar.

11 And the [2]Lord said unto Mō'şeş, They shall offer their offering, each prince on his day, for the dedicating of the altar.

12 ¶ And he that offered his offering the first day was Näh'shon the son of Ăm-mĭn'a-dab, of the tribe of Jū'dah:

13 And his offering was one silver charger, the [c]weight thereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy [10]shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them were full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat [5]offering:

14 One [6]spoon of ten [10]shekels of gold, full of incense:

15 One young bullock, one ram, one [d]lamb of the first year, for a burnt [7]offering:

16 One kid of the goats for a sin [8]offering:

17 And for a sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five [d]lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Näh'shon the son of Ăm-mĭn'a-dăb.

18 ¶ On the second day Ne-thăn'e-el the son of Zū'ar, prince of Ĭs'sa-char, did offer:

19 He offered for his offering one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty [10]shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a [5]meat offering:

20 One spoon of gold of ten [10]shekels, full of [e]incense:

21 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a [e]burnt [7]offering:

22 One kid of the goats for a sin [8]offering:

23 And for a sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five [d]lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Nethăn'e-el the son of Zū'ar.

24 ¶ On the third day E-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon, prince of the children of Zĕb'u-lun, did offer:

compass him as with a shield. (Ps. 5:12.) He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation. (Ps. 24:5.)

Chapter 7.

a. And it was so, that when they that bare the ark of the Lord had gone six paces, he sacrificed oxen and fatlings. (II Sam. 6:13.)

b. And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy. (Ezra 6:16.)

c. And thou shalt make the dishes thereof, and spoons thereof, and covers thereof, and bowls thereof, to cover withal: of pure gold shalt thou make them. (Ex. 25:29.)

d. See f, ch. 6, Numbers.

e. For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

f. Thy vows are upon me, O God; I will render praises unto thee. (Ps. 56:12.) By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name. (Heb. 13:15.)

50 One golden [6]spoon of ten shekels, full of [9]incense:
51 One young bullock, one ram, one [d]lamb of the first year, for a [7]burnt offering:
52 One kid of the goats for a sin [8]offering:
53 And for a sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five [d]lambs of the first year: this was the offering of E-lĭsh'a-mà the son of Ăm-mī'hŭd.
54 ¶ On the eighth day offered Ga-mā'lĭ-el the son of Pe-däh'zur, prince of the children of Ma-năs'seh:
55 His offering was one silver charger of the weight of an hundred and thirty [10]shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat [5]offering:
56 One golden [6]spoon of ten [10]shekels, full of incense:
57 One young bullock, one ram, one [d]lamb of the first year, for a [7]burnt offering:
58 One kid of the goats for a sin [8]offering:
59 And for [i]a sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Ga-mā'lĭ-el the son of Pe-däh'zur.
60 ¶ On the ninth day Āb'i-dăn the son of Gĭd-e-ō'nī, prince of the children of Bĕn'ja-min, offered:
61 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy [10]shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat [5]offering:
62 One golden [6]spoon of ten [10]shekels, full of incense:
63 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt [7]offering:
64 One kid of the goats for a [8]sin offering:
65 And for a sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Āb'i-dăn the son of Gĭd-e-ō'nī.
66 ¶ On the tenth day Ā-hi-ē'zēr the son of Ăm-mi-shăd'da-ī, prince of the children of Dăn, offered:
67 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy [10]shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat [5]offering:
68 One golden [6]spoon of ten shekels, full of [9]incense:
69 One young bullock, one ram, one [d]lamb of the first year, for a burnt [7]offering:
70 One kid of the goats for a sin [8]offering:
71 And for a sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five [d]lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Ā-hi-ē'zēr the son of Ăm-mi-shăd'da-ī.
72 ¶ On the eleventh day Pā'gī-el the son of Ōc'ran, prince of the children of Ăsh'ēr, offered:
73 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy [10]shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat [5]offering:
74 One golden [6]spoon of ten [10]shekels, full of [9]incense:
75 One young bullock, one ram, one [d]lamb of the first year, for a [c]burnt [7]offering:
76 One kid of the goats for a sin [8]offering:
77 And for a sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five [d]lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Pā'gī-el the son of Ōc'ran.
78 ¶ On the twelfth day A-hī'rà the son of Ē'nan, prince of the children of Năph'ta-lī, offered:
79 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty [10]shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat [5]offering:
80 One golden [6]spoon of ten [10]shekels, full of [9]incense:
81 One young bullock, one ram, one [d]lamb of the first year, for a burnt [7]offering:
82 One kid of the goats for a sin [8]offering:
83 And for a sacrifice of peace [9]offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five [d]lambs of the first year: this was the offering of A-hī'rà the son of Ē'nan.
84 This was the dedication of the altar, in the day when it was anointed, by the princes of Ĭs'ra-el: twelve chargers of silver, twelve silver bowls, twelve spoons of gold:
85 Each charger of silver weighing an hundred and thirty [10]shekels, each bowl seventy: all the silver vessels weighed two thousand and four hundred shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary:
86 The golden spoons were twelve, full of incense, weighing ten [10]shekels apiece, after the shekel of the sanctuary: all the gold of the spoons was an hundred and twenty shekels.
87 All the oxen for the [j]burnt [7]offering were twelve bullocks, the rams twelve, the [d]lambs of the first year twelve, with their meat [8]offering: and the kids of the goats for sin offering twelve.
88 And all the oxen for the sacrifice of the peace offerings were twenty and four bullocks, the rams sixty, the he goats sixty, the lambs of the first year sixty. This was the dedication of the altar, after that it was anointed.
89 And when Mō'sĕs was gone into the tabernacle of the congregation to speak with [11]him, then he heard the voice of [k]one speaking unto him from off the mercy seat that was upon the ark of testimony, from between the two [l]cherubims: and he spake unto him.

11. God.

Ch. 8. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—This ch. begins with brief directions respecting the lighting and placing of the lamps; then treats of the separation, cleansing and consecration of the Levites.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. For historical sketch of the life of Moses, see 11, Ex. 2.

3. Vs. 1-4 treat of the lighting and placing of the lamps.

4. In front of the candlesticks. (R. V.)

CHAPTER 8.

1 How the lamps are to be lighted. 5 The consecration of the Levites. 23 The age and time of their service.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'sĕs, [3]saying,
2 Speak unto Aâr'on, and say unto him, When thou lightest the lamps, the seven lamps shall give [4]light over against the candlestick.
3 And Aâr'on did so; he lighted the lamps

g. They shall teach Jacob thy judgments, and Israel thy law; they shall put incense before thee, and whole burnt sacrifice upon thine altar. (Dt. 33:10.) Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice. (Ps. 141:2.) For from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1:11.) And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. (Rev. 8:3.)

h. Your lamb shall be without blemish, a male of the first year; ye shall take it out from the sheep or from the goats. (Ex. 12:5.) But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. (I Pet. 1:19.)

i. To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation (19). For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. (II Cor. 5:19, 21.) For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Eph. 2:14.)

j. I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. (Rom. 12:1.) For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

k. And there I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the mercy seat, from between the two cherubim which are upon the ark of the testimony, of all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Israel. (Ex. 25:22.)

l. And within the oracle he made two cherubim of olive tree, each ten cubits high. (I Ks. 6:23.) The Lord reigneth; let the people tremble; he sitteth between the cherubim; let the earth be moved. (Ps. 99:1.) And over the cherubim of glory shadowing the mercy seat; of which we cannot now speak particularly. (Heb. 9:5.)

thereof over against the candlestick, as the [1]Lord commanded [2]Mō'şeş.

4 And this work of the candlestick was of [a]beaten gold, unto the shaft thereof, unto the flowers thereof, was [b]beaten work: according [c]unto the pattern which the Lord had shewed Mō'şeş, so he made the candlestick.

5 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, [5]saying,

6 [6]Take the Lē'vītes from among the children of Īs'ra-el, and [d]cleanse them.

7 And thus shalt thou do unto them, to [d]cleanse them: Sprinkle [7]water of purifying upon them, and let them shave all [8]their flesh, and let them wash their clothes, and so make themselves clean.

8 Then let them take a young bullock with his meat [9]offering, even fine flour mingled with oil, and another young bullock shalt thou take for a sin [10]offering.

9 And thou shalt bring the Lē'vītes before the tabernacle of the congregation: and thou shalt gather the whole assembly of the children of Īs'ra-el together:

10 And thou shalt bring the Lē'vītes before the [1]Lord: and the children of Īs'ra-el shall put their hands upon the Lē'vītes:

11 And Aâr'on shall [11]offer the Lē'vītes before the Lord for an [12]offering of the children of Īs'ra-el, that they may execute the service of the [1]Lord.

12 And the Lē'vītes shall lay their hands upon the heads of the bullocks: and thou shalt offer the one for a sin [10]offering, and the other for a [e]burnt [13]offering, unto the [1]Lord, to make an [14]atonement[f] for the Lē'vītes.

13 And thou shalt set the Lē'vītes before Aâr'on, and before his sons, and offer them for [13]an offering unto the [1]Lord.

14 Thus shalt thou separate the Lē'vītes from among the children of Īs'ra-el: and the Lē'vītes shall be [g]mine.

15 And after that shall the Lē'vītes go in to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation: and thou shalt cleanse them, and offer them for an offering.

16 For they are wholly given unto me from among the children of Īs'ra-el; instead of such as open every womb, even instead of the firstborn of all the children of Īs'ra-el, have I taken them unto me.

17 For all the [h]firstborn of the children of Īs'ra-el are mine, both man and beast: on the day that I smote every firstborn in the land of Ē'gўpt I sanctified them for myself.

18 And I have taken the Lē'vītes for all the firstborn of the children of Īs'ra-el.

19 And I have given the Lē'vītes as a gift to Aâr'on and to his sons from among the children of Īs'ra-el, to do the service of the children of Īs'ra-el in the tabernacle of the congregation, and to make an [14]atonement [f]for the children of Īs'ra-el: that there be no plague among the children of Īs'ra-el, when the children of Īs'ra-el come nigh unto the sanctuary.

20 And [2]Mō'şeş, and Aâr'on, and all the congregation of the children of Īs'ra-el, did to the Lē'vītes according unto all that the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş concerning the Lē'vītes, so did the children of Īs'ra-el unto them.

21 And the Lē'vītes were purified, and they washed their clothes; and Aâr'on offered them as an [15]offering before the [1]Lord; and Aâr'on made an [14]atonement [f]for them to cleanse them.

22 And after that went the Lē'vītes in to do their service in the tabernacle of the congregation before Aâr'on, and before his sons: as the [1]Lord had commanded [2]Mō'şeş concerning the Lē'vītes, so did they unto them.

23 ¶ [16]And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

24 This is it that belongeth unto the Lē'vītes: from twenty and five years old and upward they shall go in to wait upon the service of the tabernacle of the congregation:

25 And from the age of fifty years they shall cease waiting upon the service thereof, and shall serve no more:

26 But shall minister with their brethren in the tabernacle of the congregation, to keep the charge, and shall do no service. Thus shalt thou do unto the Lē'vītes touching their charge.

CHAPTER 9.

1 The passover is commanded again. 6 A second passover allowed for them that were unclean or absent. 15 The cloud guideth the removings and encampings of the Israelites.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş in the wilderness of Sī'nāi, in the first month of the second year after they were come out of the land of Ē'gўpt, saying,

2 Let the children of Īs'ra-el also keep [a]the [3]passover at his appointed season.

3 In the fourteenth day of this month, at even, ye shall keep it in his appointed [4]season: according to all the rites of it, and according to all the ceremonies thereof, shall ye keep it.

4 And [2]Mō'şeş spake unto the children of Īs'ra-el, that they should keep the [3]passover.

5 And they kept the [3]passover on the fourteenth day of the first month at even in the wilderness of Sī'nāi: according to all that the [1]Lord commanded [2]Mō'şeş, so did the children of Īs'ra-el.

6 ¶ [5]And there were certain men, who were defiled by the dead body of a man, that they could not keep the passover on that day: and they came before [2]Mō'şeş and before Aâr'on on that day:

7 And those men said unto him, We are defiled by the dead body of a man: wherefore are we kept [c]back, that we may [b]not offer an offering of the [1]Lord in his appointed season among the children of Īs'ra-el?

8 And [2]Mō'şeş said unto them, [7]Stand still, and I will hear [c]what the [1]Lord will command concerning you.

9 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

10 Speak unto the children of Īs'ra-el, saying, If any man of you or of your posterity shall be unclean by reason of a dead body, or be in a journey afar [8]off, yet he shall keep the [a]passover unto the Lord.

11 The fourteenth day of the second month

Ch. 8. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 8 treats of the regular passover, also an additional or supplementary one, for the unclean and the absent (vs. 6-14). From verses 15 to 23 the law regarding the moving of the tabernacle is given.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. For life of Moses see 11, ch. 2, Ex.

3. The passing of the death angel over the bloodstained homes of the Israelites in Egypt.

4. According to the statute or law.

5. Vs. 6-14, the supplemental passover for the unclean and absent.

6. To fall short, or defraud.

7. Wait till I hear or receive the will of Jehovah.

8. At least 15 miles.

Chapter 8.

a. And thou shalt make a candlestick of pure gold; of beaten work shall the candlestick be made, his shaft, and his branches, his bowls, his knops, and flowers, shall be made of the same. (Ex. 25:31.)

b. And thou shalt make two cherubim of gold, of beaten work shalt thou make them, in the two ends of the mercy seat. (Ex. 25:18.)

c. And look that thou make them after their pattern, which was shown thee in the mount. (Ex. 25:40.)

d. I will wash mine hands in innocency; so will I compass thine altar, O Lord. (Ps. 26:6.) Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.) Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean; from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. (Ezek. 36:25.) Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. (II Cor. 7:1.)

e. For purpose and design of the burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

f. See e, ch. 6, Num.

g. Seemeth it but a small thing unto you, that the God of Israel hath separated you from the congregation of Israel, to bring you near to himself, to do the service of the tabernacle of the Lord, and to stand before the congregation to minister unto them? (Num. 16:9.)

h. Sanctify unto me all the first-born, whatsoever openeth the womb among the children of Israel, both of man and beast; it is mine. (Ex. 13:2.) As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord. (Lu. 2:23.) Only the firstling of the beasts, which should be the Lord's firstling, no man shall sanctify it; whether it be ox or sheep, it is the Lord's. (Lev. 27:26.) Because all the first-born are mine; for on the day that I smote all the first-born in the land of Egypt I hallowed unto me all the first-born in Israel, both man and beast; mine shall they be; I am the Lord. (Num. 3:13.)

Chapter 9.

a. Observe the month of Abib, and keep the passover unto the Lord thy God; for in the month of Abib the Lord thy God brought thee forth out of Egypt by night. Thou shalt therefore sacrifice the passover unto the Lord thy God, of the flock and the herd, in the place which the Lord shall choose to place his name there. (Dt. 16:1, 2.)

at even they shall keep it, and eat it with unleavened bread and bitter [9]herbs.

12 They shall leave [d]none of it unto the morning, nor break [e]any bone of it: according to all the ordinances of the [3]passover they shall keep it.

13 But the man that is clean, and is not in a journey, and forbeareth to keep the [3]passover, even the same soul shall be cut off from among his people: because he brought not the offering of the [1]Lord in his appointed season, that man shall [f]bear his sin.

14 And if a stranger shall sojourn among you, and will keep the passover unto the [1]Lord; according to the ordinance of the passover, and according to the manner thereof, so shall he do: ye shall have one ordinance, both for the stranger, and for him that was born in the land.

15 ¶ [10]And on the day that the tabernacle was reared up the cloud [g]covered the tabernacle, namely, the [11]tent of the testimony: and at even there was upon the tabernacle as it were the appearance of fire, until the morning.

16 So it was alway: the cloud [g]covered it by day, and the appearance of fire by night.

17 And when the cloud [g]was taken up from the tabernacle, then after that the children of Ĭs'ra-el journeyed: and in the place where the cloud abode, there the children of Ĭs'ra-el pitched their tents.

18 At the commandment of the [1]Lord the children of Ĭs'ra-el journeyed, and at the commandment of the [1]Lord they pitched: as long as the cloud abode upon the tabernacle they rested in their tents.

19 And when the cloud tarried long upon the tabernacle many days, then the children of Ĭs'ra-el kept the charge of the [1]Lord, and journeyed not.

20 And so it was, when the [g]cloud was a few days upon the tabernacle; according to the commandment of the [1]Lord they abode in their tents, and according to the commandment of the [1]Lord they journeyed.

21 And so it was, when the cloud [g]abode from [h]even unto the morning, and that the cloud was taken up in the morning, then they journeyed: whether it was by day or by night that the cloud was taken up, they journeyed.

22 Or whether it were two days, or a month, or a year, that the cloud tarried upon the tabernacle, remaining thereon, the children of Ĭs'ra-el abode in their tents, and journeyed not: but when it was taken up, they journeyed.

9. The Jews ate at least five different kinds of bitter herbs as a salad with the paschal lamb, viz., lettuce, endive, chicory and two others, the Hebrew names of which have not been given.

10. Vs. 15-23 relate the law regarding the removal of the tabernacle.

11. The holy of holies, designated by the cloud, because containing the ark of the covenant.

Ch. 10. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—With ch. 10 all plans and preparation end and the march begins.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. For historical account of Moses see 11, ch. 2, Ex.

3. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension, to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

4. A thanksgiving, offered as a vehicle for conveying thanksgiving to Jehovah.

5. Vs. 11-28 begin the march from Sinai, which covers a period of three months.

23 At the commandment of the [1]Lord they rested in the tents, and at the [i]commandment of the Lord they journeyed: they kept the charge of the [1]Lord, at the commandment of the Lord by the hand of [2]Mō'sĕs.

CHAPTER 10.

1 The use of the silver trumpets. 11 The Israelites remove from Sinai to Paran. 29 Hobab is intreated by Moses not to leave them. 33 The blessing of Moses at the removing of the ark.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'sĕs, saying,

2 Make thee two trumpets of silver; of a whole piece shalt thou make them: that thou mayest use them for the calling of the assembly, and for the journeying of the camps.

3 And when they shall blow with them, all the [a]assembly shall assemble themselves to thee at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 And if they blow but with one trumpet, then the princes, which are heads of the thousands of Ĭs'ra-el, shall gather themselves unto thee.

5 When ye blow an alarm, then the camps that lie on the east parts shall go forward.

6 When ye blow an alarm the second time, then the camps that lie on the south side shall take their journey: they shall blow an alarm for their journeys.

7 But when the congregation is to be gathered together, ye shall blow, but ye shall not sound an alarm.

8 And the sons of Aâr'on, the priests, shall blow with the trumpets; and they shall be to you for an ordinance for ever throughout your generations.

9 And if ye go to war in your land against the enemy that [b]oppresseth you, then ye shall blow an alarm with the trumpets; and ye shall be [c]remembered before the [1]Lord your God, and ye shall be saved from your enemies.

10 Also in the day of your gladness, and in your solemn days, and in the beginnings of your months, ye shall blow with the trumpets over [d]your [3]burnt offerings, and over the sacrifices of your [4]peace offerings; that they may be to you for a memorial before your God: I am the Lord your God.

11 ¶ [5]And it came to pass on the twentieth day of the second month, in the second year, that the cloud was taken up from off the tabernacle of the testimony.

12 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el took their journeys out of the wilderness of Sī'nāi; and the cloud rested in the [e]wilderness of Pā'ran.

13 And they first took their journey [f]accord-

b. Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us (7). Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. (I Cor. 5:7, 8.)

c. And I will hear what God the Lord will speak; for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints; but let them not turn again to folly. (Ps. 85:8.) If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. (Jno. 7:17.) And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after. (Heb. 3:5.)

d. And ye shall let nothing of it remain until the morning; and that which remaineth of it until the morning ye shall burn with fire. (Ex. 12:10.)

e. For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled. A bone of him shall not be broken. (Jno. 19:36.)

f. For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins. (Heb. 10:26.)

g. And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night. (Ex. 13:21.) Moreover thou leddest them in the day by a cloudy pillar; and in the night by a pillar of fire; to give them light in the way wherein they should go. (Neh. 9:12.) In the daytime also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire. (Ps. 78:14.) They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them; for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them. (Is. 49:10.)

h. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you, and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. (Math. 28:20.)

i. Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory. (Ps. 73:24.) And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation. (Ps. 107:7.) As a beast goeth down into the valley, the spirit of the Lord caused him to rest; so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name. (Is. 63:14.)

Chapter 10.

a. I will give thee thanks in the great congregation; I will praise thee among much people. (Ps. 35:18.) I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord. (Ps. 122:1.) And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go speedily to pray before the Lord, and to seek the Lord of hosts; I will go also (21). Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord. (Zech. 8:21, 22.

b. And when the Lord raised them up judges, then the Lord was with the judge, and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge; for it repented the Lord because of their groanings by reason of them that oppressed them and vexed them. (Jud. 2:18.) And I delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all them that oppressed you, and drave them out from before you, and gave you their land. (Jud. 6:9.) And said unto the children of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I brought up Israel out of Egypt, and delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all kingdoms, and of them that oppressed you. (I Sam. 10:18.)

c. Remember me, O Lord, with the favor that thou bearest unto thy people; O visit me with thy salvation. (Ps. 106:4.)

d. For purpose and design of the burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

e. And afterward the people removed from Hazeroth, and pitched in the wilderness of Paran. (Num. 12:16.)

f. And when the tabernacle setteth forward, the Levites shall take it down; and when the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Levites shall ing to the commandment of the Lord by the hand of Mō'şeş.

14 ¶ In the first place went the standard of the camp of the children of Jū'dah according to their armies: and over his host was Năh'shon the son of Ăm-mĭn'a-dăb.

15 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Ĭs'sa-char was Ne-thăn'e-el the son of Zū'ar.

16 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Zĕb'u-lun was E-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon.

17 And the tabernacle was taken down; and the sons of Gēr'shŏn and the sons of Me-rā'rī set forward, bearing the tabernacle.

18 ¶ And the standard of the camp of Reu'-ben set forward according to their armies: and over his host was Ē-lī'zūr the son of Shĕd'ē-ur.

19 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Sīm'e-on was She-lū'mĭ-el the son of Zū-rī-shăd'da-ī.

20 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Găd was E-lī'a-săph the son of Deū'el.

21 And the Kō'hath-ītes set forward, bearing the sanctuary: and the other did set up the tabernacle against they came.

22 ¶ And the standard of the camp of the children of Ē'phră-ĭm set forward acording to their armies: and over his host was E-lĭsh'-ă-mà the son of Ăm-mī'hŭd.

23 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Ma-năs'seh was Ga-mā'lĭ-el the son of Pe-dăh'zur.

24 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Bĕn'ja-min was Ăb'i-dăn the son of Gĭd-e-ō'nī.

25 ¶ And the standard of the camp of the children of Dăn set forward, which was the rereward of all the camps throughout their hosts: and over his host was Ā-hi-ē'zēr the son of Ăm-mi-shăd'da-ī.

26 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Ăsh'ēr was Pā'ĝi-el the son of Ōc'ran.

27 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Năph'ta-lī was A-hī'rà the son of Ē'nan.

28 Thus were the journeyings of the children of Ĭs'ra-el according to their armies, when they set forward.

29 ¶ And [2]Mō'şeş said unto Hō'băb, the son of Ra-gū'el the Mĭd'ĭ-an-īte, [2]Mō'şeş' father in law, We are journeying unto the place of which the [1]Lord said, [g]I will give it you: come thou with us, and we will do thee good: for [h]the [1]Lord hath spoken good concerning Ĭs'-ra-el.

30 And he said unto him, I will not go; but I will depart to mine own land, and to my kindred.

31 And he said, Leave us not, I pray thee; forasmuch as thou knowest how we are to encamp in the wilderness, and thou mayest be to us instead of eyes.

32 And it shall be, if thou go with us, yea, it shall be, that what goodness the [1]Lord shall do unto us, the same will we do unto thee.

33 ¶ [6]And they departed from the mount of the [1]Lord three days' journey: and the [7]ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them in the three days' journey, to search out a resting place for them.

34 And [i]the cloud of the [1]Lord was upon them by day, when they went out of the camp.

35 And it came to pass, when the ark set forward, that [2]Mō'şeş said, Rise [j]up, [1]Lord, and let thine enemies be scattered; and let them that hate thee flee before thee.

36 And when it rested, he said, Return, O [1]Lord, unto the many thousands of Ĭs'ra-el.

CHAPTER 11.

1 The burning at Taberah quenched by Moses' prayer. 4 The people lust for flesh, and loathe manna. 10 Moses complaineth of his charge. 16 God divideth his burden unto seventy elders. 31 Quails are given in wrath.

1 And when the people [a]complained, it displeased the [1]Lord: and the [1]Lord heard it; and his anger was kindled; and the [3]fire of the Lord [b]burnt among them, and consumed them that were in the uttermost parts of the camp.

2 And the people cried unto [2]Mō'şeş; and when [2]Mō'şeş [c]prayed unto the [1]Lord, the fire was quenched.

3 And he called the name of the place [4]Tăb'-e-rah: because the fire of the Lord burnt among them.

4 ¶ And the mixt multitude that was among them fell a lusting: and the children of Ĭs'-ra-el also wept again, and said, Who shall give us [5]flesh to eat?

5 We [d]remember the fish, which we did eat in Ē'ğўpt freely; the cucumbers, and the [6]melons, and the [7]leeks, and the onions, and the garlick:

6 But now our soul is dried away: there is [8]nothing at all, beside this manna, before our eyes.

7 And the manna was as coriander seed, and the colour thereof as the colour of bdellium.

8 And the people went about, and gathered it, and ground it in mills, or beat it in a mortar, and baked it in pans, and made cakes of it: and the taste of it was as the taste of fresh [9]oil.

9 And when the dew fell upon the camp in the night, the manna fell upon it.

10 ¶ [10]Then [2]Mō'şeş heard the people weep throughout their families, every man in the door of his tent: and [e]the anger of the [1]Lord was kindled greatly; Mō'şeş also was [11]displeased.

11 And [2]Mō'şeş said unto the [1]Lord, Where-fore hast thou afflicted thy servant? and where-fore have I not found favour in thy sight, that thou layest the burden of all this people upon me?

12 Have I [12]conceived all this people? have I begotten them, that thou shouldest say unto

6. Vs. 33, 34 detail the three days' march, or an unbroken march of 72 hours, the ark being borne steadily on for this period before it came to a suitable stopping place.

7. So called because it contained Jehovah's covenant made with Israel.

Ch. 11. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 11 relates the discontent of the people concerning the manna which Jehovah was giving them. They desired their old-time Egyptian food and a drove of quails was miraculously sent to them.

1. Jehovah, covenant-name of God.

2. Historical sketch of Moses, see 11, ch. 2, Ex.

3. Supernaturally kindled, perhaps by lightning.

4. The location of the spot where the burning occurred—the graves of lust.

5. That is, fish.

6. Mentioned nowhere else in the Bible. The melons of Egypt were the largest and most luscious in the world, and the thirst of the weary march directed their minds back to these melons.

7. This Hebrew word occurs 22 times in the Bible, once rendered court, once herb, twice hay, 17 times grass, and once leek. It evidently means grass in this verse.

8. Animal life fainting for refreshing food.

9. Olive oil and honey entered largely into the diet of the Hebrews in Canaan.

10. Vs. 10-15 detail the complaint and the infirmities of Moses. His imperfections as a mediator here appear.

11. Vexed because of their murmurings.

12. The cry of despair.

g. And the Lord appeared unto Abram, and said, Unto thy seed will I give this land; and there builded he an altar unto the Lord, who appeared unto him. (Gen. 12:7.)

h. And thou saidst, I will surely do thee good, and make thy seed as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbered for multitude. (Gen. 32:12.)

i. See g, ch. 9.

j. Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered; let them also that hate him flee before him. As smoke is driven away, so drive them away; as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish at the presence of God. (Ps. 68:1, 2.)

Chapter 11.

a. And at Taberah, and at Massah, and at Kibroth-hattaavah, he provoked the Lord to wrath. (Dt. 9:22.)

b. Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake, that he might make his mighty power to be known. (Ps. 106:8.)

c. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Ja. 5:16.) And the people cried unto Moses; and when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire was quenched. (Num. 11:2.) And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Intreat now the face of the Lord thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before. (I Ks. 13:6.)

d. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God; neither indeed can be. (Rom. 8:7.) Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things. (Phil. 3:19.)

e. And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon. (Jud. 10:7.) Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations of heaven moved and shook, because he was wroth. (II Sam. 22:8.) Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure. (Ps. 2:5.) God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day. (Ps. 7:11.) Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him. (Nahum 1:6.)

me, [f]Carry them in thy bosom, as a nursing father beareth the sucking child, unto the land which thou swarest unto their fathers?

13 Whence should I have flesh to give unto all this people? for they weep unto me, saying, Give us flesh, that we may eat.

14 I am not able to bear all this people alone, because it is too heavy for me.

15 And if thou deal thus with me, [13]kill [g]me, I pray thee, out of hand, if I have found favour in thy sight; and let me not see my wretchedness.

16 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Gather unto me seventy men of the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, whom thou knowest to be the elders of the people, and officers over them; and bring them unto the tabernacle of the congregation, that they may stand there with thee.

17 And I will come down and talk with thee there: and I will take of the spirit which is upon thee, and will put it upon them; and they shall bear the burden of the people with thee, that thou bear it not thyself alone.

18 And say thou unto the people, [h]Sanctify yourselves against to morrow, and ye shall eat flesh: for ye have wept in the ears of the Lord, saying, Who shall give us flesh to eat? for it was well with us in Ē'ğўpt: therefore the Lord will give you flesh, and ye shall eat.

19 Ye shall not eat one day, nor two days, nor five days, neither ten days, nor twenty days;

20 But even a [14]whole month, until it come out at your nostrils, and it be loathsome unto you: because that ye have despised the [i]Lord which is among you, and have wept before him, saying, Why came we forth out of Ē'ğўpt?

21 And [2]Mō'şeş said, The people, among whom I am, are six hundred thousand footmen; and thou hast said, I will give them flesh, that they may eat a whole month.

22 Shall the flocks and the herds be slain for them, to suffice them? or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, to suffice them?

23 And the [1]Lord said unto [2]Mō'şeş, Is the [1]Lord's [j]hand waxed short? thou shalt see now whether [j]my word shall come to pass unto thee or not.

24 ¶ [15]And [2]Mō'şeş went out, and told the people the words of the [1]Lord, and gathered the seventy men of the elders of the people, and set them round about the tabernacle.

25 And the [1]Lord [k]came down in a cloud, and spake unto him, and took of the spirit that was upon him, and gave it unto the seventy elders: and it came to pass, that, when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied, and did not cease.

26 But there remained two of the men in the camp, the name of the one was Ēl'dăd, and the name of the other Mē'dăd: and the spirit rested upon them; and they were of them that were written, but went not out unto the tabernacle: and they prophesied in the camp.

27 And there ran a young man, and told [2]Mō'şeş, and said, Ēl'dăd and Mē'dăd do prophesy in the camp.

28 And Jŏsh'u-â the son of Nŭn, the servant of Mō'şeş, one of his young men, answered and said, My [16]lord Mō'şeş, [l]forbid them.

29 And [2]Mō'şeş said unto him, Enviest thou for my sake? would God that all the Lord's people were prophets, and that the Lord would put his spirit upon them!

30 And [2]Mō'şeş gat him into the camp, he and the elders of Ĭs'ra-el.

31 ¶ [17]And there went forth a wind from the Lord, and brought quails from the sea, and let them fall by the camp, as it were a day's journey on this side; and as it were a day's journey on the other side, round about the camp, and as it were [18]two cubits high upon the face of the earth.

32 And the people stood up all that day, and all that night, and all the next day, and they gathered the quails: he that gathered least gathered ten [19]homers: and they spread them all abroad for themselves round about the camp.

33 And while the [m]flesh was yet between their teeth, ere it was chewed, the wrath of the [1]Lord was kindled against the people, and the [1]Lord smote the people with a very great plague.

34 And he called the name of that place [20]Kĭb'roth-hat-tā'a-vah: because there they buried the people that lusted.

35 And the people journeyed from Kĭb'roth-hat-tā'a-vah unto Ha-zē'roth: and abode at Ha-zē'roth.

CHAPTER 12.

1 God rebuketh the sedition of Miriam and Aaron. 10 Miriam's leprosy is healed at the prayer of Moses. 14 God commandeth her to be shut out of the host.

1 And [1]Mĭr'ĭ-am and [2]Aâr'on spake against [3]Mō'şeş because of the [4]Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-an woman whom he had married: for he had married an [4]Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-an woman.

2 And they said, Hath the [5]Lord indeed spoken only by Mō'şeş? hath he not spoken also by us? And the [5]Lord [a]heard it.

3 [6](Now the man Mō'şeş was [b]very meek, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth.)

4 And the [5]Lord spake suddenly unto [3]Mō'şeş, and unto [2]Aâr'on, and unto [1]Mĭr'ĭ-am, Come out ye three unto the tabernacle of the congregation. And they three came out.

5 And the [5]Lord came down in the pillar of the cloud, and stood in the door of the taber-

13. The instance of Moses' weakness and infirmity.

14. Indigestion and the bad breath occasioned thereby.

15. Vs. 24-30, the seventy elders are appointed and qualified.

16. A title of great respect applied to Moses.

17. Vs. 31-34 detail the miracle of the quails and the graves of lust.

18. About two or three feet from the ground.

19. According to Josephus, about 55 bushels.

20. The graves of lust.

Ch. 12. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—In this ch. is detailed the sedition of Miriam, the sister of Moses, who was the only sister of the great deliverer.

1. The only sister of Moseš named in history, several years his senior, and from the feminine form of the verb, and the fact that she is mentioned first, she is supposed to be the moving spirit in this revolt against Moses.

2. Another evidence of the pliancy and instability of character of Aaron, as in the affair of the golden calf.

3. For history of the life of Moses see 11, ch. 2, Ex.

4. A Cushite woman. The marriage of Moses with the Cushite is supposed to have produced the rankling in Miriam's heart against her brother.

5. Jehovah, covenant-name of God.

6. V. 3 is one of the verses quoted by the critics as an evidence against the authorship of Moses.

f. He shall feed his flock like a shepherd; he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young. (Is. 40:11.)

g. But he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a juniper tree; and he requested for himself that he might die; and said, It is enough; now, O Lord, take away my life; for I am not better than my fathers. (I Ks. 19:4.)

h. And the Lord said unto Moses, Go unto thy people, and sanctify them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their clothes. (Ex. 19:10.) But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth (13). Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Thes. 2:13, 14.) For both he that sanctifieth, and they who are sanctified are all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren. (Heb. 2:11.) Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate (12). Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. (Heb. 13:12, 21.)

i. Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear. (Is. 59:1.) Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? 10 And the cloud departed from off the tabernacle; and, [f]behold, [1]Mĭr'ĭ-am became leprous, white as snow: and [2]Aâr'on looked upon Mĭr'ĭ-am, and, behold, she was leprous.

11 And Aâr'on said unto [3]Mō'şeş, Alas, my lord, I beseech thee, lay not the sin upon us, wherein we have done foolishly, and wherein we have sinned.

12 Let her not be as one dead, of whom the flesh is half consumed when he cometh out of his mother's womb.

13 And Mō'şeş [g]cried unto the [5]Lord, saying, Heal her now, O God, I beseech thee.

16 And afterward the people removed from Ha-zē'roth, and pitched in the wilderness of Pā'ran.

CHAPTER 13.

1 The names of the men who were sent to search the land. 17 Their instructions. 21 Their acts. 26 Their relation.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Send [3]thou men, that they may search the land of Cā'năan, which I give unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el: of every tribe of their fathers shall ye send a man, every one a ruler among them.

3 And Mō'şeş by the commandment of the Lord sent them from the wilderness of Pā'ran: all those men were heads of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

4 And these were their names: of the tribe of Reu'ben, Shăm-mū'a the son of Zăc'cur.

5 Of the tribe of Sĭm'e-on, Shā'phat the son of Hō'rī.

6 Of the tribe of Jū'dah, [6]Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh.

7 Of the tribe of Ĭs'sa-char, Ī'găl the son of Jō'şeph.

8 Of the tribe of Ē'phrā-ĭm, Ô-shē'a the son of Nŭn.

9 Of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-min, Păl'tī the son of Rā'phu.

10 Of the tribe of Zĕb'u-lun, Găd'dĭ-el the son of Sō'dī.

7. Vs. 9-15 detail the punishment of Miriam because of the rebellion she incited against Moses, therefore indirectly against Jehovah.

8. A common practice in the east of heaping humiliation upon an offending party.

Ch. 13. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—Ch. 13 details the naming and sending out of the twelve spies to inspect Canaan and to report the quality of the land, the number and military strength of the inhabitants.

1. Jehovah, covenant-name of God.

2. For historical sketch of Moses see 11, ch. 2, Ex.

3. Although Canaan had been promised the Israelites, it was not to be received without full effort upon their part. Jehovah provides and gives strength, man must use this strength or fall by the wayside.

4. That is, valley.

5. Cluster of grapes.

6. Caleb, of the tribe of Judah. He was sent with Joshua and others to explore the land of Canaan. He joined with Joshua in opposing the discouraging reports of the other spies, for which cause both he and Joshua were exempt from the decree of death which was pronounced on the generation to which they belonged. Because of his faith in Jehovah, he was allowed to choose his own land in Canaan.

11 Of the tribe of Jō'şeph, namely, of the tribe of Ma-năs'seh, Găd'dī the son of Sū'sī.

12 Of the tribe of Dăn, Ăm'mĭ-el the son of Gē-măl'lī.

13 Of the tribe of Ăsh'ēr, Sē'thur the son of Mī'chael.

14 Of the tribe of Năph'ta-lī, Näh'bī the son of Vŏph'sī.

15 Of the tribe of Găd, Gē-ū'el the son of Mā'chī.

16 These are the names of the men which [2]Mō'şeş sent to spy out the land. And Mō'şeş called Ô-shē'a the son of Nŭn Je-hŏsh'u-a.

17 ¶ And [2]Mō'şeş sent them to spy out the land of Cā'năan, and said unto them, Get you up this way southward, and go up into the mountain:

18 And see the land, what it is; and the people that dwelleth therein, whether they be strong or weak, few or many;

19 And what the land is that they dwell in, whether it be good or bad; and what cities they be that they dwell in, whether in tents, or in strong holds;

20 And what the land is, whether it be fat or lean, whether there be wood therein, or not. And be ye of good courage, and bring of the fruit of the land. Now the time was the time of the firstripe grapes.

21 ¶ So they went up, and searched the land from the wilderness of Zĭn unto Rē'hŏb, as men come to Hā'math.

22 And they ascended by the south, and came unto Hē'bron; where A-hĭ'măn, Shē'shāi, and Tăl'māi, the children of Ā'năk, were. (Now Hē'bron was built seven years before Zō'an in Ē'gўpt.)

23 And they came unto the [4]brook of Ēsh'cŏl, and cut down from thence a branch with one cluster of grapes, and they bare it between two upon a staff; and they brought of the pomegranates, and of the figs.

24 The place was called the [4]brook [5]Ēsh'cŏl, because of the cluster of grapes which the children of Ĭs'ra-el cut down from thence.

25 And they returned from searching of the land after forty days.

26 ¶ And they went and came to [2]Mō'şeş, and to Aâr'on, and to all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, unto the wilderness of Pā'ran, to Kā'desh; and brought back word unto them, and unto all the congregation, and shewed them the fruit of the land.

27 And they told him, and said, We came unto the land whither thou sentest us, and surely it floweth with milk and honey; and this is the fruit of it.

28 Nevertheless [a]the people be strong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled, and very great: and moreover we saw the children of Ā'năk there.

29 The [b]Ăm'a-lēk-ītes dwell in the land of the south: and the Hĭt'tītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes, and the Ăm'or-ītes, dwell in the mountains: and the Cā'năan-ītes dwell by the sea, and by the coast of Jor'dan.

c. But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife; for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. (Matt. 1:20.)

d. And the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp; but his servant Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not out of the tabernacle. (Ex. 33:11.)

e. Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations of heaven moved and shook, because he was wroth. (II Sam. 22:8.) God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day. (Ps. 7:11.) Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him. (Nahum 1:6.)

f. Remember what the Lord thy God did unto Miriam by the way, after ye were come forth out of Egypt. (Dt. 24:9.)

g. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Ja. 5:16.) And the people cried unto Moses; and when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire was quenched. (Num. 11:2.)

h. Take heed in the plague of leprosy, that thou observe diligently, and do according to all that the priests the Levites shall teach you; as I commanded them, so ye shall observe to do (8). Remember what the Lord thy God did unto Miriam by the way, after that ye were come forth out of Egypt. (Dt. 24:8, 9.)

Chapter 13.

a. Hear, O Israel; thou art to pass over Jordan this day, to go in to possess nations, greater and mightier than thyself, cities great and fenced up to heaven (1). A people great and tall, the children of Anakims, whom thou knowest, and of whom thou hast heard say, Who can stand before the children of Anak! (Dt. 9:1, 2.)

b. And so it was, when Israel had sown, that the Midianites came up and the Amalekites, and the children of the east, even they came up against them. (Jud. 6:3.) And the Midianites and the Amalekites and all the children of the east lay along in the valley like grasshoppers for multitude; and their camels were without number; as the sand by the seaside for multitude. (Jud. 7:12.)

30 And [c]Cā'leb stilled the people before Mō'şeş, and said, Let us go up at once, and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it.

31 But the men that went up with him said, We be not able to go up against the people; for they are stronger than we.

32 And they brought up an evil report of the land which they had searched unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, The land, through which we have gone to search it, is a land that eateth up the inhabitants thereof; and all the people that we saw in it are men of a great stature.

33 And there we saw the [d]giants, the sons of Ā'năk, which come of the giants: and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight.

CHAPTER 14.

1 The people murmur. 6 Joshua and Caleb labour to still them. 26 The murmurers are deprived of entering into the land. 36 The men who raised the evil report die by a plague.

1 [1]And all the congregation lifted up their voice, and cried; and the people wept that night.

2 And [a]all the children of Ĭs'ra-el murmured against [2]Mō'şeş and against Aâr'on: and the whole congregation said unto them, Would [3]God that we had died in the land of Ē'ğўpt! or would God we had died in this wilderness!

3 And wherefore hath the [4]Lord brought us unto this land, to fall by the sword, that our wives and our children should be a prey? were it not better for us to return into Ē'ğўpt?

4 And they said one to another, Let us [b]make a captain, and let us return into Ē'ğўpt.

5 Then Mō'şeş and Aâr'on fell on their faces before all the assembly of the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

6 ¶ [5]And [6]Jŏsh'u-à the son of Nŭn, and [7]Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh, which were of them that searched the land, rent their clothes:

7 And they spake unto all the company of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, The land, which we passed through to search it, is an exceeding good land.

8 If the [4]Lord delight in us, then he will bring us into this land, and give it us; a land which floweth with milk and honey.

9 Only rebel not ye against the [4]Lord, neither [c]fear ye the people of the land; for they [8]are [d]bread for us: their defence is departed from them, and the Lord is [e]with us: fear them not.

10 But all the congregation bade stone them with stones. And the glory of the [4]Lord appeared in the tabernacle of the congregation before all the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

Ch. 14. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—In this ch. the crisis of Israel's march is reached. Standing on the very threshold of the promised land the Israelites are excluded from its possessions because of their unfitness. During the three weeks' march from Sinai, three partial rebellions have broken out in the camp, and finally the people, because of their universal distrust of God and their threatened rejection of Moses and their purpose of returning to Egypt, overstepped the line between God's patience and his wrath.

1. Vs. 1-5 detail the cowardice of the Israelites.

2. For historical sketch of Moses see Ex., ch. 2, note 11.

3. The word God is not in the Hebrew and was substituted by the translators as the strongest English expression of the people's feelings of disgust.

4. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

5. Vs. 6-10 detail the account of Joshua's and Caleb's report of the Canaanites.

6. For life of Joshua see Ex. 2, note 2.

7. For life of Caleb see Ex. 13, note 6.

8. A figure, "we shall destroy them as easily as eating bread."

11 ¶ And the [4]Lord said unto [2]Mō'şeş, How long will this people provoke me? and how long will it be ere they believe me, for all the signs which I have shewed among them?

12 I will smite them with the pestilence, and disinherit them, and will make of thee a greater nation and mightier than they.

13 ¶ And [2]Mō'şeş said unto the [4]Lord, Then the E-ğўp'tians shall hear it, (for thou broughtest up this people in thy might from among them;)

14 And they will tell it to the inhabitants of this land: for they have heard that thou [4]Lord art among this people, that thou Lord art seen face to face, and that thy [f]cloud standeth over them, and that thou goest before them, by day time in a pillar of a cloud, and in a pillar of fire by night.

15 ¶Now if thou shalt kill all this people as one man, then the nations which have heard the fame of thee will speak, saying, 16 Because the [4]Lord was not able to bring this people into the land which he sware unto them, therefore he hath slain them in the wilderness.

17 And now, I beseech thee, let the power of my Lord be great, according as thou hast spoken, saying,

18 The Lord is [g]longsuffering, and of great mercy, forgiving iniquity and transgression, and by no means clearing the guilty, [h]visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation.

19 Pardon, I beseech thee, the iniquity of this people according unto the greatness of thy mercy, and as thou hast forgiven this people, from Ē'ğўpt even until now.

20 And the [4]Lord said, I have [i]pardoned according to thy word:

21 But as truly as I live, [j]all the earth shall be filled with the glory of the Lord.

22 Because all those men which have seen my glory, and my miracles, which I did in Ē'ğўpt and in the wilderness, and have tempted me now these ten times, and have not hearkened to my voice;

23 Surely [k]they shall not see the land which I sware unto their fathers, neither shall any of them that provoked me see it:

24 But my servant [7]Cā'leb, because he had another spirit with him, and hath followed me fully, him will I bring into the land whereinto he went; and [l]his seed shall possess it.

25 (Now the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes and the Cā'năan-ītes dwelt in the valley.) To morrow turn you, and get you into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea.

26 ¶ And the [4]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying,

27 How [m]long shall I bear with this evil

c. Through God we shall do valiantly; for he it is that shall tread down our enemies. (Ps. 60:12.) All nations compassed me about; but in the name of the Lord will I destroy them. (Ps. 118:10.)

d. And there went out a champion out of the camp of the Philistines, named Goliath, of Gath, whose height was six cubits and a span (4). And he had an helmet of brass upon his head, and he was armed with a coat of mail; and the weight of the coat was five thousand shekels of brass (5). And he had greaves of brass upon his legs, and a target of brass between his shoulders (6). And the staff of his spear was like a weaver's beam; and his spear's head weighed six hundred shekels of iron; and one bearing a shield went before him. (I Sam. 17:4-7.)

a. But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord. (Ps. 106:25.)

b. And refused to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didst among them; but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage; but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and forsookest them not. (Neh. 9:17.)

c. And shall say unto them, Hear, O Israel; ye approach this day unto battle against your enemies; let not your hearts faint; fear not, and do not tremble; neither be ye terrified because of them. (Dt. 20:3.)

d. God brought him forth out of Egypt; he hath as it were the strength of an unicorn; he shall eat up the nations his enemies, and shall break their bones, and pierce them through with his arrows. (Num. 24:8.)

e. And he went out to meet Asa, and said unto him, Hear ye me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin; The Lord is with you, while ye be with him; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you. (II Chr. 15:2.)

f. Moreover thou leddest them in the day by a cloudy pillar, and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they should go. (Neh. 9:12.)

g. The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy. (Ps. 103:8.) But in all things approving ourselves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses, In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labors, in watchings, in fasting; By pureness, by knowledge, by longsuffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned. (II Cor. 6:4-6.) But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith. (Gal. 5:22.) Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water. (I Pet. 3:20.)

h. Keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and fourth generation. (Ex. 34:7.)

i. Confess your faults one to another and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Ja. 5:16.)

j. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea. (Is. 11:9.) For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea. (Hab. 2:14.)

k. Yet also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands. (Ezek. 20:15.)

l. His soul shall dwell at ease; and his seed shall inherit the earth. (Ps. 25:13.)

m. Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse gen-congregation, which murmur against me? I have heard the murmurings of the children of Is'ra-el, which they murmur against me.

28 Say unto them, As truly as I live, saith the [4]Lord, as ye have spoken in mine ears, so will I do to you:

29 Your carcases shall fall in this wilderness; and [n]all that were numbered of you, according to your whole [9]number, from twenty years old and upward, which have murmured against me,

30 Doubtless ye shall not come into the land, concerning which I sware to make you dwell therein, save [7]Cā'leb [o]the son of Je-phŭn'neh, and [6]Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nŭn.

31 But your little ones, which ye said should be a prey, them will I bring in, and they shall know the land which [p]ye have despised.

32 But as for you, your carcases, they shall fall in this wilderness.

33 And your children shall wander in the wilderness forty years, and bear your whoredoms, until your carcases be wasted in the wilderness.

34 After the number of the days in which ye searched the land, even [q]forty days, each day for a year, shall ye bear your iniquities, even forty years, [r]and ye shall know my breach of promise.

35 I the [4]Lord have said, I [s]will surely do it unto all this evil congregation, that are gathered together against me: in this wilderness they shall be consumed, and there they shall die.

36 [11]And the men, which [2]Mō'şeş sent to search the land, who returned, and made all the congregation to murmur against him, by bringing up a slander upon the land, 37 Even those men that did bring up the evil report upon the land, died [t]by the plague before the Lord.

38 But [6]Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nŭn, and [7]Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh, which were of the men that went to search the land, lived still.

39 And [2]Mō'şeş told these sayings unto all the children of Is'ra-el: [u]and the people mourned greatly.

40 ¶ [12]And they rose up early in the morning, and gat them up into the top of the mountain, saying, Lo, we be here, and will go up unto the place which the [4]Lord hath promised: for we have sinned.

41 And [2]Mō'şeş said, Wherefore now do ye transgress [v]the commandment of the Lord? but it shall not prosper.

42 Go not up, for the [4]Lord is not among you; that ye be not smitten before your enemies.

43 For the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes and the Cā'năan-ītes are there before you, and ye shall fall by the sword: because ye are turned away from the [4]Lord, therefore the [4]Lord will not be with you.

44 But they presumed to go up unto the hill top: nevertheless the ark of the covenant of the [4]Lord, and [2]Mō'şeş, departed not out of the camp.

45 Then the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes came down, and the Cā'năan-ītes which dwelt in that hill, and smote them, and discomfited them, even unto Hor'mah.

CHAPTER 15.

1 The law of the meat offering and the drink offering. 17 The law of the first of the dough for an heave offering. 22 The sacrifice for sin of ignorance. 32 He that violated the sabbath is stoned. 37 The law of fringes.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Is'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye be come into the land of your habitations, which I give unto you,

3 And will make an offering by fire unto the [1]Lord, a [a]burnt [3]offering, or a sacrifice in performing a vow, or in a freewill offering, or in your solemn feasts, to make a sweet [b]savour unto the [1]Lord, of the herd, or of the flock:

4 Then shall he that offereth his offering unto the [1]Lord bring a meat [4]offering of a tenth deal of flour mingled with the fourth part of an [5]hin of oil.

5 And the fourth part of an [5]hin of wine for a drink [6]offering shalt thou prepare with the burnt [3]offering or sacrifice, for [c]one lamb.

6 Or for a ram, thou shalt prepare for a [4]meat offering two tenth deals of flour mingled with the third part of an hin of oil.

7 And for a drink [6]offering thou shalt offer the third part of an [5]hin of wine, for a [b]sweet savour unto the [1]Lord.

8 And when thou preparest a bullock for a [a]burnt [3]offering, or for a sacrifice in performing a vow, or peace [7]offerings unto the [1]Lord:

9 Then shall he bring with a bullock a meat [8]offering of three tenth deals of flour mingled with half an [5]hin of oil.

10 And thou shalt bring for a drink [6]offering half an [5]hin of wine, for an offering made by fire, of a sweet [b]savour unto the [1]Lord.

11 Thus shall it be done for one bullock, or for one ram, or for a lamb, or a kid.

12 According to the number that ye shall prepare, so shall ye do to every one according to their number.

13 All that are born of the country shall do these things after this manner, in offering an offering made by fire, of a sweet [b]savour unto the [1]Lord.

14 And if a stranger sojourn with you, or whosoever be among you in your generations, and will offer an offering made by fire, of a [b]sweet savour unto the Lord; as ye do, so he shall do.

15 One ordinance shall be both for you of the congregation, and also for the stranger that sojourneth with you, an ordinance for ever in your generations: as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the Lord.

9. Except Caleb and Joshua.

11. Vs. 36-39 detail the fate of the spies as a particular condemnation passed upon them for their cowardice.

12. Vs. 40-45 detail the account of the punishment of the wicked presumptions of the people.

Ch. 15. B. C. 1490.

NOTE.—With this ch. commence the penal wanderings, which is the beginning of the third part of Numbers. These wanderings lasted for 37½ years.

1. Jehovah, covenant-name of God.

2. Historical sketch of Moses, see Ex. 2, note 11.

3. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

4. Meal or food offering.

5. The value of a hin was about 1¼ gallons.

6. An offering of wine poured upon the altar, symbolical of great joy.

7. A thanksgiving offering of one in the enjoyment of peace afforded by clear conscience.

8. Meal or food offering.

eration, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me. (Mat. 17:17.)

n. But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned? whose carcases fell in the wilderness? (Heb. 3:17.) But among these there was not a man of them whom Moses and Aaron the priests numbered, when they numbered the children of Israel in the wilderness of Sinai. (Num. 26:64.)

o. Save Caleb the son of Jephunneh; he shall see it, and to him will I give the land that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, because he hath wholly followed the Lord (36). But Joshua the son of Nun, which standeth before thee, he shall go in thither; encourage him: for he shall cause Israel to inherit it. (Dt. 1:36, 38.)

p. Yea, they despise the pleasant land; they believe not his word. (Ps. 106:24.)

q. Forty years long was I grieved with this generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways. (Ps. 95:10.)

r. Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it. (Heb. 4:1.)

s. God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good? (Num. 23:19.)

t. Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer. (I Cor. 10:10.) I will therefore put you in remembrance, though you once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not. (Jude 5.)

u. The foolishness of man perverteth his way; and his heart fretteth against the Lord. (Prov. 19:3.) For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected; for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears. (Heb. 12:17.) And the spirit of God came upon Zechariah the son of Jehoiada the priest which stood above the people, and said unto them, Thus saith God, Why transgress ye the commandments of the Lord, that ye cannot prosper? Because ye have forsaken the Lord, he hath also forsaken you. (II Chr. 24:20.)

v. Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot say; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear (1). But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear. (Is. 59:1, 2.)

Chapter 15.

a. For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

b. Thou shalt keep the feast of weeks unto the Lord thy God with a tribute of a freewill offering of thine hand which thou shalt give unto the Lord thy God, according as the Lord thy God hath blessed thee. (Dt. 16:10.)

c. See f, ch. 6, Numbers.

16 One law and one manner shall be for you, and for the stranger that sojourneth with you.
17 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,
18 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye come into the land whither I bring you,
19 Then it shall be, that, when ye eat of the bread of the land, ye shall offer up an heave [9]offering unto the Lord.
20 Ye shall offer up a cake of the first of your dough for an [9]heave offering: as ye do the heave offering of the threshingfloor, so shall ye heave it.
21 Of the first of your dough ye shall give unto the [1]Lord an heave offering in your generations.
22 ¶ And [d]if he have erred, and not observed all these commandments, which the [1]Lord hath spoken unto [2]Mō'şeş, 23 Even all that the [1]Lord hath commanded you by the hand of [2]Mō'şeş, from the day that the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş, and henceforward among your generations;
24 Then it shall be, if [e]ought be committed by ignorance without the knowledge of the congregation, that all the congregation shall offer one young bullock for a burnt offering, for a sweet savour unto the [1]Lord, with his meat [8]offering, and his drink offering, according to the manner, and one kid of the goats for a sin [10]offering.
25 And the priest shall make an [11]atonement for all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and it shall be forgiven them; for it is ignorance: and they shall bring their offering, a sacrifice made by fire unto the [1]Lord, and their sin offering before the Lord, for their ignorance:
26 And it shall be forgiven all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and the stranger that sojourneth among them; seeing all the people were in ignorance.
27 ¶ And if any soul sin [e]through ignorance, then he shall bring a she goat of the first year for a sin [10]offering.
28 And the priest shall make [f]an [11]atonement for the soul that sinneth ignorantly, when he sinneth by ignorance before the [1]Lord, to make an atonement for him; and it shall be forgiven him.
29 Ye shall have one law for him that sinneth through [e]ignorance, both for him that is born among the children of Ĭs'rael, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them.
30 ¶ But the soul that doeth ought presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the [1]Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people.
31 Because he hath despised the word of the [1]Lord, and hath broken his commandment, that soul shall utterly be cut off; [g]his iniquity shall be upon him.
32 ¶ And while the children of Ĭs'ra-el were in the wilderness, they found a man that gathered sticks upon the [h]sabbath day.
33 And they that found him gathering sticks brought him unto [2]Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, and unto all the congregation.
34 And they put him in ward, because it was not declared what should be done to him.
35 And the [1]Lord said unto [2]Mō'şeş, The man shall be surely put to death: all the congregation shall stone him with stones without the camp.
36 And all the congregation brought him without the camp, and stoned him with stones, and he died; as the [1]Lord commanded [2]Mō'şeş.
37 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
38 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and bid them that they make them fringes in the borders of their garments throughout their generations, and that they put upon the fringe of the borders a ribband of blue:
39 And it shall be unto you for a fringe, that ye may look upon it, and remember all the commandments of the Lord, and do them; and that ye seek not after your own heart and your own eyes, after which ye use to go a whoring:
40 That ye may remember, and do all my commandments, and be [i]holy unto your God.
41 I am the [1]Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Ē'gўpt, to be your God: I am the [1]Lord your God.

9. An offering waved upward and downward, upward signifying a presentation to Jehovah and downward signifying that Jehovah had returned the gift to the priest with his blessings upon it.

10. Offered as a propitiation or covering of minor offenses, the removal of ceremonial uncleanness, an atonement of sins of ignorance, either when the wrong doer was ignorant of the law or forgetful of it.

11. To condone, to cover, to make reconciliation for.

CHAPTER 16.

1 The rebellion of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram. 31 The earth swalloweth up Korah, and a fire consumeth others. 41 Fourteen thousand and seven hundred are slain by a plague for murmuring against Moses and Aaron. 46 Aaron stayeth the plague.

1 Now Kō'rah, the son of Ĭz'har, the son of Kō'hath, the son of Lē'vī, and Dā'than and A-bī'răm, the sons of E-lī'ab, and Ōn, the son of Pē'leth, sons of Reu'ben, took men:
2 And they rose up before Mō'şeş, with certain of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, two hundred and fifty princes of the assembly, famous in the congregation, men of renown:
3 And they gathered themselves together against Mō'şeş and against Aâr'on, and said unto them, Ye take too much upon you, seeing all the congregation are holy, every one of them, and the [1]Lord is among them: wherefore then lift ye up yourselves above the congregation of the [1]Lord?
4 And when Mō'şeş heard it, he fell upon his face:
5 And he spake unto Kō'rah and unto all his company, saying, Even to morrow the [1]Lord will shew who are his, and who is [a]holy; and will cause him to come near unto him: even him whom he hath chosen will he cause to come near unto him.
6 This do; Take you censers, Kō'rah, and all his company;
7 And put fire therein, and put incense in them before the [1]Lord to morrow: and it shall be that the man whom the [1]Lord doth choose, he shall be holy: ye take too much upon you, ye sons of Lē'vī.
8 And [2]Mō'şeş said unto Kō'rah, Hear, I pray you, ye sons of Lē'vī:
9 Seemeth it but a small thing unto you, that the God of Ĭs'ra-el hath [b]separated you from the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el, to bring you

1. Jehovah, covenant-name of God.

Ch. 16. B. C. 1471.

d. My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. (I Jno. 2:1.)
e. And if the whole congregation of Israel sin through ignorance, and the thing be hid from the eyes of the assembly, and they have done somewhat against any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which should not be done, and are guilty. (Lev. 4:13.) Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me; then shall I be upright, and I be innocent from the great transgression. (Ps. 19:13.) But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required; and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more. (Lu. 12:48.)
f. See e, ch. 6, Numbers.
g. Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the Lord; whosoever doeth work therein shall be put to death (2). Ye shall kindle no fire throughout your habitations upon the sabbath day. (Ex. 35:2, 3.) Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:9.)
h. See i, ch. 20, Ex.
i. I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. (Rom. 12:1.) But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation (15). Because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy. (I Pet. 1:15, 16.)
Chapter 16.
a. They shall be holy unto their God, and not profane the name of their God: for the offerings of the Lord made by fire, and the bread of their God, they do offer; therefore they shall be holy. (Lev. 21:6.)
b. At that time the Lord separated the tribe of Levi, to bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord, to stand before the Lord to minister unto him, and to bless in his name, unto this day. (Dt. 10:8.)

near to himself to do the service of the tabernacle of the [1]Lord, and to stand before the congregation to minister unto them?

10 And he hath brought thee near to him, and all thy brethren the sons of Lē'vī with thee: and seek ye the priesthood also?

11 For which cause both thou and all thy company are gathered together against the [1]Lord: and what is Aâr'on, that ye murmur against him?

12 ¶ And [2]Mō'şeş sent to call Dā'than and A-bī'răm, the sons of E-lī'ab: which said, We will not come up:

13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought us up out of a land that floweth with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness, except thou make thyself altogether a prince over us?

14 Moreover thou hast not brought us into a land that floweth with milk and honey, or given us inheritance of fields and vineyards: wilt thou [3]put out the eyes of these men? we will not come up.

15 And [2]Mō'şeş was very wroth, and said unto the [1]Lord, Respect not thou their offering: I have not taken one ass from them, neither have I hurt one of them.

16 And [2]Mō'şeş said unto Kō'rah, Be thou and all thy company before the Lord, thou, and they, and Aâr'on, to morrow:

17 And take every man his censer, and put incense in them, and bring ye before the [1]Lord every man his censer, two hundred and fifty censers; thou also, and Aâr'on, each of you his censer.

18 And they took every man his censer, and put fire in them, and laid incense thereon, and stood in the door of the tabernacle of the congregation with Mō'şes and Aâr'on.

19 And Kō'rah gathered all the congregation against them unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and the glory of the Lord appeared unto all the congregation.

20 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying,

21 Separate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may [c]consume them in a moment.

22 And they fell upon their faces, and said, O God, [d]the God of the spirits of all flesh, shall [e]one man sin, and wilt thou be wroth with all the congregation?

23 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

24 Speak unto the congregation, saying, Get you up from about the tabernacle of Kō'rah, Dā'than, and A-bī'răm.

25 And [2]Mō'şeş rose up and went unto Dā'than and A-bī'răm; and the elders of Ĭs'ra-el followed him.

26 And he spake unto the congregation, saying, Depart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of their's, lest ye be consumed in all their sins.

27 So they gat up from the tabernacle of Kō'rah, Dā'than, and A-bī'răm, on every side: and Dā'than and A-bī'răm came out, and stood in the door of their tents, and their wives, and their sons, and their little children.

28 And [2]Mō'şeş said, Hereby ye shall know that the [1]Lord hath sent me to do all these works; for I have not done them of mine own mind.

3. That is, Wilt thou utterly blind them as to thy purpose?

4. As the people had not arrived at that point where they could appreciate eternal rewards and punishment, they must receive swift and sure punishments in this life.

5. A warning against grasping after priestly prerogatives.

6. Vs. 41-50 detail the murmurings and the plague of the people and the atonement therefor.

29 If these men die the common death of all men, or if they be visited after the visitation of all men; then the Lord hath not sent me.

30 But if the [1]Lord make a new thing, and the earth open her mouth, and swallow them up, with all that appertain unto them, and they go down quick into the pit; then ye shall understand that these men have provoked the [1]Lord.

31 ¶ And it came to pass, as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them:

32 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Kō'rah, and all their goods.

33 They, and all that appertained to them, went down [4]alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from among the congregation.

34 And all Ĭs'ra-el that were round about them fled at the cry of them: for they said, Lest the earth swallow us up also.

35 And there [f]came out a fire from the [1]Lord, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense.

36 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

37 Speak unto Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aâr'on the priest, that he take up the censers out of the burning, and scatter thou the fire yonder; for they are hallowed.

38 The censers of these sinners against their own souls, let them make them broad plates for a covering of the altar: for they offered them before the [1]Lord, therefore they are hallowed: and they shall be a sign unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

39 And Ē-le-ā'zar the priest took the brasen censers, wherewith they that were burnt had offered; and they were made broad plates for a covering of the [5]altar:

40 To be a memorial unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that no stranger, which is not of the seed of Aâr'on, come near to offer incense before the [1]Lord; that he be not as Kō'rah, and as his company: as the [1]Lord said to him by the hand of Mō'şeş.

41 ¶ [6]But on the morrow all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el murmured [g]against [2]Mō'şeş and against Aâr'on, saying, Ye have killed the people of the [1]Lord.

42 And it came to pass, when the congregation was gathered against [2]Mō'şeş and against Aâr'on, that they looked toward the tabernacle of the congregation: and, behold, the cloud covered it, and the glory of the Lord appeared.

43 And [2]Mō'şeş and Aâr'on came before the tabernacle of the congregation.

44 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

45 Get you up from among this congregation, that I may consume them as in a moment. And [h]they fell upon their faces.

46 ¶ And [2]Mō'şeş said unto Aâr'on, Take a censer, and put fire therein from off the altar, and put on incense, and go quickly unto the congregation, and make an atonement for them: for there is wrath gone out from the [1]Lord; the plague is begun.

47 And Aâr'on took as [2]Mō'şeş commanded,

c. Now therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them, and that I may consume them, and I will make of thee a great nation. (Ex. 32:10.)

d. In whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind. (Job 12:10.) Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was; and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it. (Ecc. 12:7.)

e. And David spake unto the Lord, when he saw the angel that smote the people, and said, Lo, I have sinned, and I have done wickedly; but these sheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, be against me, and against my father's house. (II Sam 24:17.) The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. (Ezek. 18:20.)

f. For, behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. (Is. 66:15.) For our God is a consuming fire. (Heb. 12:29.)

g. Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. (Math. 5:11.) By honor and dishonor, by evil report and good report, as deceivers, and yet true. (II Cor. 6:8.)

h. And David lifted up his eyes, and saw the angel of the Lord stand between the earth and the heaven, having a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Jerusalem; then David and the elders of Israel, who were clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces. (I Chr. 21:16.)

and ran into the midst of the congregation; and behold, the plague was begun among the people: and he put on incense, and made an [7]atonement for the people.

48 And he stood between the dead and the living; and the plague was stayed.

49 Now they that died in the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, beside them that died about the matter of Kō'rah.

50 And Aâr'on returned unto [2]Mō'şeş unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and the plague was stayed.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Aaron's rod among all the rods of the tribes only flourisheth. 10 It is left for a monument against the rebels.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and take of every one of them a rod according to the house of their fathers, of all their princes according to the house of their fathers twelve rods: write thou every man's name upon his rod.

3 And thou shalt write Aâr'on's name upon the rod of Lē'vī: for one rod shall be for the head of the house of their fathers.

4 And thou shalt lay them up in the tabernacle of the congregation before the testimony, where I will meet with you.

5 And it shall come to pass, that the man's rod, whom I shall choose, shall blossom: and I will make to cease from me the murmurings of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, whereby they murmur against you.

6 ¶ And [2]Mō'şeş spake unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and every one of their princes gave him a rod apiece, for each prince one, according to their fathers' houses, even twelve rods: and the rod of Aâr'on was among their rods.

7 And [2]Mō'şeş laid up the rods before the [1]Lord in the tabernacle of witness.

8 And it came to pass, that on the morrow [2]Mō'şeş went into the tabernacle of witness; and, behold, the rod of Aâr'on for the house of Lē'vī was [a]budded, and brought forth buds, and bloomed blossoms, and yielded almonds.

9 And Mō'şeş brought out all the rods from before the [1]Lord unto all the children of Ĭs'ra-el: and they looked, and took every man his rod.

10 ¶ And the [1]Lord said unto [2]Mō'şeş, Bring Aâr'on's rod again before the testimony, to be kept for a token against the rebels: and thou shalt quite take away their murmurings from me, that they die not.

11 And [2]Mō'şeş did so: as the [1]Lord commanded him, so did he.

12 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el spake unto Mō'şeş, saying, Behold, we die, we perish, we all perish.

13 Whatsoever cometh [b]any thing near unto the tabernacle of the [1]Lord shall die: shall we be consumed with dying?

CHAPTER 18.

1 The charge of the priests and Levites. 9 The priests' portion. 21 The Levites' portion. 25 The heave offering to the priests out of the Levites' portion.

1 [4]And the [1]Lord said unto [2]Aâr'on, Thou and thy sons and thy father's house with thee shall [3]bear the iniquity of the sanctuary: and thou and thy sons with thee shall bear the iniquity of your priesthood.

2 And thy brethren also of the tribe of Lē'vī, the tribe of thy father, bring thou with thee, that they may be joined unto thee, and [c]minister unto thee: but thou and thy sons with thee shall minister before the tabernacle of witness.

3 And they shall keep thy charge, and the charge of all the tabernacle: only they shall not come nigh the vessels of the sanctuary and the altar, that [b]neither they, nor ye also, die.

4 And they shall be joined unto thee, and keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, for all the service of the tabernacle: and a stranger shall not come nigh unto you.

5 And ye shall keep the charge of the sanctuary, and the charge of the altar: that there be no wrath any more upon the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

6 And I, behold, I have taken your brethren the Lē'vītes from among the children of Ĭs'ra-el: to you they are given as a gift for the [1]Lord, to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.

7 Therefore thou and thy sons with thee shall keep your priest's office for every thing of the altar, and within the vail; and ye shall serve: I have given your priest's office unto you as a service of gift: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

8 ¶ [5]And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Aâr'on, Behold, I also have given thee the charge of mine heave [6]offerings of all the hallowed things of the children of Ĭs'ra-el; unto thee have I given them by reason of the anointing, and to thy sons, by an ordinance for ever.

9 This shall be thine of the most holy things, reserved from the fire: every oblation of their's, every [c]meat [7]offering of their's, and every sin [8]offering [d]of their's, and every trespass [9]offering of their's, which they shall render unto me, shall be most holy for thee and for thy sons.

10 In the [10]most holy place shalt thou eat it; every male shall eat it: it shall be holy unto thee.

11 And this is thine; the [6]heave offering of their gift, with all the wave offerings of the children of Ĭs'ra-el: I have given them unto thee, and to thy sons and to thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: every one that is clean in thy house shall eat of it.

12 All the best of the oil, and all the best of the wine, and of the wheat, the firstfruits of them which they shall offer unto the [1]Lord, them have I given thee.

13 And whatsoever is first ripe in the land, which they shall bring unto the [1]Lord, shall be thine; every one that is clean in thine house shall eat of it.

14 Every thing devoted in Ĭs'ra-el shall be thine.

15 Every thing that openeth the [e]matrix in all flesh, which they bring unto the [1]Lord, whether it be of men or beasts, shall [11]be thine: nevertheless the firstborn of man shalt thou surely redeem, and the firstling of unclean beasts shalt thou redeem.

a. Bring the tribe of Levi near, and present them before Aaron the priest, that they may minister unto him. And they shall keep his charge, and the charge of the whole congregation before the tabernacle of the congregation, to do the service of the tabernacle. (Num. 3:6, 7.) And when Aaron and his sons have made an end of covering the sanctuary, and all the vessels of the sanctuary, as the camp is to set forward; after that the sons of Kohath shall come to bear it; but they shall not touch any holy thing, lest they die. These things are the burden of the sons of Kohath in the tabernacle of the congregation. (Num. 4:15.)

c. And Moses spake unto Aaron, and unto Eleazar and unto Ithamar, his sons that were left, Take the meat offering that remaineth of the offerings of the Lord made by fire, and eat it without leaven beside the altar; for it is most holy (12). And ye shall eat it in the holy place, because it is thy due, and thy sons' due, of the sacrifices of the Lord made by fire; for so I am commanded. (Lev. 10:12, 13.)

d. Speak unto Aaron and to his sons, saying, This is the law of the sin offering, In the place where the burnt offering is killed, shall the sin offering be killed before the Lord; it is most holy (25). The priest that offereth it for sin shall eat it; in the holy place shall it be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation. (Lev. 6:25, 26.)

e. Sanctify unto me all the first-born, whatsoever openeth the womb among the children of Israel, both of man and of beast: it is mine. (Ex. 13:2.)

16 And those that are to be redeemed from a month old shalt thou redeem, according to thine estimation, for the money of five [12]shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, which is twenty gerahs.

17 But the firstling of a cow, or the firstling of a sheep, or the firstling of a goat, thou shalt not redeem; they are holy: thou shalt sprinkle their blood upon the altar, and shalt burn their fat for an offering made by fire, for a sweet savour unto the [1]Lord.

18 And the flesh of them shall be thine, as the wave breast and as the right shoulder are thine.

19 All the heave [e]offerings of the holy things, which the children of Ĭs'ra-el offer unto the [1]Lord, have I given thee, and thy sons and thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: it is a [f]covenant of salt for ever before the [1]Lord unto thee and to thy seed with thee.

20 ¶ And the [1]Lord spake unto Aâr'on, Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any part among them: I am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

21 And, behold, [g]I have given the children of Lē'vī all the tenth in Ĭs'ra-el for an inheritance, for their service which they serve, even the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.

22 Neither must the children of Ĭs'ra-el henceforth come nigh the tabernacle of the congregation, lest they bear sin, and die.

23 But the Lē'vītes shall do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they shall bear their iniquity: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations, that among the children of Ĭs'ra-el they have no inheritance.

24 But the tithes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, which they offer as an heave offering unto the [1]Lord, I have given to the Lē'vītes to inherit: therefore I have said unto them, Among the children of Ĭs'ra-el they shall have no inheritance.

25 ¶ [13]And the [1]Lord spoke unto Mō'şeş, saying,

26 Thus speak unto the Lē'vītes, and say unto them, When ye take of the children of Ĭs'ra-el the tithes which I have given you from them for your inheritance, then ye shall offer up an heave offering of it for the [1]Lord, even a tenth part of the tithe.

27 And this your heave offering shall be reckoned unto you, as though it were the corn of the threshingfloor, and as the fulness of the winepress.

28 Thus ye also shall offer an heave offering unto the Lord of all your tithes, which ye receive of the children of Ĭs'ra-el; and ye shall give thereof the [1]Lord's heave offering to Aâr'on the priest.

29 Out of all your gifts ye shall offer every heave offering of the [1]Lord, of all the best thereof, even the hallowed part thereof out of it.

30 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, When ye have heaved the best thereof from it, then it shall be counted unto the Lē'vītes as the increase of the threshingfloor, and as the increase of the winepress.

31 And ye shall eat it in every place, ye and your households: for it is your reward for your service in the tabernacle of the congregation.

32 And ye shall bear no sin by reason of it, when ye have heaved from it the best of it: neither shall ye pollute the holy things of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, lest ye die.

CHAPTER 19.

The water of separation.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş and unto [3]Aâr'on, saying,

2 This is the ordinance of the law which the [1]Lord hath commanded, saying, Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they bring thee a [4]red [a]heifer without spot, wherein is no blemish, and upon which never came yoke:

3 And ye shall give her unto Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, that he may bring her forth without the camp, and one shall slay her before his face:

4 And Ē-le-ā'zar the priest shall take of her blood with his finger, and [b]sprinkle of her blood directly before the tabernacle of the congregation seven times:

5 And one shall burn the heifer in his sight; her skin, and her flesh, and her blood, with her dung, shall he burn:

6 And the priest shall take cedar wood, and hyssop, and scarlet, and cast it into the midst of the burning of the heifer.

7 Then the priest shall wash his clothes, and he shall bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp, and the priest shall be unclean until the even.

8 And he that burneth her shall wash his clothes in water, and bathe his flesh in water, and shall be unclean until the even.

9 And a man that is clean shall gather up the ashes of the [a]heifer, and lay them up without the camp in a clean place, and it shall be kept for the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el for a water of separation: it is a purification for sin.

10 And he that gathereth the ashes of the heifer shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: and it shall be unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among them, for a statute for ever.

11 ¶ [5]He that toucheth the dead body of any man shall be unclean seven days.

12 He shall purify himself with it on the third day, and on the seventh day he shall be clean: but if he purify not himself the third day, then the seventh day he shall not be clean.

13 Whosoever toucheth the dead body of any man that is dead, and purifieth not himself, defileth the tabernacle of the [1]Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from Ĭs'ra-el: because the water of separation was not sprinkled upon him, he shall be unclean; his uncleanness is yet upon him.

14 This is the law, when a man dieth in a tent: all that come into the tent, and all that is in the tent, shall be unclean seven days.

15 And every [c]open vessel, which hath no covering bound upon it, is unclean.

16 And whosoever toucheth one that is slain with a sword in the open fields, or a dead body, or a bone of a man, or a grave, shall be unclean seven days.

13. Vs. 25-32 detail the revenues from the Levites to the priests.

Ch. 19. B. C. 1471.

NOTE.—This ch. details the directions for preparing the water of separation and occasions of its use. From the apparent arbitrary requirements of this statute the rabbis have styled it decretum absque ulla ratione, a decree without any reason. A better and more devout way of referring to this law would have been that, while there are reasons in the mind of Jehovah, they have not been disclosed to man, but are left to be conjectured.

1. Jehovah, covenant-name of God.

2. For historical sketch of Moses see 11, ch. 2, Ex.

3. Historical sketch of Aaron, see 21, ch. 4, Ex.

4. No reason has been assigned in the Bible for the sex and color of this victim; however, some think this choice was a rebuke to pagan Egypt, as they regarded the red heifer as sacred, and worshiped it as the impersonation of the goddess Isis.

5. Vs. 11-22 detail the use of the purifying water, which was used chiefly to remove the uncleanness arising from the dead.

f. Ought ye not to know that the Lord God of Israel gave the kingdom over Israel to David for ever, even to him and his sons by a covenant of salt? (II Chr. 13:5.)

g. And verily they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham (5). And here men that die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth. (Heb. 7:5, 8.)

Chapter 19.

a. For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh (13); How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? (Heb. 9:13, 14.) For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist. (II Jno. 1:7.)

b. And this is the law of the meat offering; the sons of Aaron shall offer it before the Lord, before the altar. (Lev. 6:14.) Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. (Ezek. 36:25.)

c. And upon whatsoever any of them, when they are dead, doth fall, it shall be unclean; whether it be any vessel of wood, or raiment, or skin, or sack, whatsoever vessel it be, wherein any work is done, it must be put into water, and it shall be unclean until the even; so it shall be cleansed. (Lev. 11:32.)

take of the ashes of the burnt heifer of purification for sin, and running water shall be put thereto in a vessel:

18 And a clean person shall take hyssop, and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it upon the tent, and upon all the vessels, and upon the persons that were there, and upon him that touched a bone, or one slain, or one dead, or a grave:

19 And the clean person shall sprinkle upon the unclean on the third day, and on the seventh day: and on the seventh day he shall purify himself, and wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and shall be clean at even.

20 But the man that shall be unclean, and shall not purify himself, that soul shall be cut off from among the congregation, because he hath defiled the sanctuary of the [1]Lord: the water of separation hath not been sprinkled upon him; he is unclean.

21 And it shall be a perpetual statute unto them, that he that sprinkleth the water of separation shall wash his clothes; and he that toucheth the water of separation shall be unclean until even.

22 And whatsoever the unclean person toucheth shall be unclean; and the soul that toucheth it shall be unclean until even.

CHAPTER 20.

1 The children of Israel come to Zin, where Miriam dieth. 2 They murmur for want of water. 7 Moses smiting the rock bringeth forth water at Meribah. 22 At mount Hor Aaron resigneth his place to Eleazar, and dieth.

1 Then came the children of Ĭs'ra-el, even the whole congregation, into the desert of [1]Zĭn in the [2]first month: and the people abode in Kā'desh; and [3]Mĭr'ĭ-am died there, and was buried there.

2 [4]And [a]there was no water for the congregation: and they gathered themselves together against [5]Mō'şeş and against [6]Aâr'on.

3 And the people [5]chode with [5]Mō'şeş, and spake, saying, Would God that we had died when [9]our [b]brethren died before the [7]Lord!

4 And why have ye brought up the congregation of the [7]Lord into this [c]wilderness, that we and our cattle should die there?

5 And wherefore have ye made us to come up out of Ē'ğўpt, to bring us into this evil place? it is no place of seed, or of figs, or of vines, or of pomegranates; neither is there any water to drink.

6 And [5]Mō'şeş and [6]Aâr'on went from the presence of the assembly unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they fell upon their faces: and the [10]glory of the [7]Lord appeared unto them.

7 ¶ And the [7]Lord spake unto [5]Mō'şeş, saying,

8 Take the rod, and gather thou the assembly together, thou, and Aâr'on thy brother, and speak ye unto the rock before their eyes; and it shall give forth his water, and thou shalt bring forth to them water out of the rock: so thou shalt give the congregation and their beasts drink.

9 And [5]Mō'şeş took the rod [d]from before the [7]Lord, as he commanded him.

10 And [5]Mō'şeş and [6]Aâr'on gathered the congregation together before the rock, and he said unto them, Hear now, [e]ye rebels; must we fetch you water out of this rock?

11 And [5]Mō'şeş lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the [f]rock twice: and [g]the water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also.

12 ¶ And the [7]Lord spake unto [5]Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, Because [h]ye believed [i]me not, to sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them.

13 This is the water of Mĕr'ĭ-bah; because the children of Ĭs'ra-el strove with the Lord, and he was sanctified in them.

14 ¶ [11]And [5]Mō'şeş sent messengers from Kā'desh unto the king of Ē'dom, Thus saith thy brother Ĭs'ra-el, Thou knowest all the travel that hath befallen us:

15 How our fathers went down into Ē'ğўpt, and we have dwelt in Ē'ğўpt a long time; and the Ē-ğўp'tians vexed us, and our fathers:

16 And [j]when we cried unto the [7]Lord, he heard our voice, and [k]sent an angel, and hath brought us forth out of Ē'ğўpt: and, behold, we are in Kā'desh, a city in the uttermost of thy border:

17 [l]Let us pass, I pray thee, through thy country: we will not pass [12]through the fields, or through the vineyards, neither will we drink of the water of the wells: we will go by the king's high way, we will not turn to the right hand nor to the left, until we have passed thy borders.

18 And Ē'dom said unto him, Thou shalt not pass by me, lest I come out against thee with the sword.

19 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el said unto him, We will go by the high way: and if I and my cattle drink of thy water, then I will pay for it: I will only, without doing any thing else, go through on my feet.

20 And he said, Thou shalt not go through. And Ē'dom came out against him with much people, and with a strong hand.

21 Thus Ē'dom refused to give Ĭs'ra-el passage through his border: wherefore Ĭs'ra-el [m]turned away from him.

22 ¶ [13]And the children of Ĭs'ra-el, even the whole congregation, journeyed from Kā'desh, and came unto mount Hor.

23 And the [7]Lord spake unto [5]Mō'şeş and Aâr'on in mount Hor, by the coast of the land of Ē'dom, saying,

24 [6]Aâr'on shall be gathered unto his people: for he shall not enter into the land which

Ch. 20. B. C. 1453-1452.

NOTE.—This ch. begins the fourth part of Numbers and details the march from Kadesh to the land of Moab, covering a period of one year, recorded in chs. 22-34. This ch. records the death of Miriam, the people's clamoring for water, and Moses' disobedience in smiting the rock, Aaron's death, and the name of his successor.

1. The valley along the western side of Mt. Seir.

2. The first month of the fortieth year of the exode.

3. Sister of Moses, who watched the ark in the Nile. In Micah 6:4 she is enrolled as one of the three deliverers. She was the first of the family who exhibited prophetic gifts. (Ex. 15:20.) She was one of the moving spirits in the rebellion against Moses, as a punishment was smitten with leprosy, but was restored through the earnest entreaty of [5]her brother. She was the wife of Hur and grandmother of Bezalcel, the architect.

4. Vs. 2-13 detail the people's clamor for water and the disobedience of Moses in smiting the rock.

5. For historical account of Moses see Ex. 2, note 11.

6. For life of Aaron see Ex. 4, note 21.

7. Jehovah, covenant-name of God.

8. That is, quarreled.

9. That is, died by the plague before the Lord. (Num. 14:37.)

10. This is the last occasion on which the glory of Jehovah appeared before Israel in the camp, although the cloud still continued visible over the tabernacle.

11. Vs. 14-21 detail the request and refusal of a passage through Edom.

12. The promises made in this verse are the direct commands of Jehovah.

13. Vs. 22-29 detail the journey to Mt. Hor and the death of Aaron.

Chapter 20.

a. And all the congregation of the children of Israel journeyed from the wilderness of Sin after their journeys, according to the commandment of the Lord, and pitched in Rephidim; and there was no water for the people to drink. (Ex. 17:1.)

b. And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their goods. (Num. 16:32.)

c. And the people thirsted there for water; and the people murmured against Moses and said, Wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Egypt, to kill us and our children and cattle with thirst? (Ex. 17:3.)

d. The Lord said unto Moses, Bring Aaron's rod again before the testimony, to be kept for a token against the rebels; and thou shalt quite take away their murmurings from me, that they die not. (Num. 17:10.)

e. Because they provoked his spirit, so that he spake unadvisably with his lips. (Ps. 106:33.)

f. For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. (Ja. 1:20.)

g. And did all drink the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them; and that Rock was Christ. (I Cor. 10:4.) Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock in Horeb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink. And Moses did so in the sight of the elders of Israel. (Ex. 17:6.)

h. But the Lord was wroth with me for your sakes, and would not hear me; and the Lord said unto me, Let it suffice thee; speak no more unto me of this matter. (Dt. 3:26.)

i. Then Moses said unto Aaron, This is it that the Lord spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them that come nigh me, and before all the people I will be glorified. And Aaron held his peace. (Lev. 10:3.) But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear. (I Pet. 3:15.)

j. And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows. (Ex. 3:7.)

k. This Moses whom they refused saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer by the hand of the angel, which appeared to him in the bush. (Acts 7:35.) Behold I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared. (Ex. 23:20.) The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.)

l. See ch. 21:22.

m. If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men. (Rom. 12:18.) Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord. (Heb. 12:14.)

I have given unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, because ye rebelled against my word at the water of Mĕr'ī-bah.

25 Take [6]Aâr-on and Ē-le-ā'zar his son, and bring them up unto mount Hor:

26 And strip Aâr'on of his garments, and put them upon Ē-le-ā'zar his son: and Aâr'on shall be gathered unto his people, and shall die there.

27 And [5]Mō'şeş did as the [7]Lord commanded: and they went up into mount Hor in the sight of all the congregation.

28 And [5]Mō'şeş stripped Aâr'on of his garments, and put them upon Ē-le-ā'zar his son; and Aâr'on died there in the top of the mount: and Mō'şeş and Ē-le-ā'zar came down from the mount.

29 And when all the congregation saw that Aâr'on was dead, they mourned for [6]Aâr'on thirty days, even all the house of Ĭs'ra-el.

CHAPTER 21.

1 Israel destroy the Canaanites at Hormah. 4 The people murmuring are plagued with fiery serpents. 7 They repenting are healed by a brasen serpent. 21 Sihon is overcome, 33 and Og.

1 [1]And when king Ā'răd the Cā'năan-īte, which dwelt in the south, heard tell that Ĭs'ra-el came by the way of the spies; then he fought against Ĭs'ra-el, and took some of them prisoners.

2 And Ĭs'ra-el [a]vowed a vow unto the [2]Lord, and said, If thou wilt indeed deliver this people into my hand, then I will utterly destroy their cities.

3 And the [2]Lord hearkened to the voice of Ĭs'ra-el, and delivered up the Cā'năan-ītes; and they utterly destroyed them and their cities; and he called the name of the place Hor'mah.

4 ¶ [3]And they journeyed from mount Hor by the way of the Red sea, to compass [b]the land of Ē'dom: and the soul of the people was much discouraged because of the way.

5 And the people [4]spake [b]against God, and against Mō'şeş, Wherefore have ye brought us up out of Ē'gўpt to die in the wilderness? for there is no bread, neither is there any water; and our soul loatheth this light bread.

6 [5]And the [2]Lord sent [6]fiery [c]serpents among the people, and they bit the people; and much people of Ĭs'ra-el died.

7 ¶ Therefore the people came to Mō'şeş, and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against the [2]Lord, and against thee; [d]pray unto the Lord, that he take away the serpents from us. And Mō'şeş prayed for the people.

8 And the [2]Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it upon a [c]pole: and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten, when he looketh upon it, shall live.

9 And Mō'şeş [c]made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he [7]beheld the serpent of brass, he lived.

Ch. 21. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—In this ch. king Arad received notice, through his spies, of the gathering of the forces of Israel at Kadesh, and supposing the Israelites were preparing for an attack upon him, he moves forward and makes the attack himself. In the immediate battle which followed some of the Israelites were captured. The others continued their march southward along the parched Arabah, murmuring at the hardships of their journey. As a punishment Jehovah sent the fiery serpents among them; when they repented, Moses lifted up the brazen serpent, upon which they might look and be healed. They continued their journey, passing the southern end of Mt. Seïr and the valley of Zared, and reached the banks of the Arnon. Beginning with v. 14, the author inserts quotations from the book of the wars of Jehovah. Vs. 14-35, the remaining portion of the ch., detail the history of the battles with Sihon, king of the Amorites, and Og, of Bashan.

1. Vs. 1-3 detail the defeat of King Arad.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Vs. 4, 5 detail the compassing of Edom via the Red Sea. This march was made necessary because of the mountains barring the way in the southern Canaan.

4. This people is the New Israel, which has been reared in the wilderness. Because of disobedience, their fathers had perished, since the sentence of exclusion from Canaan had been given at Kadesh-barnea, thirty-eight years before. It is interesting to note, that though the new Israel is, in many points, like the old, still they have received much courage and sufficient faith in Jehovah to enable them to fight their way into Canaan.

5. Vs. 6-9 detail the account of the fiery serpents and the lifting up of the brazen serpent, by Moses.

6. As all the plagues of Israel were the intensification of natural evils, likewise it is claimed by most scholars, that these serpents were the serpents existing in the region of the Israelites' camp. They are called fiery, because of the rapid, intense inflammation resulting from their bite.

7. This verse signifies that the fiery serpents were not taken away immediately from among the people, but simply that a remedy was prepared, which would render harmless the virus in the veins of him who immediately looked upon the brazen serpent.

8. Vs. 10-20 detail a continuation of the wanderings of Israel.

9. Vs. 21-35 detail the victories over Sihon and Og.

10 ¶ [8]And the children of Ĭs'ra-el set forward, and pitched in Ō'both.

11 And they journeyed from Ō'both, and pitched at Ĭj-e-ăb'a-rĭm, in the wilderness which is before Mō'ab, toward the sunrising.

12 ¶ From thence they removed, and pitched in the valley of Zā'red.

13 From thence they removed, and pitched on the other side of Är'nŏn, which is in the wilderness that cometh out of the coasts of the Ăm'or-ītes: for Är'nŏn is the border of Mō'ab, between Mō'ab and the Ăm'or-ītes.

14 Wherefore it is said in the book of the wars of the [2]Lord, What he did in the Red sea, and in the brooks of Är'nŏn, 15 And at the stream of the brooks that goeth down to the dwelling of Är, and lieth upon the border of Mō'ab.

16 And from thence they went to Bē'er: that is the well whereof the [2]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, Gather the people together, and [f]I will give them water.

17 ¶ Then [g]Ĭs'ra-el sang this song, Spring up, O well; sing ye unto it:

18 The princes digged the well, the nobles of the people digged it, by the direction of [h]the lawgiver, with their staves. And from the wilderness they went to Măt'ta-nah:

19 And from Măt'ta-nah to Na-hā'lĭ-el: and from Na-hā'lĭ-el to Bā'mŏth:

20 And from Bā'mŏth in the valley, that is in the country of Mō'ab, to the top of Pĭş'gah, which looketh toward Jĕsh'i-mŏn.

21 ¶ [9]And Ĭs'ra-el sent messengers unto Sī'hŏn king of the Ăm'or-ītes, saying, 22 Let me pass through thy land: we will not turn into the fields, or into the vineyards; we will not drink of the waters of the well: but we will go along by the king's high way, until we be past thy borders.

23 And Sī'hŏn would not suffer Ĭs'ra-el to pass through his border: but Sī'hŏn gathered all his people together, and went out against Ĭs'ra-el into the wilderness: and he came to Jā'hăz, and fought against Ĭs'ra-el.

24 And Ĭs'ra-el smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land from Är'nŏn unto Jăb'bok, even unto the children of Ăm'mŏn: for the border of the children of Ăm'mŏn was strong.

25 And Ĭs'ra-el took all these cities: and Ĭs'ra-el dwelt in all the cities of the Ăm'or-ītes, in Hĕsh'bŏn, and in all the villages thereof.

26 For Hĕsh'bŏn was the city of Sī'hŏn the king of the Ăm'or-ītes, who had fought against the former king of Mō'ab, and taken all his land out of his hand, even unto Är'nŏn.

27 Wherefore they that speak in proverbs say, Come into Hĕsh'bŏn, let the city of Sī'hŏn be built and prepared:

28 For there is [i]a fire gone out of Hĕsh'bŏn, a flame from the city of Sī'hŏn: it hath consumed Är of Mō'ab, and the lords of the high places of Är'nŏn.

29 Woe to thee, Mō'ab! thou art undone, O

Chapter 21.

a. And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on. (Gen. 28:20.)

b. Yea, they spake against God; they said, Can God furnish a table in the wilderness? (Ps. 78:19.) And the children of Israel said unto them, Would to God we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the flesh pots, and when we did eat bread to the full, for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger. (Ex. 16:3.) And the mixt multitude that was among them fell a lusting; and the children of Israel also wept again and said, Who shall give us flesh to eat? (Num. 11:4.)

c. Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents. (I Cor. 10:9.) Who led thee through that great and terrible wilderness, wherein were fiery serpents, and scorpions, and drought, where there was no water; who brought thee forth water out of the rock of flint. (Dt. 8:15.)

d. And Pharaoh said, I will let you go, that ye may sacrifice to the Lord your God in the wilderness; only ye shall not go very far away; entreat for me. (Ex. 8:28.) And all the people said unto Samuel, Pray for thy servants unto the Lord thy God, that we die not; for we have added unto all our sins this evil, to ask us a king. (I Sam. 12:19.) Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me. (Acts 8:24.)

e. And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. (Jno. 3:14, 15.)

f. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters; and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. (Rev. 7:17.)

g. Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him: talk ye of all his wondrous works. (Ps. 105:2.) Then believed they his words; they sang his praise. (Ps. 106:12.)

h. For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us. (Is. 33:22.) There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another? (Js. 4:12.) For the Lord is our defence; and the Holy One of Israel is our king. (Ps. 89:18.)

i. And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voice shall be heard even unto Jahaz; therefore the armed soldiers of Moab shall cry out; his life shall be grievous unto him. (Is. 15:4.) They that fled stood under the shadow of Heshbon, because of the force; but a fire shall come forth out of Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and shall devour the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones (45). Woe be unto thee, O Moab! the people of Chemosh perisheth: for thy sons are taken captives, and thy daughters captives. (Jer. 48:45, 46.)

people of Chē'mŏsh: he hath given his sons that escaped, and his daughters, into captivity unto Sī'hŏn king of Ām'or-ītes.

30 We have shot at them; Hĕsh'bŏn is perished even unto Dī'bŏn, and we have laid them waste even unto Nō'phah, which reacheth unto Mĕd'e-bā.

31 ¶ Thus Ĭs'ra-el dwelt in the land of the Ām'or-ītes.

32 And Mō'şeş sent to spy out Ja-ā'zēr, and they took the villages thereof, and drove out the Ām'or-ītes that were there.

33 ¶ And they turned and went up by the way of [10]Bā'shăn: and Ōg the king of Bā'shăn went out against them, he, and all his people, to the battle at Ĕd're-ī.

34 And the [2]Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Fear him not: for I have delivered him into thy hand, and all his people, and his land; and thou shalt do to him as thou didst unto Sī'hŏn king of the Ām'or-ītes, which dwelt at Hĕsh'bŏn.

35 So they smote him, and his sons, and all his people, until there was none left him alive: and they possessed his land.

CHAPTER 22.

1 Balak's first message for Balaam is refused. 15 His second message obtaineth him. 22 An angel would have slain him, if his ass had not saved him. 36 Balak entertaineth him.

1 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el [a]set forward, and pitched in the [1]plains of Mō'ab on this side Jor'dan by [2]Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

2 ¶ And Bā'lăk the son of Zĭp'por saw all that Ĭs'ra-el had done to the Ām'or-ītes.

3 And Mō'ab was sore afraid of the people, because they were many: and Mō'ab was distressed because of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

4 And Mō'ab said unto the elders of Mĭd'ĭ-an, Now shall this company lick up all that are round about us, as the ox licketh up the grass of the field. And Bā'lăk the son of Zĭp'por was king of the Mō'ab-ītes at that time.

5 He sent messengers therefore unto [3][b]Bā'laam the son of Bē'or to Pē'thor, which is by the river of the land of the children of his people, to call him, saying, Behold, there is a people come out from Ē'gўpt: behold, they cover the face of the earth, and they abide over against me:

6 Come now therefore, I pray thee, [c]curse me this people; for they are too mighty for me: peradventure I shall prevail, that we may smite them, and that I may drive them out of the land: for I wot that he whom thou blessest is blessed, and he whom thou cursest is cursed.

7 And the elders of Mō'ab and the elders of Mĭd'ĭ-an departed with the [d]rewards of divination in their hand; and they came unto [3]Bā'laam, and spake unto him the words of Bā'lăk.

8 And he said unto them, Lodge here this night, and I will bring you word again, as the Lord shall speak unto me: and the princes of Mō'ab abode with [3]Bā'laam.

9 And God came unto [3]Bā'laam, and said, What men are these with thee?

10 And [3]Bā'laam said unto God, Bā'lăk the son of Zĭp'por, king of Mō'ab, hath sent unto me saying, 11 Behold, there is a people come out of Ē'gўpt, which covereth the face of the earth: come now, curse me them; peradventure I shall be able to overcome them, and drive them out.

12 And God said unto Bā'laam, Thou shalt not go with them; thou shalt not curse the people: for they [e]are blessed.

13 And [3]Bā'laam rose up in the morning, and said unto the princes of Bā'lăk, Get you into your land: for the [4]Lord refuseth to give me leave to go with you.

14 And the princes of Mō'ab rose up, and they went unto Bā'lăk, and said, [3]Bā'laam refuseth to come with us.

15 ¶ [5]And Bā'lăk sent yet again princes, more, and more honourable than they.

16 And they came to [3]Bā'laam, and said to him, Thus saith Bā'lăk the son of Zĭp'por, Let nothing, I pray thee, hinder thee from coming unto me:

17 For I [f]will promote thee unto very great honour, and I will do whatsoever thou sayest unto me: come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people.

18 And [3]Bā'laam answered and said unto the servants of Bā'lăk, If Bā'lăk would give me his house [6]full of silver and gold, [g]I cannot go beyond the word of the [4]Lord my God, to do less or more.

19 Now therefore, I pray you, tarry ye also here this night, that I may know what the Lord will say unto me more.

20 And God came unto Bā'laam at night, and said unto him, If the men come to call thee, rise up, and go with them; but [h]yet the word which I shall say unto thee, that shalt thou do.

21 And [3]Bā'laam rose up in the morning, and saddled his ass, and went with the [i]princes of Mō'ab.

22 ¶ And God's anger was kindled because he went: [j]and the angel of the [4]Lord stood in the way for an adversary against him. Now he was riding upon his ass, and his two servants were with him.

23 And the ass saw the [j]angel of the [4]Lord standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand: and the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field: and Bā'laam smote the ass, to turn her into the way.

24 But the [j]angel of the [4]Lord stood in a path of the vineyards, a wall being on this side, and a wall on that side.

25 And when the ass saw the angel of the [4]Lord, she thrust herself unto the wall, and crushed Bā'laam's [k]foot against the wall: and he smote her again.

10. In the region in and around Bashan, recent explorers have discovered the ruins of many cities. Their cyclopean architecture is so perfectly preserved that the scriptural statement is confirmed, that the Rephaim (i. e., the giants) once flourished there.

Ch. 22. B. C. 1452.

1. Vs. 1-14 detail the first message to Balaam. The plains of Moab are a narrow strip of land about six miles wide, lying along the eastern bank of the Jordan, opposite the plains of Jericho. Here occurred the wonderful story of Balaam.

2. Here occurs the first mention of Jericho, "the city of palm trees."

3. The name Balaam, means destroyer, devourer. He was one of the dreaded wizards, conjurers or soothsayers of his time. The title of prophet or seer is never applied to Balaam. In Josh. 13:22, he is called the soothsayer, a term the sacred scriptures never apply to a true prophet. Although it is evident, from his acquaintance with Jehovah and obedience to his commands, that he was no mere heathen soothsayer. He is called by Bishop Newton, "This strange mixture of a man." The prophecies of Balaam are distinguished for their dignity, compassion, vividness and imagery. They are, by many, pronounced the equal of anything of the latter prophets. The great sin for which Balaam lost his life was his advice to Balak to engage Israel in idolatry and whoredom that they might offend God and be forsaken by him. (Num. 24:14; Mic. 6:5; II Pet. 2:15; Rev. 2:14). This evil advice was pursued by Balak; God commanded Moses to avenge the action by declaring war against the Armenianites, of whom many were slain, including five of their princes, among whom was Balaam.

4. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

5. Vs. 15-35 detail an account of the second message to Balaam.

6. A statement that he would not go counter to the commands of Jehovah for a house full of gold and silver, although he constantly labored to do so for a mere handful. A true picture of the covetous hypocrite.

Chapter 22.

a. And they departed from the mountains of Abarim, and pitched in the plains of Moab, by Jordan near Jericho. (Num. 33:48.) And hast brought forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terror. (Jer. 32:21.)

b. Balaam also the son of Beor, the soothsayer, did the children of Israel slay with the sword among them that were slain by them. (Josh. 13:22.) O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from Shittim unto Gilgal; that ye may know the righteousness of the Lord. (Mic. 6:5.) But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication. (Rev. 2:14.)

c. See ch. 23:7.

d. And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous. (Ex. 23:8.) A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom to pervert the ways of judgment. (Prov. 17:23.)

e. Behold, I have received commandment to bless: and he hath blessed; and I cannot reverse it. (Num. 23:20.) For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance. (Rom. 11:29.)

f. For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away: his glory shall not descend after him. (Ps. 49:17.) For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? (Math. 16:26.)

g. And Micaiah said, As the Lord liveth, what the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak. (I Ks. 22:14.)

h. The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought, he maketh the devices of the people of none effect. The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations. (Ps. 33:10, 11.) There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord. (Prov. 21:30.) Remember the former things of old; for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me. Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure. (Is. 46:9, 10.)

i. Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness. (II Pet. 2:15.) Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core. (Jude 11.)

j. And it came to pass by the way in the inn, that the Lord met him, and sought to kill him. (Ex. 4:24.) And the angel of the Lord said unto Manoah, Of all that I said unto the woman let her beware. (Jud. 13:13.) And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men. (Math. 28:4.)

k. A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil; but the fool

26 And the [j]angel of the [4]Lord went further, and stood in a narrow place, where was no way to turn either to the right hand or to the left.

27 And when the ass saw the angel of the [4]Lord, she fell down under Bā'laam: and Bā'laam's anger was kindled, and he smote the ass with a staff.

28 And the [4]Lord [l]opened the [7]mouth of the ass, and she said unto Bā'laam, What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me these three times?

29 And Bā'laam said unto the ass, Because thou hast mocked me: I would there were a sword in mine hand, [m]for now would I kill thee.

30 And the ass [n]said unto Bā'laam, Am not I thine ass, upon which thou hast ridden ever since I was thine unto this day? was I ever wont to do so unto thee? And he said, Nay.

31 Then the Lord [o]opened the eyes of Bā'laam, and he saw the angel of the Lord standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand: and he [p]bowed down his head, and fell flat on his face.

32 And the [j]angel of the Lord said unto him, Wherefore hast thou smitten thine ass these three times? behold, I went out to withstand thee, because thy way is [q]perverse before me:

33 And the ass saw me, and turned from me these three times: unless she had turned from me, surely now also I had slain thee, and saved her alive.

34 And Bā'laam said unto the [j]angel of the Lord, [r]I have sinned; for I knew not that thou stoodest in the way against me: now therefore, if it displease thee, I will get me back again.

35 And the [j]angel of the [4]Lord said unto Bā'laam, Go with the men: but only the word that I shall speak unto thee, that thou shalt speak. So Bā'laam went with the princes of Bā'lāk.

36 ¶ [8]And when Bā'lāk heard that Bā'laam was come, he went out to meet him unto a city of Mō'ab, which is in the border of Är'nŏn, which is in the utmost coast.

37 And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, Did I not earnestly send unto thee to call thee? wherefore camest thou not unto me? am I not able indeed to promote thee to honour?

7. No other statement in the Bible has been the occasion for so much dispute and ridicule as where the dumb animal is made to open its mouth and rebuke the madness of the prophet. By many it is claimed that this incident took place in a dream, as at that time Jehovah communed with man through this medium; but others maintain that the account should be received literally.

8. Vs. 36-41 detail an account of Balak receiving Balaam and the conversation between them.

9. This is the first mention in the Bible of Baal, the chief male deity of the Phoenicians and Canaanites. The worship of Baal was the predominant religion throughout western Asia. His priests would, during their services, dance about the altar, and slash themselves with long knives; and, according to Jer. 19:5, human sacrifices were offered to Baal.

Ch. 23. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—In this ch. are recorded Balak's sacrifices and Balaam's first two prophecies. It was here the intention of Balaam to pronounce upon Israel the curse of God, but his purpose was overruled by Providence, and he was compelled to pronounce blessings where he had intended to utter curses.

1. See 3, ch. 22.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Vs. 7-12 detail Balaam's first prophecy.

38 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Lo, I am come unto thee: have I now any power at all to say any thing? [s]the word that God putteth in my mouth, that shall I speak.

39 And Bā'laam went with Bā'lāk, and they came unto Kīr'jath-hū'zoth.

40 And Bā'lāk offered oxen and sheep, and sent to Bā'laam, and to the princes that were with him.

41 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Bā'lāk took Bā'laam, and brought him up into the [t]high places of [9]Bā'al, that hence he might see the utmost part of the people.

CHAPTER 23.

1, 13, 28 Balak's sacrifice. 7, 18 Balaam's parable.

1 And [1]Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven oxen and seven rams.

2 And Bā'lāk did as [1]Bā'laam had spoken; and Bā'lāk and Bā'laam offered on every altar a bullock and a ram.

3 And [1]Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Stand by thy burnt [a]offering, and I will go: peradventure the [2]Lord will come to meet me: and whatsoever he sheweth me I will tell thee. And he went to an high place.

4 And God met [1]Bā'laam: and he said unto him, I have prepared seven altars, and I have offered upon every altar a bullock and a ram.

5 And the [2]Lord put a word in Bā'laam's mouth, and said, Return unto Bā'lāk, and thus thou shalt speak.

6 And he returned unto him, and, lo, he stood by his burnt sacrifice, he, and all the princes of Mō'ab.

7 [3]And he took up his parable, and said, Bā'lāk the king of Mō'ab hath brought me from Ā'ram, out of the mountains of the east, saying, Come, curse me Jā'cob, and come, defy Ĭs'ra-el.

8 How shall I curse, whom God hath not cursed? [b]or how shall I defy, whom the [2]Lord hath not defied?

9 For from the top of the rocks I see him, and from the hills I behold him: lo, [c]the people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations.

10 Who [d]can count the dust of Jā'cob, and the number of the fourth part of Ĭs'ra-el? Let rageth, and is confident. (Prov. 14:16.) Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath. (Ja. 1:19.) For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. (I Cor. 3:19.) Therefore, behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and make a wall, that she shall not find her paths. (Hos. 2:6.)

l. But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible. (Math. 19:26.) But was rebuked for his iniquity; the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbade the madness of the prophet. (II Pet. 2:16.)

m. A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel. (Prov. 12:10.) The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked; who can know it? (Jer. 17:9.) For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies. (Mat. 15:19.)

n. But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty. (I Cor. 1:27.) Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings, hast thou ordained strength because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger. (Ps. 8:2.)

o. And God opened her eyes and she saw a well of water; and she went and filled the bottle with water, and gave the lad drink. (Gen. 21:19.) And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight. (Lu. 24:31.) And it came to pass, when they were come into Samaria, that Elisha said, Lord, open the eyes of these men that they may see. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they saw; and, behold, they were in the midst of Samaria. (II Ks. 6:20.)

p. When pride cometh, then cometh shame; but with the lowly is wisdom. (Prov. 11:2.) We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us; for we have sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God. (Jer. 3:25.) Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall. (Prov. 16:18.)

q. Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children (14), Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness. (II Pet. 2:14, 15.) Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me. (Mat. 17:17.) And Jesus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither. (Lu. 9:41.)

r. Then said Saul, I have sinned; return, my son David; for I will no more do thee harm, because my soul was precious in thine eyes this day: behold, I have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly. (I Sam. 26:21.) And Saul said unto Samuel, I have sinned; for I have transgressed the commandment of the Lord, and thy words; because I feared the people, and obeyed their voice. (I Sam. 15:24.) And David said unto Nathan, I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said unto David, The Lord also hath put away thy sins; thou shalt not die. (II Sam. 12:13.) I have sinned; what shall I do unto thee, O thou preserver of men? why hast thou set me as a mark against thee, so that I am a burden to myself? (Job 7:20.) He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy. (Prov. 28:13.)

s. And Micaiah said, As the Lord liveth, what the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak. (I Ks. 22:14.)

t. Take heed to thyself, lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land whither thou goest, lest it be for a snare in the midst of thee (12). But ye shall destroy their altars, break their images, and cut down their groves. (Ex. 34:12, 13.) Ye shall utterly destroy all the places wherein the nations which ye shall possess serve their gods, upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree. (Dt. 12:2.)

Chapter 23.

a. For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

b. There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord. (Prov. 21:30.) Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast labored from thy youth; if so be, thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail. (Is. 47:12.)

c. Israel then shall dwell in safety alone; the fountain of Jacob shall be upon a land of corn and wine; also his heavens shall drop down dew. (Dt. 33:28.) For thou didst separate them from all the people of the earth, to be thine inheritance, as thou spakest by the hand of Moses thy servant, when thou broughtest our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord God. (I Ks. 8:53.)

d. For they have taken of their daughters for themselves, and for their sons; so that the holy seed have mingled themselves with the people of those lands: yea, the hand of the princes and rulers hath been cheap in this trespass. (Ezra 9:2.)

me die [e]the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his!

11 And Bā'lāk said unto [1]Bā'laam, What hast thou done unto me? I took thee to curse mine enemies, and, behold, thou hast [f]blessed them altogether.

12 And he answered and said, Must I not take heed to speak that which the [2]Lord hath put in my mouth?

13 [4]And Bā'lāk said unto him, Come, I pray thee, with me unto another place, from whence thou mayest see them: thou shalt see but the utmost part of them, and shalt not see them all: and curse me them from thence.

14 ¶ And he brought him into the field of Zō'phim, to the top of Pĭs'gah, [g]and built seven altars, and offered a bullock and a ram on every altar.

15 And he said unto Bā'lāk, Stand here by thy [a]burnt offering, while I meet the Lord yonder.

16 And the [2]Lord met Bā'laam, and put a word in his mouth, and said, Go again unto Bā'lāk, and say thus.

17 And when he came to him, behold, he stood by his burnt offering, and the princes of Mō'ab with him. And Bā'lāk said unto him, [h]What hath the Lord spoken?

18 And he took up his parable, and said, Rise up, Bā'lāk, and hear; hearken unto me, thou son of Zĭp'por:

19 God [i]is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good?

20 Behold, I have received commandment to bless: and [j]he hath blessed; and I cannot reverse it.

21 He hath not [k]beheld iniquity in Jā'cob, neither hath he seen perverseness in Ĭs'ra-el: the Lord his [l]God is with him, and the shout of a king is among them.

22 God brought them out of Ē'gўpt; he hath as it were the strength of an unicorn.

23 Surely there is no enchantment against Jā'cob, neither is there any divination against Ĭs'ra-el: according to this time it shall be said of Jā'cob and of Ĭs'ra-el, [m]What hath God wrought!

4. Vs. 13-26 record Balaam's second prophecy.

Ch. 24. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—In this ch. Balaam's career, as a public soothsayer, is brought to a close. Vs. 1-4 give an account of Israel's happiness.

1. See 3, ch. 22.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Vs. 5-14 record the third prophecy of Balaam. Balaam here receives his conception of the wonderful prosperity of Israel and the great power of the people.

24 Behold, the people shall rise up as a great lion, and lift up himself as a young lion: he shall not lie down until he eat of the prey, and drink the blood of the slain.

25 ¶ And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, Neither curse them at all, nor bless them at all.

26 But Bā'laam answered and said unto Bā'lāk, Told not I thee, saying, All that the Lord speaketh, that I must do?

27 ¶ And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, Come, I pray thee, I will bring thee unto another place; peradventure it will please God that thou mayest curse me them from thence.

28 And Bā'lāk brought Bā'laam unto the top of Pē'or, that looketh toward Jĕsh'i-mŏn.

29 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven bullocks and seven rams.

30 And Bā'lāk did as Bā'laam had said, and offered a bullock and a ram on every altar.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Balaam prophesieth the happiness of Israel. 10 Balak in anger dismisseth him. 15 He prophesieth of the Star of Jacob.

1 And when [1]Ba'laam saw that it [a]pleased the [2]Lord to bless Ĭs'ra-el, he went not, as at other times, to seek for enchantments, but he set his face toward the wilderness.

2 And [1]Bā'laam lifted up his eyes, and he saw Ĭs'ra-el abiding in his tents according to their tribes; and the [b]spirit of God came upon him.

3 And he took up his parable, and said, [1]Bā'laam the son of Bē'or hath said, and the man whose eyes are open hath said:

4 He hath said, which heard the words of God, which saw the vision of the Almighty, falling into a trance, but having his eyes open:

5 [3]How goodly are thy tents, O Jā'cob, and thy tabernacles, O Ĭs'ra-el!

6 As the valleys are they spread forth, as gardens by the river's side, as the trees of lign aloes [c]which the Lord hath planted, and as cedar trees beside the waters.

7 He shall pour the water out of his buckets, and his seed shall be in many waters, and his king shall be higher than Ā'găg, and his kingdom shall be exalted.

---

e. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints. (Ps. 116:15.) He shall redeem their soul from deceit and violence; and precious shall their blood be in his sight. (Ps. 72:14.)

f. Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them; not in the blood of bullocks; or of lambs, or of he-goats. (Is. 1:10, 11.)

g. Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah (10). To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the Lord; I am full of the burnt offering of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks; or of lambs, or of he goats. (Is. 1:10, 11.)

h. And he said, What is the thing that the Lord hath said unto thee? I pray thee hide it not from me; God do so to thee, and more also, if thou hide any thing from me of all the things that he said unto thee. (I Sam. 3:17.) See v. 19.

i. And also the Strength of Israel will not lie nor repent; for he is not a man, that he should repent. (I Sam. 15:29.) For I am the Lord, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed. (Mal. 3:6.) For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance. (Rom. 11:29.) In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began. (Titus 1:2.)

j. And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing. (Gen. 12:2.)

k. Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin. (Rom. 4:7, 8.) Keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation. (Ex. 34:7.) If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (I Jno. 1:9.) Even as I have seen, they that plow iniquity, and sow wickedness, reap the same. (Job 4:8.) Behold, he travaileth with iniquity, and hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood. (Ps. 7:14.) For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee; they shall withal be fitted in thy lips. (Prov. 22:18.) Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases. (Ps. 103:3.)

l. And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. (I Jno. 4:16.) Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. (Is. 55:3.) Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you; cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purify your hearts, ye double-minded. (Ja. 4:8.) The Lord is nigh to all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. He will fulfil the desire of them that fear him; he also will hear their cry, and will save them. (Ps. 145:18, 19.)

m. Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men! (Ps. 31:19.) For he did put his life in his hand, and slew the Philistine, and the Lord wrought a great salvation for all Israel; thou sawest it, and didst rejoice; wherefore then wilt thou sin against innocent blood, to slay David without a cause? (I Sam. 19:5.) And Saul said, There shall not a man be put to death this day; for today the Lord hath wrought salvation in Israel. (I Sam. 11:13.)

a. Therefore now let it please thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may continue for ever before thee; for thou, O Lord God, hath spoken it. And with thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed for ever. (II Sam. 7:29.) Now therefore let it please thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may be before thee for ever; for thou blesseth, O Lord, and it shall be blessed for ever. (I. Chr. 17:27.) This also shall please the Lord better than an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs. (Ps. 69:31.) When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him. (Prov. 16:7.) But without faith it is impossible to please him; for he that cometh to God must believe that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. (Heb. 11:6.)

b. And when they came thither to the hill, behold, a company of prophets met him; and the Spirit of God came upon him, and he prophesied among them. (I Sam. 10:10.) And Saul sent messengers to take David: and when they saw the company of the prophets prophesying, and Samuel standing as appointed over them, the Spirit of God was upon the messengers of Saul, and they also prophesied. (I Sam. 19:20.) And the Spirit of God came upon Azariah the son of Oded. (II Chr. 15:1.) For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit (8). To another a working of miracles; to another prophesy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues. (I Cor. 12:8, 10.)

c. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper. (Ps. 1:3.) For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when he cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. (Jer. 17:8.)

8 God brought him forth out of Ē'ġўpt: he hath as it were the strength of an unicorn: he shall eat up the nations his enemies, and shall break their bones, and pierce them through with his arrows.

9 He couched, he lay down as a lion, and as a great lion: who shall stir him up? [d]Blessed is he that blesseth thee, and cursed is he that curseth thee.

10 ¶ And Bā'lăk's anger was kindled against [1]Bā'laam, and he smote his hands together: and Bā'lăk said unto Bā'laam, I called thee to curse mine enemies, and, behold, thou hast altogether blessed them these three times.

11 Therefore now flee thou to thy place: I thought to promote thee unto great honour; but, lo, the Lord hath kept thee back from honour.

12 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lăk, Spake I not also to thy messengers which thou sentest unto me, saying,

13 If Bā'lăk would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the commandment of the Lord, to do either good or bad of mine own mind; but what the Lord saith, that will I speak?

14 And now, behold, I go unto my people: come therefore, and I will advertise thee what this people shall do to thy people in the latter days.

15 ¶ [4]And he took up his parable, and said, Bā'laam the son of Bē'or hath said, and the man whose eyes are open hath said:

16 He hath said, which heard the words of God, and knew the knowledge of the most High, which saw the vision of the Almighty, falling into a trance, but having his eyes open:

17 I shall see him, but not now: I shall behold him, but not nigh: there shall come a [e]Star out of Jā'cob, and a [f]Sceptre shall rise out of Ĭs'ra-el, and shall smite the corners of Mō'ab, and destroy all the children of Shĕth.

18 And [g]Ē'dom shall be a possession, Sē'ĭr also shall be a possession for his enemies; and Ĭs'ra-el shall do valiantly.

19 Out of Jā'cob shall come he that shall have dominion, and shall destroy him that remaineth of the city.

20 ¶ And when he looked on Ăm'a-lĕk, he took up his parable, and said, Ăm'a-lĕk was the first of the nations; but his latter end [h]shall be that he perish for ever.

21 And he looked on the Kĕn'ītes, and took up his parable, and said, Strong is thy dwellingplace, and thou puttest thy nest in a rock.

22 Nevertheless the Kĕn'īte shall be wasted, until Ās'shur shall carry thee away captive.

4. Vs. 15-24 record the fourth prophecy of Balaam. In these four prophecies of Balaam is gradually unfolded the divine purpose respecting Israel and his foes. In the first, is the denial of any ability to curse Jehovah's people. In the second, it is foretold that Israel will triumph over all her enemies. In the third, is a portrayal of the positive side of Israel's future. In the fourth, appear the names of the hostile nations, which will be conquered by Israel. Also a prediction of Israel's great prosperity.

Ch. 25. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—Balaam, having failed to induce Jehovah to withdraw his protection from Israel, now with Satanic cunning, plans the next step to strike at Israel's loyalty to Jehovah and moral purity of the people, believing that then Jehovah will abandon Israel. The daughters of Moab and Amalek are made the chief tempters. Thousands fall into the trap and perish by the judgments of God.

1. These plains are about seven miles east of the Jordan, and here the people were seduced into idolatry.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. For historical account of Moses, see 1, ch. 29, Deut.

4. Vs. 4-9 detail the account of the punishment of the idolatrous. That is, the judges were charged to convict and punish according to the law every apostate Israelite.

6. Vs. 10-13 detail the reward of Phinehas.

23 And he took up his parable, and said, Alas, who shall live when God doeth this!

24 And ships shall come from the coast of [i]Chĭt'tim, and shall afflict Ās'shur, and shall afflict Ē'bēr, and he also shall perish for ever.

25 And Bā'laam rose up, and went and returned to his place: and Bā'lăk also went his way.

CHAPTER 25.

1 Israel at Shittim commit whoredom and idolatry. 6 Phinehas killeth Zimri and Cozbi. 10 God giveth him an everlasting priesthood. 16 The Midianites are to be vexed.

1 And Ĭs'ra-el abode in [1]Shĭt'tim, and the people began to [a]commit whoredom with the daughters of Mō'ab.

2 And they called the people unto the sacrifices of their gods: and the people did eat, and [b]bowed down to their gods.

3 And Ĭs'ra-el joined himself unto Bā'al-pē'or: and the [c]anger of the [2]Lord was kindled against Ĭs'ra-el.

4 [4]And the [2]Lord said unto [3]Mō'şeş, Take all the heads of the people, and hang them up before the [2]Lord against the sun, [d]that the fierce [c]anger of the Lord may be turned away from Ĭs'ra-el.

5 And [3]Mō'şeş said unto the judges of Ĭs'ra-el, [e]Slay [5]ye every one his men that were joined unto Bā'al-pē'or.

6 ¶ And, behold, one of the children of Ĭs'ra-el came and brought unto his brethren a Mĭd'ĭ-an-īt-ish woman in the sight of Mō'şeş, and in the sight of all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, who were weeping before the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

7 And when Phĭn'e-has, the son of Ē-le-ā'zar, the son of Aâr'on the priest, saw it, he rose up from among the congregation, and took a javelin in his hand;

8 And he went after the man of Ĭs'ra-el into the tent, and thrust both of them through, the man of Ĭs'ra-el, and the woman through her belly. So the plague was stayed from the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

9 And [f]those that died in the plague were twenty and four thousand.

10 ¶ [6]And the [2]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

11 Phĭn'e-has, the son of Ē-le-ā'zar, the son of Aâr'on the priest, hath turned my wrath away from the children of Ĭs'ra-el, while he was zealous for my sake among them, that I consumed not the children of Ĭs'ra-el in my [g]jealousy.

d. Let people serve thee, and nations bow down to thee; be Lord over thy brethren, and let thy mother's sons bow down to thee; cursed be every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee. (Gen. 27:29.)

e. And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. (Dan. 2:44.) Saying, Where is he that is born king of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him. (Mat. 2:2.) I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star. (Rev. 22:16.)

f. The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. (Gen. 49:10.) The Lord shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies. (Ps. 110:2.) Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre. (Ps 45:6.)

g. And he put garrisons in Edom, throughout all Edom put he garrisons; and all they of Edom became David's servants. And the Lord preserved David whithersoever he went. (II Sam. 8:14.)

h. Now go and smite Amalek, and utterly destroy all that they have, and spare them not; but slay both man and woman, infant and suckling, ox and sheep, camel and ass. (I Sam. 15:3.) For the ships of Chittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant; so shall he do; he shall even return, and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant. (Dan. 11:30.)

Chapter 25.

a. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. (I Cor. 10:8.) But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication. (Rev. 2:14.)

b. See vs. 3, 4. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them; for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. (Ex. 20:5.) But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrificed, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God; and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils. (I Cor. 10:20.)

c. Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions; and the plague brake in upon them. (Ps. 106:29.) And the anger of the Lord was kindled against them; and he departed. (Num. 12:9.) And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon. (Jud. 10:7.) Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations of heaven moved and shook because he was wroth. (II Sam. 22:8.) Ephraim provoked him to anger most bitterly; therefore shall he leave his blood upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him. (Hos. 12:14.)

d. And there shall cleave nought of the cursed thing to thine hand: that the Lord may turn from the fierceness of his anger, and show thee mercy, and have compassion upon thee, and multiply thee, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers. (Dt. 13:17.)

e. And he said unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Put every man his sword by his side, and go in and out from gate to gate, throughout the camp, and slay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbor. (Ex. 32:27.)

f. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. (I Cor. 10:8.)

g. For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images. (Ps. 78:58.) For thou shalt worship no other god; for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God. (Ex. 34:14.) The Lord shall go forth as a mighty man, he shall stir up jealousy like a man of war; he shall cry, yea, roar; he shall prevail against his enemies. (Is. 42:13.) For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel. (Ezek. 38:19.)

12 Wherefore say, [h]Behold, I give unto him my covenant of peace:
13 And he shall have it, and his seed after him, even the covenant of [i]an everlasting priesthood; because he was zealous for his God, and made an [j]atonement for the children of Ĭs'ra-el.
14 Now the name of the Ĭs'ra-el-īte that was slain, even that was slain with the Mĭd'ī-an-īt-ish woman, was Zĭm'rī, the son of Sā'lu, a prince of a chief house among the Sĭm'e-on-ītes.
15 And the name of the Mĭd'ī-an-īt-ish woman that was slain was Cŏz'bī, the daughter of Zŭr; he was head over a people, and of a chief house in Mĭd'ī-an.
16 ¶ [7]And the [2]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
17 Vex the Mĭd'ī-an-ītes, and smite them:
18 For they [k]vex you with their wiles, wherewith they have beguiled you in the matter of Pē'or, and in the matter of Cŏz'bī, the daughter of a prince of Mĭd'ī-an, their sister, which was slain in the day of the plague for Pē'or's sake.

CHAPTER 26.

1 The sum of all Israel is taken in the plains of Moab. 52 The law of dividing among them the inheritance of the land. 57 The families and number of the Levites. 63 None were left of them which were numbered at Sinai, but Caleb and Joshua.

1 And it came to pass after the plague, that the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş and unto Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aâr'on the priest, saying,
2 [3]Take the sum of all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, from twenty years old and upward, throughout their father's house, all that are able to go to war in Ĭs'ra-el.
3 And [2]Mō'şeş and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest spake with them [a]in the plains of Mō'ab by Jor'dan near Jĕr'ī-chō, saying,
4 Take the sum of the people, from twenty years old and upward; as the [1]Lord commanded [2]Mō'şeş and the children of Ĭs'ra-el, which went forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt.
5 ¶ Reu'ben, the eldest son of Ĭs'ra-el: the children of Reu'ben; Hā'noch, of whom cometh the family of the Hā'noch-ītes: of Păl'lu, the family of the Păl'lu-ītes:
6 Of Hĕz'rŏn, the family of the Hĕz'ron-ītes: of Cär'mī, the family of the Cär'mītes.
7 These are the families of the Reu'ben-ītes: and they that were numbered of them were forty and three thousand and seven hundred and thirty.
8 And the sons of Păl'lu; E-lī'ab.
9 And the sons of E-lī-ab; Ne-mū'el, and Dā'than, and A-bī'răm. This is that Dā'than and A-bī'răm, which were famous in the congregation, who strove against Mō'şeş and against Aâr'on in the company of Kō'rah, when they strove against the Lord:
10 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up together with Kō'rah, when that company died, what time the fire devoured two hundred and fifty men: [b]and they became a sign.
11 Notwithstanding the [c]children of Kō'rah died not.
12 ¶ The sons of Sĭm'e-on after their families: of Ne-mū'el, the family of the Ne-mū'el-ītes: of Jā'min, the family of the Jā'min-ītes: of Jā'chin, the family of the Jā'chin-ītes:
13 Of Zē'rah, the family of the Zär'hītes: of Shā'ul, the family of the Shā'ul-ītes.
14 These are the families of the Sĭm'e-on-ītes, twenty and two thousand and two hundred.
15 ¶ The children of Găd after their families: of Zē'phon, the family of the Zē'phon-ītes: of Hăg'gī, the family of the Hăg'gītes: of Shu'nī, the family of the Shu'nītes:
16 Of Ōz'nī, the family of the Ōz'nītes: of Ē'rī, the family of the Ē'rītes:
17 Of Ā'rōd, the family of the Ā'rōd-ītes: of Ă-rē'lī, the family of the Ă-rē'lītes.
18 These are the families of the children of Găd according to those that were numbered of them, forty thousand and five hundred.
19 The sons of Jū'dah were Ēr and Ō'nan: and Ēr and Ō'nan died in the land of Cā'năan.
20 And the sons of Jū'dah after their families were; of Shē'lah, the family of the Shē'lan-ītes: of Phā'rĕz, the family of the Phär'zītes: of Zē'rah, the family of the Zär'hītes.
21 And the sons of Phā'rĕz were; of Hĕz'rŏn, the family of the Hĕz'ron-ītes: of Hā'mŭl, the family of the Hā'mŭl-ītes.
22 These are the families of Jū'dah according to those that were numbered of them, threescore and sixteen thousand and five hundred.
23 ¶ Of the sons of Ĭs'sa-char after their families: of Tō'lă, the family of the Tō'lă-ītes: of Pū'ă, the family of the Pū'nītes:
24 Of Jăsh'ŭb, the family of the Jăsh'ŭb-ītes: of Shĭm'rŏn, the family of the Shĭm'ron-ītes.
25 These are the families of Ĭs'sa-char according to those that were numbered of them, threescore and four thousand and three hundred.
26 ¶ Of the sons of Zĕb'u-lun after their families: of Sē'red, the family of the Sär'dītes: of Ē'lon, the family of the Ē'lon-ītes: of Jăh'lĕ-el, the family of the Jăh'lĕ-el-ītes.
27 These are the families of the Zĕb'u-lun-ītes according to those that were numbered of them, threescore thousand and five hundred.
28 ¶ [d]The sons of Jō'şeph after their families were Ma-năs'seh and Ē'phră-ĭm.
29 Of the sons of Ma-năs'seh: of Mā'chĭr,

7. Vs. 16-18 record the command given of war against Midian.

Ch. 26. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—In this ch. the second census of Israel is detailed, the statute relating to Divine Inheritance is published; also the fact that Caleb and Joshua are the only survivors of the Sinaitic census. This, perhaps, was one of the chief purposes in the enumeration at this time. It should be remembered that here there is an enumeration only of those who established families, all others being omitted, which, if remembered, produces harmony with Gen. 46.

1. Jehovah, the covenant name of God.

2. For historical account of Moses, see Dt. 29, note 1.

3. Vs. 2-51 detail the second census.

h. Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye see, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in; behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:1.)

i. And thou shalt anoint them, as thou didst anoint their father, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office; for their anointing shall surely be an everlasting priesthood throughout their generations. (Ex. 40:15.) For from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering; for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1:11.) Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ (5). But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light. (I Pet. 2:5, 9.) And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood (5), And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen. (Rev. 1:5, 6.) And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof; for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation (9). And hast made us unto our God kings and priests; and we shall reign on the earth. (Rev. 5:9, 10.)

j. See e, ch. 6, Num.

k. But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit; therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them. (Is. 63:10.) And grieve not the holy Spirit of God whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. (Eph. 4:30.) Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? (Heb. 10:29.)

Chapter 26.

a. See v. 63.

b. The censers of these sinners against their own souls, let them make them broad plates for a covering of the altar; for they offered them before the Lord, therefore they are hallowed; and they shall be a sign unto the children of Israel. (Num. 16:38.) And I will set my face against that man, and will make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am the Lord. (Ezek. 14:8.) Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. (I Cor. 10:6.) And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. (Jer. 24:9.)

c. The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. (Ezek. 18:20.)

d. And unto Joseph in the land of Egypt were born Manasseh and Ephraim, which Asenath the daughter of Potipherah priest of On bare unto him. (Gen. 46:20.)

the family of the Mā'chĭr-ītes: and Mā'chĭr begat Gĭl'e-ăd: of Gĭl'e-ăd come the family of the Gĭl'e-ăd-ītes.

30 These are the sons of Gĭl'e-ăd: of Je-ē'zĕr, the family of the Je-ē'zĕr-ītes: of Hē'lek, the family of the Hē'lek-ītes:

31 And of Ăs'rĭ-el, the family of the Ăs'rĭ-el-ītes: and of Shē'chem, the family of the Shē'chem-ītes:

32 And of She-mī'dà, the family of the She-mī'dà-ītes: and of Hē'phĕr, the family of the Hē'phĕr-ītes.

33 ¶ And Ze-lō'phe-hăd the son of Hē'phĕr had no sons, but daughters: and the names of the daughters of Ze-lō'phe-hăd were Mäh'lah, and Nō'ah, Hŏg'lah, Mĭl'cah, and Tĭr'zah.

34 These are the families of Ma-năs'seh, and those that were numbered of them, fifty and two thousand and seven hundred.

35 ¶ These are the sons of Ē'phrā'ĭm after their families: of Shu'the-lah, the family of the Shu'thal-hītes: of Bĕ'chĕr, the family of the Băch'rītes: of Tā'hăn, the family of the Tā'hăn-ītes.

36 And these are the sons of Shu'the-lah: of Ē'răn, the family of the Ē'răn-ītes.

37 These are the families of the sons of Ē'phrā-ĭm according to those that were numbered of them, thirty and two thousand and five hundred. These are the sons of Jō'seph after their families.

38 ¶ The sons of Bĕn'ja-min after their families: of Bē'là, the family of the Bē'là-ītes: of Ăsh'bel, the family of the Ăsh'bel-ītes: of A-hī'ram, the family of the A-hī'ram-ītes:

39 Of Shu'pham, the family of the Shu'pham-ītes: of Hū'pham, the family of the Hū'pham-ītes.

40 And the sons of Bē'là were Ärd and Nā'a-man: of Ärd, the family of the Ärd'ītes: and of Nā'a-man, the family of the Nā'a-mītes.

41 These are the sons of Bĕn'ja-min after their families: and they that were numbered of them were forty and five thousand and six hundred.

42 ¶ These are the sons of Dăn after their families: of Shu'ham, the family of the Shu'ham-ītes. These are the families of Dăn after their families.

43 All the families of the Shu'ham-ītes, according to those that were numbered of them, were threescore and four thousand and four hundred.

44 ¶ Of the children of Ăsh'ĕr after their families: of Jĭm'nà, the family of the Jĭm'nītes: of Jes'u-ī, the family of the Jes'u-ītes: of Be-rī'ah, the family of the Be-rī'ītes.

45 Of the sons of Be-rī'ah: of Hē'bĕr, the family of the Hē'bĕr-ītes: of Măl'chĭ-el, the family of the Măl'chĭ-el-ītes.

46 And the name of the daughter of Ăsh'ĕr was Sā'rah.

47 These are the families of the sons of Ăsh'ĕr according to those that were numbered of them; who were fifty and three thousand and four hundred.

48 ¶ Of the sons of Năph'ta-lī after their families: of Jäh'zĕ-el, the family of the Jäh'zĕ-el-ītes: of Gū'nī, the family of the Gū'nītes:

4. A summing up of the two censuses reveals the following table, which shows a decrease, probably brought about by the judgment strokes of Jehovah:

	Decrease.
Reuben	2,770
Simeon	37,100
Gad	5,150
Judah	1,900
Issachar	9,900
Zebulun	3,100
Manasseth	20,500
Ephraim	8,000
Dan	1,700
Asur	11,900
Naphtali	8,000

5. Vs. 51-56 detail the general directions for the allotment of Canaan.

6. Vs. 57-62 record the census of the Levites. As in the first enumeration, the census of the Levites is taken separately from the remainder of the Israelites, thus showing their non-military, non-secular and semi-priestly character.

7. Vs. 63-65 call to notice the fact that out of the total number of 603,550, only two (Caleb and Joshua) were alive, as has previously been announced by Jehovah, to enter the promised land.

Ch. 27. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—This ch. presents a supplementary statute concerning the inheritance of brotherless daughters; also the selection of Joshua as successor to Moses.

1. Vs. 1-11 give the law of inheritance made necessary by the occasion of Zelophehad's daughters.

49 Of Jē'zĕr, the family of the Jē'zĕr-ītes: of Shĭl'lem, the family of the Shĭl'lem-ītes.

50 These are the families of Năph'ta-lī according to their families: and they that were numbered of them were forty and five thousand and four hundred.

51 [5]These were the numbered of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, six hundred thousand and a [4]thousand seven hundred and thirty.

52 ¶And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

53 Unto these the land shall be divided for an inheritance according to the number of names.

54 To many thou shalt give the more inheritance, and to few thou shalt give the less inheritance: to every one shall his inheritance be given according to those that were numbered of him.

55 Notwithstanding the land shall be divided [e]by lot: according to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit.

56 [6]According to the lot shall the possession thereof be divided between many and few.

57 ¶ And these are they that were numbered of the Lē'vītes after their families: of Gēr'shŏn, the family of the Gēr'shŏn-ītes: of Kō'hath, the family of the Kō'hath-ītes: of Me-rā'rī, the family of the Me-rā'rītes.

58 These are the families of the Lē'vītes: the family of the Lĭb'nītes, the family of the Hē'bron-ītes, the family of the Mäh'lītes, the family of the Mū'shītes, the family of the Kō'rath-ītes. And Kō'hath begat Ăm'răm.

59 And the name of Ăm'răm's wife was [f]Jŏch'e-bed, the daughter of Lē'vī, whom her mother bare to Lē'vī in Ē'gўpt: and she bare unto Ăm'răm Aâr'on and Mō'şeş, and Mĭr'ĭ-am their sister.

60 And unto Aâr'on was born Nā'dăb, and A-bī-hū, Ē-le-ā'zar, and Ĭth'a-mär.

61 And Nā'dăb and [g]A-bī'hū died, when they offered strange fire before the Lord.

62 And those that were numbered of them were twenty and three thousand, all males from a month old and upward: [h]for they were not numbered among the children of Ĭs'ra-el, because there was [i]no inheritance given them among the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

63 ¶ [7]These are they that were numbered by Mō'şeş and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, who numbered the children of Ĭs'ra-el in the plains of Mō'ab by Jor'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

64 But among these there was not a man of them whom Mō'şeş and Aâr'on the priest numbered, when they numbered the children of Ĭs'ra-el in the wilderness of Sĭ'nāi.

65 For the [1]Lord had said of them, They shall [j]surely die in the wilderness. And there was not left a man of them, save Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh, and Jŏsh'u-à the son of Nŭn.

CHAPTER 27.

1 The daughters of Zelophehad sue for an inheritance. 6 The law of inheritance. 12 Moses, being told of his death, sueth for a successor. 18 Joshua is appointed to succeed him.

1 Then [1]came the daughters of Ze-lō'phe-

e. And Moses commanded the children of Israel, saying, This is the land which ye shall inherit by lot, which the Lord commanded to give unto the nine tribes, and to the half tribe. (Num. 34:13.) By lot was their inheritance, as the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, for the nine tribes, and for the half-tribe. (Josh. 14:2.)

f. And he looked this way and that way, and when he saw that there was no man, he slew the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand. (Ex. 2:12.) And Amram took him Jochebed his father's sister to wife; and she bare him Aaron and Moses: and the years of the life of Amram were an hundred and thirty and seven years. (Ex. 6:20.)

g. And Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, took either of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not. And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the Lord. (Lev. 10:1, 2.) And Nadab and Abihu died before the Lord, when they offered strange fire before the Lord, in the wilderness of Sinai, and they had no children: and Eleazar and Ithamar ministered in the priest's office in the sight of Aaron their father. (Num. 3:4.) And Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the priest's office. (I Chr. 24:2.)

h. Only thou shalt not number the tribe of Levi, neither take thee some of them among the children of Israel. (Num. 1:49.)

i. And the Lord spake unto Aaron, Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any part among them: I am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Israel. (Num. 18:20.) Wherefore Levi hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren; the Lord is his inheritance, according as the Lord thy God promised him. (Dt. 10:9.) Only unto the tribe of Levi he gave none inheritance; the sacrifices of the Lord God of Israel made by fire are their inheritance, as he said unto them. (Josh. 13:14.)

j. Say unto them, As truly as I live, saith the Lord, as ye have spoken in mine ears, so will I do to you. (Num. 14:28.) For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled. (Ps. 90:7.) But with many of them God was not well pleased; for they were hăd, the son of Hē'phĕr, the son of Gĭl'e-ăd, the son of Mā'chĭr, the son of Ma-năs'seh, of the families of Ma-năs'seh the son of Jō'şeph: and these are the names of his daughters; Mäh'lah, Nō'ah, and Hōg'lah, and Mĭl'cah, and Tĭr'zah.

2 And they stood before Mō'şeş, and before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and before the princes and all the congregation, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, saying,

3 Our father died in the wilderness, and he was not in the company of them that gathered themselves together against the [2]Lord in the company of Kō'rah; but [a]died in his own sin, and had no sons.

4 Why should the name of our father be done away from among his family, because he hath no son? Give unto us therefore a possession among the brethren of our father.

5 And Mō'şeş brought their cause before the Lord.

6 ¶And the [2]Lord spake unto Mōş'eş, saying,

7 The daughters of Ze-lō'phe-hăd speak right: thou shalt surely give them a possession of an inheritance among their father's brethren; and thou shalt cause the inheritance of their father to pass unto them.

8 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, If a man die, and have no son, then ye shall cause his inheritance to pass unto his daughter.

9 And if he have no daughter, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his brethren.

10 And if he have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his father's brethren.

11 And if his father have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his kinsman that is next to him of his family, and he shall possess it: and it shall be unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el a [b]statute of judgment, as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

12 ¶ [3]And the [2]Lord said unto Mō'şeş, [c]Get thee up into this mount Āb'ă-rim, and see the land which I have given unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

13 And when thou hast seen it, thou also shalt be gathered unto thy people, as Aâr'on thy brother was gathered.

14 For ye [d]rebelled against my commandment in the desert of Zĭn, in the strife of the congregation, to sanctify me at the water before their eyes: that is the water of Mĕr'ĭ-bah in Kā'desh in the wilderness of Zĭn.

15 ¶ [4]And Mō'şeş spake unto the Lord, saying,

16 Let the [2]Lord, the [e]God of the spirits of [5]all flesh, set a man over the congregation, 17 Which [f]may go out before them, and which may go in before them, and which may lead them out, and which may bring them in; that the congregation of the Lord be not as sheep which have no shepherd.

18 ¶ And the Lord said unto Mō'şeş, Take thee Jŏsh'u-à the son of Nŭn, a man [g]in whom is the spirit, and lay thine hand upon him;

19 And set him before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and before all the congregation; and [h]give him a charge in their sight.

20 And [h]thou shalt put some of thine honour upon him, that all the congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el [i]may be obedient.

21 And he shall stand before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, who shall ask counsel for him [j]after the judgment of Ū'rim before the Lord: at his word shall they go out, and at his word they shall come in, both he, and all the children of Ĭs'ra-el with him, even all the congregation.

22 And Mō'şeş did as the Lord commanded him: and he took Jŏsh'u-à, and set him before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and before all the congregation:

23 And he laid his hands upon him, and gave [h]him a charge, as the Lord commanded by the hand of Mō'şeş.

CHAPTER 28.

1 Offerings are to be observed. 3 The continual burnt offering. 9 The offering on the sabbath, 11 on the new moons. 16 at the passover, 26 in the day of firstfruits.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Mō'şeş, saying,

2 Command the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, My [4]offering, and my [5]bread for my [6]sacrifices made by fire, for a sweet savour unto me, shall ye observe to offer unto me in their due [7]season.

3 And thou shalt say unto them, This is the offering made by fire which ye shall offer unto the Lord; [a]two lambs of the first year without spot [8]day by day, for a [10]continual [b]burnt [9]offering.

4 The one [a]lamb shalt thou offer in the morning, and the other lamb shalt thou offer at even;

5 And a tenth part of an [11]ephah of flour for a meat [12]offering, mingled with the fourth part of an [13]hin [c]of beaten oil.

6 It is a continual [b]burnt [9]offering, which was ordained in mount Sĭ'nāi for a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the [1]Lord.

7 And the drink [14]offering thereof shall be the fourth part of an [13]hin for the one lamb: in the holy place shalt thou cause the strong wine to be poured unto the [1]Lord for a drink offering.

8 And the [a]other lamb shalt thou offer at even: as the meat [12]offering of the morning, and as the drink [14]offering thereof, thou shalt offer it, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the [1]Lord.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Vs. 12-14 contain the warning Moses received of his death.

4. Vs. 15-23 detail the public consecration of Joshua as the successor to Moses.

5. Jehovah is here styled "the God of the spirits of all flesh," to teach the people his perfect acquaintance with the mental, moral and spiritual characteristics of men and, therefore, his ability and right to select the successor to the leadership of Israel. The doctrine of distinction between mind and matter is clearly taught here by Moses.

Ch. 28. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—Israel is now soon to enter the promised land, and will, therefore, have opportunity to erect a stationary tabernacle and to provide ample facilities for the many festal offerings provided by the statutes. Knobel suggests, "It was very fitting that this law should be issued a short time before the advance into Canaan; for it was there first, that the Israelites were in a position to carry out the sacrificial worship in its full extent, and to observe all the sacrificial and festal laws." Special emphasis is here given that the daily sacrifices are never to be neglected, even on the days when the yearly sacrifices occur.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. For historical account of Moses, see Dt. 29, note 1.

4. Oblation, R. V.

5. Food, R. V.

6. Offerings, R. V.

7. That is, the festal times of Jehovah, which were to be sanctified to his service. Such as the Sabbath, the daily and yearly feasts.

8. That is, in a day.

9. The sacrifice, to be completely burned, as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension, to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

10. Offered every morning and evening, at the door of the tabernacle, where Jehovah met and communed with his people. This continual burnt sacrifice ceased at the destruction of Jerusalem.

11. About one-tenth of a bushel.

12. That is, meal or food offering.

13. One hin equals one and one-fourth gallons.

14. An offering of joy and gratitude.

15. Vs. 9, 10 relate to the Sabbath offering.

overthrown in the wilderness (5). Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. (I. Cor. 10:5, 6.)

Chapter 27.

a. I the Lord have said, I will surely do it unto all this evil congregation, that are gathered together against me; in this wilderness they shall be consumed and there they shall die. (Num. 14:35.) For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. (Rom. 6:23.) And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil. (Gen. 2:9.)

b. So these things shall be for a statute of judgment unto you throughout your generations in all your dwellings. (Num. 35:29.)

c. Get thee up into the top of Pisgah, and lift up thine eyes westward, and northward, and southward, and eastward, and behold it with thine eyes; for thou shalt not go over this Jordan. (Dt. 3:27.)

d. Also the Lord was angry with me for your sakes, saying, Thou also shalt not go in thither. (Dt. 1:37.) They angered him also at the waters of strife, so that it went ill with Moses for their sake. (Ps. 106:32.)

e. And they fell upon their faces, and said, O God, the God of the spirits of all flesh, shall one man sin, and wilt thou be wroth with all the congregation? (Num. 16:22.)

f. Give me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people; for who can judge this thy people, that is so great? (II Chr. 1:10.)

g. And Pharaoh said unto his servants, Can we find such a one as this is, a man in whom the Spirit of God is? (Gen. 41:38.) And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he judged Israel, and went out to war. And the Lord delivered Chushanrishathaim, king of Mesopotamia, into his hand; and his hand prevailed against Chushanrishathaim. (Jud. 3:10.)

h. And Moses called unto Joshua, and said unto him in the sight of all Israel, Be strong and of a good courage; for thou must go with this people unto the land which the Lord hath sworn unto their fathers to give them; and thou shalt cause them to inherit it. (Dt. 31:7.) And the Spirit of the Lord will come upon thee, and thou shalt prophesy with them, and shalt be turned into another man. (I Sam. 10:6.) But charge Joshua, and encourage him, and strengthen him; for he shall go over before this people, and he shall cause them to inherit the land which thou shalt see. (Dt. 3:28.) Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people. (Is. 55:4.)

i. And they answered Joshua, saying, All that thou commandest us we will do, and whithersoever thou sendest us we will go. (Josh. 1:16.)

j. And thou shalt put in the breastplate of judgment, the Urim and the Thummim; and they shall be upon Aaron's heart, when he goeth in before the Lord; and Aaron shall bear the judgment of the children of Israel upon his heart before the Lord continually. (Ex. 28:30.)

Chapter 28.

a. See f, ch. 6, Numbers.

b. For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

c. And with the one lamb a tenth deal of flour mingled with the fourth part of an hin of beaten oil; and the fourth part of an hin of wine for a drink offering. (Ex. 29:40.)

the first year without spot, and two tenth deals of flour for a meat [12]offering, mingled with oil, and the drink [14]offering thereof:

10 This is the [e]burnt [9]offering of every sabbath, beside the [b]continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.

11 ¶ [16]And in the [f]beginnings of your months ye shall offer a burnt offering unto the [1]Lord; two young bullocks, and one ram, seven [a]lambs of the first year without spot;

12 And three tenth deals of flour for a meat [12]offering, mingled with oil, for one bullock; and two tenth deals of flour for a meat [12]offering, mingled with oil, for one ram;

13 And a several tenth deal of flour mingled with oil for a meat [12]offering unto [a]one lamb; for [b]a burnt [9]offering of a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the [1]Lord.

14 And their drink offerings shall be half an hin of wine unto a bullock, and the third part of an hin unto a ram, and a fourth part of an hin unto a lamb: this is the burnt offering of every month throughout the months of the year.

15 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering unto the Lord shall be offered, beside the [b]continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.

16 [17]And in the [g]fourteenth day of the first month is the passover of the Lord.

17 And in the [h]fifteenth day of this month is the feast: seven days shall unleavened bread be eaten.

18 In the first day shall be an holy convocation; ye shall do no manner of servile work therein:

19 But ye shall offer a sacrifice made by fire for a [b]burnt [9]offering unto the Lord; two young bullocks, and one ram, and seven [a]lambs of the first year: [i]they shall be unto you without blemish:

20 And their meat [12]offering shall be of flour mingled with oil: three tenth deals shall ye offer for a bullock, and two tenth deals for a ram;

21 A several tenth deal shalt thou offer for [a]every lamb, throughout the seven lambs:

22 And one [j]goat for a sin [19]offering, to make an atonement for you.

23 Ye shall offer these beside the [b]burnt offering in the morning, which is for a continual burnt offering.

24 After this manner ye shall offer daily, throughout the seven days, the meat of the sacrifice made by fire, of a [k]sweet savour unto the [1]Lord: it shall be offered beside the continual [l]burnt [9]offering, and his drink [14]offering.

25 And on the [m]seventh day ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work.

26 ¶ [18]Also in the day of the [n]firstfruits, when ye bring a new meat offering unto the Lord, after your weeks be out, ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work:

27 But ye shall offer the [b]burnt [9]offering for a sweet savour unto the [1]Lord; [o]two young bullocks, one ram, seven lambs of the first year;

28 And their meat [12]offering of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals unto one bullock, two tenth deals unto one ram,

29 A several tenth deal unto one lamb, throughout the [a]seven lambs;

30 And one kid of the goats, to make [j]an atonement for you.

31 Ye shall offer them beside the [10]continual [l]burnt [9]offering, and his meat offering, (they shall be unto you without blemish) and their drink offerings.

CHAPTER 29.

1 The offering at the feast of trumpets, 7 at the day of afflicting their souls, 13 and on the eight days of the feast of tabernacles.

1 And [1]in the seventh month, on the first day of the month, ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work: it is a day of blowing the trumpets unto you.

2 And ye shall offer a [a]burnt offering for a sweet savour unto the [4]Lord; one young bullock, one ram, and seven [b]lambs of the first year without blemish:

3 And their meat [6]offering shall be of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals for a bullock, and two tenth deals for a ram,

4 And one tenth deal for one lamb, throughout the [b]seven lambs:

5 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering, to make [c]an atonement for you:

6 Beside the [a]burnt [5]offering of the month, and his meat [5]offering, and the daily burnt offering, and his meat offering, and their drink offerings, according unto their manner, for a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the [4]Lord.

7 ¶ [2]And [d]ye shall have on the tenth day of this seventh month an holy convocation; [e]and ye shall afflict your souls: ye shall not do any work therein:

8 But ye shall offer a [a]burnt [5]offering unto the [4]Lord for a sweet savour; one young bullock, one ram, and seven [b]lambs of the first year; they shall be unto you without [f]blemish:

16. Vs. 11-15 detail the law of offerings at the new moon.

17. Vs. 16-25 detail the law of offerings at the passover.

18. Vs. 26-31 detail the offering of the feast of First Fruits.

Ch. 29. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—Ch. 29 is simply a continuation of ch. 28, and there is no real reason for its separation. It is devoted to a description of the Feast of Trumpets, the Feast of Tabernacles and the day of Atonement.

1. Vs. 1-6 detail the offerings at the feast of trumpets.

2. Vs. 7 11 detail the offerings of the day of Atonement.

3. Vs. 12-40 detail the Feast of Tabernacles.

4. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

5. See 9, ch. 28.

6. That is, meal or food offering.

e. And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer unto the Lord in the sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish. (Ezek. 46:4.)

f. For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you. (II Cor. 2:4.)

g. In the 14th day of the 1st month at even is the Lord's passover. (Lev. 23:5.) Observe the month of Abib, and keep the passover unto the Lord thy God; for in the month of Abib the Lord thy God brought thee forth out of Egypt by night. (Dt. 16:1.)

h. And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the feast of unleavened bread unto the Lord; seven days ye must eat unleavened bread. (Lev. 23:6.)

i. But whatsoever hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer; for it shall not be acceptable for you. (Lev. 22:20.) And if there be any blemish therein, as if it be lame, or blind, or have any ill blemish, thou shalt not sacrifice it unto the Lord thy God. (Dt. 15:21.)

j. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh. (Rom. 8:3.) Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. (Heb. 9:12.) For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the other things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually, make the comers thereunto perfect. (Heb. 10:1.)

k. For we are unto God a sweet savor of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish. (II Cor 2:15.) And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savor. (Eph. 5:2.)

l. This shall be a continual burnt offering throughout your generations at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord; where I will meet you, to speak there unto thee. (Ex. 29:42.)

m. Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, and in the seventh day shall be a feast to the Lord. (Ex. 13:6.) But ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord seven days; in the seventh day is an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work therein. (Lev. 23:8.)

n. And the feast of harvest, the first-fruits of thy labors, which thou hast sown in the field; and the feast of ingathering, which is in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labors out of the field. (Ex. 23:16.) Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.)

o. And ye shall offer with the bread seven lambs without blemish of the first year, and one young bullock, and two rams; they shall be for a burnt offering unto the Lord, with their meat offering and their drink offerings, even an offering made by fire, of sweet savor unto the Lord (18). Then ye shall sacrifice one kid of the goat for a sin offering, and two lambs of the first year for a sacrifice of peace offerings. (Lev. 23:18, 19.)

Chapter 29.

a. For the purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

b. See f, ch. 6, Numbers.

c. See e, ch. 6, Numbers.

d. And this shall be a statute for ever unto you: that in the seventh month, on the 10th day of the month, ye shall afflict your souls, and do no work at all, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger that sojourneth among you. (Lev. 16:29.) Also on the 10th day of this seventh month there shall be a day of atonement; it shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall afflict your souls, and offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord. (Lev. 23:27.)

e. But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth; I humbled my soul with fasting; and my prayer returned into mine own bosom. (Ps. 35:13.) Is it such a fast that I have chosen? a day for a man to afflict his soul? is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the Lord? (Is. 58:5.)

f. Thou shalt not sacrifice unto the Lord thy God any bullock or sheep wherein is blemish, or any evil-favoredness for that is an abomination unto the Lord thy God. (Dt. 17:1,) 9 And their meat [6]offering shall be of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals to a bullock, and two tenth deals to one ram,

10 A several tenth deal for one lamb, throughout the [b]seven lambs:

11 One kid of the goats for a sin offering; beside the sin offering of [c]atonement, and the continual burnt offering, and the meat offering of it, and their drink offerings.

12 ¶ [g]And on the [d]fifteenth day of the seventh month ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work, and ye shall keep a feast unto the [4]Lord seven days:

13 And [h]ye shall offer a burnt [5]offering, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the [4]Lord; thirteen young bullocks, two rams, and fourteen [b]lambs of the first year; they shall be without blemish:

14 And their meat [6]offering shall be of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals unto every bullock of the thirteen bullocks, two tenth deals to each ram of the two rams,

15 And a several tenth deal to each lamb of the [b]fourteen lambs:

16 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering; beside the continual [a]burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering.

17 ¶ And on the second day ye shall offer twelve young bullocks, two rams, fourteen [b]lambs of the first year without spot:

18 And their meat [6]offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the [b]lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:

19 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, and the meat offering thereof, and their drink offerings.

20 ¶ And on the third day eleven bullocks, two rams, fourteen lambs of the first year without blemish;

21 And their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:

22 And one goat for a sin [7]offering; beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drink offering.

23 ¶ And on the fourth day ten bullocks, two rams, and fourteen [b]lambs of the first year without blemish:

24 Their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the [b]lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:

25 And one kid of the goats for a sin [7]offering; beside the continual [a]burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering.

26 ¶ And on the fifth day nine bullocks, two rams, [b]and fourteen lambs of the first year without spot:

27 And their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the [b]lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:

7. See 19, ch. 28.

Ch. 30. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—Ch. 30 should be read in connection with Lev. 27, as in that ch. the object of vows, the rules respecting them and the mode of discharging them, is stated, this ch. merely emphasizing and specializing their force and renunciations.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. That is, a religious promise unto Jehovah.

3. That is, profane his word, neither be slack or allow needless delay in paying.

4. Vs. 3-5 detail the vow of a maid.

5. Not in childhood, but in youth. The Hebrew canons define a youth thus, "A young man twelve years and one day. A daughter, eleven years and one day."

28 And one goat for a sin [7]offering; beside the [a]continual burnt [5]offering, and his meat [6]offering, and his drink offering.

29 ¶ And on the sixth day eight [b]bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year without blemish:

30 And their meat [6]offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:

31 And one goat for a sin [7]offering; beside the [a]continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering.

32 ¶ And on the seventh day seven bullocks, two rams, and fourteen [b]lambs of the first year without blemish:

33 And their meat [6]offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the [b]lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:

34 And one goat for a sin [7]offering; beside the [a]continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering.

35 ¶ On the eighth day ye shall have a [i]solemn assembly: ye shall do no servile work therein:

36 But ye shall offer a [a]burnt offering, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the [4]Lord: one bullock, one ram, seven [b]lambs of the first year without blemish:

37 Their meat [6]offering and their drink offerings for the bullock, for the ram, and for the [b]lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:

38 And one goat for a sin [7]offering; beside the [a]continual burnt [5]offering, and his meat [6]offering, and his drink offering.

39 These things ye shall do unto the [4]Lord in your set feasts, beside your vows, and your freewill offerings, for your burnt [5]offerings, and for your meat [6]offerings, and for your drink offerings, and for your peace offerings.

40 And Mō'şeş told the children of Ĭs'ra-el according to all that the [4]Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

CHAPTER 30.

1 Vows are not to be broken. 3 The exception of a maid's vow. 6 Of a wife's. 9 Of a widow's, or her that is divorced.

1 And Mō'şeş spake unto the heads of the tribes concerning the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, This is the thing which the [1]Lord hath commanded.

2 If a [a]man [2]vow a vow unto the [1]Lord, or [b]swear an oath to bind his soul with a bond; he shall not break his word, [3]he shall [c]do according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth.

3 [4]If a woman also vow a vow unto the [1]Lord, and bind herself by a bond being in her father's house in [5]her youth;

4 And her father hear her vow, and her bond wherewith she hath bound her soul, and her father shall hold his peace at her: then all her [c]vows shall stand, and every bond wherewith she hath bound her soul shall stand.

g. Thou shalt observe the feast of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy corn and thy wine. (Dt. 16:13.) In the seventh month, in the 15th day of the month, shall he do the like in the feast of the seven days, according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meat offering, and according to the oil. (Ezek. 45:25.)

h. They kept also the feast of tabernacles, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt offerings by number, according to the custom, as the duty of every day required. (Ezra. 3:4.) And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering, often times the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins (11). But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God (12). From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool (13). For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. (Heb. 10:11-14.)

i. And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek; and his rest shall be glorious. (Is. 11:10.) In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink. (Jno. 7:37.) There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God. (Heb. 4:9.)

Chapter 30.

a. Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When a man shall make a singular vow, the person shall be for the Lord by thy estimation. (Lev. 27:2.) When thou shalt vow a vow unto the Lord thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it; for the Lord thy God will surely require it of thee; and it would be sin in thee. (Dt. 23:21.) When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools; pay that which thou hast vowed. (Ecc. 5:4.)

b. Or if a soul swear, pronouncing with his lips to do evil, or to do good, whatsoever it be that a man shall pronounce with an oath, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty in one of these. (Lev. 5:4.) And the king was sorry; nevertheless, for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her. (Math. 14:9.) And they came to the chief priests and elders and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul. (Acts 23:14.)

c. Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt pay thy vows. (Job 22:27.) My praise shall be of thee in the great congregation; I will pay my vows before them that fear him. (Ps. 22:25.) Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the Most High. (Ps. 50:14.) I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all his people. (Ps. 116:14.) Behold upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! O Judah, keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows; for the wicked shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off. (Nah. 1:15.)

5 But if her father disallow her in the day that he heareth; not any of her vows, or of her bonds wherewith she hath bound her soul, shall stand: and the Lord shall forgive her, because her father disallowed her.

6 [6]And if she had at all an husband, when she vowed, or uttered ought out of her lips, wherewith she bound her soul;

7 And her husband heard it, and held his peace at her in the day that he heard it: then her [c]vows shall stand, and her bonds wherewith she bound her soul shall stand.

8 But if her husband [d]disallowed her on the day that he heard it; then he shall make her vow which she vowed, and that which she uttered with her lips, wherewith she bound her soul, of none effect: and the Lord shall forgive her.

9 [7]But every vow of a widow, and of her that is divorced, wherewith they have bound their souls, shall stand against her.

10 [8]And if she vowed in her husband's house, or bound her soul by a bond with an oath;

11 And her husband heard it, and held his peace at her, and disallowed her not: then all her vows shall stand, and every bond wherewith she bound her soul shall stand.

12 But if her husband hath utterly made them void on the day he heard them; then whatsoever proceeded out of her lips concerning her vows, or concerning the bond of her soul, shall not stand: her husband hath made them void; and the Lord shall forgive her.

13 Every vow, and every binding oath to afflict the soul, her husband may establish it, or her husband may make it void.

14 But if her husband altogether hold his peace at her [9]from day to day; then he establisheth all her vows, or all her bonds, which are upon her: he confirmeth them, because he held his peace at her in the day that he heard them.

15 But if he shall any ways make them void after that he hath heard them; then he shall bear her iniquity.

16 These are the statutes, which the Lord commanded Mō'şeş, between a man and his wife, between the father and his daughter, being yet in her youth in her father's house.

CHAPTER 31.

1 The Midianites are spoiled, and Balaam slain. 19 How the soldiers, with their captives and spoil, are to be purified. 25 The proportion whereby the prey is to be divided. 48 The voluntary oblation unto the treasury of the Lord.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, [2]saying,

2 [a]Avenge the children of Īs'ra-el of the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ītes: afterward shalt thou be gathered unto thy people.

3 And Mō'şeş spake unto the people, saying, Arm some of yourselves unto the war, and let them go against the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ītes, and [a]avenge the Lord of Mĭd'ĭ-an.

4 Of every tribe a thousand, throughout all the tribes of Īs'ra-el, shall ye send to the war.

5 So there were delivered out of the thousands of Īs'ra-el, a thousand of every tribe, twelve thousand armed for war.

6 And Mō'şeş sent them to the war, a thousand of every tribe, them and Phĭn'e-has the son of Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, to the war, with the holy instruments, and the trumpets to blow in his hand.

7 And they warred against the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ītes, as the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş; and [b]they slew all the males.

8 And they slew the kings of Mĭd'ĭ-an, beside the rest of them that were slain; namely, Ē'vĭ, and Rē'kem, and Zûr, and Hûr, and Rē'bà, five kings of Mĭd'ĭ-an: [c]Bā'laam also the son of Bē'or they slew with the sword.

9 And the children of Īs'ra-el took all the women of Mĭd'ĭ-an captives, and their little ones, and took the spoil of all their cattle, and all their flocks, and all their goods.

10 And they burnt all their cities wherein they dwelt, and all their goodly castles, with fire.

11 And they took all the spoil, and all the prey, both of men and of beasts.

12 And they brought the captives, and the prey, and the spoil, unto Mō'şeş, and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and unto the congregation of the children of Īs'ra-el, unto the camp at the plains of Mō'ab, which are by Jor'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

13 ¶ [3]And Mō'şeş, and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and all the princes of the congregation, went forth to meet them without the camp.

14 And Mō'şeş was wroth with the officers of the host, with the captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, which came from the battle.

15 And Mō'şeş said unto them, Have ye saved all the women alive?

16 Behold, these caused the children of Īs'ra-el, through the counsel of Bā'laam, to commit trespass against the [1]Lord in the matter of Pē'or, and there was a plague among the congregation of the [1]Lord.

17 Now therefore [d]kill every male among the little ones, and kill every woman that hath known man by lying with him.

18 But all the women children, that have not known a man by lying with him, keep alive for yourselves.

19 [4]And do ye abide without the camp seven days: whosoever hath killed any person, and whosoever hath touched any slain, purify both yourselves and your captives on the third day, and on the seventh day.

20 And purify all your raiment, and all that is made of skins, and all work of goats' hair, and all things made of wood.

21 ¶ And Ē-le-ā'zar the priest said unto the men of war which went to the battle, This is the ordinance of the law which the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş;

22 Only the gold, and the silver, the brass, the iron, the tin, and the lead,

23 Every thing that may abide the fire, ye

7. V. 9 specializes the vow of a widow or divorced wife; both must be paid.

8. Vs. 10-16 detail the vow of the wife.

9. The husband's power to render the wife's vow null and void must be exercised the day he hears of it, else his power expires.

Ch. 31. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—This ch. treats of the conquests of eastern Palestine, thus executing the sentence of Midian, pronounced in ch. 25:17. The proclaiming of this war, just before the rehearsal of the law, was the last administrative act of Moses, his death occurring soon after.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. Vs. 2-12 detail an account of the conquering of Midian and death of Balaam.

3. Vs. 13-18 relate to the treatment of prisoners.

4. Vs. 19-24 relate to the ceremonial cleansing of the soldiers, prisoners and spoils.

d. Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception. In sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee. (Gen. 3:16.) The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband; and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife. (I Cor. 7:4.) Let your women keep silence in the churches; for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law. (I Cor. 14:34.) Wives, submit yourselves unto your husbands, as it is fit in the Lord. (Col. 3:18.) Likewise ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives. (I Pet. 3:1.)

Chapter 31.

a. Vex the Midianites, and smite them. (Num. 25:17.) To me belongeth vengeance and recompence; their foot shall slide in due time; for the day of their calamity is at hand, and the things that shall come upon them make haste (35). Rejoice, O ye nations, with his people; for he will avenge the blood of his servants, and will render vengeance to his adversaries, and will be merciful unto his land, and to his people. (Dt. 32:35, 43.) O Lord God, to whom vengeance belongeth; O God, to whom vengeance belongeth, show thyself. (Ps. 94:1.)

b. And when the Lord thy God hath delivered it into thine hands, thou shalt smite every male thereof with the edge of the sword. (Dt. 20:13.) And this is the thing that ye shall do, Ye shall utterly destroy every male, and every woman that hath lain by man. (Jud. 21:11.) And David smote the land, and left neither man nor woman alive, and took away the sheep, and the oxen, and the asses, and the camels, and the apparel, and returned, and came to Achish. (I Sam. 27:9.)

c. Balaam also the son of Beor, the soothsayer, did the children of Israel slay with the sword among them that were slain by them. (Josh. 13:22.) The Lord is known by the judgment which he executeth; the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion. Selah. (Ps. 9:16.) Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein; and he that rolleth a stone it will return upon him. (Prov. 26:27.) Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? (22). And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you; depart from me, ye that work iniquity. (Math. 7:22, 23.)

d. And this is the thing that ye shall do, Ye shall utterly destroy every male, and every woman that hath lain by man. (Jud. 21:11.)

shall make it go through the fire, and it shall be clean: nevertheless it shall be purified with the water of separation: and all that abideth not the fire ye shall make go through the water.

24 And [e]ye shall wash your clothes on the seventh day, and ye shall be clean, and afterward ye shall come into the camp.

25 ¶ [5]And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

26 Take the sum of the prey that was taken, both of man and of beast, thou, and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and the chief fathers of the congregation:

27 And divide the prey into two parts; between them that took the war upon them, who went out to battle, and between all the congregation:

28 And levy a [f]tribute unto the [1]Lord of the men of war which went out to battle: one soul of five hundred, both of the persons and of the beeves, and of the asses, and of the sheep:

29 Take it of their half, and give it unto Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, for an heave offering of the [1]Lord.

30 And of the children of Ĭs'ra-el's half, thou shalt take one portion of fifty, of the persons, of the beeves, of the asses, and of the flocks, of all manner of beasts, and give them unto the Lē'vītes, which keep the charge of the tabernacle of the Lord.

31 And Mō'şeş and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest did as the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

32 And the booty, being the rest of the prey which the men of war had caught, was six hundred thousand and seventy thousand and five thousand sheep,

33 And threescore and twelve thousand beeves,

34 Of threescore and one thousand asses,

35 And thirty and two thousand persons in all, of women that had not known man by lying with him.

36 And the half, which was the portion of them that went out to war, was in number three hundred thousand and seven and thirty thousand and five hundred sheep:

37 And the [1]Lord's [g]tribute of the sheep was six hundred and threescore and fifteen.

38 And the beeves were thirty and six thousand; of which the Lord's tribute was threescore and twelve.

39 And the asses were thirty thousand and five hundred; of which the [1]Lord's tribute was threescore and one.

40 And the persons were sixteen thousand; of which the Lord's tribute was thirty and two persons.

41 And Mō'şeş gave the tribute, which was the [1]Lord's heave [6]offering, unto Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

42 And of the children of Ĭs'ra-el's half, which Mō'şeş divided from the men that warred,

6. An offering waved horizontally upwards, presenting to Jehovah, then back again as an evidence that Jehovah had returned the offering, with his blessing.

7. Vs. 48-54 detail the free will thank-offering to Jehovah.

8. The fact that not one man in the whole twelve thousand failed to respond to the last roll call is an evidence of the supernatural element in this campaign.

9. The gold amounted to 16,750 shekels, which was equal to about $123,000 at that time, or would be equal to about $1,000,000 at the present time.

43 (Now the half that pertained unto the congregation was three hundred thousand and thirty thousand and seven thousand and five hundred sheep,

44 And thirty and six thousand beeves,

45 And thirty thousand asses and five hundred,

46 And sixteen thousand persons;)

47 Even of the children of Ĭs'ra-el's half, Mō'şeş took one portion of fifty, both of man and of beast, and gave them unto the Lē'vītes, which kept the charge of the tabernacle of the [1]Lord; as the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

48 ¶ [7]And the officers which were over thousands of the hosts, the captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, came near unto Mō'şeş:

49 And they said unto Mō'şeş, Thy servants have taken the sum of the men of war which are under our charge, and there [8]lacketh not one [h]man of us.

50 We have therefore brought an oblation for the Lord, what every man hath gotten, of jewels of gold, chains, and bracelets, rings, earrings, and tablets, [i]to make an atonement for our souls before the Lord.

51 And Mō'şeş and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest took the gold of them, even all wrought jewels.

52 And [9]all the gold of the offering that they offered up to the [1]Lord, of the captains of thousands, and of the captains of hundreds, was sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty shekels.

53 (For the men of war had taken spoil, every man for himself.)

54 And Mō'şeş and Ē-le-ā'zar the priest took the gold of the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and brought it into the tabernacle of the congregation, for a memorial for the children of Ĭs'ra-el before the Lord.

CHAPTER 32.

1 The Reubenites and Gadites sue for their inheritance on that side Jordan. 6 Moses reproveth them. 16 They offer him conditions. 33 Moses assigneth them the land. 39 They conquer it.

1 Now [1]the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd had a very great multitude of cattle: and when they saw the land of Jā'zēr, and the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, that, behold, the place was a place for cattle;

2 The children of Găd and the children of Reu'ben came and spake unto Mō'şeş, and to Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and unto the princes of the congregation, saying,

3 Ăt'a-rōth, and Dī'bŏn, and Jā'zēr, and Nĭm'rah, and Hĕsh'bŏn, and Ē-le-ā'leh, and Shē'bam, and Nē'bo, and Bē'ŏn,

4 Even the [a]country which the Lord smote before the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el, is a land for cattle, and thy servants have cattle:

5 Wherefore, said they, if we have found [b]grace in thy sight, let this land be given unto

e. And whosoever beareth ought of the carcase of them shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even. (Lev. 11:25.) Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity and cleanse me from my sin. (Ps. 51:2.) In that day there shall be a fountain open to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. (Zech. 13:1.) That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word. (Eph. 5:26.) But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (I Jno. 1:7.) And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they? (13). And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. (Rev. 7:13, 14.)

f. Out of the spoils won in battles did they dedicate to maintain the house of the Lord. (I Chr. 26:27.) And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the Lord; it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing. (Is. 23:18.)

g. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.) They say unto him, Caesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's. (Math. 22:21.)

h. I will send my fear before thee, and will destroy all the people to whom thou shalt come; and I will make all thine enemies turn their backs unto thee. (Ex. 23:27.) And ye shall chase your enemies, and they shall fall before you by the sword (7). And five of you shall chase an hundred, and an hundred of you shall put ten thousand to flight: and your enemies shall fall before you by the sword (8). For I will have respect unto you, and make you fruitful, and multiply you, and establish my covenant with you. (Lev. 26:7-9.) He shall redeem their soul from deceit and violence; and precious shall their blood be in his sight. (Ps. 72:14.)

i. When thou takest a son of the children of Israel after their number, then shall they give every man a ransom for his soul unto the Lord, when thou numberest them; that there be no plague among them, when thou numberest them (12). And thou shalt take the atonement money of the children of Israel, and shalt appoint it for the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; that it may be a memorial unto the children of Israel before the Lord, to make an atonement for your souls. (Ex. 30:12, 16.)

Chapter 32.

a. And Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land from Arnon unto Jabbok, even unto the children of Ammon; for the border of the children of Ammon was strong. (Num. 21:24.)

b. But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble. (Ja. 4:6.) For the Lord God is a sun and a shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly. (Ps. 84:11.) For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. (Jno. 1:17.) Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus. (Rom. 3:24.)

thy servants for a possession, and bring us not over Jor'dan.

6 ¶ [2]And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto the children of Găd and to the children of Reu'ben, Shall your brethren go to war, and shall ye sit here?

7 And wherefore discourage ye the heart of the children of Is'ra-el from going over into the land which the Lord hath given them?

8 Thus did your fathers, when I sent them from Kā'desh-bär'ne-à to see the land.

9 For when they went up unto the valley of Ĕsh'cŏl, and saw the land, they discouraged the heart of the children of Is'ra-el, that they should not go into the land which the Lord had given them.

10 And the [c]Lord's anger was kindled the same time, and he sware, saying,

11 Surely none of the men that came up out of Ē'gўpt, from twenty years old and upward, shall see the land which I sware unto Ā'brā-hăm, unto Ī'ṣaac, and unto Jā'cob; because they have not wholly followed me:

12 Save Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh the Kĕn'ez-īte, and Jŏsh'u-à the son of Nŭn: [d]for they have wholly followed the Lord.

13 And the [c]Lord's anger was kindled against Is'ra-el, and he made them wander in the wilderness forty years, until all the generation, that had done evil in the sight of the Lord, was consumed.

14 And, behold, ye are risen up in your fathers' stead, an increase of sinful men, to augment yet the fierce anger of the Lord toward Is'ra-el.

15 For if ye turn away from after him, he will yet again leave them in the wilderness; and ye shall destroy all this people.

16 ¶ [3]And they came near unto him, and said, We will build sheepfolds here for our cattle, and cities for our little ones:

17 But [e]we ourselves will go ready armed before the children of Is'ra-el, until we have brought them unto their place: and our little ones shall dwell in the fenced cities because of the inhabitants of the land.

18 We will not return unto our houses, until the children of Is'ra-el have inherited every man his inheritance.

19 For we will not inherit with them on yonder side Jor'dan, or forward; because our inheritance is fallen to us on this side Jor'dan eastward.

20 ¶ And [f]Mō'ṣeṣ said unto them, If ye will do this thing, if ye will go [4]armed before the [5]Lord to war,

21 And will go all of you armed over Jor'dan before the [5]Lord, until he hath driven out his enemies from before him, 22 And the land be subdued before the [5]Lord: then afterward ye shall return, and be guiltless before the [5]Lord, and before Is'ra-el; and this [g]land shall be your possession before the [5]Lord.

23 But if ye will not do so, behold, ye have sinned against the [5]Lord: and be sure your sin will find you out.

24 Build you cities for your little ones, and folds for your sheep; and do that which hath proceeded out of your mouth.

3. Vs. 16-32 relate the compromise petition of Reuben and Gad.

4. The ark of the covenant was the tabernacle of the visible presence of Jehovah. The ark was carried into battle and to go armed before it was called "Armed before the Lord."

5. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

6. Vs. 33-42 detail the granting of the compromise petition of Reuben and Gad.

Ch. 33. B. C. 1491-1452.

1. Vs. 1-49 give the itinerary of the Israelites in their desert wanderings, seemingly as a memorial to after generations of the faithfulness of Jehovah.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

25 And the children of Găd and the children of Reu'ben spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying, Thy servants will do as my lord commandeth.

26 Our little ones, our wives, our flocks, and all our cattle, shall be there in the cities of Gĭl'e-ăd:

27 But thy servants will pass over, every man armed for war, before the Lord to battle, as my lord saith.

28 So concerning them Mō'ṣeṣ commanded Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jŏsh'u-à the son of Nŭn, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Is'ra-el:

29 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto them, If the children of Găd and the children of Reu'ben will pass with you over Jor'dan, every man armed to battle, before the [5]Lord, and the land shall be subdued before you; then ye shall give them the land of Gĭl'e-ăd for a possession:

30 But if they will not pass over with you armed, they shall have possessions among you in the land of Cā'năan.

31 And the children of Găd and the children of Reu'ben answered, saying, As the Lord hath said unto thy servants, so will we do.

32 We will pass over armed before the Lord into the land of Cā'năan, that the possession of our inheritance on this side Jor'dan may be our's.

33 [6]And [h]Mō'ṣeṣ gave unto them, even to the children of Găd, and to the children of Reu'ben, and unto half the tribe of Ma-năs'seh the son of Jō'ṣeph, the kingdom of Sī'hŏn king of the Ām'or-ītes, and the kingdom of Ōg king of Bā'shăn, the land, with the cities thereof in the coasts, even the cities of the country round about.

34 ¶ And the children of Găd built Dī'bŏn, and Ăt'a-rŏth, and Ăr'ō-ēr, 35 And Ăt'rŏth, Shō'phan, and Ja-ā'zēr, and Jŏg'be-hah, 36 And Bĕth-nĭm'rah, and Bĕth-hā'ran, fenced cities: and folds for sheep.

37 And the children of Reu'ben built Hĕsh'-bŏn, and Ē-le-ā'leh, and Kīr-jath-ā'im, 38 And Nē'bo, and Bā'al-mē'on, (their names being changed,) and Shĭb'mah: and gave other names unto the cities which they builded.

39 And the children of Mā'chĭr the son of Ma-năs'seh went to Gĭl'e-ăd, and took it, and dispossessed the Ām'or-īte which was in it.

40 And Mō'ṣeṣ gave Gĭl'e-ăd unto Mā'chĭr the son of Ma-năs'seh; and he dwelt therein.

41 And Jā'ĭr the son of Ma-năs'seh went and took the small towns thereof, and called them Hā'voth-jā'ĭr.

42 And Nō'bah went and took Kē'nath, and the villages thereof, and called it Nō'bah, after [i]his own name.

CHAPTER 33.

Journeys of the Israelites.

1 [1]These are the journeys of the children of Is'ra-el, which went forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt with their armies under the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ and Aâr'on.

2 And Mō'ṣeṣ wrote their goings out according to their journeys by the commandment of the [2]Lord: and these are their journeys according to their goings out.

c. And the Lord heard the voice of your words, and was wroth, and sware, saying. (Dt. 1:34.) And the anger of the Lord was kindled against them, and he departed. (Num. 12:9.) And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon. (Jud. 10:7.) Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him. (Nah. 1:6.)

d. Save Caleb the son of Jephunneh, he shall see it, and to him will I give the land that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, because he hath wholly followed the Lord. (Dt. 1:36.) The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever. (Ps. 37:29.) Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: much more the wicked and the sinner. (Prov. 11:31.)

e. And the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh, passed over armed before the children of Israel, as Moses spake unto them. About forty thousand prepared for war passed over before the Lord unto battle, to the plains of Jericho. (Josh. 4:12, 13.)

f. And I commanded you at that time, saying, The Lord your God hath given you this land to possess it; ye shall pass over armed before your brethren the children of Israel, all that are meet for the war. (Dt. 3:18.)

g. Until the Lord have given your brethren rest, as he hath given you, and they also have possessed the land which the Lord your God giveth them: then ye shall return unto the land of your possession, and enjoy it, which Moses the Lord's servant gave you on this side Jordan toward the sunrising. (Josh. 1:15.) And now the Lord your God hath given rest unto your brethren, as he promised them; therefore now return ye, and get you unto your tents, and unto the land of your possession, which Moses the servant of the Lord gave you on the other side Jordan. (Josh. 22:4.)

i. Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever, and their dwelling places to all generations; they call their lands after their own names. (Ps. 49:11.)

3 And they departed from Ra-mē'sēṣ in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month; on the morrow after the passover the children of Ĭs'ra-el went out with [a]an [3]high hand in the sight of all the Ē-ğyp'tiaṇs.

4 For the Ē-ğyp'tiaṇs buried all their firstborn, which the Lord had smitten among them: [b]upon their gods also the Lord executed judgments.

5 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el removed from Ra-mē'sēṣ, and pitched in Sŭc'coth.

6 And they departed from [4]Sŭc'coth, and pitched in Ē'tham, which is in the edge of the wilderness.

7 And they [c]removed from Ē'tham, and turned again unto Pī-ha-hī'roth, which is before Bā'al-zē'phon: and they pitched before Mig'dol.

8 And they departed from before Pī-ha-hī'roth, and passed through the midst of the sea into the wilderness, and went three days' journey in the wilderness of Ē'tham, and pitched in Mā'rah.

9 And they removed from Mā'rah, and came unto Ē'lĭm: and in Ē'lĭm were twelve fountains of water, and threescore and ten palm trees; and they pitched there.

10 And they removed from Ē'lĭm, and encamped by the Red sea.

11 And they removed from the Red sea, and encamped in the wilderness of Sĭn.

12 And they took their journey out of the wilderness of Sĭn, and encamped in Dŏph'kah.

13 And they departed from Dŏph'kah, and encamped in Ā'lush.

14 And they removed from Ā'lush, and encamped at Rĕph'ī-dim, where was no water for the people to drink.

15 And they departed from Rĕph'ī-dim, and pitched in the wilderness of Sī'nāi.

16 And they removed from the desert of Sī'nāi, and pitched at Kĭb'roth-hat-tā'a-vah.

17 And they departed from Kĭb'roth-hat-tā'a-vah, and encamped at Ha-zē'roth.

18 And they departed from Ha-zē'roth, and pitched in [5]Rĭth'mah.

19 And they departed from Rĭth'mah, and pitched at Rĭm'mon-pā'rez.

20 And they departed from Rĭm'mon-pā'rez, and pitched in Lĭb'nah.

21 And they removed from Lĭb'nah, and pitched at Rĭs'sah.

22 And they journeyed from Rĭs'sah, and pitched in Ke-hĕl'a-thah.

23 And they went from Ke-hĕl'a-thah, and pitched in mount Shā'pher.

24 And they removed from mount Shā'pher, and encamped in Hăr'a-dah.

25 And they removed from Hăr'a-dah, and pitched in Măk-hē'loth.

26 And they removed from Măk-hē'loth, and encamped at Tā'hăth.

27 And they departed from Tā'hăth, and pitched at Tā'rah.

28 And they removed from Tā'rah, and pitched in Mĭth'cah.

29 And they went from Mĭth'cah, and pitched in Hăsh-mō'nah.

30 And they departed from Hăsh-mō'nah, and encamped at Mo-sē'roth.

31 And they departed from Mo-sē'roth, and pitched in Bĕn-e-jā'a-kăn.

32 And they removed from Bĕn-e-jā'a-kăn, and encamped at Hor-ha-ğĭd'gad.

3. The high hand of the omnipotent Jehovah.

4. Supposed to have been a military station about 15 miles east of Rameses. No trace of it exists at the present time.

5. Rithmah means "broom," therefore supposed to signify the valley of the "broom-bushes."

6. Beginning with v. 52, Jehovah charges Moses to destroy the Canaanites and to distribute their property among the Israelites.

33 And they went from Hor-ha-ğĭd'gad, and pitched in Jŏt'ba-thah.

34 And they removed from Jŏt'ba-thah, and encamped at E-brō'nah.

35 And they departed from E-brō'nah, and encamped at Ē'zĭ-on-gā'bēr.

36 And they removed from Ē'zĭ-on-gā'bēr, and pitched in the wilderness of Zĭn, which is Kā'desh.

37 And they removed from Kā'desh, and pitched in mount Hor, in the edge of the land of Ē'dom.

38 And Aâr'on the priest went up into mount Hor at the commandment of the Lord, and died there, in the fortieth year after the children of Ĭs'ra-el were come out of the land of Ē'ğypt, in the first day of the fifth month.

39 And Aâr'on was an hundred and twenty and three years old when he died in mount Hor.

40 And king Ā'răd the Cā'năan-īte, which dwelt in the south in the land of Cā'năan, heard of the coming of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

41 And they departed from mount Hor, and pitched in Zal-mō'nah, 42 And they departed from Zal-mō'nah, and pitched in Pū'non.

43 And they departed from Pū'non, and pitched in Ō'both.

44 And they departed from Ō'both, and pitched in Ĭj'e-ăb'a-rĭm, in the border of Mō'ab.

45 And they departed from Ī'ĭm, and pitched in Dī'bon-găd.

46 And they removed from Dī'bon-găd, and encamped in Ăl'mŏn-dĭb-la-thā'ĭm.

47 And they removed from Ăl'mŏn-dĭb-la-thā'ĭm, and pitched in the mountains of Ăb'ă-rim, before Nē'bo.

48 And they departed from the mountains of Ăb'ă-rim, and pitched in the plains of Mō'ab by Jor'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

49 And they pitched by Jor'dan, from Bĕth-jĕs'ĭ-mŏth even unto Ā'bĕl-shĭt-tim in the plains of Mō'ab.

50 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Mō'sēṣ in the plains of Mō'ab by Jor'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chō, saying,

51 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, [d]When ye are passed over Jor'dan into the land of Cā'năan;

52 [6]Then ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you, and destroy all their pictures, and destroy all their molten images, and quick pluck down all their high places:

53 And ye shall dispossess the inhabitants of the land, and dwell therein: for [e]I have given you the land to possess it.

54 And ye shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families: and to the more ye shall give the more inheritance, and to the fewer ye shall give the less inheritance: every man's inheritance shall be in the place where his lot falleth; according to the tribes of your fathers ye shall inherit.

55 But if ye will not drive out the inhabitants of the land from before you; then it shall come to pass, that those which ye let remain of them shall be [f]pricks in your eyes, and thorns in your sides, and shall vex you in the land wherein ye dwell.

56 Moreover it shall come to pass, that I shall do unto you, as I thought to do unto them.

Chapter 33.

a. And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he pursued after the children of Israel; and the children of Israel went out with an high hand. (Ex. 14:8.)

b. Now I know that the Lord is greater than all gods; for in the thing wherein they dealt, proudly he was above them. (Ex. 18:11.) The burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt; and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence; and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it. (Is. 19:1.)

c. But the Egyptians pursued after them, all the horses and chariots of Pharaoh, and his horsemen, and his army, and overtook them encamping by the sea, beside Pihahiroth, before Baalzephon. (Ex. 14:9.)

d. And the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord stood firm on dry ground in the midst of Jordan, and all the Israelites passed over on dry ground, until all the people were passed clean over Jordan. (Josh. 3:17.)

e. The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. (Ps. 24:1.) And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing; and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth; and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? (Dan. 4:35.)

f. Know for a certainty that the Lord your God will no more drive out any of these nations from before you; but they shall be snares and traps unto you, and scourges in your sides, and thorns in your eyes, until ye perish from off this good land which the Lord your God hath given you. (Josh. 23:13.)

CHAPTER 34.

1 The borders of the land. 16 The names of the men which shall divide the land.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, [2]saying,
2 Command the children of Īs'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye come into the land of Cā'năan; (this is the land that shall fall unto you for an inheritance, even the land of Cā'-năan with the coasts thereof:)
3 Then your south quarter shall be from the wilderness of Zĭn along by the coast of Ē'dom, and your south border shall be the outmost coast of the salt sea eastward:
4 And your border shall turn from the south to the ascent of A-krăb'bim, and pass on to Zĭn: and the going forth thereof shall be from the south to Kā'desh-bär'ne-a, and shall go on to Hā'zar-ăd'dar, and pass on to Āz'mōn:
5 And the border shall fetch a compass from Āz'mōn unto the [a]river of Ē'gўpt, and the goings out of it shall be at the sea.
6 And as for the western border, ye shall even have the great sea for a border: this shall be your west border.
7 And this shall be your north border: from the great sea ye shall point out for you mount Hor:
8 From mount Hor ye shall point out your border unto the entrance of Hā'math; and the goings forth of the border shall be to Zē'dăd:
9 ¶ And the border shall go on to Zĭph'rŏn, and the goings out of it shall be at Hā'zar-ē'-nan: this shall be your north border.
10 And ye shall point out your east border from Hā'zar-ē'nan to Shē'pham:
11 And the coast shall go down from Shē'-pham to Rĭb'lah, on the east side of Ā'in; and the border shall descend, and shall reach unto the side of the sea of Chĭn'ne-rĕth eastward:
12 And the border shall go down to Jor'dan, and the goings out of it shall be at the salt sea: this shall be your land with the coasts thereof round about.
13 And Mō'şeş commanded the children of Īs'ra-el, saying, [b]This is the land which ye shall inherit by lot, which the [1]Lord commanded to give unto the nine tribes, and to the half tribe:
14 For the tribe of the children of Reu'ben according to the house of their fathers, and the tribe of the children of Găd according to the house of their fathers, have received their inheritance; and half the tribe of Ma-năs'seh have received their inheritance:
15 The two tribes and the half tribe have received their inheritance on this side Jor'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chō eastward, toward the sunrising.
16 [3]And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
17 These are the names of the men which shall divide the land unto you: Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jōsh'u-a the son of Nŭn.
18 And ye shall take one prince of every tribe, to divide the land by inheritance.
19 And the names of the men are these:

Ch. 34. B. C. 1452.

NOTE.—This ch. designates the border of the holy land and gives the names of the men who were assigned to divide it. Special command has been given to the Israelites to exterminate the Canaanites and in the case of a failure to do so they were to be punished; hence the necessity of definitely locating the boundary as in this ch.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. Vs. 1-15 give the boundaries of the promised land.

3. Vs. 16-29 give the names of the commissioners selected to distribute the land among the tribes. There were two ex-officio members of this commission, viz., Eleazar, the high priest, and Joshua, the commander of the army. In Gen. 15:18, Deut. 11:24, and II Sam. 8:3, the Euphrates is given as the eastern boundary, while in this ch. and Josh. 8:9-12, a different boundary is given. According to Haley these differences simply indicate the maxima and minima of the promised land, the actual extent to be determined by the people's loyalty and faithfulness to Jehovah.

Ch. 35. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—It will be observed that the tribe of Levi was to have no territorial allotment, but in this ch. they are given 48 cities scattered among the twelve tribes, which compares with the prediction of Jacob. (Gen. 49:4-7.) Moses had found the feeling of revenge so deeply rooted in the habits of the people that it could not be removed at once, he could only check its fury and relieve its horrors. He therefore established the cities of refuge as a means of escape for the suspected who were innocent, not as a screen for the guilty; if they reached the city of refuge they were assured a fair, judicial trial, which would reveal the innocence or the guilt of the accused.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. Vs. 1-5 relate to the command of Jehovah concerning the giving of cities to the Levites.

3. About 608 yards.

4. About 1,216 yards.

5. Vs. 6-34 relate to the establishing of the cities of refuge.

Of the tribe of Jū'dah, Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh.
20 And of the tribe of the children of Sĭm'-e-on, She-mū'el the son of Ăm-mī'hŭd.
21 Of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-min, E-lī'dad the son of Chĭs'lon.
22 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Dăn, Bŭk'kī the son of Jŏg'lī.
23 The prince of the children of Jō'şeph, for the tribe of the children of Ma-năs'seh, Hăn'-nĭ-el the son of Ē'phŏd.
24 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Ē'phrā-ĭm, Ke-mū'el the son of Shĭph'-tan.
25 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Zĕb'u-lun, E-lĭz'a-phăn the son of Pär'-nach.
26 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Īs'sa-char, Păl'tĭ-el the son of Āz'zan.
27 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Āsh'ĕr, A-hī'hud the son of Shĕl'o-mī.
28 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Năph'ta-lī, Pĕd'a-hĕl the son of Ăm-mī'hŭd.
29 They are they whom the [1]Lord commanded to divide the inheritance unto the children of Īs'ra-el in the land of Cā'năan.

CHAPTER 35.

1 Eight and forty cities for the Levites with their suburbs. 6 Six of them to be cities of refuge. 9 The laws of murder. 31 No satisfaction for murder.

1 And the [1]Lord spake unto Mō'şeş in the plains of Mō'ab by Jor'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chō, [2]saying,
2 Command the [a]children of Īs'ra-el, that they give unto the Lē'vītes of the inheritance of their possession cities to dwell in; and ye shall give also unto the Lē'vītes suburbs for the cities round about them.
3 And the cities shall they have to dwell in; and the suburbs of them shall be for their cattle, and for their goods, and for all their beasts.
4 And the suburbs of the cities, which ye shall give unto the Lē'vītes, shall reach from the wall of the city and outward a [3]thousand cubits round about.
5 And ye shall measure from without the city on the east side [4]two thousand cubits, and on the south side [4]two thousand cubits, and on the west side [4]two thousand cubits, and on the north side two thousand cubits; and the city shall be in the midst: this shall be to them the suburbs of the cities.
6 [5]And among the cities which ye shall give unto the Lē'vītes there shall be [b]six cities for refuge, which ye shall appoint for the man-slayer, that he may flee thither: and to them ye shall add forty and two cities.
7 So all the cities which ye shall give to the Lē'vītes shall be forty and eight cities: them shall ye give with their suburbs.
8 And the cities which ye shall give shall be

Chapter 34.

a. In the same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates. (Gen. 15:18.) And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall beat off from the channel of the river into the stream of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel. (Is. 27:12.)

b. And these are the countries which the children of Israel inherited in the land of Canaan, which Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel, distributed for inheritance to them (1). By lot was their inheritance, as the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, for the nine tribes, and for the half tribe. (Josh. 14:1, 2.)

Chapter 35.

a. And they spake unto them at Shiloh in the land of Canaan saying, The Lord commanded by the hand of Moses to give us cities to dwell in with the suburbs thereof for our cattle. (Josh. 21:2.) Moreover when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the Lord, an holy portion of the land; the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds and the breadth shall be ten thousand. This shall be holy and all the borders thereof round about. (Ezek. 45:1.) And by the border of Judah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be the offering which ye shall offer of five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the east side unto the west side; and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it (8). The oblation that ye shall offer unto the Lord shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth (9). And for them, even for the priests, shall be this holy oblation; toward the north five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length: and the sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the midst thereof (10). It shall be for the priests that are sanctified of the sons of Zadok, which have kept my charge, which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray (11). And this oblation of the land that is offered shall be unto them, a thing most holy by the border of the Levites (12). And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the first-fruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord. (Ezek. 48:8-12, 14.)

b. Then Moses severed three cities on this side Jordan toward the sunrising. (Dt. 4:41.) Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Appoint out for you cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Moses. (Josh. 20:2.) And the children of Israel gave unto the Levites out of their inheritance, at the commandment of the Lord, these cities and their suburbs (3). Thus they gave to the children of Aaron the priest Hebron with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer, and Libnah with her suburbs. (Josh. 21:3, 13.) of the possession of the children of Ĭs'ra-el: from them that have many ye shall give many; but from them that have few ye shall give few: every one shall give of his cities unto the Lē'vītes according to his inheritance which he inheriteth.

9 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

10 Speak unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye be come over Jor'dan into the land of Çā'năan;

11 Then ye shall appoint you cities to be cities of refuge for you; that the slayer may flee thither, which killeth any person at unawares.

12 And they shall be unto you cities for refuge from the avenger; that the manslayer die not, until he stand before the congregation in judgment.

13 And of these cities which ye shall give six cities shall ye have for refuge.

14 Ye shall give three cities on this side Jor'dan, and three cities shall ye give in the land of Cā'năan, which shall be cities of refuge.

15 These six cities shall be a refuge, both for the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and for the stranger, and for the sojourner among them: that every one that killeth any person unawares may flee thither.

16 [6]And if he [c]smite him with an instrument of iron, so that he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.

17 And if he smite him with throwing a stone, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.

18 Or if he smite him with an hand weapon of wood, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.

19 The revenger of blood himself shall slay the murderer: when he meeteth him, he shall slay him.

20 But if he thrust him of hatred, or hurl at him by [d]laying of wait, that he die;

21 Or in enmity smite him with his hand, that he die: he that smote him shall surely be put to death; for he is a murderer: the revenger of blood shall slay the murderer, when he meeteth him.

22 [7]But if he thrust him suddenly without enmity, or have cast upon him any thing without laying of wait,

23 Or with any stone, wherewith a man may die, seeing him not, and cast it upon him, that he die, and was not his enemy, neither sought his harm:

24 Then [e]the congregation shall judge between the slayer and the revenger of blood according to these judgments:

25 And the congregation shall deliver the slayer out of the hand of the revenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of his refuge, whither he was fled: and he shall abide in it unto the death of the high priest, which was anointed with the holy oil.

26 But if the slayer shall at any time come without the border of the city of his refuge, whither he was fled;

27 And the revenger of blood find him without the borders of the city of his refuge, and the revenger of blood kill the slayer; he shall not be guilty of blood:

28 Because he should have remained in the city of his refuge until the death of the high priest: but after the death of the high priest the slayer shall return into the land of his possession.

29 So these things shall be for a statute of judgment unto you throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

30 Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death by the [f]mouth of witnesses: but one witness shall not testify against any person to cause him to die.

31 Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death: but he shall be surely put to death.

32 And ye shall take no satisfaction for him that is fled to the city of his refuge, that he should come again to dwell in the land, until the death of the priest.

33 So ye shall not pollute the land wherein ye are: for blood it defileth the land: and the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but [g]by the blood of him that shed it.

34 Defile not therefore the land which ye shall inhabit, wherein I dwell: for [h]I the Lord dwell among the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

CHAPTER 36.

1 The inconvenience of the inheritance of daughters 5 is remedied by marrying in their own tribes, 7 lest the inheritance should be removed from the tribe.

1 And the chief fathers of the families of the children of Gĭl'e-ăd, the son of Mā'chĭr, the son of Ma-năs'seh, of the families of the sons of Jō'şeph, came near, and spake before Mō'şeş, and before the princes, the chief father of the children of Ĭs'ra-el:

2 And they said, The [1]Lord commanded [a]my lord to give the land for an inheritance by lot to the children of Ĭs'ra-el: and my lord was commanded by the [1]Lord to give the inheritance of Ze-lō'phe-hăd our brother unto his daughters.

3 And if they be married to any of the sons of the other tribes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, then shall their inheritance be taken from the inheritance of our fathers, and shall be put to the inheritance of the tribe whereunto they are received: so shall it be taken from the lot of our inheritance.

4 And when [b]the jubile of the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall be, then shall their inheritance be put unto the inheritance of the tribe whereunto they are received: so shall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.

6. Vs. 16-21 relate to intentional murder.

7. Vs. 22-28 relate to the treatment of manslaughter by accident.

Ch. 35. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—It is to be observed throughout the giving of the divine law that no law was ever pronounced until made necessary by some conditions existing in the human race. This ch., therefore, not only furnishes the law confining the marriage of heiresses and their own tribe, but also reveals a dual truth, viz., "He that asketh receiveth," and "God's laws were enacted as human needs required."

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

c. And he that killeth any man shall surely be put to death. (Lev. 24:17.) But if any man hate his neighbor, and lie in wait for him, and rise up against him, and smite him mortally that he die, and fleeth into one of these cities (11): Then the elders of his city shall send and fetch him thence, and deliver him into the hand of the avenger of blood, that he may die. (Dt. 19:11, 12.)

d. But if a man come presumptuously upon his neighbor, to slay him with guile; thou shalt take him from mine altar, that he may die. (Ex. 21:14.)

e. And he shall dwell in that city, until he stand before the congregation for judgment, and until the death of the high priest that shall be in those days; then shall the slayer return, and come unto his own city, and unto his own house, unto the city from whence he fled. (Josh. 20:6.)

f. At the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death; but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death. (Dt. 17:6.) But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. (Mat. 18:16.) He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses. (Heb. 10:28.)

g. Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man. (Gen. 9:6.)

h. And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will be their God. And they shall know that I am the Lord their God, that brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, that I may dwell among them; I am the Lord their God. (Ex. 29:45, 46.) And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (II Cor. 6:16.)

Chapter 36.

a. Notwithstanding the land shall be divided by lot; according to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit. (Num. 26:55.) And ye shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families; and to the more ye shall give the more inheritance, and to the fewer ye shall give the less inheritance: every man's inheritance shall be in the place where his lot falleth: according to the tribes of your fathers ye shall inherit. (Num. 33:54.)

b. And ye shall hallow the 50th year, and proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof: it shall be a jubilee unto you; and ye shall return every man unto his possession, and ye shall return every man unto his family. (Lev. 25:10.)

5 And Mō'şeş commanded the children of Ĭs'ra-el according to the word of the [1]Lord, saying, The tribe of the sons of [2]Jō'şeph hath said well.

6 This is the thing which the [1]Lord doth command concerning the daughters of Ze-lō'-phe-hăd, saying, Let them marry to whom they think best; only to the family of the tribe of their father shall they marry.

7 So shall not the inheritance of the children of Ĭs'ra-el remove from tribe to tribe: for every one of the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall keep himself to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

8 And every daughter, that possesseth an inheritance in any tribe of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, shall be wife unto one of the family of the tribe of her father, that the children of Ĭs'ra-el may enjoy every man the inheritance of his fathers.

2. Nominally speaking, there was no tribe of Joseph, but really two tribes, Ephraim and Manasseh, so that Joseph was treated as the firstborn so far as the inheritance was concerned. (W.)

9 Neither shall the inheritance remove from one tribe to another tribe; but every one of the tribes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall keep himself to his own inheritance.

10 Even as the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş, so did the daughters of Ze-lō'phe-hăd:

11 For Mäh'lah, Tĭr'zah, and Hōg'lah, and Mĭl'cah, and Nō'ah, the daughters of Ze-lō'-phe-hăd, were married unto their father's brothers' sons:

12 And they were married into the families of the sons of Ma-năs'seh the son of Jō'şeph, and their inheritance remained in the tribe of the family of their father.

13 These are the commandments and the judgments, which the Lord commanded by the hand of Mō'şeş unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el in the plains of Mō'ab by Jor'dan near Jĕr'-ĭ-chō.

DEUTERONOMY

NOTE.—The name Dt. means repetition or copy of the law. By some scholars Dt. has been styled "reformulated, previous laws." The purpose of the book was to be a people's hand-book of Hebrew Law: it was intended to be popular and not technical and was publicly read before the assembled people once every seven years at the Feast of Tabernacles, that everyone might clearly know and understand what should and should not be done. Popular hand-books of the law are quite common in the present age, but were quite uncommon at that time and for thousands of years afterward; which is taken as proof that the author was divinely guided in thus being so far in advance of his times. The language is not that of a mere law-giver but of an orator, a poet and a sympathetic preacher. The love and affection of Jehovah toward the nation collectively, as distinguished from his love toward individuals, is a special feature. Again and again love and devotion to Jehovah are insisted upon as the true foundation for all human action. Upon this book is largely founded the N. T. doctrine, "God so loved the world," etc. Another feature of the book is that the people of Jehovah are holy unto him and cannot, therefore, join themselves to other gods (ch. 7:6). It is to be observed that the Book of Dt. produces in the mind of the reader a far different impression from the other books of the law; which difference is chiefly due to the spiritual tone and the constant appeal to the emotions. In Dt. the thought is ever held before the reader that God is ever present and his law within man's heart (Dt. 30:11-14). Also that man's relation to God is most truly expressed by love (Dt. 6:5; 10:12).

Dt. has been called the Gospel of the law, but little attention is paid to the form of worship; it seeks chiefly to establish the worship of one God (ch. 6:4). It not only demands the absolute destruction of all heathen gods but also enjoins the putting away of all visible representations of Jehovah (ch. 4:15).

CHAPTER 1.

1 Moses rehearseth the story 6 of God's promise, 19 of sending the spies to search the land, 34 of God's anger for their incredulity, 41 and disobedience.

1 [1]These be the words which Mō'şeş spake unto all Ĭs'ra-el on this side Jor'dan in the wilderness, in the plain over against the Red sea, between Pā'ran, and Tō'phel, and Lā'ban, and Ha-zē'roth, and Dĭz'a-hăb.

2 [2](There are eleven days' journey from Hō'reb by the way of mount Sē'ĭr unto Kā'desh-băr'ne-â.)

3 And it came to pass in the [a]fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first day of the month, that Mō'şeş spake unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, according unto all that the Lord had given him in commandment unto them;

4 After he had slain Sī'hŏn the king of the Ăm'or-ītes, which dwelt in Hĕsh'bŏn, and Ōg the king of Bā'shăn, which dwelt at Ās'ta-rŏth in Ĕd're-ī:

5 On this side Jor'dan, in the land of Mō'ab, began Mō'şeş to declare this law, saying,

6 [3]The [4]Lord our God spake unto us in [5]Hō'reb, saying, Ye have dwelt long [b]enough in this mount:

7 Turn [c]you, and take your journey, and go to the mount of the Ăm'or-ītes, and unto all the places nigh thereunto, in the plain, in the hills, and in the vale, and in the south, and by the sea side, to the land of the Cā'năan-ītes, and unto Lĕb'a-non, unto the great river, the river Eū-phrā'tēş.

8 Behold, I have set the land before you: go in and possess the land which the [4]Lord sware unto your fathers, Ā'brā-hăm, Ī'şaac, and Jā'cob, to give unto them and to their seed after them.

9 ¶ [6]And I spake unto you at that time, saying, I am not able to bear you myself alone:

10 The [4]Lord your God hath multiplied you, and, behold, ye are this day as the stars of heaven for multitude.

Ch. 1. B. C. 1451.

1. Vs. 1, 2 form a connecting link between Dt. and the preceding books.

2. According to v. 2, the journey to the promised land is only 11 days distant, yet, owing to the people's rebellion, they wandered in the wilderness 40 years before allowed to enter the promised land.

3. Beginning with v. 6 and extending to v. 40 of ch. 4, Moses addresses the people with the promised land in their sight. Moses reviews the incidents of their journey from Horeb to the plains of Moab. He calls to their mind how rebellious they have been, how faithful Jehovah has been, and how, because of their sins, they were kept wandering in the wilderness forty years, and then pleads with them not to continue their transgressions and thus forfeit the promised land.

4. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

5. Horeb, the mountain range, of which Sinai is the summit, on which the law was given. Vs. 6-46 review the journey from Horeb to Kadesh.

6. Vs. 9-18 recount the appointment of judges and the assignment of their duty. For particulars, see Ex. 18:13-26.

11 (The [4]Lord God of your fathers make you a thousand times so many more as ye are, and bless you, [d]as he hath promised you!)

12 How can I myself alone bear your cumbrance, and your burden, and your strife?

13 Take you wise men, and understanding, and known among your tribes, and I will make them rulers over you.

14 And ye answered me, and said, The thing which thou hast spoken is good for us to do.

15 So I took the chief of your tribes, wise men, and known, and made them heads over you, captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, and captains over fifties, and captains over tens, and officers among your tribes.

16 And I charged your judges at that time, saying, Hear the causes between your brethren, and [e]judge righteously between every man and his brother, and the [f]stranger that is with him.

17 [e]Ye shall not respect persons in judgment; but ye shall hear the small as well as the great; ye shall [g]not be afraid of the face of man; for the [h]judgment is God's: and the cause that is too hard for you, [i]bring it unto me, and I will hear it.

18 And I commanded you at that time all the things which ye should do.

19 ¶ And when we departed from Hō'reb, we [j]went through all that great and terrible wilderness, which ye saw by the way of the mountain of the Ăm'or-ītes, as the Lord our God commanded us; and we came to Kā'desh-băr'ne-â.

20 And I said unto you, Ye are come unto the mountain of the Ăm'or-ītes, which the [4]Lord our God doth give unto us.

21 Behold, the [4]Lord thy God hath set the land before thee: go up and possess it, as the [4]Lord God of thy fathers hath said unto thee; [k]fear not, neither be discouraged.

22 ¶ And ye came near unto me every one of you, and said, We will send men before us, and they shall search us out the land, and bring us word again by what way we must go up, and into what cities we shall come.

Ref. Deuteronomy. Chapter 1.

a. And Aaron the priest went up into mount Hor, at the commandment of the Lord and died there, in the fortieth year after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt, in the first day of the fifth month. (Num. 33:38.)

b. In the third month when the children of Israel were gone forth out of the land of Egypt, the same day came they into the wilderness of Sinai. (Ex. 19:1.)

c. Turn you at my reproof; behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you. I will make known my words unto you. (Prov. 1:23.) Turn thou us unto thee, O Lord, and we shall be turned; renew our days as of old. (Lam. 5:21.) Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Repent, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations. (Ezek. 14:6.) For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God; wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye. (Ezek. 18:32.) Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul. (Ezek. 33:9.)

d. That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies. (Gen. 22:17.)

e. Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. (Jno. 7:24.) These things also belong to the wise. It is not good to have respect of persons in judgment. (Prov. 24:23.) Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man. (Jno. 8:15.) But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature because I have refused him; for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (I Sam. 16:7.) And said to the judges, Take heed what ye do; for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, who is with you in the judgment. (II Chr. 19:6.)

f. Ye shall have one manner of law, as well for the stranger, as for one of your own country; for I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 24:22.)

g. To have respect to persons is not good; for, for a piece of bread that man will transgress. (Prov. 28:21.)

h. And said to the judges, Take heed what ye do; for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, who is with you in the judgment. (II Chr. 19:6.)

i. And they judged the people at all seasons; the hard causes they brought unto Moses, but every small matter they judged themselves. (Ex. 18:26.)

j. And the children of Israel took their journeys out of the wilderness of Sinai; and the cloud rested in the wilderness of Paran. (Num. 10:12.) Who led thee through that great and terrible wilderness, wherein were fiery serpents, and scorpions, and drought, where there was no water; who brought thee forth water out of the rock of flint. (Dt. 8:15.)

k. Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:9.) The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life, 23 And the saying pleased me well: and I took twelve men of you, one of a tribe:

24 And they turned and went up into the mountain, and came unto the valley of Ĕsh'cŏl, and searched it out.
25 And they took of the fruit of the land in their hands, and brought it down unto us, and brought us word again, and said, It is a good land which the [4]Lord our God doth give us.
26 Notwithstanding ye would not go up, but rebelled against the commandment of the [4]Lord your God:
27 And ye murmured in your tents, and said, Because the [4]Lord [l]hated us, he hath brought us forth out of the land of Ē'gў̆pt, to deliver us into the hand of the Ăm'or-ītes, to destroy us.
28 Whither shall we go up? our brethren have [m]discouraged our heart, saying, [n]The people is greater and taller than we; the cities are great and walled up to heaven; and moreover we have seen the sons of the Ăn'a-kĭms there.
29 Then I said unto you, Dread not, neither be [k]afraid of them.
30 The [4]Lord your [o]God which goeth before you, he shall fight for you, according to all that he did for you in Ē'gў̆pt before your eyes;
31 And in the wilderness, where thou hast seen how that the [4]Lord thy God [p]bare thee, as a man doth bear his son, in all the way that ye went, until ye came into this place.
32 Yet in this thing [q]ye did not believe the [4]Lord your God, 33 Who went in the way before you, [r]to search you out a place to pitch your tents in, in fire by night, to shew you by what way ye should go, and in a cloud by day.
34 And the [4]Lord heard the voice of your words, and was wroth, and sware, saying,
35 Surely there shall not one of these men of this evil generation see that good land, which I sware to give unto your fathers,
36 Save Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh; he shall see it, and to him will I give the land that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, because he hath wholly followed the [4]Lord.
37 Also the [4]Lord was [s]angry with me for your sakes, saying, Thou also shalt not go in thither.
38 But [7]Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nŭn, which standeth before thee, he shall go in thither: [t]encourage him: for he shall cause Ĭs'ra-el to inherit it.
39 Moreover your little ones, which ye said should be a prey, and your children, which in that day had [u]no knowledge between good and evil, they shall go in thither, and unto them will I give it, and they shall possess it.
40 But as for you, turn you, and take your journey into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea.
41 Then ye answered and said unto me, We have sinned against the [4]Lord, we will go up and fight, according to all that the [4]Lord our God commanded us. And when ye had girded on every man his weapons of war, ye were ready to go up into the hill.
42 And the [4]Lord said unto me, Say unto them, Go not up, neither fight; for I am not among you; lest ye be smitten before your enemies.
43 So I spake unto you; and ye would not hear, but rebelled against the commandment of the Lord, and went presumptuously up into the hill.
44 And the Ăm'or-ītes, which dwelt in that mountain, came out against you, and chased you, as bees do, and destroyed you in Sē'ĭr, even unto Hor'mah.
45 And ye returned and wept before the Lord; [v]but the Lord would not hearken to your voice, nor give ear unto you.
46 So ye abode in Kā'desh many days, according unto the days that ye abode there.

7. In ch. 34, Joshua is given the place of Moses, therefore he under the command of God, causes Israel to inherit the land.

Ch. 2. B. C. 1451.

1. Vs. 1-23 review the journey from Kadesh to the land of the Amorites.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

CHAPTER 2.

1 The story is continued, that they were not to meddle with the Edomites, 9 nor with the Moabites, 17 nor with the Ammonites, 24 but Sihon the Amorite was subdued by them.

1 [1]Then we turned, and took our journey into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea, as the [2]Lord spake unto me: and we compassed mount Sē'ĭr many days.
2 And the [2]Lord spake unto me, saying,
3 Ye have compassed this mountain long enough: turn you northward.
4 And command thou the people, saying, Ye are to pass through the coast of your brethren the children of Ē'saŭ, which dwell in Sē'ĭr; and they shall be afraid of you: take ye good heed unto yourselves therefore:
5 Meddle not with them; for I will not give you of their land, no, not so much as a foot breadth; because [a]I have given mount Sē'ĭr unto Ē'saŭ for a possession.
6 Ye shall buy meat of them for money, that ye may eat; and ye shall also buy water of them for money, that ye may drink.
7 For the [2]Lord thy God hath blessed thee in all the works of thy hand: he knoweth thy walking through this great wilderness: these of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) Be not afraid of their faces; for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.) The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace. (Ex. 14:14.) In what place therefore ye hear the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither unto us; our God shall fight for us. (Neh. 4:20.) For the Lord your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to save you. (Dt. 20:4.)

l. Lest the land whence thou broughtest us out say, Because the Lord was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, and because he hated them, he hath brought them out to slay them in the wilderness. (Dt. 9:28.)

m. And as soon as we had heard these things, our hearts did melt, neither did there remain any more courage in any man, because of you; for the Lord your God, he is God in heaven above, and in earth beneath. (Josh. 2:11.)

n. But the men that went up with him said, We be not able to go up against the people; for they are stronger than we (31). And there we saw the giants, the sons of Anak, which come of the giants; and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight. (Num. 13:31, 33.)

o. The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace. (Ex. 14:14.) In what place therefore ye hear the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither unto us; our God shall fight for us. (Neh. 4:20.)

p. Ye have seen what I did unto the Egyptians, and how I bare you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto myself. (Ex. 19:4.) As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings taketh them, beareth them on her wings. (Dt. 32:11.) In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. (Is. 63:9.)

q. Yea, they despised the pleasant land, they believed not his word. (Ps. 106:24.) I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not. (Jude 5.)

r. And they departed from the mount of the Lord three days' journey: and the ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them in the three days' journey, to search out a resting place for them. (Num. 10:33.)

s. For ye rebelled against my commandment in the desert of Zin, in the strife of the congregation, to sanctify me at the water before their eyes; that is the water of Meribah, in Kadesh in the wilderness of Zin. (Num. 27:14.) They angered him also at the waters of strife, so that it went ill with Moses for their sake. (Ps. 106:32.) And the Lord said unto him, This is the land which I sware unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, saying, I will give it unto thy seed; I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not go over thither. (Dt. 34:4.)

t. And Moses called unto Joshua, and said unto him in the sight of all Israel, Be strong and of a good courage: for thou must go with this people unto the land which the Lord hath sworn unto their fathers to give them; and thou shalt cause them to inherit it. (Dt. 31:7.)

u. Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good. For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her kings. (Is. 7:15, 16.) The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep; from whence then hast thou that living water? (Jno. 4:11.) And that servant, which knew his Lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes. (Lu. 12:47.) (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth.) (Rom. 9:11.)

v. Will God hear his cry when trouble cometh upon him? (Job 27:9.) If I regard iniquity in mine heart, the Lord will not hear me. (Ps. 66:18.) Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out mine hand, and no man regarded. (Prov. 1:24.)

Chapter 2.

a. Thus dwelt Esau in mount Seir; Esau is Edom. (Gen. 36:8.) And I gave unto Isaac, Jacob and Esau; and I give unto Esau mount Seir, to possess it; but Jacob and his children went down into Egypt. (Josh. 24:4.)

forty years the [2]Lord thy God hath been with thee; thou hast lacked nothing.

8 And when we passed by from our brethren the children of Ē'saụ, which dwelt in Sē'ĭr, through the way of the plain from Ē'lăth, and from Ē'zĭ-on-gā'bēr, we turned and passed by the way of the wilderness of Mō'ab.

9 And the [2]Lord said unto me, Distress not the Mō'ab-ītes, neither contend with them in battle: for I will not give thee of their land for a possession; because I have given Ār unto the children of Lŏt for a possession.

10 The Ē'mĭms dwelt therein in times past, a people great, and many, and tall, as the Ăn'a-kĭms;

11 Which also were accounted giants, as the Ăn'a-kĭms; but the Mō'ab-ītes call them Ē'mĭms.

12 The Hō'rĭms also dwelt in Sē'ĭr beforetime; but the children of Ē'saụ succeeded them, when they had destroyed them from before them, and dwelt in their stead; as Ĭs'ra-el did unto the land of his possession, which the Lord gave unto them.

13 Now rise up, [3]said I, and get you over the [4]brook Zē'red. And we went over the brook Zē'red.

14 And the space in which we came from Kā'desh-bär'ne-ä, until we were come over the brook Zē'red, was thirty and eight years; until all the generation of the men of war were wasted out from among the host, as the [2]Lord sware unto them.

15 For indeed the [b]hand of the [2]Lord was against them, to destroy them from among the host, until they were consumed.

16 ¶ So it came to pass, when all the men of war were consumed and dead from among the people,

17 That the [2]Lord spake unto me, saying,

18 Thou art to pass over through Ār, the coast of Mō'ab, this day:

19 And when thou comest nigh over against the children of Ām'mŏn, distress them not, nor meddle with them: for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Ām'mŏn any possession; because I have given it unto the children of Lŏt for a possession.

20 (That also was accounted a land of giants: giants dwelt therein in old time; and the Ām'mŏn-ītes call them [5]Zam-zŭm'mims;

21 A people great, and many, and tall, as the Ăn'a-kĭms; but the [2]Lord destroyed them before them; and they succeeded them, and dwelt in their stead:

22 As he did to the children of Ē'saụ, which dwelt in Sē'ĭr, when he destroyed the Hō'rĭms from before them; and they succeeded them, and dwelt in their stead even unto this day:

23 And the Ā'vĭms which dwelt in Ha-zē'rĭm, even unto Āz'zah, the Căph'tŏ-rĭms, which came forth out of Căph'tor, destroyed them, and dwelt in their stead.)

24 ¶ [6]Rise ye up, take your journey, and pass over the river Är'nŏn: behold, I have given into thine hand Sī'hŏn the Ām'or-īte, king of Hĕsh'bŏn, and his land: begin to possess it, and contend with him in battle.

25 This day will I begin to put the dread of thee and the fear of thee upon the nations that are under the whole heaven, who shall hear report of thee, and shall tremble, and be in anguish because of thee.

3. "Said I" is not in the Hebrew and should be omitted. The connection is with v. 9, as it is Jehovah who said, "Rise up and get you over the brook."

4. That is, valley.

5. Meaning noisy people.

6. Vs. 24-37 review the conquest of the Amorites.

Ch. 3. B. C. 1451.

1. Vs. 1-11 review the conquest of Og and a view of the land.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Angob is a vast waste of basalt in the midst of a fertile plain. It has an elevation of about 30 feet. In this region were located the sixty cities mentioned in the text.

26 ¶ And I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kĕd'e-mŏth unto Sī'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn with words of peace, saying, 27 [c]Let me pass through thy land: I will go along by the high way, I will neither turn unto the right hand nor to the left.

28 Thou shalt sell me meat for money, that I may eat; and give me water for money, that I may drink: only I will pass through on my feet;

29 (As the children of Ē'saụ which dwell in Sē'ĭr, and the Mō'ab-ītes which dwell in Ār, did unto me;) until I shall pass over Jor'dan into the land which the Lord our God giveth us.

30 But Sī'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn would not let us pass by him: for the Lord thy God hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, that he might deliver him into thy hand, as appeareth this day.

31 And the Lord said unto me, Behold, I have begun to give Sī'hŏn and his land before thee: begin to possess, that thou mayest inherit his land.

32 Then Sī'hŏn came out against us, he and all his people, to fight at Jā'hăz.

33 And the Lord our God [d]delivered him before us; and we smote him, and his sons, and all his people.

34 And we took all his cities at that time, and utterly destroyed the men, and the women, and the little ones, of every city, we left none to remain:

35 Only the cattle we took for a prey unto ourselves, and the spoil of the cities which we took.

36 From Ār'ŏ-ēr, which is by the brink of the river of Är'nŏn, and from the city that is by the river, even unto Gĭl'e-ăd, there was not one city too strong for us: [e]the Lord our God delivered all unto us:

37 Only unto the land of the children of Ām'mŏn thou camest not, nor unto any place of the river Jăb'bok, nor unto the cities in the mountains, nor unto whatsoever the Lord our God forbad us.

CHAPTER 3.

1 The conquest of Og king of Bashan. 11 The bigness of his bed. 12 The distribution of lands to the two tribes and half. 23 Moses' prayer to enter into the land. 26 He is permitted to see it.

1 [1]Then we turned, and went up the way to Bā'shăn: and Ōg the king of Bā'shăn came out against us, he and all his people, to battle at Ĕd're-ī.

2 And the [2]Lord said unto me, [a]Fear him not: for I will deliver him, and all his people, and his land, into thy hand; and thou shalt do unto him as thou [b]didst unto Sī'hŏn king of the Ām'or-ītes, which dwelt at Hĕsh'bŏn.

3 So the [2]Lord our God delivered into our hands Ōg also, the king of Bā'shăn, and all his people: and we smote him until none was left to him remaining.

4 And we took all his cities at that time, there was not a city which we took not from them, threescore cities, all the region of [3]Är'gŏb, the kingdom of Ōg in Bā'shăn.

5 All these cities were fenced with high walls, gates, and bars; beside unwalled towns a great many.

b. Therefore their days did he consume in vanity, and their years in trouble. (Ps. 78:33.) Therefore he lifted up his hand against them, to overthrow them in the wilderness. (Ps. 106:26.)

c. And Israel sent messengers unto Sihon king of the Amorites, saying. (Num. 21:21.)

d. And when the Lord thy God shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them, and utterly destroy them; thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor show mercy unto them. (Dt. 7:2.)

e. For they got not the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them; but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst a favor unto them. (Ps. 44:3.)

Chapter 3.

a. Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:9.) The Lord is my light and my salvation: whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.) The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace. (Ex. 14:14.) In what place therefore ye hear the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither unto us. Our God shall fight for us. (Neh. 4:20.) For the Lord your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to save you. (Dt. 20:4.)

b. And Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land from Arnon unto Jabbok, even unto the children of Ammon: for the border of the children of Ammon was strong. (Num. 21:24.)

6 And we utterly destroyed them, as we did unto Sī'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn, utterly destroying the men, women, and children, of every city.

7 But all the cattle, and the spoil of the cities, we took for a prey to ourselves.

8 And we took at that time out of the hand of the two kings of the Ăm'or-ītes the land that was on this side Jor'dan, from the river of Är'nŏn unto mount Hĕr'mŏn;

9 (Which Hĕr'mŏn the Sī-dō'nĭ-anş call Sir'i-ŏn; and the Ăm'or-ītes call it Shē'nir;)

10 All the cities of the plain, and all Gĭl'e-ăd, and all Bā'shăn, unto Săl'chah and Ĕd're-ī, cities of the kingdom of Ōg in Bā'shăn.

11 For only Ōg king of Bā'shăn remained of the [c]remnant of giants; behold, his bedstead was a bedstead of iron; is it not in Răb'bath of the children of Ăm'mŏn? nine cubits was the length thereof, and four cubits the breadth of it, after the cubit of a man.

12 [4]And this land, which we possessed at that time, from Är'ō-ēr, which is by the river Är'nŏn, and half mount Gĭl'e-ăd, and the cities thereof, gave I unto the Reu'ben-ītes and to the Găd'ītes.

13 And the rest of Gĭl'e-ăd, and all Bā'shăn, being the kingdom of Ōg, gave I unto the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh; all the region of Är'gŏb, with all Bā'shăn, which was called the land of giants.

14 Jā'ĭr the son of Ma-năs'seh took all the country of Är'gŏb unto the coasts of Gĕsh'u-rī and Ma-ăch'a-thī; and called them after his own name, Bā'shăn-hā'voth-jā'ĭr, unto this day.

15 And I gave Gĭl'e-ăd unto Mā'chĭr.

16 And unto the Reu'ben-ītes and unto the Găd'ītes I gave from Gĭl'e-ăd even unto the river Är'nŏn half the valley, and the border even unto the river Jăb'bok, which is the border of the children of Ăm'mŏn;

17 The plain also, and Jor'dan, and the coast thereof, from Chĭn'ne-rĕth even unto the sea of the plain, even the salt sea, under Ăsh'dŏth-pĭs'gah eastward.

18 ¶ And I commanded you at that time, saying, The [2]Lord your God hath given you this land to possess it: ye shall pass over armed before your brethren the children of Ĭs'ra-el, all that are meet for the war.

19 But your wives, and your little ones, and your cattle, (for I know that ye have much cattle,) shall abide in your cities which I have given you;

20 Until the [2]Lord have given rest unto your brethren, as well as unto you, and until they also possess the land which the [2]Lord your God hath given them beyond Jor'dan: and then shall ye [d]return every man unto his possession, which I have given you.

21 ¶ [5]And I commanded Jŏsh'u-â at that time, saying, Thine eyes have seen all that the Lord your God hath done unto these two kings: so shall the [2]Lord do unto all the kingdoms whither thou passest.

4. Vs. 12-20 review the division of the conquered land. The land east of the Jordan to the tribes of Reuben and Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh; the southern part from Aroer and Gilead as far as Jabbok to the Reubenites and Gadites; the northern part of Gilead with Bashan to the half tribe of Manasseh.

5. Vs. 21-29 review the appointment of Joshua as successor to Moses.

Ch. 4. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—Ch. 4 is a fervent and forcible appeal to the people to remain true to Jehovah, thus closing his first discourse with promises of prosperity if the people will keep the commands and statutes of Jehovah.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

22 Ye shall not [a]fear them: for the [2]Lord your God he shall fight for you.

23 And I besought the [2]Lord at that time, saying,

24 O Lord God, thou hast begun to shew thy servant thy greatness, and thy mighty hand: for what God is there in heaven or in earth, that can do according to thy works, and according to thy might?

25 I pray thee, let me go over, and see the good land that is beyond Jor'dan, that goodly mountain, and Lĕb'a-non.

26 But the [2]Lord was wroth with me for your sakes, and would not hear me: and the Lord said unto me, Let it suffice thee; speak no more unto me of this matter.

27 Get thee up into the top of Pĭs'gah, and lift up thine eyes westward, and northward, and southward, and eastward, and behold it with thine eyes: for thou shalt not go over this Jor'dan.

28 But charge Jŏsh'u-â, and encourage him, and strengthen him: for he shall go over before this people, and he shall cause them to inherit the land which thou shalt see.

29 So we abode in the valley over against Bĕth-pē'or.

CHAPTER 4.

1 An exhortation to obedience. 41 Moses appointeth the three cities of refuge on that side Jordan.

1 Now therefore heaken, O Ĭs'ra-el, unto the [a]statutes and unto the judgments, which I teach you, for to do them, that ye may live, and go in and possess the land which the [1]Lord God of your fathers giveth you.

2 Ye shall not [b]add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the [1]Lord your God which I command you.

3 Your eyes have seen what the [1]Lord did because of Bā'al-pē'or: for all the men that followed Bā'al-pē'or, the Lord thy God hath destroyed them from among you.

4 But ye that did [c]cleave unto the Lord your God are alive every one of you this day.

5 Behold, I have taught you statutes and [a]judgments, even as the Lord my God commanded me, that ye should do so in the land whither ye go to possess it.

6 Keep therefore and do them; for this is [d]your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.

7 For what nation is there so great, who hath [e]God so nigh unto them, as the [1]Lord our God is in all things that we call upon him for?

8 And what nation is there so great, that hath statutes and [a]judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day?

9 Only take heed to thyself, and keep thy soul diligently, [f]lest thou forget the things

c. Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks: yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. (Amos 2:9.)

d. And now the Lord your God hath given rest unto your brethren, as he promised them: therefore now return ye, and get you unto your tents, and unto the land of your possession, which Moses the servant of the Lord gave you on the other side Jordan. (Josh. 22:4.)

Chapter 4.

a. And I gave them my statutes, and showed them my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them. (Ezek. 20:11.) For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth those things shall live by them. (Rom. 10:5.) And what nation is there so great, that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day? (Dt. 4:8.)

b. What thing soever I command you, observe to do it; thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it. (Dt. 12:32.) Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar. (Prov. 30:6.) But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. (Math. 15:9.) For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book. (Rev. 22:18.)

c. But cleave unto the Lord your God, as ye have done unto this day. (Josh. 23:8.) Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord. (Acts 11:23.) Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God; him shalt thou serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, and swear by his name. (Dt. 10:20.)

d. And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding. (Job. 28:28.) The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple: (Ps. 19:7.) And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. (II Tim. 3:15.)

e. God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. (Ps. 46:1.) The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. (Ps. 145:18.)

f. Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding: (Prov. 3:13.) For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him. (Gen. 18:19.) And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. (Dt. 6:7.) Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it. (Prov. 22:6.) And, ye fathers, provoke not your chil-which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thy heart all the days of thy life: but [f]teach them thy sons, and thy sons' sons;

10 Specially the day that thou stoodest before the [1]Lord thy God in Hō'reb, when the [1]Lord said unto me, Gather me the people together, and I will make them hear my words, that they may learn to fear me all the days that they shall live upon the earth, and that they may teach their children.

11 And ye came near and stood under the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire unto the midst of heaven, with darkness, clouds, and thick darkness.

12 And the [1]Lord spake unto you out of the midst of the fire: ye heard the voice of the words, but saw no similitude; only ye heard a voice.

13 And he declared unto you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even ten commandments; and he wrote them upon two tables of stone.

14 ¶ And the [1]Lord commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and [a]judgments, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go over to possess it.

15 [2]Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves; for ye saw no manner of [g]similitude on the day that the [1]Lord spake unto you in [3]Hō'reb out of the midst of the fire:

16 Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, [h]the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female,

17 The likeness of any beast that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged fowl that flieth in the air,

18 The likeness of any thing that creepeth on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth:

19 And lest thou lift up thine eyes unto heaven, and when thou seest the sun, and the moon, and the stars, even all the host of heaven, shouldest be driven to worship them, and serve them, which the [1]Lord thy God hath divided unto all nations under the whole heaven.

20 But the [1]Lord hath taken you, and brought you forth out of the iron furnace, even out of Ē'gўpt, to be unto him a people of inheritance, as ye are this day.

21 Furthermore the [1]Lord was angry with me for your sakes, and sware that I should not go over Jor'dan, and that I should not go in unto that good land, which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance:

22 But I must die in this land, I must not go over Jor'dan: but ye shall go over, and possess that good land.

23 Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the [1]Lord your God, which he made with you, and make you a [i]graven image, or the likeness of any thing, which the [1]Lord thy God hath forbidden thee.

24 For the [j]Lord thy God is a consuming fire, even a [k]jealous God.

25 ¶ [4]When thou shalt beget children, and children's children, and ye shall have remained long in the land, and shall corrupt yourselves, and make a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, and shall do evil in the sight of the [1]Lord thy God, to [l]provoke him to anger:

26 I call [m]heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon utterly perish from off the land whereunto ye go over Jor'dan to possess it; ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed.

27 And the [1]Lord shall [5]scatter you among the nations, and ye shall be left few in number among the heathen, whither the Lord shall lead you.

28 And there ye shall serve gods, the work of men's hands, wood and stone, which neither see, nor hear, nor eat, nor smell.

29 But if from thence thou [n]shalt seek the [1]Lord thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seek him with all thy heart and with all thy soul.

30 When thou art in tribulation, and all these things are come upon thee, even in the latter days, if thou turn to the [1]Lord thy God, and shalt be obedient unto his voice;

31 (For the [1]Lord thy God is a merciful God;) [o]he will not forsake thee, neither destroy thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers which he sware unto them.

32 For ask now of the days that are past, which were before thee, since the day that God created man upon the earth, and ask from the one [p]side of heaven unto the other, whether there hath been any such thing as this great thing is, or hath been heard like it?

33 Did ever people hear the voice of God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard, and live?

34 Or hath God assayed to go and take him a nation from the midst of another nation, by temptations, by signs, and by wonders, and by war, and by a mighty hand, and by a stretched out arm, and by great terrors, according to all that the Lord your God did for you in Ē'gўpt before your eyes?

35 Unto thee it was shewed, that thou might-

5. Vs. 27-40 become a prophecy which was fulfilled when the rebellious people were scattered by the Assyrians, Babylonians and Romans.

dren to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. (Eph. 6:4.)

g. To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him? (Is. 40:18.) God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands (24): Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device. (Acts 17:24, 29.)

h. And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible men, and to birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things. (Rom. 1:23.)

i. Thou shalt have none other gods before me. (Dt. 5:7.) Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them. (Dt. 11:16.) Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no god but me; for there is no saviour beside me. (Hos. 13:4.) Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen. (I Jno. 5:21.)

j. And the sight of the glory of the Lord was like devouring fire on the top of the mount in the eyes of the children of Israel. (Ex. 24:17.) The sinners in Zion are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings? (Is. 33:14.) For our God is a consuming fire. (Heb. 12:29.)

k. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. (Ex. 20:5.) I am the Lord; that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images. (Is. 42:8.)

l. And the anger of the Lord was kindled against them; and he departed. (Num. 12:9.) And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon. (Jud. 10:7.) He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the horn of Israel: he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, and he burned against Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about. (Lam. 2:3.) Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him. (Nah. 1:6.)

m. Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the Lord hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me. (Is. 1:2.)

n. Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near. (Is. 55:6.) Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you. (Jer. 29:12.) And thou, Solomon, my son, know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing mind; for the Lord searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts; if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for ever. (I Chr. 28:9.)

o. Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Dt. 31:6.) And David said to Solomon his son, Be strong and of good courage, and do it: fear not, nor be dismayed; for the Lord God, even my God, will be with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee, until thou hast finished all the work, for the service of the house of the Lord. (I Chr. 28:20.) There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life: as I was with Moses, so I will be with thee: I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Josh. 1:5.) I have been young, and now am old; yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread. (Ps. 37:25.) Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. (Is. 55:7.)

p. And he shall send angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. (Math. 24:31.)

est know that the Lord he is God; [q]there is none else beside him.

36 Out of heaven he made thee to hear his voice, that he might instruct thee: and upon earth he shewed thee his great fire; and thou heardest his words out of the midst of the fire.

37 And because he loved thy fathers, therefore he chose their seed after them, and brought thee out in his sight with his mighty power out of Ē'gўpt;

38 To drive out nations from before thee greater and mightier than thou art, to bring thee in, to give thee their land for an inheritance, as it is this day.

39 Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that [r]the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else.

40 Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, [s]that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee, for ever.

41 ¶ [6]Then Mō'şeş severed three cities on this side Jor'dan toward the sunrising;

42 That the slayer might flee thither, which should kill his neighbour unawares, and hated him not in times past; and that fleeing unto one of these cities he might live:

43 Namely, Bē'zēr in the wilderness, in the plain country, of the Reu'ben-ītes; and Rā'moth in Gĭl'e-ăd, of the Găd'ītes; and Gō'lan in Bā'shăn, of the Ma-năs'sītes.

44 ¶ [7]And this is the law which Mō'şeş set before the children of Ĭs'ra-el:

45 These are the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which Mō'şeş spake unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, after they came forth out of Ē'gўpt,

46 On this side Jor'dan, in the valley over against Bēth-pē'or, in the land of Sī'hŏn king of the Ām'or-ītes, who dwelt at Hĕsh'bŏn, whom Mō'şeş and the children of Ĭs'ra-el smote, after they were come forth out of Ē'gўpt:

47 And they possessed his land, and the land of Ōg king of Bā'shăn, two kings of the Ām'or-ītes, which were on this side Jor'dan toward the sunrising;

48 From Ăr'ō-ēr which is by the bank of the river Ăr'nŏn, even unto mount Sī'ŏn, which is Hēr'mŏn, 49 And all the plain on this side Jor'dan eastward, even unto the sea of the plain, under the springs of Pĭş'gah.

CHAPTER 5.

1 The covenant in Horeb. 6 The ten commandments. 22 At the people's request Moses receiveth the law from God.

1 And Mō'şeş called all Ĭs'ra-el, and said unto them, Hear, O Ĭs'ra-el, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them.

2 The [1]Lord our God [q]made a covenant with us in [2]Hō'reb.

3 The [1]Lord [b]made not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us, who are all of us here alive this day.

4 The [1]Lord [c]talked with you face to face in the mount out of the midst of the fire,

5 (I stood between the [1]Lord and you at that time, to shew you the word of the [1]Lord: for ye were afraid [d]by reason of the fire, and went not up into the mount;) saying,

6 ¶ [3]I am the [1]Lord [e]thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Ē'gўpt, from the house of bondage.

7 Thou [e]shalt have none other gods before me.

8 Thou shalt not make thee [f]any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth:

9 Thou shalt not bow down thyself unto them, nor serve them: for I the [1]Lord thy God am a [g]jealous God, [h]visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me,

10 And shewing [i]mercy unto thousands of them that love me and keep my commandments.

11 Thou shalt not take the name of the [1]Lord thy [j]God in vain: for the [1]Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.

12 Keep the [k]sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee.

Ch. 5. B. C. 1451.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. Range of mountains of which Sinai is the summit.

3. Vs. 6-21 repeat the ten commandments. This repetition in sight of the land of promise occurs thirty-eight years after the giving of the law on Sinai. There are some variations in the language, but not the slightest deviation from the thought.

q. There is none holy as the Lord: for there is none beside thee: neither is there any rock like our God. (I Sam. 2:2.) I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me. (Is. 45:5.) And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; the Lord our God is one Lord. (Mk. 12:29.)

r. And as soon as we had heard these things, our hearts did melt, neither did there remain any more courage in any man, because of you: for the Lord your God, he is God in heaven above, and in earth beneath. (Josh. 2:11.) I am the Lord; that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images. (Is. 42:8.)

s. Thou shalt not eat it; that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, when thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the Lord (25). Observe and hear all these words which I command thee, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee for ever, when thou doest that which is good and right in the sight of the Lord thy God. (Dt. 12:25, 28.)

a. Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine. (Ex. 19:5.)

b. For verily I say unto you, That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them. (Math. 13:17.) Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord. (Heb. 8:9.)

c. And there arose not a prophet since in Israel like unto Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face. (Dt. 34:10.)

d. And it came to pass on the third day, in the morning, that there were thunders and lightnings, and a thick cloud upon the mount, and the voice of the trumpet exceeding loud; so that all the people that was in the camp trembled. (Ex. 19:16.)

e. I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me. (Ex. 20:2, 3.) Now therefore fear the Lord, and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt; and serve ye the Lord. (Josh. 24:14.) Then said I unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt: I am the Lord your God. (Ezek. 20:7.) Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me; for there is no saviour beside me. (Hos. 13:4.)

f. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: (Ex. 20:4.) For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears; we would know therefore what these things mean. (Acts. 17:20.) Ye shall not make with me gods of silver, neither shall ye make unto you gods of gold. (Ex. 20:23.) Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19:4.)

g. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. (Ex. 20:5.) I am the Lord; that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images. (Is. 42:8.)

h. Keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation. (Ex. 34:7.) After the number of the days in which ye searched the land, even forty days, each day for a year, shall ye bear your iniquities, even forty years; and ye shall know my breach of promise. (Num. 14:34.) Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases. (Ps. 103:3.) But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. (Is. 53:5.) For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more. (Heb. 8:12.)

i. Thou showest loving-kindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: The Great, the Mighty God, the Lord of hosts, is his name. (Jer. 32:18.) And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments. (Ex. 20:6.) Keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation. (Ex. 34:7.)

j. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain. (Ex. 20:7.) And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:12.)

k. Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctify them. (Ezek. 20:12.) And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified

CLIMBING THE GREAT PYRAMID OF CHEOPS.

13 [l]Six days thou shalt labour, and do all thy work:
14 But the seventh day is the [k]sabbath of the [1]Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thine ox, nor thine ass, nor any of thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates; that thy manservant and thy maidservant may rest as well as thou.
15 And remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, and that the [1]Lord thy God brought thee out thence through a mighty hand and by a stretched out arm: therefore the [1]Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the [k]sabbath day.
16 ¶ Honour [4][m]thy father and thy mother, as the [1]Lord thy God hath commanded thee; that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee, in the land which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee.
17 Thou [n]shalt not kill.
18 Neither [o]shalt thou commit adultery.
19 Neither [p]shalt thou steal.
20 Neither shalt thou [q]bear false witness against thy neighbour.
21 Neither [r]shalt thou desire thy neighbour's wife, neither shalt thou covet thy neighbour's house, his field, or his manservant, or his maidservant, his ox, or his ass, or any thing that is thy neighbour's.
22 ¶ These words the [1]Lord spake unto all your assembly in the mount out of the midst of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thick darkness, with a great voice: and he added no more. And [s]he wrote them in two tables of stone, and delivered them unto me.
23 And it came to pass, when ye heard the voice out of the midst of the darkness, (for the mountain did burn with fire,) that ye came near unto me, even all the heads of your tribes, and your elders;
24 And ye said, Behold, the [1]Lord our God hath shewed us his glory and his greatness, and we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire: we have seen this day that God doth talk with man, and he liveth.
25 Now therefore why should we die? for this great fire will consume us: if we hear the voice of the Lord our God any more, then we shall die.

4. In the parallel passage, of v. 16, found in Exodus, long life is promised as a reward of obedience to this command.

Ch. 6. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—In ch. 5 is the decalogue and in ch. 6 Moses continues to impress its great truths.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

26 For who is there of all flesh, that hath heard the voice of the living God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as we have, and lived?
27 Go thou near, and hear all that the [1]Lord our God shall say: and speak thou unto us all that the Lord our God shall speak unto thee; and we will hear it, and do it.
28 And the [1]Lord heard the voice of your words, when ye spake unto me; and the [1]Lord said unto me, I have heard the voice of the words of this people, which they have spoken unto thee: they have well said all that they have spoken.
29 [t]O that there were such an heart in them, that they would fear me, and [u]keep all my commandments always, that it might be well with them, and with their children for ever!
30 Go say to them, Get you into your tents again.
31 But as for thee, stand thou here by me, and I will speak unto thee all the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, that they may do them in the land which I give them to possess it.
32 Ye shall observe to do therefore as the [1]Lord your God hath commanded you: [v]ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left.
33 Ye shall walk in all the [w]ways which the [1]Lord your God hath commanded you, that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess.

CHAPTER 6.

1 The end of the law is obedience. 3 An exhortation thereto.

1 Now these are the commandments, the statutes, and the judgments, which the [1]Lord your God commanded to teach you, that ye might [a]do them in the land whither ye go to possess it:
2 That thou [b]mightest fear the [1]Lord thy God, to keep [a]all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou, and thy son, and thy son's son, all the days of thy life; and that thy days may be prolonged.
3 ¶ Hear therefore, O Is'ra-el, and observe to do it; that it may be well with thee, and that ye may increase mightily, as the [1]Lord it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made. (Gen. 2:3.) Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. (Ex. 20:8.) Six days shall work be done: but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings. (Lev. 23:3.) See, for that the Lord hath given you the sabbath, therefore he giveth you on the sixth day, the bread of two days: abide ye every man in his place; let no man go out of his place on the seventh day. (Ex. 16:29.) For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works. (Heb. 4:4.)

l. Six days thou shalt work; but on the seventh day thou shalt rest; in earing time and in harvest thou shalt rest. (Ex. 34:21.) The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep. (Ecc. 5:12.) And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you. (I Thes. 4:11.) Six days shall work be done; but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings. (Lev. 23:3.)

m. Ye shall fear every man his mother and his father, and keep my sabbaths: I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19:3.) And he that curseth his father or his mother shall surely be put to death. (Ex. 21:17.) Honor thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. (Ex. 20:12.) For God commanded, saying, Honor thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. (Math. 15:4.) Honor thy father and thy mother; and, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. (Mat. 19:19.) Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honor thy father and mother. (Mk. 10:19.) Honor thy father and mother; (which is the first commandment with promise). (Eph. 6:2.)

s. And the Lord said unto Moses, Come up to me into the mount, and be there: and I will give thee tables of stone, and a law, and commandments which I have written; that thou mayest teach them. (Ex. 24:12.)

t. O that they were wise, that they understood this, that they would consider their latter end! (Dt. 32:29.) O that my people had hearkened unto me, and Israel had walked in my ways! (Ps. 81:13.) O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea. (Is. 48:18.) Saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes. (Lu. 19:42.)

u. Therefore thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and keep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments, alway. (Dt. 11:1.) Thus saith the Lord of hosts; If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou shalt also judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee places to walk among these that stand by, (Zech. 3:7.) My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments. (Prov. 3:1.)

v. Be ye therefore very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the book of the law of Moses, that ye turn not aside therefrom, to the right hand or to the left. (Josh. 23:6.) Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: remove thy foot from evil. (Prov. 4:27.)

w. But this thing commanded I them saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people; and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you. (Jer. 7:23.) And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. (Lu. 1:6.) For bodily exercise profiteth little, but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. (I Tim. 4:8.)

Chapter 6.

a. Therefore thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and keep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments alway. (Dt. 11:1.) Thus saith the Lord of hosts; If thou wilt walk in my ways; and if thou wilt keep my courts, and I will give thee places to walk among these that stand by. (Zech. 3:7.) My son, forget not my law: but let thine heart keep my commandments. (Prov. 3:1.) Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently. (Ps. 119:4.)

b. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do all his commandments: his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.)

God of thy fathers hath promised thee, in the land that floweth with milk and honey.

4 Hear, O Ĭs'ra-el: the [2]Lord [c]our God is one [1]Lord:

5 And thou [d]shalt love the [1]Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

6 And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart:

7 And thou shalt [e]teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

8 And thou [f]shalt [3]bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes.

9 And thou shalt write [4]them upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates.

10 And it shall be, when the [1]Lord thy [c]God shall have brought thee into the land which he sware unto thy fathers, to Ā'brā-hăm, to Ī'ṣaac, and to Jā'cob, to give thee great and goodly cities, [g]which thou buildest not,

11 And houses full of all good things, which thou filledst not, and wells digged, which thou diggedst not, vineyards and olive trees, which thou plantedst not; when thou shalt have eaten and be full;

12 Then beware lest thou forget the [1]Lord, which brought thee forth out of the land of E'ġўpt, from the house of bondage.

13 Thou shalt [b]fear the Lord thy God, and [h]serve him, and [i]shalt swear by his name.

14 Ye shall not [j]go after other gods, of the gods of the people which are round about you;

15 (For the [1]Lord thy God is a jealous [k]God among you) lest the anger of the [1]Lord thy God be kindled against thee, and destroy thee from off the face of the earth.

16 ¶ Ye shall [l]not tempt the [1]Lord your God, as ye tempted him in Măs'sah.

17 Ye shall diligently [a]keep the commandments of the [1]Lord your God, and his testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee.

18 And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the [1]Lord; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, 19 To cast out all thine enemies from before thee, as the [1]Lord hath spoken.

20 And when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, What mean the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which the [1]Lord our God hath commanded you?

21 Then thou shalt say unto thy son, We were Phā'raōh's bondmen in E'ġўpt; and the [1]Lord brought us out of E'ġўpt with a mighty hand:

22 And the Lord shewed signs and wonders, great and sore, upon E'ġўpt, upon Phā'raōh, and upon all his household, before our eyes:

23 And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in, to give us the land which he sware unto our fathers.

24 And the [1]Lord commanded us to do all these statutes, to [b]fear the [1]Lord our God, for our good always, that he [m]might preserve us alive, as it is at this day.

25 And it shall be our righteousness, if we observe to do all these commandments before the [1]Lord our God, as he hath commanded us.

CHAPTER 7.

1 All communion with the nations is forbidden, 4 for fear of idolatry, 6 for the holiness of the people, 17 for the assuredness of victory which God will give over them.

1 When the [1]Lord thy God shall bring thee into the land whither thou goest to possess it, and hath cast out many nations before thee, the Hĭt'tītes, and the Gĭr'ga-shītes, and the Ām'or-ītes, and the Cā'năan-ītes, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, and the Hī'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes, seven nations greater and mightier than thou;

2 And when the [1]Lord thy God shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them, and utterly destroy them; thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor shew mercy unto them:

3 Neither [a]shalt thou make marriages with them; thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son.

4 For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods: so will the anger of the [1]Lord be kindled against you, and destroy thee suddenly.

5 But thus shall ye deal with them; ye shall [b]destroy their altars, and break down their images, and cut down their groves, and burn their graven images with fire.

6 For thou art an holy people unto the [1]Lord thy God: the [1]Lord thy God [c]hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth.

7 The [1]Lord did not set his love upon you, nor choose you, because ye were more in number than any people; for ye were the fewest of all people:

8 But because the [1]Lord loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your fathers, hath the [1]Lord brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you out of the house of bondmen, from the hand of Phā'raōh king of E'ġўpt.

9 Know therefore that the [1]Lord thy God, he

2. Jehovah is our God, Jehovah alone. (R. V.)

3. The Jews literally applied this teaching. Little leather boxes, each with four compartments in which were four portions of the written law, were bound upon hands, arms and forehead. The straps on the leather boxes were to be tied in such a manner that together with the Greek letter "Shin" on them they would form the word "Shaddhai"—"The Almighty."

4. It was a common custom at that time to place signs and inscriptions on the lintels and door posts and various public places to constantly remind the people that the eyes of their God were upon them.

Ch. 7. B. C. 1451.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

c. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.) And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: (Mk. 12:29.) One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. (Eph. 4:6.) Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus (5): Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God. (Phil. 2:5, 6.)

d. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. (Math. 22:37.) And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul. (Dt. 10:12.) My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe my days. (Prov. 23:26.)

e. And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. (Eph. 6:4.)

f. Bind them continually upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck. (Prov. 6:21.) Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart. (Prov. 7:3.)

g. And I have given you a land for which ye did not labor, and cities which ye built not, and ye dwell in them; of the vineyards and olive yards which ye planted not do ye eat. (Josh. 24:13.) And gave them the lands of the heathen: and they inherited the labor of the people. (Ps. 105:44.)

h. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. (Lu. 4:8.)

i. But the king shall rejoice in God; every one that sweareth by him shall glory: but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped. (Ps. 63:11.)

j. And go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands; and I will do you no hurt. (Jer. 25:6.)

k. See g, ch. 5, Dt.

l. Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. (Math. 4:7.) And now we call the crowd happy; yea, they that work wickedness are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered. (Mal. 3:15.) But Jesus perceived their wickedness and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? (Math. 22:18.) Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents. (I Cor. 10:9.)

m. The Lord will preserve him, and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed upon the earth: and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies. (Ps. 41:2.) And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live. (Lu. 10:28.)

Chapter 7.

a. Of the nations concerning which the Lord said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall not go in to them, neither shall they come in unto you: for surely they will turn away your heart after their gods. Solomon clave unto these in love. (I Ks. 11:2.)

b. Thou shalt not bow down to their gods, nor serve them, nor do after their works; but thou shalt utterly overthrow them; and quite break down their images. (Ex. 23:24.)

c. Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine. (Ex. 19:5.) But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. (I Pet. 2:9.)

is God, [d]the faithful God, which keepeth covenant [e]and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments to a thousand generations;

10 [2]And [f]repayeth them that hate him to their face, to destroy them: he will not be slack to him that hateth him, he will repay him to his face.

11 Thou shalt therefore keep the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which I command thee this day, to do them.

12 ¶ [3]Wherefore it shall come to pass, if ye hearken to these judgments, and keep, and do them, that the [1]Lord thy God shall keep unto thee the covenant and [e]the mercy which he sware unto thy fathers:

13 And he will [g]love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee: he will also bless the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy land, thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep, in the land which he sware unto thy fathers to give thee.

14 Thou shalt be blessed above all people: there shall not be male or female barren among you, or among your cattle.

15 And the [1]Lord will take away from thee all sickness, and will put none of the [h]evil diseases of Ē'gўpt, which thou knowest, upon thee; but will lay them upon all them that hate thee.

16 And thou shalt consume all the people which the [1]Lord thy God shall deliver thee; thine eye shall have no pity upon them: neither shalt thou serve their gods; for that will be [i]a snare unto thee.

17 If thou shalt say in thine heart, These nations are more than I; how can I dispossess them?

18 Thou shalt not be afraid of them: but shalt well [j]remember what the [1]Lord thy God did unto Phā'raōh, and unto all Ē'gўpt;

19 The great temptations which thine eyes saw, and the signs, and the wonders, and the mighty hand, and the stretched out arm, whereby the [1]Lord thy God brought thee out: so shall the Lord thy God do unto all the people of whom thou art afraid.

20 Moreover the [1]Lord thy God will send the hornet [4]among them, until they that are left, and hide themselves from thee, be destroyed.

21 Thou shalt not be [j]affrighted at them: for the [1]Lord thy God is among you, [k]a mighty God and terrible.

22 And the [1]Lord thy God will put out those nations before thee by little and little: thou mayest not consume them at once, lest the beasts of the field increase upon thee.

23 But the [1]Lord thy God shall deliver them unto thee, and shall destroy them with a mighty destruction, until they be destroyed.

24 And he shall deliver their kings into thine hand, and thou shalt destroy their name from under heaven: there shall no man be able to stand before thee, until thou have destroyed them.

25 The graven images of their gods [l]shall ye burn with fire: thou shalt not desire the silver or gold that is on them, nor take it unto thee, lest thou be [i]snared therein: for it is an abomination to the [1]Lord thy God.

26 Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thine house, lest thou be a cursed thing like it: but thou shalt utterly detest it, and thou shalt utterly abhor it; for it is a cursed thing.

2. This verse has received many interpretations, the majority concurring in the belief that Jehovah punishes each one that hates him, so that each may know he is smitten of God. (W.)

3. Vs. 12-15 contain the promise of great blessings if the people will keep the commandments of Jehovah.

4. Three different interpretations of the word hornet have been given, viz., 1st, that the word is used literally; 2nd, that the Amorites are meant; 3rd, that it is simply used in the sense of dread as a figurative expression of uncontrolled terror.

CHAPTER 8.

1 An exhortation to obedience in regard of God's dealing with them.

1 All the commandments which I command thee this day shall ye observe to do, that ye may live, and multiply, and go in and possess the land which the [1]Lord sware unto your fathers.

2 And thou shalt remember all the way which the [1]Lord thy God led thee [a]these forty years in the wilderness, to humble thee, and [b]to prove thee, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keep his commandments, or no.

3 And he humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; that he might make thee know that man doth [c]not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the [1]Lord doth man live.

4 Thy raiment [d]waxed not old upon thee, neither did thy foot swell, these forty years.

5 Thou shalt also consider in thine heart, that, as a man [e]chasteneth his son, so the Lord thy God chasteneth thee.

6 Therefore thou shalt keep the command-

Ch. 8. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—For fear that, after their long years of wandering, the people will, in coming into possession of the land of promise, be inclined to forget their Jehovah, their God, and adopt idolatrous worship, Moses reviews Jehovah's merciful dealings with them and warns them against forgetting him.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

d. Thus saith the Lord, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One; to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers, Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the Lord that is faithful, and the Holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee. (Is. 49:7.) God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord. (I Cor. 1:9.) If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful: he cannot deny himself. (II Tim. 2:13.) If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (I Jno. 1:9.)

e. And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments. (Ex. 20:6.) And said, I beseech thee, O Lord God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy for them that love him, and observe his commandments. (Neh. 1:5.)

f. The way of peace they know not; and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace. (Is. 59:8.) God is jealous, and the Lord revengeth; the Lord revengeth, and is furious; the Lord will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies. (Nah. 1:2.)

g. For the righteous Lord loveth righteousness; his countenance doth behold the upright. (Ps. 11:7.) Because thy loving-kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee. (Ps. 63:3.) He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me; and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him. (Jno. 14:21.)

h. For I will at this time send all my plagues upon thine heart, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people; that thou mayest know that there is none like me in all the earth. (Ex. 9:14.)

i. And Gideon made an ephod thereof, and put it in his city, even in Ophrah, and all Israel went thither a whoring after it: which thing became a snare unto, Gideon and to his house. (Jud. 8:27.) And they served their idols which were a snare unto them. (Ps. 106:36.)

j. Remember his marvellous works that he hath done; his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth; (Ps. 105:5.) Only rebel not ye against the Lord, neither fear ye the people of the land; for they are bread for us: their defences departed from them, and the Lord is with us; fear them not. (Num. 14:9.)

k. Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepest covenant and mercy, let not all the trouble seem little before thee that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, since the time of the kings of Assyria unto this day. (Neh. 9:32.)

l. And he took the calf which they had made, and burned it in the fire, and ground it to powder, and strawed it upon the water, and made the children of Israel drink of it. (Ex. 32:20.) And when they had left their gods there, David gave a commandment and they were burned with fire. (I Chr. 14:12.)

Chapter 8.

a. To him which led his people through the wilderness; for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 136:16.) Also I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you forty years through the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite. (Amos 2:10.) That led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name? (Is. 63:12.)

b. Then said the Lord unto Moses, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day, that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no. (Ex. 16:4.) And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart. (Ps. 26:2.) I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love. (II Cor. 8:8.) But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. (Gal. 6:4.)

c. Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust. (Ps. 104:29.) But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. (Math. 4:4.)

d. Yea, forty years didst thou sustain them in the wilderness, so that they lacked nothing; their clothes waxed not old, and their feet swelled not. (Neh. 9:21.)

e. I will be his father, and he shall be my son. If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men. (II Sam. 7:14.) For whom the Lord loveth he correcteth, even as a father the son in whom he delighteth. (Prov. 3:12.) And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him. (Heb. 12:5.) As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be jealous therefore, and repent. (Rev. 3:19.)

ments of the [1]Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, and to fear him.

7 For the [1]Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills;

8 A land of wheat, and barley, and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of oil olive, and honey;

9 A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack any thing in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass.

10 When thou hast eaten and art full, then [f]thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which he hath given thee.

11 Beware that thou forget not the [1]Lord thy God, in not keeping his commandments, and his judgments, and his statutes, which I command thee this day:

12 [g]Lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein;

13 And when thy herds and thy flocks multiply, and thy silver and thy gold is multiplied, and all that thou hast is multiplied;

14 Then thine heart be lifted up, and thou [h]forget the [1]Lord thy God, which brought thee forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt, from the house of bondage;

15 Who [a]led thee through that great and terrible wilderness, wherein were fiery serpents, and scorpions, and drought, where there was no water; [i]who brought thee forth water out of the rock of flint;

16 Who fed thee in the wilderness with [j]manna, which thy fathers knew not, that he might humble thee, and that he might [b]prove thee, to do thee [k]good at thy latter end;

17 And thou say in thine heart, My power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth.

18 But thou shalt remember the [1]Lord thy God: [l]for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant which he sware unto thy fathers, as it is this day.

19 And it shall be, if thou do at all forget the [1]Lord [h]thy God, and walk after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I testify against you this day that ye shall surely perish.

20 As the nations which the [1]Lord destroyeth before your face, so shall ye perish; because ye would not be obedient unto the voice of the [1]Lord your God.

CHAPTER 9.

Moses dissuadeth them from the opinion of their own righteousness, by rehearsing their several rebellions.

1 Hear, O Ĭs'ra-el: Thou art to pass over Jor'dan this day, to go in to possess [a]nations greater and mightier than thyself, cities great and fenced up to heaven,

2 A people great and tall, the children of the Ān'a-kĭmş, whom thou knowest, and of whom thou hast heard say, Who can stand before the children of Ā'năk!

3 Understand therefore this day, that the [1]Lord thy God is he which goeth [b]over before thee; as a [c]consuming fire he shall destroy them, and he shall bring them down before thy face: so shalt thou drive them out, and destroy them quickly, as the [1]Lord hath said unto thee.

4 Speak not thou in thine heart, after that the [1]Lord thy God hath cast them out from before thee, saying, [d]for my righteousness the [1]Lord hath brought me in to possess this land: but [e]for the wickedness of these nations the [1]Lord doth drive them out from before thee.

5 Not for [f]thy righteousness, or for the uprightness of thine heart, dost thou go to possess their land: but for the wickedness of these nations the [1]Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee, and that he may perform [g]the word which the [1]Lord sware unto thy fathers, Ā'brā-hăm, Ī'şaac, and Jā'cob.

6 Understand therefore, that the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee not this good land to possess it for [d]thy righteousness; for thou art a stiffnecked people.

7 ¶ Remember, and forget not, how thou provokedst the [1]Lord thy God to wrath in the wilderness: from the day that thou didst depart out of the land of Ē'gўpt, until ye came unto this place, ye have been rebellious against the [1]Lord.

8 Also in [2]Hō'reb ye [h]provoked the [1]Lord to wrath, so that the [1]Lord was angry with you to have destroyed you.

9 When I was gone up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant which the [1]Lord made with you, then I abode in the mount forty days and forty nights, I neither did eat bread nor drink water:

10 And the [1]Lord delivered unto me two tables of stone written with the finger of God; and on them was written according to all the words, which the [1]Lord spake with you in the mount out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly.

11 And it came to pass at the end of forty days and forty nights, that the [1]Lord gave me the two tables of stone, even the tables of the [2]covenant.

12 And the [1]Lord said unto me, Arise, [i]get thee down quickly from hence; for thy people which thou hast brought forth out of Ē'gўpt have corrupted themselves; they are [j]quickly turned aside out of the way which I com-

Ch. 9. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—Moses has already assured the people that they shall overcome the nations of Canaan. Now in ch. 9 he seeks to impress upon them that Jehovah gives them good land, not because of their righteousness, but because of his mercy and longsuffering. To emphasize these facts he rehearses their many rebellions against Jehovah.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. Mountain range of which Sinai is the summit. Thus bringing their minds back to the time they provoked Jehovah at the giving of the law.

3. The commandments, the table of the law.

f. Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. (I Cor. 10:31.) My heart is toward the governors of Israel, that offered themselves willingly among the people. Bless ye the Lord. (Jud. 5:9.) Stand up and bless the Lord your God for ever and ever: and blessed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise. (Neh. 9:5.)

g. Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain. (Prov. 30:9.)

h. Then beware lest thou forget the Lord, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage. (Dt. 6:12.) Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver. (Ps. 50:22.) That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments. (Ps. 78:7.) See v. 18.

i. And Moses lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock twice; and the water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also. (Num. 20:11.) He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths. (Ps. 78:15.)

j. And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, It is manna: for they wist not what it was. And Moses said unto them, This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat. (Ex. 16:15.)

k. Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby. (Heb. 12:11.)

l. The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it. (Prov. 10:22.) For she did not know that I gave her corn, and wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, which they prepared for Baal. (Hos. 2:8.)

Chapter 9.

a. See ch. 7:1.

b. Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth passeth over before you into Jordan. (Josh. 3:11.)

c. For our God is a consuming fire. (Heb. 12:29.) For the Lord thy God is a consuming fire, even a jealous God. (Dt. 4:24.)

d. Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord God, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your own ways, O house of Israel. (Ezek. 36:32.)

e. But in the fourth generation they shall come hither again: for the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet full. (Gen. 15:16.) Defile not ye yourself in any of these things: for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you: (Lev. 18:24.)

f. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost: (Tit. 3:5.)

g. And the Lord appeared unto Abram, and said, Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an altar unto the Lord, who appeared unto him. (Gen. 12:7.)

h. They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image. (Ps. 106:19.)

i. And the Lord said unto Moses, Go, get thee down; for thy people, which thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves. (Ex. 32:7.)

j. And yet they would not hearken unto their judges, but they went a whoring after other gods, and bowed themselves unto them: they turned quickly out of the way which their fathers walked in, obeying the commandments of the Lord; but they did not so. (Jud. 2:17.)

manded them; they have made them a molten image.

13 Furthermore the [1]Lord spake unto me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a [k]stiffnecked people:

14 Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and [l]blot out their name from under heaven: and I will make of thee a nation mightier and greater than they.

15 So I turned and came down from the mount, and the mount burned with fire: and the two tables of the covenant were in my two hands.

16 And I looked, and, behold, ye had sinned against the [1]Lord your God, and had made you a molten calf: ye had turned aside [k]quickly out of the way which the [1]Lord had commanded you.

17 And I took [4]the two tables, and cast them out of my two hands, and brake them before your eyes.

18 And I [m]fell down before the Lord, as at the first, forty days and forty nights: I did neither eat bread, nor drink water, because of all your sins which ye sinned, in doing wickedly in the sight of the Lord, to provoke [n]him to anger.

19 For I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure, wherewith the [1]Lord was wroth against you to destroy you. [o]But the Lord hearkened unto me at that time also.

20 And the [1]Lord was very [n]angry with Aâr'on to have destroyed him: and I prayed for Aâr'on also the same time.

21 And I took your sin, the calf which ye had made, and burnt it with fire, and stamped it, and ground it very small, even until it was as small as dust: and I cast the dust thereof into the brook that descended out of the mount.

22 And at Tăb'e-rah, and at Măs'sah, and at Kĭb'roth-hat-tā'a-vah, [n]ye provoked the [1]Lord to wrath.

23 Likewise when the [1]Lord sent you from Kā'desh-bär'ne-â, saying, Go up and possess the land which I have given you; then ye rebelled against the commandment of the Lord your God, and ye believed him not, nor hearkened to his voice.

24 Ye have been rebellious against the [1]Lord from the day that I knew you.

25 Thus I [m]fell down before the [1]Lord forty days and forty nights, as I fell down at the first; because the [1]Lord had said he would destroy you.

26 I [p]prayed therefore unto the [1]Lord, and said, O [1]Lord God, destroy not thy people and thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatness, which thou hast brought forth out of Ē'gўpt with a mighty hand.

27 Remember thy servants, Ā'brā-hăm, Ĭ'ṣaac, and Jā'cob; look not unto the stubbornness of this people, nor to their wickedness, nor to their sin:

28 Lest the land whence thou broughtest us out say, [q]Because the [1]Lord was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, and because he hated them, he hath brought them out to slay them in the wilderness.

29 Yet they are thy people and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out by thy mighty power and by thy stretched out arm.

CHAPTER 10.

1 God's mercy in restoring the two tables, 6 in continuing the priesthood, 8 in separating the tribe of Levi, 10 in hearkening unto Moses' suit for the people. 12 An exhortation unto obedience.

1 At that time the [1]Lord said unto me, [a]Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the first, and come up unto me into the mount, and make thee an [b]ark of wood.

2 And I will write [c]on the tables the words that were in the first tables which thou brakest, and thou shalt put [c]them in the ark.

3 And I made an ark of [a]shittim wood, and hewed two tables of stone like unto the first, and went up into the mount, having the two tables in mine hand.

4 And he [c]wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten [2]commandments, which the [1]Lord spake unto you in the mount out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly: and the [1]Lord gave them unto me.

5 And I turned myself and [d]came down from the mount, and put the tables [c]in the ark which I had made; and there they be, as the [1]Lord commanded me.

6 ¶ And the children of Ĭs'ra-el took their journey from Be-ē'rŏth of the children of Jā'a-kăn to Mo-sē'rā: there Aâr'on died, and there he was buried, and Ē-le-ā'zar his son ministered in the priest's office in his stead.

7 From thence they journeyed unto Gŭd'go-dah; and from Gŭd'go-dah to Jŏt'băth, a land of rivers of waters.

8 ¶ At that time the [1]Lord separated the tribe of Lē'vī, to bear the ark of the covenant of the [1]Lord, to stand before the [1]Lord to minister unto him, and [f]to bless in his name, unto this day.

9 Wherefore Lē'vī [g]hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren; the [1]Lord is his inheritance, according as the [1]Lord thy God promised him.

10 And I stayed in the mount, according to the first time, forty days and forty nights; and the Lord hearkened unto me at that time also, and the [1]Lord would not destroy thee.

11 And the Lord said unto me, Arise, take

4. This statement was equivalent to saying that the covenant Jehovah had made with them was now broken through their disobedience.

Ch. 10. B. C. 1451.

NOTE. -In ch. 10 Moses continues to impress upon the people the long-suffering and the patient mercy of Jehovah toward his people in spite of their sins.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. In ch. 9 v. 10, it reads, "Written with the finger of God."

k. And the Lord said unto Moses, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people. (Ex. 32:9.) For I know thy rebellion, and thy stiff neck; behold, while I am yet alive with you this day, ye have been rebellious against the Lord; and how much more after my death? (Dt. 31:27.) Notwithstanding they would not hear, but hardened their necks, like to the neck of their fathers, that did not believe in the Lord their God. (II Ks. 17:14.)

l. Thou hast rebuked the heathen, thou hast destroyed the wicked, thou hast put out their name for ever and ever. (Ps. 9:5.) Let his posterity be cut off; and in the generation following let their name be blotted out. (Ps. 109:13.)

m. And he was there with the Lord forty days and forty nights; he did neither eat bread, nor drink water. And he wrote upon the tables the words of the covenant, the ten commandments. (Ex. 34:28.) Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them. (Ps. 106:23.)

n. And the anger of the Lord was kindled against them; and he departed. (Num. 12:9.) God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day. (Ps. 7:11.) Thou shalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the Lord shall swallow them up in his wrath, and the fire shall devour them. (Ps. 21:9.) And when the people complained, it displeased the Lord: and the Lord heard it; and his anger was kindled; and the fire of the Lord burnt among them, and consumed them that were in the uttermost parts of the camp. (Num. 11:1)

o. And the Lord repented of the evil which he thought to do unto his people. (Ex. 32:14.) And the Lord said unto Moses, I will do this thing also that thou hast spoken: for thou hast found grace in my sight, and I know thee by name. (Ex. 33:17.)

p. And Moses besought the Lord his God, and said, Lord, why doth thy wrath wax hot against thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Egypt with great power, and with a mighty hand? (Ex. 32:11.) The Lord is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. (Prov. 15:29.)

q. For mischief did he bring them out, to slay them in the mountains, and to consume them from the face of the earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this evil against thy people. (Ex. 32:12.)

Chapter 10.

a. And Bezaleel made the ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half was the length of it, and a cubit and a half the breadth of it, and a cubit and a half the height of it. (Ex. 37:1.)

b. And they shall make an ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof. (Ex. 25:10.)

c. And he was there with the Lord forty days and forty nights; he did neither eat bread, nor drink water. And he wrote upon the tables the words of the covenant, the ten commandments. (Ex. 34:28.)

d. And it came to pass, when Moses came down from mount Sinai with the two tables of testimony in Moses' hand, when he came down from the mount, that Moses wist not that the skin of his face shone while he talked with him. (Ex. 34:29.)

e. And he took and put the testimony into the ark, and set the staves on the ark, and put the mercy seat above upon the ark. (Ex. 40:20.)

f. On this wise ye shall bless the children of Israel. (Num. 6:23.)

g. And it shall be unto them for an inheritance: I am their inheritance; and ye shall give them no possession in Israel: I am their possession. (Ezek. 44:28.)

thy journey before the people, that they may go in and possess the land, which I sware unto their fathers to give unto them.

12 ¶ And now, Is'ra-el, what doth the [1]Lord thy God [h]require of thee, but to fear the [1]Lord [i]thy God, to walk in all his ways, and [j]to love him, and to serve the [1]Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, 13 To keep the commandments of the Lord, and his statutes, which I command thee this day for thy good?

14 Behold, [k]the heaven and the heaven of heavens is the [1]Lord's thy God, the [l]earth also, with all that therein is.

15 Only the [1]Lord had a delight in thy fathers to love them, and he chose their seed after them, even you above all people, as it is this day.

16 Circumcise therefore the [m]foreskin of your heart, and be no more stiffnecked.

17 For the [1]Lord your God is [n]God of gods, and [n]Lord of lords, a great God, a mighty, and a terrible, which regardeth [o]not persons, nor taketh reward:

18 He doth execute [p]the judgment of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment.

19 Love ye therefore the stranger: for ye were strangers in the land of E'gyp't.

20 Thou shalt fear [i]the [1]Lord thy God; him shalt [q]thou serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, and swear by his name.

21 He is thy praise, and he is thy God, that hath done for thee these great and terrible things, which thine eyes have seen.

22 Thy fathers went down into E'gyp't with threescore and ten persons; and now the [1]Lord thy God hath made thee as the stars of heaven for multitude.

CHAPTER 11.

1 An exhortation to obedience, 2 by their own experience of God's great works, 8 by promise of God's great blessings.

1 Therefore thou shalt [a]love the [1]Lord thy God, and [b]keep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments, alway.

Ch. 11. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—In ch. 11, the requirement of love to Jehovah is more fully developed, also that his love is to be shown by obedience; and in order that the people may be able to obey, a careful study of the word of God is enjoined, the chapter closing with a blessing and a curse set before the people.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. Jehovah is now speaking. Vs. 13-21 is one of the four the Jews place in their phylacteries.

2 And know ye this day: for I speak not with your children which have not known, and which have not seen the chastisement of the [1]Lord your God, his greatness, his mighty hand, and his stretched out arm,

3 And his miracles, and his acts, which he did in the midst of E'gyp't, unto Pha'raoh the king of E'gyp't and unto all his land;

4 And what he did unto the army of E'gyp't, unto their horses, and to their chariots; how he made the water of the Red sea to overflow them as they pursued after you, and how the [1]Lord hath destroyed them unto this day;

5 And what [c]he did unto you in the wilderness, until ye came into this place;

6 And what he did unto Da'than and A-bi'ram, the sons of E-li'ab, the son of Reu'ben: how the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their households, and their tents, and all the substance that was in their possession, in the midst of all Is'ra-el:

7 But your eyes have seen all the great acts of the [1]Lord which he did.

8 Therefore shall ye keep [d]all the commandments which I command you this day, that ye may [e]be strong, and go in and possess the land, whither ye go to possess it;

9 And that ye may [f]prolong your days in the land, which the [1]Lord sware unto your fathers to give unto them and to their seed, a land that floweth with milk and honey.

10 ¶For the land, whither thou goest in to possess it, is not as the land of E'gyp't, from whence ye came out, where thou sowedst thy seed, and wateredst it with thy foot, as a garden of herbs:

11 But the land, whither ye go to possess it, is a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven:

12 A land which the [1]Lord thy God careth for: [g]the eyes of the [1]Lord thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year.

13 ¶ And it shall come to pass, if ye shall hearken [2h]diligently unto my commandments which I command you this day, [a]to love the [1]Lord your God, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul,

h. He hath shown thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? (Mic. 6:8.)

i. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.)

j. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. (Math. 22:37.) And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. (Dt. 6:5.) My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe my ways. (Prov. 23:26.)

k. But will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens, cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded? (I Ks. 8:27.) The heaven, even the heavens, are the Lord's; but the earth hath he given to the children of men. (Ps. 115:16.)

l. And he blessed him, and said, Blessed be Abram of the most high God, possessor of heaven and earth. (Gen. 14:19.) The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. (Ps. 24:1.)

m. In whom also ye are circumcised with a circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ. (Col. 2:11.)

n. O give thanks unto the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever. (Ps. 136:2.) The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret. (Dan. 2:47.) These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful. (Rev. 17:14.)

o. Wherefore now let the fear of the Lord be upon you; take heed, and do it: for there is no iniquity with the Lord our God, nor respect of persons, nor taking of gifts. (II Chr. 19:7.) Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. (Js. 1:17.)

p. A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation. (Ps. 68:5.) The Lord preserveth the strangers; he relieveth the fatherless and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upside down. (Ps. 146:9.)

q. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. (Mat. 4:10.) Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name. (Dt. 6:13.)

Chapter 11.

a. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. (Math. 22:37.) And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul. (Dt. 10:12.) My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe my ways. (Prov. 23:26.) And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. (Dt. 6:5.)

b. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou shalt also judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee places to walk among these that stand by. (Zech. 3:7.)

c. The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan and covered the company of Abiram. (Ps. 106:17.)

d. Therefore shall ye keep my commandments, and do them: I am the Lord. (Lev. 22:31.) My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments. (Prov. 3:1.) Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, for ever. (Dt. 4:40.) If thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day, that all these curses shall come upon thee and overtake thee. (Dt. 28:15.)

e. Be strong and of a good courage: for unto this people shalt thou divide for an inheritance the land which I sware unto their fathers to give them. Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law which Moses my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:6, 7.)

f. The fear of the Lord prolongeth days, but the years of the wicked shall be shortened. (Prov. 10:27.)

g. And the Lord said unto him, I have heard thy prayer and thy supplication that thou hast made before me: I have hallowed this house which thou hast built, to put my name there for ever; and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually. (I Ks. 9:3.)

h. Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and his testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee. (Dt. 6:17.) And said, If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee. (Ex. 15:26.) Hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. (Is. 55:2.) For he 14 That I will give you the rain of your land in his due season, the first rain and the latter rain, that thou mayest gather in thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil.

15 And I will [i]send grass in thy fields for thy cattle, that thou mayest eat and be full.

16 Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them;

17 And then the [1]Lord's [j]wrath be kindled against you, and he shut up the heaven, that there be no rain, and that the land yield not her fruit; and lest ye perish quickly from off the good land which the [1]Lord giveth you.

18 ¶ Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul, and bind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may be as frontlets between your eyes.

19 And ye shall teach [k]them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

20 And thou shalt write them upon the door posts of thine house, and upon thy gates:

21 That [l]your days may be multiplied, and the days of your children, in the land which the [1]Lord sware unto your fathers to give them, as the days of heaven upon the earth.

22 ¶ For if ye shall [h]diligently keep all these commandments which I command you, to do them, to love the Lord your God, to walk in all his ways, and to cleave unto him;

23 Then will the [1]Lord drive out all these nations from before you, and ye shall possess greater nations and mightier than yourselves.

24 Every [m]place whereon the soles of your feet shall tread shall be your's; from the wilderness and Lĕb'a-non, from the river, the river Eū-phrā'tēs, even unto the uttermost sea shall your coast be.

25 There shall no man be able to stand before you: for the [1]Lord your God shall lay the fear [n]of you and the dread of you upon all the land that ye shall tread upon, as he hath said unto you.

26 ¶ Behold, I set before you this day a blessing [o]and a curse;

27 [p]A blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the [1]Lord your God, which I command you this day:

28 And a [q]curse, if ye will not obey the commandments of the [1]Lord your God, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, to go after other gods, which ye have not known.

29 And it shall come to pass, when the [1]Lord thy God hath brought thee in unto the land whither thou goest to possess it, that thou shalt put the blessing upon mount Gĕr'ĭ-zĭm, and the curse upon mount Ē'bal.

30 Are they not on the other side Jor'dan, by the way where the sun goeth down, in the land of the Cā'năan-ītes, which dwell in the champaign over against Gĭl'găl, beside the plains of Mō'reh?

31 For ye shall pass over Jor'dan to go in to possess the land which the [1]Lord your God giveth you, and ye shall possess it, and dwell therein.

32 And ye shall observe to do all the statutes and judgments which I set before you this day.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Monuments of idolatry are to be destroyed. 5 The place of God's service is to be kept. 15, 23 Blood is forbidden. 17, 20, 26 Holy things must be eaten in the holy place. 19 The Levite is not to be forsaken. 29 Idolatry is not to be enquired after.

1 These are the statutes and judgments, which ye shall observe to do in the land, which the [1]Lord God of thy fathers giveth thee to possess it, all the days that ye live upon the earth.

2 Ye shall [a]utterly destroy all the places, wherein the nations which ye shall possess served their gods, upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree:

3 And ye shall [a]overthrow their altars, and break their pillars, and burn their groves with fire; and ye shall hew down the [b]graven images of their gods, and destroy the names of them out of that place.

4 Ye shall not do so unto the [1]Lord your God.

5 But unto the place which the [1]Lord your God shall [c]choose out of all your tribes to put his name there, even unto his habitation shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come:

6 And thither ye shall bring your [d]burnt [2]offerings, and your sacrifices, and your [e]tithes, and heave [3]offerings of your hand, and your vows, and your freewill [4]offerings, and the firstlings of your herds and of your flocks:

7 And there ye shall eat before the [1]Lord your God, and ye shall rejoice in all that ye put your hand unto, ye and your households, wherein the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

8 Ye shall not do after all the things that we do here this day, every man whatsoever is right in his own eyes.

9 For ye are not as yet come to the rest and to the inheritance, which the [1]Lord your God giveth you.

10 But when ye go over Jor'dan, and dwell in the land which the [1]Lord your God giveth you to inherit, and when he giveth you rest from all your enemies round about, so that ye dwell in safety;

11 Then there shall be [f]a place which the [1]Lord your God shall choose to cause his name to dwell there; thither shall ye bring all that I command you; your burnt [2]offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the heave [3]offering of your hand, and all your choice vows which ye vow unto the [1]Lord:

Ch. 12. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—In the first verse of ch. 12, Moses tells the Israelites that the laws and statutes and judgments, which he is now about to give them, are for their special guidance and instruction, not in the wilderness, but in the land which Jehovah giveth them. Chs. 12-26 record the discourse on these laws and gives the people explicit directions for government in their religious, civil and social interests. Nearly forty years have elapsed since the giving of the decalogue; there is, therefore, such modification made in the earlier legislation as the present conditions require.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

3. An offering waved upward and downward horizontally in a dedicatory spirit; upward presenting to Jehovah, back again indicating that Jehovah had returned the offering with his blessing.

4. A thanksgiving offering for favors already received.

---

that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. (Heb. 11:6.)

i. He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man. (Ps. 104:14.)

j. Lest the anger of the Lord thy God be kindled against thee, and destroy thee from off the face of the earth. (Dt. 6:15.) When heaven is shut up, and there is no rain, because they have sinned against thee: (I Ks. 8:35.)

k. Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it. (Prov. 22:6.) And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. (Eph. 6:4.)

l. For length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee. (Prov. 3:2.) Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many. (Prov. 4:10.)

m. Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Moses. (Josh. 1:3.)

n. I will send my fear before thee, and will destroy all the people to whom thou shalt come; and I will make all thine enemies turn their backs unto thee. (Ex. 23:27.)

o. And it shall come to pass, when all these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, and thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations whither the Lord thy God hath driven thee. (Dt. 30:1.)

p. And thou shalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, for glory and for beauty. (Ex. 28:2.)

q. If thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes, which I command thee this day, that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee. (Dt. 28:15.)

Chapter 12.

a. But ye shall destroy their altars, break their images, and cut down their groves. (Ex. 34:13.) Then ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you, and destroy all their pictures, and destroy all their molten images and quite pluck down all their high places. (Num. 33:52.)

b. Take heed to thyself that thou be not snared by following them, after that they be destroyed from before thee. (Dt. 12:30.) Fear not the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but ye have not obeyed my voice. (Jud. 6:10.)

c. That thou shalt take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, which thou shalt bring of thy land that the Lord thy God giveth thee, and shalt put it in a basket, and shalt go unto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to place his name there. (Dt. 26:2.) That thine eyes may be open toward this house night and day, even toward the place of which thou hast said, My name shall be there. (I Ks. 8:29.) But chose the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved. (Ps. 78:68.)

d. For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

e. Thou shalt truly tithe all the increase of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth year by year. (Dt. 14:22.)

f. And the whole congregation of the children of Israel assembled together at Shiloh, and set up the tabernacle of the congregation there. (Josh. 18:1.)

12 And ye shall rejoice before the [1]Lord your God, ye, and your sons, and your daughters, and your menservants, and your maidservants, and the Lē′vīte that is within your gates; forasmuch as [g]he hath no part nor inheritance with you.

13 Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy [d]burnt [2]offerings in every place that thou seest:

14 But in the place which the [1]Lord shall choose in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt [2]offerings, and there thou shalt do all that I command thee.

15 Notwithstanding [5]thou mayest kill and eat flesh in all thy gates, whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, according to the blessing of the [1]Lord thy God which he hath given thee: the unclean and the clean may eat thereof, as of the roebuck, and as of the hart.

16 Only ye shall [6]not eat [h]the blood; ye shall pour it upon the earth as water.

17 ¶ Thou mayest not eat within thy gates the tithe of thy corn, or of thy wine, or of thy oil, or the firstlings of thy herds or of thy flock, nor any of thy vows which thou vowest, nor thy freewill [3]offerings, or heave [5]offering of thine hand:

18 But thou must eat them before the [1]Lord thy God in the place which the [1]Lord thy God shall choose, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Lē′vīte that is within thy gates: and thou shalt [i]rejoice before the [1]Lord thy God in all that thou puttest thine hands unto.

19 Take heed to thyself that thou forsake not the Lē′vīte as long as thou livest upon the earth.

20 ¶ When the [1]Lord thy God shall enlarge thy border, as he hath promised thee, and thou shalt say, I will eat flesh, because thy soul longeth to eat flesh; thou mayest eat flesh, whatsoever thy soul lusteth after.

21 If the place which the [1]Lord thy God hath chosen to put his name there be too far from thee, then thou shalt kill of thy herd and of thy flock, which the [1]Lord hath given thee, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt eat in thy gates whatsoever thy soul lusteth after.

22 Even as the roebuck and the hart is eaten, so thou shalt eat them: the unclean and the clean shall eat of them alike.

23 Only be sure that thou eat not the blood: [h]for the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh.

24 Thou shalt not eat it; thou shalt pour it upon the earth as water.

25 Thou shalt not eat it; [j]that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, when thou shalt do that [k]which is right in the sight of the [1]Lord.

26 Only thy holy things which thou hast, and thy vows, thou shalt take, and go unto the place which the [1]Lord shall choose:

27 And thou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, the flesh and the [l]blood, upon the altar of the Lord thy God: and the blood of thy sacrifices shall be poured out upon the altar of the Lord thy God, and thou shalt eat the flesh.

28 Observe and hear all these words which I command thee, that it may [m]go well with thee, and with thy children after thee for ever, when thou doest that which is good and right in the sight of the [1]Lord thy God.

29 ¶ When the [1]Lord thy God shall cut off the nations from before thee, whither thou goest to possess them, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their land;

30 Take heed to thyself that thou be not snared by following them, after that they be destroyed from before thee; and that thou enquire not after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods? even so will I do likewise.

31 Thou shalt [n]not do so unto the [1]Lord thy God: for every abomination to the [1]Lord, which he hateth, have they done unto their gods; for even their sons and their daughters they have burnt in the fire to their gods.

32 What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: [o]thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it.

CHAPTER 13.

1 Enticers to idolatry, 6 how near soever unto thee, 9 are to be stoned to death. 12 Idolatrous cities are not to be spared.

1 If there arise among you a prophet, or a dreamer of dreams, and giveth thee a sign or a wonder,

2 And [a]the sign or the wonder come to pass, whereof he spake unto thee, saying, Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them;

3 Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams: for the [1]Lord your God [b]proveth you, to know whether ye [c]love the [1]Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul.

4 Ye shall [d]walk after the [1]Lord your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and obey his voice, and ye shall serve him, and cleave unto him.

5 And that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams, shall [e]be put to death; because he hath spoken to turn you away from the [1]Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Ē′gўpt, and redeemed you out of the house of

5. During the march through the wilderness, the people were forbidden to kill any animal except at the tabernacle, but now that law has been modified as per v. 15.

6. The law forbidding the eating of blood was not to be considered a trivial matter. Even the minutest taste of animal blood was considered something horrible, as the blood was believed to contain the life.

Ch. 13. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—From their past experiences, Moses was convinced that the greatest peril before the Israelites was their tendency toward idolatrous worship; he, therefore, in ch. 13, announces directions for the punishment of all who would lead the people into idolatry.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

g. Wherefore Levi hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren: the Lord is his inheritance according as the Lord thy God promised him. (Dt. 10:9.) And it shall be unto them for an inheritance: I am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in Israel. I am their possession. (Ez. 44:28.)

h. Only thou shalt not eat the blood thereof; thou shalt pour it upon the ground as water. (Dt. 15:23.) But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat. (Gen. 9:4.) For the life of the flesh is in the blood: and I have given it to you upon the altar to make an atonement for your souls: for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul (11). For it is the life of all flesh: the blood of it is for the life thereof: therefore I said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall eat the blood of no manner of flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it shall be cut off. (Lev. 17:11, 14.)

i. I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life. And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labor, it is the gift of God. (Ecc. 3:12, 13.)

j. Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, for ever. (Dt. 4:40.) Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. (Is. 3:10.)

k. And said, If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians, for I am the Lord that healeth thee. (Ex. 15:26.) And it shall be, if thou wilt hearken unto all that I command thee, and wilt walk in my ways, and do that is right in my sight, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as David my servant did, that I will be with thee, and build thee a sure house, as I built for David, and will give Israel unto thee. (I Ks. 11:38.)

l. For the life of the flesh is in the blood: and I have given it to you upon the altar to make an atonement for your souls: for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul. (Lev. 17:11.)

m. What man is he that feareth the Lord? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose: his soul shall dwell at ease; and his seed shall inherit the earth. (Ps. 25:12, 13.)

n. And they rejected his statutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies which he testified against them; and they followed vanity, and became vain, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the Lord had charged them, that they should not do like them. (II Ks. 17:15.)

o. Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar. (Prov. 30:6.) For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, if any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book. (Rev. 22:18.)

Chaper 13.

a. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? (Math. 7:22.)

b. See b, ch. 8, Dt.

c. See a, ch. 11, Dt.

d. For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. (II Jno. 1:7.)

e. Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land; By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed. (Jer. 14:15.) And Elijah said unto them, Take the prophets of Baal; let not one of them escape. (I Ks. 18:40.)

bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which the [1]Lord thy God commanded thee to walk in. So shalt thou put the [f]evil away from the midst of thee.

6 ¶ If thy brother, [2]the son of thy mother, or thy son, or thy daughter, or the wife of thy bosom, or thy friend, which is as thine own soul, entice [g]thee secretly, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which thou hast not known, thou, nor thy fathers;

7 Namely, of the gods of the people which are round about you, nigh unto thee, or far off from thee, from the one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth;

8 Thou shalt [g]not consent unto him, nor hearken unto him; neither shall thine eye pity him, neither shalt thou spare, neither shalt thou conceal him:

9 But thou shalt surely kill him; thine hand shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterwards the hand of all the people.

10 And thou shalt stone him with stones, that he die; because he hath sought to thrust thee away from the [1]Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Ē'gўpt, from the house of bondage.

11 And [h]all Ĭs'ra-el shall hear, and fear, and shall do no more any such wickedness as this is among you.

12 ¶ If thou shalt hear say in one of thy cities, which the [1]Lord thy God hath given thee to dwell there, saying,

13 Certain [3]men, the children of Bē'lĭ-al, are [i]gone out from among you, and have withdrawn the inhabitants of their city, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which ye have not known;

14 Then shalt thou enquire, and make search, and ask diligently; and, behold if it be truth, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought among you;

15 Thou shalt surely smite the inhabitants of that city with the edge of the sword, destroying it utterly, and all that is therein, and the cattle thereof, with the edge of the sword.

16 And thou shalt gather all the spoil of it into the midst of the street thereof, and shalt burn with fire the city, and all the spoil thereof every whit, for the [1]Lord thy God: and it shall be an heap for ever; it shall not be built again.

17 And [j]there shall cleave nought of the cursed thing to thine hand: that the [1]Lord may turn from the fierceness of his anger, and shew thee mercy, and have compassion upon thee, and multiply thee, [k]as he hath sworn unto thy fathers;

18 When thou shalt hearken to the voice of the [1]Lord thy God, to keep all his commandments which I command thee this day, to do that which is right in the eyes of the [1]Lord thy God.

CHAPTER 14.

1 God's children are not to disfigure themselves. 3 What may, and what may not be eaten, 4 of beasts, 9 of fishes, 11 of fowls. 22 Tithes of divine service.

2. Even though the influence toward idolatry should come from a member of the family, the law was to be administered just the same. Though this law seemed severe, we can see the need of this severity when we understand the debasing influence of the heathen possessing the land.

3. Literally, sons of worthless or wicked men.

Ch. 14. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—In this ch. the people are forbidden to mutilate or disfigure themselves in mourning as the heathen did, because Jehovah's people were holy unto him, therefore their bodies were holy. Instructions are also given concerning what the people may and may not eat.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The heathens believed their gods were appeased by human suffering, therefore they cut themselves with knives when in mourning. The Israelites were forbidden to follow this practice.

3. Vs. 3-21 enumerate the animals that might be eaten and also those that were prohibited.

4. The ordinary deer.

5. That is, the gazelle.

6. A species of the antelope.

7. Another species of the antelope.

1 Ye are [a]the children of the [1]Lord your God: [b]ye shall not [2]cut yourselves, nor make any baldness between your eyes for the dead.

2 For thou art an [c]holy people unto the [1]Lord thy God, and the [1]Lord hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people unto himself, above all the nations that are upon the earth.

3 ¶ [3]Thou shalt not eat any abominable thing.

4 These are the beasts which ye shall eat: the ox, the sheep, and the goat,

5 The [4]hart, and the [5]roebuck, and the fallow deer, and the wild goat, and the [6]pygarg, and the wild ox, and the [7]chamois.

6 And every beast that parteth the hoof, and cleaveth the cleft into two claws, and cheweth the cud among the beasts, that ye shall eat.

7 Nevertheless these ye shall not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the cloven hoof; as the camel, and the hare, and the coney: for they chew the cud, but divide not the hoof; therefore they are unclean unto you.

8 And the swine, because it divideth the hoof, yet cheweth not the cud, it is unclean unto you: ye shall not eat of their flesh, nor touch their dead carcase.

9 ¶ These ye shall eat of all that are in the waters: all that have fins and scales shall ye eat:

10 And whatsoever hath not fins and scales ye may not eat; it is unclean unto you.

11 ¶ Of all clean birds ye shall eat.

12 But these are they of which ye shall not eat: the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the ospray,

13 And the glede, and the kite, and the vulture after his kind,

14 And every raven after his kind,

15 And the owl, and the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the hawk after his kind,

16 The little owl, and the great owl, and the swan,

17 And the pelican, and the gier eagle, and the cormorant,

18 And the stork, and the heron after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat.

19 And every creeping thing that flieth is unclean unto you: they shall not be eaten.

20 But of all clean fowls ye may eat.

21 ¶ [d]Ye shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself: thou shalt give it unto the stranger that is in thy gates, that he may eat it; or thou mayest sell it unto an alien: for thou art [c]an holy people unto the [1]Lord thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.

22 Thou shalt truly [e]tithe all the increase of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth year by year.

23 And thou shalt eat before the [1]Lord thy God, in the place which he shall choose to place his name there, the tithe of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the firstlings of thy herds and of thy flocks; that thou mayest learn to [f]fear the Lord thy God always.

f. But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person. (I Cor. 5:13.)

g. Then said his wife unto him, Dost thou still retain thine integrity? curse God, and die. (Job 2:9.) Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide; keep the doors of the mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom. (Mic. 7:5.) My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not. (Prov. 1:10.)

h. And those which remain shall hear, and fear, and shall henceforth commit no more any such evil among you. (Dt. 19:20.)

i. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us. (I Jno. 2:19.) These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit. (Jud. 19.)

j. Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thine house, lest thou be a cursed thing like it; but thou shalt utterly detest it, and thou shalt utterly abhor it; for it is a cursed thing. (Dt. 7:26.)

k. That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore. (Gen. 22:17.)

Chapter 14.

a. And it shall come to pass that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God. (Hos. 1:10.) The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God. (Rom. 8:16.)

b. But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have not hope. (I Thes. 4:13.)

c. And ye shall be holy unto me; for I the Lord am holy, and have severed you from other people, that ye should be mine. (Lev. 20:26.) I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. (Rom. 12:1.)

d. Ah Lord God! behold, my soul hath not been polluted; for from my youth up even till now, have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself or is torn in pieces; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth: (Ezek. 4:14.)

e. And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's: it is holy unto the Lord. (Lev. 27:30.)

f. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to 24 And if the way be too long for thee, so that thou art not able to carry it; or if the place be too far from thee, which the [1]Lord thy God shall choose to set his name there, when the [1]Lord thy God hath blessed thee:

25 Then shalt thou turn it into money, and bind up the money in thine hand, and shalt go unto the place which the [1]Lord thy God shall choose:

26 And thou shalt bestow that money for whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, for oxen, or for sheep, or for wine, or for strong drink, or for whatsoever thy soul desireth: and thou shalt eat there before the [1]Lord thy God, and thou shalt rejoice, thou, and thine household,

27 And [g]the Lē'vīte that is within thy gates; thou shalt not forsake him; for [h]he hath no part nor inheritance with thee.

28 ¶ At the end of three years thou shalt bring forth all the tithe of thine increase the same year, and shalt lay it up within thy gates:

29 And the Lē'vīte, [h](because he hath no part nor inheritance with thee,) and the [i]stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied; that the [j]Lord thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest.

CHAPTER 15.

1 The seventh year a year of release for the poor. 12 An Hebrew servant, 16 except he will not depart, must in the seventh year go forth free and well furnished.

1 At the end of every seven [1]years thou shalt make a release.

2 And this is the manner of the release: Every creditor that lendeth ought unto his neighbour [3]shall release it; he shall not exact it of his neighbour, or of his brother; because it is called the [2]Lord's release.

3 Of a foreigner [4]thou [a]mayest exact it again: but that which is thine with thy brother thine hand shall release;

4 Save when there shall be no poor among you; for the [2]Lord shall [b]greatly bless thee in the land which the [2]Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance to possess it:

Ch. 15. B. C. 1451.

1. The same as the Sabbatical in Ex. 23:11, Lev. 25:4.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. That is, release for that year, not released from all obligation to pay.

4. A foreigner means one not a follower of Jehovah. They would have the income from their land for that year and a different law should apply to them.

5. As the Israelites had been commanded not to exact return of money loaned to the poor, they were given the command of v. 7 for fear they might become harsh in their treatment of the poor.

6. The first hint toward the teaching of the N. T. doctrine, "Do as you would be done by."

7. Not necessarily the Sabbatical year, but the seventh year from the beginning of his service.

5 Only if thou carefully hearken unto the voice of the [2]Lord thy God, to observe to do all these commandments which I command thee this day.

6 For the [2]Lord thy God [b]blesseth thee, as he promised thee: and thou shalt lend unto many nations, but thou shalt not borrow; and thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee.

7 ¶ If there be among you a [5]poor man of one of thy brethren within any of thy gates in thy land which the [2]Lord thy God giveth thee, [c]thou shalt not harden thy heart, nor shut thine hand from thy poor brother:

8 But [d]thou shalt open thine hand wide unto him, and shalt [6]surely lend him sufficient for his need, in that which he wanteth.

9 Beware that there be not a thought in thy wicked heart, saying, The seventh year, the year of release, is at hand; and [e]thine eye be evil against thy poor brother, and thou givest him nought; and [f]he cry unto the Lord against thee, and it be [g]sin unto thee.

10 Thou shalt surely give him, and thine heart shall not be grieved when thou givest unto him: because that [d]for this thing the [2]Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy works, and in all that thou puttest thine hand unto.

11 For the poor shall never cease out of the land: therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine [d]hand wide unto thy brother, to thy poor, and to thy needy, in thy land.

12 ¶ And if thy brother, an Hē'brew man, or an Hē'brew woman, be sold [h]unto thee, and serve thee six years; then in the seventh year thou [7]shalt let him go free from thee.

13 And when thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not let him go away empty:

14 Thou shalt furnish him liberally out of thy flock, and out of thy floor, and out of thy wine-press: of that wherewith the [2]Lord thy God hath [i]blessed thee thou shalt give unto him.

15 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Ē'gўpt, and the [2]Lord thy God redeemed thee: therefore I command thee this thing to day.

16 And it shall be, [j]if he say unto thee, I will not go away from thee; because he loveth prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.)

g. It hath pleased them verily; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things. (Rom. 15:27.)

h. Wherefore Levi hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren; the Lord is his inheritance, according as the Lord thy God promised him. (Dt. 10:9.) And it shall be unto them for an inheritance; I am their inheritance; and ye shall give them no possession of Israel; I am their possession. (Ezek. 44:28.)

i. When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbors; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind; And thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee; for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just. (Lu. 14:12-14.)

j. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase (9). So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine. (Prov. 3:9, 10.) Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. (Mal. 3:10.)

Chapter 15.

a. Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury, that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all that thou settest thine hand to, in the land whither thou goest to possess it. (Dt. 23:20.)

b. And the Lord shall command the blessing upon thee and thy storehouses, and in all that thou settest thine hand unto; and he shall bless thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. (Dt. 28:8.) Then I will command my blessing upon you in the sixth year and it shall bring forth fruit for three years. (Lev. 25:21.) So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine. (Prov. 3:10.)

c. But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? (I Jno. 3:17.) And if thy brother be waxen poor, and fallen in decay with thee, then thou shalt relieve him; yea, though he be a stranger, or a sojourner; that he may live with thee. (Lev. 25:35.) Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do. (Gal. 2:10.)

d. He is ever merciful, and lendeth; and his seed is blessed. (Ps. 37:26.) He that despiseth his neighbor sinneth; but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he (21). He that oppresseth the poor, reproacheth his Maker, but he that honoreth him, hath mercy on the poor. (Prov. 14:21, 31.) But love ye your enemies; and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest. (Lu. 6:35.) But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? (I Jno. 3:17.) Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble. (Ps. 41:1.) The righteous considereth the cause of the poor; but the wicked regardeth not to know it. (Prov. 29:7.)

e. Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, neither desire thou his dainty meats. (Prov. 23:6.) He that hasteth to be rich hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him. (Prov. 28:22.)

f. So that they cause the cry of the poor to come unto him, and he heareth the cry of the afflicted. (Job. 34:28.) For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the Lord; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him. (Ps. 12:5.) I know that the Lord will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the poor. (Ps. 140:12.)

g. Then shall he say also to them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels. (Math. 25:41.) Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity; for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping. (Ps. 6:8.) As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. (Math. 13:40.)

h. If thou buy an Hebrew servant, six years he shall serve; and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing. (Ex. 21:2.)

i. The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it. (Prov. 10:22.) For bodily exercise profiteth little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise that now is, and of that which is, to come. (I Tim. 4:8.) Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. (Ps. 37:4.) But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Math. 6:33.)

j. And if the servant shall plainly say, I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free (5). Then his master shall bring him unto the judges; he shall also bring him to the door, or thee and thine house, because he is well with thee;

17 Then thou shalt take an [s]aul, and thrust it through his ear unto the door, and he shall be thy servant for ever. And also unto thy maidservant thou shalt do likewise.

18 It shall not seem hard unto thee, when thou sendest him away free from thee; for he hath been worth a double hired servant to thee, in serving thee six years: and the [2]Lord thy God shall bless thee in all that thou doest.

19 ¶ All the firstling males that come of thy herd and of thy flock thou shalt sanctify unto the [2]Lord thy God: thou shalt do no work with the firstling of thy bullock, nor shear the firstling of thy sheep.

20 Thou shalt eat it before the [2]Lord thy God year by year in the place which the [2]Lord shall choose, thou and thy household.

21 And if there be [k]any blemish therein, as if it be lame, or blind, or have any ill blemish, thou shalt not sacrifice it unto the [2]Lord thy God.

22 Thou shalt eat it within thy gates: the unclean and the clean person shall eat it alike, as the roebuck, and as the hart.

23 Only thou shalt not eat the blood thereof; thou shalt pour it upon the ground as water.

CHAPTER 16.

1 The feast of the passover, 9 of weeks, 13 of tabernacles. 16 Every male must offer, as he is able, at these three feasts. 18 Of judges and justice. 21 Groves and images are forbidden.

1 Observe the month of Ā'bĭb, and keep the [2][a]passover [a]unto the [1]Lord thy God: for in the month of Ā'bĭb the Lord thy God brought thee forth out of Ē'gўpt by night.

2 Thou shalt therefore sacrifice the [2][a]passover unto the [1]Lord thy God, of the flock and the herd, in the place which the [1]Lord shall choose to place his name there.

3 Thou shalt eat no leavened bread with it; seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread [3]therewith, even the bread of affliction; for thou camest forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt in haste: that thou mayest remember the day when thou camest forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt all the days of thy life.

4 And there shall be no leavened bread seen with thee in all thy coast seven days; neither [b]shall there any thing of the flesh, which thou sacrificedst the first day at even, remain all night until the morning.

5 Thou mayest not sacrifice the [2]passover within any of thy gates, which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee:

6 But at the place which the [1]Lord thy God shall choose to place his name in, there thou shalt sacrifice the passover [c]at even, at the going down of the sun, at the season that thou camest forth out of Ē'gўpt.

8. The pierced ear was a badge of slavery.

Ch. 16. B. C. 1451.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The Feast of the Passover, commemorating the passing of the Death Angel over the Hebrew homes in Egypt.

3. The Israelites left Egypt in such haste that they had no leavened bread prepared, hence the unleavened bread became to them bread of affliction, symbolizing the burdens of their servile life while in bondage.

4. Called the Feast of Weeks from the fact that seven weeks or a week of weeks intervened between the passover and this festival; also called Pentecost from its occurring on the fiftieth day from the second day of the passover.

5. The Feast of Ingathering, when all the harvests had been gathered in. In the N. T. we read, "In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink."

7 And thou shalt roast [d]and eat it in the place which the [1]Lord thy God shall choose: and thou shalt turn in the morning, and go unto thy tents.

8 Six days thou shalt eat unleavened bread: and [e]on the seventh day shall be a solemn assembly to the [1]Lord thy God: thou shalt do no work therein.

9 ¶ [f]Seven [4]weeks shalt thou number unto thee: begin to number the seven weeks from such time as thou beginnest to put the sickle to the corn.

10 And thou shalt keep the feast of weeks unto the [1]Lord thy God with a tribute of a freewill offering of thine hand, which thou shalt give unto the [1]Lord thy God, according [g]as the Lord thy God hath blessed thee:

11 And thou shalt rejoice before the [1]Lord thy God, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Lē'vīte that is within thy gates, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are among you, in the place which the [1]Lord thy God hath chosen to place his name there.

12 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in Ē'gўpt: and thou shalt observe and do these statutes.

13 ¶ Thou shalt [h]observe the feast [5]of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy corn and thy wine:

14 And thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Lē'vīte, the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are within thy gates.

15 Seven days shalt thou keep a solemn feast unto the [1]Lord thy God in the place which the [1]Lord shall choose: because the [1]Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thine increase, and in all the works of thine hands, therefore thou shalt surely rejoice.

16 ¶ Three times in a year shall all thy males appear before the [1]Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose; in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles: and they shall not appear before the [1]Lord empty:

17 Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the [1]Lord thy God which he hath given thee.

18 ¶ Judges and officers shalt thou make thee in all thy gates, which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee, throughout thy tribes: and they shall judge the people with just judgment.

19 [i]Thou shalt not wrest judgment; thou shalt [j]not respect persons, [k]neither take a gift: for a gift doth blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the words of the righteous.

20 That which is altogether just shalt thou follow, that thou mayest live, and inherit the land which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee.

21 ¶ Thou shalt not plant thee a grove of unto the door post; and his master shall bore his ear through with an aul; and he shall serve him for ever. (Ex. 21:5, 6.)

k. Thou shalt not sacrifice unto the Lord thy God any bullock, or sheep, wherein is blemish, or an evil favoredness, for that is an abomination unto the Lord thy God. (Dt. 17:1.)

Chapter 16.

a. Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us (7). Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. (I Cor. 5:7, 8.) Through faith he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the first-born should touch them. (Heb. 11:28.)

b. And ye shall let nothing of it remain until the morning; and that which remaineth of it until the morning ye shall burn with fire. (Ex. 12:10.) Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leaven; neither shall the sacrifice of the feast of the passover be left until the morning. (Ex. 34:25.)

c. And about the 9th hour Jesus cried with a loud voice saying, My God! My God! Why hast thou forsaken me? (Math. 27:46.)

d. And they shall eat the flesh, in that night roast with fire, and unleavened bread; and with bitter herbs they shall eat it. (Ex. 12:8.) And they roasted the passover with fire according to the ordinance; but the other holy offerings sod they in pots and in caldrons, and in pans, and divided them speedily among all the people. (II Chr. 35:13.)

e. Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, and in the seventh shall be a feast to the Lord. (Ex. 13:6.) But ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord seven days; and the seventh day is an holy convocation, and ye shall do no servile work therein. (Lev. 23:8.)

f. And thou shalt observe the feast of weeks, of the first-fruits of wheat harvest, and the feast of ingathering at the year's end. (Ex. 34:22.) Ye shall count unto you from the morrow after the sabbath, from the day that ye brought the sheep of the wave offering; seven sabbaths shall be complete. (Lev. 23:15.) And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. (Acts 2:1.)

g. Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come. (I Cor. 16:2.)

h. The 15th day of this 7th month shall be the feast of tabernacles for seven days unto the Lord. (Lev. 23:34.) And on the 15th day of the seventh month ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work, and ye shall keep a feast unto the Lord seven days. (Num. 29:12.)

i. Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil; neither shalt thou speak in a cause to decline after many to arrest judgment (2). Thou shall not wrest the judgment of thy poor in his cause. (Ex. 23:2, 6.)

j. These things also belong to the wise. It is not good to have respect of persons in judgment. (Prov. 24:23.)

k. And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and any trees near unto the altar of the [1]Lord thy God, which thou shalt make thee.

22 Neither shalt thou set thee up any image; which the [1]Lord thy God hateth.

CHAPTER 17.

1 The things sacrificed must be sound. 2 Idolaters must be slain. 8 Hard controversies are to be determined by the priests and judges. 14 The election, 16 and duty of a king.

1 Thou shalt not sacrifice unto the [1]Lord thy God any bullock, or sheep, wherein is [c]blemish, or any evilfavouredness: for that is an abomination unto the [1]Lord thy God.

2 ¶ If there be found among you, within any of thy gates which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee, man or woman, that hath wrought wickedness in the sight of the [1]Lord thy God, in transgressing his covenant,

3 And hath gone and [b]served other gods, and worshipped them, either the sun, or moon, or any of the host of heaven, which I have not commanded;

4 And it be told thee, and thou hast heard of it, and enquired diligently, and, behold, it be true, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought in Īs'ra-el:

5 Then shalt thou bring forth that man or that woman, which have committed that [b]wicked thing, unto thy gates, even that man or that woman, and shalt stone them with stones, till they die.

6 At the [c]mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death; but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death.

7 The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people. So thou shalt put the evil away from among you.

8 ¶ If there arise a matter too hard for thee in judgment, between blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, being matters of controversy within thy gates: then shalt thou arise, [d]and get thee up into the place which the [1]Lord thy God shall choose;

9 And thou shalt come unto the priests the Lē'vītes, and unto the judge that shall be in those days, and enquire; [e]and they shall shew thee the sentence of judgment:

10 And thou shalt do according to the sentence, which they of that place which the [1]Lord shall choose shall shew thee; and thou shalt observe to do according to all that they inform thee:

11 According to the sentence of the law which they shall teach thee, and according to the judgment which they shall tell thee, thou shalt do: thou shalt not decline from the sentence which they shall shew thee, to the right hand, nor to the left.

12 And the man that [f]will do presumptuously, and will not hearken unto the priest that standeth to [g]minister there before the [1]Lord thy God, or unto the judge, even that man shall die: and thou shalt put away the evil from Īs'ra-el.

13 And all the people shall hear, and fear, and do no more presumptuously.

14 ¶ [2]When thou art come unto the land which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee, and shalt possess it, and shalt dwell therein, and shalt say, [h]I will set a [3]king over me, like [i]as all the nations that are about me;

15 Thou shalt in any wise set him king over thee, whom the [1]Lord thy God shall choose: one from among thy brethren shalt thou set king over thee: thou mayest not set a [4]stranger over thee, which is not thy brother.

16 But he shall not multiply horses [j]to himself, nor cause the people to return to Ē'gўpt, to the end that he should multiply horses: forasmuch as the [1]Lord hath said unto you, Ye shall henceforth return no more that way.

17 Neither shall he multiply wives to himself, that [k]his heart turn not away: neither shall he greatly multiply to himself [l]silver and gold.

18 And it shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this law in a book out of that which is before the priests the Lē'vītes:

19 And it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life: that he may learn to [m]fear the [1]Lord his God, to keep all the words of this law and these statutes, to do them:

20 That his heart be not lifted up above his brethren, and that he turn [n]not aside from the commandment, to the right hand, or to the left: to the end that he may prolong his days in his kingdom, he, and his children, in the midst of Īs'ra-el.

perverteth the words of the righteous. (Ex. 23:8.) A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom to pervert the ways of judgment. (Prov. 17:23.) Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad; and a gift destroyeth the heart. (Ecc. 7:7.)

Chapter 17

a. See ch. 1, Lev.

b. And in all things that I have said unto you, be circumspect: and make no mention of the name of other gods, neither let it be heard out of thy mouth (13). Thou shalt not bow down to their gods, nor serve them, nor do after their works; but thou shalt utterly overthrow them, and quite break down their images. (Ex. 23:13, 24.) Thou shalt have none other gods before me. (Dt. 5:7.) Now therefore put away, said he, the strange gods which are among you, and incline your heart unto the Lord God of Israel. (Josh. 24:23.)

c. Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death by the mouth of witnesses; but one witness shall not testify against any person to cause him to die. (Num. 35:30.) But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. (Math. 18:16.) It is also written in your law that the testimony of two men is true. (Jno. 8:17.)

d. But unto the place which the Lord your God shall choose out of all your tribes to put his name there, even unto his habitation shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come. (Dt. 12:5.)

e. And if controversy thy shall stand in judgment; and they shall judge it according to my judgments: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all mine assemblies, and they shall hallow my sabbaths. (Ezek. 44:24.)

f. But the soul that doeth ought presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people. (Num. 15:30.) Yet let no man strive, nor reprove another; for thy people are as they that strive with the priest. (Hos. 4:4.)

g. For the Lord thy God hath chosen him out of all thy tribes, to stand to minister in the name of the Lord, him and his sons for ever. (Dt. 18:5.)

h. And ye have this day rejected your God, who himself saved you out of all your adversities and your tribulations; and ye have said unto him, Nay, but set a king over us. (I Sam. 10:19.)

i. Behold, thou art old, and thy sons walk not in thy ways; now make us a king to judge us like all the nations (5). And the Lord said to Samuel, Hearken unto their voice, and make them a king. (I Sam. 8:5, 22.)

j. And Solomon had forty thousand stalls of horses for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen. (I Ks. 4:26.) Some trust in chariots, and some in horses; but we will remember the name of the Lord our God. (Ps. 20:7.) Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong. (Is. 31:1.)

k. And he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines; and his wives turned away his heart. (I Ks. 11:3.)

l. And all king Solomon's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were of pure gold, none were of silver. (I Ks. 10:21.) He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house, but he that hateth gifts shall live. (Prov. 15.27.) Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth! (Is. 5:8.)

m. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not; for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do his commandments. (Ps. 111:10.) Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.)

n. Because David did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord, and turned not aside from any thing that he commanded him all the days of his life, save only in the matter of Uriah the Hittite. (I Ks. 15:5.)

Chapter 18.

a. Wherefore Levi hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren; the Lord is his inheritance, according as the Lord thy God promised him. (Dt. 10:9.) And it shall be unto them for an inheritance; I am with Ĭs'ra-el: they [b]shall eat the offerings of the [1]Lord made by fire, and his [2]inheritance.

2 Therefore shall they have no inheritance [a]among their brethren: the [1]Lord is their inheritance, as he hath said unto them.

3 ¶ And this shall be the priest's due from the people, from them that offer a sacrifice, whether it be ox or sheep; and they shall give unto the priest the shoulder, and the two cheeks, and the [3]maw.

4 The [c]firstfruit also of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the first of the fleece of thy sheep, shalt thou give him.

5 For the [1]Lord thy God hath chosen [d]him out of all thy tribes, to stand to minister in the name of the Lord, him and his sons for ever.

6 ¶ And if a Lē'vīte come from any of thy gates out of all Ĭs'ra-el, where he [e]sojourned, and come with all the desire of his mind unto the place which the Lord shall choose;

7 Then he shall minister in the name of the Lord his God, as all his brethren the Lē'vītes do, which stand there before the Lord.

8 They shall have like portions to eat, beside that which cometh of the sale of his patrimony.

9 ¶ [f]When thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, [f]thou shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations.

10 There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter [5]to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a [6]witch,

11 Or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a [7]necromancer.

12 For all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord: and [g]because of these abominations the [1]Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee.

13 Thou shalt be [8]perfect [h]with the [1]Lord thy God.

14 For these nations, which thou shalt possess, hearkened unto observers of times, and unto diviners: but as for thee, the [1]Lord thy God hath not suffered thee so to do.

15 ¶ [9]The [1]Lord thy God will [i]raise up unto thee a [10]Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken;

16 According to all that thou desiredst of the [1]Lord thy God in [11]Hō'reb in the day of the assembly, saying, Let me not hear again the voice of the [1]Lord my God, neither let me see this great fire any more, that I die not.

Ch. 18.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The inheritance of Jehovah, i. e., the sacrifices, the tithes, the firstfruits, because they were to be entirely devoted to the service of Jehovah.

3. The stomach of a ruminating animal.

4. Vs. 9-14 relate to the prohibition of soothsaying and idolatrous worship.

5. The heathen were in the habit of sacrificing children to Molech, the fire god of the eastern nations.

6. A sorcerer, a magician.

7. One who makes inquiries of the dead; one who claims to hold communion with departed spirits.

8. That is, upright or sincere.

9. Vs. 15, 16 relate to the true prophet to be raised up unto the people.

10. One of the most vexed passages of scripture and has received various interpretations, namely: (1) That the word prophet refers to a particular person to be prominent in the nation's history; (2) that the word applied collectively to the entire body of Hebrew prophets; (3) that the word comprehends the plurality of prophets in an ideal unity at some future time culminating in Christ; (4) that the word relates directly and exclusively to the Messiah; (5) that the word refers to a successive line of prophets finally culminating in the Messiah. We give all the views that the reader may take his choice.

11. The range of mountains of which Sinai is the summit.

12. A repetition of v. 15.

Ch. 19. B. C. 1451.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2 That is, iron.

3. From the wood or handle.

4. That is, hit or strike.

17 And the [1]Lord said unto me, They have well spoken that which they have spoken.

18 I will [i]raise them up a [12]Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth; [j]and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him.

19 And it [k]shall come to pass, that whosoever will not hearken unto my words which he shall speak in my name, I will require it of him.

20 But the prophet, which shall presume to speak a word in my name, which I have not commanded him to speak, or that shall speak in the name of other gods, even that prophet shall die.

21 And if thou say in thine heart, How shall we know the word which the Lord hath not spoken?

22 When a prophet speaketh in the name of the [1]Lord, if the thing follow not, nor come to pass, that is the thing which the [1]Lord hath not spoken, but the prophet hath spoken it presumptuously: thou shalt not be afraid of him.

CHAPTER 19.

1 The cities of refuge. 4 The privilege thereof for the manslayer. 14 The landmark is not to be removed. 15 Two witnesses at the least. 16 The punishment of a false witness.

1 When the [1]Lord thy God hath cut off the nations, whose land the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their cities, and in their houses;

2 Thou shalt separate [a]three cities for thee in the midst of thy land, which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it.

3 Thou shalt prepare thee a way, and divide the coasts of thy land, which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee to inherit, into three parts, that every slayer may flee thither.

4 ¶ And this is the case of the slayer, which shall flee thither, that he may live: Whoso killeth his neighbour ignorantly, whom he hated not in time past;

5 As when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbour to hew wood, and his hand fetcheth a stroke with the ax to cut down the tree, and the [2]head slippeth from the [3]helve, and [4]lighteth upon his neighbour, that he die; he shall flee unto one of those cities, and live:

6 Lest the avenger of the blood pursue the slayer, while his heart is hot, and overtake him, because the way is long, and slay him; whereas he was not worthy of death, inasmuch as he hated him not in time past.

7 Wherefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt separate [a]three cities for thee.

---

their inheritance; and ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. (Ez. 44:28.)

b. Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar? (I Cor. 9:13.)

c. Thou shalt not delay to offer the first of thy ripe fruits, and of thy liquors; the first-born of thy sons shalt thou give unto me. (Ex. 22:29.)

d. At that time the Lord separated the tribe of Levi, to bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord, to stand before the Lord to minister unto him, and to bless in name, his unto this day. (Dt. 10:8.)

e. Command the children of Israel, that they give unto the Levites, of the inheritance of their possession, cities to dwell in; and ye shall give also unto the Levites suburbs also for the cities round about them. And the cities shall they have to dwell in; and the suburbs of them shall be for their cattle; and for their goods, and for all their beasts. (Num. 35:2, 3.)

f. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you. (Lev. 18:26.) Take heed to thyself that thou be not snared by following them, after that they be destroyed from before thee; and that thou enquire not after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods? even so will I do likewise. Thou shalt not do so unto the Lord thy God; for every abomination to the Lord which he hateth have they done unto their gods; for even their sons and their daughters they have burnt in the fire to their gods. (Dt. 12:30, 31.)

g. Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things; for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you. (Lev. 18:24.) If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are. (I Cor. 3:17.)

h. And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the Lord appeared unto Abram and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect. (Gen. 17:1.) There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil (1). And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil? (Job. 1:1, 8.) Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. (Math. 5:48.) Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come and follow me. (Math. 19:21.) Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. (Heb. 13:21.)

i. Philip findeth Nathaniel, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. (Jno. 1:45.) For Moses truly said unto the fathers, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you. (Acts 3:22.)

j. When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things. (Jno. 8:28.) For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. And I know that his commandment is life everlasting; whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak. (Jno. 12:49, 50.)

k. And it shall come to pass, that every soul, which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people. (Acts 3:23.)

Chapter 19.

a. Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Appoint out for you cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Moses. (Josh. 20:2.)

8 And if the [1]Lord thy God [b]enlarge thy coast, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, and give thee all the land which he promised to give unto thy fathers;

9 If thou shalt keep all these commandments to do them, which I command thee this day, to [c]love the [1]Lord thy God, and to walk ever in his ways; then shalt thou add [a]three cities more for thee, beside these three:

10 That innocent blood be not shed in thy land, which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, and so blood be upon thee.

11 ¶ But if any man [d]hate his neighbour, and lie in wait for him, and rise up against him, and smite him mortally that he die, and fleeth into one of these cities:

12 Then the elders of his city shall send and fetch him thence, and deliver him into the hand of the avenger of blood, that he may die.

13 Thine eye shall not pity him, but thou shalt put away the guilt of innocent blood from Ĭs'ra-el, that it may go well with thee.

14 ¶ Thou shalt not remove thy neighbour's landmark, which they of old time have set in thine inheritance, which thou shalt inherit in the land that the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it.

15 ¶ [e]One witness shall not rise up against a man for any iniquity, or for any sin, in any sin that he sinneth: at the mouth of two witnesses, or at the mouth of three witnesses, shall the matter be established.

16 ¶ If a false witness rise up against any man to testify against him that which is wrong;

17 Then both the men, between whom the controversy is, shall stand before the [1]Lord, before the priests and the judges, which shall be in those days;

18 And the judges shall make diligent inquisition: and, behold, if the witness be a [f]false witness, and hath testified falsely against his brother;

19 Then [f]shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother: so shalt thou put the evil away from among you.

20 And those which remain shall hear, and fear, and shall henceforth commit no more any such evil among you.

21 And thine eye shall not pity; but [g]life [g]shall go for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

CHAPTER 20.

1 The priest's exhortation to encourage the people to battle. 10 How to use the cities that accept or refuse the proclamation of peace.

1 When thou goest out to battle against thine enemies, and seest [a]horses, and chariots, and a people more than thou, be not afraid of them: for the [1]Lord thy God is [b]with thee, which brought thee up out of the land of Ē'gўpt.

2 And it shall be, when ye are come nigh unto the battle, that the priest shall approach and speak unto the people,

3 And shall say unto them, Hear, O Ĭs'ra-el, ye approach this day unto battle against your enemies: let not your hearts faint, [b]fear not, and do not tremble, neither be ye terrified because of them;

4 For the [1]Lord your God is he that goeth with you, [c]to fight for you against your enemies, to save you.

5 ¶ And the officers shall speak unto the people, saying, What man is there that hath built a new house, and hath not dedicated it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man dedicate it.

6 And what man is he that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not yet eaten of it? let him also go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man eat of it.

7 And what man is there that hath [d]betrothed [2]a wife, and hath not taken her? let him go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man take her.

8 And the officers shall speak further unto the people, and they shall say, What man is there [e]that is fearful and fainthearted? let him go and return unto his house, lest his brethren's heart faint as well as his heart.

9 And it shall be, when the officers have made an end of speaking unto the people, that they shall make captains of the armies to lead the people.

10 [3]¶ When thou comest nigh unto a city to fight against it, then proclaim peace unto it.

11 And it shall be, if it make thee answer of peace, and open unto thee, then it shall be, that all the people that is found therein shall be tributaries unto thee, and they shall serve thee.

12 And if it will make no peace with thee, but will make war against thee, then thou shalt besiege it:

13 And when the [1]Lord thy God hath delivered it into thine hands, thou shalt smite every male thereof with the edge of the sword:

14 But the women, and the little ones, and the cattle, and all that is in the city, even all the spoil thereof, shalt thou take unto thyself; and thou shalt eat the spoil of thine enemies, which the [1]Lord thy God hath given thee.

15 Thus shalt thou do unto all the cities which are very far off from thee, which are not of the cities of these nations.

16 But of the cities of these people, which the [1]Lord thy God doth give thee for an in-

5. A severe law made necessary because of the harsh and cruel practice of society. The wise legislator adapts laws to the circumstances of the people. He makes laws to regulate things as they are, not as he would like them perhaps.

Ch. 20. B. C. 1451.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The betrothed to be exempt from military service, as also the newly married. (Ch. 24:5).

3. In vs. 10-20 are given special directions to prevent wanton destruction of life and property.

b. In the same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates. (Gen. 15:18.)

c. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. (Math. 22:37.) And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul. (Dt. 10:12.) And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. (Dt. 6:5.) My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe my ways. (Prov. 23:26.)

d. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer, and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. (I Jno. 3:15.)

e. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. (Math. 18:16.) It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true. (Jno. 8:17.) Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses. (I Tim. 5:19.)

f. A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall not escape. (Prov. 19:5.)

g. Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth; as he that hath caused a blemish in a man, so shall it be done to him again. (Lev. 24:20.)

Chapter 20.

a. Some trust in chariots, and some in horses; but we will remember the name of the Lord our God. (Ps. 20:7.) Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong, but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the Lord! (Is. 31:1.)

b. He hath not beheld iniquity in Jacob, neither hath he seen perverseness in Israel; the Lord his God is with him, and the shout of a king is among them. (Num. 23:21.) Be strong, and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them; for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee (6). And the Lord, he it is that doth go before thee; he will be with thee, he will not fail thee, neither forsake thee; fear not, neither be dismayed. (Dt. 31:6, 8.) And, behold, God himself is with us for our captain, and his priests with sounding trumpets to cry alarm against you. O children of Israel, fight ye not against the Lord God of your fathers; for ye shall not prosper. (II Chr. 13:12.) Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. (Ps. 23:4.) Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. (Is. 41:19.)

c. Ye shall not fear them; for the Lord your God he shall fight for you. (Dt. 3:22.) One man of you shall chase a thousand; for the Lord your God he it is that fighteth for you, as he hath promised you. (Josh. 23:10.)

d. When a man hath taken a new wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business; but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken. (Dt. 24:5.)

e. Whosoever is fearful and afraid, let him return and depart early from mount Gilead. (Jud. 7:3.)

heritance, thou [f]shalt save alive [4]nothing that breatheth:

17 But thou shalt utterly destroy them; namely, the Hĭt'tītes, and the Ăm'or-ītes, the Cā'năan-ītes, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, the Hī'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes; as the [2]Lord thy God hath commanded thee:

18 That [g]they teach you not to do after all their abominations, which they have done unto their gods; so shall ye sin against the Lord your God.

19 ¶ When thou shalt besiege a city a long time, in making war against it to take it, thou shalt not destroy the trees thereof by forcing an ax against them: for thou mayest eat of them, and thou shalt not cut them down (for the tree of the field is man's life) to employ them in the siege:

20 Only the trees which thou knowest that they be not trees for meat, thou shalt destroy and cut them down; and thou shalt build bulwarks against the city that maketh war with thee, until it be subdued.

CHAPTER 21.

1 The expiation of an uncertain murder. 10 The usage of a captive taken to wife. 18 A stubborn son is to be stoned to death. 22 The malefactor must not hang all night on a tree.

1 [1]If one be found slain in the land which the [2]Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it, lying in the field, and it be not known who hath slain him:

2 Then thy elders and thy judges shall come forth, and they shall measure unto the cities which are round about him that is slain:

3 And it shall be, that the city which is next unto the slain man, even the elders of that city shall take an heifer, which hath not been [3]wrought with, and which hath not drawn in the yoke;

4 And the elders of that city shall bring down the heifer unto a rough valley, which is neither eared nor sown, and shall strike off the heifer's neck there in the valley:

5 And the priests the sons of Lē'vī shall come near; for them the [2]Lord thy God hath chosen to minister unto him, and to bless in the name of the [2]Lord; and by their [a]word shall every controversy and every stroke be tried:

6 And all the elders of that city, that are next unto the slain man, [b]shall wash their hands over the heifer that is beheaded in the valley:

7 And they shall answer and say, Our hands have not shed this blood, neither have our eyes seen it.

8 Be merciful, O [2]Lord, [c]unto thy people Ĭs'ra-el, whom thou hast redeemed, and lay not innocent blood [d]unto thy people of Ĭs'ra-el's charge. And the blood shall be forgiven them.

9 So shalt thou put away the guilt of innocent blood from among you, when thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the [2]Lord.

10 ¶ [4]When thou goest forth to war against thine enemies, and the [2]Lord thy God hath delivered them into thine hands, and thou hast taken them captive,

11 And seest among the captives a beautiful woman, and hast a desire unto her, that thou wouldest have her to thy wife;

12 Then thou shalt bring her home to thine house; and she shall shave her head, and pare her nails;

13 And she shall put the raiment of her captivity from off her, and shall remain in thine house, and bewail her father and her mother a full month: and after that thou shalt go in unto her, and be her husband, and she shall be thy wife.

14 And it shall be, if thou have no delight in her, then thou shalt let her go whither she will; but thou shalt not sell her at all for money, thou shalt not make merchandise of her, because thou hast humbled her.

15 ¶ [5]If a man have two wives, one beloved, and another hated, and they have born him children, both the beloved and the hated; and if the firstborn son be her's that was hated:

16 Then it shall be, when he maketh his sons to inherit that which he hath, that he may not make the son of the beloved firstborn before the son of the hated, which is indeed the firstborn:

17 But he shall acknowledge the son of the hated for the firstborn, by [e]giving him a double portion of all that he hath: for he is the beginning of his strength; the right of the firstborn is his.

18 ¶ [6]If a man have a stubborn and rebellious son, which will not obey the voice of his [f]father, or the voice of his mother, and that, when they have chastened him, will not hearken unto them:

19 Then shall his father and his mother lay hold on him, and bring him out unto the elders of his city, and unto the gate of his place;

20 And they shall say unto the elders of his city, This our son is stubborn and rebellious, he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton, and a drunkard.

21 And all the men of his city shall stone him with stones, that he die: so shalt thou put evil away from among you; and all Ĭs'ra-el [g]shall hear, and fear.

22 ¶ And if a man have committed a sin worthy of death, and he be to be put to death, and thou hang [7]him on a tree:

4. Not a human being was to be left alive. Their idolatrous worship was so firmly established in their lives that it could only be done away with by annihilating the people.

Ch. 21. B. C. 1451.

1. Vs. 1-9 detail instructions to be observed when a person was found slain.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. One that has never known service or been applied to common use.

4. Vs. 10-14 detail the rules concerning the captured females in wars after the Canaanites had been extirpated. This law was far in advance of any other nation of that time.

5. Vs. 15-17 relate to the right of the firstborn. Moses does not here institute the right of primogeniture, but seeks to prevent its abuse.

6. Vs. 18-21 relate to the punishment of an incorrigible son.

7. The body is hanged upon a tree after being put to death to be ignominiously exposed to public view.

f. And Israel vowed a vow unto the Lord, and said, If thou wilt indeed deliver this people into my hand, then I will utterly destroy their cities. And the Lord hearkened to the voice of Israel, and delivered up the Canaanites; and they utterly destroyed them and their cities (2, 3). So they smote him, and his sons, and all his people, until there was none left him alive; and they possessed his land. (Num. 21:2, 3, 35.) And all the spoil of these cities, and the cattle, the children of Israel took for a prey unto themselves; but every man they smote with the edge of the sword, until they had destroyed them, neither left they any to breathe. (Josh. 11:14.)

g. For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods; so will the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and destroy thee suddenly. (Dt. 7:4.) Be not deceived; evil communications corrupt good manners. (I Cor. 15:33.)

Chapter 21.

a. If there arise a matter too hard for thee in judgment, between blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, being matters of controversy, within thy gates: then shalt thou arise, and get thee up into the place which the Lord thy God shall choose; And thou shalt come unto the priests the Levites, and unto the judge that shall be in those days, and enquire, and they shall show thee the sentence of judgment. (Dt. 17:8, 9.)

b. Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret faults. (Ps. 19:12.) When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person; see ye to it. (Math. 27:24.)

c. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt show thyself upright. (Ps. 18:25.) Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you; for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Luke 6:36.) And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Luke 18:13.)

d. Wherefore they cried unto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood; for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee. (Jonah 1:14.)

e. Now the sons of Reuben, the first-born of Israel, (for he was the first-born); but, forasmuch as he defiled his father's bed, his birthright was given unto the sons of Joseph, the son of Israel: and the genealogy is not to be reckoned after the birthright. (I Chr. 5:1.)

f. Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. (Ex. 20:12.) Ye shall fear every man, his mother, and his father, and keep my sabbaths; I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19:3.) My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother. (Prov. 1:8.) Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness. (Prov. 20:20.) Children, obey your parents in the Lord; for this is right. (Eph. 6:1.)

g. And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall do no more any such wickedness as this is among you. (Dt. 13:11.)

23 His body shall [h]not remain all night upon the tree, but thou shalt in any wise bury him that day; (for he that is hanged is [i]accursed of God;) that thy land [j]be not defiled, which the [2]Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance.

CHAPTER 22.

1 Of humanity toward brethren. 5 The sex is to be distinguished by apparel. 13 The punishment of him that slandereth his wife. 20, 22 Of adultery, 25 of rape, 28 and of fornication. 30 Incest.

1 Thou shalt not see thy brother's ox or his [a]sheep go astray, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt in any case bring them again unto thy brother.

2 And if thy brother be not nigh unto thee, or if thou know him not, then thou shalt bring it unto thine own house, and it shall be with thee until thy brother seek after it, and thou shalt restore it to him again.

3 In like manner shalt thou do with his ass; and so shalt thou do with his raiment; and with all lost thing of thy brother's, which he hath lost, and thou hast found, shalt thou do likewise: thou mayest not hide thyself.

4 ¶ Thou shalt not see thy brother's ass or [a]his ox fall down by the way, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt surely help him to lift them up again.

5 ¶ [1]The woman [b]shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garment: for all that do so are abomination unto the [2]Lord thy God.

6 ¶ If a bird's nest chance to be before thee in the way in any tree, or on the ground, whether they be young ones, or eggs, and the dam sitting upon the young, or upon the eggs, [c]thou shalt not take the dam with the young:

7 But thou shalt in any wise let the dam go, and take the young to thee; that it may be [d]well with thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days.

8 ¶ When thou buildest a new house, then thou shalt make a battlement for thy roof, that thou bring not blood upon thine house, if any man fall from thence.

9 ¶ Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with divers seeds: lest the fruit of thy seed which thou hast sown, and the fruit of thy vineyard, be defiled.

10 ¶ Thou shalt not [e]plow with an ox and an ass together.

11 ¶ Thou [f]shalt not wear a garment of divers sorts, as of woollen and linen together.

12 ¶ Thou shalt make thee [3]fringes upon the four [g]quarters of thy vesture, wherewith thou coverest thyself.

13 ¶ [5]If any man take a wife, and go in unto her, and hate her,

14 And give occasions of speech against her, and bring up an evil name upon her, and say, I took this woman, and when I came to her, I found her not a maid:

15 Then shall the father of the damsel, and her mother, take and bring forth the tokens of the damsel's virginity unto the elders of the city in the gate:

16 And the damsel's father shall say unto the elders, I gave my daughter unto this man to wife, and he hateth her;

17 And, lo, he hath given occasions of speech against her, saying, I found not thy daughter a maid; and yet these are the tokens of my daughter's virginity. And they shall spread the cloth before the elders of the city.

18 And the elders of that city shall take that man and [6]chastise [g]him;

19 And they shall amerce him in an hundred shekels of silver, and give them unto the father of the damsel, because he hath brought up an evil name upon a virgin of Ĭs'ra-el: and she shall be his wife; he may not put her away all his days.

20 But if this thing be true, and the tokens of virginity be not found for the damsel:

21 Then they shall bring out the damsel to the door of her father's house, and the men of her city shall stone her with stones that she die: because she hath wrought folly in Ĭs'ra-el, to play the whore in her father's house: so shalt thou put [h]evil away from among you.

22 ¶ If a man be found lying with [i]a woman married to an husband, then they shall both of them die, both the man that lay with the woman, and the woman: so shalt thou put away evil from Ĭs'ra-el.

23 ¶ If a damsel that is a virgin be betrothed unto an husband, and a man find her in the city, and lie with her;

24 Then ye shall bring them both out unto the gate of that city, and ye shall stone them with stones that they die; the damsel, because she cried not, being in the city; and the man, because he hath humbled his neighbour's wife: so thou shalt put away evil from among you.

25 ¶ But if a man find a betrothed damsel in the field, and the man force her, and lie with her: then the man only that lay with her shall die:

26 But unto the damsel thou shalt do nothing; there is in the damsel no sin worthy of

h. And the king of Ai he hanged on a tree until eventide; and as soon as the sun was down, Joshua commanded that they should take his carcase down from the tree, and cast it at the entering of the gate of the city, and raise thereon a great heap of stones, that remaineth unto this day. (Josh. 8:29.) Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death. (Jno. 18:31.)

i. Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree. (Gal. 3:13.) And the Lord said unto Moses, Take all the heads of the people, and hang them up before the Lord against the sun, that the fierce anger of the Lord may be turned away from Israel. (Num. 25:4.)

j. Defile not therefore the land which ye shall inhabit, wherein I dwell; for I the Lord dwell among the children of Israel. (Num. 35:34.)

Chapter 22.

a. If thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt surely bring it back to him again. (Ex. 23:4.) Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another. (Rom. 12:10.) And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also. (I Jno. 4:21.) Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, Execute true judgment, and show mercy and compassions every man to his brother. (Zech. 7:9.)

b. Let all things be done decently and in order. (I Cor. 14:40.)

c. And whether it be a cow or ewe, ye shall not kill it and her young both in one day. (Lev. 22:28.) Thy righteousness is like the great mountains; thy judgments are a great deep; O Lord, thou preservest man and beast. (Ps. 36:6.) Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? and not one of them is forgotten before God? (Luke 12:6.)

d. Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, for ever. (Dt. 4:40.)

e. Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers; for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (II Cor. 6:14-16.)

f. Ye shall keep my statutes. Thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with a diverse kind; thou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed; neither shall a garment mingled of linen and woolen come upon thee. (Lev. 19:19.)

g. Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them, to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens. (Ex. 18:21.) For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain; for he is the minister of God; a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil. (Rom. 13:4.)

h. And that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams, shall be put to death; because he hath spoken to turn you away from the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you out of the house of bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which the Lord thy God commanded thee to walk in. So shalt thou put the evil away from the midst of thee. (Dt. 13:5.)

i. And the man that committeth adultery with another man's wife, even he that committeth adultery with his neighbor's wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death. (Lev. 20:10.) Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery; But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart (Math. 5:27, 28.) Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled; but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

death: for as when a man riseth against his neighbour, and slayeth him, even so is this matter:

27 For he found her in the field, and the betrothed damsel cried, and there was none to save her.

28 ¶ If a man find a [j]damsel that is a virgin, which is not betrothed, and lay hold on her, and lie with her, and they be found;

29 Then the man that lay with her shall give unto the damsel's father fifty [7]shekels of silver, and she shall be his wife; because he hath humbled her, he may not put her away all his days.

30 ¶ A man shall not [k]take his father's wife, nor discover his father's skirt.

CHAPTER 23.

1 Who may or may not enter into the congregation. 15 Of the fugitive servant. 17 Of filthiness. 18 Of abominable sacrifices. 19 Of usury. 21 Of vows. 24 Of trespasses.

1 [1]He that is wounded in the stones, or hath his privy member cut off, shall not enter into the congregation of the [2]Lord.

2 A bastard shall not enter into the congregation of the [2]Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord.

3 An Ām'mŏn-īte or Mō'ab-īte shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the Lord for ever:

4 Because they met you not with [a]bread and with water in the way, when ye came forth out of Ē'gўpt; and because [b]they hired against thee Bā'laam the son of Bē'or of Pē'thor of Měs'o-po-tā'mĭ-à, to curse thee.

5 Nevertheless the [2]Lord thy God would not hearken unto Bā'laam; but the [2]Lord thy God turned the curse [c]into a blessing unto thee, because the [2]Lord thy God loved thee.

6 Thou shalt not seek their peace nor their prosperity all thy days for ever.

7 ¶ Thou shalt not abhor an Ē'dom-īte; for he is thy brother: thou shalt not abhor an E-ġўp'tian; because [d]thou wast a stranger in his land.

8 The children that are begotten of them shall enter into the congregation of the [2]Lord in their third generation.

9 ¶ When the host goeth forth against thine enemies, then keep thee from every wicked thing.

11 But it shall be, when evening cometh on, he shall wash himself with water: and when the sun is down, he shall come into the camp again.

1. Vs. 1-8 relate to persons who are not to be received into the congregation.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. The prostitution of women was part of the service of the heathen worship of Astarte.

4. The word usury here means interest. An Israelite was to exact nothing from a brother Israelite for the use of money, food or anything he might borrow; but from a non-Israelite he might collect reasonable interest.

Ch. 24. B. C. 1451.

1. Vs. 1-4 relate to the law of divorce.

12 ¶ Thou shalt have a place also without the camp, whither thou shalt go forth abroad:

13 And thou shalt have a paddle upon thy weapon; and it shall be, when thou wilt ease thyself abroad, thou shalt dig therewith, and shalt turn back and cover that which cometh from thee:

14 For the [2]Lord thy God [e]walketh in the midst of thy camp, to deliver thee, and to give up thine enemies before thee; therefore shall thy camp be holy: that he see no unclean thing in thee, and turn away from thee.

15 ¶ Thou shalt not deliver unto his master the servant which is escaped from his master unto thee:

16 He shall dwell with thee, even among you, in that place which he shall choose in one of thy gates, where it liketh him best: thou shalt not oppress him.

17 ¶ There shall be no [3]whore of the daughters of Īs'ra-el, nor a sodomite of the sons of Īs'ra-el.

18 Thou shalt not bring the hire of a whore, or the price of a dog, into the house of the [2]Lord thy God for any vow: for even both these are abomination unto the [2]Lord thy God.

19 ¶ [f]Thou shalt not lend upon [4]usury to thy brother; usury of money, usury of victuals, usury of any thing that is lent upon usury:

20 Unto a stranger [g]thou mayest lend upon [4]usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury: [h]that the [2]Lord thy God may bless thee in all that thou settest thine hand to in the land whither thou goest to possess it.

21 ¶ When thou shalt [i]vow a vow unto the Lord thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it: for the Lord thy God will surely require it of thee; and it would be sin in thee.

22 But if thou shalt forbear to vow, it shall be no sin in thee.

23 That which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keep and perform; even a freewill offering, according as thou hast vowed unto the Lord thy God, which thou hast promised with thy mouth.

24 ¶ When thou comest into thy neighbour's vineyard, then thou mayest eat grapes thy fill at thine own pleasure; but thou shalt not put any in thy vessel.

25 When thou comest into the standing corn of thy neighbour, [j]then thou mayest pluck the ears with thine hand; but thou [k]shalt not move a sickle unto thy neighbour's standing corn.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Of divorce. 5 A new married man goeth not to war. 6, 10 Of pledges. 7 Of manstealers. 8 Of leprosy. 14 The hire is to be given. 16 Of justice. 19 Of charity.

1 When [1]a man hath taken a wife, and married her, and it come to pass that she find no favour in his eyes, because he hath found

j. And if a man entice a maid, that is not betrothed, and lie with her; he shall surely endow her to be his wife. If her father utterly refuse to give her unto him, he shall pay money according to the dowry of virgins. (Ex. 22:16, 17.)

k. The nakedness of thy father's wife shalt thou not uncover: it is thy father's nakedness. (Lev. 18:8.) Cursed be he that lieth with his father's wife; because he uncovereth his father's skirt. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:20.) It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife. (I Cor. 5:1.)

Chapter 23.

a. And Melchizedek king of Salem brought forth bread and wine, and he was the priest of the most high God. (Gen. 14:18.) He that receiveth you, receiveth me, and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me (40). And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water, only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. (Math. 10:40, 42.)

b. He sent messengers therefore unto Balaam the son of Beor to Pethor, which is by the river of the land of the children of his people, to call him, saying, Behold, there is a people come out from Egypt; behold, they cover the face of the earth, and they abide over against me. Come now therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people; for they are too mighty for me: peradventure I shall prevail, that we may smite them, and that I may drive them out of the land: for I wot that he whom thou blesseth is blessed, and he whom thou cursest is cursed. (Num. 22:5, 6.)

c. As the bird by wandering, as the swallow by flying, so the curse causeless shall not come. (Prov. 26:2.)

d. Also thou shalt not oppress a stranger: for ye know the heart of a stranger, seeing ye were strangers in the land of Egypt. (Ex. 23:9.) Love ye therefore the stranger; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt. (Dt. 10:19.)

e. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people. (Lev. 26:12.) And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (II Cor. 6:16.)

f. Take thou no usury of him, or increase; but fear thy God; that thy brother may live with thee. (Lev. 25:36.)

g. But the stranger that dwelleth with you shall be unto you as one born among you, and thou shalt love him as thyself; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt; I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19:34.)

h. Thou shalt surely give him, and thine heart shall not be grieved when thou givest unto him; because that for this thing the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy works, and in all that thou puttest thine hand unto. (Dt. 15:10.)

i. Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt pay thy vows. (Job 22:27.) When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools; pay that which thou hast vowed. Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay. (Ecc. 5:4, 5.)

j. At that time Jesus went on the sabbath day through the corn; and his disciples were an hungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat. (Mat. 12:1.)

k. Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry. (Col. 3:5.)

some uncleanness in her: then let him write her a bill of divorcement, and give it in her hand, and send her out of his house.

2 And when she is departed out of his house, she may go and be another man's wife.

3 And if the latter husband hate her, and write her a bill of divorcement, and giveth it in her hand, and sendeth her out of his house; or if the latter husband die, which took her to be his wife;

4 Her former husband, which sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after that she is defiled; for that is abomination before the Lord: and thou shalt not cause the land to sin, which the [2]Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance.

5 ¶ When a man hath taken a new wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business: but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cheer [a]up his wife which he hath taken.

6 ¶ No man shall take the nether or the upper millstone to pledge: for he taketh a man's life to pledge.

7 ¶ If a man be found [b]stealing any of his brethren of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and maketh merchandise of him, or selleth him; then that thief shall die; and thou shalt put evil away from among you.

8 ¶ Take heed in the [3]plague of leprosy, that thou observe diligently, and do according to all that the priests the Lē'vītes shall teach you: as I commanded them, so ye shall observe to do.

9 Remember [c]what the [2]Lord thy God did unto Mĭr'ĭ-am by the way, after that ye were come forth out of Ē'ğўpt.

10 ¶ When thou dost lend thy brother any thing, thou shalt not go into his house to fetch his pledge.

11 Thou shalt stand abroad, and the man to whom thou dost lend shall bring out the pledge abroad unto thee.

12 And if the man be [4]poor, thou shalt not sleep with his pledge:

13 In any case thou shalt deliver him the pledge again when the sun goeth down, that he may sleep in his own raiment, [d]and bless thee: and it shall be [e]righteousness unto thee before the [2]Lord thy God.

14 ¶ Thou shalt not [f]oppress an hired servant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of thy strangers that are in thy land within thy gates:

15 At his day [g]thou shalt give him his hire, neither shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it: lest [h]he cry against thee unto the Lord, and it be sin unto thee.

16 The fathers shall [i]not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: every man shall be put to death for his own sin.

17 ¶ Thou shalt not pervert the judgment of the stranger, nor of the fatherless; nor take [j]a widow's raiment to pledge:

18 But thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in Ē'ğўpt, and the [2]Lord thy God redeemed thee thence: therefore I command thee to do this thing.

19 ¶ When thou cuttest down thine harvest in thy field, and hast forgot a sheaf in the field, thou shalt not go again to fetch it: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and [k]for the widow: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hands.

20 When thou beatest thine olive tree, thou shalt not go over the boughs again: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow.

21 When thou gatherest the grapes of thy vineyard, thou shalt not glean it afterward: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow.

22 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Ē'ğўpt: therefore I command thee to do this thing.

CHAPTER 25.

1 Stripes must not exceed forty. 4 The ox is not to be muzzled. 5 Of raising seed unto a brother. 11 Of the immodest woman. 13 Of unjust weights. 17 Memory of Amalek is to be blotted out.

1 [1]If there be a controversy between men, and they come unto judgment, that the judges may judge them; then they shall justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked.

2 And it shall be, if the wicked man be worthy to be beaten, that the judge shall cause him to lie down, and to be beaten before his face, according to his [a]fault, by a certain number.

3 [b]Forty stripes he may give him, and not exceed: lest, if he should exceed, and beat him above these with many stripes, then thy brother should seem vile unto thee.

4 ¶ Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn.

5 ¶ [2]If brethren dwell together, and one of them die, and have no child, the wife of the dead shall not marry without unto a stranger: her husband's brother shall go in unto her, and take her to him to wife, and perform the duty of an husband's brother unto her.

6 And it shall be, that the firstborn which she beareth shall succeed in the name of his brother which is dead, that his name be not put out of Ĭs'ra-el.

7 And if the man like not to take his brother's wife, then let his brother's wife go up to the gate unto the elders, and say, My husband's brother refuseth to raise up unto his brother a name in Ĭs'ra-el, he will not perform the duty of my husband's brother.

8 Then the elders of his city shall call him,

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Keil suggests this passage to mean, "Be on thy guard because of the plague of leprosy, that thou dost not have to bear it, as the punishment for thy rebellion against Jehovah."

4. Meaning covering or clothing; and, if it was all the creditor had, was to be returned to him at night. (Ex. 22:25-27.)

1. Vs. 1-3 relate to laws concerning corporal punishment.

2. Vs. 5-10 relate to the marriage of a childless widow to her husband's brother.

Chapter 24.

a. Let thy fountain be blessed: and rejoice with the wife of thy youth. (Prov. 5:18.)

b. And he that stealeth a man, and selleth him, or if he be found in his hand, he shall surely be put to death. (Ex. 21:16.)

c. Remember Lot's wife. (Lu. 17:32.) And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled. (II Cor. 10:6.)

d. When the ear heard me, then it blessed me; and when the eye saw me, it gave witness to me. (Job 29:11.) The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day: and in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well. (II Tim. 1:18.)

e. And that was counted unto him for righteousness unto all generations for evermore. (Ps. 106:31.) He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor; his righteousness endureth for ever; his horn shall be exalted with honor. (Ps. 112:9.)

f. He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker; but he that honoreth him hath mercy on the poor. (Prov. 14:31.) And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:5.)

g. Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbor, neither rob him: the wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning. (Lev. 19:13.) Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong; that useth his neighbor's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work. (Jer. 22:13.) Behold, the hire of the laborers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth; and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of sabaoth. (Ja. 5:4.)

h. By reason of the multitude of oppressions, they make the oppressed to cry; they cry out by reason of the arm of the mighty. (Job 35:9.)

i. The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. (Ezek. 18:20.) Say ye to the righteous that it shall be well with him; for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. (Is. 3:10.) Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first and also of the Gentile. (Rom. 2:9.)

j. If thou at all take thy neighbor's raiment to pledge, thou shalt deliver it unto him by that the sun goeth down. (Ex. 22:26.)

k. He that hath pity upon the poor, lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again. (Prov. 19:17.)

Chapter 25.

a. But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more. (Luke 12:48.)

b. Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one. (II Cor. 11:24.)

and speak unto him: and if he stand to it, and say, I like not to take her;

9 Then shall his brother's wife come unto him in the presence of the elders, [3]and [c]loose his shoe from off his foot, and spit in his face, and shall answer and say, So shall it be done unto that man that will not build up his brother's house.

10 And his name shall be called in Ĭs'ra-el, The house of him that hath his shoe loosed.

11 ¶ When men strive together one with another, and the wife of the one draweth near for to deliver her husband out of the hand of him that smiteth him, and putteth forth her hand, and taketh him by the secrets:

12 Then thou shalt cut off her hand, thine eye shall not pity her.

13 ¶ [4]Thou [d]shalt not have in thy bag divers weights, a great and a small.

14 Thou shalt not have in thine house divers measures, a great and a small.

15 But thou shalt have a perfect and just weight, a perfect and just measure shalt thou have: that thy days may be lengthened in the land which the [6]Lord thy God giveth thee.

16 For all that do [e]such things, and all that do unrighteously, are an abomination unto the [6]Lord thy God.

17 ¶ Remember [5]what Ām'a-lĕk did unto thee by the way, when ye were come forth out of Ē'gўpt;

18 How he met thee by the way, and smote the hindmost of thee, even all that were feeble behind thee, when thou wast faint and weary; and he feared [f]not God.

19 Therefore it shall be, when the [6]Lord thy God hath given thee rest from all thine enemies round about, in the land which the [6]Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance to possess it, that thou shalt blot out the remembrance of Ām'a-lĕk from under heaven; thou shalt not forget it.

CHAPTER 26.

1 The confession of him that offereth the basket of firstfruits. 12 The prayer of him that giveth his third year's tithes. 16 The covenant between God and the people.

1 And it shall be, when thou art come in unto the land which the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, and possessest it, and dwellest therein;

2 That thou shalt take of the first of [g]all the fruit of the earth, which thou shalt bring of thy land that the [1]Lord thy God giveth thee, and shalt put it in a basket, and shalt go unto the place which the [1]Lord thy God shall choose to place his name there.

3 And thou shalt go unto the priest that shall be in those days, and say unto him, I profess this day unto the [1]Lord thy God, that I am come unto the country which the [1]Lord sware unto our fathers for to give us.

4 And the priest shall take the basket out of thine hand, and set it down before the altar of the [1]Lord thy God.

5 And thou shalt speak and say before the [1]Lord thy God, A Sўr'ĭ-an ready to perish was my father, and he went down into Ē'gўpt, and sojourned there with a [b]few, and became there a nation, great, mighty, and populous:

6 And the Ē-gўp'tians [c]evil entreated us, and afflicted us, and laid upon us hard bondage:

7 And when we cried unto the [1]Lord God of our fathers, the [1]Lord [d]heard our voice, and looked on our affliction, and our labour, and our oppression:

8 And the [1]Lord brought us forth out of Ē'gўpt with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with great terribleness, and with signs, [e]and with wonders:

9 And he hath brought us into this place, and hath given us this land, even a land that floweth with milk and honey.

10 And now, behold, I have brought the firstfruits of the land, which thou, O [1]Lord, [f]hast given me. And thou shalt set it before the [1]Lord thy God, and worship before the [1]Lord thy God:

11 And thou shalt rejoice in [g]every good thing which the [1]Lord thy God hath given unto thee, and unto thine house, thou, and the Lē'vīte, and the stranger that is among you.

12 ¶ When thou hast made an end of tithing [2]all the [h]tithes of thine increase the third year, which is the [i]year of tithing, and hast given it unto the Lē'vīte, the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and be filled;

13 Then thou shalt say before the [1]Lord thy God, I have brought away the hallowed things out of mine house, and also have given them unto the Lē'vīte, and unto the stranger, to the fatherless, and to the widow, according to all thy commandments which thou hast commanded me: I have not transgressed thy commandments, neither have I [j]forgotten them:

14 I have not eaten thereof in my mourning, neither have I taken away ought thereof for any unclean use, nor given ought thereof for the dead: but I have hearkened to the voice of the [1]Lord my God, and have done according to all that thou hast commanded me.

15 Look [k]down from thy holy habitation, from heaven, and bless thy people Ĭs'ra-el, and the land which thou hast given us, as thou swarest unto our fathers, a land that floweth with milk and honey.

16 ¶ This day the [1]Lord thy God hath com-

3. The taking off of a shoe and handing to another denoted the transfer of right of possession. It arose from the custom of standing upon a piece of land when taking possession of it, after having bought it.

4. Vs. 13-19 detail the duty of right dealing with another.

5. This particular part of the discourse is concluded by reminding the people of the enmity of the Amalekites. (Ex. 17:8-16).

6. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

Ch. 26. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—Directions are given in this ch. concerning the offerings connected with the social and religious life of the people.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The presenting of tithes was always accompanied by prayer and thanksgiving. The second tithe of the third year was to be used for a festal meal for the poor.

c. Now this was the manner in former time in Israel concerning redeeming, and concerning changing, for to confirm all things; a man plucked off his shoe, and gave it to his neighbor; and this was a testimony in Ĭsrael. (Ruth 4:7.)

d. Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in meteyard, in weight, or in measure. (Lev. 19:35.) Divers weights are an abomination unto the Lord, and a false balance is not good. (Prov. 20:23.) Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath. (Ezek. 45:10.) Shall I count them pure with the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights? (Mic. 6:11.)

e. A false balance is abomination to the Lord: but a just weight is his delight. (Prov. 11:1.) That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter; because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified. (I Thes. 4:6.)

f. The transgression of the wicked saith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes. (Ps. 36:1.) By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil. (Prov. 16:6.) There is no fear of God before their eyes. (Rom. 3:18.)

Chapter 26.

a. And whatsoever is ripe in the land, which they shall bring unto the Lord, shall be thine; every one that is clean in thine house shall eat of it. (Num. 18:13.) Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.)

b. And the sons of Joseph, which were born in Egypt, were two souls; all the souls of the house of Jacob, which came into Egypt, were threescore and ten. (Gen. 46:27.) Thy fathers went down into Egypt with threescore and ten persons; and now the Lord thy God hath made thee as the stars of heaven for multitude. (Dt. 10:22.)

c. Therefore they did set over them taskmasters, to afflict them with their burdens. (Ex. 1:11.)

d. And the people believed; and when they heard that the Lord had visited the children of Israel, and that he had looked upon their affliction, then they bowed their heads and worshipped. (Ex. 4:31.)

e. Or hath God essayed to go and take him a nation from the midst of another nation, by temptations, by signs, and by wonders, and by war, and by a mighty hand, and by a stretched out arm, and by great terrors, according to all that the Lord your God did for you in Egypt before your eyes? (Dt. 4:34.)

f. The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it. (Prov. 10:22.)

g. I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life. And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labor, it is the gift of God. (Ecc. 3:12, 13.)

h. And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's; it is holy unto the Lord. (Lev. 27:30.)

i. At the end of three years thou shalt bring forth all the tithes of thine increase the same year, and shalt lay it up within thy gates. (Dt. 14:28.)

j. I am small and despised; yet do not I forget thy precepts (141). Consider mine affliction and deliver me; for I do not forget thy law (153). I have gone astray like a lost sheep; see thy servant; for I do not forget thy commandments. (Ps. 119:141, 153, 176.)

k. Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and thy glory; where is thy zeal and thy strength; the sounding of thy bowels and of thy mercies toward me? are they restrained? (Is. 63:15.) Be silent, O all flesh, before the Lord; for he is raised up out of his holy habitation. (Zech. 2:13.)

manded thee to do these statutes and judgments: thou shalt therefore keep and do them with all thine heart, and with all thy soul.

17 Thou hast avouched the Lord this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and to hearken unto his voice:

18 And the [1]Lord [l]hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou shouldest keep all his commandments;

19 And to make thee [m]high above all nations which he hath made, in praise, and in name, and in honour; and that thou mayest be an [3]holy people unto the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken.

CHAPTER 27.

1 The people are commanded to write the law upon stones, 5 and to build an altar of whole stones. 11 The tribes divided on Gerizim and Ebal. 14 The curses pronounced on mount Ebal.

1 And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ with the elders of Īs'ra-el commanded the people, saying, Keep all the commandments which I command you this day.

2 And it shall be on the day when ye shall pass over Jor'dan unto the land which the [2]Lord thy God giveth thee, that thou shalt set thee up great stones, and plaister them with plaister:

3 And thou shalt [3]write upon them all the [4]words of this law, when thou art passed over, that thou mayest go in unto the land which the [2]Lord thy God giveth thee, a land that floweth with milk and honey; as the [2]Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee.

4 Therefore it shall be when ye be gone over Jor'dan, that ye shall set up these stones, which I command you this day, in mount Ē'bal, and thou shalt plaister them with plaister.

5 And there shalt thou build an altar unto the Lord thy God, an altar of stones: thou shalt not lift up [a]any iron tool upon them.

6 Thou shalt build the altar of the [2]Lord thy God of whole stones: and thou shalt offer [b]burnt [5]offerings thereon unto the Lord thy God:

7 And thou shalt offer peace [6]offerings, and shall eat there, and rejoice before the [2]Lord thy God.

8 And thou shalt write upon the stones all the words of this law very plainly.

9 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ and the priests the Lē'vītes spake unto all Īs'ra-el, saying, Take heed, and hearken, O Īs'ra-el; this day thou art become the people of the [2]Lord thy God.

10 Thou shalt therefore obey the voice of the [2]Lord thy God, and do his commandments and [c]his statutes, which I command thee this day.

11 ¶ And [1]Mō'ṣeṣ charged the people the same day, saying,

12 These shall stand upon mount Gĕr'ī-zĭm to bless the people, when ye are come over Jor'dan; Sĭm'e-on, and Lē'vī, and Jū'dah, and Īs'sa-char, and Jō'ṣeph, and Bĕn'ja-min:

13 And these shall stand upon mount Ē'bal to curse; Reu'ben, Găd, and Ash'ĕr, and Zĕb'-u-lun, Dăn, and Năph'ta-lī.

14 ¶ [7]And the Lē'vītes shall speak, and say unto all the men of Īs'ra-el with a loud voice, 15 Cursed be the man that maketh any graven or [d]molten image, an abomination unto the [2]Lord, the work of the hands of the craftsman, and putteth it in a secret place. And all the people shall answer and say, Amen.

16 Cursed be he [e]that setteth light by his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen.

17 Cursed be [f]he that removeth his neighbour's landmark. And all the people shall say, Amen.

18 Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of the way. And all the people shall say, Amen.

3. Jehovah had selected the children of Israel to be devoted to him as a holy people as an example to other nations.

Ch. 27. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—With this ch. begins the third discourse concerning the renewal of the covenant between Jehovah and his people. Moses also directs the building of a monument upon which the law is to be inscribed. He announces the manner in which the blessings and curses are to be proclaimed upon Mt. Gerizim and Mt. Ebal respectively. See Josh. 8:30-33.

1. Rather Moses (from the Egypt. word Mos or Mas, to draw). Moses was born during the three years of the existence of the edict issued by the king, giving all people authority; in fact, ordering them to put to death every Hebrew male child. In order to preserve his life, his mother made a little ark of bulrushes and when the child was three months old (she being able to keep him concealed until this time) put him in the ark and set him afloat on the Nile at or about the place where the daughter of Pharaoh was wont to go and bathe daily. His sister Miriam was set to watch that no harm befell the infant child. He was discovered by Pharaoh's daughter who, despite the edict to kill all infant Hebrew male children, resolved to adopt him as her own child. His sister, Miriam, who had been watching, offered to go and get a nurse, which offer was accepted by Pharaoh's daughter, and the child's mother was brought as his hired nurse, in all of which there seems to have been the hand of God, executing the plan. Moses was reared in the Egyptian court and given the best education possible in Egypt, but he always seemed to be saddened by the oppression and suffering of his people. At one time, while strolling among them, he saw an Egyptian attempting to kill a Hebrew man. M. went to the rescue of the Hebrew, slew the offending party, but, fearing the deed might become known, he fled into Midian and there at the well met the seven daughters of the priest. He drove off the shepherds and helped the daughters water their sheep, and afterward married Zipporah, one of the seven daughters. After a time the king of Egypt, from whom M. had fled, died. Then Jehovah told M. to return to Egypt, as all the men who sought his life were dead. M. at once set out with his wife and son, but on the way, Jehovah sought to kill him because he was not circumcised. Zipporah, his wife, averted the divine wrath by circumcising their son. On the way, after M. had reached Goshen, the angel of Jehovah appeared to him in a burning bush, without being consumed. Jehovah told M. that he had seen the oppression of his people and had come to deliver them and to bring them to Canaan, and that he, M., was to be their leader. M. feared that the people would not believe Jehovah had sent him; whereupon, Jehovah gave three signs to convince them; first, a rod turned into a serpent and back into a rod again; second, his hand made leprous and then restored to health; third water poured on the ground and turned into blood. Then M. plead his lack of fluent speech, and Jehovah answered, "I will be with thy mouth and teach thee what to say." Pharaoh refused to let the Israelites go, whereupon Jehovah, through M., afflicted the Egyptians with the ten plagues, closing the plague season with the slaying of the firstborn of the Egyptians, and the E., in a panic, made the I. start on their journey in such haste that they carried their dough with them unbaked. The I.'s, under the leadership of M., were guided by Jehovah in a pillar of cloud by day, and fire by night. M. led the people in the wilderness toward the sea. Pharaoh, recovering from his terror, pursued them with his army. Coming up to them, the pillar placed itself between the I.'s and the E.'s. A strong east wind drove back the waters of the Red Sea, and M. and his people crossed in safety, the waters again coming together as the hosts of Pharaoh were attempting to cross and drowning them all. From the sea M. led Israel through the wilderness to Sinai and they encamped before the mountain. Jehovah came down upon Sinai, called M. to him, and conversed with him. M. was alone allowed to approach Jehovah, and from him, while on the mount, M. received the ten commandments, that is, the words of the covenant written on two tables of stone. Without anything to eat or drink, M. remained with Jehovah forty days and forty nights. During this time the people corrupted themselves and made the golden calf. Jehovah now prepared to kill them all, but upon the intercession of M., he repented of the evil he would do them. When M. reached the camp, he called to his aid all who were faithful to Jehovah. The Levites responded and at the command of M., killed 3,000 of the evildoers. Because of the sin of the people, Jehovah now refused to go with them, essaying to send his angel; but, being moved by their prayers, he again repented and said, "My presence shall go with thee." After the departure from Sinai, the I.'s were fed with manna from heaven. At Kadesh they lacked water, but at the command of Jehovah, M. smote the rock and the waters burst forth. M. sent Caleb and others to spy out the highlands of Canaan. They reported the land fertile, but the inhabitants powerful. Because his people had tempted him ten times, none of the adults of that generation save Caleb were allowed to enter Canaan. Jehovah called M. to the top of Pisgah, whence he showed him all Canaan. After M.'s death, Jehovah buried him in the valley of Moab; his tomb no man knoweth. Though Jehovah had communed with his patriarchs, M. was the first man to receive a divine commission to perform miracles. (Hast.)

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. The words were to be written in before the cement dried, then when it dried it became as "writing in stone."

4. Some authorities claim that only the decalogue was inscribed; others that the blessings and curses were added; and still others that the entire 613 enactments were written in the stone.

5. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

6. An offering of one in the enjoyment of peace afforded by a clear conscience, an offering to God in gratitude.

7. Vs. 14-26 treat of the twelve curses pronounced against the transgressors of the law.

---

1. And I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God: and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God, which bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians. (Ex. 6:7.) For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God: the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth. (Dt. 7:6.) Israel was holiness unto the Lord, and the first-fruits of his increase: all that devour him shall offend; evil shall come upon them, saith the Lord. (Jer. 2:3.)

m. He also exalteth the horn of his people, the praise of all his saints; even of the children of Israel, a people near unto him. Praise ye the Lord. (Ps. 148:14.)

Chapter 27.

a. And if thou wilt make me an altar of stone, thou shalt not build it of hewn stone, for if thou lift up thy tool upon it, thou hast polluted it. (Ex. 20:25.)

b. For purpose and design of burnt offering see Lev. ch. 1.

c. Therefore shall ye keep my commandments, and do them: I am the Lord. (Lev. 22:31.) My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments. (Prov. 3:1.) Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, for ever. (Dt. 4:40.) Therefore shall ye keep all the commandments which I command thee this day that ye may be strong, and go in and possess the land whither ye go to possess it. (Dt. 11:8.) If thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes, which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee. (Dt. 28:15.)

d. Ye shall not make with me gods of silver, neither shall ye make unto you gods of gold. (Ex. 20:23.) Thou shalt make thee no molten gods. (Ex. 34:17.) Ye shall make you no idols nor graven image, neither rear you up a standing image, neither shall ye set up any image of stone in your land, to bow down unto it; for I am the Lord, your God. (Lev. 26:1.) Thou shalt not make thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth. (Dt. 5:8.)

e. See m, ch. 5, Deut.

f. Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumbling block before the blind, but shalt fear thy God: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:14.)

19 Cursed be he that [g]perverteth the judgment of the stranger, fatherless, and widow. And all the people shall say, Amen.

20 Cursed be he [h]that lieth with his father's wife; because he uncovereth his father's skirt. And all the people shall say, Amen.

21 Cursed be he that lieth with any manner of beast. And all the people shall say, Amen.

22 Cursed be he that lieth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or the daughter of his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen.

23 Cursed be he that lieth with his mother in law. And all the people shall say, Amen.

24 Cursed be he that [i]smiteth his neighbour secretly. And all the people shall say, Amen.

25 Cursed be he that taketh reward to slay an innocent person. And all the people shall say, Amen.

26 Cursed be he that [j]confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them. And all the people shall say, Amen.

CHAPTER 28.

1 The blessings for obedience. 15 The curses for disobedience.

1 [1]And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken [3]diligently [a]unto the voice of the [2]Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the [2]Lord thy God will set thee [a]on high above all nations of the earth:

2 And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the [2]Lord thy God.

3 Blessed [b]shalt thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be in the field.

4 Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.

5 Blessed shall be thy basket and thy [4]store.

6 Blessed [c]shalt thou be when thou comest in, and blessed shalt thou be when thou goest out.

7 The [2]Lord shall cause thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways.

8 The [2]Lord shall command the blessing upon thee in thy storehouses, and in all that [d]thou settest thine hand unto; and he shall bless thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

9 The [2]Lord shall establish thee an [e]holy people unto himself, as he hath sworn unto thee, if thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways.

10 And all people of the earth shall see that thou art called [f]by the name of the Lord: and they shall be afraid of thee.

11 And the [2]Lord shall make thee [g]plenteous in goods, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy ground, in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers to give thee.

12 The [2]Lord shall open unto thee his good treasure, the heaven to give the rain unto thy land in his season, and to bless all the work of thine hand: and thou shalt lend unto many nations, and thou shalt not borrow.

13 And the [2]Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them:

14 And thou [h]shalt not go aside from any of the words which I command thee this day, to the right hand, or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.

15 ¶ [5]But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee:

16 Cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the field.

17 Cursed shall be thy basket and thy store.

18 Cursed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.

19 Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be when thou goest out.

20 The [2]Lord shall send upon thee cursing, [i]vexation, and [6]rebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly; because of the wickedness of thy doings, whereby thou hast forsoken me.

21 The [2]Lord shall make the pestilence cleave unto thee, until he have consumed thee from off the land, whither thou goest to possess it.

22 The [2]Lord shall smite thee with a consumption, and with a fever, and with an inflammation, and with an extreme burning, and with the sword, and with blasting, and with mildew; and they shall pursue thee until thou perish.

23 And thy heaven that is over thy head shall be brass, and the earth that is under thee shall be iron.

24 The [2]Lord shall make the rain of thy land powder and dust: from heaven shall it come down upon thee, until thou be destroyed.

25 The [2]Lord shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies: thou shalt go out one

Ch. 28. B. C. 1451.

1. Vs. 1-14 treat of blessings promised to obedient.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Thus at the beginning of the address, at the middle, and at the close, Moses lays down the conditions on which these blessings will be bestowed.

4. Dough of kneading-trough.

5. Vs. 15-68 detail the curses propounded for disobedience.

6. Condemnation implying God's curse upon all their efforts.

g. He doth execute the judgment of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment. (Dt. 10:18.)

h. The nakedness of thy father's wife shalt thou not uncover; it is thy father's nakedness. (Lev. 18:8.) It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife. (I Cor. 5:1.)

i. And he that killeth any man shall surely be put to death. (Lev. 24:17.) Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death; but he shall be surely put to death. (Num. 35:31.)

j. And say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel: Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant. (Jer. 11:3.) For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse; for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. (Gal. 3:10.)

Chapter 28.

a. Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people. (Prov. 14:34.) But glory, honor, and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile. (Rom. 2:10.)

b. Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord: that walketh in his ways (1). Behold, that thus shall a man be blessed that feareth the Lord (4). The Lord shall bless thee out of Zion. And thou shalt see the good of Jerusalem all the days of thy life. (Ps. 128:1, 4, 5.)

c. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore. (Ps. 121:8.)

d. Thou shalt surely give him, and thine heart shall not be grieved when thou givest unto him; because that for this thing the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy works, and in all that thou puttest thine hand unto. (Dt. 15:10.) Let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us; and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it. (Ps. 90:17.)

e. Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people; for all the earth is mine. And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel. (Ex. 19:5, 6.) We are thine; thou never bearest rule over them; they were not called by thy name. (Is. 63:19.)

f. If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land. (II Chr. 7:14.)

g. The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it. (Prov. 10:22.) For bodily exercise profiteth little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. (I Tim. 4:8.)

h. Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law which Moses my servant commanded thee; turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whither soever thou goest. (Josh. 1:7.)

i. The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked; but he blesseth the habitation of the just. (Prov. 3:33.) If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the Lord of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings; yea, I have cursed them already because ye do not lay it to heart. (Mal. 2:2.)

way against them, and flee seven ways before them: and shalt be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

26 And thy carcase shall be meat unto all fowls of the air, and unto the beasts of the earth, and no man shall fray them away.

27 The [2]Lord will smite thee with the botch of E'gypt, and with the emerods, and with the scab, and with the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed.

28 The [2]Lord shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart:

29 And thou shalt grope at noonday as the blind gropeth in darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways: and thou shalt be only oppressed and spoiled evermore, and no man shall save thee.

30 Thou shalt betroth a wife, and another man shall lie with her: thou shalt build an house, and thou shalt not dwell therein: thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not gather the grapes thereof.

31 Thine ox shall be slain before thine eyes, and thou shalt not eat thereof: thine ass shall be violently taken away from before thy face, and shall not be restored to thee: thy sheep shall be given unto thine enemies, and thou shalt have none to rescue them.

32 Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given unto another people, and thine eyes shall look, and fail with longing for them all the day long: and there shall be no might in thine hand.

33 The fruit of thy land, and all thy labours, shall a nation which thou knowest not eat up; and thou shalt be only oppressed and crushed alway:

34 So that thou shalt be mad for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

35 The [2]Lord shall [7]smite thee in the knees, and in the legs, with a sore botch that cannot be healed, from the sole of thy foot unto the top of thy head.

36 The Lord shall bring thee, and thy king which thou shalt set over thee, unto a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers have known; and there shalt thou serve other gods, wood and stone.

37 And thou shalt become [j]an astonishment, a proverb, and a byword, among all nations whither the Lord shall lead thee.

38 Thou [k]shalt carry much seed out into the field, and shalt gather but little in; for the locust shall consume it.

39 Thou shalt plant vineyards, and dress them, but shalt neither drink of the wine, nor gather the grapes; for the worms shall eat them.

40 Thou shalt have olive trees throughout all thy coasts, but thou shalt not anoint thyself with the oil; for thine olive shall cast his fruit.

41 Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, but thou shalt not enjoy them; for they shall go into captivity.

42 All thy trees and fruit of thy land shall the locust consume.

43 The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low.

44 He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

45 [8]Moreover all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; because thou hearkenedst not unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which he commanded thee:

46 And they shall be upon thee for a sign and for a wonder, and upon thy seed for ever.

47 Because thou servedst not the Lord thy God with joyfulness, and with gladness of heart, for the abundance of all things;

48 Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the Lord shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee.

49 The Lord shall bring [9]a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, as [l]swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand;

50 A nation of fierce countenance, which shall not regard the person of the old, nor shew favour to the young:

51 And he shall eat the fruit of thy cattle, and the fruit of thy land, until thou be destroyed: which also shall not leave thee either corn, wine, or oil, or the increase of thy kine, or flocks of thy sheep, until he have destroyed thee.

52 And he shall besiege thee in all thy gates, until thy high and fenced walls come down, wherein thou trustedst, throughout all thy land: and he shall besiege thee in all thy gates throughout all thy land, which the Lord thy God hath given thee.

53 And thou [m]shalt eat the fruit of thine own body, the flesh of thy sons and of thy daughters, which the Lord thy God hath given thee, in the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee:

54 So that the man that is tender among you, and very delicate, his eye shall be evil toward his brother, and toward the wife of his bosom, and toward the remnant of his children which he shall leave:

55 So that he will not give to any of them of the flesh of his children whom he shall eat: because he hath nothing left him in the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee in all thy gates.

56 The tender and delicate woman among you, which would not adventure to set the sole of her foot upon the ground for delicateness and tenderness, her eye shall be evil toward the husband of her bosom, and toward her son, and toward her daughter,

57 And toward her young one that cometh out from between her feet, and toward her children which she shall bear: for she shall eat them for want of all things secretly in the siege and straitness, wherewith thine enemy shall distress thee in thy gates.

58 If thou wilt not observe to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that thou mayest fear this glorious and fearful [n]name, THE [2]LORD THY GOD;

59 Then the [2]Lord will make thy plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even

7. That is, leprosy. Leprosy is a type of sin, we are therefore to understand that the nation would be cut off from communion with Jehovah, as with leprosy it would be unclean.

8. The curses of v. 15 are here repeated like a sad refrain.

9. Compare this statement with the account of Josephus, Jewish War, book 7, ch. 2. Also see II Kings 6:28.

j. And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. (Jer. 24:9.) And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing; fear not, but let your hands be strong. (Zech. 8:13.)

k. Thou shalt sow, but thou shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil; and sweet wine, but shalt not drink wine. (Micah. 6:15.) Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. (Hag. 1:6.)

l. For thus saith the Lord; Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Moab. (Jer. 48:40.) Our persecutors are swifter than the eagles of the heaven, they pursued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness. (Lam. 4:19.) He shall come as an eagle against the house of the Lord; because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law. (Hos. 8:1.)

m. And the king said unto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, This woman said unto me, Give thy son, that we may eat him today, and we will eat my son tomorrow. So we boiled my son, and did eat him; and I said unto her on the next day, Give thy son, that we may eat him; and she hath hid her son. (II Ks. 6:28, 29.) And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons, and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend, in the siege and straitness wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them. (Jer. 19:9.) The hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children, they were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people. (Lam. 4:10.)

n. I am the Lord; that is my name; and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images. (Is. 42:8.)

great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance.

60 Moreover he will bring upon thee all the diseases of Ē'gўpt, which thou wast afraid of; and they shall cleave unto thee.

61 Also every sickness, and every plague, which is not written in the book of this law, them will the Lord bring upon thee, until thou be destroyed.

62 And ye shall be left few in number, whereas ye were as the stars of heaven for multitude; because thou wouldest not obey the voice of the [2]Lord thy God.

63 And it shall come to pass, that as the [2]Lord rejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you; so the [2]Lord [o]will rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to nought; and ye shall be plucked from off the land whither thou goest to possess it.

64 And the [2]Lord shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other; and there thou shalt serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, even wood and stone.

65 And among these nations shalt thou find no ease, neither shall the sole of thy foot have rest: but the [2]Lord shall give thee there a trembling heart, and failing of eyes, and sorrow of mind:

66 And thy life shall hang in doubt before thee; and thou shalt fear day and night, and shalt have none assurance of thy life:

67 In the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were even! and at even thou shalt say, Would God it were morning! for the fear of thine heart wherewith thou shalt fear, and for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

68 And the [2]Lord shall bring thee into Ē'gўpt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

CHAPTER 29.

1 Moses exhorteth them to obedience, by the memory of the works they have seen. 10 All are presented before the Lord to enter into his covenant. 29 Secret things belong unto God.

1 These are the words of the covenant, which the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş to make with the children of Ĭs'ra-el in the land of Mō'ab, beside the covenant which he made with them in [2]Hō'reb.

2 ¶ And Mō'şeş called unto all Ĭs'ra-el, and said unto them, Ye have seen all that the [1]Lord did before your eyes in the land of Ē'gўpt unto Phā'raōh, and unto all his servants, and unto all his land;

3 The great temptations which thine eyes have seen, the signs, and those great miracles:

4 Yet the [1]Lord hath not given you an heart to perceive, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, unto this day.

5 And I have [a]led you forty years in the wilderness: your clothes are not waxen old upon you, and thy shoe is not waxen old upon thy foot.

6 Ye have not eaten bread, neither have ye drunk wine or strong drink: that ye might know that I am the [1]Lord your God.

7 And when ye came unto this place, Sī'hŏn the king of Hĕsh'bŏn, and Ōg the king of Bā'shăn, came out against us unto battle, and we smote them:

8 And we took their land, and gave it for an inheritance unto the Reu'ben-ītes, and to the Găd'ītes, and to the half tribe of Manăs'seh.

9 [b]Keep therefore the words of this covenant, and do them, that ye may prosper in all that ye do.

10 ¶ Ye stand this day all of you before the [1]Lord your God; your captains of your tribes, your elders, and your officers, with all the men of Ĭs'ra-el,

11 Your little ones, your wives, and thy stranger that is in thy camp, from the hewer of thy wood unto the drawer of thy water:

12 That thou shouldest enter into covenant with the [1]Lord thy God, and into his oath, which the [1]Lord thy God maketh with thee this day:

13 That he may [c]establish thee to day for a people unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath said unto thee, and as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to Ā'brā-hăm, to Ī'şaac, and to Jā'cob.

14 [3]Neither with you only do I make [d]this covenant and this oath;

15 But with him that standeth here with us this day before the [1]Lord our God, and also with him that is not here with us this day:

16 (For ye know how we have dwelt in the land of Ē'gўpt; and how we came through the nations which ye passed by;

17 And ye have seen their abominations, and their idols, wood and stone, silver and gold, which were among them:)

18 Lest there should be among you man, or woman, or family, or tribe, whose heart turneth away this day from the [1]Lord our God, to go and serve the gods of these nations; lest there should be among you a root that beareth gall and wormwood;

19 And it come to pass, when he heareth the words of this curse, that he bless himself in his heart, saying, [e]I shall have peace, though I walk in the imagination of mine heart, to add [f]drunkenness to thirst:

20 The [1]Lord will not spare him, but then the [g]anger of the [1]Lord and his [h]jealousy shall smoke against that man, and all the curses that are written in this book shall lie upon him, and the [1]Lord shall blot out his name from under heaven.

21 And the Lord shall separate him unto evil out of all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el, according to all the curses of the covenant that are written in this book of the law:

22 So that the generation to come of your children that shall rise up after you, and the stranger that shall come from a far land, shall say, when they see the plagues of that land, and the sicknesses which the Lord hath laid upon it;

23 And that the whole land thereof is brim-

Ch. 29. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—In chs. 29, 30 the covenant which Jehovah commanded Moses to make with the people is repeated, just as they are about to enter the promised land.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The mountain system of which Sinai was the summit.

3. In vs. 14, 15, Moses tells the people that the covenant Jehovah made with them is not to them only, but to their children also. "For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all them that are afar off." Acts 2:39.

o. I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh. (Prov. 1:26.) Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies. (Is. 1:24.)

Chapter 29.

a. And thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee these forty years in the wilderness, to humble thee, and to prove thee, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldst keep his commandments, or no. (Dt. 8:2.)

b. Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law which Moses my servant commanded thee; turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:7.)

c. And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee. (Gen. 17:6, 7.)

d. For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second. For, finding fault with them, he saith, Behold the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah. (Heb. 8:7, 8.)

e. The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt; they have done abominable works; there is none that doeth good. (Ps. 14:1.)

f. Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin. (Is. 30:1.)

g. O God, why hast thou cast us off for ever? why doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture? (Ps. 74:1.) And the anger of the Lord was kindled against them; and he departed. (Num. 12:9.) And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon. (Jud. 10:7.)

h. For thou shalt worship no other gods; for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God. (Ex. 34:14.) How long, Lord? wilt thou be angry for ever? shall thy jealousy burn like fire? (Ps. 79:5.)

stone, and salt, and burning, that it is not sown, nor beareth, nor any grass groweth therein, like the overthrow of Sŏd'om, and Gomŏr'rah, Ăd'mah, and Zē-bō'im, which the [1]Lord overthrew in [g]his anger, and in his wrath:

24 Even all nations shall say, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus unto this land? what meaneth the heat of this great anger?

25 Then men shall say, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the [1]Lord God of their fathers, which he made with them when he brought them forth out of the land of E'gўpt:

26 For they went and served other gods, and worshipped them, gods whom they knew not, and whom he had not given unto them:

27 And the [g]anger of the Lord was kindled against this land, to bring upon it all the [i]curses that are written in this book:

28 And the Lord [j]rooted them out of their land in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation, and cast them into another land, as it is this day.

29 The secret-[4]things belong unto the Lord our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of [k]this law.

CHAPTER 30.

1 Great mercies promised unto the repentant. 11 The commandment is manifest. 15 Death and life are set before them.

1 And it shall come to pass, when all [2]these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, and [a]thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations, whither the [1]Lord thy God hath driven thee,

2 And shalt [b]return unto the [1]Lord thy God, and shalt obey his voice according to all that I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul;

3 That then the [1]Lord thy God will turn [c]thy captivity, and have compassion upon thee, and will return and gather thee from all the nations, whither the [1]Lord thy God hath scattered thee.

4 If [d]any of thine be driven out unto the outmost parts of heaven, from thence will the [1]Lord thy God gather thee, and from thence will he fetch thee:

5 And the [1]Lord thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possess it; and he will do thee good, and multiply thee above thy fathers.

6 And the [1]Lord thy God will circumcise [e]thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the [1]Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live.

7 And the [1]Lord thy God will put all these curses upon thine enemies, and on them that hate thee, which persecuted thee.

8 And thou shalt return and obey the voice of the [1]Lord, and do all his commandments which I command thee this day.

9 And the [1]Lord thy God will make thee plenteous in every work of thine hand, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy land, for good: for the Lord will again rejoice over thee for good, as he rejoiced over thy fathers:

10 If thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the [1]Lord thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which are written in this book of the law, and if thou turn unto the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul.

11 ¶ For this commandment which I command thee this day, it is not hidden [3]from thee, neither is it far off.

12 It is [f]not in heaven, that thou shouldest say, Who shall go up for us to heaven, and bring it unto us, that we may hear it, and do it?

13 Neither is it beyond the sea, that thou shouldest say, Who shall go over the sea for us, and bring it unto us, that we may hear it, and do it?

14 But the word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart, that thou mayest do it.

15 ¶ See, I have set [g]before thee this day life and good, and death and evil;

16 In that I command thee this day to [h]love the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, and to keep [i]his commandments and his statutes and his judgments, that thou mayest live and multiply: and the Lord thy God shall bless thee in the land whither thou goest to possess it.

17 But if thine heart turn away, so that thou wilt not hear, but shalt be drawn away, and worship other gods, and serve them;

18 [j]I denounce unto you this day, that ye shall surely perish, and that ye shall not prolong your days upon the land, whither thou passest over Jor'dan to go to possess it.

19 I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live:

20 That thou mayest love the [h]Lord thy God, and that thou mayest obey [i]his voice, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for he is thy life, and the length of thy days: that thou mayest dwell in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Ā'brā-hăm, to Ī'ṣaac, and to Jā'cob, to give them.

4. The day and hour no man knows. The time belongs unto Jehovah.

Ch. 30. B. C. 1451.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The future concerning which he has spoken.

3. That is, Jehovah does not require impossible things of his people. Jehovah asks nothing for himself, but all he asks is along the line of man's religious duty.

i. Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even by departing, that they might not obey thy voice; therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him. (Dan. 9:11.)

j. God shall likewise destroy thee for ever; he shall take thee away, and pluck thee out of thy dwelling place, and root thee out of the land of the living. (Ps. 52:5.) But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it. (Prov. 2:22.)

k. The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul; the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. (Ps. 19:7.) Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. (Lu. 16:29.) All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness. (II Tim. 3:16.)

Chapter 30.

a. Yet if they shall bethink themselves in the land whither they were carried captives, and repent, and make supplication unto thee in the land of them that carried them captives, saying, We have sinned, and have done perversely, we have committed wickedness (47). And so return unto thee with all their heart, with all their soul, in the land of their enemies which led them away captive, and pray unto thee toward their land which thou gavest unto their fathers, the city which thou hast chosen, and the house which I have built for thy name. (I Ki. 8:47, 48.)

b. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. (Is. 55:7.) Therefore also now, saith the Lord, Turn ye even to me, with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning. (Joel 2:12.)

c. And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the Lord. And I will bring you again into the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive. (Jer. 29:14.) Turn again our captivity, O Lord, as the streams in the south. (Ps. 126:4.)

d. But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them, though there were of you cast out unto the uttermost part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have chosen to set my name there. (Neh. 1:9.)

e. Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and be no more stiffnecked. (Dt. 10:16.) And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh. (Ezek. 11:19.)

f. But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is to bring Christ down from above.) (Rom. 10:6.)

g. Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse. (Dt. 11:26.) See v. 1.

h. See a, ch. 11, Dt.

i. See c, ch. 27, Dt.

j. I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon utterly perish from off the land whereunto ye go over Jordan to possess it; ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed. (Dt. 4:26.)

CHAPTER 31.

1 Moses encourageth the people. 14 God giveth a charge to Joshua, 19 and a song to testify against the people. 24 Moses delivereth the book of the law to the Levites to keep.

1 And [1]Mō'şeş went and spake these words unto all Ĭs'ra-el.

2 And he said unto them, I [a]am an hundred and [3]twenty years old this day; I can no more go out and come in: also the [2]Lord hath said unto me, [b]Thou shalt not go over this Jor'dan.

3 The [2]Lord thy God, [c]he will go over before thee, and he will destroy these nations from before thee, and thou shalt possess them: and Jŏsh'u-à, he shall go over before thee, as the [2]Lord hath said.

4 And the [2]Lord shall do unto them as he did to Sī'hŏn and to Ōg, kings of the Ām'orītes, and unto the land of them, whom he destroyed.

5 And the [2]Lord shall give them up before your face, that ye may do unto them according unto all the commandments which I have commanded you.

6 Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the [2]Lord thy God, he [d]it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor [e]forsake thee.

7 ¶ And [1]Mō'şeş called unto [4]Jŏsh'u-à, and said unto him in the sight of all Ĭs'ra-el, Be strong and of a good courage: for thou must go with this people unto the land which the [2]Lord hath sworn unto their fathers to give them; and thou shalt cause them to inherit it.

8 And the [2]Lord, [f]he it is that doth go before thee; he will be with thee, he will not fail thee, neither forsake thee: fear not, neither be dismayed.

9 ¶ And [1]Mō'şeş wrote this law, and delivered it unto the priests the sons of Lē'vī, which bare the ark of the covenant of the [2]Lord, and unto all the elders of Ĭs'ra-el.

10 And [1]Mō'şeş commanded them, saying, At the end of every seven years, in the solemnity of the year of release, in the feast of tabernacles, 11 When all Ĭs'ra-el is come to [g]appear before the [2]Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose, thou shalt read this law before all Ĭs'ra-el in their hearing.

12 Gather the [h]people together, men, and women, and children, and thy stranger that is within thy gates, that they may hear, and that they may learn, and fear the [2]Lord your God, and observe to do all the words of this law:

13 And that their children, which have not known any thing, may hear, and learn to fear the [1]Lord your God, as long as ye live in the land whither ye go over Jor'dan to possess it.

14 ¶ And the [2]Lord [5]said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Behold, thy days approach that thou must die: call [4]Jŏsh'u-à, and present yourselves in the tabernacle of the congregation, that I may give him a charge. And [1]Mō'şeş and [4]Jŏsh'u-à went, and presented themselves in the tabernacle of the congregation.

Ch. 31. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—As a law-giver and interpreter, Moses has finished his work. His next duties are to appoint and install his successor.

1. For historical account of Moses, see 1, ch. 27.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. The life of Moses is divided into three parts of forty years each; (1) He was forty years old when he fled from Egypt into Midian; (2) he was eighty when he appeared before Pharaoh, and commanded him to let the Israelites go; (3) he wandered forty years in the wilderness.

4. For historical account of Joshua, see 2, ch. 17, Ex.

5. Under the directions of Jehovah, Moses and Joshua present themselves in the tabernacle, that Joshua may be installed in his position. Jehovah appears in the pillar of cloud, which stood before the door, and tells Moses that after his death the people will renounce Jehovah and follow after heathen gods.

6. Moses, after delivering the law unto the priests, calls the elders of the tribes and all in official position together and gives them the wonderful ode which is called the song of Moses. It begins with ch. 32.

15 And the [2]Lord appeared in the tabernacle in a pillar of a cloud: and the pillar of the cloud stood over the door of the tabernacle.

16 ¶ And the [2]Lord said unto [1]Mō'şeş, Behold, thou shalt sleep with thy fathers; and this people will rise up, and go a whoring after the gods of the strangers of the land, whither they go to be among them, and will forsake me, and break my covenant which I have made with them.

17 Then my anger shall be kindled against them in that day, and I will forsake them, and I will hide my face from them and they shall be devoured, and many evils and troubles shall [i]befall them; so that they will say in that day, Are not these evils come upon us, because our God is not among us?

18 And I will surely hide my face in that day for all the evils which they shall have wrought, in that they are turned [j]unto other gods.

19 Now therefore write ye this song for you, and teach it the children of Ĭs'ra-el: put it in their mouths, that this song may be a witness for me against the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

20 For when I shall have brought them into the land which I sware unto their fathers, that floweth with milk and honey; and they shall have eaten and filled themselves, and waxen fat; then will they turn unto other gods, and serve them, and provoke me, and break my covenant.

21 And it shall come to pass, when many evils and troubles are befallen them, that this song shall testify against them as a witness; for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouths of their seed: for I know their imagination which they go about, even now, before I have brought them into the land which I sware.

22 ¶ [1]Mō'şeş therefore wrote this song the same day, and taught it the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

23 And he gave [4]Jŏsh'u-à the son of Nŭn a charge, and said, Be strong and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Ĭs'ra-el into the land which I sware unto them: and I will be with thee.

24 ¶ And it came to pass, when [1]Mō'şeş had made an end of writing the words of this law in a book, until they were finished,

25 That [1]Mō'şeş commanded the Lē'vītes, which bare the ark of the covenant of the [2]Lord, saying,

26 Take this book of the law, and put it in the side of the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee.

27 For I know thy rebellion, and thy stiff neck: behold, while I am yet alive with you this day, ye have been rebellious against the Lord; and how much more after my death?

28 ¶ [6]Gather [h]unto me all the elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may speak these words in their ears, and call heaven and earth to record against them.

29 For I know that after my death ye will utterly corrupt yourselves, and turn aside from the way which I have commanded you; and evil will befall you in the latter days; because ye will do evil in the sight of the Lord, to

Chapter 31.

a. And Moses was fourscore years old, and Aaron fourscore and three years old, when they spake unto Pharaoh. (Ex. 7:7.) And Moses was an hundred and twenty years old when he died: his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated. (Dt. 34:7.)

b. And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron, Because ye believed me not, to sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them. (Num. 20:12.)

c. Understand therefore this day, that the Lord thy God is he which goeth over before thee, as a consuming fire he shall destroy them, and he shall bring them down before thy face: so shalt thou drive them out, and destroy them quickly, as the Lord hath said unto thee. (Dt. 9:3.)

d. For the Lord your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to save you. (Dt. 20:4.)

e. Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. (Heb. 13:5.)

f. Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land; and verily thou shalt be fed. (Ps. 37:3.)

g. Three times in a year shall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose; in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles; and they shall not appear before the Lord empty. (Dt. 16:16.)

h. Specially the day that thou stoodest before the Lord thy God in Horeb, when the Lord said unto me, Gather me the people together, and I will make them hear my words, that they may learn to fear me all the days that they shall live upon the earth, and that they may teach their children. (Dt. 4:10.)

i. Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepest covenant and mercy, let not all the trouble seem little before thee, that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and provoke him to anger through the work of your hands.

30 And Mō'ses spake in the ears of all the congregation of Is'ra-el the words of this song, until they were ended.

CHAPTER 32.

1 Moses' song, which setteth forth God's mercy and vengeance. 46 He exhorteth them to set their hearts upon it. 48 God sendeth him up to mount Nebo, to see the land, and die.

1 Give ear, O ye heavens, and I will speak; and hear, O earth, the words of my mouth.

2 My doctrine shall drop as the rain, my speech shall distil as the dew, as the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the showers upon the grass:

3 Because I will [1]publish the name of the [2]Lord: ascribe ye greatness unto our God.

4 He is the Rock, [c]his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a [b]God of truth and without [c]iniquity, just and right is he.

5 They have corrupted themselves, their spot is not the spot of his children: they are a perverse and crooked generation.

6 Do ye thus [d]requite the [2]Lord, O foolish people and unwise? is not he thy father that hath bought thee? hath he not made thee, and established thee?

7 ¶ Remember the days of old, consider the years of many generations: ask thy father, and he will shew thee; thy elders, and they will tell thee.

8 When the most High divided to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sons of Ād'ăm, he set the bounds of the people according to the number of the children of Is'ra-el.

9 For the [2]Lord's portion is his people; Jā'cob is the lot of his inheritance.

10 [3]He found him in a desert land, and in the waste howling wilderness; he led him about, he instructed him, he kept him as the apple [c]of his eye.

11 As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings:

12 So the [2]Lord alone did lead him, and there was no strange god with him.

13 He made him ride on the high places of the earth, that he might eat the increase of the fields; and he made him to suck honey out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock;

14 Butter of kine, and milk of sheep, with fat of lambs, and rams of the breed of Bā'shăn, and goats, with the fat of kidneys of wheat; and thou didst drink the pure blood of the grape.

15 ¶ But Jĕsh'u-rŭn waxed fat, and kicked: thou art waxen fat, thou art grown thick, thou art covered with fatness; then he forsook God which made him, and lightly esteemed the Rock of his salvation.

16 They provoked him to [f]jealousy with strange gods, with abominations provoked they him to [g]anger.

17 They sacrificed unto devils, not to God; to gods whom they knew not, to new gods that came newly up, whom your fathers feared not.

18 Of the Rock that begat thee thou art unmindful, and hast forgotten God that formed thee.

19 And when the [2]Lord saw it, he abhorred them, because of the provoking of his sons, and of his daughters.

20 And he said, I will hide my face from them, I will see what their end shall be: for they are a very froward generation, children in whom is no faith.

21 They have moved me to [f]jealousy with that which is not God; they have provoked me to anger with their vanities: and I will move them to jealousy with those which are not a people; I will provoke them to [g]anger with a foolish nation.

22 For a fire is kindled in mine anger, and shall burn unto the lowest hell, and shall consume the earth with her increase, and set on fire the foundations of the mountains.

23 I will heap mischiefs upon them; I will spend mine arrows upon them.

24 They shall be burnt with hunger, and devoured with burning heat, and with bitter destruction: I will also send the teeth of beasts upon them, with the poison of serpents of the dust.

25 The sword without, and terror within, shall destroy both the young man and the virgin, the suckling also with the man of gray hairs.

26 I said, I would scatter them into corners, I would make the remembrance of them to cease from among men:

27 Were it not that I feared the wrath of the enemy, lest their adversaries should behave themselves strangely, and lest they should say, Our hand is high, and the Lord hath not done all this.

28 For they are a nation void of counsel, neither is there any understanding in them.

29 O that they were wise, that they understood this, that they would consider their latter end!

30 How should [h]one chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight, except their Rock had sold them, and the Lord had shut them up?

31 For their rock is not as our Rock, even our enemies themselves being judges.

32 For their vine is of the vine of Sŏd'om, and of the fields of Go-mŏr'rah: their grapes are grapes of gall, their clusters are bitter:

33 [4]Their wine is the poison of dragons, and the cruel venom of asps.

34 Is not this laid up in store with me, and sealed up among my treasures?

35 To me belongeth [i]vengeance, and recompence; their foot shall slide in due time: for the day of their calamity is at hand, and the things that shall come upon them make haste.

Ch. 32. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—"This song is a compendious outline or draft of and also the common key to all prophecy and bears the same fundamental relation to it as the decalogue to all other laws, and the Lord's Prayer to all other prayers. The law-giver summed up the whole prophetic contents of chs. 27-30, and threw them into the form of a song that they might be perpetuated in the memories and mouths of the people. This song sets before the nation, its entire history to the end of time; and is divided into four periods, namely: (1) The creation and rise of Israel. (2) The ingratitude and apostasy of Israel. (3) The consequent surrender of Israel to the power of the heathen. (4) The restoration of Israel sifted but not destroyed, and the unanimity of all nations in the praise of Jehovah, who reveals himself, both in judgment and in mercy." (Delitzsch.)

1. That is, proclaim.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Vs. 10-14 are a poetical description of Israel's deliverance from Egyptian bondage through the care and guidance of Jehovah.

4. A figure employed to suggest that the nation will become corrupt and deserve to perish as the Sodomites.

on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, since the time of the kings of Assyria unto this day. (Neh. 9:32.)

Chapter 32.

a. As for God, his way is perfect; the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all them that trust in him. (II Sam. 22:31.) The word of the Lord are pure words: as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times. (Ps. 12:6.) I neither learned wisdom, nor have the knowledge of the holy. (Prov. 30:3.)

b. But the Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation. (Jer. 10:10.)

c. Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding; Far be it from God, that he should do wickedness; and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity. (Job. 34:10.) To show that the Lord is upright, he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him. (Ps. 92:15.)

d. What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me? (Ps. 116:12.)

e. Keep me as the apple of the eye; hide me under the shadow of thy wings. (Ps. 17:8.) Keep my commandments, and live; and my law as the apple of thine eye. (Prov. 7:2.) For thus saith the Lord of hosts; After the glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye. (Zech. 2:8.)

f. For thou shalt worship no other god; for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God. (Ex. 34:14.) For the Lord thy God is a consuming fire, even a jealous God. (Dt. 4:24.) For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images. (Ps. 78:58.) See v. 21.

g. And the anger of the Lord was kindled against them; and he departed. (Num. 12:9.) And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel. (Jud. 10:7.) God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day. (Ps. 7:11.) For, behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. (Is. 66:15.)

h. One man of you shall chase a thousand; for the Lord your God, he it is that fighteth for you, as he hath promised you. (Josh. 23:10.)

i. O Lord God, to whom vengeance belongeth; O God, to whom vengeance belongeth, show thyself. (Ps. 94:1.) For it is the day of the Lord's vengeance, and the year of recompences for the controversy of Zion. (Is. 34:8.) God is jealous, and the Lord revengeth; the Lord revengeth, and is furious; the Lord will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies. (Nah. 1:2.) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. (Heb. 10:30.)

36 For the Lord shall judge his people, [j]and repent himself for his servants, when he seeth that their power is gone, and there is none shut up, or left.

37 And he shall say, Where are their gods, their rock in whom they trusted, 38 Which did eat the fat of their sacrifices, and drank the wine of their drink offerings? let them rise up and help you, and be your protection.

39 See now that I, even I, am he, and there is no god with me: I kill, and I make alive; I wound, and I heal: neither is there any that can deliver out of my hand.

40 For I lift up my hand to heaven, and say, I live for ever.

41 If I whet my glittering sword, and mine hand take hold on judgment; I will [k]render vengeance to mine enemies, and will reward them that hate me.

42 I will make mine arrows drunk with blood, and my sword shall devour flesh; and that with the blood of the slain and of the captives, from the beginning of revenges upon the enemy.

43 Rejoice, O ye nations, with his people: for he will [k]avenge the blood of his servants, and will render vengeance to his adversaries, and will be merciful unto his land, and to his people.

44 ¶ And Mō'şeş came and spake all the words of this song in the ears of the people, he, and Ho-shē'ā the son of Nŭn.

45 And Mō'şeş made an end of speaking all these words to all Ĭs'ra-el:

46 And he said unto them, Set your hearts unto all the words which I testify among you this day, which ye shall command your children to observe to do, all the words of this law.

47 For it is not a vain thing for you; because it is your life: and through this thing ye shall prolong your days in the land, whither ye go over Jor'dan to possess it.

48 And the Lord spake unto Mō'şeş that selfsame day, saying,

49 Get thee up into this mountain Āb'ă-rim, unto mount Nē'bo, which is in the land of Mō'ab, that is over against Jĕr'ĭ-chō; and behold the land of Cā'năan, which I give unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el for a possession:

50 And die in the mount whither thou goest up, and be gathered unto thy people; as Aär'on thy brother died in mount Hor, and was gathered unto his people:

51 Because ye trespassed against me among the children of Ĭs'ra-el at the waters of Mĕr'ĭ-bah-Kā'desh, in the wilderness of Zĭn; because ye sanctified me not in the midst of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

52 Yet thou shalt see the land before thee; but thou shalt not go thither unto the land which I give the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

CHAPTER 33.

1 The majesty of God. 6 The blessings of the twelve tribes. 26 The excellency of Israel.

1 And this is the blessing, wherewith [1]Mō'şeş the man of God blessed the children of Ĭs'ra-el before his death.

Ch. 33. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—The work of Moses is rapidly drawing to a close—he has heard the command of Jehovah, "Get thee up into this mountain and die there." But just before he leaves his people forever, he gives them the blessing of this ch.

1. For historical account of Moses, see 1, ch. 27.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. The signal manifestation of Jehovah at the beginning of the law.

4. Vs. 6-25 detail the blessings upon the tribes.

2 And he said, The [2]Lord came from [3]Sī'nāi, and rose up from Sē'ĭr unto them; he shined forth from mount Pā'ran, and he came with ten thousands of saints: from his right hand went [a]a fiery law for them.

3 Yea, he [b]loved the people; all the [c]saints are in thy hand: and they sat down at thy feet; every one shall receive of thy words.

4 Mō'şeş commanded us a law, even the inheritance of the congregation of Jā'cob.

5 And he was king in Jĕsh'u-rŭn, when the heads of the people and the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el were gathered together.

6 [4]¶ Let Reu'ben live, and not die; and let not his men be few.

7 ¶ And this is the blessing of Jū'dah: and he said, Hear, Lord, the voice of Jū'dah, and bring him unto his people: let his hands be sufficient for him; and be thou an help to him from his enemies.

8 ¶ And of Lē'vī he said, Let thy Thŭm'mim and thy Ū'rim be with thy holy one, whom thou didst prove at Măs'sah, and with whom thou didst strive at the waters of Mĕr'ĭ-bah;

9 Who said unto his father and to his mother, I have not seen him; neither did he acknowledge his brethren, nor knew his own children: for they have observed thy word, and kept thy covenant.

10 They shall teach Jā'cob thy judgments, and Ĭs'ra-el thy law: they shall put incense before thee, and whole burnt sacrifice upon thine altar.

11 Bless, [2]Lord, his substance, and accept the work of his hands: smite through the loins of them that rise against him, and of them that hate him, that they rise not again.

12 ¶ And of Bĕn'ja-min he said, The beloved of the Lord shall dwell in safety by him; and the Lord shall cover him all the day long, and he shall dwell between his shoulders.

13 ¶ And of Jō'şeph he said, Blessed [d]of the Lord be his land, for the precious things of heaven, for the dew, and for the deep that coucheth beneath,

14 And for the precious fruits brought forth by the sun, and for the precious things put forth by the moon,

15 And for the chief things of the ancient mountains, and for the precious things of the lasting hills,

16 And for the precious things of the earth and fulness thereof, and for the good will [e]of him that dwelt in the bush: let the blessing come upon the head of Jō'şeph, and upon the top of the head of him that was separated from his brethren.

17 His glory is like the firstling of his bullock, and his horns are like the horns of unicorns: with them he shall push the people together to the ends of the earth: and they are the ten thousands of Ē'phrā-ĭm, and these are the thousands of Ma-năs'seh.

18 ¶ And of Zĕb'u-lun he said, Rejoice, Zĕb'u-lun, in thy going out; and, Ĭs'sa-char, in thy tents.

19 They shall [f]call the people unto the mountains; there they shall offer sacrifices of righteousness: for they shall suck of the abun-

j. And the Lord said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them. (Gen. 6:7.) And the Lord repented of the evil which he thought to do unto his people. (Ex. 32:14.) And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. (Ps. 106:45.)

k. How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them, that dwell on the earth? (Rev. 6:10.)

Chapter 33.

a. A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened. (Dan. 7:10.) Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it. (Acts 7:53.)

b. When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt. (Hos. 11:1.)

c. He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail. (I Sam. 2:9.) Gather my saints together unto me; those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice. (Ps. 50:5.)

d. Even by the God of thy father, who shall help thee; and by the Almighty, who shall bless thee with blessings of heaven above, blessings of the deep that lieth under, blessings of the breasts, and of the womb. (Gen. 49:25.)

e. And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed (2). And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, Here am I. (Ex. 3:2, 4.)

f. And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths; for out of Zion dance of the seas, and of treasures hid in the sand.

20 ¶ And of Găd he said, Blessed be he that enlargeth Găd: he dwelleth as a lion, and teareth the arm with the crown of the head.

21 And he provided the first part for himself, because there, in a portion of the lawgiver, was he seated; and he came with the heads of the people, he executed the justice of the Lord, and his judgments with Ĭs'ra-el.

22 ¶ And of Dăn he said, Dăn is a lion's whelp: he shall leap from Bā'shăn.

23 ¶ And of Năph'ta-lī he said, O Năph-ta-lī, satisfied with favour, and full with the blessing of the Lord: possess thou the west and the south.

24 ¶ And of Ăsh'ĕr he said, Let Ăsh'ĕr be blessed with children; let him be acceptable to his brethren, and let him dip his foot in oil.

25 Thy shoes shall be iron and brass; and as thy days, so shall thy strength be.

26 ¶ There is none like unto the God of Jĕsh'u-rŭn, [g]who rideth upon the heaven in thy help, and in his excellency on the sky.

27 The eternal God is thy [h]refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms: and he shall thrust out the enemy from before thee; and shall say, Destroy them.

28 Ĭs'ra-el then shall dwell in safety alone: the fountain of Jā'cob shall be upon a land of corn and wine; also his heavens shall drop down dew.

29 Happy art thou, O Ĭs'ra-el: who is like unto thee, O people saved by the Lord, the shield of thy help, and who is the sword of thy excellency! and thine enemies shall be found liars unto thee; and thou shalt tread upon their high places.

CHAPTER 34.

1 Moses from mount Nebo vieweth the land. 5 He dieth there. 6 His burial. 7 His age. 8 Thirty days' mourning for him. 9 Joshua succeedeth him. 10 The praise of Moses.

1 And [1]Mō'şeş went up from the plains of Mō'ab unto the mountain of Nē'bo, to the top of Pĭş'gah, that is over against Jĕr'ĭ-chō. And the [2]Lord shewed him all the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, unto Dăn,

2 And all Năph'ta-lī, and the land of Ē'phră-ĭm, and Ma-năs'seh, and all the land of Jū'dah, unto the utmost sea,

3 And the south, and the plain of the valley of Jĕr'ĭ-chō, the city of palm trees, unto Zō'ar.

4 And the [2]Lord said unto him, [a]This is the land which I sware unto Ā'bră-hăm, unto Ĭ'şaac, and unto Jā'cob, saying, I will give it unto thy seed: I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not go over thither.

5 ¶ So [1]Mō'şeş the [b]servant of the Lord died there in the land of Mō'ab, according to the word of the Lord.

6 And he buried him in a valley in the land of Mō'ab, over against Bĕth-pē'or: but no [c]man knoweth of his sepulchre unto this day.

7 ¶ And [1]Mō'şeş was an hundred and twenty years old when he died: his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated.

8 ¶ And the children of Ĭs'ra-el wept for [1]Mō'şeş in the plains of Mō'ab thirty days: so the days of weeping and mourning for Mō'şeş were ended.

9 ¶ And Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nŭn was full of the [d]spirit of wisdom; for Mō'şeş had laid his hands upon him: and the children of Ĭs'ra-el hearkened unto him, and did as the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

10 ¶ And there [3]arose not a prophet since in Ĭs'ra-el like unto Mō'şeş, whom the [2]Lord knew face to face,

11 In all the signs and the wonders, which the [2]Lord sent him to do in the land of Ē'ġўpt to Phā'raōh, and to all his servants, and to all his land, 12 And in all that mighty hand, and in all the great terror which [1]Mō'şeş shewed in the sight of all Ĭs'ra-el.

NOTE.—Ch. 34 is the work of another author and has been attached for the purpose of giving a closing account of the life and death of Moses.

1. For historical account of Moses, see 1, ch. 27.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. At the time of this writing, no prophet had arisen like unto Moses who wrought such mighty miracles, who knew Jehovah face to face; but in the fullness of time Jesus of Nazareth came, who, like Moses, was "Mighty in deed and word, before God and all the people." (Luke 24: 19.) Yet not like Moses, faithful in the house of God as a servant, but as a son. (Heb. 3:5, 6.) (W.)

Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters: who maketh the clouds his chariot; who walketh upon the wings of the wind. (Ps. 104:3.) Was the Lord displeased against the rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride upon thine horses and thy chariots of salvation? (Hab. 3:8.)

h. Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. (Ps. 90:1.) The God of my rock; in him will I trust; he is my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my saviour; thou savest me from violence. (II Sam. 22:3.) The Lord also will be a refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble. (Ps. 9:9.) But I will sing of thy power; yea, I will sing aloud thy mercy in the morning; for thou hast been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble. (Ps. 59:16.)

Chapter 34.

a. Every place whereon the soles of your feet shall tread shall be yours; from the wilderness and Lebanon, from the river, the river Euphrates, even unto the uttermost sea, shall your coast be. (Dt. 11:24.)

b. See Joshua 1:1, 2.

c. Yet Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil, he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee. (Jude 9.)

d. And the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord. (Is. 11:2.) Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm. (Dan. 6:3.) Thou gavest also thy good spirit to instruct them, and withheldest not thy manner from their mouth, and gavest them water for their thirst. (Neh. 9:20.) And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake. (Acts 6:10.)

THE BOOK OF JOSHUA

NOTE.—Joshua, the sixth book of the Bible, was named after him who occupies so important a place in the series of events narrated therein. It must have been written about the time of Joshua, because Rahab was still alive when it was written (ch. 6:25). It is considered as highly probable that Joshua himself was the author of the book up to v. 28 of the last ch., when a friendly hand subjoined a few verses to record the death and burial of Joshua, the author of the main portion. The authority for the Book of Joshua is proven mainly by the great number of allusions made to it in other portions of the Bible. See I Ks. 16:34; Ps. 68:12-14. 78:54, 55; 114:3-5; Heb. 13:5; and other references. While the Book of Joshua is written as a semi-history, it was written not to preserve great historical facts as history, nor to furnish an exhaustive record of the times and people—the purpose was to show the hand of God in the affairs of men, i. e., God in history. Josh. is properly divided into three parts: (1) The first 12 chs. record the history of Israel from the point where Dt. left it at the death of Moses through the conquest of western Palestine, (2) the next 9 chs. (12-21) detail the division of the land among the tribes, (3) the next 3 chs. (22-24) form an appendix, giving Joshua's speech to Reuben, Gad and the half-tribe Manasseh and an account of the last days of Joshua, his death, burial of Joseph's body, and death of Eleazar, son of Aaron.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The Lord appointeth Joshua to succeed Mō'şeş. 5, 9 God promiseth to assist Joshua. 8 He giveth him instructions. 10 He prepareth the people to pass over Jordan.

1 [1]Now [2]after the death of [4]Mō'şeş the servant of the [3]Lord it came to pass, that the [3]Lord [5]spake unto [6]Jŏsh'u-â the son of Nūn, Mō'şeş' minister, [a]saying,

2 [4]Mō'şeş [b]my servant is dead; now therefore arise, go over this [7]Jor'dan, thou, and all this people, unto the land which I do give to them, even to the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

3 Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Mō'şeş.

4 From the [c]wilderness and this [8]Lĕb'a-non even unto the great river, the river [9]Eū-phrā'-tēş, all the land of the Hĭt'tītes, and unto the [10]great sea toward the going down of the sun, shall be your coast.

5 There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life: as I [d]was with [4]Mō'şeş, so I will be with thee: I will [e]not fail thee, nor forsake thee.

6 Be strong and of a good courage: for unto this people shalt thou divide for an inheritance the land, which I sware unto their fathers to give them.

7 Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the [11]law, which [4]Mō'şeş my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest [12]prosper whithersoever thou goest.

8 This [f]book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate [g]therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for [h]then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt [13]have good success.

9 Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not [i]afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the [3]Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.

10 ¶ [14]Then [6]Jŏsh'u-â commanded the officers of the people, saying,

11 Pass through the host, and command the people, saying, [15]Prepare you victuals; for within three days ye shall pass over this [7]Jor'dan, to go in to possess the land, which the [3]Lord your God giveth you to possess it.

12 ¶ And to the Reu'ben-ītes, and to the Găd'ītes, and to half the tribe of Ma-năs'seh, spake [6]Jŏsh'u-â, saying, 13 Remember the word which [4]Mō'şeş the servant of the [3]Lord commanded you, saying, The [3]Lord your God hath given you rest, and hath given you this land.

14 Your wives, your little ones, and your cattle, shall remain in the land which [4]Mō'şeş gave you on this [16]side Jor'dan; but ye shall pass before your brethren armed, all the mighty men of valour, and help them;

Ch. 1. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—According to common chronology, the time of these events is about 1451 B. C. At Shittim, in the plains of Moab, opposite Jericho, about seven miles west of the Jordan, (Num. 33:49.) Here it was in the groves of acacia, that Israel had been beguiled by the Midianites into licentiousness, here Jehovah had visited them by divine judgments for their sin, and here they had witnessed the last works and received the last counsels of Moses.

1. Vs. 1-9, detail the account of Joshua's receiving his divine commission.

2. That is, after 30 days of mourning in honor of the great law-giver. (Dt. 34:38.)

3. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

4. For historical account of Moses, see note 1, ch. 27, Dt.

5. Supposed to have spoken through the Urim of the high priest.

6. Joshua, successor to Moses, the second leader of Israel, now first makes his appearance. His name was originally Hosea, which means deliverance, but in Num. 13:16 his name was changed by Moses into Jehoshua or Joshua, thus giving him the addition of the memorial name Jah, making it mean the Jehovah Saviour. Joshua was the military leader of Israel under the direction of Moses through all the desert journey. And after the death of M., God encouraged and directed J. directly to take on him the government of the Hebrews, and promised to give him his continued presence and support. He died at the age of 110, and was buried at Timnath-Sarah, his own city. J. possessed the character of the devout warrior, combining strength with gentleness. With the simplicity of a child he obeyed the divine impulse.

7. This celebrated river was in full view from the elevation on which the Israelites were encamped. Thus far in scriptural history the Jordan has acquired no special importance. But henceforth, in Jewish and Christian literature, in sacred song and figurative expressions of Christian hope, this small stream occupies a larger place than any other river of the world. In the poetic language of Tacitus, "The Lebanon nourishes and pours out the Jordan." It flows entirely through the first and second lake, and is retained by the third. These lakes (each with a triple name) are the Merom of the Old Testament, called Samochonitis in ancient classics and Huleh in modern geography; the second, the Sea of Galilee or Lake of Gennesaret, called also Tiberias; the third lake is the Dead Sea, called in the Old Testament the Salt Sea and the Sea of the Plain. The river, which in most of its course flows in a deep trench, ends at the Dead Sea, 1,308 feet below the level of the Mediterranean. The general course of its current is to the south, but the river has a number of sharp bends, which deflect the regular flow of its waters. From the rapidity of the flow, it may be styled almost a continuous cataract. From the first lake to the second, a distance of less than nine miles, is a descent of 600 feet; and from the Lake of Tiberias to the Dead Sea are twenty-seven great rapids, besides a great many of less magnitude.

The average descent through its whole course is nearly twelve feet in a mile, justifying the name of the "descender." Its length is about 200 miles, from the roots of Ante-Lebanon, where it bursts forth, in all its purity, to the Sea of Salt, where it is lost in a briny, seething, caldron; yet the distance by a straight line between these points is less than ninety miles. There are shallows where it can be forded. It is subject to periodical overflows when the snows of Lebanon melt. At these times it overflows the first of the two terraces which constitute its banks. Within its lowest banks it varies in width from seventy feet, where it enters the Sea of Galilee, to 180 yards at the Dead Sea. (W.)

8. A double range of mountains, constituting the eastern limit of Phoenicia and the northern limit of Palestine.

9. The great river of western Asia, 1,400 miles long. In Gen. 2:14 it is mentioned in connection with the garden of Eden.

10. The Mediterranean Sea.

11. The Torah. The whole body of the moral, ceremonial and political laws.

12. That is, act wisely.

13. Do wisely.

14. Vs. 10, 11, give the preparation for the march.

15. Not the manna but their natural product. Manna did not cease to fall till they had entered Canaan, but, as is it became putrid if kept over night, a supply was given each day.

16. Beyond the Jordan. (R. V.)

Ref. Joshua. Chapter 1.

a. But Joshua the son of Nun, which standeth before thee, he shall go in thither; encourage him; for he shall cause Israel to inherit it. (Dt. 1:38.)

b. So Moses the servant of the Lord died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the Lord. (Dt. 34:5.)

c. In the same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates. (Gen. 15:18.) Then your south quarter shall be from the wilderness of Zin along by the coast of Edim, and your south border shall be the outmost coast of the salt sea eastward. (Num. 34:3.)

d. And he said, Certainly I will be with thee, and this shall be a token unto thee that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain. (Ex. 3:12.)

e. Be strong, and of good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them; for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Dt. 31:6.) He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth; and the isles shall wait for his law. (Is. 42:4.)

f. And it shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this law in a book, out of that which is before the priests the Levites: And it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life: that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, to keep all the words of this law and these statutes, to do them. (Dt. 17:18, 19.) Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word. (Ps. 119:9.)

g. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. (Ps. 1:2.) Stand in awe, and sin not; commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still. (Ps. 4:4.) How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them! If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand; when I awake, I am still with thee. (Ps. 139:17, 18.) I remember the days of old; I meditate on all thy works; I muse on the work of thy hands. (Ps. 143:5.) Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer. (Ps. 19:14.)

h. Then shalt thou prosper, if thou takest heed to fulfill the statutes and judgments which the Lord charged Moses with concerning Israel; be strong, and of good courage; dread not, nor be dismayed. (I Chr. 22:13.) My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments. (Prov. 3:1.) Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law which Moses my servant commanded thee; turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:7.) Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him; for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. (Is. 3:10.)

i. The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) Be not afraid of their faces; for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.)

15 Until the [3]Lord have given your brethren rest, as he hath given you, and they also have possessed the land which the [3]Lord your God giveth them: then ye shall return unto the land of your possession, and enjoy it, which [4]Mō'şeş the Lord's servant gave you on this side [7]Jor'dan toward the sunrising.

16 ¶ And they answered [6]Jŏsh'u-â, saying, All that thou commandest us we will do, and whithersoever thou sendest us, we will go.

17 According as we hearkened unto [4]Mō'şeş in all things, so will we hearken unto thee: only the Lord thy God be with thee, as he was with [4]Mō'şeş.

18 Whosoever he be that doth rebel against thy commandment, and will not hearken unto thy words in all that thou commandest him, he shall be put to death: only be strong and of a good courage.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Rahab receiveth and concealeth the two spies. 8 The covenant between her and them. 23 Their return and relation.

1 And [1]Jŏsh'u-â the son of Nŭn sent out of Shĭt'tim two men to spy secretly, saying, Go view the land, [2]even Jĕr'ĭ-chō. And they went, and came into an harlot's house, named Rā'hăb, and lodged there.

2 And [a]it was told the king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō, saying, Behold, there came men in hither to night of the children of Ĭs'ra-el to search out the country.

3 And the king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō sent unto Rā'hăb, saying, Bring forth the men that are come to thee, which are entered into thine house: for they be come to search out all the country.

4 And the woman took the two men, and hid them, and said thus, There came men unto me, but [3]I wist not whence they were:

5 And it came to pass about the time of shutting of the gate, when it was dark, that the men went out: whither the men went I wot not: pursue after them quickly; for ye shall overtake them.

6 But she had brought them up to the roof of the house, and hid them with the stalks of flax, which she had laid in order upon the roof.

7 And the men pursued after them the way to Jor'dan unto the fords: and as soon as they which pursued after them were gone out, they shut the gate.

8 ¶ And before they were laid down, she came up unto them upon the roof;

9 And she said unto the men, I know that the [4]Lord hath given you the land, and that your [b]terror is fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land faint because of you.

10 For we have heard how the [4]Lord dried [c]up the water of the Red sea for you, when ye came out of Ē'gўpt; and what [d]ye did unto the two kings of the Am'or-ītes, that were on the other side Jor'dan, Sī'hŏn and Ōg, whom ye utterly destroyed.

11 And as soon as we had heard these things, [e]our hearts did melt, neither did there remain any more courage in any man, because of you: for the [4]Lord your God, he is [f]God in heaven above, and in earth beneath.

12 Now therefore, I pray you, swear unto me by the [4]Lord, since I have shewed you kindness, that ye will also shew kindness unto my father's house, and give me a true token:

13 And that ye will save alive my father, and my mother, and my brethren, and my sisters, and all that they have, and deliver our lives from death.

14 And the men answered her, Our life [5]for your's, if ye utter not this our business. And it shall be, when the [4]Lord hath given us the land, that we will deal kindly and truly with thee.

15 Then she let them down by a cord through the window: for her house was upon the town wall, and she dwelt upon the wall.

16 And she said unto them, Get you to the mountain, lest the pursuers meet you; and hide yourselves there three days, until the pursuers be returned: and afterward may ye go your way.

17 And the men said unto her, We will be blameless of this thine oath which thou hast made us swear.

18 Behold, when we come into the land, thou shalt bind this line of scarlet thread in the window which thou didst let us down by: and [g]thou shalt bring thy father, and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all thy father's household, home unto thee.

19 And it shall be, that whosoever shall go out of the doors of thy house into the street, his blood shall be upon his head, and we will be guiltless: and whosoever shall be with thee in the house, his blood shall be on our head, if any hand be upon him.

20 And if thou utter this our business, then we will be quit of thine oath which thou hast made us to swear.

21 And she said, According unto your words, so be it. And she sent them away, and they departed: and she bound the scarlet line in the window.

22 And they went, and came unto the mountain, and abode there three days, until the pursuers were returned: and the pursuers sought them throughout all the way, but found them not.

23 ¶ So the two men returned, and descended from the mountain, and passed over, and came to [1]Jŏsh'u-â the son of Nŭn, and told him all things that befell them:

24 And they said unto [1]Jŏsh'u-â, Truly the [4]Lord [h]hath delivered into our hands all the land; for even all the inhabitants of the country do faint because of us.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Joshua cometh to Jordan. 2 The officers instruct the people for the passage. 7 The Lord encourageth Joshua. 9 Joshua encourageth the people. 14 The waters of Jordan are divided.

1 And [1]Jŏsh'u-â rose early in the morning;

Ch. 2. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—Vs. 1-24 record the adventures of the two spies sent by Joshua to spy out Jericho.

1. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

2. That is, particularly Jericho.

3. That is, know not.

4. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

5. Paraphrased the oath meant, "We put our life and soul in the hand of Jehovah as a pledge for thee, that he may destroy us, if anyone injures thee or thine."

Ch. 3. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—This ch. treats of the preparation for and the crossing of the Jordan. The stream was full and swollen (Keil), yet the nation moved courageously forward to its banks, as they had 40 years before, under the leadership of Moses, to the banks of the Red Sea.

1. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

Chapter 2.

a. Except the Lord build the house; they labor in vain that build it; except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain. (Ps. 127:1.) There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord. (Prov. 21:30.)

b. And they journeyed, and the terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jacob. (Gen. 35:5.) Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences. (II Cor. 5:11.)

c. And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. (Ex. 14:21.)

d. And Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land from Arnon unto Jabbok, even unto the children of Ammon; for the border of the children of Ammon was strong (24). And the Lord said unto Moses, Fear him not; for I have delivered him into thy hand, and all his people, and his land; and thou shalt do to him as thou didst unto Sihon king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon. So they smote him, and his sons, and all his people, until there was none left him alive; and they possessed his land. (Num. 21:24, 34, 35.)

e. And it came to pass, when all the kings of the Amorites, which were on the side of Jordan westward, and all the kings of the Canaanites, which were by the sea, heard that the Lord had dried up the waters of Jordan from before the children of Israel, until we were passed over, that their heart melted, neither was there spirit in them any more, because of the children of Israel. (Josh. 5:1.) Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every man's heart shall melt. (Is. 13:7.)

f. Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath; there is none else. (Dt. 4:39.) And as soon as we had heard these things, our hearts did melt, neither did there remain any more courage in any man, because of you: for the Lord your God, he is God in heaven above, and in earth beneath. (Josh. 2:11.) I am the Lord; that is my name; and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images. (Is. 42:8.)

g. And the young men that were spies went in, and brought out Rahab, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had; and they brought out all her kindred, and left them without the camp of Israel. (Josh. 6:23.)

h. And the Lord gave them rest round about, according to all that he sware unto their fathers: and there stood not a man of all their enemies before them: the Lord delivered all their enemies into their hand. (Josh. 21:44.)

and they removed from Shĭt'tim, and came to Jor'dan, he and all the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and lodged there before they passed over.

2 And it came to pass after three days, that the officers went through the host;

3 And they commanded the people, saying, When ye see the [2]ark of the covenant of the [3]Lord your God, and the priests the Lĕ'vītes bearing it, then ye shall remove from your place, and go after it.

4 Yet there shall be a [a]space between you and it, about two [4]thousand cubits by measure: come not near unto it, that ye may know the way by which ye must go: for ye have not passed this way heretofore.

5 And [1]Jŏsh'u-à said unto the people, Sanctify [b]yourselves: for to morrow the Lord will do [5]wonders among you.

6 And [1]Jŏsh'u-à spake unto the priests, saying, Take up the ark of the covenant, and pass over before the people. And they took up the ark of the covenant, and went before the people.

7 ¶ And the [3]Lord said unto [1]Jŏsh'u-à, This day will I begin to magnify [c]thee in the sight of all Ĭs'ra-el, that they may know that, as I was with [6]Mō'şeş, so I will be with thee.

8 And thou shalt command the priests that bear the ark of the covenant, saying, When ye are come to the brink of the water of Jor'dan, ye shall stand still in Jor'dan.

9 ¶ And [1]Jŏsh'u-à said unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, Come hither, and hear the words of the [3]Lord your God.

10 And [1]Jŏsh'u-à said, Hereby ye shall know that the living God is among you, and that he will without fail [d]drive out from before you the Cā'năan-ītes, and the Hīt'tītes, and the Hī'vītes, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, and the Gĭr'ga-shītes, and the Ăm'or-ītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes.

11 Behold, the ark of the covenant of the [3]Lord of [e]all the earth passeth over before you into Jor'dan.

12 Now therefore take you [7]twelve men out of the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el, out of every tribe a man.

13 And it shall come to pass, as soon as the soles of the feet of the priests that bear the ark of the Lord, the [3]Lord of all the earth, shall rest in the waters of Jor'dan, that the waters of Jor'dan shall be cut off from the waters that come down from above; and they shall stand upon an heap.

14 ¶ [8]And it came to pass, when the people removed from their tents, to pass over Jor'dan, and the priests bearing the ark of the covenant before the people;

15 And as they that bare the ark were come unto Jordan, and the feet of the priests that bare the ark were dipped in the brim of the water, (for Jor'dan [f]overfloweth [9]all his banks all the time of harvest,)

16 That the waters which came down from above stood and rose up upon an heap very far from the city Ăd'ăm, that is beside Zăr'e-tăn: and those that came down toward the sea of the plain, even the salt sea, failed, and were cut off: and the people passed over right against Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

17 And the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the [3]Lord stood firm on dry ground in the midst of Jor'dan, and all the Ĭs'ra-el-ītes passed over on dry ground, until all the [10]people were passed clean over Jor'dan.

2. A chest made of shittim or acacia wood, four feet long, two and one-third feet in breadth and depth, and overlaid with gold within and without. The lid was called the mercy-seat; standing on it were the cherubim, with outstretched wings, between which Jehovah had taken up his abode. When on the march, it was wrapped in the veil of the dismantled tabernacle. (Num. 4: 5, 6.) It was therefore hidden from view. It contained the two tablets of stone upon which was written the decalogue, the pot of manna and Aaron's rod that budded. (Heb. 9:4.)

3. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

4. About 1,000 yards.

5. That is, open a passage through the Jordan, as he had through the Red Sea.

6. For historical account of Moses, see 1, ch. 27, Dt.

7. In ch. 4, vs. 4, 5, is stated the reason for the selection of these twelve men.

8. Vs. 14, 15, detail the crossing of the Jordan on dry ground, the waters having been banked up by Jehovah as were also the waters of the Red Sea.

9. Occasioned by the melting of snow on Lebanon.

10. The 40 years' wandering has been brought to a close, the Jordan has been crossed, and the promised land reached.

CHAPTER 4.

1 Twelve men are appointed to take twelve stones for a memorial out of Jordan. 9 Twelve other stones are set up in the midst of Jordan. 10, 19 The people pass over. 14 God magnifieth Joshua. 20 The twelve stones are pitched in Gilgal.

1 And it came to pass, when all the people were clean passed over Jor'dan, that the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Jŏsh'u-à, saying,

2 Take you twelve men out of the people, out of every tribe a man,

3 And command ye them, saying, Take you hence out of the midst of Jor'dan, out of the place where the priests' feet stood firm, twelve stones, and ye shall carry them over with you, and leave them in the [3]lodging place, where ye shall lodge this night.

4 Then [2]Jŏsh'u-à called the twelve men, whom he had prepared of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, out of every tribe a man:

5 And [2]Jŏsh'u-à said unto them, Pass over before the ark of the [1]Lord your God into the midst of Jor'dan, and take you up every man of you a stone upon his shoulder, according unto the number of the tribes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el:

6 That this may be a sign among you, that when [a]your children ask their fathers in time to come, saying, What mean ye by these stones?

7 Then ye shall answer them, That the waters of Jor'dan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the [1]Lord; when it passed over Jor'dan, the waters of Jor'dan were cut off: and these stones shall be for a memorial unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el for ever.

8 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did so as [2]Jŏsh'u-à commanded, and took up twelve stones out of the midst of Jor'dan, as the [1]Lord spake unto Jŏsh'u-à, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and carried them over with them unto the place where they lodged, and laid them down there.

9 And [2]Jŏsh'u-à set up [b]twelve stones in the midst of Jor'dan, in the place where the feet of the priests which bare the ark of the covenant stood: and they are there unto this day.

10 ¶ For the priests which bare the ark stood in the midst of Jor'dan, until every thing was finished that the [1]Lord commanded [2]Jŏsh'-

Ch. 4. B. C. 1451.

NOTE.—Ch. 4 is devoted to the building of the monuments. The writer did not seem to desire to interrupt the mentioning of events in their order, in ch. 3, to give details concerning the monuments, hence the description is reserved for a separate ch.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. For historical account of Joshua see 6, ch. 1.

3. Gilgal, six miles west of the Jordan, vs. 19, 20.

Chapter 3.

a. And thou shalt set bounds unto the people round about, saying, Take heed to yourselves that ye go not up into the mount, or touch the border of it; whosoever toucheth the mount shall be surely put to death. (Ex. 19:12.)

b. And the Lord said unto Moses, Go unto the people, and sanctify them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their clothes. (Ex. 19:10.) Sanctify yourselves therefore, and be ye holy; for I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 20:7.) For I am the Lord your God; ye shall therefore sanctify yourselves, and ye shall be holy; for I am holy. (Lev. 11:44.) Up, sanctify the people, and say, Sanctify yourselves against tomorrow; for thus saith the Lord God of Israel, There is an accursed thing in the midst of thee, O Israel; thou canst not stand before thine enemies, until ye take away the accursed thing from among you. (Josh. 7:13.)

c. See ch. 4:14.

d. And I will send an angel before thee; and I will drive out the Canaanite, the Amorite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite. (Ex. 33:2.)

e. The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. (Ps. 24:1.) Then said he, These are the two anointed ones, that stand by the Lord of the whole earth. (Zech. 4:14.) And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four spirits of the heavens, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth. (Zech. 6:5.)

f. These are they that went over Jordan in the first month, when it had overflown all his banks; and they put to flight all them of the valleys, both toward the east and toward the west. (I Chr. 12:15.) If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of Jordan? (Jer. 12:5.) Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan against the habitation of the strong. (Jer. 49:19.) And the Lord said unto Moses, Go unto the people, and sanctify them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their clothes. (Ex. 19:10.) And Joshua said unto the people, Sanctify yourselves; for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you. (Josh. 3:5.)

a. And it shall be when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, What is this? that thou shalt say unto him. By strength of hand the Lord brought us out from Egypt, from the house of bondage. (Ex. 13:14.) We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the times of old. (Ps. 44:1.) Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us. We will not hide them from their children, showing to the generation to come the praises of the Lord, and his strength, and his wonderful works that he hath done. For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to their children. That the generations to come might know them, even the children which should be born, who should arise and declare them to their children. (Ps. 78:3-6.)

b. And Jacob rose up early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put for his pillows, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil u-à to speak unto the people, according to all that Mō'şeş commanded [2]Jŏsh'u-à: and the people hasted and passed over.

11 And it came to pass, when all the people were clean passed over, that the [4]ark of the Lord passed over, and the priests, in the presence of the people.

12 And the children of Reu'ben, and the children of Găd, and half the tribe of Ma-năs'seh, passed over armed before the children of Is'ra-el, as Mō'şeş spake unto them:

13 About forty thousand prepared for war passed over before the [1]Lord unto battle, to the plains of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

14 ¶ On that day the [1]Lord magnified [2]Jŏsh'u-à in the sight of all [5]Is'ra-el; and they feared him, as they feared Mō'şeş, all the days of his life.

15 And the [1]Lord spake unto [2]Jŏsh'u-à, saying,

16 Command the priests that bear the [4]ark of the testimony, that they come up out of Jor'dan.

17 [2]Jŏsh'u-à therefore commanded the priests, saying, Come ye up out of Jor'dan.

18 And it came to pass, when the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the [1]Lord were come up out of the midst of Jor'dan, and the soles of the priests' feet were lifted up unto the dry land, that the waters of Jor'dan returned unto their place, and flowed over all his banks, as they did before.

19 ¶ And the people came up out of Jor'dan on the tenth day of the first month, and encamped in Gĭl'găl, in the east border of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

20 And those twelve stones, which they took out of Jor'dan, did [2]Jŏsh'u-à pitch in Gĭl'găl.

21 And he spake unto the children of Is'ra-el, saying, When your children shall ask their fathers in time to come, saying, What mean these stones?

22 Then ye shall let your children know, saying, Is'ra-el came over this Jor'dan on dry land.

23 For the [1]Lord your God dried up the waters of Jor'dan from before you, until ye were passed over, as the Lord your God did to the Red sea, [c]which he dried up from before us, until we were gone over:

24 That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the [1]Lord, that it is [d]mighty: that ye might fear [c]the [1]Lord your God for ever.

CHAPTER 5.

1 The Canaanites are afraid. 2 Joshua reneweth circumcision. 10 The passover is kept at Gilgal. 12 Manna ceaseth. 13 An Angel appeareth to Joshua.

1 And it came to pass, when all the kings of the Ăm'or-ītes, which were on the side of Jor'dan westward, and all the kings of the Cā'năan-ītes, which were by the sea, heard that the [1]Lord had dried up the waters of Jor'dan from before the children of Is'ra-el, until we were passed over, that their [d]heart melted, neither was there spirit in them any more, because of the children of Is'ra-el.

2 ¶ [3]At that time the [1]Lord said unto [2]Jŏsh'u-à, Make thee sharp knives, and circumcise again the children of Is'ra-el the second time.

3 And [2]Jŏsh'u-à made him sharp knives, and circumcised the children of Is'ra-el at the hill of the [4]foreskins.

4 And this is the cause why [2]Jŏsh'u-à did circumcise: [b]All the people that came out of Ē'gўpt, that were males, even all the men of war, died in the wilderness by the way, after they came out of Ē'gўpt.

5 Now all the people that came out were circumcised: but all the people that were born in the wilderness by the way as they came forth out of Ē'gўpt, [5]them they had not circumcised.

6 [6]For the children of Is'ra-el walked [c]forty years in the wilderness, till all the people that were men of war, which came out of Ē'gўpt, were consumed, because they obeyed not the voice of the [1]Lord: unto whom the [1]Lord sware that he would not shew them the land, which the Lord sware unto their fathers that he would give us, a land that floweth with milk and honey.

7 And their children, whom he raised up in their stead, them [2]Jŏsh'u-à circumcised: for they were uncircumcised, because they had not circumcised them by the way.

8 And it came to pass, when they had done circumcising all the people, that they abode in their places in the camp, till they were whole.

9 And the [1]Lord said unto [2]Jŏsh'u-à, This day have I [7]rolled away [d]the reproach of Ē'gўpt from off you. Wherefore the name of the place is called Gĭl'găl unto this day.

10 ¶ [8]And the children of Is'ra-el encamped in Gĭl'găl, and kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the month at even in the plains of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

11 And they did eat of the old [9]corn of the land on the morrow after the passover, unleavened cakes, and parched corn in the selfsame day.

12 ¶ And the manna ceased on the morrow after they had eaten of the old corn of the land; neither had the children of Is'ra-el manna any more; but they did eat of the fruit of the land of Cā'năan that year.

13 ¶ [10]And it came to pass, when [2]Jŏsh'u-à was by Jĕr'ĭ-chō, that he lifted up his eyes and looked, and, behold, there stood [e]a man over against him with his sword drawn in his hand: and [2]Jŏsh'u-à went unto him, and said unto him, Art thou for us, or for our adversaries?

14 And he said, Nay; but as [11]captain of the host of the Lord am I now come. And Jŏsh'u-à fell [f]on his face to the earth, and did worship, and said unto him, What saith my lord unto his servant?

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. Historical of Joshua; see 6, ch. 1.

3. Vs. 2-9, circumcision restored.

4. The hill on which the rite of circumcision occurred.

5. The reason the rite of circumcision had not been observed during the 40 years wandering in the wilderness is that during the 40 years of wandering Israel was under divine displeasure and consequently temporarily rejected by Jehovah, therefore the people were prohibited from the use of the sign of the covenant which was circumcision.

6. V. 6 gives the reason why the children of Israel had not been observing the rite of circumcision, but as the sentence of exclusion had expired, they were again allowed the privilege of using the sign of the covenant.

7. For 40 years the Egyptians has cast the reproach upon Israel that Jehovah had brought them out of Egypt to allow them to die in the wilderness, but now they had been led into the Promised Land and this reproach had been rolled away.

8. Vs. 10, 11 record the keeping of the third passover and the manna's ceasing to fall. The passover had been kept only once since the Israelites left Egypt—that was at Sinai, the second year of their journey in the desert. There was from that year till the entering into the Promised Land no observance of the passover, because the children of Israel were under the ban of divine displeasure.

9. They ate of the produce of the land, the word old is not in the Hebrew.

10. Vs. 13-15 of ch. 5, and all of ch. 6, detail the divine plan for the destruction of Jericho and the selection of the captains of the Israelites.

11. The prince of the army of heaven, "not the Israelitish host and their prince," was the word of God. He was the divine logos, who in the fullness of time became flesh. (John 1.)

upon the top of it. (Gen. 28:18.) And Joshua said unto all the people, Behold, the stone shall be a witness unto us, for it hath heard all the words of the Lord which he spake unto us; it shall be therefore a witness unto you, lest ye deny your God. (Josh. 24:27.) Then Samuel took a stone, and set it between Mizpeh and Shen, and called the name of it Ebenezer, saying, Hitherto hath the Lord helped us. (I Sam. 7:12.)

d. Fear and dread shall fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm they shall be as still as a stone; till thy people pass over, O Lord, till the people pass over, which thou hast purchased. (Ex. 15:16.) Thou hast a mighty arm; strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand. (Ps. 89:13.)

e. That thou mightest fear the Lord thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou, and thy son, and thy son's son, all the days of thy life; and that thy days may be prolonged. (Dt. 6:2.) And Moses said unto the people, Fear not; for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. (Ex. 20:20.) The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do his commandments; his praise endureth for ever. (Ps. 111:10.) Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. (Ecc. 12:13.)

Chapter 5.

a. The people shall hear, and be afraid; sorrow shall take hold on the inhabitants of Palestina. (Ex. 15:14.) Fear took hold upon them there, and pain, as of a woman in travail. (Ps. 48:6.)

b. Your carcases shall fall in this wilderness; and all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, from 20 years old and upward, which have murmured against me. (Num. 14:29.) So it came to pass, when all the men of war were consumed and dead from among the people. (Dt. 2:16.)

c. Forty years long was I grieved with this generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways. (Ps. 95:10.)

d. Now therefore fear the Lord, and serve him in sincerity and in truth; and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt, and serve ye the Lord. (Josh. 24:14.) Defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the Lord your God. (Ezek. 20:7.)

e. And he lift up his eyes and looked, and, lo, three men stood by him; and, when he saw them, he ran to meet them from the tent door, and bowed himself toward the ground. (Gen. 18:2.) And Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day. (Gen. 32:24.) And, while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel. (Acts 1:10.)

15 And the captain of the [1]Lord's host said unto [2]Jŏsh'u-à, [g]Loose thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Jŏsh'u-à did so.

CHAPTER 6.

1 Jericho is shut up. 2 God instructeth Joshua how to besiege it. 12 The city is compassed. 17 It must be accursed. 20 The walls fall down. 22 Rahab is saved. 26 The builder of Jericho is cursed.

1 [1]Now Jĕr'ĭ-chō [2]was straitly shut up because of the children of Ĭs'ra-el: none went out, and none came in.

2 And the [3]Lord said unto [4]Jŏsh'u-à, See, I have given into thine hand Jĕr'ĭ-chō, and the king thereof, and the mighty men of valour.

3 And ye shall compass [5]the city, all ye men of war, and go round about the city once. Thus shalt thou do six days.

4 And [6]seven priests shall bear before the ark [6]seven [a]trumpets of rams' horns: and the [6]seventh day ye shall compass the city [6]seven times, and the priests shall blow with the trumpets.

5 And it shall come to pass, that when they make a long blast with the ram's horn, and when ye hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the wall of the city shall fall down flat, and the people shall ascend up every man straight before him.

6 ¶ [7]And Jŏsh'u-à the son of Nŭn called the priests, and said unto them, Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests bear seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the Lord.

7 And he said unto the people, Pass on, and compass the city, and let him that is armed pass on before the ark of the [3]Lord.

8 ¶ And it came to pass, when [4]Jŏsh'u-à had spoken unto the people, that the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams' horns passed on [8]before the [3]Lord, and blew with the trumpets: and the ark of the covenant of the [3]Lord followed them.

9 ¶ And the armed men went before the priests that blew with the trumpets, and the rereward came after the ark, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets.

10 And [4]Jŏsh'u-à had commanded the people, saying, Ye shall not shout, nor make any noise with your voice, neither shall any word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I bid you shout; then shall ye shout.

11 So the ark of the [3]Lord compassed the city, going about it once: and they came into the camp, and lodged in the camp.

12 ¶ And [4]Jŏsh'u-à rose early in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of the [3]Lord.

13 And seven priests bearing seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the Lord went on continually, and blew with the trumpets: and the armed men went before them; but the rereward came after the ark of the Lord, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets.

14 And the second day they compassed the city once, and returned into the camp: so they did six days.

15 And it came to pass on the seventh day, that they rose early about the dawning of the day, and compassed the city after the same manner seven times: only on that day they compassed the city seven times.

16 And it came to pass at the seventh time, when the priests blew with the trumpets, [4]Jŏsh'u-à said unto the people, [b]Shout; for the Lord hath given you the city.

17 ¶ And the city shall be accursed, even it, and all that are therein, to the [3]Lord: only Rā'hăb the harlot shall live, she and all that are with her in the house, because she hid the messengers that we sent.

18 And ye, [c]in any wise keep yourselves from the accursed thing, lest ye make yourselves accursed, when ye take of the accursed thing, and make the camp of Ĭs'ra-el a curse, and trouble it.

19 But all the silver, and gold, and vessels of brass and iron, are consecrated unto the [3]Lord: they shall come into the treasury of the [3]Lord.

20 So the people shouted when the priests blew with the trumpets: and it came to pass, when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, and the people shouted with a great shout, that the wall fell down flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the city.

21 And they utterly [10]destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox, and sheep, and ass, with the edge of the sword.

22 But [4]Jŏsh'u-à had said unto the two men that had spied out the country, Go into the harlot's house, and bring out thence the woman, and all that she hath, [d]as ye sware unto her.

23 And the young men that were spies went in, and brought out Rā'hăb, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had; and they brought out all her kindred, and left them without the camp of Ĭs'ra-el.

24 And they burnt the city with fire, and all that was therein: only the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of brass and of iron, they put into the treasury of the house of the [3]Lord.

25 And [4]Jŏsh'u-à saved Rā'hăb the harlot alive, and her father's household, and all that she had; and she dwelleth in Ĭs'ra-el even unto this day; because she hid the messengers, which [4]Jŏsh'u-à sent to spy out Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

26 ¶ And [4]Jŏsh'u-à [11]adjured them at that time, saying, Cursed be the man before the [3]Lord, that riseth up and buildeth this city Jĕr'ĭ-chō: he shall lay the foundation thereof in his firstborn, and in his youngest son shall he set up the gates of it.

27 So the [3]Lord was with [4]Jŏsh'u-à; and his fame was noised throughout all the country.

Ch. 6. B. C. 1451.

1. There is no more unfortunate division of chs. in the Bible than occurs here. The conversation between the captain and his lieutenant is cut in twain, and the revelation of the warrior in ch. 5, is without any perceptible result. The new ch. should commence at ch. 5:13 and the first verse of ch. 6 should be in a parenthesis. Then it will clearly appear that the revelation of the captain of the Lord's host is an introduction to the history of the conquest of Jericho. (W.)

10. This indiscriminate massacre was at the command of Jehovah. (Dt. 20:16, 17)—"But of the cities of these people, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, thou shalt save alive nothing that breatheth, but thou shalt utterly destroy them, viz., the Hittites, the Amorites, the Canaanites and the Perizzites, the Hivites and the Jebusites, as the Lord thy God has commanded thee." The command to destroy these people had been issued because of the excessive, willful, habitual and incurable wickedness. (Lev. 18: 24-30) "Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things: for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you; and the land is defiled; therefore I do visit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nations, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you; for all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled; that the land spue not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spued out the nations that were before you. For whosoever shall commit any of these abominations, even the souls that commit them shall be cut off from among their people."

saw, they shouted, and fell on their faces. (Lev. 9:24.) Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation? (Heb. 1:14.)

g. And he said, Draw not nigh hither; put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. (Ex. 3:5.) Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet; for the place where thou standest is holy ground. (Acts 7:33.)

Chapter 6.

a. And he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put a trumpet in every man's hand, with empty pitchers and lamps within the pitchers. (Jud. 7:16.)

b. And the three companies blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow withal, and they cried, The sword of the Lord, and of Gideon. (Jud. 7:20.) And when Judah looked back, behold, the battle was before and behind; and they cried unto the Lord, and the priests sounded with the trumpets. (II Chr. 13:14.)

c. Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thy house; lest thou be a cursed thing like it; but thou shalt utterly detest it, and thou shalt utterly abhor it, for it is a cursed thing. (Dt. 7:26.) Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord. (Is. 52: 11.) Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil, cleave to that which is good. (Rom. 12:9.) Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you. (II Cor. 6:17.) And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. (Eph 5:11.)

d. And the men answered her, Our life for yours, if ye utter not this our business. And it shall be, when the Lord hath given us the land, that we will deal kindly and truly with thee. (Josh. 2:14.) By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that believed not, when she had received the spies with peace. (Heb. 11:31.)

1 But the [5]children of Ĭs'ra-el committed a trespass in the [4]accursed thing: for [1a]Ā'chăn, the son of Cär'mī, the son of Zăb'dī, the son of Zē'rah, of the tribe of Jū'dah, took of the accursed thing: and the anger of the [2]Lord was kindled against the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

2 And [3]Jŏsh'u-à sent men from Jĕr'ĭ-chō to Ā'ī, which is beside Bĕth-ā'ven, on the east side of [6]Bĕth'-el, and spake unto them, saying, Go up and view the country. And the men went up and viewed Ā'ī.

3 And they returned to Jŏsh'u-à, and said unto him, Let not all the people go up; but let about two or three thousand men go up and smite Ā'ī; and make not all the people to labour thither; for they are but few.

4 So there went up thither of the people about three thousand men: and they fled before the men of Ā'ī.

5 And the men of Ā'ī smote of them about thirty and six men: for they chased them from before the gate even unto Shĕb'a-rīm, and smote them in the going down: wherefore the hearts of [b]the people melted, and became as water.

6 ¶ And [3]Jŏsh'u-à rent his clothes, and fell to the earth upon his face before the ark of the [2]Lord until the eventide, he and the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, and put dust upon their heads.

7 And [3]Jŏsh'u-à said, Alas, O [2]Lord God, wherefore [c]hast thou at all brought this people over Jor'dan, to deliver us into the hand of the Ăm'or-ītes, to destroy us? would to God we had been content, and dwelt on the other side Jor'dan!

8 O [2]Lord, what shall I say, when Ĭs'ra-el turneth their backs before their enemies!

9 For the Cā'năan-ītes and all the inhabitants of the land shall hear of it, and shall environ us round, and cut off our name from the earth: and [d]what wilt thou do unto [7]thy great name?

10 ¶ And the [2]Lord said unto [3]Jŏsh'u-à, Get [8]thee up; wherefore liest thou thus upon thy face?

11 Ĭs'ra-el hath sinned, and they have also transgressed my covenant which I commanded them: for they have even taken of the [4]accursed thing, and have also stolen, and dissembled also, and they have put it even among their own stuff.

12 Therefore the children of Ĭs'ra-el could not stand before their enemies, but turned their backs before their enemies, because they were accursed: neither will I be with you any more, except ye [e]destroy the accursed from among you.

13 Up, [f]sanctify the people, and say, Sanctify yourselves against to morrow: for thus saith the [2]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el, There is an accursed thing in the midst of thee, O Ĭs'ra-el: thou canst not stand before thine enemies, until ye take away the accursed thing from among you.

3. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

4. That is, the spoils of war.

5. When there was but one sinner, how can the whole nation be charged with sin, is a question over which many have stumbled; but such are the relations of human society that the whole is punished for the sins of the part. Sins of nations and communities are punished in this life because nations and communities do not exist after death. It should be remembered however, that this punishment is temporal and not eternal to those who are not personally responsible for the sin. Keil says, "The scriptures teach that a nation is one organic whole in which the individuals are merely members of the same body and are not atoms isolated from one another and the whole. The state is therefore treated as a divine institution, founded upon family relationships and intended to promote the love of all to one another. As all then are combined in a fellowship established by God, the good or evil deeds of an individual affect beneficially or injuriously the whole society."

6. House of God. A city and holy place in central Palestine, was originally called Luz. It was named by Jacob at the time of his dream, beholding the angels descending and ascending from the open heavens.

7. That is, with thy great name.

8. An implication that this great sin must be put away before the people are restored to Jehovah's favor, as the "sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord; but the prayer of the upright is his delight." (Prov. 15:8.)

9. About $125.00, but a dollar then had about ten times the purchasing power it has at the present time.

10. A shekel of gold was equal to about five and a half dollars, therefore the wedge was equal to about $275.

11. That is, the shekels of silver were under the Babylonish garment.

12. A statement of much dispute. Some claim that the sons and daughters were taken simply to witness the execution, others claim that they were executed with their father.

13. That is, trouble.

14 In the morning therefore ye shall be brought according to your tribes: and it shall be, that the tribe which the [2]Lord taketh shall come according to the families thereof; and the family which the [2]Lord shall take shall come by households; and the household which the [2]Lord shall take shall come man by man.

15 And it shall be, that he that is taken with the accursed thing shall be burnt with fire, he and all that he hath: because he hath transgressed the covenant of the [2]Lord, and because he hath wrought folly in Ĭs'ra-el.

16 ¶ So [3]Jŏsh'u-à rose up early in the morning, and brought Ĭs'ra-el by their tribes; and the tribe of Jū'dah was taken:

17 And he brought the family of Jū'dah; and he took the family of the Zär'hītes: and he brought the family of the Zär'hītes man by man; and Zăb'dī was taken:

18 And he brought his household man by man; and Ā'chăn, the son of Cär'mī, the son of Zăb'dī, the son of Zē'rah, of the tribe of Jū'dah, was taken.

19 And [3]Jŏsh'u-à said unto [1]Ā'chăn, My son, give, [g]I pray thee, glory to the [2]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el, and make confession unto him; and tell me now what thou hast done; [h]hide it not from me.

20 And [1]Ā'chăn answered [3]Jŏsh'u-à, and said, Indeed I have sinned against the [2]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el, and thus and thus have I done:

21 When I saw among the spoils a goodly Băb'ў-lō'nish garment, and two hundred [9]shekels of silver, and a wedge of [10]gold of fifty shekels weight, then I [i]coveted them, and took them; and, behold, they are hid in the earth in the midst of my tent, and the [11]silver under it.

22 ¶ So [3]Jŏsh'u-à sent messengers, and they ran unto the tent; and, behold, it was hid in his tent, and the silver under it.

23 And they took them out of the midst of the tent, and brought them unto [3]Jŏsh'u-à, and unto all the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and laid them out before the [2]Lord.

24 And Jŏsh'u-à, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, took Ā'chăn the son of Zē'rah, and the silver, and the garment, and the wedge of gold, and his sons, [12]and his daughters, and his oxen, and his asses, and his sheep, and his tent, and all that he had: and they brought them unto the valley of Ā'chor.

25 And [3]Jŏsh'u-à said, Why hast thou troubled us? the [2]Lord shall trouble thee this day. [j]And all Ĭs'ra-el stoned him with stones, and burned them with fire, after they had stoned them with stones.

26 And they raised over him a great heap of stones unto this day. So [k]the [2]Lord turned from the fierceness of his anger. Wherefore the name of that place was called, The valley of [13]Ā'chor, unto this day.

Chapter 7.

a. Did not Achan the son of Zerah commit a trespass in the accursed thing, and wrath fell on all the congregation of Israel? and that man perished not alone in his iniquity. (Josh. 22:20.)

b. And upon them that are left alive of you I will send a faintness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies; and the sound of a shaken leaf shall chase them, and they shall flee, as fleeing from a sword; and they shall fall when none pursueth. (Lev. 26:36.)

c. And Moses returned unto the Lord, and said, Lord, wherefore hast thou so evil entreated this people? why is it that thou hast sent me? (Ex. 5:22.)

d. Wherefore should the Egyptians speak and say, For mischief did he bring them out, to slay them in the mountains, and to consume them from the face of the earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this evil against thy people. (Ex. 32:12.)

e. Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thine house, lest thou be a cursed thing like it: but thou shalt utterly detest it, and thou shalt utterly abhor it; for it is a cursed thing. (Dt. 7:26.)

f. See f, ch. 3, Josh.

g. Speak unto the children of Israel, When a man or woman shall commit any sin that men commit, to do a trespass against the Lord, and that person be guilty (6). Then they shall confess their sin which they have done; and he shall recompense his trespass with the principal thereof and add unto it the fifth part thereof, and give it unto him against whom he hath trespassed. (Num. 5:6, 7.)

h. But if ye will not do so, behold, ye have sinned against the Lord: and be sure your sin will find you out. (Num. 32:23.) Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out. (Acts 5:9.) For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us; and as for our iniquities, we know them. (Is. 59:12.)

i. For the love of money is the root of all evil; which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. (I Tim. 6:10.) Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain. (Ex. 20:7.) Then shalt thou bring forth that man or that woman, which hath committed that wicked thing, unto thy gates, even that man or that woman, and shalt stone them with stones, till they die. (Dt. 17:5.)

k. And there shall cleave nought of the cursed thing to thine hand;

CHAPTER 8.

1 God encourageth Joshua. 3 The stratagem whereby Ai was taken. 29 The king thereof is hanged. 30 Joshua buildeth an altar.

1 And the [1]Lord said unto [2]Jŏsh'u-à, [a]Fear not, neither be thou dismayed: take all the people of war with thee, and arise, go up to Ā'ī: see, I have given into thy hand the king of Ā'ī, and his people, and his city, and his land:

2 And thou shalt do to Ā'ī and her king as thou didst unto Jĕr'ī-chō and her king: only the spoil thereof, and the cattle thereof, shall ye take for a prey unto yourselves: lay thee an ambush for the city behind it.

3 ¶ So [2]Jŏsh'u-à arose, and all the people of war, to go up against Ā'ī: and Jŏsh'u-à chose out thirty thousand mighty men of valour, and sent them away by night.

4 And he commanded them, saying, Behold, ye shall lie in wait against the city, even behind the city: go not very far from the city, but be ye all ready:

5 And I, and all the people that are with me, will approach unto the city: and it shall come to pass, when they come out against us, as at the first, that [b]we will flee before them,

6 (For they will come out after us) till we have drawn them from the city; for they will say, They flee before us, as at the first: therefore we will flee before them.

7 Then ye shall rise up from the ambush, and seize upon the city: for the [1]Lord your God will deliver it into your hand.

8 And it shall be, when ye have taken the city, that ye shall set the city on fire: according to the commandment of the [1]Lord shall ye do. [c]See, I have commanded you.

9 ¶ [2]Jŏsh'u-à therefore sent them forth: and they went to lie in ambush, and abode between Bĕth'-el and Ā'ī, on the west side of Ā'ī: but Jŏsh'u-à lodged that night among the people.

10 And [2]Jŏsh'u-à [d]rose up early in the morning, and numbered the people, and went up, he and the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, before the people to Ā'ī.

11 And all the people, even the people of war that were with him, went up, and drew nigh, and came before the city, and pitched on the north side of Ā'ī: now there was a valley between them and Ā'ī.

12 And he took about five thousand men, and set them to lie in ambush between Bĕth'-el and Ā'ī, on the west side of the city.

13 And when they had set the people, even all the host that was on the north of the city, and [3]their liers in wait on the west of the city, [2]Jŏsh'u-à went that night into the midst of the valley.

14 ¶ And it came to pass, when the king of Ā'ī saw it, that they hasted and rose up early, and the men of the city went out against Ĭs'ra-el to battle, he and all his people, at a [4]time appointed, before the plain; but he wist not that there were liers in ambush against him behind the city.

15 And [2]Jŏsh'u-à and all Ĭs'ra-el made as if they were beaten before them, and fled by the way of the wilderness.

16 And all the people that were in Ā'ī were called together to pursue after them: and they pursued after [2]Jŏsh'u-à, and were drawn away [e]from the city.

17 And there was not a man left in Ā'ī or Bĕth'-el, that went not out after Ĭs'ra-el: and they left the city open, and pursued after Ĭs'ra-el.

18 And the [1]Lord said unto [2]Jŏsh'u-à, Stretch out the spear that is in thy hand toward Ā'ī; for I will give it into thine hand. And Jŏsh'u-à stretched out the spear that he had in his hand toward the city.

19 And the ambush arose quickly out of their place, and they ran as soon as he had stretched out his hand: and they entered into the city, and took it, and hasted and set the city on fire.

20 And when the men of Ā'ī looked behind them, they saw, and, behold the smoke of the city ascended up to heaven, and they had no power to flee this way or that way: and the people that fled to the wilderness turned back upon the pursuers.

21 And when [2]Jŏsh'u-à and all Ĭs'ra-el saw that the ambush had taken the city, and that the smoke of the city ascended, then they turned again, and slew the men of Ā'ī.

22 And the other issued out of the city against them; so they were in the midst of Ĭs'ra-el, some on this side, and some on that side: and they smote them, so that they let [f]none of them remain or escape.

23 And the king of Ā'ī they took alive, and brought him to [2]Jŏsh'u-à.

24 And it came to pass, when Ĭs'ra-el had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of Ā'ī in the field, in the wilderness wherein they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, until they were consumed, that all the Ĭs'ra-el-ĭtes returned unto Ā'ī, and smote it with the edge of the sword.

25 And so it was, that all that fell that day, both of men and women, were twelve thousand, even all the men of Ā'ī.

26 For [2]Jŏsh'u-à drew not his hand back, wherewith he stretched out the spear, until he had utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of Ā'ī.

27 Only the cattle and the spoil of that city Ĭs'ra-el took for a prey unto themselves, according unto the word of the [1]Lord which he commanded Jŏsh'u-à.

28 And [2]Jŏsh'u-à burnt Ā'ī, and made it an [g]heap for ever, even a desolation unto this day.

29 And [h]the king of Ā'ī he hanged on a tree until eventide: and as soon as the sun was down, [2]Jŏsh'u-à commanded that [i]they that the Lord may turn from the fierceness of his anger, and show thee mercy, and have compassion upon thee, and multiply thee, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers. (Dt. 13:17.)

Chapter 8.

a. Behold, the Lord thy God hath set the land before thee; go up and possess it, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath said unto thee: Fear not, neither be discouraged. (Dt. 1:21.) Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou d.smayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:9.)

b. And the children of Benjamin said, They are smitten down before us, as at the first. But the children of Israel said, Let us flee, and draw them from the city unto the highways. (Jud. 20:32.)

c. And they answered Joshua, saying, All that thou commandest us we will do, and whithersoever thou sendest us, we will go. (Josh. 1:16.)

d. I will early destroy all the wicked of the land; that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the Lord. (Ps. 101:8.) I made haste, and delayed not to keep thy commandments. (Ps. 119:60.) Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might: for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest. (Ecc. 9:10.) O house of David, thus saith the Lord; Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. (Jer. 21:12.)

e. And the children of Benjamin went out against the people, and were drawn away from the city; and they began to smite of the people, and kill, as at other times, in the highways, of which one goeth up to the house of God, and the other two Gibeah in the field, about 30 men of Israel. (Jud. 20:31.) The Lord is known by the judgment which he executeth; the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. (Ps. 9:16.)

f. And when the Lord thy God shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them, and utterly destroy them; thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor show mercy unto them. (Dt. 7:2.)

g. And thou shalt gather all the spoil of it into the midst of the street thereof, and shalt burn with fire the city, and all the spoil thereof every whit, for the Lord thy God: and it shall be an heat for ever; it shall not be built again. (Dt. 13:16.)

h. He poureth contempt upon princes and causeth them to wander in the wilderness, where there is no way. (Ps. 107:40.) The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath. (Ps. 110:5.)

i. His body shall not remain all night upon the tree, but thou shalt in any wise bury him that day (for he that is hanged is accursed of God); that thy land be not defiled, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance. (Dt. 21:23.) And it came to pass at the time of the 30 ¶ [4]Then [2]Jŏsh'u-â [j]built an altar unto the [1]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el in mount Ē'bal, 31 As Mō'şeş the servant of the Lord commanded the children of Ĭsra-el, as it is written in the book of the law of Mō'şeş, an altar of whole stones, over which no man hath lift up any iron; and they offered thereon [k]burnt offerings unto the Lord, and sacrificed peace offerings.

32 ¶ And [l]he wrote there upon the stones a copy of the law of Mō'şeş, which he wrote in the presence of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

33 And all Ĭs'ra-el, and their elders, and officers, and their judges, stood on this side the ark and on that side before the priests the Lē'vītes, which bare the ark of the covenant of the [1]Lord, as well the stranger, as he that was born among them; half of them over against mount Gĕr'ĭ-zĭm, and half of them over against mount Ē'bal; as Mō'şeş the servant of the [1]Lord had commanded before, that they should bless the people of Ĭs'ra-el.

34 And afterward he read all the words of the law, the [m]blessings and cursings, according to all that is written in the book of the law.

35 There was not a word of all that Mō'şeş commanded, which Jŏsh'u-â read not before all the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el, with the women, and the little ones, and the strangers that were conversant among them.

CHAPTER 9.

1 The kings combine against Israel. 3 The Gibeonites by craft obtain a league. 16 For which they are condemned to perpetual bondage.

1 And it came to pass, when all the kings which were on this [1]side Jor'dan, in the hills, and in the valleys, and in all the coasts of the great sea over against Lĕb'a-non, the Hĭt'tīte, and the Ām'or-īte, the Cā'năan-īte, the Pĕr'ĭz-zīte, the Hī-vīte, and the Jĕb'u-sīte, heard thereof;

2 That they gathered themselves together, to [3]fight with [2]Jŏsh'u-â and with Ĭs'ra-el, with one accord.

3 ¶ And when the inhabitants of Gĭb'e-on heard what [2]Jŏsh'u-â had done unto Jĕr'ĭ-chō and to Ā'ĭ,

4 They did work wilily, and went and made as if they had been ambassadors, and took old sacks upon their asses, and wine bottles, old, and rent, and bound up;

5 And old shoes and [4]clouted upon their feet, and old garments upon them; and all the bread of their provision was dry and mouldy.

6 And they went to [2]Jŏsh'u-â unto the camp at Gĭl'găl, and said unto him, and to the men of Ĭs'ra-el, We be come from a far country: now therefore make ye a league with us.

7 And the men of Ĭs'ra-el said unto the Hī'vītes, Peradventure ye dwell among us; and [a]how shall we make a league with you?

8 And they said unto [2]Jŏsh'u-â, We are thy servants. And Jŏsh'u-â said unto them, Who are ye? and from whence come ye?

9 And they said unto him, From a very far country thy servants are come because of the name of the [1]Lord thy God: for we have [b]heard the fame of him and all that he did in Ē'gўpt,

10 And all that he did to the two kings of the Ām'or-ītes, that were beyond Jor'dan, to Sī'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn, and to Ōg king of Bā'shăn, which was at Āsh'ta-rōth.

11 Wherefore our elders and all the inhabitants of our country spake to us, saying, Take victuals with you for the journey, and go to meet them, and say unto them, We are your servants: therefore now make ye a league with us.

12 This our bread we took hot for our provision out of our houses on the day we came forth to go unto you; but now, behold, it is dry, and it is mouldy:

13 And these bottles of wine, which we filled, were new; and, behold, they be rent: and these our garments and our shoes are become old by reason of the very long journey.

14 And the men took of their victuals and asked not [5]counsel at the mouth of the [1]Lord.

15 And [2]Jŏsh'u-â made [c]peace with them, and made a league with them, to let them live: and the princes of the congregation sware unto them.

16 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of three days after they had made a league with them, that they heard that they were their neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.

17 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el journeyed, and came unto their cities on the third day. Now their cities were Gĭb'e-on, and Che-phī'rah, and Be-ē'rōth, and Kĭr'jath-jē'a-rĭm.

18 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el smote them not, [d]because the princes of the congregation had sworn unto them by the [1]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el. And all the congregation [6]murmured against the princes.

19 But all the princes said unto all the congregation, We have sworn unto them by the [1]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el: now therefore we may not touch them.

20 This we will do to them; we will even let them live, lest wrath be upon us, because of the oath which we sware unto them.

21 And the princes said unto them, Let them live; but let them be [e]hewers of wood and [7]drawers of water unto all the congregation: as the princes had promised them.

22 ¶ And [2]Jŏsh'u-â called for them, and he spake unto them, saying, Wherefore have ye beguiled us, saying, We are very far from you: when ye dwell among us?

Chapter 9.

a. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. (Ex. 23:32.) And when the Lord thy God shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them, and utterly destroy them; thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor show mercy unto them. (Dt. 7:2.)

b. For we have heard how the Lord dried up the water of the Red sea for you, when ye came out of Egypt; and what ye did unto the two kings of the Amorites, that were on the other side Jordan, Sihon and Og, whom ye utterly destroyed. (Josh. 2:10.)

c. And the king called the Gibeonites, and said unto them (now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Israel, but of the remnant of the Amorites; and the children of Israel had sworn unto them; and Saul sought to slay them in his zeal to the children of Israel and Judah). (II Sam. 21:2.)

25 And now, behold, we are [h]in thine hand: as it seemeth good and right unto thee to do unto us, do.

26 And so did he unto them, and delivered them out of the hand of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they slew them not.

27 And Jŏsh'u-à made them that day hewers of wood and drawers of water for the congregation, and for the altar of the Lord, even unto this day, in the place which he should choose.

CHAPTER 10.

1 Five kings war against Gibeon. 10 God fighteth against them with hailstones. 12 The sun and moon stand still at the word of Joshua. 16 The five kings are mured in a cave. 23 They are brought forth, 26 and hanged. 28 Seven kings more are conquered. 43 Joshua returneth to Gilgal.

1 Now it came to pass, when A-don'i-zē'dec king of [1]Je-ru'sa-lĕm had heard how Jŏsh'u-à had taken Ā'ī, and had utterly destroyed it; as he had done to Jĕr'ī-chō and her king, so he had done to Ā'ī and her king; and how the inhabitants of Gĭb'e-on had made peace with Ĭs'ra-el, and were among them;

2 That they [b]feared greatly, because Gĭb'e-on was a great city, as one of the royal cities, and because it was greater than Ā'ī, and all the men thereof were mighty.

3 Wherefore A-dŏn'i-zē'dec king of [1]Je-ru'sa-lĕm sent unto Hō'ham king of [2]Hē'brŏn, and unto Pī'ram king of [3]Jär'mŭth, and unto Japhī'à king of Lā'chish, and unto Dē'bīr king of Ĕg'lŏn, saying,

4 Come up unto me, and help me, that we may smite Gĭb'e-on: for [c]it hath made peace with Jŏsh'u-à and with the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

5 Therefore the five kings of the Ăm'or-ītes, the king of [1]Je-ru'sa-lĕm, the king of [2]Hē'brŏn, the king of [3]Jär'mŭth, the king of Lā'chish, the king of Ĕg'lŏn, gathered themselves together, and went up, they and all their hosts, and encamped before Gĭb'e-on, and made war against it.

6 ¶ And the men of [4]Gĭb'e-on sent unto [5]Jŏsh'u-à to the camp to Gĭl'găl, saying, Slack not thy hand from thy servants; come up to us quickly, and save us, and help us: for all the kings of the Ăm'or-ītes that dwell in the mountains are gathered together against us.

7 So [5]Jŏsh'u-à ascended from Gĭl'găl, he, and all the people of war with him, and all the mighty men of valour.

8 ¶ And the [6]Lord said unto Jŏsh'u-à, Fear them not: for I have delivered them into thine [d]hand; there shall not a man of them stand before thee.

9 [5]Jŏsh'u-à therefore came unto them suddenly, and went up from Gĭl'găl all night.

10 And the [6]Lord [e]discomfited them before Ĭs'ra-el, and slew them with a great slaughter at Gĭb'e-on, and chased them along the way that goeth up to Bĕth-hō'rŏn, and smote them to A-zē'kah, and unto Măk-kē'dah.

11 And it came to pass, as they fled from before Ĭs'ra-el, and were in the going down to Bĕth-hō'rŏn, [f]that the [6]Lord cast down great [7]stones from heaven upon them unto A-zē'kah, and they died: they were more which died with [7]hailstones than they whom the children of Ĭs'ra-el slew with the sword.

12 ¶ [8]Then spake [5]Jŏsh'u-à to the [6]Lord in the day when the Lord delivered up the Ăm'or-ītes before the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and he said in the sight of Ĭs'ra-el, [g]Sun, [9]stand thou still upon Gĭb'e-on; and thou, Moon, in the valley of Ăj'a-lŏn.

13 And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed, until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies. Is not this written in the book of [10]Jā'shēr? So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and hasted not to go down about a whole day.

14 And there was no day like that before it or after it, that the [6]Lord hearkened unto

Ch. 10. B. C. 1451.

1. The first time that mention is made in the Bible of this celebrated city.

2. Situated 20 miles south of Jerusalem, among the mountains of Judah, it is 2,800 feet above the sea level and has the greatest elevation of any city in Palestine; it is 600 feet higher than Jerusalem, and is one of the most ancient cities in the world.

3. A town about 18 miles southwest of Jerusalem.

4. An ancient city of Canaan belonging to the Hivites.

5. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

6. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

7. Supposed by some to be a shower of meteoric stones, by others to mean hailstones.

8. Vs. 12-15 detail the standing still of the sun and moon.

9. Various have been the theories devised to explain the manner of this stupendous miracle. Some assert that the passage is merely a poetical interpolation to adorn the narrative and heighten its effect. They alleged that it is never quoted in the catalogues of the Old Testament miracles. To this we reply that, as we never find any exhaustive catalogues of those miracles, the omission of this proves nothing. The writer of the epistle to the Hebrews omits the striking and unquestioned miracle of the passage of the Jordan (see Heb. 11:29, 30). Others explain this miracle as merely a poetical statement of the fact that the Israelites, in answer to Joshua's prayer, were endowed with power to do two days' work in one—a theory too absurd to call for sober refutation. There are others who insist that the earth's motion on its axis was actually arrested, causing a cessation of the apparent diurnal revolution of the sun and moon. Our objection to this theory is, that it involves several secret miracles. A sudden check in the velocity of rotation of the earth on its axis would violently throw down objects on its surface, especially near the equator. Prof. Mitchell has ascertained that, if a resisting force were gradually applied, like a brake to a car wheel, "in forty seconds the motion might cease entirely, and the change would not be sensible to the inhabitants of the earth, except from the appearance of the heavens." But this would require a direct interposition of a secret miracle to keep the ocean, which is sustained at a higher level in the equatorial regions by the centrifugal force, from flowing toward the poles, and from submerging much of the continents, and to keep the Mediterranean Sea from dashing over Palestine. Again: By the recent discovery of the correlation of forces it has been demonstrated that a force requisite to arrest the revolution of the earth, must convert momentum into heat equal to that generated by the burning of a mass of anthracite coal fourteen times as large as the globe itself. Another secret miracle would be required to prevent this universal conflagration. But the secret miracles so far as we know, have no place in the divine system, since they cannot authenticate a revelation, or demonstrate to man the interposition of God's hand in the course of nature. We, therefore, with a large number of commentators and Christian philosophers, adopt the theory that the standing still of the sun and moon was optical, and not literal—that we have a description of phenomena as presented to the eyes of the spectators. A miracle performed upon the vision (eyesight) of the people, instead of on the sun and moon would be none the less a miracle. The language of the scriptures is evidently popular and not scientific; as when we speak of the earth as standing still and the sun as rising and setting. By the supernatural refraction, or bending of the rays of light, the sun and moon might maintain a stationary appearance for several hours. Even by natural refraction we daily see the sun before it has risen above, and after it has gone below, the horizon. The miraculous receding of the shadow of the dial of Ahaz (II Ks. 20:11; Is. 38:8), was probably caused by a similar supernatural refraction of the sun's rays. The explanation of these astronomical miracles involves the principle which is found in nearly all miracles, viz., the intensifying of some natural agency rather than the violation of any natural laws. As in case of the widow's cruse and the feeding of the multitudes, new oil and new loaves were not created, but that which was in existence multiplied, so do we believe that instead of a new and strange force brought to bear on nature the natural laws of refraction were intensified in both of these miracles.

There is no astronomical difficulty in the statement of the positions of the sun and the moon at that time. To Joshua, standing at Upper Bethhoron, the direction of Gibeon was southeast, which would also be the direction of the sun in the early part of the day, at which time the moon might have been in the southwest, above the valley of Aijalon, approaching its setting. To the question why Joshua should ask for the day to be lengthened, while more than half the day was still unspent, we reply that the account does not say that he asked for such a miracle. He "spake to the Lord." We are left to supply the subject matter of his prayer, which would naturally be for aid to annihilate God's foes. He received no answer, but is suddenly endowed with the gift of faith that at his command to the sun and moon God will work an unheard-of miracle, for the demonstration of his sovereignty over physical law and of his interest in his people. It is quite probable that the sun and the moon, the gods of so many pagan nations, were the divinities of the Canaanites, to whom they were then appealing for aid against the victorious Hebrews. If this be true, there is a peculiar appropriateness in this miracle, strikingly demonstrating to both armies the superiority of the God of Joshua. (W.)

10. A poetical book of national songs. It presumably was written to celebrate the upright men of Israel.

g. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods. (Ex. 23:32.) And when the Lord thy God shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them and utterly destroy them. Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor show mercy unto them. (Dt. 7:2.)

h. But Abram said unto Sarai, Behold, thy maid is in thy hand; do to her as it pleaseth thee. And when Sarai dealt hardly with her, she fled from her face. (Gen. 16:6.)

Chapter 10.

a. See ch. 8, vs. 21, 22.

b. Fear and dread shall fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm they shall be as still as a stone; till thy people pass over, O Lord, till the people pass over, which thou hast purchased. (Ex. 15:16.) There shall no man be able to stand before you; for the Lord your God shall lay the fear of you and the dread of you upon all the land that ye shall tread upon, as he hath said unto you. (Dt. 11:25.)

c. See ch. 9, v. 15.

d. There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life; as I was with Moses, so will I be with thee; I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. (Josh. 1:5.)

e. And the Lord discomfited Sisera, and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Barak; so that Sisera lighted down off his chariot, and fled away on his feet. (Jud. 4:15.) Yea, he sent out his arrows, and scattered them; and he shot out lightnings, and discomfited them. (Ps. 18:14.) For the Lord shall rise up as in Mt. Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work; and bring to pass his act, his strange act. (Is. 28:21.)

f. The Lord also thundered in the heavens, and the Highest gave his voice; hail stones and coals of fire. Yea, he sent out his arrows, and scattered them; and he shot out lightnings, and discomfited them. (Ps. 18:13, 14.) And the Lord shall cause his glorious voice to be heard; and shall show the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with scattering, and tempest, and hail stones. (Is. 30:30.) And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent, and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great. (Rev. 16:21.)

g. The sun and moon stood still in their habitation; at the light the voice of a man: for the Lord fought for Is'ra-el.

15 ¶ And [5]Jŏsh'u-à returned, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, unto the camp to Gĭl'găl.

16 [12]But these five kings fled, and hid themselves in a cave at Măk-kē'dah.

17 And it was told [5]Jŏsh'u-à, saying, The five kings are found hid in a cave at Măk-kē'dah.

18 And Jŏsh'u-à said, Roll great stones upon the mouth of the cave, and set men by it for to keep them:

19 And stay ye not, but pursue after your enemies, and smite the hindmost of them; suffer them not to enter into their cities: for the [6]Lord your God hath delivered them into your hand.

20 And it came to pass, when [5]Jŏsh'u-à and the children of Ĭs'ra-el had made an end of slaying them with a very great slaughter, till they were consumed, that the rest which remained of them entered into fenced cities.

21 And all the people returned to the camp to [5]Jŏsh'u-à at Măk-kē'dah in peace: none moved his tongue against any of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

22 [12]Then said [5]Jŏsh'u-à, Open the mouth of the cave, and bring out those five kings unto me out of the cave.

23 And they did so, and brought forth those five kings unto him out of the cave, the king of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, the king of Hē'brŏn, the king of Jär'mŭth, the king of Lā'chish, and the king of Ĕg'lŏn.

24 And it came to pass, when they brought out those kings unto Jŏsh'u-à, that [5]Jŏsh'u-à called for all the men of Ĭs'ra-el, and said unto the captains of the men of war which went with him, Come near, put your feet upon the necks of these kings. And they came near, and put their feet upon the necks of them.

25 And Jŏsh'u-à said unto them, Fear not, [h]nor be dismayed, be strong and of good courage: for thus shall the Lord do to all your enemies against whom ye fight.

26 And afterward [5]Jŏsh'u-à smote them, and slew them, and hanged them on five trees: and they were hanging upon the trees until the evening.

27 And it came to pass at the time of the going down of the sun, that Jŏsh'u-à commanded, and they took them [i]down off the trees, and cast them into the cave wherein they had been hid, and laid great stones in the cave's mouth, which remain until this very day.

28 ¶ [13]And that day Jŏsh'u-à took Măk-kē'dah, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof he utterly destroyed, them, and all the souls that were therein; he let none remain: and he did to the king of Măk-kē'dah as he did unto the king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

29 Then [5]Jŏsh'u-à passed from Măk-kē'dah, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, unto Lĭb'nah, and fought against Lĭb'nah:

30 And the [6]Lord delivered it also, and the king thereof, into the hand of Ĭs'ra-el; and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein; he let none remain in it; but did unto the king thereof as he did unto the king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

31 ¶ And [5]Jŏsh'u-à passed from Lĭb'nah, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, unto Lā'chish, and encamped against it, and fought against it:

32 And the [6]Lord delivered Lā'chish into the hand of Ĭs'ra-el, which took it on the second day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein, according to all that he had done to Lĭb'nah.

11. Vs. 16-21 record the pursuit and slaughter of the Amorites.

12. Vs. 22-27 detail the execution of the five kings.

13. Vs. 28-43 detail the conquest of southern Palestine.

Ch. 11. B. C. 1450.

NOTE.—Ch. 11 opens, in vs. 1-15, with the description of the great battle of Merom. "The battle of Bethhoron is represented as the most important battle of the conquest, because, being the first, it struck the decisive blow. But in all such struggles there is usually one last effort made for the defeated cause. This, in the subjugation of Canaan, was the battle of Merom. Round Jabin were assembled the heads of all the tribes who had not yet fallen under Joshua's sword. As the British chiefs were driven to Land's End before the advance of the Saxon, so at this Land's End of Palestine were gathered for the last struggle, not only the kings of the north, in the immediate neighborhood, but from the desert valley of the Jordan south of the Sea of Galilee, from the Maritime plain of Philistia, from the height above Sharon, and from the still unconquered Jebus, the Hivite who dwelt in the valley of Baalgad under Hermon." (Stanley.)

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

3. That is, hamstring them.

33 ¶ Then Hō'ram king of Gē'zēr came up to help Lā'chish; and Jŏsh'u-à smote him and his people, until he had left him none remaining.

34 ¶ And from Lā'chish Jŏsh'u-à passed unto Ĕg'lŏn, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him; and they encamped against it, and fought against it:

35 And they took it on that day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein he utterly destroyed that day, according to all that he had done to Lā'chish.

36 And [5]Jŏsh'u-à went up from Ĕg'lŏn, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, unto Hē'brŏn; and they fought against it:

37 And they took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof, and all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining, according to all that he had done to Ĕg'lŏn; but destroyed it utterly, and all the souls that were therein.

38 ¶ And [5]Jŏsh'u-à returned, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, to Dē'bĭr; and fought against it:

39 And he took it, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof; and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining: as he had done to Hē'brŏn, so he did to Dē'bĭr, and to the king thereof; as he had done also to Lĭb'nah, and to her king.

40 ¶ So Jŏsh'u-à smote all the country of the hills, and of the south, and of the vale, and of the springs, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but utterly destroyed all that breathed, as the [6]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el commanded.

41 And [5]Jŏsh'u-à smote them from Kā'desh-bär'ne-à even unto Gā'zà, and all the country of Gō'shen, even unto Gĭb'e-on.

42 And all these kings and their land did [5]Jŏshu-à take at one time, because the [6]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el fought for Ĭs'ra-el.

43 And [5]Jŏsh'u-à returned, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, unto the camp to Gĭl'găl.

CHAPTER 11.

1 Divers kings overcome at the waters of Merom. 10 Hazor is taken and burnt. 16 All the country taken by Joshua. 21 The Anakims cut off.

1 And it came to pass, when Jā'bin king of Hā'zor had heard those things, that he sent to Jō'băb king of Mā'dŏn, and to the king of Shĭm'rŏn, and to the king of Ăch'shăph,

2 And to the kings that were on the north of the mountains, and of the plains south of Chĭn'ne-rŏth, and in the valley, and in the borders of Dor on the west,

3 And to the Cā'năan-īte on the east and on the west, and to the Ăm'or-īte, and the Hĭt'tīte, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zīte, and the Jĕb'u-sīte in the mountains, and to the Hī'vīte under Hĕr'mŏn in the land of Mĭz'peh.

4 And they went out, they and all their hosts with them, much people, even as the sand that is upon the sea shore in multitude, with horses and chariots very many.

5 And when all these kings were met together, they came and pitched together at the waters of Mē'rom, to fight against Ĭs'ra-el.

6 ¶ And the [1]Lord said unto [2]Jŏsh'u-à, Be not afraid because of them: for to morrow about this time will I deliver them up all slain before Ĭs'ra-el: thou shalt [3]hough [a]their horses, and burn their chariots with fire.

of thine arrows they went, and at the shining of thy glittering sphere. (Hab. 3:11.)

h. Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:9.) The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.) Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.)

i. His body shall not remain all night upon the tree, but thou shalt in any wise bury him that day (for he that is hanged is accursed of God); that thy land be not defiled, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance. (Dt. 21:23.)

Chapter 11.

a. And David took from him a thousand chariots, and seven hundred chariot horses, but reserved of them for an hundred chariots. (II Sam. 8:4.)

7 So Jŏsh'u-à came, and all the people of war with him, against them by the waters of Mē'rom suddenly; and they fell upon them.

8 [1]And the Lord delivered them into the hand of Ĭs'ra-el, who smote them, and chased them unto great Zī'dŏn, and unto Mĭs're-photh-mā'im, and unto the valley of Mĭz'peh eastward; and they smote them, until they left them none remaining.

9 And Jŏsh'u-à did unto them as the [1]Lord bade him: he [q]houghed their horses, and burnt their chariots with fire.

10 ¶ And [2]Jŏsh'u-à at that time turned back, and took Hā'zor, and smote the king thereof with the sword: for Hā'zor beforetime was the head of all those kingdoms.

11 And they smote all the souls that were therein with the edge of the sword, utterly destroying them: there was not any left to breathe: and he burnt Hā'zor with fire.

12 And all the cities of those kings, and all the kings of them, did [2]Jŏsh'u-à take, and smote them with the edge of the sword, and he utterly destroyed them, as Mō'şeş the servant of the [1]Lord commanded.

13 But as for the cities that stood still in their strength, Ĭs'ra-el burned none of them, save Hā'zor only; that did Jŏsh'u-à burn.

14 And all the spoil of these cities, and the cattle, the children of Ĭs'ra-el took for a prey unto themselves; but every man they smote with the edge of the sword, until they had destroyed them, neither left they any to breathe.

15 ¶ As the [1]Lord [b]commanded Mō'şeş his servant, so did Mō'şeş command [2]Jŏsh'u-à, and [c]so did Jŏsh'u-à; he left nothing undone of all that the Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

16 [4]So [2]Jŏsh'u-à took all that land, the hills, and all the south country, and all the land of Gō'shen, and the valley, and the plain, and the mountain of Ĭs'ra-el, and the valley of the same.

17 Even from the mount Hā'lăk, that goeth up to Sē'ĭr, even unto Bā'al-gad in the valley of Lĕb'a-non under mount Hēr'mŏn: and all their kings he took, and smote them, and slew them.

18 [2]Jŏsh'u-à made war a long time with all those kings.

19 There was not a city that made peace with the children of Ĭs'ra-el, save the Hī'vītes the inhabitants of Gĭb'e-on: all other they took in battle.

20 For it was of the [1]Lord to harden their hearts, that they should come against Ĭs'ra-el in battle, that he might destroy them utterly, and that they might have no favour, but that he might destroy them, as the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş.

21 ¶ And at that time came [2]Jŏsh'u-à, and cut off the Ăn'a-kĭmş from the mountains, from Hē'bron, from Dē'bĭr, from Ā'nab, and from all the mountains of Jū'dah, and from all the mountains of Ĭs'ra-el: Jŏsh'u-à destroyed them utterly with their cities.

22 There was none of the Ăn'a-kĭmş left in the land of the children of Ĭs'ra-el: only in Gā'zà, in Găth, and in Ăsh'dŏd, there remained.

23 So [2]Jŏsh'u-à took the whole land, according to all that the [1]Lord said unto Mō'şeş; and Jŏsh'u-à gave it for an inheritance unto Ĭs'ra-el according to their divisions by their tribes. And the land rested from war.

4. Vs. 8-23 give a summary of Joshua's conquests.

Ch. 12. B. C. 1452-1451.

NOTE.—In ch. 12 is a recapitulation of the conquests made in the Promised Land with a few additional places named.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

3. Vs. 7-24 detail the list of the 31 kings on the west side of Jordan, which Joshua smote. As the land here mentioned was only 15 miles one way and about 50 the other, it is evident that the 31 cities mentioned were the capitals of very insignificant kingdoms.

CHAPTER 12.

1 The two kings whose countries Moses took and disposed of. 7 The one and thirty kings on the other side Jordan which Joshua smote.

1 Now these are the kings of the land, which the children of Ĭs'ra-el smote, and possessed their land on the other side Jor'dan toward the rising of the sun, [a]from the river Ăr'nŏn [b]unto mount Hēr'mŏn, and all the plain on the east:

2 Sī'hŏn king of the Ăm'or-ītes, who dwelt in Hĕsh'bŏn, and ruled from Ăr'ŏ-ēr, which is upon the bank of the river Ăr'nŏn, and from the middle of the river, and from half Gĭl'e-ăd, even unto the river Jăb'bok, which is the border of the children of Ăm'mŏn;

3 And from the plain to the sea of Chĭn'ne-rŏth on the east, and unto the sea of the plain, even the salt sea on the east, the way to Bĕth-jĕsh'ĭ-mŏth; and from the south, under Ăsh'dŏth-pĭş'gah:

4 ¶ And the coast of Ŏg king of Bā'shăn, which was of the remnant of the giants, that dwelt at Ăsh'ta-rŏth and at Ĕd're-ī,

5 And reigned in mount Hēr'mŏn, and in Săl'cah, and in all Bā'shăn, unto the border of the Gĕsh'u-rītes and the Ma-ăch'a-thītes, and half Gĭl'e-ăd, the border of Sī'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn.

6 Them did Mō'şeş the servant of the [1]Lord and the children of Ĭs'ra-el smite: and Mō'şeş the servant of the Lord gave it for a possession unto the Reu'ben-ītes, and the Găd'ītes, and the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh.

7 ¶ [3]And these are the kings of the country which [2]Jŏsh'u-à and the children of Ĭs'ra-el smote on this side Jor'dan on the west, from Bā'al-gad in the valley of Lĕb'a-non even unto the mount Hā'lăk, that goeth up to Sē'ĭr; which Jŏsh'u-à gave unto the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el for a possession according to their divisions;

8 In the mountains, and in the valleys, and in the plains, and in the springs, and in the wilderness, and in the south country; the Hĭt'tītes, the Ăm'or-ītes, and the Cā'năan-ītes, the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, the Hī'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes:

9 ¶ The king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō, one; the king of Ā'ĭ, which is beside Bĕth'-el, one;

10 The king of Je-rŭ'sa-lĕm, one; the king of Hē'bron, one;

11 The king of Jär'mŭth, one; the king of Lā'chish, one;

12 The king of Ĕg'lŏn, one; the king of Gē'zĕr, one;

13 The king of Dē'bĭr, one; the king of Gē'dĕr, one;

14 The king of Hor'mah, one; the king of Ā'răd, one;

15 The king of Lĭb'nah, one; the king of A-dŭl'lăm, one;

16 The king of Măk-kē'dah, one; the king of Bĕth'-el, one;

17 The king of Tăp'pu-ah, one; the king of Hē'phēr, one;

18 The king of Ā'phek, one; the king of La-shâr'on, one;

19 The king of Mā'dŏn, one; the king of Hā'zor, one;

20 The king of Shĭm'ron-mē'ron, one; the king of Ăch'shăph, one;

21 The king of Tā'a-năch, one; the king of Me-ğĭd'do, one;

22 The king of Kē'desh, one; the king of Jŏk'ne-ăm of Cär'mel, one;

b. Observe thou which I command thee this day; behold, I drive out before thee the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, and the Hivite, and the Jebusite. (Ex. 34:11.)

c. Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses my servant commanded thee; turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. (Josh. 1:7.)

Chapter 12.

a. And Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land from Arnon unto Jabbok, even unto the children of Ammon; for the border of the children of Ammon was strong. (Num. 21:24.)

b. And we took at that time out of the hand of the two kings of the Amorites the land that was on this side Jordan, from the river of Arnon unto mount Hermon (which Hermon the Sidonians call Sirion and the Amorites call it Shenir). (Dt. 3:8, 9.)

23 The king of Dor in the coast of Dor, one; the king of [c]the nations of Gĭl'găl, one;
24 The king of Tĭr'zah, one: all the kings thirty and one.

CHAPTER 13.

1 The bounds of the land not yet conquered. 15 The bounds of the inheritance of Reuben. 22 Balaam slain. 24 The bounds of the inheritance of Gad, 29 and of the half tribe of Manasseh.

1 Now [1]Jŏsh'u-å was old and stricken in years; and the [2]Lord said unto him, Thou art old and stricken in years, and there remaineth yet very much land to be possessed.
2 This [a]is the land that yet remaineth: all the borders of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and all Gĕsh'-u-rĭ,
3 From Sī'hor, which is before Ē'gўpt, even unto the borders of Ēk'rŏn northward, which is counted to the Cā'năan-īte: five lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes; the Gā'zăth-ītes, and the Ash'-dŏth-ītes, the Ēsh'ka-lŏn-ītes, the Gĭt'tītes, and the Ēk'rŏn-ītes; also the Ā'vītes:
4 From the south, all the land of the Cā'-năan-ītes, and the Me-ā'rah that is beside the Sī-dō'nĭ-anș, unto Ā'phek, to the borders of the Ām'or-ītes:
5 And the land of the Gĭb'lītes, and all Lĕb'a-non, toward the sunrising, from Bā'al-gad under mount Hēr'mŏn unto the entering into Hā'math.
6 All the inhabitants of the hill country from Lĕb'a-non unto Mĭs're-photh-mā'im, and all the Sī-dō'nĭ-anș, them will I drive out from before the children of Ĭs'ra-el: only divide thou it by [3]lot unto the Ĭs'ra-el-ītes for an inheritance, as I have commanded thee.
7 [4]Now therefore divide this land for an inheritance unto the nine tribes, and the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh,
8 With whom the Reu'ben-ītes and the Găd'-ītes have received their inheritance, which Mō'șeș [b]gave them, beyond Jor'dan eastward, even as Mō'șeș the servant of the Lord gave them;
9 From Ār'ŏ-ēr, that is upon the bank of the river Är'nŏn, and the city that is in the midst of the river, and all the plain of Měd'-e-bå unto Dī'bŏn;
10 And all the cities of Sī'hŏn king of the Ām'or-ītes, which reigned in Hĕsh'bŏn, unto the border of the children of Ām'mŏn;
11 And Gĭl'e-ăd, and the border of the Gĕsh'-u-rītes and Ma-ăch'a-thītes, and all mount Hēr'mŏn, and all Bā'shăn unto Săl'cah;
12 All the kingdom of Ōg in Bā'shăn, which reigned in Ăsh'ta-rŏth and in Ēd're-ī, who remained of the remnant of the giants: for these did Mō'șeș smite, and cast them out.
13 Nevertheless the children of Ĭs'ra-el expelled not the Gĕsh'u-rītes, nor the Ma-ăch'-a-thītes: but the Gĕsh'u-rītes and the Ma-ăch'-a-thītes dwell among the Ĭs'ra-el-ītes until this day.
14 Only unto the tribe of Lē'vī he gave none inheritance; the sacrifices of the Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el made by fire are their inheritance, as he said unto them.
15 ¶ [5]And Mō'șeș gave unto the tribe of the children of Reu'ben inheritance according to their families.
16 And their coast was from Ār'ŏ-ēr, that is on the bank of the river Är'nŏn, and the city that is in the midst of the river, and all the plain by Měd'e-bå;
17 Hĕsh'bŏn, and all her cities that are in the plain; Dī'bŏn, and Bā'mŏth-bā'al, and Bēth-bā'al-mē'on,
18 And Ja-hā'zå, and Kĕd'e-mŏth, and Mĕph'a-ăth, 19 And Kīr-jath-ā'im, and Sĭb'mah, and Zā'reth-shā'har in the mount of the valley,
20 And Bĕth-pē'or, and Ăsh'dŏth-pĭș'gah, and Bĕth-jĕsh'ī-mŏth,
21 And all the cities of the plain, and all the kingdom of Sī'hŏn king of the Ām'or-ītes, which reigned in Hĕsh-bŏn, whom Mō'șeș smote with the princes of Mĭd'ĭ-an, Ē'vī, and Rē'-kem, and Zûr, and Hûr, and Rē'bå, which were dukes of Sī'hŏn, dwelling in the country.
22 ¶ Bā'laam also the son of Bē'or, the soothsayer, did the children of Ĭs'ra-el slay with the sword among them that were slain by them.
23 And the border of the children of Reu'-ben was Jor'dan, and the border thereof. This was the inheritance of the children of Reu'ben after their families, the cities and the villages thereof.
24 [6]And Mō'șeș gave inheritance unto the tribe of Găd, even unto the children of Găd according to their families.
25 And their coast was Jā'zēr, and all the cities of Gĭl'e-ăd, [c]and half the land of the children of Ām'mŏn, unto Ār'ŏ-ēr that is before Răb'bah;
26 And from Hĕsh'bŏn unto Rā'math-mĭz'-peh, and Bĕt'ŏ-nim; and from Mā-ha-nā'im unto the border of Dē'bīr;
27 And in the valley, Bĕth-ā'răm, and Bĕth-nĭm'rah, and Sŭc'coth, and Zā'phŏn, the rest of the kingdom of Sī'hŏn king of Hĕsh'-bŏn, Jor'dan and his border, even unto the edge of the sea of Chĭn'ne-rĕth on the other side Jor'dan eastward.
28 This is the inheritance of the children of Găd after their families, the cities, and their villages.
29 ¶ [7]And Mō'șeș gave inheritance unto the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh: and this was the possession of the half tribe of the children of Ma-năs'seh by their families.
30 And their coast was from Mā-ha-nā'im, all Bā'shăn, all the kingdom of Ōg king of Bā'shăn, and all the towns of Jā'ĭr, which are in Bā'shăn, threescore cities:
31 And half Gĭl'e-ăd, and Ăsh'ta-rŏth, and Ēd're-ī, cities of the kingdom of Ōg in Bā'-shăn, were pertaining unto the children of Mā'chĭr the son of Ma-năs'seh, even to the one half of the children of Mā'chĭr by their families.
32 These are the countries which Mō'șeș did distribute for inheritance in the plains of Mō'ab, on the other side Jor'dan, by Jĕr'ĭ-chō, eastward.
33 But unto the tribe of Lē'vī Mō'șeș gave not any inheritance: the [d]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el was their inheritance, as he said unto them.

Ch. 13. B. C. 1445.

NOTE. Ch. 13 begins a record of the division and settlement of Canaan. Vs. 1-6 detail a list of the unconquered cities and districts.

1. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. That is, the relative locations were to be determined by lot, while the size of the land apportioned to each tribe was to be according to the size of the tribes. (Num. 26:53-56.)

4. Vs. 7-14 review the trans-Jordanic allotments.

5. Vs. 15-23 define Reuben's lot. From v. 15 to ch. 19, inclusive, is recorded a minute description of the territorial assignments made by Joshua, which constitute what we would consider a modern deed of real estate, legally locating the boundaries of each possession.

6. Vs. 24-28 give the description of Gad's lot, which was to be found in the central district of eastern Palestine.

7. Vs. 29-33 detail the allotment of Manasseh's, which was called the eastern lot.

c. Nevertheless the dimness shall not be such as was in her vexation, when at the first he lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, and afterward did more grievously afflict her by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, in Galilee of the nations. (Is. 9:1.)

Chapter 13

a. The Lord thy God, he will go over before thee, and he will destroy these nations from before thee, and thou shalt possess them; and Joshua, he shall go over before thee, as the Lord hath said. (Dt. 31:3.)

b. And Moses gave unto them, even to the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, and unto half the tribe of Manasseh the son of Joseph, the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites, and the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, the land, with the cities thereof in the coast, even the cities of the country round about. (Num. 32:33.)

c. And when thou comest nigh over against the children of Ammon, distress them not nor meddle with them; for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Ammon any possession; because I have given it unto the children of Lot for a possession. (Dt. 2:19.) And the king of the children of Ammon answered unto the messengers of Jephthah, Because Israel took away my land, when they came up out of Egypt, from Arnon even unto Jabbok, and unto Jordan; now therefore restore those lands again peaceably. (Jud. 11:13.)

d. And the Lord spake unto Aaron, Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any part among them; I am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Israel. (Num. 18:20.) Wherefore Levi hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren; the Lord is his inheritance, according as the Lord thy God promised him. (Dt. 10:9.)

CHAPTER 14.

1 The nine tribes and a half are to have their inheritance by lot. 6 Caleb by privilege obtaineth Hebron.

1 And these are the countries which the children of Ĭs'ra-el inherited in the land of Cā'năan, which Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jŏsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, distributed for inheritance to them.

2 By lot [a]was their inheritance, as the [1]Lord commanded by the hand of Mō'şeş, for the nine tribes, and for the half tribe.

3 For Mō'şeş had given the inheritance of two tribes and an half tribe on the other side Jor'dan: but unto the Lē'vītes he gave none inheritance among them.

4 For the children of Jō'şeph were two tribes, Ma-năs'seh and Ē'phrā-ĭm: therefore they gave no part unto the Lē'vītes in the land, save cities to dwell in, with their suburbs for their cattle and for their substance.

5 As the [1]Lord commanded Mō'şeş, so the children of Ĭs'ra-el did, and they divided the land.

6 ¶ [2]Then the children of Jū'dah came unto Jŏsh'u-ā in Gĭl'găl: and Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh the Kĕn'ez-īte said unto him, Thou knowest [b]the thing that the Lord said unto Mō'şeş the man of God concerning me and thee in Kā'desh-bär'ne-ā.

7 Forty years old was I when Mō'şeş the servant of the [1]Lord sent me from Kā'desh-bär'ne-ā to espy out the land; and I brought him word again as it was in mine heart.

8 Nevertheless my brethren that went up with me made the heart of the people melt: but [c]I wholly followed the [1]Lord my God.

9 And Mō'şeş sware on that day, saying, Surely the land whereon thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance, and thy children's for ever, because thou hast wholly followed the Lord my God.

10 And now, behold, the [1]Lord hath kept me alive, as he said, these forty and five years, even since the [1]Lord spake this word unto Mō'şeş, while the children of Ĭs'ra-el wandered in the wilderness: and now, lo, I am this day fourscore and five years old.

11 As yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Mō'şeş sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now, for war, both to go out, and to come in.

12 Now therefore give me this mountain, whereof the Lord spake in that day; for thou heardest in that day how the Ăn'a-kĭmş were there, and that the cities were great and fenced: if so be the [1]Lord will be [d]with me, then I shall be able to drive them out, as the [1]Lord said.

13 And [3]Jŏsh'u-ā blessed him, and gave unto Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh Hē'bron for an inheritance.

14 Hē'bron therefore became the inheritance of Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh the Kĕn'ez-īte unto this day, because that he wholly followed the Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el.

15 And the name of Hē'bron before was Kīr'jath-ăr'bà; which Ăr'bä was a great man among the Ăn'a-kĭmş. And the land had rest from war.

Ch. 14. B. C. 1444.

NOTE.—Ch. 14 is an introduction to the division of the land west of Jordan (i. e., Canaan proper) to the nine and a half tribes. It should here be observed that in everything pertaining to civil government Joshua was the acknowledged chief, but in matters settled by lot appeal was always made to Jehovah, therefore, Eleazar, as high priest, is named before Joshua (although the term high priest had not been actually adopted at this time).

CHAPTER 15.

1 The borders of the lot of Judah. 13 Caleb's portion and conquest. 16 Othniel hath Achsah, Caleb's daughter, to wife. 21 The cities of Judah. 63 The Jebusites not conquered.

1 This then was the lot of the tribe of the children of Jū'dah by their families; even to the border of Ē'dom the wilderness of Zĭn southward was the uttermost part of the south coast.

2 And their south border was from the shore of the [1]salt sea, from the bay that looketh southward:

3 And it went out to the south side to Ma-al'eh-a-crăb'bim, and passed along to Zĭn, and ascended up on the south side unto Kā'desh-bär'ne-ā, and passed along to Hĕz'rŏn, and went up to Ā'där, and fetched a compass to Kär'ka-ā:

4 From thence it passed toward Āz'mŏn, and went out unto the river of Ē'gўpt; and the goings out of that coast were at the sea: this shall be your south coast.

5 And the east border was the salt sea, even unto the end of Jor'dan. And their border in the north quarter was from the bay of the sea to the uttermost part of Jor'dan:

6 And the border went up to Bĕth-hŏg'la, and passed along by the north of Bĕth-ăr'ă-bah; and the border went up to the stone of Bō'han the son of Reu'ben:

7 And the border went up toward Dē'bīr from [a]the valley of Ā'chor, and so northward, looking toward Gĭl'găl, that is before the going up to A-dŭm'mĭm, which is on the south side of the river: and the border passed toward the waters of Ēn-shē'mesh, and the goings out thereof were at Ēn-rō'gel:

8 And the border went up by the valley of the [b]son of Hĭn'nom unto the south side of the Jĕb'u-sīte; the same is Je-ru'sa-lĕm: and the border went up to the top of the mountain that lieth before the valley of Hĭn'nom westward, which is at the end of the valley of the giants northward:

9 And the border was drawn from the top of the hill unto the fountain of the water of Nĕph'to-ah, and went out to the cities of mount Ē'phron; and the border was drawn to Bā'al-ah, which is Kĭr'jath-jē'a-rĭm:

10 And the border compassed from Bā'al-ah westward unto mount Sē'ĭr, and passed along unto the side of mount Jē'a-rĭm, which is Chĕs'ă-lon, on the north side, and went down to Bĕth-shē'mĕsh, and passed on to Tĭm'nah:

11 And the border went out unto the side of Ĕk'rŏn northward: and the border was drawn to Shĭ'crŏn, and passed along to mount Bā'al-ah, and went out unto Jăb'nĕ-el; and the goings out of the border were at the sea.

12 And the west border was [c]to the great sea, and the coast thereof. This is the coast of the children of Jū'dah round about according to their families.

13 ¶ And unto Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh he gave a part among the children of Jū'dah, according to the commandment of the [2]Lord to Jŏsh'u-ā, even the city of Ăr'bà the father of Ā'năk, which city is Hē'bron.

14 And Cā'leb drove thence the three sons

Ch. 15. B. C. 1444.

NOTE.—This ch. records the original lot of Judah (vs. 1-12). Its territory embraced half of western Palestine. Later a portion of the original lot of Judah was assigned to Simeon. (Ch. 19:1)—"And the second lot came forth to Simeon even for the tribe of the children of Simeon, according to their families; and their inheritance was within the inheritance of the children of Judah."

1. The Dead Sea, now supposed to cover the sites of the destroyed cities, Sodom and Gomorrah.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

Chapter 14.

a. And ye shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families; and to the more ye shall give the more inheritance, and to the fewer ye shall give the less inheritance; every man's inheritance shall be in the place where his lot falleth; according to the tribes of your fathers ye shall inherit. (Num. 33:54.)

b. But my servant Caleb, because he had another spirit with him, and hath followed me fully, him will I bring into the land whereinto he went; and his seed shall possess it. (Num. 14:24.) Save Caleb the son of Jephunneh; he shall see it; and to him will I give the land that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, because he hath wholly followed the Lord. (Dt. 1:36.)

c. But my servant Caleb, because he had another spirit with him, and hath followed me fully, him will I bring into the land whereinto he went; and his seed shall possess it. (Num. 14:24.)

d. What shall we then say to these things? if God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.)

Chapter 15.

a. And they raised over him a great heap of stones unto this day. So the Lord turned from the fierceness of his anger. Wherefore the name of that place was called, The valley of Achor, unto this day. (Josh. 7:25.)

b. And he defiled Topheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man might make his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Molech. (II Ks. 23:10.) And go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the east gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee (2). Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter. (Jer. 19:2, 6.)

c. And as for the western border, ye shall even have the great sea for a border; this shall be your west border. (Num. 34:6.)

of Ā'năk, Shē'shāi, and A-hī'măn, and Tāl'-māi, the children of Ā'năk.

15 And he went up thence to the inhabitants of Dē'bīr: and the name of Dē'bīr before was Kīr'jath-sē'phēr.

16 ¶ And Cā'leb said, He that smiteth Kīr'-jath-sē'phēr, and taketh it, to him will I give Ăch'sah my daughter to wife.

17 And Ŏth'nĭ-el the son of Kē'năz, the brother of Cā'leb, took it: and he gave him Ăch'sah his daughter to wife.

18 And it came to pass, as she came unto him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and [d]she lighted off her ass; and Cā'-leb said unto her, What wouldest thou?

19 Who answered, Give me a blessing; for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs, and the nether springs.

20 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Jū'dah according to their families.

21 And the uttermost cities of the tribe of the children of Jū'dah toward the coast of Ē'dom southward were Kăb'ze-el, and Ē'dēr, and Jā'gŭr,

22 And Kī'nah, and Di-mō'nah, and Ād'ă-dah,

23 And Kē'desh, and Hā'zor, and Ĭth'nan,

24 Zīph, and Tē'lem, and Bē'ă-lōth,

25 And Hā'zor, Ha-dăt'tah, and Kē'rĭ-ŏth, and Hĕz'rŏn, which is Hā'zor, 26 Ā'măm, and Shē'mà, and Mŏl'a-dah,

27 And Hā'zar-găd'dah, and Hĕsh'mŏn, and Bĕth-pā'let,

28 And Hā'zar-shụ'al, and Bē'er-shē'bà, and Bĭz-jŏth'jah,

29 Bā'al-ah, and Ī'ĭm, and Ā'zem,

30 And Ĕl'to-lăd, and Chē'sĭl, and Hor'mah,

31 And Zĭk'lăg, and Măd-măn'nah, and Săn-săn'nah,

32 And Lĕb'a-ŏth, and Shĭl'him, and Ā'in, and Rĭm'mon: all the cities are twenty and nine, with their villages:

33 And in the valley, Ēsh'tă-ŏl, and Zō're-ah, and Āsh'nah,

34 And Za-nō'ah, and Ēn-găn'nĭm, Tăp'-pu-ah, and Ē'nam,

35 Jär'mŭth, and A-dŭl'lăm, Sō'coh, and A-zē'kah,

36 And Shăr-ā'ĭm, and Ād-i-thā'ĭm, and Gĕ-dē'rah, and Gĕd-ĕ-rŏth-ā'ĭm; fourteen cities with their villages:

37 Zē'nan, and Hăd'a-shah, and Mĭg'dal-găd,

38 And Dĭl'ĕ-an, and Mĭz'peh, and Jŏk'-the-el,

39 Lā'chish, and Bŏz'kăth, and Ĕg'lŏn,

40 And Căb'bon, and Läh'mam, and Kĭth'-lish,

41 And Gĕ-dē'rŏth, Bĕth-dā'gon, and Nā'-a-mah, and Măk-kē'dah; sixteen cities with their villages:

42 Lĭb'nah, and Ē'thēr, and Ā'shan,

43 And Jĭph'tah, and Āsh'nah, and Nē'zib,

44 And Kĕi'lah, and Ach'zĭb, and Ma-rē'-shah; nine cities with their villages:

45 Ēk'rŏn, with her towns and her villages:

46 From Ēk'rŏn even unto the sea, all that lay near Āsh'dŏd, with their villages:

47 Āsh'dŏd with her towns and her villages, Gā'zà with her towns and her villages, unto the river of Ē'gўpt, and the great sea, and the border thereof:

48 ¶ And in the mountains, Shā'mĭr, and Jăt'tĭr, and Sō'coh,

Ch. 16. B. C. 1444.

NOTE.—Chs. 16, 17 form one continued story describing the allotment made to the house of Joseph, composed of the two tribes Ephraim and Manasseh, which for more than 400 years were the most powerful of the tribes. From their ranks came Joshua, the great conqueror; Gideon, the greatest of the judges, and Saul, the first king.

1. Vs. 1-4 locate the general borders of the sons of Joseph.

2. Vs. 5-10 detail the outline of Ephraim's borders.

3. The first mention of the fatal mistake of the Israelites in neglecting the divine command to exterminate the idolaters. (Dt. 20:16)—"But of the cities of these people, which the Lord thy God doth give thee for an inheritance, thou shalt save alive nothing that breatheth."

49 And Dăn'nah, and Kīr'jath-san'nah, which is Dē'bīr,

50 And Ā'nab, and Ēsh'te-mōh, and Ā'nĭm,

51 And Gō'shen, and Hō'lōn, and Gī'loh; eleven cities with their villages:

52 Ā'rab, and Dụ'mah, and Ē'shĕ-an,

53 And Jā'num, and Bĕth-tăp'pu-ah, and A-phē'kah,

54 And Hŭm'tah, and Kīr'jath-är'bà, which is Hē'bron, and Zī'or; nine cities with their villages:

55 Mā'on, Cär'mel, and Zĭph, and Jŭt'tah,

56 And Jĕz're-el, and Jŏk'de-ăm, and Za-nō'ah,

57 Cāin, Gĭb'e-ah, and Tĭm'nah; ten cities with their villages:

58 Hăl'hŭl, Bĕth'-zûr, and Gē'dor,

59 And Mā'a-răth, and Bĕth-ā'nŏth, and Ĕl'te-kon; six cities with their villages:

60 Kīr'jath-bā'al, which is Kīr'jath-jē'a-rĭm, and Răb'bah; two cities with their villages:

61 In the wilderness, Bĕth-ăr'ă-bah, Mĭd'-din, and Sĕc'a-cah, 62 And Nĭb'shăn, and the city of Salt, and Ēn-gē'dī; six cities with their villages.

63 ¶ As for the Jĕb'u-sītes the inhabitants of Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, the children of Jū'dah could not drive them out: but the Jĕb'u-sītes dwell with the children of Jū'dah at Je-rụ'sa-lĕm unto this day.

CHAPTER 16.

1 The general borders of the sons of Joseph.
5 The border of the inheritance of Ephraim.
10 The Canaanites not conquered.

1 [1]And the lot of the children of Jō'sẹph fell from Jor'dan by Jĕr'ĭ-chō, unto the water of Jĕr'ĭ-chō on the east, to the wilderness that goeth up from Jĕr'ĭ-chō throughout mount Bĕth'-el,

2 And goeth out from Bĕth'-el to [a]Lŭz, and passeth along unto the borders of Ăr'chī to Āt'a-rŏth,

3 And goeth down westward to the coast of Japh-lē'tī, unto the coast of Bĕth-hō'rŏn the nether, and to Gē'zēr: and the goings out thereof are at the sea.

4 So the children of Jō'sẹph, Ma-năs'seh and Ē'phră-ĭm, took their inheritance.

5 ¶ [2]And the border of the children of Ē'phră-ĭm according to their families was thus: even the border of their inheritance on the east side was Āt'a-rŏth-ăd'där, unto Bĕth-hō'rŏn the upper;

6 And the border went out toward the sea to Mĭch'mĕ-thah on the north side, and the border went about eastward unto Tā'a-năth-shī'lōh, and passed by it on the east to Ja-nō'hah;

7 And it went down from Ja-nō'hah to Āt'-a-rŏth, and to Nā'a-răth, and came to Jĕr'ĭ-chō, and went out at Jor'dan.

8 The border went out from Tăp'pu-ah westward unto the river Kā'nah; and the goings out thereof were at the sea. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ē'phră-ĭm by their families.

9 And the separate cities for the children of Ē'phră-ĭm were among the inheritance of the children of Ma-năs'seh, all the cities with their villages.

10 And they [b]drave [3]not out the Cā'năan-ītes that dwelt in Gē'zēr: but the Cā'năan-ītes dwell among the Ē'phră-ĭm-ītes unto this day, and serve under tribute.

a. And the border went over from thence toward Luz to the side of Luz, which is Bethel southward; and the border descended to Ataroth-adar, near the hill that lieth on the south side of the nether Bethhoron. (Josh. 18:13.) And the man went into the land of the Hittites, and built a city, and called the name thereof Luz; which is the name thereof unto this day. (Jud. 1:26.)

b. Neither did Ephraim drive out the Canaanites that dwelt in Gezer; but the Canaanites dwelt in Gezer among them. (Jud. 1:29.) For Pharaoh king of Egypt had gone up and taken Gezer, and burnt it with fire, and slain the Canaanites that dwelt in the city, and given it for a present unto his daughter, Solomon's wife. (I Ks. 9:16.)

TILLING THE SOIL NEAR SHILOH.

CHAPTER 17.

1 The lot of Manasseh. 7 His coast. 12 The Canaanites not driven out. 14 The children of Joseph obtain another lot.

1 There [1]was also a lot for the tribe of Ma-năs'seh; for he was the [a]firstborn of Jō'şeph; to wit, for Mā'chĭr the firstborn of Ma-năs'seh, the father of Gĭl'e-ăd: because he was a man of war, therefore he had Gĭl'e-ăd and Bā'shăn.

2 There was also a lot for the rest of the children of Ma-năs'seh by their families; for the children of Ā-bī-ē'zēr, and for the children of Hē'lek, and for the children of Ăs'rĭ-el, and for the children of Shē'chem, and for the children of Hē'phēr, and for the children of Shemī'dà: these were the male children of Ma-năs'seh the son of Jō'şeph by their families.

3 ¶ But Ze-lō'phe-hăd, the son of Hē'phēr, the son of Gĭl'e-ăd, the son of Mā'chĭr, the son of Ma-năs'seh, had no sons, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Mäh'lah, and Nō'ah, Hŏg'lah, Mĭl'cah, and Tĭr'zah.

4 And they came near before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and before Jŏsh'u-à the son of Nŭn, and before the princes, saying, [b]The [2]Lord commanded Mō'şeş to give us an inheritance among our brethren. Therefore according to the commandment of the [1]Lord he gave them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

5 And there fell ten portions to Ma-năs'seh, beside the land of Gĭl'e-ăd and Bā'shăn, which were on the other side Jor'dan;

6 Because the daughters of Ma-năs'seh had an inheritance among his sons: and the rest of Ma-năs'seh's sons had the land of Gĭl'e-ăd.

7 ¶ And the coast of Ma-năs'seh was from Ăsh'ēr to Mĭch'mĕ-thah, that lieth before Shē'chem; and the border went along on the right hand unto the inhabitants of Ēn-tăp'pu-ah.

8 Now Ma-năs'seh had the land of Tăp'pu-ah: but Tăp'pu-ah on the border of Ma-năs'seh belonged to the children of Ē'phră-ĭm;

9 And the coast descended unto the river Kā'nah, southward of the river: these cities of Ē'phră-ĭm are among the cities of Ma-năs'seh: the coast of Ma-năs'seh also was on the north side of the river, and the outgoings of it were at the sea:

10 Southward it was Ē'phră-ĭm's, and northward it was Ma-năs'seh's, and the sea is his border; and they met together in Ăsh'ēr on the north, and in Ĭs'sa-char on the east.

11 And Ma-năs'seh had in Ĭs'sa-char and in Ăsh'ēr Bĕth-shē'ăn and her towns, and Ĭb'le-ăm and her towns, and the inhabitants of Dor and her towns, and the inhabitants of Ēn'-dor and her towns, and the inhabitants of Tā'a-năch and her towns, and the inhabitants of Me-gĭd'do and her towns, even three countries.

12 Yet the children of [c]Ma-năs'seh could not drive out the inhabitants of those cities; but the Cā'năan-ītes would dwell in that land.

13 Yet it came to pass, when the children of Ĭs'ra-el were waxen strong, that they put the Cā'năan-ītes to tribute; but did not utterly drive them out.

14 [3]And the children of Jō'şeph spake unto [4]Jŏsh'u-à, saying, Why hast thou given me but one lot and one portion to inherit, seeing I am [d]a great people, forasmuch as the [2]Lord hath blessed me hitherto?

15 And [4]Jŏsh'u-à answered them, If thou be a great people, then get thee up to the wood country, and cut down for thyself there in the land of the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes and of the giants, if mount Ē'phră-ĭm be too narrow for thee.

16 And the children of Jō'şeph said, The hill is not enough for us: and all the Cā'năan-ītes that dwell in the land of the valley have chariots of iron, both they who are of Bĕth-shē'ăn and her towns, and they who are of the valley of Jĕz're-el.

17 And [4]Jŏsh'u-à spake unto the house of Jō'şeph, even to Ē'phră-ĭm and to Ma-năs'seh, saying, Thou art a great people, and hast great power: thou shalt not have one lot only:

18 But the mountain shall be thine; for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it down: and the outgoings of it shall be thine: for thou shalt drive out the Cā'năan-ītes, though they have iron chariots, and though they be strong.

CHAPTER 18.

1 The tabernacle is set up at Shiloh. 2 The remainder of the land is divided into seven parts. 10 Joshua divideth it by lot. 11 The lot and border of Benjamin. 21 Their cities.

1 And the whole congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el assembled together [a]at [1]Shī'lōh, and set up the tabernacle of the congregation there. And the land was subdued before them.

2 [4]And there remained among the children of Ĭs'ra-el seven tribes, which had not yet received their inheritance.

3 And [2]Jŏsh'u-à said unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, [b]How long are ye slack to go to possess the land, which the [3]Lord God of your fathers hath given you?

4 Give out from among you three men for each tribe: and I will send them, and they shall rise, and go through the land, and describe it according to the inheritance of them; and they shall come again to me.

5 And they shall divide it into seven parts: Jū'dah shall abide in their coast on the south, and the house of Jō'şeph shall abide in their coasts on the north.

6 Ye shall therefore describe the land into seven parts, and bring the description hither to me, that I may cast lots for you here before the Lord our God.

7 But the Lē'vītes have no part among you; for the priesthood of the [3]Lord is [c]their inheritance: and Găd, and Reu'ben, and half the tribe of Ma-năs'seh, have received their inheritance beyond Jor'dan on the east, which Mō'şeş the servant of the [3]Lord gave them.

8 ¶ And the men arose, and went away: and [2]Jŏsh'u-à charged them that went to describe

Ch. 17. B. C. 1444.

1. Vs. 1-13, define the lot apportioned to Manasseh in western Palestine.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Vs. 14-18 detail the complaint of the children of Joseph. This passage is considered by all scholars the most poorly worded composition in the Bible.

4. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

Ch. 18. B. C. 1444.

1. Meaning rest. Situated 20 miles north of Jerusalem, 12 miles north of Bethel, and 10 south of Shechem.

2. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

3. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

4. Vs. 2-10 tell of final survey and division of the land. The location of the seat of worship at Shiloh and the consequential removal of the camp had necessarily interrupted the division of the land for a time but it has now been taken up again.

Chapter 17.

a. And Joseph called the name of the first-born Manasseh; for God, said he, hath made me forget all my toil, and all my father's house. (Gen. 41:51.) And Joseph said unto his father, Not so, my father; for this is the first-born; put thy right hand upon his head. (Gen. 48:18.)

b. And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, The daughters of Zelophehad speak right; thou shalt surely give them a possession of an inheritance among their father's brethren; and thou shalt cause the inheritance of their father to pass unto them. (Num. 27:6, 7.)

c. Neither did Manasseh drive out the inhabitants of Bethshean and her towns, nor Taanach and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Dor and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Ibleam and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Megiddo and her towns; but the Canaanites would dwell in that land. And it came to pass, when Israel was strong, that they put the Canaanites to tribute, and did not utterly drive them out. (Jud. 1:27, 28.)

d. And his father refused, and said, I know it, my son, I know it; he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great; but truly his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a multitude of nations. (Gen. 48:19.)

Chapter 18.

a. Then came near the heads of the fathers of the Levites unto Eleazar the priest, and unto Joshua the son of Nun, and unto the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel. And they spake unto them at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, saying, The Lord commanded by the hand of Moses to give us cities to dwell in, with the suburbs thereof for our cattle. (Josh. 21:1, 2.) But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I set my name at the first and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel. (Jer. 7:12.)

c. And the Lord spake unto Aaron, Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any part among them; I am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Israel. (Num 18:20.) Wherefore Levi hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren; the Lord is his inheritance, according as the Lord thy God promised him. (Dt. 10:9.) And it shall be unto them for an inheritance; I am their inheritance; ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. (Ezek. 44:28.)

the land, saying, Go and walk through the land, and describe it, and come again to me, that I may here cast lots for you before the Lord in Shī'lōh.

9 And the men went and passed through the land, and described it by cities into seven parts in a book, and came again to [2]Jŏsh'u-à to the host at Shī'lōh.

10 ¶ And [2]Jŏsh'u-à cast lots for them in Shī'lōh before the [3]Lord: and there Jŏsh'u-à divided the land unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el according to their divisions.

11 ¶ [5]And the lot of the tribe of the children of Bĕn'ja-min came up according to their families: and the coast of their lot came forth between the children of Jū'dah and the children of Jō'sĕph.

12 And their border on the north side was from Jor'dan; and the border went up to the side of Jĕr'ĭ-chō on the north side, and went up through the mountains westward; and the goings out thereof were at the wilderness of Bĕth-ā'ven.

13 And the border went over from thence toward Lŭz, to the side of Lŭz, [d]which is Bĕth'-el, southward; and the border descended to Āt'a-rŏth-ā'dăr, near the hill that lieth on the south side of the nether Bĕth-hō'rŏn.

14 And the border was drawn thence, and compassed the corner of the sea southward, from the hill that lieth before Bĕth-hō'rŏn southward; and the goings out thereof were at Kĭr'jath-bā'al, which is Kĭr'jath-jē'a-rĭm, a city of the children of Jū'dah: this was the west quarter.

15 And the south quarter was from the end of Kĭr'jath-jē'a-rĭm, and the border went out on the west, and went out to the well of waters of Nĕph'to-ah:

16 And the border came down to the end of the mountain that lieth before the valley of the son of Hĭn'nom, and which is in the valley of the giants on the north, and descended to the valley of Hĭn'nom, to the side of Je-bū'si on the south, and descended to Ĕn-rō'gĕl,

17 And was drawn from the north, and went forth to Ĕn-shē'mesh, and went forth toward Gĕl'ĭ-lŏth, which is over against the going up of A-dŭm'mĭm, and descended to the stone of Bō'han the son of Reu'ben,

18 And passed along toward the side over against Ār'a-bah northward, and went down unto Ăr'a-bah:

19 And the border passed along to the side of Bĕth-hŏg'lah northward: and the outgoings of the border were at the north bay of the salt sea at the south end of Jor'dan: this was the south coast.

20 And Jor'dan was the border of it on the east side. This was the inheritance of the children of Bĕn'ja-min, by the coasts thereof round about, according to their families.

21 Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Bĕn'ja-min according to their families were Jĕr'ĭ-chō, and Bĕth-hŏg'lah, and the valley of Kĕ'ziz,

22 And Bĕth-ăr'a-bah, and Zĕm-a-rā'im, and Bĕth'-el,

23 And Ā'vĭm, and Pā'rah, and Ŏph'rah,

24 And Chĕ'phăr-ha-ăm'mo-nāi, and Ŏph'nī, and Gā'bà; twelve cities with their villages:

25 Gĭb'e-on, and Rā'mah, and Be-ē'rŏth,

26 And Mĭz'peh, and Che-phī'rah, and Mō'zah,

27 And Rĕ'kem, and Ĭr'pĕ-el, and Tăr'a-lah,

28 And Zē'lah, Ĕ'leph, and Je-bū'si, which is Je-ru'sa-lĕm, Gĭb'e-ath, and Kĭr'jath; fourteen cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the children of Bĕn'ja-min [e]according to their families.

5. Vs. 11-28 give an account of Benjamin's lot. B.'s portion lay to the south of Joseph's, so the descendants of Rachel were adjoining each other. B.'s lot included the site of the sacred edifice on Mt. Moriah, which constitutes a fulfillment of the prophecy in Dt. 33:12—"And of Benjamin he said, The beloved of the Lord shall dwell in safety by him; and the Lord shall cover him all the day long and he shall dwell between his shoulders."

Ch. 19. B. C. 1444.

1. Vs. 1-9 describe Simeon's lot as taken out of the original lot of Judah. Thus fulfilling the prophecy of Jacob in Gen. 49:7 —"Cursed be their anger for it was fierce; and their wrath for it was cruel. I will divide them in Jacob and scatter them in Israel."

2. Vs. 10-16 detail the lot of Zebulun.

3. Vs. 17-23 detail the lot of Issachar. Their portion was bounded on the north by Zebulun, on the east by the Jordan, on the south and west by Manasseh. It embraced a large portion of the plain of Esdraelon. In order to secure this desirable land the children of Issachar had humbly bowed themselves to the service of the Canaanites. They almost assumed a slavish servitude to them, thus strikingly fulfilling the prophecy of dying Jacob in Gen. 49:14, 15—"Issachar is a strong ass couching down between two burdens: And he saw that rest was good, and the land that it was pleasant: and bowed his shoulder to bear, and became a servant unto tribute."

CHAPTER 19.

1 The lot of Simeon, 10 of Zebulun, 17 of Issachar, 24 of Asher, 32 of Naphtali, 40 of Dan. 49 The children of Israel give an inheritance to Joshua.

1 [1]And the second lot came forth to Sĭm'e-on, even for the tribe of the children of Sĭm'e-on according to their families: and their inheritance was [a]within the inheritance of the children of Jū'dah.

2 And they had in their inheritance Bē'er-shĕ'bà, and Shĕ'bà, and Mŏl'a-dah,

3 And Hā'zar-shu'al, and Bā'lah, and Ā'zem,

4 And Ĕl'to-lăd, and Bĕ'thŭl, and Hor'mah,

5 And Zĭk'lăg, and Bĕth-mär'că-bŏth, and Hā'zar-sū'sah,

6 And Bĕth-lĕb'a-ōth, and Sha-ru'hen; thirteen cities and their villages:

7 Ā'ĭn, Rĕm'mon, and Ē'thĕr, and Ā'shan; four cities and their villages:

8 And all the villages that were round about these cities to Bā'al-ath-bē'ĕr, Rā'math of the south. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Sĭm'e-on according to their families.

9 Out of the portion of the children of Jū'dah [a]was the inheritance of the children of Sĭm'e-on: for the part of the children of Jū'dah was too much for them: therefore the children of Sĭm'e-on had their inheritance within the inheritance of them.

10 ¶ [2]And the third lot came up for the children of Zĕb'u-lun according to their families: and the border of their inheritance was unto Sā'rid:

11 And their border went up toward the sea, and Măr'a-lah, and reached to Dăb'bashĕth, and reached to the river that is before Jŏk'ne-ăm;

12 And turned from Sā'rid eastward toward the sunrising unto the border of Chĭs'lŏth-tā'bor, and then goeth out to Dăb'e-răth, and goeth up to Ja-phī'a,

13 And from thence passeth on along on the east to Gĭt'tah-hē'phĕr, to Ĭt'tah-kā'zin, and goeth out to Rĕm'mon-meth'o-ăr to Nē'ah;

14 And the border compasseth it on the north side to Han'na-thon: and the outgoings thereof are in the valley of Jĭph'thah-el:

15 And Kăt'tath, and Na-hăl'lal, and Shĭm'rŏn, and I-dā'lah, and Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm: twelve cities with their villages.

16 This is the [b]inheritance of the children of Zĕb'u-lun according to their families, these cities with their villages.

17 ¶ [3]And the fourth lot came out to Ĭs'sachar, for the children of Ĭs'sa-char according to their families.

18 And their border was toward Jĕz're-el, and Che-sŭl'lŏth, and Shu'nem, 19 And Haph-rā'im, and Shī'hŏn, and Ăn-ă-hā'rath,

20 And Răb'bĭth, and Kĭsh'ĭ-ōn, and Ā'bĕz,

21 And Rē'meth, and Ĕn-găn'nĭm, and Ĕn-hăd'dah, and Bĕth-păz'zez;

22 And the coast reacheth to Tā'bor, and Sha-hăz'ĭ-mah, and Bĕth-shē'mĕsh; and the outgoings of their border were at Jor'dan: sixteen cities with their villages.

23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ĭs'sa-char according to their families, the cities and their villages.

d. And he called the name of that place Bethel; but the name of that city was called Luz at the first. (Gen. 28:19.) And the house of Joseph sent to descry Bethel. (Now the name of the city before was Luz.) (Jud. 1:23.)

e. And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation. (Acts 17:26.)

Chapter 19.

a. Cursed be their anger, for it was fierce; and their wrath for it was cruel; I will divide them in Jacob and scatter them in Israel. (Gen. 49:7.)

b. See e ch. 18.

24 ¶ [4]And the fifth lot came out for the tribe of the children of Ăsh'ĕr according to their families.

25 And their border was Hĕl'kăth, and Hă'lī, and Bē'ten, and Ăch'shăph, 26 And A-lăm'me-lech, and Ă'măd, and Mī'-she-al; and reacheth to [5]Cär'mel [c]westward, and to Shī'hor-lĭb'nath;

27 And turneth toward the sunrising to Bĕth-dā'gon, and reacheth to Zĕb'u-lun, and to the valley of Jĭph'thah-el toward the north side of Bĕth-ē'mĕk, and Nē'ĭ-el, and goeth out to Cā'bŭl on the left hand,

28 And Hē'bron, and Rē'hŏb, and Hăm'-mŏn, and Kā'nah, even unto great Zī'dŏn;

29 And then the coast turneth to Rā'mah, and to the strong city Tȳre; and the coast turneth to Hō'sah; and the outgoings thereof are at the sea from the coast to Ăch'zīb:

30 Ŭm'mah also, and Ă'phek, and Rē'hŏb: twenty and two cities with their villages.

31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ăsh'ĕr according to their families, these cities with their villages.

32 ¶ [6]The sixth lot came out to the children of Năph'ta-lī even for the children of Năph'-ta-lī according to their families.

33 And their coast was from Hē'leph, from Ăl'lŏn to Zā'a-năn'nim, and Ăd'a-mī, Nē'keb, and Jăb'ne-el, unto Lā'kŭm; and the outgoings thereof were at Jor'dan:

34 And then the coast turneth westward to Ăz'nŏth-tā'bor, and goeth out from thence to Hŭk'kŏk, and reacheth to Zĕb'u-lun on the south side, and reacheth to Ăsh'ĕr on the west side, and to Jū'dah upon Jor'dan toward the sunrising.

35 And the fenced cities are Zĭd'dim, Zēr, and Hăm'măth, Răk'kăth, and Chĭn'ne-rĕth, 36 And Ăd'a-mah, and Rā'mah, and Hā'zor,

37 And Kē'desh, and Ēd're-ī, and Ēn-hā'zor,

38 And Ī'ron, and Mĭg'dal-ēl, Hō'rem, and Bĕth-ā'năth, and Bĕth-shē'mĕsh; nineteen cities with their villages.

39 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Năph'ta-lī according to their families, the cities and their villages.

40 ¶ [7]And the seventh lot came out for the tribe of the children of Dăn according to their families.

41 And the coast of their inheritance was Zō'rah, and Ēsh'tă-ŏl, and Ĭr-shē'mĕsh, 42 And Sha-al-ăb'bin, and Ăj'a-lŏn, and Jĕth'lah,

43 And Ē'lŏn, and Thĭm'na-thah, and Ēk'-rŏn,

44 And Ĕl'te-keh, and Gĭb'be-thon, and Bā'-al-ath,

45 And Jē'hŭd, and Bĕn'e-bē'răk, and Găth-rĭm'mon,

46 And Me-jär'kŏn, and Răk'kŏn, with the border before Jā'phō.

47 And the [d]coast of the children of Dăn went out too little for them: therefore the children of Dăn went up to fight against Lē'-shem, and took it and [e]smote it with the edge of the sword, and possessed it, and dwelt therein, and called Lē'shem, Dăn, after the name of Dăn their father.

48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dăn according to their families, these cities with their villages.

49 ¶ [8]When they had made an end of dividing the land for inheritance by their coasts, the children of Īs'ra-el gave an inheritance to Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nŭn among them:

50 [9]According to the word of the Lord they gave him the city which he asked, even Tĭm'-nath-sē'rah in mount Ē'phrā'ĭm: and he built the city, and dwelt therein.

51 These are the inheritances, which Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nŭn, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Īs'ra-el, divided for an inheritance by lot in Shī'lōh before the Lord, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. So they made an end of dividing the country.

CHAPTER 20.

1 God commandeth, 7 and the children of Israel appoint the six cities of refuge.

1 The [1]Lord also spake unto [2]Jŏsh'u-a, saying,

2 Speak to the children of Īs'ra-el, saying, Appoint out for you [c]cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Mō'şeş:

3 That the slayer that killeth any person unawares and unwittingly may flee thither: and they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood.

4 And when he that doth flee unto one of those cities shall stand at the entering of the gate of the city, and shall declare his cause in the ears of the elders of that city, they shall take him into the city unto them, and give him a place, that he may dwell among them.

5 And if the avenger of blood pursue after him, then they shall not deliver the slayer up into his hand; because he smote his neighbour unwittingly, and hated him not beforetime.

6 And he shall dwell in that city, [b]until he stand before the congregation for judgment, and until the death of the high priest that shall be in those days: then shall the slayer return, and come unto his own city, and unto his own house, unto the city from whence he fled.

7 ¶ [3]And [4]they appointed Kē'desh in Găl'ĭ-lēe in mount Năph'ta-lī, and Shē'chem in mount Ē'phrā'ĭm, and Kĭr'jath-är'bà, which is Hē'-bron, in the mountain of Jū'dah.

8 And on the other side Jor'dan by Jĕr'ĭ-chō eastward, they assigned Bē'zēr in the wilderness upon the plain out of the tribe of Reu'-ben, and Rā'moth in Gĭl'e-ăd out of the tribe of Găd, and Gō'lan in Bā'shăn out of the tribe of Ma-năs'seh.

9 These [c]were the cities appointed for all the children of Īs'ra-el, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them, that whosoever killeth any person at unawares might flee thither, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he stood before the congregation.

4. Vs. 24-31 detail the lot of Asher, which extended along the shores of the Mediterranean from Tantura, south of Mt. Carmel, to Zidon on the north, and to Zibulun and Naphtah on the east, and included the rich plain of Phoenicia, fulfilling the prophecy of Jacob (Gen. 49:20) — "His bread shall be fat and he shall yield royal dainties," and of Moses in Dt. 33:24, 25—"He shall dip his foot in oil, his shoes shall be iron and brass." The great plain of Phoenicia was rich in corn, wine and oil and contained many manufactories and skilled workmen in iron and brass.

5. A range of connected mountains some 1,500 feet high; is described by all travelers as being one of the most beautiful districts extant.

6. Vs. 32-39 detail the selection of Naphtali's portion, which was bounded on the east by the Sea of Galilee and the Jordan, on the west and north by Asher and south by Zebulun. The richness of Naphtali's portion is pointed out in the song of Moses where he speaks of him in Dt. 33:23 — "Satisfied with the favor, and full with the blessing of the Lord, possessing the west and the south."

7. Vs. 40-48 detail the portion of Dan, which was the seventh lot selected. It lay on the west of Benjamin, partially surrounded by Judah and Ephraim. Its boundaries are not stated, being easily located as they were.

8. Vs. 49, 50 detail the inheritance of Joshua; his portion was not selected by lot, but by himself, according to the word of the Lord.

9. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

Ch. 20. B. C. 1444.

NOTE.—Chs. 20, 21 are devoted to the naming of the cities of refuge and the Levitical cities. Among all classes of people there is an inherent sense of justice which impels men to seek the punishment of evil-doers. Among uncultivated people immediate punishment is always inflicted, therefore the cities of refuge were set apart for the purpose of affording the homicide protection from the vengeance of an irate people and to grant the suspected a just trial. Vs. 1-6 record the Lord's command to Joshua regarding cities of refuge.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

4. In vs. 7-9 the Israelites appoint by name the cities of refuge. There were three on the west and three on the east of Jordan.

---

c. Now therefore send, and gather to me all Israel unto mount Carmel and the prophets of Baal four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, which eat at Jezebel's table. (I Ks. 18:19.) As I live, saith the King, whose name is the Lord of hosts, Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel by the sea, so shall he come. (Jer. 46:18.)

d. In those days there was no king in Israel, and in those days the tribe of the Danites sought them an inheritance to dwell in; for unto that day all their inheritance had not fallen unto them among the tribes of Israel. (Jud. 18:1.)

e. Dan shall be a serpent by the way, an adder in the path, that biteth the horse heels so that his rider shall fall backward. (Gen. 49:17.)

Chapter 20.

a. And if a man lie not in wait, but God deliver him into his hand; then I will appoint thee a place whither he shall flee. (Ex. 21:13.) Then ye shall appoint you cities to be cities of refuge for you; that the slayer may flee thither, which killeth any person at unawares (11). Ye shall give three cities on this side of Jordan, and three cities shall ye give in the land of Canaan, which shall be cities of refuge. (Num. 35:11, 14.) Thou shalt separate three cities for thee in the midst of thy land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it (2). If thou shalt keep all these commandments to do them, which I command thee this day, to love the Lord thy God and to walk ever in his ways; then shalt thou add three cities more for thee, beside these three. (Dt. 19:2, 9.)

b. And the congregation shall deliver the slayer out of the hand of the revenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of refuge, whither he has fled: and he shall abide in it unto the death of the high priest, which was anointed with the holy oil. (Num. 35:25.)

c. These six cities shall be a refuge, both for the children of Israel and for the stranger, and for the sojourner among them; that every one that killeth any person unawares may flee thither. (Num. 35:15.)

CHAPTER 21.

1 Eight and forty cities given by lot, out of the other tribes, unto the Levites. 43 God gave the land, and rest unto the Israelites.

1 Then came near the heads of the fathers of the Lē'vītes unto Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and unto Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nŭn, and unto the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el;

2 And they spake unto them at Shī'lōh [a]in the land of Cā'năan, saying, The [1]Lord [b]commanded by the hand of Mō'sĕs to give us cities to dwell in, with the [2]suburbs thereof for our cattle.

3 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el gave unto the Lē'vītes out of their inheritance, at the commandment of the Lord, these cities and their suburbs.

4 And the lot came out for the families of the Kō'hath-ītes: and the children of Aâr'on the priest, which were of the Lē'vītes, had by lot out of the tribe of Jū'dah, and out of the tribe of Sĭm'e-on, and out of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-min, thirteen cities.

5 And the rest of the children of Kō'hath had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ē'phrăĭm, and out of the tribe of Dăn, and out of the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh, ten cities.

6 And the children of Gēr'shŏn had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ĭs'sa-char, and out of the tribe of Āsh'ēr, and out of the tribe of Năph'ta-lī, and out of the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh in Bā'shăn, thirteen cities.

7 The children of Me-rā'rī by their families had out of the tribe of Reu'ben, and out of the tribe of Găd, and out of the tribe of Zĕb'u-lun, twelve cities.

8 And the [c]children of Ĭs'ra-el gave by lot unto the Lē'vītes these cities with their suburbs, [d]as the Lord commanded by the hand of Mō'sĕs.

9 ¶ [3]And they gave out of the tribe of the children of Jū'dah, and out of the tribe of the children of Sĭm'e-on, these cities which are here mentioned by name,

10 Which the children of Aâr'on, being of the families of the Kō'hath-ītes, who were of the children of Lē'vī, had: for their's was the first lot.

11 And they gave them the city of Är'bà the father of Ā'năk, which city is Hē'bron, in the hill country of Jū'dah, with the suburbs thereof round about it.

12 But the fields of the city, and the villages thereof, gave they to Cā'leb the son of Je-phŭn'neh for his possession.

13 ¶ Thus they gave to the children of Aâr'on the priest Hē'bron with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Lĭb'nah with her suburbs,

14 And Jăt'tĭr with her suburbs, and Ēsh-tē-mō'à with her suburbs,

15 And Hō'lŏn with her suburbs, and Dē'bĭr with her suburbs,

16 And Ā'ĭn with her suburbs, and Jŭt'tah with her suburbs, and Bĕth-shē'mĕsh with her suburbs; nine cities out of those two tribes.

17 And out of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-min, Gĭb'e-on with her suburbs, Gē'bà with her suburbs, 18 Ăn'a-thoth with her suburbs, and Ăl'mŏn with her suburbs; four cities.

19 All the cities of the children of Aâr'on, the priests, were thirteen cities with their suburbs.

Ch. 21. B. C. 1444.

NOTE.—This ch. records the selection of the Levitical cities. Vs. 1-8 enumerate the 41 cities given by lot out of the portion of the other tribes unto the Levites.

1. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

2. The suburbs here mentioned are laid down in Num. 35:4, 5, but very obscurely, therefore there is great diversity among expositors as to the form of their location.

3. Vs. 9-42 detail the cities of the priests.

4. Vs. 43-45 record the divine promises fulfilled when God gave the people rest.

20 ¶ And the families of the children of Kō'hath, the Lē'vītes which remained of the children of Kō'hath, even they had the cities of their lot out of the tribe of Ē'phrăĭm.

21 For they gave them Shē'chem with her suburbs in mount Ē'phrăĭm, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Gē'zēr with her suburbs, 22 And Kĭb'za-im with her suburbs, and Bĕth-hō'rŏn with her suburbs; four cities.

23 And out of the tribe of Dăn, Ēl'te-keh with her suburbs, Gĭb'be-thon with her suburbs, 24 Ăĭj'a-lŏn with her suburbs, Găth-rĭm'mon with her suburbs; four cities.

25 And out of the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh, Tā'năch with her suburbs, and Găth-rĭm'mon with her suburbs; two cities.

26 All the cities were ten with their suburbs for the families of the children of Kō'hath that remained.

27 ¶ And unto the children of Gēr'shŏn, of the families of the Lē'vītes, out of the other half tribe of Ma-năs'seh they gave Gō'lan in Bā'shăn with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Be-ĕsh'-te-rah with her suburbs; two cities.

28 But out of the tribe of Ĭs'sa-char, Kĭ'shon with her suburbs, Dăb'a-reh with her suburbs, 29 Jär'mŭth with her suburbs, Ĕn-găn'nĭm with her suburbs; four cities.

30 And out of the tribe of Āsh'ēr, Mĭ'shal with her suburbs, Āb'dŏn with her suburbs, 31 Hĕl'kăth with her suburbs, and Rē'hŏb with her suburbs; four cities.

32 And out of the tribe of Năph'ta-lī, Kē'desh in Găl'ĭ-lēe with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Hăm'moth-dor with her suburbs, and Kär'tan with her suburbs; three cities.

33 All the cities of the Gēr'shon-ītes according to their families were thirteen cities with their suburbs.

34 ¶ And unto the families of the children of Me-rā'rī, the rest of the Lē'vītes, out of the tribe of Zĕb'u-lun, Jŏk'ne-ăm with her suburbs, and Kär'tah with her suburbs, 35 Dĭm'nah with her suburbs, Nā'ha-lăl with her suburbs; four cities.

36 And out of the tribe of Reu'ben, Bē'zēr with her suburbs, and Ja-hā'zah with her suburbs, 37 Kĕd'e-mŏth with her suburbs, and Mĕph'a-ăth with her suburbs; four cities.

38 And out of the tribe of Găd, Rā'moth in Gĭl'e-ăd with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Mā-ha-nā'ĭm with her suburbs, 39 Hĕsh'bŏn with her suburbs, Jā'zēr with her suburbs; four cities in all.

40 So all the cities for the children of Me-rā'rī by their families, which were remaining of the families of the Lē'vītes, were by their lot twelve cities.

41 All [e]the cities of the Lē'vītes within the possession of the children of Ĭs'ra-el were forty and eight cities with their suburbs.

42 These cities were every one with their suburbs round about them: thus were all these cities.

43 ¶ [4]And the [1]Lord gave unto Ĭs'ra-el all the land which he sware to give unto their fathers; and they possessed it, and dwelt therein.

Chapter 21.

a. And the whole congregation of the children of Israel assembled together at Shiloh, and set up the tabernacle of the congregation there. (Josh. 18:1.)

b. Command the children of Israel, that they give unto the Levites, of the inheritance of their possession cities to dwell in; and ye shall give also unto the Levites suburbs for the cities round about them. (Num. 35:2.)

c. Cursed be their anger, for it was fierce; and their wrath for it was cruel: I will divide them in Jacob, and scatter them in Israel. (Gen. 49:7.) The lot is cast into the lap; but the whole disposing thereof is of the Lord. (Prov. 16:33.)

d. See b, ch. 21.

e. So all the cities which we shall give to the Levites shall be forty and eight cities; them shall ye give with their suburbs. (Num. 35:7.) They shall teach Jacob thy judgments, and Israel thy law; they shall put incense before thee, and whole burnt sacrifice upon thine altar. (Dt. 33:10.)

44 And the [1]Lord gave them rest round about, according to all that he sware unto their fathers: and there stood not a man of all their enemies before them; the [1]Lord delivered all their enemies into their hand.

45 There [f]failed not ought of any good thing which the [1]Lord had spoken unto the house of Ĭs'ra-el; all came to pass.

CHAPTER 22.

1 The two tribes and half with a blessing are sent home. 10 They build the altar of testimony in their journey. 11 The Israelites are offended thereat. 21 They give them good satisfaction.

1 Then [1]Jŏsh'u-â called the Reu'ben-ītes, and the Găd'ītes, and the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh,

2 And said unto them, Ye have kept [a]all that Mō'şeş the servant of the [2]Lord commanded you, [b]and have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you:

3 Ye have not left your brethren these many days unto this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of the [2]Lord your God.

4 And now the Lord your God hath given rest unto your brethren, as he promised them: therefore now return ye, and get you unto your tents, and unto the land of your possession, [c]which Mō'şeş the servant of the [2]Lord gave you on the other side Jor'dan.

5 But [d]take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law, which Mō'şeş the servant of the Lord charged you, [e]to love the [2]Lord your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave unto him, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

6 So Jŏsh'u-â [f]blessed them, and sent them away: and they went unto their tents.

7 ¶ Now to the one half of the tribe of Ma-năs'seh Mō'şeş had given possession in Bā'shăn: but unto the other half thereof gave [1]Jŏsh'u-â among their brethren on this side Jor'dan westward. And when Jŏsh'u-â sent them away also unto their tents, then he blessed them,

8 And he spake unto them, saying, Return with much riches unto your tents, and with very much cattle, with silver, and with gold, and with brass, and with iron, and with very much raiment: divide the spoil of your enemies with your brethren.

9 ¶ And the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh returned, and departed from the children of Ĭs'ra-el out of Shī'lōh, which is in the land of Cā'năan, to go unto the country of Gĭl'e-ăd, to the land of their possession, whereof they were possessed, according to the word of the [2]Lord by the hand of Mō'şeş.

10 ¶ [3]And when they came unto the borders of Jor'dan, that are in the land of Cā'năan, the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh built there an altar by Jor'dan, a great altar to see to.

11 ¶ And the children of Ĭs'ra-el heard say, Behold, the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh have built an altar over against the land of Cā'năan, in the borders of Jor'dan, at the passage of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

12 And when the children of Ĭs'ra-el heard of it, the whole congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el gathered themselves together at Shī'lōh, to go up to war against them.

13 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el sent [g]unto the children of Reu'ben, and to the children of Găd, and to the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh, into the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, Phĭn'e-has the son of Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, 14 And with him ten princes, of each chief house a prince throughout all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el; and each one was an head of the house of their fathers among the thousands of Ĭs'ra-el.

15 ¶ And they came unto the children of Reu'ben, and to the children of Găd, and to the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh, unto the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, and they spake with them, saying,

16 Thus saith the whole congregation of the [2]Lord, What trespass is this that ye have committed against the God of Ĭs'ra-el, to turn away this day from following the [2]Lord, in that ye have builded you an altar, [h]that ye might rebel this day against the Lord?

17 Is the iniquity of Pē'or too little for us, from which we are not cleansed until this day, although there was a plague in the congregation of the Lord,

18 But that ye must turn away this day from following the Lord? and it will be, seeing ye rebel to day against the [2]Lord, that to morrow he will be [4]wroth with the whole congregation of Ĭs'ra-el.

19 Notwithstanding, if the land of your possession be unclean, then pass ye over unto the land of the possession of the [2]Lord, wherein the Lord's tabernacle dwelleth, and take possession among us: but rebel not against the [2]Lord, nor rebel against us, in building you an altar beside the altar of the Lord our God.

20 Did not [i]Ā'chăn the son of Zē'rah commit a trespass in the accursed thing, and wrath fell on all the congregation of Ĭs'ra-el? and that man perished not alone in his iniquity.

21 ¶ Then the [j]children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the half tribe of Ma-năs'seh answered, and said unto the heads of the thousands of Ĭs'ra-el,

22 The [2]Lord God of gods, the [2]Lord God of gods, he [k]knoweth, and Ĭs'ra-el he shall

Ch. 22. B. C. 1444.

NOTE.—In this ch. the two and a half tribes are dismissed with a blessing (vs. 1-9).

1. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Vs. 10-34 detail the building of an altar of witness at the Jordan by the two and a half tribes.

4. The moral world is filled with an inflexible law, even more so than the physical world, as the physical may be suspended for the moral.

f. And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrow; And I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them up out of that land unto a good land and a large, unto a land flowing with milk and honey. (Ex. 3:7, 8.) Blessed be the Lord, that hath given rest unto his people Israel, according to all that he promised; there hath not failed one word of all his good promise which he promised by the hand of Moses his servant. (I Ks. 8:56.)

Chapter 22.

a. The Lord your God hath given you this land to possess it; ye shall pass over armed before your brethren the children of Israel, all that are meet for the war. (Dt. 3:18.)

b. See ch. 1:16, 17.

c. And Moses gave unto them, even to the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, and unto half the tribe of Manasseh the son of Joseph, the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites, and the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, the land, with the cities thereof in the coast, even the cities of the country round about. (Num. 32:33.)

d. And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart (6). Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and his testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee. (Dt. 6:6, 17.) Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently. (Ps. 119:4.) Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. (Rom. 13:10.) Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned. (I Tim. 1:5.)

e. And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul. (Dt. 10:12.) For this is the love of God that we keep his commandments; and his commandments are not grievous. (I Jno. 5:3.)

f. And as soon as David had made an end of offering burnt offerings and peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord of hosts. (II Sam. 6:18.) And he led them out as far as to Bethany, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. (Lu. 24:50.)

g. Then shalt thou enquire, and make search, and ask diligently; and, behold, if it be true, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought among you. (Dt. 13:14.)

h. Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy burnt offerings in every place that thou seest: But in the place which the Lord shall choose in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, and there thou shalt do all that I command thee. (Dt. 12:13, 14.) For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, he hath also rejected thee from being king. (I Sam. 15:23.)

i. But the children of Israel committed a trespass in the accursed thing: for Achan, the son of Carmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, took of the accursed thing; and the anger of the Lord was kindled against the children of Israel (1). And the men of Ai smote of them about thirty and six men. (Josh. 7:1, 5.)

j. A soft answer turneth away wrath; but grievous words stir up anger. (Prov. 15:1.) He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him. (Prov. 18:13.)

k. Then hear thou in heaven thy dwelling place, and forgive, and do, and give to every man according to his ways, whose heart thou knowest; (for thou, even thou only, knowest the hearts of all the children of men). (I Ks. 8:39.) But he knoweth the way that I take: when he know; if it be in rebellion, or if in transgression against the Lord, (save us not this day,)

23 That we have built us an altar to turn from following the [2]Lord, or if to offer thereon burnt offering or meat offering, or if to offer peace offerings thereon, let the [2]Lord himself require it;

24 And if we have not rather done it for fear of this thing, saying, In time to come your children might speak unto our children, saying, What have ye to do with the [2]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el?

25 For the [2]Lord hath made Jor'dan a border between us and you, ye children of Reu'ben and children of Găd; ye have no part in the Lord: so shall your children make our children cease from fearing the [2]Lord.

26 Therefore we said, Let us now prepare to build us an altar, not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice:

27 But that it may be [l]a witness between us, and you, and our generations after us, that we might [m]do the service of the [2]Lord before him with our [4]burnt offerings, and with our sacrifices, and with our peace [5]offerings; that your children may not say to our children in time to come, Ye have no part in the [2]Lord.

28 Therefore said we, that it shall be, when they should so say to us or to our generations in time to come, that we may say again, Behold the pattern of the altar of the [2]Lord, which our fathers made, not for burnt offerings, nor for sacrifices; but it is a witness between us and you.

29 God forbid that we should rebel against the [2]Lord, and turn this day from following the Lord, to build an altar for burnt offerings, for meat offerings, or for sacrifices, beside the altar of the Lord our God, that is before his tabernacle.

30 ¶ And when Phĭn'e-has the priest, and the princes of the congregation and heads of the thousands of Ĭs'ra-el which were with him, heard the words that the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the children of Ma-năs'seh spake, it pleased them.

31 And Phĭn'e-has the son of Ē-le-ā'zar the priest said unto the children of Reu'ben, and to the children of Găd, and to the children of Ma-năs'seh, This day we perceive that the [2]Lord is [n]among us, because ye have not committed this trespass against the [2]Lord: now ye have delivered the children of Ĭs'ra-el out of the hand of the [2]Lord.

32 ¶ And Phĭn'e-has the son of Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and the princes, returned from the children of Reu'ben, and from the children of Găd, out of the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, unto the land of Că'năan, to the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and brought them word again.

33 And the thing pleased the children of Ĭs'ra-el; and the children of Ĭs'ra-el [o]blessed God, and did not intend to go up against them in battle, to destroy the land wherein the children of Reu'ben and Găd dwelt.

34 And the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd called the altar [6]Ĕd: for it shall be a witness between us that the Lord is God.

4. The sacrifice to be completely burned as a sweet savor to Jehovah, offered when one was in the mood of grief or apprehension to secure protection against threatened danger or disaster.

5. A thanksgiving offering of one in the enjoyment of peace afforded by a clear conscience and was to be eaten by the offerer and his friends in a festive banquet, therefore offered to God in gratitude for blessings received. The peace offering was a vehicle for thanksgiving.

6. These words are not in the original; we may correctly render them, "The children of God named the altar, that it might be a witness among us that Jehovah is God."

CHAPTER 23.

1 Joshua's exhortation before his death, 3 by former benefits, 5 by promises, 11 and by threatenings.

1 And it came to pass a [1]long time after that the [2]Lord [a]had given rest unto Ĭs'ra-el from all their enemies round about, that [3]Jŏsh'u-ă waxed old and stricken in age.

2 And Jŏsh'u-ă called for all Ĭs'ra-el, and for their elders, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers, and said unto them, I am old and stricken in age:

3 And ye have seen all that the [2]Lord your God hath done unto all these nations because of you; for the [2]Lord your God is he that hath fought for you.

4 Behold, I have divided unto you by lot these nations that remain, to be an inheritance for your tribes, from Jor'dan, with all the nations that I have cut off, even unto the great sea westward.

5 [4]And the [2]Lord your God, he shall expel them from before you, and drive them from out of your sight; and ye shall possess their land, as the [2]Lord your God hath promised unto you.

6 Be ye therefore very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the book of the law of Mō̆'sĕs, that ye [b]turn not aside therefrom to the right hand or to the left;

7 That ye [c]come not among these nations, these that remain among you; neither make [d]mention of the name of their gods, nor cause to swear by them, neither serve them, nor bow yourselves unto them:

8 But cleave unto the [2]Lord your God, as ye have done unto this day.

9 For the [2]Lord hath driven out from before you great nations and strong: but as for you, [e]no man hath been able to stand before you unto this day.

10 One man of you shall chase a thousand: for the [2]Lord your God, he it is that fighteth for you, as he hath promised you.

11 Take good heed therefore unto yourselves, that ye love the [2]Lord your God.

12 [5]Else if ye do in any wise go back, and cleave unto the remnant of these nations, even these that remain among you, and shall make marriages with them, and go in unto them, and they to you:

13 Know for a certainty that the [2]Lord your God will no more drive out any of these nations from before you; [f]but they shall be snares and traps unto you, and scourges in

1. About 14 years after the conquest, about 7 years after the division of Canaan and in the 110th year of Joshua's life.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

4. Vs. 5-11 detail Joshua's pleading with the people to remain faithful to Jehovah their God, as the fulfillment of many of his promises to them was assurance that all promises would be fulfilled.

5. Vs. 12-16 declare the threatenings of punishment in case of disobedience to be as certain as the fulfillment of promises which are the result of obedience.

hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold. (Job 23:10.) Shall not God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart. (Ps. 44:21.) O Lord, thou hast searched me and known me. Thou knowest my down-sitting and mine up-rising, thou understandest my thought afar off. (Ps. 139:1, 2.) But thou, O Lord, knowest me, thou hast seen me and tried mine heart toward thee. (Jer. 12:3.)

l. And Laban said, This heap is a witness between me and thee this day. Therefore was the name of it called Galeed. (Gen. 31:48.) Then Samuel took a stone and set it between Mizpeh and Shen, and called the name of it Ebenezer, saying, Hitherto hath the Lord helped us. (I Sam. 7:12.)

m. Then there shall be a place which the Lord your God shall choose to cause his name to dwell there; thither shall ye bring all that I command you; your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the heave offering of your hand, and all your choice vows which ye vow unto the Lord. And ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God, ye, and your sons, and your daughters, and your men-servants, and your maidservants, and the Levite that is within your gates; forasmuch as he hath no part nor inheritance with you (11-12). Only thy holy things which thou hast, and thy vows thou shalt take, and go unto the place which the Lord shall choose. (Dt. 12:11, 12, 26.)

n. And I will set my tabernacle among you, and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you and be your God, and ye shall be my people. (Lev. 26:11, 12.) In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you; for we have heard that God is with you. (Zech. 8:23.)

o. And David said to all the congregation, Now bless the Lord your God. And all the congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed down their heads, and worshipped the Lord, and the king. (I Chr. 29:20.) Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word. (Luke 2:28, 29.)

Chapter 23.

a. And the Lord gave them rest round about, according to all that ye sware unto their fathers: and there stood not a man of all their enemies before them; the Lord delivered all their enemies into their hand. (Josh 21:44.)

b. Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord your God hath commanded you: ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. (Dt. 5:32.)

c. Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men. (Prov. 4:14.)

d. Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another god; their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips. (Ps. 16:4.) How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots' houses. (Jer. 5:7.)

e. There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life; as I was with Moses, so I will be with thee; I will not fail thee nor forsake thee. (Josh. 1:5.)

f. For it came to pass, when Solomon was old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods: and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father. (I Ks. 11:4.)

your sides, and thorns in your eyes, until ye perish from off this good land which the [2]Lord your God hath given you.

14 And, behold, this day [g]I am going the way of all the earth: and ye know in all your hearts and in all your souls, that not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the [2]Lord your God spake concerning you; all are come to pass unto you, and not one thing hath failed thereof.

15 Therefore [h]it shall come to pass, that as all good things are come upon you, which the [2]Lord your God promised you; so shall the [2]Lord bring upon you all [i]evil things, until he have destroyed you from off this good land which the Lord your God hath given you.

16 When ye have transgressed the covenant of the [2]Lord your God, which he commanded you, and have gone and served other gods, and bowed yourselves to them; then shall the anger of the [2]Lord be kindled against you, and ye shall perish quickly from off the good land which he hath given unto you.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Joshua assembleth the tribes at Shechem. 14 He reneweth the covenant between them and God. 29 Joshua's age, death, and burial. 32 Joseph's bones are buried. 33 Eleazar dieth.

1 And Jŏsh'u-ă gathered all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el to Shē'chem, and called for the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers; and they [a]presented themselves before God.

2 [3]And [1]Jŏsh'u-ă said unto all the people, Thus saith the [2]Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el, Your fathers dwelt on the other side of the flood in old time, even Tē'rah, the father of Ā'bră-hăm, and the father of Nā'chor: and they served other gods.

3 And [b]I took your father Ā'bră-hăm from the other side of the flood, and led him throughout all the land of Cā'năan, and multiplied his seed, and gave him Ĭ'ṣaac.

4 And I gave unto [4]Ĭ'ṣaac [5]Jā'cob and [6]Ē'saụ: and I gave unto Ē'saụ mount Sē'ĭr, to possess it; but Jā'cob and his children went down into Ē'ġўpt.

5 [c]I sent [7]Mō'ṣeṣ also and Aâr'on, and [d]I plagued Ē'ġўpt, according to that which I did among them: and afterward I brought you out.

6 And I brought your fathers out of Ē'ġўpt: and ye came unto the sea; and the [e]Ē-ġўp'tians pursued after your fathers with chariots and horsemen unto the Red sea.

7 And when they cried unto the [2]Lord, he put darkness between you and the E-ġўp'tians, and brought the sea upon them, and covered them; and your eyes have seen what I have done in Ē'ġўpt: and ye dwelt in the wilderness a long season.

8 And I brought you into the land of the Ām'or-ītes, which dwelt on the other side Jor'dan; and they fought with you: and I gave them into your hand, that ye might possess their land; and I destroyed them from before you.

9 Then Bā'lăk the son of Zĭp'por, king of Mō'ab, arose and warred against Ĭs'ra-el, and sent and called Bā'laam the son of Bē'or to curse you:

10 But I [f]would not hearken unto Bā'laam; therefore he blessed you still: so I delivered you out of his hand.

11 And ye went over Jor'dan, and came unto Jĕr'ĭ-chō: and the men of Jĕr'ĭ-chō fought against you, the Ām'or-ītes, and the Pĕr'ĭzzītes, and the Cā'năan-ītes, and the Hĭt'tītes, and the Gĭr'ga-shītes, the Hī'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes; and I delivered them into your hand.

12 And I sent the hornet before you, which drave them out from before you, even the two kings of the Ām'or-ītes; but not [g]with thy sword, nor with thy bow.

13 And I have given you a land for which ye did not labour, and cities which ye built not, and ye dwell in them; of the vineyards and oliveyards which ye planted not do ye eat.

14 ¶ Now [h]therefore fear the [2]Lord, and serve him in [i]sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Ē'ġўpt; and serve ye the [2]Lord.

15 And if it seem evil unto you to serve the [2]Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Ām'or-ītes, in whose land ye dwell: [j]but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.

16 And the people answered and said, God forbid that we should forsake the Lord, to serve other gods;

17 For the [2]Lord our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Ē'ġўpt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed:

18 And the [2]Lord drave out from before us all the people, even the Ām'or-ītes which dwelt in the land: therefore will we also serve the [2]Lord; for he is our God.

19 And Jŏsh'u-ă said unto the people, [k]Ye cannot serve the [2]Lord: for he is an holy God;

Ch. 24. B. C. 1427.

NOTE.—This ch. contains Joshua's farewell address (vs. 1-24), also a subsequent addition to the book by some friendly hand, giving an account of Joshua's death.

1. For historical account of Josh. see 6, ch. 1.

2. Jehovah, the covenant-name of God.

3. Vs. 2-13 relate God's benefits and blessings. In this part of his address Joshua briefly capitulates the principal proofs of the divine goodness to Israel from the call of Abraham to their establishment in the Land of Promise, and showed them that they were indebted to Jehovah for all things and that they need claim no special fitness.

7. For historical account of Moses see 1, ch. 27, Dt.

g. These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. (Heb. 11:13.)

h. And it shall come to pass, that as the Lord rejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you; so the Lord will rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to nought; and ye shall be plucked from off the land whither thou goest to possess it. (Dt. 28:63.)

i. I also will do this unto you; I will even appoint over you terror, consumption, and the burning ague, that shall consume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart: and ye shall sow your seed in vain, and your enemies shall eat it. (Lev. 26:16.)

Chapter 24.

a. And ye have this day rejected your God, who himself saved you out of all your adversaries and your tribulations; and ye have said unto him, Nay, but set a king over us. Now therefore present yourselves before the Lord by your tribes, and by your thousands. (I Sam. 10:19.)

b. And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran. And said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall show thee. (Acts 7:2, 3.)

c. Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt. (Ex. 3:10.)

d. And the Lord said unto Moses, Go in unto Pharaoh; for I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants, that I might show these my signs before him. (Ex. 10:1.) And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt, saying, This month shall be unto you the beginning of months; it shall be the first month of the year to you. (Ex. 12:1, 2.)

e. But the Egyptians pursued after them, all the horses and chariots of Pharaoh, and his horsemen, and his army, and overtook them encamping by the sea. (Ex. 14:9.)

f. Nevertheless the Lord thy God would not hearken unto Balaam, but the Lord thy God turned the curse into a blessing unto thee, because the Lord thy God loved thee. (Dt. 23:5.)

g. For they got not the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them; but thy right hand and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst a favor unto them (3). For I will not trust in my bow, neither shall my sword save me. (Ps. 44:3, 6.)

h. And now Israel what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul? (Dt. 10:12.) And Samuel said to all the people, See ye him whom the Lord hath chosen, that there is none like him among all the people? And all the people shouted and said, God save the king. (I Sam. 10:24.)

i. And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me and be thou perfect. (Gen. 17:1.) Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God. (Dt. 18:13.) Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord. (Ps. 119:1.) Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. (Eph. 6:24.)

j. For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him. (Gen. 18:19.)

k. No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one and despise the he is a jealous God; [9]he will not forgive your transgressions nor your sins.

20 If ye forsake the [2]Lord, and serve strange gods, [l]then he will turn and do you hurt, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

21 And the people said unto [1]Jŏsh'u-à, Nay; but we will serve the [2]Lord.

22 And Jŏsh'u-à said unto the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves that ye have chosen you the [2]Lord, to serve him. And they said, We are witnesses.

23 Now therefore put away, said he, the strange gods which are among you, and incline your heart unto the Lord God of Ĭs'ra-el.

24 And the people said unto Jŏsh'u-à, The [2]Lord our God will we serve, and his voice will we obey.

25 [8]So [1]Jōsh'u-à [m]made a covenant with the people that day, and set them a statute and an ordinance in Shē'chem.

26 ¶ And [1]Jŏsh'u-à wrote these words in the book of the law of God, and took a great stone, and set it up there under an oak, that was by the sanctuary of the [2]Lord.

27 And [1]Jŏsh'u-à said unto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be a witness unto us; for it hath heard all the words of the Lord which he spake unto us: it shall be therefore a witness unto you, lest ye deny our God.

28 So [1]Jŏsh'u-à let the people depart, every man unto his inheritance.

29 ¶ [10]And it came to pass after these things, that [1]Jŏsh'u-à the son of Nŭn, the servant of the [2]Lord, died, being an hundred and ten years old.

30 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in Tĭm'nath-sē'rah, which is in mount Ē'phră-ĭm, on the north side of the hill of Gā'ăsh.

31 And Ĭs'ra-el [n]served the [2]Lord all the days of [1]Jŏsh'u-à, and all the days of the elders that overlived Jŏsh'u-à, and which had known all the works of the [2]Lord, that he had done for Ĭs'ra-el.

32 ¶ And the bones of Jō'sĕph, which the children of Ĭs'ra-el brought up out of Ē'gĭpt, buried they in Shē'chem, in a parcel of ground which Jā'cob bought of the sons of Hā'mor the father of Shē'chem for an hundred pieces of silver: and it became the inheritance of the children of Jō'sĕph.

33 And Ē-le-ā'zar the son of Aâr'on died; and they buried him in a hill that pertained to Phĭn'e-has his son, which was given him in mount Ē'phră-ĭm.

8. Vs. 25-28, the great stone of witnesses.

9. This is not a contradiction to Ex. 34:7, where Moses speaks of God "as forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin." While God is forgiving to the truly penitent, he will by no means fail to punish the incorrigible sinner.

10. Vs. 29, 30 record Joshua's death and burial.

o'her. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. (Mat. 6:24.) No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. (Lu. 16:13.)

l. But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them. (Is. 63:10.)

m. And Jehoiada made a covenant between the Lord and the king and the people, that they should be the Lord's people, between the king also and the people. (II Ks. 11:17.)

n. And the people served the Lord all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that outlived Joshua, who had seen all the great works of the Lord that he did for Israel. (Jud. 2:7.)

THE BOOK OF JUDGES

NOTE.—Judges, the third in the list of historical books of the Old Testament, consists of two parts—the first contains the purpose of the book and its general treatment (chs. 1-16); the second part constitutes an appendix (chs. 17-21). The purpose of the book is clearly manifested throughout its entire extent—and namely, to prove that the only way to happiness is to shun idolatry and obey the commandments of Jehovah. The author seeks to show the children of Israel that the many calamities which they had suffered since the death of Joshua were owing to their forsaking Jehovah and embracing idolatry, also that when they repented and obeyed the commandments of Jehovah he delivered them from their enemies and again made them to prosper. Thus the design of the author was not to write a correct and complete history of the children of Israel in the period between Joshua and the kings. If he had had such a purpose, he would have described the condition of their domestic affairs, also the government in the several tribes, and the relations they sustained to one another, but on the contrary, he seems to shun all such subjects and to deal only with their relations to Jehovah, enlarging upon obedience and its benefits and disobedience and its retributions.

The authorship of the first 16 chs. had been assigned to Joshua, Samuel, and Ezra, although it has not been proven just which one, if any of them, was the author. The first 16 chs. must have been written about the time of Saul's or David's reign. The appendix is of a later date and not so easily located as the first part. The Book of Judges gives us a clear and vivid insight into the divine providence of history. The period covered by the book is commonly estimated at about 350 years.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The acts of Judah and Simeon. 8 Jerusalem taken. 10 Hebron taken. 11 Othniel hath Achsah to wife for taking of Debir. 17 Hormah, Gaza, Askelon, and Ekron taken. 21 The acts of Benjamin. 22 Of the house of Joseph, who take Beth-el. 30 Of Zebulun. 31 Of Asher. 33 Of Naphtali. 34 Of Dan.

1 Now after the death of Jŏsh'u-â it came to pass, that the children of Ĭs'ra-el asked [a]the [1]Lord, saying, Who [2]shall go up for us against the Cā'năan-ītes first, to fight against them?
